(35:49) that's got a hole true for you what what do you suggest we can do I I realize I'm putting you on the spot I really don't know I know that there is sincere interest at very high levels I also know that they are treating it very cautiously I don't know if they're afraid of something but but that's the impression that I get is that they're treading on some mighty big feet and even these people in in Congress are afraid of the forces that they're dealing with I don't think I can be any (36:18) more specific than that well once again that seems to suggest that we are in fact dealing with an agency outside of our government but yet it is acting on the behest or behalf of our recognized government and that that doesn't sit kosher with me well I I'd have to agree I think there is some sort of cabal you know we always talk in general terms about the government knows this the military knows that it's not the government right isn't the military it's some sort of a cabal within it the (36:49) same way that Oliver North was able to get away with all sorts of hanky-panky people within the military within the government pursuing their own agendas that aren't necessarily consistent with the Constitution or with the needs of the people do you think any of this may change for the better or for the worse with the incoming new administration you know I don't know I'd like to think that but gosh Don how many times have we heard it over the years you know here comes another opportunity to open up the (37:19) books and let people know what's really going on I I don't know what that briefing is like when the president sits down and people from the Pentagon tell him the reality of the UFO situation I'd really like to be a fly on the wall and hear that hear that conversation I suspect that there may be really legitimate reasons why a president why a military why a government would not want to reveal the whole story well there very well may be but then again if it bodes yo for Humanity as a whole it would kind (37:52) of be in my in my mind like Franklin Roosevelt attempting to hide the Pearl Harbor debacle from the American public on December the 7th 1941 well we all know that that's the way government operates sometimes I mean the Gulf of Tonkin there have been a lot of Secrets that they use sprinkling out information to suit their own policy purposes it's unfortunate we don't like it I think you know as a citizen I I feel that I'm ready to learn whatever the heck it is they've got in their files I'd like to (38:28) know but I've also developed a certain sympathy I think for the Air Force for the military in in realizing that maybe what they know which may not be the complete picture maybe what they know is going to be very disturbing would be extremely disturbing to social institutions and society in general okay let me let me hit you with another quick question prior to the UFO news commentary but while you were a channel 8 down in in Las Vegas George and you were a recognized first-rate most investigative reporter and you had (39:06) ends with not only the police department with the courts with the prosecutors and so forth how did they react when you questioned them about why they would allow things to happen within this their jurisdiction that were obviously illegal and I'm talking primarily about innocent people civilians being harassed out there at gunpoint why would they not take some type of stand on I don't want to make Nevada sound like cowboy country but but the part of the state that we're dealing with Lincoln County is a rural area it's (39:39) very conservative area I think they view all the outsiders who come up there looking for flying saucers or UFOs or whatever as a nuisance and I don't think we're ever going to see a great change in attitude that's going to get people the kind of quote/unquote justice that they think they should have coming but any innocent civilian could be driving down that road and encounters some of these security personnel or a helicopter attempting to run them off the road and here they are just minding their business so I I can't believe that (40:14) the Lincoln County prosecutor would not feel duty-bound or an obligation to protect their rights well I think as as any of your listeners would know if they've been out there there is a great deal of cooperation between the Lincoln County Sheriff's Department and the security forces that surround area 51 in essence these days what I hear from people like Gary Schultz and norio these days the Sheriff's Department are the people that do the dirty work for the guys from Wackenhut to Delta Force people right they're the ones that (40:49) intercept camera crews they're the ones that tell people don't go any further they're the ones that that threaten folks if you climb up that mountain with cameras work we're gonna seize this stuff you know I don't know I can't explain it I can't justify it that's just the way it is out there well after we get back from the news commentary George let's discuss if there's anything that we can collectively do okay and we'll be back in just a moment hello this is Vicki Cooper

(41:23) with a special UFO news comment for Sunday November 22nd 1992 29 years ago today an assassin's bullet took the life of President John F Kennedy our country is still haunted by that murder in Dallas and many of us will remain troubled until the final truth is known a number of dedicated researchers have disproving the Warren Commission two lone assassin conclusion which pinned the crime on Lee Harvey Oswald but there are some other kinds of researchers around adding to the confusion surrounding the assassination our UFO
(41:58) propaganda artists such as John Lear and Milton William Cooper both of whom have claimed that Kennedy was killed by the Secret Service agent driving the presidential limo that day William Greer further defiling the information stream Cooper has alleged that Kennedy was killed because it was discovered the president was about to spill the beans about UFOs such outlandish claims are made without a shred of proof both the UFO mystery and the Kennedy assassination deserve the attention of research professionals of impeccable
(42:32) integrity instead the loudest voices to scream for truth are those who have done the most to discourage responsible investigation what the Kennedy assassination and UFOs have most in common is their appeal to paranoid conspiracy buffs and schizophrenic certainly a most pleasing audience to those who have worked so hard to cover up the truth for all these years yet it seems reasonable to expect that by this time next year Congress and a new democratic administration will have opened up the assassination files 30
(43:07) years will have passed now if only the American people could be certain that those years of Unknowing were not in vain and that those files will contain the absolute truth about the JFK assassination [Music] this UFO News comment has been brought to you by UFO magazine and the UFO media group we can be reached at peel box 10:50 call eight one eight nine that's it for now thanks for listening this is Vicki Cooper for the UFO media group and UFOs tonight on the cable radio network and we are back well George with about six minutes

(43:55) remaining what are your suggestions for what the public can do in order to change some of these very troubling policies that we've been the set width for going on now 50 years are you there George yes one thing I'd say I don't really know how to explain the lack of interest in this topic by mainstream news organizations but if if your listeners could encourage their own local news operations to get interested in it I think after some time a little bit of research as you would know done if you do just a modicum of research you'd find
(44:32) out there is a solid body of information there something really important that's going on real solid information and it's going to take the resources of somebody like CBS or time or or the New York Times to get interested to expose this stuff well it's interesting you should mention that because just several days ago channel 13 here in Los Angeles in fact did run a story on area 51 but you know it's one thing I have noticed in the years that I've been involved with this George and perhaps you have too it
(45:04) seems like the subject has its own dampening effect on the collective consciousness it's something that I cannot explain but but yet I've seen it time and time again well I thought about it the same thing it's like people can view these reports even my own reports and somehow because it's on television they almost see it like yes that's very interesting but they view it as almost a movie of the week or something very interesting yes that that will shake shake our beliefs right down to the (45:34) bones and then just switch the channel and go on I don't know how to explain that I think one other suggestion I would have for your for your listeners certainly as people should read your magazine well I appreciate that I think they should too I don't want to be too obvious about the plug but I think you know it's a reliable source objective information when you know we just heard Vicki referring to these paranoid conspiracy buffs I think that's the kind of commentary that this field needs because (46:04) there's a lot of baloney out there and it's hard for people especially people just getting into it to separate what's real and what isn't well I'm glad you mentioned that because next week I'm going to have on as a guest Kevin Randall one of the two co-authors of the book UFO crash at Roswell and I'm sure you you know Randall George he's been in the field for a number of years now and between him and Donald Schmidt they they wrote an absolutely first-rate book on the Roswell crash and subsequent (46:38) cover-up one of the things that Randall however is going to be discussing is some other research that figured into Roswell on a book just just published this past year by Stanton Friedman and Don Berliner and in the book in their book crash at Corona one of the primary witnesses to this alleged event was a fellow by the name of Gerald Anderson now many of the listeners out there may be aware of Anderson's story but he was at that time in 1947 a young child of about 5 or 6 years old and basically the crux of this particular bit of (47:19) information is that Anderson witnessed not only alien bodies at this crash site and and some survivors but also a number of other instances that involved the US military coming out and his family being warned to keep their mouths shut and so forth now what's strange about this particular case is the fact that we have just found out this week that two months ago Anderson admitted to Friedman Berliner and several other people including Walt Andres of MUFON that he in fact lied about certain aspects of this case now at this point
(48:00) this is the first public announcement that this in fact has some severe problems with it how why do you feel that some of these researchers which have a basic obligation to the public to release information like this when in fact it is necessary they hold back on them well I know that the case you're talking about as you said it it came out about two months ago and I think it will be coming out I mean Stanton Friedman is uh is as honest as the day is long and if he is wrong about Anderson I am sure that he will be the first one to come
(48:36) forward with that information and I think he will be I'd like to speak in in general terms about Freedman versus Moore versus Schmidt versus Randle I don't know mr. Schmidt or mr. Randall I I respect the research they've done but I feel that a lot of these this bickering between them and Friedman and and others is just unproductive for the whole field it's no wonder that serious researchers don't want to get involved in this as much backbiting and nastiness there isn't this thing exactly but all (49:05) these people in fact are considered and are very serious researchers but yet there seems to be almost as much problem getting these guys to sit down and discuss

in a rational logical manner the things that are dividing them as it was to sit down with the North Vietnamese and decide on what kind of table we wanted to sit at at same Paris that's exactly right you know we don't need an mj-12 organization to cause disarray in the field of UF ufology the UFO research because people do it to themselves you (49:36) know I find it to be extremely unproductive these personal disagreements for example the Roswell thing I mean how many times can we prove that Roswell happened you know I just think there are more important things we we've proved it over and over Roswell is real something really crashed it seems like great researchers like those guys Friedman could get onto something else we're out of time thanks very much hope you enjoyed this edition of they're live well George it looks like we did it once again we ran out of time
(50:07) I want to once again thank you from the bottom of my heart because I know how ill you are this evening oh that's okay that's it for the world that you hung in there we are definitely going to do this again George as a matter of fact hang on the line here after after we get off here but I want to tell everybody out there that my guest next week is going to be Kevin Randle the week following that Yvonne Smith and a number of people from her SERO group we're looking forward to it and hey keep your eyes to (50:39) the skies and we'll see you in a week okay well as you can see George hung in there until the end of the show now look he was with Altamira for a while then he ended up going back to klas and of course these days George is still there not to mention he also hosts on coast to coast generally once or twice a month where he continues on with his UFO research and dare I say it fascination look as always you can come right here to dark matters radio for some of the most cutting-edge look at research and what is happening in the (51:35) field today and in days past we appreciate your interest I appreciate the time that you take with DMR and I especially appreciate hearing from the audience okay until next time remember to keep those eyes pointed

Transcript:
(00:00) for me I really don't know I think it might be referred to a site for that might be with the essence for but I really don't know there are three s Ford's and all of the Nevada Test Site actually ever mentioned that to know the nuclear test site itself I think has is a small area and it has sites or areas 1 to 29 or 30 the s for there I think is a nuclear reactor there's an F s for just south of the Tonopah test range and there's an S for the one that I worked at just south of groom Lake alright and
(00:37) Bob Lazar while working there as a government scientist so not only one but as many as nine flying saucers while he's working there as a government scientist and he's telling the whole world about as a matter of fact he wants everybody to know that in fact there are flying saucers up there last time you never really told us what are their plans with these flying saucers you have any idea why we have flying saucers at this point why we have them yes just essentially research the the ideas to back engineer them to go back and find (01:08) out how they can be duplicated using earthing materials and technology don't know off the top of my head so that could be used like a time machine right essentially yeah that is time travel that is possible wow that's really something yeah that's well sure they can like thanks for your input sure all right did you get your answer you did six no six huh thank you okay buddy right you take care of Bob Lazar is my guest in studio here we are in Las Vegas and if you have a question for Bob Lazar our phone numbers are four or five (01:41) one it's like a snowball going down the hill and will become an avalanche and ignorance will be wiped out we got to know the truth for once and forever what the purposes well thank you American talk show well thank you very much for its he did you he did explain to you why we have flying saucers right well I'm a world general public has to become aware you know why they're here why are they here for it well I first of all it's a conditioning process excellence keeps us from meeting them there Big Brother (02:30) which is out the hand and say come on well brother just have the cosmic connection but hundred seventeen nations a hundred seventy languages we become we have to become equal ground very good fresh thanks for the call thank you take care of bye-bye Bob Lazar is my guest let's go to any line that's available I don't care who it is will file this hi who's this other company concave EEG good other line go to little line no you there we go hi you're next in the public a bit happening on AVG hi Billy this is Tim (03:12) from Pasadena years Tim for parody not yeah I wanted to talk about a lot and I'm really glad I got through he's right here hey Bob can you tell me a little bit about when you look into the saucer about how the hatch works and about how it might feel up and all the mechanics involved Jim do you have your radio on uh yeah please turn it down okay thank you is that better I mean turn it off of your would because you're getting feedback I can hear it okay there you go is it better now okay okay the that the (03:41) hatch or whatever was the hatch was completely removed it was there was just an opening in the side of the craft and well I really don't know how did the opening have any kind of ceiling around it or kind of a little lip or anything like that I really don't remember because I was so interested in looking inside I didn't really catch you know a strong glimpse of the ceiling mechanism or any other thing around it no your last talk if you go along with me a little bit your last talk when you were on the Billy show here you said

(04:12) something about you looked into one and it was all smooth like it had been a wax casting or something yeah exactly now was that the only one you looked into her it was the was there another one you looked into no the only one I looked into huh the other ones I just saw from a distance so uh you know I I don't know any detail and the one you looked into was that the sport model yes exactly and that's the only one you saw fly as well right okay what can you tell us what what your work was there well like I said before is (04:43) essentially the back engineer the propulsion and power system so you weren't really involved in the mechanics of the craft itself no not at all and but mostly just the element 115 and all that kind of stuff you were learning about right hmm okay well I'll get off now unless somebody else ask you another question then Thank You Jerry thanks thanks Bob all right bye-bye all right yeah Bob Lazar is my guest listen to the Billy given happening we are in Las Vegas well gravity is a wave it's uh it's a force essentially just like
(05:19) electromagnetic waves or a different type of force yeah I really don't know a good way to describe gravity actually it was not the same thing with like Einstein and other scientists they really don't have an answer for what gravity is do they totally don't really understand it totally do they no no not at all in fact I don't think we understand anything about gravity yeah and why is it that we don't just float away ourselves quiet what keeps us down on the planet well that that is the attractive force of gravity tractor four (05:50) so it's an attractive thing as a close to a bug you know some people say because they've asked me it sort of like pressures down but it doesn't does it no it doesn't it's an attractive force it's like it on an atomic scale the strong and weak nuclear forces hold the atoms individually together mm-hmm well Bob Lazar as my guest we'll get by yeah you can use the in the run of everything now you are no longer a government scientist a physicist right not employed by the ground employed by (06:17) the government okay but you are continuing in the science and the thing what do you do to keep yourself and build advanced radiation detection equipment mainly alpha radiation equipment for essentially use in detecting plutonium Oh National Laboratory very interesting okay let's go back to the telephones and your telephone calls from my guest tonight Bob Lazar hi who's this I look like I've been happening on kbe G hello yes so it's way late fabulous yes me hello how are you Bob yo hi I have a couple questions number one
(06:57) I'm cruising down jones Avenue on my cellular phone here how long has that crap they don't have been on the Missouri no I really don't know I don't even know how long it's been down at 4:00 you know where it has originally landed that no you got me on all that stuff that really never keep me in as - I've been here for years yeah yeah or it could have been you know brought in in pieces from from somewhere else okay you could say just one craft or a number of crap not a number of them okay but the other workers talk about it (07:30) and say you know where it came from or more is being towed in or whatever I don't know there really wasn't that much conversation between everyone will you buy yourself what you would invest to get the craft uh by my by myself as walking by myself there were security people around me but when I crawled underneath on the subfloor to look at the gravity amplifiers you know I got away from but there was no one you know right next to me the whole day any evidence of a live alien felt captive nothing I could put my finger on I think (08:02) then you didn't see any at all then and that Specter nothing I could put my finger on with the Krampus sleeping quarters for aliens is it like a regular like a Star Trek craft what kind of crap no it's actually a pretty vacant inside granted a couple things were removed they were sawed off at the base I don't know what they were little stumps on the ground so I really don't know what was removed but it doesn't look like it had anything like sleeping quarters anything like any writing or anything they typed

(08:31) it already okay sort of language or anything no on the walls nothing any panels or anything do you see like that's like a like a dashboard on our car yeah I think that was one of the things there were more than one control panel set up but it looks like one was removed okay and it was this crap wall from the same source I mean what do you mean I mean it was also the same or the crap all identical or no each each craft was completely different in physical appearance and I didn't get to look in depth at the other craft but I only
(09:04) really fooled around with one thank about I applaud your courage thank you free to pick up at least before you leave tickets go on sale tomorrow for the Donnell Cory fight yes their bellies the bellies casino big fight Donald Kerr you got your Irish bread Lally both fighters are in town yeah that's a real real big show curry says if he doesn't win he'll retire the two-time former champion is up against this give me a real real big show and you say I know you're coming to the press conference tomorrow yes I am and I
(09:33) and you and Rob Lazar you have you have ringside seat how's that show if you want to cop Charl bang you tell Billy and we'll fix you up okay before you go to leave them ask a question did you say that Donald Curry is actually the underdog in this fight yes like the five taking me other way I can last time Donald forty was one hundred to one favorite had he lost the fight would he lose to that uh coke and and France mm-hmm WBC championship fighting he lost the fight was incredible why why are you people so (10:01) down on him that I think he here doesn't have anymore yeah okay but I know I'll see you at the press conference tomorrow I usually will thank you particularly thank you goodbye Bob Lazar you were saying something about entering the crap you know and that seems to be the report every single time someone says the report of the spacecraft they were inside there's nothing in there except like you say a a panel board and some chairs and things but no sleeping quarters no nothing at all I guess they just don't have it they (10:32) don't need them it's thick don't sleep or whatever they get here so quickly let's take another call yes sir no I didn't know that yeah what there today I bought a ticket and they said is that right well that the gentleman that was just on the line leaves I can see the smile on his face right now because he was the he's the promoter of that event you know smiling look at the smiley face now only sixty two tickets left for the magazine Sciences in front of me and they mentioned one of the (11:09) books the energy grid foundation equations and ramifications by George risk resumes have you heard of it III think I come through that book once I think John Lear one the heavens an energy grid on our planet I don't know I don't really buy that why that theory are really anything in that book it's a grid outlined all over the entire globe and at each intersection there's an energy vortex of some kind and you know I just rather not comment yeah it's how gravity weather produced artificially or (11:52) naturally distorts time and space yeah no as a matter of fact we were talking off the air and people have been calling me at the office about this gravity thing in bob lazar is trying to level it and set it right straight out nobody really understands gravity yeah and what it does and everything else it's still being looked into and even ice like configured energy doesn't matter where does it come from if it doesn't come from matter there's no but that's a strange question yeah I can be extracted
(12:39) from matter but it can be extracted by other means to I don't really don't don't understand ya know are you gonna be there January 7th no you're not gonna be there well I wish I could talk for an hour but but he else wants a book so I'll hang up alright alright thank you here guys let's take another call a new member let's talk to a new member and she were hi he was this in the book about happening on Cavey eg here's time somewhere la-la-land where is lala land la ok la la la cabs

(13:16) are you yeah reports have been going on now for thirty forty years I don't doubt the credibility of mr. Lazar I just wonder how how this can be kept secret for that long as can be comment I did pose that question to some people at s4 and the answer that I got was it's it's the easiest thing to keep secret because of the subject matter you have a feeling this one of the reasons that is is because it's tied in with a lot of parapsychology psychic types National Enquirer maybe so I mean there is so much disinformation and that is (14:13) made so available to the public via the tabloids and things like that that you know any true information getting out is assumed to originate from those sources and things like that another question is Carl Sagan is more or less people scientists these brought science down to the general public what about getting him involved in this somehow is that possible or how about doing that I would imagine I imagine he's fairly open-minded I've never met Matt Alma and the biggest UFO debunker that's why what I was thinking of doing
(14:53) actually is making getting some copies of the two shows that you're on the happenings I'm sorry and you know contacting people at the Planetary Society I don't know if that would do any good but well you know there again he's gonna need his own own proof as everyone should require and you know it's it's impossible to make an absolute believer out of someone that hasn't had hands-on experience or I've seen something for themselves you know that's the way any scientist is gonna look at it okay a (15:29) couple more quick questions around 32 light-years these ships do they travel faster than light or do they get around well it's kind of it's kind of an irrelevant question because they get around it because they're not in a linear mode of travel since they're distorting time and space there's no true time reference and since the velocity is distance over time when you begin to fool around with time you really can't state a true velocity all right John thank you very quickly okay he'll answer over here program the (16:02) search for radio signals couldn't sell some of these you know observatories or telescopes be aimed at you know places where they see people or aliens who supposedly come from that I think Cooper mentioned Barnard okay that's your question thank you John okay well it's my understanding is that the radio waves and frequencies along that bandwidth really aren't aren't utilized it's gravity wave communication and a radio telescope really isn't gonna pick up anything of that sort oh right but I
(16:43) don't think people realize is because you said it so nonchalant but your first time on but where you've got to see this UFO was really not planned by anyone wanted you to see it right you were like walking with security and you went under a doorway how would you describe that before it may have been planned by them I had no advance warning of it I have been brought in a separate door the whole time and one specific time I just led into the area where I work through the hangar doors which I had never been in before it walked directly
(17:14) by the craft and began to slow down by it and they said just keep walking keep your eyes forward and it was just just like that it was that nothing was said and just went and sat down in an empty room you went sat down an empty room after your son yeah waited for this guy that I work with Barry and then we went to you know work on some of the work we were saying what were some of the things what was some of the work that you actually did that you were supposed to do what what did you actually do it is for it
(17:43) when you say work had to wait for an assignment when you had the assignment what would have been like for example well most of like I said before most of the time I worked hours being briefed on and being brought up to date on what had been done before right and most of the hands-on bench work essentially was with the reactor itself and being shown how it operated it giving demonstrations and things of that sort you say reactor you know a nuclear reactor to antimatter reactor antimatter okay Bob Lazar is my (18:14) guest in but it's fascinating to hear this stuff let's go back to some of the stuff you've already touched on us and try because someone asked earlier about communication with some of your fellow workers it was practically no communication right yeah they kept that to an absolute minimum right they were on the buddy system you worked with always worked with someone and that's the person you communicated with and there was really no cross talk between groups and you as a young man there you are in the midst of this thing when you
(18:40) went there for the initial interview you said at the time they actually had a gun at your head that was at the security briefing security whatever that may initially interview when you went to work at s4 I'm talking about do they that's not what the gun was at your head no no no okay when you went there what was your understanding that you were going to be doing some high-technology work and I had assumed that they were talking about some sort of gravitational propulsion system and when you're excited about that I think oh yeah yeah (19:14) because there was some talk about that because it's something that I was interested in something they knew I was interested in right you know that was that was the hint that I got and did it come to fruition it did did did what you were told you were going to do what actually happen yeah no it did for a period of time so how long were you actually there before you let people know what was going on up there how many months or days whatever [Music] approximately I don't yeah I really don't know probably a couple months they (19:45) come on Sephora and every time that you went there you literally had to fly up land at the groom leg take a bus a bus that was sort of blacked out in the windows right and no communication on the bus what were you thinking as a young man you're a very young man let's face it what were you thinking like yeah well you're very young man I think you're anyway what were you thinking we were just saying well this goes with the territory and I'm just gonna go along with this oh yeah you would have done

(20:09) that and much more just to be involved with the project yeah the excitement was just being there being a part of the what was going on behind the scenes in other words the secret part about it or oh sure I was a lot more crap than they had dealt out can you picture it okay what he's in his 30s oh I say young man and he's in his 30s sitting on a bus and accepting the fact okay I'm going to work this morning not talking to there is a compadres on the bus is looking straight ahead blackened out windows not
(20:38) driving on asphalt all dirt roads then that also have something to do in your mind say how come they never did anything up there as far as the dirt roads I don't know it was a good dirt road a lot of the roads around there a dirt I know I almost thought oh that's what I'm saying they don't even take the time to to pave them I guess it's not that important Bob Lazar is is my guest and what I'm fascinated yes Gary where's your chin okay this is Mark the artist in Los Angeles all right I got some specific (21:10) questions for Bob Lazar that I like asked real quickly he's right here he's waiting I thought you once before on the show Bob about the propulsion system on the device yeah and you described the central column as being a great guide there was a disc towards the bottom of this thing down near the antimatter generator that that spins and I want to ask you what that disk is made of no there's no spinning desk what is the dismay to visit a capacitor well I a desk at the waveguide extends down and it widens out and sits on the curved (21:45) portion of the reactor the bottom of the reactor is a plate but nothing rotates or moves it's okay it's all connected together is that plate of capacitor no well what is it made of metal that's the only way I can describe I don't know what kind it's Oh collector determines the kind of metal it was no not to my knowledge I understand the part of the propulsion system involves a very large capacitor which is usually the the entire lower surface of the disk making use of something along the lines of the bike
(22:19) field Brown effect and I just wondered if you had any information on what the components of the dielectric material in that capacitor is well at the bottom of the disk is one plate of the capacitor then the dielectric material would be the air as you're going to look at the Earth is another plate of the capacitor but as far as the capacitor being integral to the actual craft itself now I found no evidence of that now I understand that there's an antenna section in this device and I'm one of those don't wanted to ask you what the (22:49) resonant frequency that that operate at was what it was well the rather than a frequency at a gravity wave I dunno but I don't know it offhand I can't I can't I just can't remember it yeah can you give me a ballpark like 2,000 kilohertz something like that 200 kilohertz I really I really don't remember it's a really odd frequency is it really yeah well is it is it is it measured in kilohertz or Giger hertz or mega hertz I really don't remember hmm the other thing I wanted to ask you (23:23) was when you first started to go public and you were meeting with people with John Mayer's house I understand that there were a number of witnesses at those first meetings one of whom claims that you did say that you had seen an extraterrestrial while working inside one of those saucers trying to back engineer the propulsion system and that you've been looking out through a doorway or through a porthole in the side of the device and that you'd actually seen an extraterrestrial walking around on the (23:50) outside one of those devices devices meaning disks excuse me devices meaning discs yes no so so you're saying that you've never seen an extraterrestrial at us for I really don't want to get into that because someone else is claiming that you have well stated the way you did no I didn't and I never did look and see an extraterrestrial as the story goes and the reason I I never bring it up is because I thought I saw something once at walking at a glance and and that's all there is to it and I never (24:27) did I won't I won't stand on that fact because you know it was just a fleeting glimpse when I came back and whatever was there was gone you know it could have been a million thing I had one last quick question I'll wrap it up real quick here I have a contact that claims that you were responsible for determining that element 115 was not in fact necessary to operate an anti-gravity propulsion device in the Earth's magnetic field is that true no it's the exact opposite thank you mark for the call okay all

(24:57) right thank you bob lazar hello hi there I can you hear me we can hear you perfectly I better turn on my radio okay okay you why are you going public with this whole subject what caused you I mean there's there's obviously a lot of other staff on the project that since this is a greater a great degree of loyalty something along this sort and why are you going public well the the thing that really was the straw that broke the camel's back essentially was after I left the program I kind of became concerned about what happens now
(25:30) I made a routine request for my birth certificate which I need it for just for ID purposes and I was told that it doesn't exist I wasn't even born at that hospital I be I'd said on that for about a week and just wondered and then I began to inquire at previous jobs and also at other schools and that information was also gone and I kind of got the idea that soon someone was going to disappear so that's when I contacted the TV station and you know essentially let everything else but you left the program at our very amicable (26:02) circumstances I know that's a long involved story that I really don't want to get into okay all right that's fine are you afraid of any repercussions from the government you know oh yeah I was I was really concerned at one time but I thought now yeah less so now but I you know you're still keeping the back your mind yeah I imagine of course it seems like to me that if anything were to happen to you now that that would cause such an uproar in itself exactly a last thing you do would be to go anywhere (26:28) near you write that as someone someone said in the media somewhere that if they're following me now it's to make sure that nothing happens to me yeah yeah I would think the same thing okay your experience up there on the program did you did you witness any working models any models of the vehicles that were operational models yeah the vehicles the vehicle is operational yeah they were some of them were operational yeah I only saw one operate and they were actually operating oh yeah so I wanted at a close range while I was at (26:58) the area and then at the extreme distance about 15 miles when I brought some friends up to look at it using the technology that that's being used they the crafts are very agile aren't they oh yes very in one specific mode of travel one specific mode yeah in one direction at a time something like this no there's two modes of travel there's a low speed mode and uh you know a high speed mode I don't remember what they call they had a specific name for him okay but what was the size of the staff working on the (27:27) project there's 22 people that I knew of 22 people well 22 people in the area that I worked in and you know how extensive the rest of the facility was I don't know I gathered from one of your hey that you were frustrated a little bit on the size of the staff yeah we spiders should have been larger oh yeah it could have been more could have been learned about the program quit more quickly

(03:34) [Music] [Music] [Music] [Music] greetings and salutations friends and welcome back you are all most welcome here
(04:41) i'm not even quite sure where to begin tonight but i'm going to give it a try here there's a famous poster i put it up tonight i want to believe and i do i still want to believe but finding so many con artists fakers hoaxers fake stories or even just people carefully crafting their stories and purposefully leaving out evidence that the story may in fact be fake is just too much for me to take anymore most roads in this ufo thing lead nowhere you'll chase your shadows for years and never come to the truth but along the way you
(05:30) will find lies heaped upon lies and fake stories galore or like a dog chasing his tail you'll just never get anywhere and that is where i have found myself lately and why i want to cover other topics and get away from this ufo insanity the truth is i suppose this journey and the revelation that many or most of these stories are indeed fake has taken its toll it's taken its toll on my belief or my wanting to continue to believe on this journey i have become a hero to some and in truth a villain to others and
(06:20) here my friends is the strange place where i find myself all i wanted to do was share my journey and i have been sharing it with the world for years so tonight will once again be talking about bob lazar a story i've been following heavily since 1989. bob lazar told an incredible story of being a scientist and working on alien spacecraft at area 51 and wow what an extraordinary story it is but is the story really true i used to think so i loved this story growing up but the more you dig into the story and dig
(07:03) into bob lazar the more evidence you find that lazar is a complete total fraud and by the way it is a hundred percent verifiable that bob lazar is a convicted pimp i'm going to tell you something that you should already know folks you can't trust anything a pimp says pimps lie and manipulate people that's what pimps do and friends high level scientists don't just wake up one day and think you know what i'm gonna start a whorehouse scientists don't do that friends but maybe just maybe people like bob lazar who lie
(07:40) and manipulate people do the lies well the lies start right at the start of the story the lies begin with his education bob lazar was not a scientist his educational claims have been found to be completely fake from his fake undergraduate degree from pacific university which is a degree mill you know where you buy fake degrees you know to hang on your wall and fool your stupid friends with friends prestigious schools like caltech and mit don't let people into master's programs if all they have is taking a few electronics classes at (08:18) their local community college and they have a fake bachelor's degree that they bought online i verified this with both mit and caltech admissions people both stated there's no way bob would get into any master's program at either school with a fake degree a fake bachelor's degree from a degree mill further caltech never even had a master's degree program in electronics technology as lazar claimed at the time he claimed to go there if you get a master's degree also you have to write a master's thesis
(08:54) no one can find either of bob's master's thesis and i've challenged jeremy corbell and bob lazar to post copies of his master's thesis they haven't yet and they won't because those masters thesis my friends don't exist he never wrote them because he was never in a master's degree program and just to be clear friends no one writes a master's thesis and can't produce a copy it's incredibly hard work and some people spend years on their master's thesis the fact that he doesn't have copies of
(09:24) or cannot produce copies to me is a hundred percent proof his educational claims are all fabrications and that's besides just calling the schools and checking and finding out he never went to any of them but wait the government wiped his background in education to discredit him some say well there was also no mention of lazar in any caltech or mit yearbook for so for us to believe like michael schrack correctly pointed out that the men in black they would have had to crawl into every dusty attic every garage every storage (09:59) locker of every single person who went to those schools at the time lazar claimed to they'd have to steal out the yearbooks mentioning lazar and replace them with fakes deleting every mention of him folks that's not just improbable doing that i believe would be impossible well wait maybe he just lied about his education to get a good job fair point but it still means that the entire story of his starts with a lie the whole story starts with him being a scientist friends he is not now

nor has he ever been a scientist
(10:34) though he is a convicted pimp being a scientist requires at least one real degree lazar does not have any college degrees unless you count the fake bachelor's degree he bought from a degree mill no bob was never a scientist but there is ample and convincing evidence that bob lazar was just an electronics technician who worked on radiation health monitoring equipment but wait bob worked as a scientist at los alamos his name was in the phone book after all yes it was and next to his name were the initials km which stands for kirk meyer at the time
(11:12) kirk meyer provided subcontractors to that lab but they only ever supplied low-level technicians like electric electronics technicians and things like that kirk meyer never provided physicists or scientists to los alamos not when bob claimed to work there and never at any other time either they only supplied low-level technicians to these labs not scientists bob also recounted installing a satellite dish at los alamos in one interview folks senior staff level physicists would not waste their time installing satellite dishes
(11:53) who does that electronics technicians do and that's what bob was a low-level electronics technician john lear also talked about bob lazar having a contract to work on alpha monitors radiation health monitoring equipment folks physicists do not generally do electronics technician work they're doing much more important things electronics technicians do that so that is more evidence bob was not a scientist but an electronics technician but what about s4 folks there is ample and convincing evidence including
(12:29) recent flyovers with pictures that prove that there is literally nothing there bob claimed that he rode a bus there from area 51 proper but friends you'll hear tonight with the evidence that we present that there is barely a road there and no bus could ever make it through the sand the rocks and that dirt road that lead to the area he claimed the ultra secret base housing the flying saucers was at so tonight friends we're going to be sharing an incredibly important interview i think this is the most important interview
(13:05) i've heard on this case in a decade this interview was conducted by victor cagliaro who you may remember we've had as a guest here previously one of the most popular guests i've ever had because the research he presented as a guest here was incredible and tonight tonight he is letting us he is letting me share this interview with all of you victor conducted this incredible interview with former area 51 security guard fred dunham and i want to thank victor for allowing us to share it and talk about it
(13:42) because i truly think this is the most important interview about the bob lazar case ever i feel it conclusively proves that bob lazar was never in area 51 and his stories about s4 were just that fabricated fantasies with no basis in reality and you see unlike bob lazar the claims made by fred dunham can be verified he was indeed employed as a security guard at area 51 during the 1980s and early 1990s we can find evidence of this in the form of records he could provide but also in court documents because you see sadly mr dunham was one of those (14:21) area 51 employees that sued the government over health problems caused by the now infamous area 51 burn pits as an area 51 security guard mr dunham had access to and had been to all areas of the base this man is a real incredible source and tonight we will hear some amazing evidence from this man that bob lazar not only didn't work at area 51 but that he never ever even stepped foot on the base further we will hear that the location bob lazar claimed to be the ultra secret s4 base well friends there is nothing there
(15:03) and there was nothing there at the time bob lazar claimed to have worked there on alien flying saucers so i'm going to put my fair use banner up even though we do have permission uh to uh share this incredible interview tonight but i and i do want to mention that i'm going to play the interview and unlike usually when we play you know something from someone we stop it every so often and quite honestly i find myself just stopping the video for the purposes of fair use and the algorithm but in this case victor cagliaro has (15:41) given us total permission to air this interview do commentary on it talk about it so i'm really going to try tonight video and by the way i i'm a terrible show host i forgot to put a link to the to the uh interview in the description i will do that as soon as i possibly can after we get the interview uh the taped interview started sharing here so i'm going to try to not interrupt very much there's a it's an hour interview but it really the first 40 minutes is what is important to bob lazar the (16:17) last 20 minutes or so of the interview and i encourage you to listen to the whole thing are about mr dunham's uh problems health problems and and fight with the government over these burn pits at area 51. so let's see friends we are going to share my screen make sure i share my audio one second okay and thanks once again to victor colliero this really is an incredibly important interview let's get into it friends this is the evidence that jeremy corbell george knapp and bob lazar don't want you to hear (17:00) a real area 51 security guard who worked there all through the time that bob claimed to have worked there for a very short time this man worked there for 10 years this interview is incredible friends let's get into it hello friend can you hear me yeah cool yeah my name's uh victor i'm doing a little uh independent documentary if you like about um oh area 51 bob lazar things like that papoose yeah so i've heard yep go on i'm aware yeah go ahead yeah so i heard that you worked out in area 51 um

(17:59) and for about 10 years 10 years what what time period did you work out there excuse me now oh what years did you work out there uh from 1981 to 92. farewell and uh what were you you were a security guard i think i think i read that right yes that's correct yeah but the company that had the contract out there ended up getting a security contract [Music] and uh i think i saw somewhere where you had a license to kill well i you know that's a bunch of hype i think however that was the rumor you know yeah
(19:04) that's all that's all you know 98 of everything that you've heard about this place is if if one percent of it i don't know if if five real estate five percent of it was real it would be amazing so i mean it's so much has been made out of this place yeah that is it's overhyped beyond belief and of course that's a product of the way that everything is nowadays everything is either full pedal of the metal or it's nothing you know i mean and this has turned into (20:06) something that i mean it's it's ridiculous i i met with uh george i met with george knapp yep uh mm-hmm and this is after i i ceased working out there but i i met with george knapp in i don't know 1994 or something like that you know right when the stick of this bob lazar crap was happening and and i says we we met for breakfast at the pepper mill uh on the on the strip and he dropped in and we sat down and i'm talking to him and he says well i gotta know who you are you know if you're really real i showed (20:55) him all these credentials that i had and he says well he says he says i believe you now he says and i told him i said look i said because because this is this george knapp guy is a character that has been in las vegas news forever yeah i mean when he first started he started at that station at cvs affiliate and and he's like you grew up with this cat you know so uh um i'm sitting down with him i'm talking to a man to man i told george i said you got to protect your reputation here i says you're you're going off the line with (21:42) this stuff about ufos and spacecraft and i says and you are so off base i says we have the biggest belly laugh about you every day of the week that we have to put up with the i said you were a joke and and i i just i told him i says for your own benefit i says you need to stop this because this is going to turn around and bite you in the butt you know yeah what did he say to that well he says well you know i believe bob and blah blah you know uh and he says do you know this other guy's name and i says you know i know
(22:30) i know this guy's name you know and uh he says well he says what do you think of that guy well i says uh i know one thing i said she's involved in selling book league cable boxes because he's an electronic engineer you know at the time you know
(23:47) that was happening a lot of those guys who were in the knowing they had a lot of little things they did on the side for direct access to satellite dishes direct access table beating the cable encryption you know all kinds of you know so so so yeah the guy that that george nathan do you know this guy i said yeah i know you know he's a he's a technician and he runs a black market cable business you know so you know he looked at me and you know anyway so i told him i said you're you're so off base i says yeah
(24:32) yeah thanks for the save i i do this all the time friends i'm having uh nasal issues and i've been coughing and hacking a lot so i muted to to uh to be able to cough i really need a physical cough button but thank you very much so what i was saying uh all you missed is that i said here we see more evidence that bob lazar was an electronics technician because what senior staff level physicist do you know with two master's degrees that would spend his time making hot cable boxes for those that don't

(25:02) know at least in philadelphia they were called hot boxes instead of paying the cable company for all those premium channels you bought a hot box and it would let you watch all the channels this my friends is more proof that bob lazar was an electronics technician and not a scientist let's continue you have a reputation you're going to project guys you need to get off of this one you know why was nep asking about him anyway what's that now why was uh george nepal oh yeah yeah yeah i guess lazar and this guy ran
(25:35) together or you know they were you know blizzard used this guy's name as as a reference now here's the interesting thing about lazar yeah we i'm up at work yeah all right now the way the situation was we had a group of civilian contractors we had a component of the military and then we had the gs uh supervision and then we had united states air force supervision all right this that's how everything was layered i mean it was amazing the complicated things they did on the simplest of things i mean you
(26:36) know so um me we wake up in in we're sitting there uh after uh dinner and we came from the mess hall and we're sitting around in the in this game room this hooch that we're sitting at and this we're watching the news and uh george knack comes on and he's just this thing he's talking about lazar yeah and i don't know if you ever saw the one there i guess they're in a vehicle or something and they're talking and you can't see lazar's face oh he's in silhouette and he's (27:13) calling himself dennis yeah yeah so anyway so that that's that's the one who's on the tv and so me and the uh ga supervisor looked at one another and i said uh i won't use this guy's name because i think he's still alive but anyway i says hey i says why don't we go over you know i says you have to key to the to the badge office i said why don't we go in there get the eal out the entry authorization list because because we were all looking at each other and we said do you know anyone named
(27:49) lazar you know no one knew anyone named lazar so uh and that was our business you know aside from that i can't get into the details but we knew everything about everybody so anyway so we went over over to the badge office got the eal now open down these were a secured uh building inside of a secured vault you get this list out open it up go through the list alphabetical there's no listing for a lazar all right and that was that was the weekly eel because it varied by the week so then you're going to get the historical eal
(28:39) which which is everything from the last week to be that's my time real thick printout we went in there looked in the historical because we said we want to get to the to the historical eal before anyone can come in and dip it in you know and and redact something yeah we want to see we we were curious because we knew if this guy became a hot item they would just go in and probably take his name out of the eal you know yeah so we didn't want to see any anyone really corrupting our information it was and it
(29:21) was like 45 minutes later we were looking at the list no historical record of an individual name lazar yeah so so we looked at each other says he's complete fake yeah yeah because because r-e-a-l could the uh eal have uh real names or was it uh oh yeah it's all all real names yeah so friends it's a top secret base everyone who steps foot on the base or off the base is locked entering and exiting guess who's not in any of the logs according to a real area 51 security guard who we can verify worked there during these years bob
(30:12) lazar is not in any of the logs coming in or out of the base friends this story falls apart right there because maybe jeremy corbell and george knapp and bob lazar could tell me how he worked on alien spacecraft in area 51 if he never stepped foot on the base now there are those that argue will argue oh well he didn't work in area 51 he worked at the sub base s4 and we'll hear more about that but bob lazar claimed to fly in on the janet airlines to area 51 and then he was bus to s4 so he would still have been logged
(30:50) in to area 51 as entering the base by his real name and he wasn't there we have it friends smoking gun evidence that bob lazar never stepped foot on the area 51 base each individual a good paragraph on each one of them so okay very detailed uh anyway so um so at that time and and another thing real was the master it had staffing for site four on there all right so so any anyone who had access to site four uh not necessarily had access to our location but we had actually we had access to site four but they didn't have access to our (31:50) location our location was more of a priority than site four so uh and so we had the data on every other individual site four he didn't show up on site four all right so okay anyway so site for that was a a radar radar installation in turn of the test range sorry friends i did it again so the s4 he's talking about is not bob lazar's fantasy s4 it's the real s4 and uh it's not what bob lazar claims it to be and we'll hear more about that now is that right yeah that's all it is foreign technology (32:43) and i used to have like uh russians radar and all that sort of stuff to test the signatures of the planes that used to fly yeah that just i think that's pretty much uh uh what has been published about the place and that's probably the truth without you know i i got to be very careful and i don't want to be and i'm i'm truthful i don't want to be quartered directly on any of this stuff because it's possible it still might be sensitive so that there was no site for it for boost like iv was a

(33:37) place that existed on the opposite side of the you know like papoose lake yeah you know well i'm here to tell you that the only thing at papua's lake is a dry lake did you ever go to the who sleep yeah did you ever go oh yeah there wasn't a piece of real estate a building that i didn't go into or have access to okay i i was cleared above well anyway yes there was i'll tell you this that was an installation it was used rarely they would people would come yes matthew people would come and we would activate
(34:36) yes it's in court documents and we would test things so there was some kind of device that papoose yeah this place had a very very limited authorization the letter okay i okay i saw the letter because i used to carry the letter the with the with and on the letter was the list of names yeah the list of names was like 60 names these are the people entirely whose names was on who they had access to this program who could be in this particular building okay can you speak to uh can you speak about what the building's purpose was in (35:32) roundabout ways or general ways well it was it had to do with uh just call it electronic warfare that's all okay dude they had nothing to do with moon man like that just you know you know and i'm sure that that stuff yeah so bob bob basically said that there was a uh a ufo base built into the side of the hill there on the east side of papoose lake yeah did you ever go into that area where he claimed there was that uh installation absolutely yes and it was just on on the on the if you if you have an aerial map of the place
(36:21) yeah it's look if you look to the range of mountains that is just uh it would be just east of the p1 lake bed thanksgiving all right p1 is what you call the boost wasn't it yeah p1 yeah so so the p1 lake bed uh if you if you see the mountain range you can see this little dirt road that comes over comes around the lower south side of that mountain range and then intersects about in the middle of p1 lake bed okay that's that's where we had a little no idea solar shoot don't shoot house built there uh
(37:06) you know at all walls and and rooms and stuff where you could walk through it and and we did live fire at that uh facility too okay yeah so all right so that's where we had that set up right in there so that's the only thing that happened in p1 lake bed and it was you know no no hidden base in the side of the hill there no and and the uh the actual boundary between uh the two different uh areas or whatever you want to just this arbitrary line in the sand if you will right through the middle of p1 lake bed
(37:47) so you know more just a little bit to the west of the middle of the p1 lake bed was the actual boundary line that separated so that was like no man's land between because they were they they wanted to have complete isolation between the programs that were over there versus the programs that um were on our side so was papoose uh did they have any uh radiation issues i noticed that on the west side over the range on the west side was one of the main nuclear testing sites so was there any radiation issues so first we hear from this verified real
(39:01) people could not spend long periods of time there without suffering major health risk and we're gonna hear more about that now um you know um you know you i'm gonna have to say i don't think that there there was uh other than i know you know it's difficult you know when you talk about that place you got to understand there was over a hundred uh airburst detonations of nuclear devices yep that's where they test it nuclear devices friends (40:04) uh it's not it would not be a wise thing to put a base right where they once tested nuclear devices friends oh and look at that here matthew wright with a kind and generous super chat for 4.99 just so everybody knows we read every single super chat we acknowledge and thank every single super chat so get them in friends thank you matthew for your kindness your generosity and your support of the show it really does help you are helping us to do this important work to continue this important work and friends uh you are helping us to (40:40) praise the cash so thank you matthew riot for your kind generation generosity and donation of 499. praise the cash friends [Music] thank you very much matthew much appreciate it uh to the east of that locate or to the west location all right now when you say was there any any radiation there absolutely now to irradiate to work of the type that would be uh immediately harmful to you probably not uh if you if you were there like we were all all the time

(41:47) absolutely i like it yeah all right so uh you know then and there were some areas that were in the hot spots and they had little fences around so and we had one of them right in the middle of our valley right in between uh well it's just just north of the dry lake out in that flat right there there was a fencing area so friends the area where bob lazar claims that the ultra secret base where they kept the alien spacecraft couldn't have been there based on the radiation levels alone you can't have people working out there
(42:36) every day for prolonged periods of time or they would suffer serious health risks and thanks very much to ellen fox for a kind and generous purchase of a super sticker of 4.99 we appreciate your kindness your generosity and your support and ellen fox longtime show supporter always helping us to praise the cash friend raise the cash raised cash thank you for your kindness and your generosity and your continued support ellen much appreciated very generous of you it was an in an area where they had done uh a couple of safety experiments okay
(43:21) and basically a couple of one of those a plutonium device and one of them was a uranium device suspended over 500 feet or so off of the ground and they were all encased in c4 [Music] and they wanted to simulate uh what would happen if uh a rocket uh the ground to air rocket impacted an airplane that had a live nuclear device fully armed would it go nuclear you know would it would it go nuclear or would it just blow up yeah well they they did two tests with uh two different types of devices one one a plutonium one on uranium
(44:20) they blew them into dust and they never they didn't go nuclear but but they spread all the components all the uranium 235 and the plutonium core vaporize that and spread it all over the desert there so we used to drive through that area all the time the one thing that you should know is out of the original uh contingent of contractors that work there uh we all started getting sick i would say what's number one all of us are dead there's only like three or four of us that are still alive now that being said some of them died
(45:20) from natural causes and some of them had the most uh weirdest diseases that you would think of so uh yeah there definitely was a hazard to your health working out there yeah the sad tragedy is that this gentleman fred dunham as well as many other people got sick from a combination of the radiation some believe and also the burn pits where they would burn all of this strange materials that they were developing for the stealth fighter and other black projects he is indeed suing the government we want to thank lord ludacris plaid
(46:00) love the avatar i love the love that chat room user id ed foucher said s4 was a radar shack td barnes ii i agree with you lord ludicrous plaid many people have said that s4 was indeed a radar shack at uh i believe it was tarnipok right but it definitely had nothing to do with bob lazar's fake flying saucer uh you know mechanic stories so you know this is this is the problem maybe bob lazar heard about a location called s4 and he used it in his story but that doesn't mean that he actually worked there and even (46:43) if he did it's a radar it's a radar shack there's no alien spacecraft at that radar shack but thank you lord ludacris plaid for your kindness your generosity and your support as you are helping us continue this great work and praise the cash praise the cat cash friends [Music] right you guys crazy guys crazy cash thank you for your kindness your generosity and your support much appreciate it lord ludacris plaid i think i saw a paper once where it was talking it was a paper about the cleanup of where they took off some of the top oh (47:27) johnson's here old friend it wasn't it wasn't it was an area that was like i say it was just one area that they tried to clean up where they had blown those bombs off um it was just just north and west of the lake bed okay good point slinger that's out in that flat there that's that's the place that we drove through all the time yeah and and the dust from the when we first got there the dust from the vehicles we had were had multitude of holes i agree with that awards and stuff it was amazing how (48:05) we had we had vehicles and that was that was in 1981 we had vehicles that were 1968 1968 vehicles they were right yes it is matthew garbage you know they had to get workable vehicles out of the door i think so any fleet that was basically condemned because that place operated off of uh in its infancy it was operating off of uh like the waste products of the federal government you know if if there was vehicles that were condemned in in one area that still might have three or four hundred thousand or three or four thousand miles left on them

(48:58) we would get them you know uh they would bring them in say oh here use this and use it until it falls apart because then you just threw it in a pit you know abandoned it anything that we did you know so so you never got anything it was brand new i agree matthew anything anything that you got was always used up or very nearly used up now that's that's like in the 80s it started to improve towards the start of the 90s but some new vehicles and stuff like that but yeah you just you know you just come in and (49:35) you can cough you just cough up mud out of your lungs from the dirt you know yeah super super generous uh tractor basil why would you trash bob lazar because he ran a brothel isn't that any man's dream um i don't know maybe for some but for me i would think about the victims you know talk to some sex workers and tell me uh if they enjoyed that experience right get to know some strippers and tell me if they enjoy their jobs right and of course i'm generalizing but uh you know i myself would never become (50:22) involved in that trade based on the uh the way that the women are usually exploited but that's my personal belief that's my personal ethics and morality some would say if they agree to do it for money especially like the legal brothels in las vegas then uh you know so be it but tractor basil wow how generous very very generous of you uh yeah and to uh borrow a phrase from uh rich from goof on mucho generoso absolutely well that is one of the biggest super chats we've ever got uh i want to thank you for your kindness
(50:58) your generosity and support and for helping us of course to praise the cash praise the cash friends uh i am blown away by your generosity tractor basil thank you for supporting our show here [Music] where'd you guys crazy guys crazy cash [Music] where'd you guys crazy guys crazy cash thank you for your kindness thank you for your generosity crazy cash crazy cash raise the cash [Music] so thank you tractor basil for your kindness your generosity and your support of the show and thank you from our little cash clown
(51:53) uh who i'm sure is going to want to cut of that he shook me down tractor basil he wants to know what percentage he gets because he's the one doing the praising of the cash thank you very much for your kindness your generosity and support very much appreciate it i appreciate it immensely all right let's get back to this interview friends uh we've got about 10 10 minutes left here a piece of plutonium that is smaller than like 100 times smaller than a piece of salt yeah and you're you're you're dead (52:29) you know good i'll change this i'll change the subject i know it's probably a bit sensitive for you um have you ever heard of a person called jim tagliani um not not to my knowledge those are dancers tractor-based um i understand you used to let off fireworks over there now yeah i understand that you used to let off a bit of steam and kick uh shoot off their fireworks over in area 51 or papoose or something i think i read something like that oh i don't know alien scientist is did you ever meet the
(53:14) bubbles up no no never never seen it in my life but you have no ob still read that question but you know his story no yeah i've heard of him and uh i mean this guy you know he he got arrested here he's hooked up somehow with some kind of prostitution ring he he he installed uh i don't know the alarm system for some call girls or something i don't know he was yeah actually the story about bob lazar's involvement in the whorehouse depends on who you ask george knapp has said that he was full partners in the whorehouse (54:02) and that he was upset with him because that would ruin the credibility of the story bob at various times has claimed that he uh had very little involvement he just helped him with a security system but you know according to george snapp he was a full partner with a madam in the whorehouse yeah lazar he was just better late

than never scott thanks for being here um you ever see any weird craft not ufos i mean like it's a general question of what kind of aircraft did you see flying out there that you can disclose (54:47) anything that i saw out there's been disclosed up to a point i think yeah but nothing you know nothing nothing any more weirder than than what you see out there in the regular air force inventory you know yeah it's uh 71 and that sort of stuff yeah that nice i happened to to have been the the day that they took the last flight they flew uh sr from uh just off the coast of la to washington is and then they gave that one to the smithsonian um i they happened to have before they retired that plane they they took off and uh
(55:40) refueled and came over and did a couple low flybys a couple of passes uh put the guys that were up there because that was you know one of the things thanks for watching in the past and anyway they came they gave us a little air show with it it was you know five eight minutes they came over a couple club eyes and just an amazing aircraft just you know just they took it it came in over the runway and went vertical and just enough power so the thing just stayed like a very slow rocket going straight up in the air and
(56:16) just kept going and going and going just maintaining that really slow up in the air like that and and it just went up until it disappeared and it flopped over on its back you could see the the uh silhouette and then flopped over us back and then twisted over the right side and just took off just so here's a real area 51 security guard did he see any alien spacecraft or anything really exotic no he saw the sr-71 once and but that was about as exotic as it got so gee i guess no flying saucers being test flown at area 51
(56:58) as jeremy corbell bob lazar and george knapp have claimed for years and you know people will choose what they want to believe i suppose right but this man actually worked there for 10 years he'd been in all areas of the base i think it's a credible witness did they uh conduct any uh nighttime tests and uh yeah it was there every every night do you think that they were flying something out there or sure you know that was uh part of the thing of uh of those items they were testing to say we're you know all that thing about
(57:39) owning the night you know that's that's whole that's part of that old game you know that that invisibility from electronic surveillance and um at night you're invisible you know that's you know they want to cook everything around as best you can so yeah everything was okay i basically asked that because uh at one point bubbles are i was believers have said that uh how did he know that there was going to be lights above that area at that particular night i'm just wondering if there was lights there every night
(58:20) so yeah that's because he took him out there when that particular aircraft was 737 coming in from las vegas at that night another person who believes that the lights in the sky that bob lazar was showing everybody were simply the janet airlines flying employees in remember they were some incredible distance from area 51 when they were sitting there and bob lazar was telling him c that's the alien flying saucers they're testing flying and they believed them friends and i want to stop this for a moment uh
(58:58) victor cagliaro with an incredible boy police records say the police found the brothel lease agreement with bob's name on it so yeah he didn't just install cameras he was running that whorehouse he had also interviewed the hookers and installed surveillance cams in the trick rooms all was in the court documents wow so he put cameras in the rooms yeah you talk about conflict of interest right you catch people some some of those guys may be married some of those guys may be city officials or politicians and you've (59:40) got tape of them engaging in illicit sex acts with prostitutes very problematic uh why would bob lazar do that we can speculate i suppose right uh and victor also chimes in the madam he was in business and also accused him of not paying her a substantial amount of money well that that kind of uh you know is to be expected after all bob lazar declared bankruptcy shortly before coming out with his flying saucer alien flying you know working on flying saucer stories and he never paid a bunch of his creditors he owed everybody money (1:00:20) including pre past employees and i believe his parents even he even owed his parents money that was mentioned in the bankruptcy wow great guy real some scientist every night you mean the general you mean the general thoughts it would come in from vegas to there and pick up people and take them back home yeah you mean the jedi floods yeah yeah that's what that was jesus you know and he's so so and that that thing made as it came in it it be was to go um due north from like indian

springs it would go due north (1:01:02) and then it would turn on its its landing lights halfway during that that approach from from north to halfway up that it would turn and go do east right with the slamming lights on then it would turn and then go through north again so so every time it could be [Music] and then it would turn and go due north again and then it looked like it was moving fast you know so everywhere oh my look at that you know and all it's doing is you know you see the bright landing light and it's it's moving then it's now it's turning
(1:01:48) coming right at you and that looks like it's covering you know and i used to come in every night though every night you know i mean yeah some sometimes twice so this right here friends destroys this argument that some people have like well how do you know about the test flights friends they saw a light in the sky they were miles away from the base they could have been seeing anything airplane lights helicopter lights they literally could have been seeing anything from that distance away there's no proof that bob lazar knew about any
(1:02:24) flying saucer test flights in fact we now have proof that he never stepped foot on the base so how would he know about test flights being conducted at the base if he never even stepped foot on the base yeah and there used to be aircraft tests as well pretty much every night as well you say yeah and in in the test articles they what kind of clearances and security checks did you have to go through and how long does that take about keep connecting see we we started out right when the reagan administration started
(1:03:08) and our paperwork was in before reagan actually took office but when he took office the priority came to clear all his staff so that put us back so it took about i think it took us about seven eight months wow here we have it friends uh bob lazar claimed to get his top secret clearance allowing him to go on the world's most secret base in a few days or was it a week i can't quite recall but here we have a real area 51 employee and i have other sources who told me a similar time frame takes at least six months to get all the
(1:04:01) clearances before you can ever even step foot on the base but we're expected to believe a convicted pimp well he wasn't a convicted pimp at the time but still we're expected to believe this man with a questionable background questionable educational credentials that he got his top secret clearance in less than a week meanwhile real area 51 employees have all told me it takes six months or more for them to do all the background checks in the vetting and for you to get your clearance before you are allowed
(1:04:32) access to the base of uh yeah we we uh they basically paid us just to i agree come down and sign a piece of paper you know that wouldn't that cheats at checkers okay from january from january of uh 80 yeah to uh like september yeah i agree tractor basil uh i was on full payroll and i all i would do is drive down there sign my name see if there was anything and every day it was we got nothing for you to go home you know and and uh yeah so we had i had paid like eight months of course all that time they're running
(1:05:25) the back good point chris you know so seven months just for uh seven eight months just for a security check yeah and um the clearance you got was a uh a military grade clearance it was a top secret clearance and it had what they call an sbi which is a security background investigation okay and then uh once we got uh in in in that particular mode when we got accepted and put in location then they would read you in they would give you an sci and then you had what they called a special project or special program access
(1:06:20) and then because of the nature of what we did some of us had uh uh crypto clearances but okay so just a half books what do you think of bob lazar's claim that he had this uh maj12 super clearance that whole this this is the biggest load of crap no there are no uh you know now i'm gonna tell you straight out yeah there's nothing up there that has to do with anything that has to do with extraterrestrial or anything like that yeah you know the the road to get back to that he went like that yeah is is atrocious gee
(1:07:20) friends so there's no such thing as majestic top top secret and this from an actual security guard at area 51. and he believes that there's nothing extraterrestrial or alien at the base and he's been to every inch of it in his 10 years of time working there now we're going to hear more substantial proof that bob lazar's story is completely and totally bunk because uh bob lazar claimed that he drove and they drove him in a bus from area 51 proper 15 miles out to the papoose ultra secret s4 base (1:07:58) now we're going to hear why that is impossible first of all he never

stepped foot on the base but even if he did he couldn't have taken a bus here to s4 and we're gonna hear why okay you could no more get a bus of any type up that road i mean there's a couple spots in it that it is tough you know there's there's no good maintained road that goes back in there i mean is it unsealed dirt road is it yeah it's just it's a very rough dirt road back in there okay yeah no i agree i don't know (1:08:40) you know they yeah i i'm conflicted you know this the thing is i i really have a a big heartburn about this situation because many of us got real sick yeah because of it getting exposed to those fumes from them burning that material that they've admitted that they did yep you know and and uh do you have some kind of class action going on against them or well no the thing that that is is something is is uh um the actual individuals who are responsible for that particular installation up until 1992 um was the department of energy yeah
(1:09:38) okay the the entity that was there doing whatever they were doing nice to see you rebecca was merely a a a uh like a rancher huge father i'm saying the the physical installation and the property at that time the real estate belonged to the department of energy and they were the individuals that were responsible for what occurred there yes friends so uh the rest of this video which really i think anybody interested in area 51 you really should hear the whole thing but our our real focus tonight was on this incredible
(1:10:24) bob lazar this incredible evidence that bob lazar never stepped foot on area 51 that there's nothing alien or extraterrestrial there that he couldn't have taken a bus to the area that he said he did because the road is so atrocious that no bus could make it 15 miles through this rocky dirty dirt road and calling it a road as a stretch you could see it in satellite maps there's no way a bus is making it through there so most of the relative relevant information of this very important interview concerning bob lazar
(1:10:59) we have listened to now the rest of the interview majorly concerns uh this gentleman's fight against the us government for his health problems he is suing them for having health problems related to these burn pits and that my friends may be a story for another time let's friends uh let me do this because i think this is the most important interview about area 51 that i've heard in a decade the most revealing especially when it comes to the bob lazar case and how ridiculous it is for anybody to believe that bob lazar
(1:11:36) worked there when he's never stepped foot on the base according to real area 51 security guard here who has checked all the logs friends it's a top secret base everyone going in and out of there i guarantee you is logged bob lazar's name does not appear in any of the records or the historical records period he never stepped foot on area 51.
(1:12:03) here's what i'm going to do because honestly i have to apologize to mr cagliaro i forgot to do this terrible show host so we're going to stop this here just bear with me for a moment friends because i have to do this right now before before friends i forget to do it terrible show host one second friends anthony purcell says that's what i'm saying where is the super secret element he stole and george knapp famously said he knew where some of it was buried and someday he's going to dig it up and prove the whole story is real
(1:12:40) sure he is he's been sitting on that for 35 years he has absolute proof bob azar is telling the truth he is absolute proof of extraterrestrial visitation to earth but he's not going to run with that story he's just going to leave it buried sure all right friends so please bear with me for just a moment i am going to post the link here to the to victor's original interview in the description box below let me do that and all those who are interested i highly encourage you to listen to the whole thing
(1:13:17) i just thought that for purposes of time tonight we would focus solely on the evidence relevant to bob lazar i believe friends that this is definitive proof that bob lazar never ever stepped foot on area 51. now you can see my previous videos here we've done many different explorations into this case and each time i do that we tend to find more evidence that supports the argument that bob lazar was an opportunist bankrupt fraud who created this story to make money after all it should also be noted that right before bob lazar came out
(1:13:57) with his story he and jean huff did a real estate appraisal at john lear's house and what did gene huff get for that he got traded all of john lear's material on billy meyer and friends it's no coincidence that it's no coincidence friends that bob lazar's flying saucer he claimed to work on looks virtually identical to the flying saucers that billy meyer his beam ship right and bob lazar and jean hoff sat around watching all those billy meyer videos and going through all those billy meyer books and pictures

(1:14:38) and suddenly bob lazar is working at area 51 working on a spaceship that looks exactly like billy myers and billy meyer is a complete and total proven hoaxer fraudster so you know i find that compelling evidence gee right before he comes out with a story gene huff and him get all the billy meyer material from john lear and john lear has said a lot of stuff one other point i just want to make sure that i make is that since the beginning of this bob lazar and his supporters have claimed that he doesn't make any money
(1:15:10) from this friends he sold a video for 29.95 called excerpts from the government bible it's here on our channel you can watch it for free but when i was a kid i got robbed for i think 29.95 plus shipping and handling i ordered the video came on vhs it was in the back of i'm not sure if it was omni or popular science magazine in the classifieds learn the truth about the ufo cover-up and so bob lazar owes me 29.
(1:15:39) 95 because i don't believe that his story is true and by the way i want the interest too it's been a long time bob lazar you owe me 29.95 next bob lazar cashed in with testers model corporation and he got a substantial upfront payment for allowing them to make a model of the alien flying saucer he claims he worked on and he got a royalty for each unit sold various sources have told me they sold millions of that model next very recently for the 25th anniversary george knapp got bob lazar a huge payout and he appeared at a conference
(1:16:16) and was paid a whopping 25 000 fee for one appearance now to his credit i suppose bob azar never did really work a lot of ufo conferences i think that he was working a bigger angle like the hollywood screenplay that he and jean huff tried to sell to hollywood but that didn't work out and most recently friends i'm told from several sources and i can't there's no way for me to verify this but i'm just going to say it and you can believe what you will do your own research but tom delong is the publisher of bob lazar's new book
(1:16:54) right but tom delong tried to hide that he was the publisher at least i believe that he did because a brand new publisher came out of nowhere to publish bob lazar's book and myself and many other people checked on that website and we found out that the register of the publisher's website for bob lazar's book was indeed tom delong's sister now i'm told from several people and there's lots of rumors floating around about how much money bob lazar got paid but i've been told by many people and
(1:17:24) heard many rumors that it is seven figures a million plus he got paid for that book the book deal and uh you know it's reasonable to assume that that may be true because shortly after bob lazar's book came out he bought something like a half million dollar new home and property with multiple outbuildings etc uh not a cheap new house you know half a million dollars is a lot of money for bob lazar to just suddenly come up with and buy a new home now in his defense you know maybe he just put a down payment down he's got a
(1:17:59) big mortgage i don't know but bob lazar won't answer any questions about how much money he's made with these stories george knapp certainly won't answer any questions about how much money he's made with these stories and jeremy corbell won't answer any questions about how much money he's made selling this story so what we get friends is the supporters of bob lazar all making money you know and they love to attack people who present evidence that babazar may be not telling the truth and there's there's certainly
(1:18:35) a lie of omission thing going on like maybe george knapp's not lying to you he tells a compelling story i've listened to almost every george knapp giving a lecture or talking about this case or doing a story about this case for 35 years he's very convincing but one problem i always have with george knapp is we've heard in this interview of an area 51 security guard an area 51 security guard goes to george knapp and says george knapp you may not want to get get in with this guy it'll damage your reputation we checked
(1:19:08) the area 51 logs of everybody going in and out and bob lazar is not on the list so he's fake he's a fraud he never ever worked at area 51 let alone ever he never even stepped foot on the base this guy tells george knapp did george knapp ever report that of course not because george knapp jeremy corbell and bob lazar never show people the evidence the counter argument here they're all pro lazar he's telling the truth and we believe him he must be telling the truth for various weak evidence reasons why (1:19:51) no friends bob lazar cannot prove that he ever worked at area 51 and in fact there is substantial definitive supportive evidence that he never worked at area 51 and we've heard just some of it tonight and friends it would take me five hours to go through all of the other evidence but there is other videos here on my channel now there is uh something that i need to do there's one final point some of you may have seen our uh previous video today we did a video today which was all about another one of jeremy corbell's fake (1:20:32) stories i believe that bob lazar is a fake story i'm entitled to my opinion and my opinion is that bob lazar is a fake story and the only people that are telling you that bob lazar is telling the truth are people with a direct financial motive to continue selling a story who have been selling a story for years as in the case of george knapp and jeremy corbell they're making money selling this story right so they're telling you the story is real while at the same time leaving out all the evidence that

(1:21:02) the story may be fake why don't they be fair and present evidence like we did tonight why don't they be fair and talk about this kind of evidence no friends if you're bold enough to ask these important questions to either george knapp good luck reaching bob lazar nobody gets access or uh jeremy corbell you'll get blocked on social media actually that's not accurate i have a little more respect for george and app because george knapp will at least engage with you he'll answer questions sometimes he'll
(1:21:33) comment on something that you found or did uh usually to tell you how wrong you are but at least george knapp is open to a conversation and he does not block me or you know i've had several heated exchanges with george knapp most recently when we investigated the claim that the bob lazar's business was being raided so that they could find the element 115 no friends it was a murder investigation it had nothing to do with bob lazar's flying saucer stories and we talked to the sheriff who disputed an incredible amount of (1:22:07) things that both george knapp and jeremy corbell said happened during that raid none of that happened it's a fantasy and they used you know it was very uh very opportunistic jeremy corbell used a real fbi raid on bob lazar's business to help sell his film gee they raided his business and there was 40 agents going through every inch of the place no that didn't happen there was 10 or 11 agents right and they didn't go through every inch they went there they got the sales records they were after uh bob lazar was selling a rare
(1:22:44) radioactive element that may or may not have let's just say allegedly been involved in a murder case right so you know we've got the people here that are always selling the story they won't give you the the counter argument they won't show you the other side of the coin and i think it's about time that somebody did show you the other side of the coin now uh jeremy corbell has also been involved in another story that i believe is a complete and total fantasy and fake and that is the c i deathbed confession
(1:23:20) him and richard dolan did that story and it involves a man cooper a source that the queen of fake sources linda molten hal milked for years all throughout the 90s doing all these interviews with him friends most you know i'll be fair and say some of linda milton howe's sources are completely totally made up you know her spartan 1 and spartan 2 or spartan 8 i don't know how many spartans she has now it sounds like every time she needs a new story to sell she invents a new spartan guy uh they were claimed to be navy seals
(1:23:58) turns out that they were never in the navy so it's not a stretch to believe that linda moulton has sources many of which have fake military backgrounds and this cooper being one of her sources is a fraud now i have said uh you know and i've asked richard dolan i try to ask him directly through emails and tweets and other things he's never answered answered my question so you could see a previous video we did today we got somebody else to ask him the questions that he will never answer from me and he appeared on this theories of
(1:24:31) everything show and i want to thank kurt he's a very courageous young man asked him some very hard questions and in that interview now it's important to remember that richard dolan says in this video that corbell and him made he was in the military he is who he says he is he worked for the cia so i say where where's the proof now uh interestingly earlier i want to remind just in case he's watching mr corbell you blocked me some time ago because you didn't like the questions that i was asking about (1:25:05) your bob lazar so-called documentary that i believe to be a pro-lazar propaganda piece uh solely designed he's not corbell you're not after the truth you're after selling the story if you were after the truth you would have presented all the evidence that bob lazar's education is fake and it's it's out there and it's been out there for years you would have presented all the evidence that he didn't work at los alamos as a scientist he was an electronics technician that evidence has (1:25:34) been out there for years why didn't you include that in your documentary right it's it's a lie by omission friends it is a lie by omission uh but uh you know there's this video that we made recently uh and what we did is we uh went back and forth between richard dolan saying this man was in the military this man is who he says he is to dolan's recent interview where he was asked about this and confronted and he said richard dolan said i i never did a background check i never yeah i didn't vet him no you

(1:26:12) know somebody asked me to do the interview and he blamed other people for what just may be one of the biggest fake stories in ufo land so you know and it was me who asked the questions he was on another show the other show host offered to ask some questions from me and did so uh richard dolan also took what is it about 25 or 30 minutes to explain why the wilson documents aren't fake i'm sorry but the person mentioned in those documents claims they are completely and totally fictitious and he couldn't even
(1:26:42) have been in the state at the time that the meetings in the wilson documents were supposedly supposed to take place so anyway i want to remind jeremy corbell you can't tweet at me when you've blocked me i won't see it and i can't reply to you when you've blocked me i won't be able to you won't see it uh but somebody else sent me this and and this is jeremy corbell's comment on our uh on our video our previous video here uh one second friends uh a little out of sorts let me get this
(1:27:14) and share it with you because it's important so we did a video earlier today titled did richard dolan and jeremy corbell use a fake source to sell a fake story and jeremy corbell uh replied not to me but to somebody else but i guess he's including me but since he blocked me i can't see him tweeting me uh and let's let's share what he said friends so in regard to the cia deathbed confession video and our uh assertion that they cannot and will not prove that this man is who he says he is and it's very important i want the proof
(1:27:54) of everything that you state it in the video jeremy corbell you guys said he was in the military he worked for the c.i.a this man is who he said he is so i'm not the one telling the story jeremy corbell says this is laughable sad and desperate attention-seeking horse you know what so the premise is that the witness wasn't in the military no my major premise is that this man is not who he says he is you said that he was in the military you said that he worked for the cia and so did richard dolan and apparently your
(1:28:31) co-producer here reuben langdon corbell goes on to say and what proof do you base that nonsense on i'm asking you the question now as this is a teachable moment reuben langdon and i vetted his dd214 great great i'm so glad jeremy corbell that you vetted him and his military experience is real and that i'm wrong i can't or that i may be wrong i since you vetted him in in 2014 uh you vetted his dd214 well actually he didn't say when he just says he vetted the dd 214.
(1:29:10) great jeremy corbell post it post the dd214 that for those that don't know that's somebody's detailed military records and it'll even say where they were stationed what work they did all that kind of stuff so see and jeremy corbell's wrong my presence is not just that he wasn't in the military my premise is that this man is not who he says he is you jeremy corbell and you richard dolan say you have proof he was in the military great post it i can't wait to read those documents and match up his dd214 to some of his claims made in your video
(1:29:44) that you've been selling for years and oh do you have pay stubs from the cia or proof he worked at the cia right you have that proof since you're claiming this man is who he says he is and and the whole premise of your video is that he's a former cia operative on his deathbed giving a confession about the aliens you have the proof he worked for the cia right did you file for request with the government to verify his being employed by the cia and other claims he's made can't wait to see those jeremy corbell oh
(1:30:16) and he claims to have flown into area 51 right so you've got copies of all the flight logs with his name on them right see friends every plane flying in or out of area 51 and every person who's ever visited the base is logged as we've heard tonight and the flight logs would prove or disprove those claims but we've never seen the flight logs from jeremy corbell and richard dolan and if you ask me why we haven't seen them it's because that we never will because those flight logs friends with that man's name on (1:30:49) them flying into or out of area 51 simply do not exist any records proving that he worked for the cia simply do not exist and i got to tell you friends if he truly worked for the cia you'd be able to find some corroboration some documents some proof that he actually worked there he'd be able to provide them i can't wait to see this proof richard dolan stood in front of cameras and said this man is who he said he was so you richard dolan and you jeremy corbell you should be able to prove his military (1:31:22) claims and claims that he worked for the cia right selling a story where you claim this man was in the military and worked for the cia when you cannot indeed prove those claims is extremely problematic and in my personal opinion that could amount to consumer fraud after all you're saying the story is true and this man is who he says he is you're claiming he worked for the cia and the military you made those claims you claimed this was a true story so i say fine prove this man is who he said he was you guys have

(1:31:55) already made all the money from that project it's about time you offer the proof that that man is who he says he was as you stated in your video and with that friends uh we will take a very short break and then we're going to uh oh super chat did i miss one oh there we go thank you very much lord ludacris plaid he says he hand drawn sports yeah he's right now that's another cash in bob lazar never made any money from this friends he's right now selling a hand-drawn sports model poster for ninety dollars and he'll sign it for you
(1:32:35) i almost want to buy it but i don't want to give this person any more money yeah i definitely don't want to give him any of my own money right uh and i want to thank victor cagliaro for being here and dropping lots of knowledge and fun facts uh yeah and this is something that we talked about earlier the court docs say bob got his degrees from pacifica university a correspondent school i found a pacific university got shut down for selling degrees mike wallace on 60 minutes busted them yeah it was a degree mill victor
(1:33:10) cagliaro and you can't get into mit or caltech with a fake degree that you bought online from a company that got busted for selling fake degrees just doesn't happen i've talked to mit and caltech admissions officers who both laughed at the idea of anybody getting into a master's program with a degree from pacifica university so friends we're going to take a very very short break here and we're going to do a musical guest tonight to give us a short break and then when i come back i'm going to devote my
(1:33:46) full and complete and total attention to the live chat i think that would be a good idea so uh let me see friends i'm trying to find one we haven't played in a while yeah we're gonna play uh my old friend jason paul elder who used to record at my studio so uh we're gonna play a musical guest we'll be right back friends [Music] contemplation brewing passport [Music] why is this happening to me it's just the way it has to be
(1:34:57) you say our words mean something but they don't belong how can i ever make me [Music] slightly creating hearts [Music]
(1:36:22) [Music] [Music] [Music] [Applause] [Music] [Applause]
(1:37:33) so [Music] [Music] it's just [Music] it's just (1:39:12) okay and we are back friends uh thanks to my old friend jason paul elder for lending me some of his songs and uh being a musical guest much appreciated old friend jason paul elder check out his music on youtube just search by his name there one of the uh really fun guys that used to record at my studio studio in philadelphia and uh that's the reason i had to take a break friends i'm still having uh some nasal and sinus issues and throat issues i'm sure it's nothing serious it's slowly slowly going away
(1:39:50) but it's taking forever kicks rocks is here and she's a music critic says music is about to put me to sleep cambian well uh sometimes we play more rock and stuff tonight uh yeah i just happened to grab that one sorry uh yeah check out some of his other music you might like it so friends i will devote my full and total attention to the live chat we could discuss tonight's show or anything anything that's reminding me to take covid uh take vitamin c uh yes i'm taking vitamin c zinc vitamin d grapefruit seed extract and a bunch of
(1:40:31) other stuff just trying to knock it out of me matt mystic moon asked me do i still record yes and in fact if you sign up for my patreon we do a few songs a month that are just for the patreon supporters uh go kick rocks that's much nicer says nice relaxing song yeah he tends to be that way his music is kind of relaxing it's good for like lights and candles and kick back and relax yeah so any questions or comments for me i want to publicly thank victor cagliaro and i'm not sure if he's still in the live chat but i want to

(1:41:08) thank him for allowing us to share this very very important evidence and friends i want to ask you why are george knapp and not and jeremy corbell and others who profit from the bob lazar story why aren't they bringing you this very important evidence right so wharton says philadelphia do you like the flyers moves do you still have the studio in philly uh no solar warden i miss it a lot um a few years ago you know when philly started to get really bad with the crack heads and the and the dopers they were going to put solar
(1:41:50) warden a safe injection site just about a mile and a half from my home and studio i had a home and next to it a separate building with the commercial recording studio for some time in philadelphia so when it started getting bad in that area i decided to cash everything out i sold my home which was really my family's home before me my father bought that home in 1984 and i moved in with my mother after his death to take care of the home and because she was a career housewife so i took care of her for some 20 years
(1:42:24) then she passed away and there was really no reason to stay in that neighborhood it was getting bad so we cashed out i sold both my home and the recording studio and moved to the suburbs we are now in the suburbs of philadelphia don't miss philadelphia one bit but i do sure miss the studio and i may build a new one time will tell but i record songs every month and they get posted on patreon until an album is done so the patreon people are getting the album before it's finished in various forms and there's links in
(1:43:00) the about section and links in the descriptions uh if you want to in the description of this video if you want to sign up for a patreon it's as little as a dollar a month and we post a journal every month about things going on behind the scenes at the show i've been posting these new characters including uh an update now we have jimmy needs church as a character and linda moulton howdy duty and the people that are on our patreon get to see those tests it's sort of a backstage view before things go live
(1:43:34) in public here on our public stream you guys on patreon supporting me get get uh to preview those things uh so yeah tractor basil says trash my boy david a bear and i'll never well now i'm gonna have to keep my mouth shut about what i think about david adair but i do have a show coming up right victor cagliaro says come to australia you can enjoy lockdowns every few weeks yeah i saw all those videos it's crazy over there victor have these guys have the people in australia just like we've had enough
(1:44:12) we're not taking this anymore is that kind of where you guys are at right okay chaffa says victor collier you did a phenomenal job of getting that interview i absolutely agree and shout out we earlier shout out to dark sky files an alien scientist is here saying rhode island is bad in certain areas too jeremy i want to move to the cabin we're in the middle of the woods you know we've got neighbors but it's a bunch of people that just decide to go live in the middle of the woods it's very like-minded people i got great
(1:44:46) neighbors great community there of people most of which are trying to escape from the real crap world that we live in and just have a place off in the woods right i want to live there ideally or someplace like that and me and my wife are thinking about it and uh you know time will tell we're very happy here in the suburbs but i'd like to be even more uh isolated and even the cabin is not as isolated as i'd like to be jeremy i would ideally i want to i want to live on 100 or 200 acres and put a little cabin right in the middle of
(1:45:21) those 100 or 200 acres with a dirt road leading up to it and a private gate and just escape from this world right tractor basil says i want to smoke a blood with big baddy daddy bear david adair uh you know i i'm not sure what to think about his story it's a great story i wish it's true i want it to be true kind of like the bob lazar story or the cia death bed confession story i wish that was true as well right but uh you know you told me not to trash your buddy david dear so i won't but maybe on a future show uh we might (1:46:03) we might get to doing that i want to check in with the super chats just to make sure that we didn't miss any of them i want everybody to know that we read acknowledge and thank every single person and i'm going to re-read them tonight just to be sure that i got every one of you it looks like i did but i'm going to read them again and thank everyone once again uh one second let me make sure there's nothing there that i don't want anybody to oh no it's okay all right one second all right so here as our kind and
(1:46:38) generous super chat donators tonight we're going to start with the first one from matthew riot kind and generous 499 super chat you sunk my lazar battleship

ellen fox with the kind and generous 499 super chat lord ludacris plaid saying ed foucher said s4 was a radar shack td barnes 2. yeah and check out alien scientist channel because he and uh solar marshall did amazing deep dives into ed foucher i think ed foucher was the real deal when people ask me who i trust i i tend to trust edgar fouche because his
(1:47:13) background and where he worked could actually be verified he really was in the military he really did work at these secret bases and he really did have secret clearance tractor basil why would you trash bob lazar because he ran a brothel isn't that every man's dream well maybe for some and lord ludacris plaid with another kind of generous dollar 99 super chat saying he sells oh babazar is selling hand-drawn sports model poster right now for 99.
(1:47:42) thank you all for your kindness your generosity and your support it means a lot to me it helps keep the lights on here and keep the show moving forward every dollar helps friends uh we buy supplies with it we pay for software we need i'm i'm going to be purchasing some stock video collections so that we can sort of up our production game that's coming out of the till here it just gives me a little bit of money to work with and so far hey tonight i'm doing great thanks to the kindness and generosity and support of everybody tonight
(1:48:14) i'm making better than taco bell wages tonight i think right we've been here for an hour and 48 minutes definitely better than taco bell wages friends what can i say uh what can i say it's a good time for everybody uh for me to thank everybody and say praise the cash friends thank you all for your kindness your generosity and your support there's a money button down there get them in now we're not going to be here much longer friends praise the cash where'd you guys create the guys crazy
(1:48:48) cash thank you for your kindness thank you for your generosity crazy cash crazy cash raise the cash [Music] cat [Music] yeah that's how i feel tonight people are just throwing money at me i'm so thankful and i have an attitude of gratitude wow look at that when another show host is sending you money what can you say jeremy you didn't have to do that you got a family you know uh and but i truly appreciate it amazing work get some beers on me with a kind and generous twenty dollar super chat and now we gotta go back to the super chats
(1:49:46) and say praise the cash thank you jeremy i truly appreciate it for those that don't know jeremy is the smartest guy i know literally like and i'm a computer science guy i know some smart people but jeremy starts talking about protons and neutrons and spin you know and gravitational vortexes he's been into the ufo uh phenomenon forever but his emphasis is on the science behind the propulsion systems and he's got this apec conference and they're really going after the secrets of any gravity i hope he cracks the code thank you for
(1:50:23) kindness your generosity and your support praise the caster jeremy alien scientist where'd you guys create the guys for his [Music] cash okay so we'll take some comments and questions from the live chat some conscious life expo is coming up and then another one right after that sure they will be praising the cash yeah i don't work conferences so uh yeah wow tractor basil the kind and generous dollar 29 super chat wow uh that that brings him up to a grand total of something like 51.
(1:51:08) 29 tonight most kind and generous super chatter ever so thank you uh very much and praise the cash from cash raise the cash raised cash okay and i just want to remind people you know that we're doing god's work here so when you donate you are helping us to number one keep some of these ufo celebrities honest and i gotta tell you friends it's a tough job but somebody's gotta do it right and i'm you know there are other people doing this work but we are really trying to push the ball forward here and really really trying to
(1:51:47) make it harder for people to sell fake stories right so what can i say friends uh you know we really think that throwing us a couple of bucks really does help us right and uh we appreciate your kindness your generosity and support we're doing we're doing the work we need to do here friends and you guys are all helping us here's what i want you to do if the lord is speaking to you let's just bring some baskets down just leave from there i'm not finished i got one more point to make this is what i want you to do (1:52:33) thank you miss marguerita i brought her because i want you to understand that the work must continue this is not a plea for money it's a plea for partnership so that we can be what we're supposed to be [Applause] i just need 497 people to say i'll do it i'll do 300. and and friends of course i'm joking but this this uh these bumpers came from me not quite knowing how to ask for money and i thought who asks for money better than everybody right televangelists do lord ludacris plaid with another kind

(1:53:29) and generous donation of 1.99 ed foucher had me at goggles yeah he had me at the goggles too i know exactly what you're talking about actually he had me at him describing that the us government had cpus that were far in advance of consumer cpus they were like three times faster or something like that ed foucher i believe was the real deal his background could be verified his military service could be verified and hopefully someday we will do a deep dive here and we will cover edgar fouche in the meantime lord
(1:54:09) ludacris plaid thank you for kindness your generosity and support and helping us to praise the cash friends where'd you guys play the guys crazy cash thank you for your kindness thank you for your generosity crazy cash crazy cash raise the cash [Music] thank you lord ludacris plaid very generous of you very generous of everybody tonight i'm quite certain that this was the most uh money we've ever collected in super chats in one show and i gotta tell you i'm happy about that because i'm looking at some new
(1:54:49) equipment um and i mean i will we'll talk about that on another show matthew riot with a kind and generous donation of 4.99 still gonna but for a burp yeah i got him on my list as well absolutely matthew wright you want to see us do a show on dan burrish i uh there's many people that worked on that case or research that case that i know and i could try to get some of them as guests so thank you for your kindness your generosity praise the cash matthew [Music] my poor son right i want listen you know i'm surprised i didn't get any hate mail
(1:55:32) about me involving my son in in this show and and praising the cash but it's important that i tell people that the truth is that my son is learning about earning money and uh he likes uh you know he likes clowns and things like that so we came up with this idea to teach him that you can't just keep asking for toys every week and getting new toys you have to you have to earn them so i told him that if he worked on the show we would get him some new toys and we have but i have a feeling there's some new toys in his future because
(1:56:06) people really like our little cash clown right ufo watchdog is here shout out to ufo watchdog ufo watchdog are you a moderator please uh let me see here if you're not a moderator i'm gonna make you one and i want you to put your website in the in the live chat because ufo watchdog is one of the people that turned me on to the fact that some of these people are telling the truth and friends believe it or not i used to be a true believer and when i heard somebody at a ufo conference stand up and say that they were in the (1:56:39) the air force or navy or whatever i believe that the conference organizer vetted them and they really were telling the truth i had no idea how many stolen valor frauds were out there pretending to be military people and there there we find ufo watchdog uh i found his website detailing many many of these ufo hucksters fraudsters fakers and liars and that's one of the things that turned me down the rabbit hole of like oh my how oh all these so many of these people are lying why doesn't anybody fact check them
(1:57:20) ufo watch dog has been fact checking them long before me and i just now made you a moderator ufo watchdog so you can put your please do put your website address uh yeah ufo watchdog even got sued for exposing someone wasn't that uh gee i forget who it was sean david morton wasn't he the guy who sued you or was it somebody else ufo watchdog and terrible that somebody would do that you know god forbid you tell people the truth and screw up their wallet and their cons right it's terrible terrible uh so actually i'm going to
(1:57:58) share something from my twitter and this relates to this whole thing that just happened with me richard dolan and jeremy corbell and i'm going to make no apologies for this always remember friends misdirection deception and subterfuge can be very useful weapons of war and magicians are learned experts at these things and more so sometimes you know things may not be what they actually appear to be right they may not be what they appear to be but illusions friends magicians can see through deception and illusions more easily than (1:58:44) most and illusions can only last so long eventually they fade friends one more thing i was going to share one second friends let me get this up okay i mentioned the characters and the patreon and we've been testing several characters doing screen tests right and here we are friends linda moulton howdy duty is a new guest host coming soon to truth seekers right it took me three tries to get this one this is the third attempt at making a linda molten hattie duty character uh yeah and and actually the name linda (1:59:31) molten howdy duty is not mine i want to thank rich from goofon came from him i said wow that's a great idea for a character can i use that name he said sure own it bro go ahead good guy and then besides linda martin howdy duty screen tests on our patreon we're also sharing these jimmy needs church character screen tests and uh i'm hoping that these will be soon right one second did i miss one yeah hold on friends i'm having a little bit of trouble with my live chat oh there we go lord ludacris plaid with (2:00:15) another kind and generous donation of 4.99 so where do you stand now what percentage of people see are military versus actual unknown you know i believe that of all the ufo reports you know it's been said by many people including blue book that 90 or more are explainable by weather phenomenon misidentified aircraft uh the planet venus or other uh astronomical sightings that are are misconstrued as something otherworldly i believe it's probably about ten percent is truly unknown and if you drill down on those you'll probably

(2:00:53) get rid of another five percent of those right so thanks for your kindness your generosity and your support lord ludacris plaid helping us to praise the cash where'd you guys create the guys freezing cash thank you for your kindness thank you for your generosity crazy cash crazy cash raise the cash and i apologize friends i'm going to have to get some other bumpers because i never anticipated uh having to do having to play those praised cash bumpers quite so much all in one show right but thank you for kindness your
(2:01:42) generosity and support every little bit helps uh and and and right now i'm going you know if there's something new for the show i want to buy i can do that and not worry so i appreciate that very much ufo watchdog yeah so was it was sean david morton right that sued you for libel then he ended up in federal prison for investment scams right and now he's a convicted felon and ufo watchful do you know is he out i thought he was out but then i think they that he went back into prison for some reason right
(2:02:17) yeah ufo watchdog says he couldn't prove one of his claims in court yeah but i'm sure it was still costly right john trouts is here that's my brother-in-law actually uh pro wrestler at one time my brother-in-law john he just spent the weekend with us at the cabin and there's a funny picture of my son waking him up with a jason mask on in a machete so that's their uncle booboo their favorite uncle and xavier loves to prank him so he's always asking me to help him and my wife to help prank
(2:02:50) him we woke him up he woke him up as jason a lot of fun right alien scientist that clown kid is uber creepy hey that's my son he's learning to earn money right you know better than me your boys are older than me i think they're older than mine uh jeremy those toys get expensive so i'm trying to make them work for things so he'll calm down on asking for 8 million toys a week i mentioned before he's been watching toy what i call toy porn he just watches these shows where they open toys talk
(2:03:23) about toys play with toys and then he wants them but he watches so many of them that we can't keep up he's always fighting new stuff right all right so you know friends i think that we uh yeah matthew bryant says a ufo scammer involved in real estate scams never ufo watchdog says please forgive my eight megabyte my eight byte website from the 90s yeah it's a little outdated but i'm glad it's there especially for historical purposes and like i said it sure helped wake me up so everybody has their place at the
(2:04:03) table and by the way while i'm on that subject i wanted to mention uh you know that this is the time and place that we find ourselves together in and it's a special place to me but we're going to be wrapping things up here i could spend all night here you know i love this place that i have found myself in mostly because i finally just took my place at the table you see along the way of this journey and you guys have taken it with me i learned a very important lesson and that is not to bother to ask for your place at (2:04:39) the table right because all these ufo celebrities you know the powers that be at this table will always say no they'll tell you you're not good enough or smart enough or rich enough or you haven't written enough books or done enough lectures they will always make excuses for why you don't deserve a place at their table and the truth is that they will do anything to stop you from taking a place at their table and having a voice there especially if you've got information that they're selling fake stories right (2:05:14) especially if you're sharing information that can shatter their often fake stories if you have proof their stories are fake then they don't want you at their table they won't accept you instead they want to silence you and censor you i will not be silenced or censored and along this journey my friends i learned no don't even bother to ask for your place at the table just take it and take it i did and it's funny to me after i finally just took my place at that table and there was nothing left to stop me

(2:05:51) funny that i'm now considering just walking away from this whole table of insanity forever like i said you know researching ufos is like chasing shadows you just never quite get to any anything meaningful tantalizing evidence this might have happened tantalizing evidence this might have happened but you never get to the goods in the case of bob lazar we never get to the element 115 friends we never get those satellite images showing that alien flying saucer base just as he describes right there on that mountain
(2:06:27) no it's sand and rocks there's nothing there because bob lazar is a fraud and a fake and a convicted pimp and a liar and anyone selling his story is certainly not without their own sins and maybe just maybe they're selling the story for money sometimes i wonder if even they believe it or do they know that the story is fake but it'll sell so let's keep on selling it no friends i'm not asking for my place at the table i'm taking it and if they still try to stop me i'm going to build my own table i will
(2:07:15) not be silenced i will not be censored i will not be stopped in my efforts i will not be intimidated threatened or harassed like many people are when they start standing up to this fakery fraudery that goes on in our so-called ufo community let me tell you something there's no community there's a bunch of guys at the top of this pyramid scheme of fakery making tons of money hanging out with criminals right people they know are criminals working for people they know are criminals hocking fake stories people with fake
(2:07:52) backgrounds and fake employment histories they can't prove it's a cesspool and i wonder why am i even here like i said friends i want to believe i guess that's why i'm still here but lately i've been getting more and more burnout and sad that at every turn i find another fake story another fraud another profiteer selling a questionable story let's just say questionable story right no friends i don't know what will happen next as far as me but i do know that i'm not gonna ask for my place at the table because that
(2:08:39) would be foolish they're never gonna let me sit at that table so i'm just taking my place and like it or not i'm here to stay and some people are gonna have to deal with me you know throughout this journey i have become a hero to some and for that i'm thankful but the real truth is that i have become a villain to others people don't like you know these comforting fairy tales that they've believed in for years people don't like those illusions being shattered right before their eyes but everyone my friends everyone has
(2:09:24) their place at this table and maybe just maybe that's my place and if it is then so be it let me do this work and do it well let me help inform people let me help people that are too quick to believe these things without any facts or evidence or fact checking if if no one else is going to stand up and say this story is not true or i believe this story is not true because here's all the evidence it's not true friends the people selling these stories aren't going to share that evidence with you i will so i welcome old friends
(2:10:15) and i want to welcome anyone new give us a chance if you really want to get to the truth behind these things you'll be glad that you did and i want to remind anybody listening in audio podcast land you're missing half the fun please go over to youtube search for truth seekers one word look for me the guy with the strange sunglasses click subscribe click the notification bell you'll know about our live shows and you too can come here you've heard all the audience interaction that we've had tonight that's a huge
(2:10:46) part of what we do here we welcome you into our live chat because unlike other intellectual weaklings and cowards who simply block people who ask good questions or who show them evidence that their stories may be fake we don't block people here we allow open and honest conversations we want to have a conversation and all these people that we talked about tonight george knapp jeremy corbell bob lazar richard dolan you're all welcome to come here and i will be respectful and i will be very nice to you uh but it's certainly not my intention (2:11:27) to uh you know corner somebody in into an interview they don't want to give many of these people make their decisions by show you know how many subscribers oh you don't have enough subscribers i'm not going to sell any books so they won't come here or at least that's the excuse that i hear from some of them my point being that here we have honest open discussions we look at all the evidence right we discuss all the evidence we don't leave out evidence if the story may not be true because (2:11:59) we're selling this story friends we're trying to get to the truth i'm doing my very best here and i have a lot of help i want to thank immensely uh victor colliero because this would have been possible without his kindness i had you know i was like victor please you've got to let me share this and talk about on my show it's just so important right i think it's just that important and tonight we got to share it so very special thanks to him i think excellent work uh victor can tell you in the live chat where you can

(2:12:32) find more and i did put the whole original interview in the description box here of the video it's important to me friends that we recognize those that are helping us actually get to the truth victor's not making a dime right he's just personally interested and he wants to get to the truth and i gotta tell you a lot like me that makes victor a very dangerous man because he doesn't neither he or i we don't have and and some of us out here researching these topics don't have a financial motive to lie to you
(2:13:08) and i reason friends we saw people sending me some super chats tonight we have some financial support here which is great because i reason that if these ufo hucksters and celebrities can make all this money selling you lies maybe some of us can make some money trying to obliterate those lies trying to help you see through those lies and i'm glad that i could do this uh for for you know i've been receiving so many really nice comments lately i want to thank everybody for their support and their encouragement it really means
(2:13:43) a lot to me because i've been out here in the woods for a long time a voice in the wind that almost no one was hearing but lately friends lately things are changing and if you haven't noticed as evidenced by our late our video we posted earlier today of richard dolan it's going to become increasingly more and more difficult for these ufo celebrities to ignore me my evidence and my questions all i want is a conversation why won't they have a conversation are they cowards are they intellectual weaklings
(2:14:18) whose stories are so weak they cannot withstand debate or conversation about the evidence in those stories kind of makes you wonder doesn't it friends friends uh i'm always happy when there's an audience and i gotta tell you we had our biggest audience live audience that we've ever had on any show tonight and uh boy i can't tell you how happy i am when there's an audience and tonight we had a great one we listened to a great interview uh with help from a friend there victor cagliaro i think it's the most important
(2:14:54) interview on area 51 that i've heard in a decade really is important work that he's doing and so pleased that he would let us share it here on our show thank you again victor so until next time friends my name is steven cambion reminding you that sometimes the truth is ugly but it's still always worth having good night friends [Music] so

Transcript:
(00:26) hi i'm robert from exopolitics germany with frederick from mexico politics denmark and we're sitting here with george knapp a man who actually wrote ufo history and who's actually a part of you for history himself you created part of ufo history welcome george thank you you're making me sound old well i'm making you the trying to put you in that historical context that you that you actually came up with area 51 you're responsible for setting that term into the world it's not a heavy burden
(00:58) don't you feel a little yeah well it goes it varies between whether i should be blamed for it or accept or be prideful of it i i think it's a little bit of both you know i think probably the the people out there wish that it had never happened the people who run the base because we've created so many problems for them since those stories first aired in 1989 25 years ago tens of thousands of people have gone out to the base to see whatever it is that's flying around out there every news organization in the world has sent

on government secrecy black projects that had never been made possible before there are those who say maybe the government created these stories that they leaked them to me and i did their bidding because they wanted to focus the focus to be something away from what they really do out there and on ufos which is ridiculous and to those folks i say anyone who had that plan in mind really screwed up because as a result of the ufo stories you know
(02:03) so much attention has been shined on area 51 i'm proud of it i i am i'm proud of it recently you talked to bob lazar again 25 years after uh the main his main story broke out how how how how did that come about again i mean how he's been very reluctant to stepping forward how how did that well you know i think i'm probably the only person in the world the only interviewer who can get bob to do that he's sort of shied away from it he's like to he'd like to leave that chapter of his life behind
(02:33) and because of the friendship that we've developed over the years it's harder for him to ignore me so i pestered him about it for quite some time and finally talked him into doing an interview for the 25th anniversary figured if there ever there was going to be a time when he should sit down and talk about it in a contemplative sort of way to think back on what has happened over a quarter century it would be now and bob is sort of of the same mind as i am is that it he's amazed that 25 years later people are
(03:00) still talking about this you know i think we both knew that it was going to change his life when he when he came forward with this information but had no idea it would it would change the world i mean that it would still be a topic of discussion a quarter century later bob lazar is the one who who supposedly worked at area 51 with extraterrestrial craft recovered from the us government trying to rebuild their technologies and what made you think that his story is true in the beginning well first is that just the way it sounds bob
(03:34) has a certain amount of credibility i mean he just he doesn't try to uh exaggerate he keeps it i mean it's a fantastic story any way you look at it but uh his story has stayed the same it stayed consistent over the years he never added extra stuff to it that was number one number two is i became convinced that there really was an effort to discredit him to remove some of his records to pretend that he never worked in places where i know he worked i mean we we can go into the details about it but it was pretty clear
(04:01) to me that someone was messing with his reputation and thirdly is that if it had only been bob telling this story about things that have been going on at s4 and area 51 chances are we would not have moved forward with the project but the fact is that more than two dozen people have come forward with bits and pieces of the same information people who have worked at area 51 in the 50s 60s 70s and 80s who have told me pretty much the same thing people who have seen saucer-shaped craft out there in hangars saucer-shaped
(04:31) craft flying in the desert being transported people who say that what goes on out there is trying to figure out how this technology works so that we construct it reconstruct it with earth materials instead of building something that we came up with the idea for where is the technology from exactly where do they have it from where did they recover it i don't think anybody knows i mean i'm not sure even the people who run that program know bob said that he had read these briefing documents that suggested it was from (05:04) another planet a planetary system uh zeta reticuli but the fact is he he he is suspicious of these reports he thinks that maybe they were telling him something just just to simplify it as opposed to um giving him the actual truth i i'm not quite sure anyone knows where they came from and in on some levels it does not make sense because as he described the craft these weren't shot down these weren't craft that we had shot out of the sky and they're all crumpled up he said they were the ones he saw the minecraft were in (05:35) as far as he could tell working order they looked solid they weren't in tatters i think there was one of the craft that he said there was a great big hole shot through the middle almost as if they did an experiment to see if art artillery could could blow a hole in these things but the sport model which he saw fly was in perfect working condition it seems like someone just kind of gave them to us who that someone is we don't really know could it could it be that it actually that pablo star was used to to plant actively a story into (06:06) the public imagination about this i mean that's also a theory is that a possibility and i've talked to bob about that many times over the years in the beginning it was probably kind of sensitive because you know he's got his life on the line his life is in danger at some point and he doesn't like to accept the idea that he was used as a pawn over the years he's opened up to that possibility and we both agree it's possible at some level but as i said to you before if the plan was let's use bob as a pawn

(06:35) to distract attention from something else that's going on at area 51 then that plan is a miserable failure because as a result of bob telling the story about the saucers all those people came from all over the world they're still going on out there so if you wanted to fly a secret test aircraft of some sort it's hard to do it because so much attention is focused every single day there are people out there with cameras and binoculars looking in the sky to see what's going on because of bob's story
(07:03) every news organization in the world has been out there asking questions congressional investigators saying hey what's going on out here how are you spending our money uh you know this is a lot of unwanted attention and i can tell you they're not happy about it because they've told me you know we we used to be followed around these guys would follow us around go to bars and restaurants they'd they'd follow all of us who were involved in in telling that story and a few of those guys years
(07:28) later after they got out of uh working for that those contractors told us that that was their job i would run into them in bars and they told me i was following you around you know they were they were checking us out putting us under under scrutiny and that also is another topic that's a sore spot with us but you know if the plan was to distract attention away from something else out there it was a terrible terrible failure bob accepts the idea that maybe he was used to some extent and i have too that maybe someone some faction inside
(08:02) the government inside the navy wanted to see let's run it up the flagpole and see if the public freaks out if they knew that we had alien technology from somewhere else how would the public react and they picked a guy who could be discredited later i mean you look at him he's not the first person you would think would be picked into the most secret program in the world he's a smart guy and he and he thinks unconventionally so in one sense he might be very qualified to come in with a fresh point of view
(08:32) because as bob said the technology had been out there for a while and they weren't making progress at all he came in and he gave him a fresh view and helped him gain a better understanding of what they had but he was not the top guy he didn't have a phd he never claimed that so why was he chosen well i think he might have been chosen because he's a guy who could be discredited earlier you let him tell that story and then you pull the rug out from under him you know because he look you look at him you know his his house
(08:59) he would fly a pirate flag over his house uh he raced jet cars have these gigantic jet cars in his in his front yard he liked hookers prostitutes uh he liked machine guns he's a very unconventional guy someone who you got to figure i wouldn't give him a security clearance because he you know you never know when he's going to go off the deep end do something crazy he's rebellious by nature he doesn't like authority doesn't like taking orders so you think he was given the security clearance in the first place because he (09:27) was like that i do i do think in that sense he might have been the most qualified person in the world for that job he's smart he's technically capable he knows science but he's a guy who could be destroyed in the in an instant if you needed to pull the rug out from under it okay could you summarize for us biggest revelations coming from bob lazar bob lazar says he was hired to work into this program that was under the auspices of the u.
(09:54) s navy and he worked at a facility called s4 south of area 51 and groomed lake and that this facility was built in the side of a mountain that there was a series of hangars nine different hangers built into the side of this mountain designed to look like desert in each one of these hangars was a saucer-like craft a craft that was from somewhere else bob said that he was primarily working on the propulsion system which he said was an anti-gravity propulsion system the fuel is something called element 115 a heavy element at the time that he told that story in 1989
(10:27) it did not exist it has since been synthesized in much smaller pieces bob described it as a stable and heavy um and what we have synthesized now does not match that description but he thinks that maybe someday we might be able to get it he thinks the fuel came from a binary star system where it was a natural abundance so he said he saw one of these craft being tested uh he did a number of experiments on the anti-gravity reactor that were pretty much amazing this thing could create

its own gravitational field and he says the (10:59) way that the aliens could get to earth they create their own gravitational field and this gravity allows them to bend space and time and instead of it propelling them forward say they're on their planet and they want to get to earth instead of propelling them toward earth it would in effect pull earth toward them it would bend space and time turn it off and it goes back to normal and you would be on earth but no time had gone by bob said that he read these briefing documents during the time he was out there that (11:30) described it had alien autopsy photos it had information about human beings that aliens were interested in our souls and possibly harvesting our souls there was information that they had uh they they had been a part of humanity for for centuries that they had helped uh engineer the human race that there had been biomechanical engineering going on there that they sort of had created us as a special species very disturbing information about um religious figures the nature of religion uh so it's quite a it's quite a pile to (12:05) chew on uh yesterday you touched upon a guy named ben rich who made a famous quote could you tell us a little bit about this and also the defense contractors might they have a fancy technology ben rich who's the engineer and head of the skunk works which is the uh the secret arm of lockheed that has designed all the black projects all the the best secret airplanes in the world the u2 the sr-71 the a12 stealth technology lockheed's did all all that stuff and ben rich was overseeing all those projects if anyone
(12:40) outside of the u.s government itself any private contractor knew about recovered alien disks it would be been rich that would be where it is for a number of years ben would share little bits and pieces of information with his friends in the aviation community who also happen to be interested in ufos and some of those were guys that i got to know so he would give them tantalizing little bits of information they would ask him what do you think about ufos and he has in writing said before in letters that i got copies of i believe in ufos i
(13:12) believe in two kinds of ufos i believe in unfunded opportunities meaning black projects that have not yet been put into the budget and he believes in flying saucers from other other places on the day that the stealth plane was unveiled to the world at nellis air force base i was there i was one of the the media people who was invited to go along for that event and ben rich was standing out on the tarmac at nellis and i was able to interview him and i asked him mr rich we've heard these stories that maybe alien technology was incorporated (13:46) into stealth and he he stopped and he kind of chuckled and smiled and he thought about it for a second he said no no just good old american technology but the fact is he's given other hints since then that maybe that's not the full story that maybe we got some help along the way he made a statement at least as reported to a group at ucla an engineering audience in which he said we now have the capability to take e.
(14:13) t home we have the ability to travel to the stars right now it's not something we have to dream up if you can dream it up we can already do it can we verify that statement well uh you know it's been reported multiple times by people by news media who were supposedly present it has been told to me by people who are in the audience that that's what he said whether or not the audio there's a recording of it i'm not quite sure but i think when you take together all the other things that ben rich has said over the years
(14:42) that in fact that is what he said there was a guy a friend of mine named jim goodall who wrote a book about stealth technology he's an aviation whiz he's a friend of john lears and he was one of the guys that would go out with lear and a group called the interceptors to area 51 to look in the sky to see whatever was flying around secret planes whatever and they got onto the ufo story jim goodall was with ben rich days before he died in the hospital and they talked about ufo interest and he confirmed yes in fact we do have that (15:13) technology but he said it's so deep black it's so far inside the black budget it will never see the light of day that makes sense so what are the implications i mean does it really mean that star trek is real that some you know uh hidden factions of the military of the government are already flying among around among the stars at the universe meeting other civilizations i don't know that they're they're i would take it that far i i do think that i think there's a strong possibility we do have a secret space program and that (15:47) we are flying at least among the stars or to other planets within our own uh solar system that it's a kind of program that is so far more advanced than what we see space shuttles iss that kind of stuff that it goes far beyond that there there are several indications that there really is a space program like that not the least of which is what what ben ben richard said i i don't think that there's any star trek we've got a cosmic federation that's meeting with other alien beings or something like (16:15) that but but i don't really know i i just don't think it goes that far there's another whistle a supposed whistleblower named colonel philip corso i think you also met him who has a similar story i was the first i was the first journalist ufo journalist to interview colonel corso a friend of mine a colleague had been working with him about prisoners of war colonel corso had made dramatic seemingly unsupported statements in the past on other topics and had been proven to be true he said that we americans had (16:49) left behind a number of prisoners of war in both world war ii and korea and then in the vietnam conflict and that was very controversial what he said it but as history has shown us he was right well a friend of mine who was working on the story about prisoners of war was talking to colonel corso and and heard this story about the ufo information he shared it with me i met with corso now the rest of the world knows his story but back then i had a deal i was going to write his book it didn't work out that way someone

(17:50) deal with it but eventually he said that it was his job to hand it out to bell labs and other big think tanks and they figured out how to use it how to duplicate it uh fiber optics technology he says night vision goggles a number of other things were given a boost along the way by this stuff that was recovered from a flying saucer and it's a fantastic story a lot of people don't believe it but the fact is philip corso was in that job he really did work for a general who was in that position that if there had (18:20) been recovered material that's where it would have gone um whether or not we're ever going to be able to verify it for sure i guess we probably need to find the material itself to satisfy everyone's curiosity but philip corso had said that he had some extraordinary experiences in his life separate from his job at the pentagon that he had encounters with aliens and that um basically the story uh it coincides to a large degree with the story told by bob lazar yeah i was about to ask that do you think he's credible
(18:52) yeah i do i mean you know he he really i think the problem is that as he grew older maybe some of the stories and experiences in his life got grander with the passage of time just a matter of ego but i think he was telling the truth i i think philip corso was telling the truth as he knew it there's a guy named bob bigelow can you tell us a little about him about him what his what's his role in all this bob bigelow is a great man in my estimation but he's somebody who is a an enigma in the ufo field people
(19:25) assume the worst about it he's a wealthy businessman in las vegas i think probably at one point he was worth about two billion dollars and he's had a lifelong interest in ufos because his family he and his family had seen them at a young when he was a young boy so as he became wealthy and successful he wanted to put a lot of his resources into ufo research and he has bob bigelow has spent more money on ufo research than any person in the history of the world and he's done it quietly for the most part over the years he would dish
(19:55) out grants to researchers people like linda howe stanton friedman and others hoping that his money would provide the kind of financial support that ufo researchers do not get he's given a lot of money to ufo organizations mufon and kufos i think he put a million dollars on the table at one point hoping that the three major american groups would get together that they would figure out a good way to spend the money and maybe get some answers about ufos which did not happen because of that bob was dissatisfied with how those (20:27) organizations were doing their work he created his own and was called nids the national institute for discovery science and he put together a world-class science advisory board consisting of people who had been top-notch scientists who some of whom had worked for the cia and other government agencies or the military

who had an interest in ufos while they were working for the military and who tried to get answers while they were in the inside but could not and in addition to those kind of people he put together people like jacques valet john (21:00) alexander a lot of others had been on the periphery of these subject matters but academics with impeccable credentials that's a science advisory board the the second part of dids was a component that was a rapid recovery team if you have a ufo crash if you have a a series of uh sightings if you have a series of cattle mutilations they would be able to jump on a plane take a bunch of equipment and go there to the scene to investigate boots on the ground it was a tremendous uh opportunity to gather solid information about ufo cases
(21:34) and incidents and and for a long time it worked for seven eight nine years it worked and he collected a great deal of information he also bought databases from uh other researchers put it all together hoping to compile it to get to get some ultimate answers did they get answers did they draw some conclusions or i don't think so the the problems it's sort of the same problems that apply to ufology and scientists in general applied to them there's no place that they could publish the work you know there's no place there's no science
(22:06) journal that would accept uh papers about these topics even though they were written by qualified people so ultimately i don't think so and it's generated the result is it's generated so much controversy and speculation what are these guys up to they're trying to corner the market on ufo technology they're trying to build their own flying saucers and take over the world i've heard so many ridiculous stories about bigelow that he's uh in the mafia that he sells drugs that he has the bigelow
(22:34) tea company that he works for the cia all kinds of stuff because he was always reluctant to give interviews until he did an interview with me a couple years ago about his space program he'd never been on television and there was a reason for that it's nothing mysterious is that he's a wealthy man he wanted to be able to go out and have dinner with his wife and not be pestered by people who wanted to borrow money from him or worry about his grandchildren being kidnapped for ransom things of that sort
(23:00) so he didn't want to go on camera that changed when he went in to develop his own space program but you know you you know what it's like the ufo field and the kinds of rampant rumors and speculation that takes place so all kinds of stories have been told about bob about the people who work with him when in fact all they wanted to do was the same stuff we want to do which is get information and get answers and i think he's been pilloried unfairly i do think he's a great man what he's doing now in the in the area of uh
(23:30) creating space habitat habitat is going to change the world what is uh what is it all about bob came up with an idea about 15 years ago to take over a nasa program called expandable space habitat inflatable uh spacecraft uh nasa had to had done some work on it and then abandoned it like they do with so many projects and bob said i like that idea he bought the the patent rights to it hired his own team of experts and and developed it further he has basically launched his own space program in las vegas bob bigelow reports
(24:36) his own team designed these things and then hired the russians to launch these craft up there he had a timetable of sending up bigger and bigger inflatable craft over the years until he gets to a really big one but it went so well those first two craft that he decided to skip the interim steps and go right to a big one bob bigelow next year will begin putting together his own space station and it will be larger than the iss his inflatable habitats are stronger and safer and will provide more space in space and once he has it up there in

investment making even more so because (25:45) he's he's spent about 400 million dollars so far he got one government contract that was with nasa for 17 million dollars and they paid him to put one of his basically is to build a closet on the iss and to launch it up there so they have uh storage space on the iss as a result of that successful uh deal which was made public about a year ago bob now finds himself at the center of the future of the space program nasa has made him sort of the clearing house for all other projects and contractors so if boeing
(26:21) wants to talk to nasa about putting something private in space they have to go through bob it's an amazing spot to be in it's yeah it's an amazing position to be in it's a heck of a business move on his part because whatever happens in the development of space now is going to have to go through bob bigelow and it drives people crazy oh my gosh that ufo cover-up guy he's in charge of he's now in charge of space what else is he up to it's like you know at skinwalker ranch people had written that bob bigelow has
(26:48) recovered a flying disc he's got secret technology he will rule the world yeah but i mean is it really only due to his uh you know uh development of an iss closet that puts him into such a powerful powerful position well i mean yeah i think that is i mean he saw an opportunity that no one else had uh realized and he had the resources to go after it and there aren't many people in the world that can write a check for 350 400 million dollars and bob did or if they could so you look at somebody like boeing boeing still exists
(27:22) on the last on the old paradigm that give me a billion dollars and i'll build something and maybe it'll work and maybe it won't the our space program the american space program is is ridiculous it's done nothing for years we don't even have a way to get to the iss we spent 100 billion dollars building it we don't have a way to get there anymore the space shuttle is shut down we have to rely on the russians who to pay them exorbitant rates to get to our own space station it's still less
(27:51) expensive than the american space shuttle starts yeah i you know nasa is a jobs program it makes mostly consists of job security you you put money in they start a program up it goes for a couple of years and then they cancel it they've done it over and over again it it is shameful and it needs private enterprise to go ahead and take take the next step because the government model does not work and bob bigelow finds himself at the cusp of uh of a brave new era of space exploration and development you're a journalist just to talk about
(28:25) the journalistic view of this you've been based in in las vegas most of your career and it's been a i guess a very very special special place for you to be because they'll be able to there's some it's an exotic place a lot of things and lots of stories going on and you've been able to cover some of these more these exotic stories in that particular place but how would you describe your career with this topic how what's been the reaction of your your colleagues when you've gone into this field it's (28:54) been a mixed bag i mean in general because i was successful i was fairly well thought of in my profession at klas and i'd been there for 10 years before i jumped into this i think i'm able to get away with things that otherwise would not have been possible and i don't think it would be it's be hard for anybody else in in the usa to duplicate it because most reporters are in the into the business you get a new assignment every day go cover the city council meeting there's a bank robbery go do that i had (29:23) a special niche i was able to cover stories that interested me my boss gave me that opportunity so when the ufo thing came up and area 51 is in our backyard they said go for it and they trusted me to do a good job and i've tried to approach this topic as exotic as it is like i would approach any other story you know to verify information to find credible sources of information to uh you know to back it up to get supporting materials and so because i've tried to do it that way they've given me a great deal of (29:56) latitude it has driven my colleagues though crazy as i was saying in a presentation recently um my journalism colleagues don't like it they don't like it that it's it's so popular with the public that there's so much public interest so they belittle it they make wise cracks they poke fun at it a lot of that has been aimed at me i don't mind i'm not thin skinned it comes with the territory in my hometown i have a high profile public position so i'm fine with it but what bothers me is (30:26) that so many people would in the journalism field would dismiss this topic

outright without doing any work on it they don't do the groundwork if you were to tell me i don't believe ufos are real it's a bunch of nonsense because you've done the research you've read the books that's one thing but to say to dismiss it with the wave of your hand having done no work whatsoever that's another it goes contrary to everything that journalism is supposed to stand for we're supposed to investigate the unexplained (30:56) not to explain the uninvestigated many years ago you stumbled across the so-called majestic 12 documents have you thoroughly investigated them as well not really i mean i've done some work on them and i've relied on people like stanton friedman i i think it's still in my gray basket mj 12 documents i tend to think that they were probably created by a government intelligence agency can you tell us about what's written in those documents mj-12 documents suggest that there was a secret organization majestic 12 that was (31:26) put together as sort of a clearinghouse for all information about ufos crash saucers alien visitations things of that sort uh that there would be this one group that would report to the president kept keep things very hush-hush and all compartmentalized so that it didn't get out and upset the public um the makeup of mj 12 is has always been a source of some mystery uh who was on the board we we've got some guesses about who they were when the mj-12 documents appeared in somebody's mailbox they sort of laid
(31:58) it out they identified who the members of mj-12 were what the purpose was these documents suggested that we had recovered discs that there had been ongoing communications with aliens very controversial stuff a guy named stanton friedman nuclear physicist has sort of taken the lead in investigating these documents and trying to verify them he believes that they are true that they are accurate because they revealed certain things about individuals who are named as members of mj-12 they revealed things about those people who that had never (32:32) been made public before and that in fact have been confirmed if you were to ask me i'd i'd say that probably 90 percent of ufologists american ufologists believe that those documents are not legitimate in this sense and why um there's a variety of problems with it uh you know both in in format and dates in references to things that are in the documents that were were not uh public information back then what may not have even been known uh terms like ebe you know that those are are mentioned in the mj-12 documents i haven't read them
(33:10) in a while the the how i think the the primary problem with them is how they were acquired that they showed up in the mailbox of a couple of researchers those researchers have since admitted at least one of them admitted that they made up a bunch of stuff that they worked for the air force office of special investigations and that they um they had manufactured material and fed it to ufo researchers just to see how it would spread even though it was false information um so why do you think a government agency would would spread this kind of (33:44) information uh well one reason would be to see how it spreads to figure out how quickly you know how how things spread this is pre-internet uh when it when it spread out to see who would believe it and who wouldn't and who works with whom and i think was an exercise in intelligence it would be to see for example it might have been created to distract the russians whoever did this stuff is really good at it i mean they have so much information in there and it is so close to the real thing that whoever manufactured them
(34:16) they really knew their stuff which is why a lot of people suspect it was created as a distraction for the russians make the russians think that we've got recovered flying saucers make them worry about it because the russians have said that and then they've done the same thing now that we're talking about the russians you also undiscovered or you you ca you got hold of uh former kgb documents what do the russians know about this this is an interesting chapter in our in my life and i i did it came out of the (34:45) nowhere uh in 1992 i left klaus tv i worked for a company called altamira communications and this company had its own tv studio and the idea was i would leave television to produce my own stuff i had proposed to this company that we produce a series of ufo documentaries that the research would become self-supporting that we would cover it in ways that no one had ever covered it before so we traveled the world and collected information we went to england and chased crop circles we went all over the united states dealing with cattle (35:15) mutilations i interviewed all of the best ufo authorities in the world and collected all this data and along the way we're wondering about russia because i read an article in the new york times about lee harvey oswald's kgb file and the kgb

had opened this file up and what it revealed about oswald i don't even remember what it was but i remember thinking oh my gosh if somebody could access their file about oswald what do they have about ufos if they are like the united states they've had their own ufo studies (35:48) clearly they see these things in the sky the same as we do no one had ever got that information we always had a hint or a hope that maybe the files existed but i thought to myself well there's a window of opportunity because of glasnost perestroika maybe we could get into russia and learn more from the russians about what the americans know than we would ever learn from the americans themselves and in fact that's what we did i met a physicist named dr nicolai capranov who was in the united states he was touring (36:19) american think tanks and nuclear facilities giving lectures on disarmament nuclear disarmament nikolai had been a national security adviser to the russian parliament he was also a national security adviser to boris yeltsin and because of that he traveled in some really interesting circles at the end of his tour he ended up in las vegas and the united states congressman jim bilbray said you ought to meet this guy he might know something about ufos because bill bryan knew that we were working on a project so i went out for (36:50) beers with dr capranov hey let's what do you know about ufos ah i don't know anything never heard you never hear anybody talking about it nah not really not the kgb or anything a couple more beers you know i did i did have a friend of mine in kgb who said something about ufo studies and then as we sit there a little longer you know what there's a guy at the ministry of defense who knows something about this i said nikolai would you be interested in working for us we set you up give you a stipend you
(37:16) go back to russia and work for us and he was happy to do it because he had no idea what else he would be doing with his life so for next eight months parts of 92 into 93 nikolai met with russians who were in high positions of authority my instruction to him was this very simple i don't want anyone who has ever talked to the media about ufos before i don't want to have anybody who's ever come forward with this i want you to find people who are in a position to know who have never talked about it and that's what he did
(37:49) and the the key person that he found i mean in the spring of 93 we went to moscow to meet the people that he had set up for us the key finding was a guy named colonel borisokolov colonel sakalov was from a long distinguished military family he was a highly decorated guy and he was in charge of an office within the russian ministry of defense that handled foreign technology and he was the head of what is the most extraordinary ufo study in the history of the world the biggest ufo study in history will never be duplicated the order went (38:26) out uh let me back up there had been an incident and petro zavodsk and the russian government was concerned about it a ufo incident what the heck happened here so they started a study and colonel sokolov was in charge of it the order went out to every military unit in the vast soviet military empire every ufo sighting every ball of light every anomalous aircraft anything weird it has to be fully investigated and that information all goes to one central place and the place it ended up was on sokolov's desk tens of thousands of (39:01) cases were reported over the years all of them reported by military witnesses officers and above and were meticulously documented witness statements photographs drawings it all went to sokolov and it was an amazing treasure trove he had never spoken about it before when i found him he's living in a in a tiny little apartment on a government pension and i asked him about it and he was very open and the stories he told me were absolutely fantastic and with his help we were able to acquire several hundred pages of this material what did he tell
(39:36) you what did they know what did they said as with united states he could colonel sokolov confirmed all of the things that we have always suspected about the american government he told us they're true that uh that ufos have been visiting the planet for a long time that they are from somewhere else that this technology can fly circles around anything that exists the russians knew that these craft are not americans he said you americans know that the craft are not russians that they come from somewhere else and he (40:07) said it's a very simple reason why they did this study is that your stealth technology you were so far ahead of us in stealth we knew that ufos could do things that our aircraft could not if we could duplicate that technology we would be superior to you and stealth so the russians had a very practical reason for doing this study and he said 90 of these cases could probably be explained which is similar to what we ufologists know about it you know 90 of them can be explained it's the other 10 that are interesting and those cases (40:38) were very dramatic he said there had been more than 40 incidents where russian warplanes encountered ufos they were ordered to chase them that these ufos appeared in restricted airspace the russian warplanes would chase them mostly the ufos had disappeared they just vanished so they performed some maneuver sail right out of space in an instant and nothing could be done there were three instances where russian warplanes the standing order was to start firing on ufos he said there are three instances where we fired on them

(41:08) and in two of those cases our pilots were shot down and killed so after those two pilots were killed they changed the order leave ufos alone because in in the words of russian defense minister they said ufos seem to have their capability retaliatory capability beyond anything we have leave them alone and all the pilots were happy to go along with that order sokkalov said he showed me photographs of russian warplanes that had hit struck ufos the wings had been damaged he said that they had transferred a lot of their files to (41:42) their russian academy of sciences to try to figure out how these things worked he introduced me to the head of the russia's star wars program this guy had on his desk he had a a desk sized laser weapon he called it the weapon of the aliens that they had developed from something related to this research he told me that this scientist dr andropov had never spoken publicly about it he had never used his real name because he'd been living in one of these soviet cities that wasn't found on any map working on really secret stuff and (42:14) he said that the russians had built satellites up there specifically to look for ufos and he said the american government had i forget what the number is but we had satellite systems specifically designed to look for ufos coming in and out of the atmosphere he said you guys have been seeing these since the 40s and 50s or whenever you put up the first satellites and so he again was another guy who was confirming a lot of what we know what we suspect about the us government was real they showed me uh then i then i got to (42:45) met a third guy who is an active officer uh he was a an intelligence officer who was running this the study of ufos after colonel sokolov ended i met him i mean it was a scene right out of hollywood movie i met him in an alleyway and he's got a trench coat on carrying a briefcase full of ufo secrets which we were able to obtain he told me about a study called thread 3 an ongoing ufo study and it seemed to have it collected ufo information from all over the world mj-12 documents things that documentaries and reports about area 51
(43:22) the russians had this massive collection process putting it all together and they analyze it and reach the conclusions that there are visitors from outer space they interact with us on a regular basis as far as we know they're not a direct threat however there are cases where they have demonstrated their abilities if they wanted to threaten us they could this goes back to colonel sokolov something that he had told me about an incident in the ukraine at an icbm base it was one of the most dramatic cases that his office investigated it was in (43:54) 1982 ufos appeared over this russian base they were seen for a period of four hours there were dozens of officers majors captains and above who gave witness statements there was one gigantic craft and then there were a lot of smaller craft these things were dancing around over the base they would merge together and split apart performing new maneuvers that we couldn't do and then after about four hours the mission control center for this russian icbm base it was taken over the control panel lit up someone something entered the launch
(44:31) codes to these missiles the guys are going crazy they're trying to turn it off pull the plug stop it and they couldn't the missiles were enabled they're ready to launch it would have been the beginning of world war three and then poof in an instant the ufos went away the mission control panel went back to normal and the russians were really perplexed in the days right immediately colonel sokolov gets the report he sends a team to investigate they couldn't find anything wrong with the control panel it
(45:01) had never happened before it never happened since they concluded and they even wrote it in a report that the ufos were demonstrating uh they were making a point these may be your most powerful weapon systems but they don't impress us we can control them anytime we want they were pretty upset by it so let's start to wrap it up from all of the things that you've investigated throughout the years what is your opinion on the visitors what do they want who are they why are they here sadly i don't think we're any closer at

(45:33) all to answering any of the big questions we have a lot more information we have a lot more cases we think we have a better understanding of it but the fact is we have no idea how to answer any of the big questions we don't know where they're from we don't know if they're from other planets or from other dimensions or they're time travelers we don't know we don't know what their interest is in us we've got some ideas about what they're interested in but ultimately we have no
(46:00) idea where they're from why they're here what their long-term intentions are and for it's 60 years now since the modern ufo era began and we're no closer at all to answering the big questions the fact is that the true architects of the secrecy is not just our government or your government it's the visitors they are the ones that could make the demonstration they could land on the white house law if they wanted to they don't instead they give us these tiny glimpses of other realities as if they
(46:32) are leading us along preparing us slowly over time to to realize that the nature of reality itself is far different from what we suspect uh i i don't know that we're going to have any answers in my lifetime they don't seem to have any interest in making it clear to us in an instant what's going on and it's sad it's a it's unsettling to some degree to think that i'm spending i've spent 25 30 years chasing this some people like stan friedman have spent longer and we are no closer to answering (47:04) it and i don't know that we're ever going to get it thank you very much george nat for coming to copenhagen and joining us here flying all the way from the u.s oh it's terrific thank you i'd like to stay longer i i hope i get the chance to come back and we both do hope that you will find the answer someday absolutely let us know absolutely thank you very much'

(00:01) [Music] oh [Applause] contrary to what contrary to what bob is worried about we're going to have some fun here geez he was just here like 1990 it was like yesterday yeah i thought maybe we'd start with a couple of questions sort of that let you get to know bob a little bit um so they they played one of the great super bowls of all time last month which of the teams did you like really we're going to do sports questions i don't even know who plays that's right uh tomorrow tomorrow is the oscar broadcast who would you think is the
(00:52) best picture now i have no idea because you don't watch a lot of movies right yeah breaking bad or sopranos which of those series did you like best yeah yeah you're just not on my channel because you live what i'm trying to convey is you live in bob world right right what do you do tell them what you do now i know i live in a scientific bubble that's just about it i mean you know it's uh my my work is my life whether i'm working or having fun it's pretty much the same thing so it's uh
(01:26) i don't know i pretty much do the same thing where you live and what you do your business i unfortunately live in michigan and you're glad to be here yeah i would really like to be back here but um yeah the business is united nuclear scientific we sell uh and build lots of uh scientific equipment and supplies apply it to schools universities the government you know everybody we also do contract work we do r d work design construct prototype gadgets weird things for different companies if they have a problem or something they're trying to (02:01) solve they'll come to me and just say make this work and you know so we do but the bulk of it is really just selling scientific equipment and supplies and you know trying to bring that back back when i was a kid you know used to be able to go into a hobby store and buy chemicals and have a chemistry set now if you see any glassware in somebody's house you just think they're cooking up meth or something like that so you know we try to change the tide and bring back hands-on stuff into you know the current generation that's (02:32) one of the stories told about you right that you had a meth lab among others oh yeah that's true yeah i forgot about that um do you have any government uh contracts we do government contracts um you see where that could go people ah he's working for the government they're paying them off he did his job spread this information now he's working for the government you're not working with the government no i don't work for the government but you know if there's contracts i bid on it and you know every faction of the (03:01) government doesn't know what the other one's doing it's it's a complete mess i want to give them an idea you know the question is raised you're not a scientist what kind of scientist are you and i haven't been to your house in michigan but the last time i visited you it was in new mexico and there was something built in the house the building right behind your home it was as i recall a 30-foot particle accelerator yeah you built it yeah what did you do with that what do you what do you do with your (03:32) home particle accelerator that's 30 feet long well at the time um you know working on an efficient way of storing hydrogen for you know automotive use so it can be used as a fuel and some of the most efficient um hydrides materials that absorb hydrogen like a water like a water like a sponge absorbs water were restricted because they are used in thermonuclear hydrogen bombs and so you couldn't purchase these materials but there was kind of a loophole in the law where you could make them so i had to make a particle accelerator to make the (04:09) material to use and run tests on so that's what that was all about you moved to michigan in part because you thought that you were going to have some help from state government with the system right the hydrogen system yeah kind of i mean a lot of things changed i mean we moved to partly because of you know family reasons out there and just to get a change from the southwest which i regret and uh um you know yeah there was a a lot of at the time there were a lot of unemployed auto workers and we thought you know we (04:40) can hire those but you know a lot of things happened the recession happened and also at the same same time but around 2008 or something the uh chinese who at the time were making a lot of the rare earth elements um because they did it cheaply and the us mines had shut down years beforehand uh decided boy now that you know we pretty much control the market on it we're going to go ahead and crank up the price you know 10 or 100 times what it was and it really made what we were doing impossible to do profitably so you know you you your (05:16) business is science related you sell scientific equipment you build things like a particle accelerator and jet car engines and things of that sort uh but i i think if you heard me talking earlier you'd have to agree with a lot of people that you don't fit the mold as a typical scientist i mean you're not a member of any science organizations are you no no no you write papers you submit papers to i mean not not typically not in the not in the normal sense i mean you know the when i first went to los alamos what was (05:42) really annoying to me was that the boy that the typical pompous self-righteous scientist you know and they would come into town and uh you know interact with the ordinary people and you know use terminology that was over their head just to get them to say well what do you mean by that and they chest would puff up and that you know it boosts their ego and it really annoyed me so you know when i worked there i relabeled some you know important equipment whirligig or something along those lines and it you know it really pissed them off and um

(06:17) you know it was really just uh but to make a long story short you know i was the new guy coming from the west into the you know hardcore scientific field and it uh you know really i was able to run circles around these guys because they they followed a set path and did a set amount of things their their support teams were were very limited and weren't engaged in them because they had no idea what was going on they never took the time to you know bring these guys in but um i don't know i just looked at a
(06:49) looked at things from a different point of view and i simplified things so explaining technical matters on a simple level and i do that a lot and people say well boy you don't talk like a scientist yeah i'm trying to make everyone understand you know but um and and it works you know if you if you talk on a a simple basic level everyone is going to understand what you're talking about it's easy to talk over everybody's head but all that does is make you look like an idiot you know when i first met bob uh i remember going (07:19) to his house and there was a a skull and crossbones flag flying over his house at the time he had this giant jet car parked in the in this in the driveway he had these videos that he shared with me that we used in others reports where it's a lot of machine guns he had a lot of really interest the kinds of interests that you don't associate with scientists i mean you heard my comparison to edward snowden i hope it didn't make you uncomfortable but i mean he's it's sort of the same vein there was a guy who had no academic (07:48) credentials he didn't make it through high school he took online hacking

classes he worked as a security guard the next time they hear from him he's working he becomes a computer expert for cia and nsa i mean it sort of fits the mold he doesn't fit the mold in the same sense that you don't know but if it's the new mold you know it doesn't fit the old mold this is what we're we're used to seeing but i don't need a degree no no no they're looking for tell i think they learned a long time ago that they were (08:16) missing a lot of creative people and people that would think outside the box and if you really want to move forward that's where it is especially with computers oh yeah no no doubt yeah let's get to flying saucers um you got hired through eg g to work for the u.s navy yeah do you remember day one first day out there you know first day out where stay out at the at the facility well the first first day the first day was going to you know area 51 proper and signing all the agreements and doing all that stuff
(08:49) signed agreements what kind of greatness did you say it was really paperwork and going over you know exactly what i was going to be doing and it was a lot of security stuff i mean they were questioning you know my family where we had moved it was you know boring nothing they had investigated they'd been around talking to everybody you knew yeah yeah clearly and because i already had previous security clearance um you know it made it a little earlier as opposed to somebody starting from scratch which typically takes like 13
(09:16) months from what i understand to do a top secret or civilian queue clearance did you have the clearance that you needed to work there when you started working there no no no no i just had a convenient starting point where you know they didn't have to go back to the day i was born and verify that they go okay well you had clearance here and we can go from there so you get on the plane in las vegas janet plane yeah right fly up there they put you on the bus with the blacked out windows oh yeah when we were going s4 right yes so
(09:46) that you don't take you landed groom lake bend at 51 and then sign some papers yeah if you want to make it a short version yeah right um you had told me the story that they started showing me these briefing books that sora laid out the general story was that it at groom or was that that was at s4 was no that material would never get north of people like groom lakers say i never heard any of this stuff there is no flying saucer stuff at 51.
(10:14) no that's uh like 51 is uh it's a there's lots of people working there it'd be hard when i worked at s4 again i have no idea how it is today but you know back in my day at s4 there were 22 people that had clearance and knowledge of the et material e.t crafts that was it we were given the list we knew the names on the list that was it i still know that the names on that list today and those are that some of the things that i never say anything to you about because yeah why is what well exactly there has to be some stuff i keep to (10:47) myself because you know how many times people said yeah hey i worked out there with bob and so on and so forth really who are you what'd you do and whatever and it's only the stuff i said i'm waiting for the guy that says hey yeah i worked out with you and here's some of the other people on the list or we did this or is it so it's if i don't keep that stuff there's nothing i have to verify if some other guy comes up to me you see it all the time though don't you i imagine you get emails all the time or (11:13) or you read stories or you hear claims on if you watched television you'd hear it that is uh about people who claim they've been out there and obviously they're making it up well i mean the most recent was this uh bushman i think it was like yeah like the cia guy or something like that was it was an anonymous guy who had a he was dying or he died yeah and a lot of people asked me hey you knew and i he was apparently very supportive of me and uh but i never heard of him and what am i gonna say i i've never heard
(11:47) of the guy and never seen him back to day one you're you're at groom you take a bus to esport at papua's yeah it was an old bluebird school buzz but navy blue how did you know it was called s4 did you read that on something that was just what they said that's what they called it did you ever see it written down on it yeah and and it's an s and a four or s-4 or s-f-o-u-r or no it's a new numerical form and so you get to s-4 and you see what describe what you saw well the first time i went we went (12:23) around it's kind of hard to describe there's a little mountain or rise whatever that that ends and the first time i have to admit i didn't notice it that we just drove around and i thought it was just a flat part of the mountain at the very end is an entrance a flat wall with doors and that's where we parked we went in and that's the first time i went into the facility at all that's where i was taken to the medical facility that's where i was given the briefings initially and it was it was until the second time that (12:59) i was taken down there that we stopped in the middle because the side that i thought was flat was actually hanger doors that were you know really cleverly blended into the side of the look like desert yeah yeah great job when you're inside can you see all the hanger doors or you can only see all all nine of them or whatever it is that from outside what do you mean if you were inside looking in one hanger can you see all the way down see all of them see more or as they're separated yeah there's there's inside each hangar bay there's (13:34) you know if there's the big door that goes to outside inside on the sides i guess i could use the white board there's um oh what the hell okay [Applause] all right this is going to be a tough one okay so you can't see it all right is that making any sense so there's uh the doors here where this is you know papoose lake the main doors here roll up however inside there are regular doors and on one occasion these doors were all open and when i came into the came in through here on the first uh well i think it was the first time they (14:36) showed me well there's the craft in there um these doors were yeah these doors were all open and you could see that there were different craft in each case so those are the doors i'm talking about let's talk about the whirly gigs or whatever you want to call them so talk about the first time you saw one of them but was it this the first time i saw one of them was the second time i came in the end the last bay door was open that was the sport model that was sitting in there we pulled up we stopped instead of going

(15:09) around in the front normal entrance we went in through you know the big bay door you before you who had seen these posters you described that were on the walls yeah yeah they're here posters described but yeah they went through the trouble of actually making a picture of the sport model that was lifting obviously off of papoose lake because you can see the the background there and it just said they're here and it was it was like a commercial poster i mean they looked like they were lithographed i mean they must have been printed on site
(15:41) they wouldn't have done that out there but somebody's idea of a joke yeah it was good to see that that level of uh i don't know lightheartedness out there first day you get a look at the sport model what are you thinking to yourself oh my god what are you thinking no it was flying saucer did not alien flying saucer did not enter my mind it was it was exactly the opposite that uh well this explains all the ufo sightings that you know we have some field propulsion technology it has to be in this you know shape or (16:12) form you know flying saucer type and this is what people have been seeing for a long time thinking that they're alien craft and it made perfect sense to me it's like great i'm i'd really like to be part of this project advanced propulsion this is dynamite so i was excited to be part of it in fact when we went by it um and i think i'd even mentioned to you it had a little american flag stuck on it and i dragged my hand across it and you know it felt like get cold so i just assumed it was metal and got yelled at (16:39) immediately you know don't keep your hands at your side walk forward all right and you're thinking to yourself oh man i'm i am part of the coolest inside joke yeah history because we've got flying saucers that we'd made and we're playing a joke on everybody or like no i wasn't really playing a joke it was that you know this is cool technology and by at any time we feel like we can probably just take over the world america you know and that was that attitude so at what point do you realize
(17:04) we didn't make it how did you learn that is that the briefing books well yeah the briefing books just did not make any sense we started into you know that uh that actually you know predated seeing that and i i really don't know that the briefing books covered a little bit about a lot of topics and it it dealt with uh you know analysis of it was all about engineering material analysis of metal you know power systems and the way things were even even the way things were laid out within the craft and um again it really had me confused going is (17:45) it it was so far beyond what i was expecting is this this is this some kind of test or is this actual material so it just you know i thumb through everything and went okay and just went on it from there but it really didn't hit me until i went in i was introduced to my uh working partner who was barry castillo or whatever i pronounced his last name and um the way they worked there was everything was very compartmentalized so everybody had a buddy to work with and that is the only person

you can talk and converse with and bounce ideas off (18:22) of you can't talk to anybody else in any other group you can't you know even if we go sit and there's a bunch of other people around you can only talk to the guy you know your buddy they called him so anyway so he was my buddy and um when i the first day we went in there he was excited to show me everything and it seems like he had been alone for too long it was uh you know he was you know really excited that i was there and um i was kind of picking up on his enthusiasm going well let's he said boy you are gonna just die
(18:56) when you see this and you know and um you know one of the first things he did was you know fire up one of the the reactor that had been taken out of the crowd that story um the reactor is a it's a small device it's probably you know just roughly a foot square with a half a hemisphere on it um [Music] half a hemisphere um anyway so there's really nothing there the the top comes off and there's like a little tower on it um it doesn't draw it oh this is my eraser here can you see the drawing in the back no
(19:46) pretty tough no all these guys can't that's not fair screen was anything about the this in the briefing books about how this worked you did read about this before there's very little about this essentially you know for size comparison half a basketball on a plate that was probably not a whole lot of moving parts no nothing i mean it's just incredibly simple there was there was nothing there that could that could do anything for and it was too small to hold any large power source right yeah so what did he show you
(20:32) anyway the the top came off and uh he put the top on and then he said go ahead and and grab the sphere and as my hands approached it i couldn't touch it which was uh fantastic and if you ever played with magnets i'm sure everybody has you take two like pulls of a magnet and you can kind of feel that balance it was exactly exactly like that but it was my hands they weren't magnetic and he says you're feeling a artificially produced gravitational field and that really floored me and you know that i began to run through (21:08) in my mind how can this be a joke or faked or there's just there's no way and um that that's the first time that it was kind of a domino effect than what i had read in the briefings and going these guys aren't kidding this is unbelievable let's go back to briefings for a second and then we'll come back and you can tell us a little bit more on how this operating in the briefing books you see the craft described and then you get into some more exotic stuff that really you had to wonder are they
(21:39) messing with your head alien stuff yeah there was it was a one and only um briefing whatever you want to call it uh or an overview of the it was split the the entire program they were split into individual projects and you know each had an overview of each project and each group got an overview of all the other projects in case there was some connection to what they were doing but it was clear they didn't want everybody to know everything and although the military loves doing that it it really really screws up
(22:18) trying to move forward and and too compartmentalized it's insane but they really enjoy that but um anyway the only thing that dealt with any kind of you know biological yeah it's essentially what you'd call them there was just uh a view of of a creature and like closest estimation i can give you is a gray because it had a head with the large eyes but what they were focusing on was a t-cut in the chest and it was one large organ and the comments were about how um it functioned as a a liver a lungs a heart as if all organs had grown
(23:04) together or evolved together where it was just uh i don't know when all-purpose internal organs yeah i guess i don't really have a analogy for it but um that was it and they were and the uh accompanying photographs were that was the um that organ removed it was sectioned it was showing the different chambers there were indications of it there were the weights of the different pieces that they removed so i again i don't know where the thing came from you know where that this was just a briefing of something else but it was uh (23:39) you know there's nothing in the briefing book that says this comes from explanation and you're wondering yourself are they messing with us right are they messing with me are they testing right i mean i well it really didn't it it really didn't hit me at the time uh it seems they wanted me up to speed really fast to where they were skipping too many places to make me feel comfortable you know at the time i didn't realize that everybody got these and you know the people that dealt with the biological connotations of everything (24:10) we're getting metallurgy reports and again it was just in case there was some connection you know you could kind of raise your hand and say wait do you know this thing might relate to us in some way did barry or anybody else tell you why they wanted to get you up to speed so fast were there some urgency there or were they just tired of not making progress or what was it that was never really clear i know there was some accident prior to me being hired and um you replaced somebody yeah i replaced somebody somebody was was killed and it (24:39) was playing with the reactor and you know they said well we're going to be working on the reactor well you know um but so yeah there was obviously a lot of caution being taken but i from what barry said and what dennis said who is my immediate supervisor was that you know they were trying to make leaps and bounds way too fast and you know i was certainly not planning on doing anything like that especially hearing the news were you thinking yourself i shouldn't be here why they got me here yeah yeah yeah

(25:11) please there's a billion people they could have hired you know that i thought would have been uh you know a better choice for that but um they were they really wanted somebody it seems like they were stuck and they wanted somebody coming from left field with just new ideas just get us out of the rut and just move something forward yeah well they get the right guy the mayor [Music] i don't know um if that's the way to do let's go back to talk about the reactor so he showed you with this experiment in (25:41) your hands you could feel it's a force field and how they faked that if they were faking it is amazing no i don't think you could then you saw some other stuff the golf ball yeah demonstration tell me that story tell us well that wasn't really supposed to be a demonstration but um well in some way it was and you know once i said that's that's unreal this is a gravitational field and you can see that you know it's extremely strong by it and it tapers off and you know it's following the inverse
(26:10) square law which is you know the uh the gravity radiation uh the the inverse square laws essentially you know uh the uh amount of energy dissipates really quickly as distance increases so um you know it that was immediately noticeable to me and he said well check this out and you know he had a golf ball and he you know winged it at the thing and it bounced off the field coming nowhere close to the the reactor and you know we have those ceilings suspended ceiling tiles in there and it knocked it out of place and you know he flipped out and said you
(26:51) know you know dennis is going to be back in here to jump up on there we're trying to arrange stuff and you know fix the thing and he's knocking the reactor around and going oh man it's my first day you know don't screw everything up so and i'm taking the dust off the thing and but the second we finished you know dennis walks inside and is how things going she's great you know so so it was uh something we'll say it's day one you've read this interesting briefings you don't know quite what's (27:23) going on you do see this technology it's damned amazing what is your job what do they tell you you're supposed to do uh the the bottom job is not to figure out how this thing works or you know let us know what this meant is just can we make another one of these so just let us know if you can can we duplicate that you can only duplicate it like it doesn't have to be exact but find out how this thing works if we need to make something that's bigger or do it just but we want more of these things and just do it
(27:54) right now so that was it and the answer is can we i mean can we no no no no no no we're just not not even in the same ballpark is it because of materials or we just don't know yeah it's it's both look this is like dropping off an iphone in the wagon train days and say we're gonna need more of these you know yeah that's it [Applause] did you did you ask anybody hey where do we get these where did these come from no i i really there was so much other stuff that was flooding my brain that was just amazing and uh you know i
(28:37) was so excited to be there i didn't care where the thing came from it's you know it was beginning to trickle into my mind boy this is maybe what you know flying saucer crashed in south africa or something and we got it and we're taking it apart this is great you eventually saw all of them or you saw glimpses well when i looked through the doors i could see as far as you could tell they looked they didn't look like they'd been in a crash right well there's one one there's one and i
(29:06) mentioned this too along to you a long time ago and i i never added this one thing which i'll add now there was one like i said that had been shot with a projectile um and i know for a fact it came out of the water that's all i know you know what for a fact because that's what you were told yeah that occurred it's hard to judge from distances you know like from here to the exit sign how big is that but i'm guessing it was what uh maybe a nine inch diameter hole the sport model no dents no scrapes no (29:41) it looked like it came right out of the showroom and it looked like the billy meyer beam ship yeah from the pictures i've seen of the billy meyer one which you know looked fake to me but no there it is i'm sure the billy meyer people are happy about that but i mean you you know there's a lot of people don't take that case seriously and um it's either the most amazing coincidence incidents in coincidence on the face of the earth or something really did happen to that guy billy meyer so the sport model you called it you had (30:09) names for all of them yeah yeah give me some other names well there's one that looked like the top hat and one was obviously a jello mold and i you know but it was they were just silly names because we were talking about them and you know they're talking about bird six and i'm like what's that is that the jello looking thing you know so i gave them my names and they stuck with them like they did in los alamos um so the sport model you got to know that one pretty well though you got to see yeah it's the only one i i can say i

(30:37) hands on i touched i walked in you know that i can say for all the other ones could have been holographic projections to fool me but um this is the only one i know is really before we talk about the test uh one other thing about the reactor and i want you to use this example to sort of explain how it worked you had told me a story about uh a candle and and yeah flame that was basically frozen tell me that story and why it gives us an indication of how this thing operated what power it had well when we had you know after the golf ball incident
(31:11) there was the benches we had set up the reactor was not the only thing in the craft the reactor sits in the center on the level underneath there are well i should say the reactor surrounded by the reactor there are three gravity amplifiers as they were called directly under those there are emitters which are um oh probably like 55 gallon drums there are three of them they hang directly under the emitters and apparently the way the device works excuse me is reactor supplies the base gravitational wave and power to (31:50) the amplifiers which channel it down to the emitters which propel the craft so in addition to the reactor that was out of the craft one of the emitters was also on the bench now i don't know which craft this came out of it was not out of the sport model but they had the reactor operating and the emitter and barry had taken a candle and put it about well i'd say about two feet from the end of the emitter and lit the candle and he fired up the reactor and he said go check out the candle and the flame was there
(32:32) but it wasn't moving it was like a picture of it it was just frozen and now that makes you think of a lot of things oh boy if it's we know gravity and time are interrelated and you know one is essentially the other and fine if gravity if it stopped or slowed time down there how are photons still being emitted so we can see the light it should just go black um you know there a lot of things made absolutely no sense whatsoever with the science we're familiar with but um this is these were just things he was (33:08) showing me as a demonstration that uh you know um you know properties and what it's doing that are just so far beyond what we even know what's going on and this had nothing to do with the work i mean we're uh we're just supposed to make another one of these things somehow so you know so help us understand what this technology means how advanced it is you know it becomes obvious at some point it's from somewhere else we didn't make it because we're taking it apart to figure out how it works look a machine
(33:42) that makes gravity is the most important thing that mankind could probably create look we have electromagnets that make magnetic fields you know we can make electric fields we you know with van de graaff generators and you know god knows what else but you know to make a gravitational field is like the the last piece of a missing pie because when you can art right now the only thing that makes gravity as far as we know is mass you just need a bunch of stuff and it's a property of mass that it just magically pulls in things you know we (34:16) observe gravity we see what it does but we really don't know what it what it is we can throw some equations together and say well it works like this but we really don't know what's behind it but if you can make a machine that on demand makes gravity you know all the stuff we write science fiction about stops becoming science fiction that afternoon and force fields become a reality you can shift time i mean everything becomes possible it's uh it's it's the most important thing and here is an

(35:31) about before guy named ben rich who jim goodall knows and interviewed several times ben rich was the head of the skunk works which was the they operated things at groom lake and uh and had been there to develop the u2 and sr-71 and stealth if anybody would know about advanced technology it's him and kelly johnson so um a lot of people have speculated whether ben rich and those guys had incorporated alien technology into some of the advanced airframes that we've got and i even had a chance to ask him on the day
(36:02) that the stealth was unveiled out there at nellis whether any alien stuff was in there he said no but other people have talked to him jan harzan who's here from mufon heard a speech that ben rich gave at ucla and which he basically said we now have the technology to take e.t home we had the calculations slightly wrong but we can do anything you can imagine we can travel to the stars but he said the technology is locked up in black but black budgets and black programs and we'll never see the light of day
(36:32) what do you think about that well that's sort of like the same thing you're saying yeah that sounds exactly like what i'm saying you know i hope that's not the case but i mean how do you pry it out of there it's it's it really there should be a lot more people working on this a lot more people well that that's sort of what why you became disenchanted with it but we'll come back to that let's talk about the sport model a little bit you got to see it fly you got to see a test yeah once
(36:58) well once close up um barry and i were in the lab we were working dennis came in and he said there's a test flight going on bob why don't you come out here barry you can tag along too um and that's when we came in you know side door into the hangar the craft was already out onto the dry lake bed in front of or the lake bed proper but it was out in front of the uh door and probably about two minutes after i got there the craft just began to silently lift off the ground and [Music] there was a guy between where i was standing and the door that (37:45) had a small desk and there was some sort of transmitter on it and he was just on a microphone talking apparently to somebody in the craft and at the time that again immediately set up a red flag in my mind going that's not supposed to work either there is a craft being powered and surrounded by an intense gravitational field how are the radio waves getting into this thing just it just didn't make sense but again very few things did there and i didn't have much of an opportunity to connect all the dots but (38:19) um it lifted off the ground silently there was an obvious high voltage corona discharge it was beginning to get a little late but you could see the purple blue glow but as soon as it lifted off you know six ten feet that dissipated and it just moved around and sat back down where it was but it wasn't it doesn't sound like much but it was incredibly impressive there wasn't there wasn't a sound other than a little hiss when it first took off but you know it's a big device it moved around and uh and (38:50) sat down and i mean i was just i was beaming it was so cool you didn't get it didn't fly off to venus or anything and people no no no no this this is their this is their prized catch here i mean they no one is going out there and taking it out of the atmosphere and risking it i mean that was a big deal um you know like it could have i'm sure i don't know if they knew how to get it into that mode but um you know like the test flight data that i saw they even uh were very careful on what days to take it above the mountain range where (39:26) traffic was at low at its lowest in the surrounding area so they were very concerned about who could see what and you know how much they risked the thing moving around but it was it was quite a prized possession of theirs so you saw a reactor up close and you saw the craft inside not only the test but you got in it yeah later on later on it was uh again you know we have to look at at everything we're trying to figure out how uh this device works from nothing so uh and it's technology you know we can barely grasp so uh you (40:00) know obviously the placement orientation of the components and subcomponents might be critical to the operation of it so um i was led in uh one time there were several other technicians in there doing their own thing i don't know what they were working on but we wanted to see where the reactor was how it you know how it was positioned um you know where the amplifiers were and this is when you know i described to you there was uh access to a lower level to where the uh emitters were which was a a small hexagon shaped area (40:38) that had a what i thought was a really creative collapsible doorway and i guess the only analogy is if you take uh oh you know a six pack of beer that comes in bottles and you take out the little divider there it's if you stand it up by itself it's really strong it'll hold a lot of weight but you can easily collapse it flat by the side this is essentially a metal version of that and it was in a hexagon shape with a little hole and you can walk on it but you can just put your finger in the hole and pop it and the whole thing snaps

(41:14) over to where you have a you know hole you can kind of stick your head upside down and which is what i did i just leaned in there and they wanted me to see how the specifically how the arms that held the emitters connected to the bottoms of the amplifiers and those in themselves were fantastic technology describe the interior what it looks like it's very very bland if i uh again was to give you an analogy i would say it was if you put all these components in there pretended everything was made out of wax heat it up for a bit and let it cool off
(41:49) there was never a sharp angle anywhere anytime something sat somewhere perpendicular to it it had a radius of curvature to it everything had a smooth curve everywhere it was all one color um was it all one piece it looks like it was one giant injected molded thing but there was not there was not a seam there was not a rivet there was not a fastener it was just all there any buttons any no place to put in the key no and there's no wiring [Music] you mentioned about i'll use the term furniture because you've got a lot we've both got a lot of (42:29) briefings briefing furniture yeah well that was because i was you this was i think the first interview on tv and i was well i was frightened for a couple of reasons first of all i wasn't supposed to be saying anything and the fact that it was on tv and i didn't know what kind of big mistake this was and um so you asked me what was inside or described and i was trying to work think of the word seats and i couldn't in a million years get that out of my mind and all i could say is there's furniture in there and i know it sounded
(43:02) ridiculous and everybody said well that guy can't be a scientist he doesn't even know what the word seed isn't you know it's just stress does that to you it was the size of it though it was small yeah it was yeah well yeah that's that's that's quite a critical point everything was very small it looked like uh well maybe that's where the it popped into my mind because i was thinking of uh you know the children's you know furniture set or tea sets you get for little kids that have you know the
(43:29) little molded chairs and little tiny but that's exactly what it looked like it looked like a little furniture set for for kids so um and obviously it was uncomfortable to walk around and when you first come in the side you have to hunch over the only place you can stand up comfortably is you know right by the reactor and the side so whatever built or used the thing was obviously smaller than than my stature i'll come back to the term the kids so somebody did the test somebody was in it they must have figured out a little bit
(44:00) of how it operates yeah obviously and the in the sport model the one that i went in they removed one of the uh amplifiers which was really shocking to me um none it now the reactor and emitter all those were in that one so these must that must have come from another craft which made me at least partially to believe that these all may have the same power systems in them which you know really makes you think that's so the one you had in the lab that you were working with yeah the components had to come from somewhere that was in (44:38) the in the sport model yeah but wasn't the smart models so at uh you know you can extrapolate and say yeah it's kind of like a chevy they all have the same kind of engine and they're different uh but i i don't know it's all conjecture let's talk about the fuel so big um it's an interesting part of the story and a bone of contention for a lot of folks element 115.
(45:03) how did you know it was 115 describe its properties describe its property like what does it do what what why is it so miraculous well i it let me put it this way the uh we weren't given the task to say you know analyze the fuel find out what it is and you know they just again the thing was and there was a lot of push to it was to what is that and do we have any and um you know that's that's it and these guys really do talk and think like that it's just you know what did you guys do

today we just looked at this the other day but (45:39) um you know i mean we you if you remove the top of the reactor there's a little tower in there with a cap and there's a triangular piece of fuel on there what we call the fuel because if you put that in everything starts to work we analyzed what was there now somehow again we didn't have access to all the information but somehow los alamos had something to do with either keeping or storing the fuel now it's we did all kinds of tests on it not just us we had a scent all that equipment isn't there we don't have (46:19) you know all kinds of interesting spectre gaps but um we had it tested and we just wanted to see where this was on the periodic chart what kind of peaks we get off of it and you know maybe it's just you know a unique fuel maybe it's just some you know blend of a nuclear material but when it became obvious that this isn't even on our usable periodic chart you know that's that's essentially where we stopped you know and said we weren't going to analyze the material and see if we could make it we just wanted to know
(46:51) if it was something that we could possibly use and it wasn't you told me that we couldn't make it why why couldn't we make it well just like any heavy element or super heavy element more specifically um you know the only naturally occurring heavy elements uh uranium i mean as soon as you get anything heavier than that you know a larger number of protons you have to make artificially and that's that's a difficult job because you either like to make plutonium which our country loves you know you have to take um
(47:23) you know other materials put them in a reactor let it run for a couple years and then you can in the case of plutonium you can chemically separate out you know the small quantity of that now even heavier elements you have there's more difficulty obtaining um you know extremely heavy ones like 110 you i mean you have to make that on an atom by atom basis an accelerator where you're you know slamming accelerating single atoms or beams of other atoms uh you know near the speed of light smacking them together and it doesn't
(47:57) make a usable quantity i mean you may get the interaction you want and it flies off and hits a detector you know in a fraction of the speed of light and you go that was 115. and you know that's when they say well you know we synthesize once that's what it is it's not like a cup pops out and we've we've got some you know it's uh it's just uh you know a particle comes flying out and he goes well at these angles at this magnetic moment at that speed it will be 115 and if you get a peek at that you
(48:25) know boom it comes off it's a little display on a thing and right we we made 115 but you know to actually make usable quantities forget it would take you know the entire reese's or the resources of a country forever you know to get a grammar so how much was up there well they say there was 500 pounds of the material now was that recovered in a craft was that separate they certainly didn't synthesize it but you know where it came from i i have no idea but but again los alamos had something to do with it
(49:02) because they they renamed it la 1000 i know there are shipments back and forth there but i i think it had to be from what i understand it had to the if you assume a cylinder of this material it has to be machined into a cone and that cone sliced well it has to be stacked first like a bunch of quarters stacked on top of one another then machined into a cone and then sliced to be usable in the reactor now all of that had to do with the metallurgical guys and we weren't even allowed to know why but i knew that was necessary for (49:37) whatever it's worth reactor doesn't work without 115. did you ever do an experiment to try some other kind of fuel no no i mean i mean quite honestly we really didn't know what was going on there i mean we had a basic idea of at least we thought again we just had a report to what was going on so it's not like you can ever say you know we really don't know we've been working on this two weeks you better come up with something so it's uh you know like we think it's a we think it's an accelerator and you know we
(50:07) we've identified that that's you know 114 115 160 it looks like it's 115 it's an element and you have to explain this stuff to guys that absolutely have minimal scientific background and just try that when you're dealing with stuff that's not even you know from the earth so how does it work i mean how does it work um what you learn you get a piece of it a triangle it's in the and and how does it what function really you just put the i wish i had that model that yeah it's in my car show me is it really okay um
(50:44) you you just put the the fuel in there you there's a there's a little cap

that sits on top and then as soon as you put yet nothing happens but as soon as you put the lid on it turns on there's no on switch yeah it's just it's like it attains resonance or something it just is on which makes you wonder how does it work in the craft because no one's taking the lid off because in the craft it sits on the ground and there's a conduit that sits over it and goes to the top of the craft so (51:14) but it's not clear how anything works in the craft and it generates gravity oh yeah yeah it generates its own graph artificial gravitational field and that lifts the craft off the ground we've had conversations uh in private about how this accounts for some ufo cases i mean it it in effect achieves invisibility in a sense you could be saying right yeah absolutely yeah because light it will bend it around there and i'm sorry i didn't leave that i left out that pretty important observation when the craft was up i mean you could walk
(51:53) underneath and look straight up and you can't see the craft until you step to the side and it becomes visible again it's quite it's quite amazing you know so it it well it bends it bends light just like uh you know you could see on a hot roadway in the summertime how how heat would affect that coming off of uh you know but here you're you're in a much more controlled situation and the way the shape of the gravitational field the artificial field around the craft if you look at that and then we're (52:27) able to stand at different vantage points you can just look around it now this isn't something new we know this from you know looking at far away stars uh they if they call it gravitational lensing where a star might be over here but because we're looking around another star it bends light and you know but here again here is an artificial source a machine that does this and that's everything but yeah like i said all the science fiction things become reality there's your invisibility cloak there's your you know
(53:00) impenetrable force field here's your field propulsion system and you know here's you're even beginning to tamper with you know potential time travel it occurs to you hey this could work not only in space but underwater maybe that's why the navy's interested in running the program i mean it's odd isn't it that it's a u.
(53:17) s navy running the program out there you know that never occurred to me no i know i swear to this i never even thought about that thing operating underwater i wonder how it was fine though i guess i i don't know i don't i mean yeah i don't understand why i wouldn't but it'd be interesting to see what the water does you had said i remember it i could barely get my pointy little head around it when we were first talking about this but that uh if somebody had one of these and were out in space and
(53:50) wanted to come to earth in essence they're not propelling themselves toward earth it works differently right yeah yeah in fact the two modes that the craft operated on are um they label delta and omicron configuration delta meaning using all three uh amplifiers and omicron obviously meaning just one and the way the craft would work is let me get rid of my reactor here now i'm going to draw a really bad flying saucer all right so normally the um you would have the three amplifiers hanging the three emitters hanging down in
(54:46) omicron mode a single one with slings swing sideways and you would have the other two sitting like that now what happens is the two that are facing straight down essentially act like a pedestal where they just keep the craft steady the one swung out to the side creates a gravitational distortion off the edge and these in in overcurrent configuration these things really fly unstable they're they do not look like uh in any sort of high-tech uh technology it uh to give you an example if you put a bowling ball in the middle of your bed
(55:40) and two feet away you take your fist and you push it down the bowling ball rolls towards it that's exactly how the craft operates it focuses the single emitter and creates a gravity distortion essentially a divot and space time and the craft rolls forward you know in the distortion so that's basically how the thing moves around so and this is opposed to our conventional uh propulsion whether using uh you know a jet a rocket a propeller we always take something and accelerate it out the back using the action
(56:15) reaction principle and you know push forward and these guys are doing it exactly opposite they're creating a distortion in front and you know tucking towards it uh when element 115 of course when you're talking about this stuff it did not exist we're still years away from it but you had told me in that first interview look uh we believe that there was an island of stability somewhere 115 116 somewhere in there uh and and you know maybe someday we'll be able to make it it didn't exist then but they've made

(56:43) it since tiny little piece as you said when that news comes out people say some people said aha bob was right other people say aha bob was wrong because this isn't 115 at all it doesn't behave anything like what you said there's not 500 pounds of it that's for sure so there's not 500 pounds i mean like they had up there we couldn't make 500 pounds of it no no obviously not and well look i mean you're talking about physical quantities and also you know atom quantities from fabricating it but um
(57:13) yeah i mean it is the the island of stability isn't something that we came up with i mean that's been theorized since probably the 50s that it you know it just looks like in the uh you know physical makeup or just the geometric stacking i guess of protons and neutrons it's certain combinations they're stable and other combinations they're not well it you know it looks like further up in the periodic chart what if we haven't ever had anything with 115 protons or something in that range it
(57:44) looks like that might become stable and you know that was actually in our minds when we're trying to identify as if boy this thing is off the charts you know is it are we looking at the island of stability and um i'm beginning to get lost here well where are we going with this the 114 that was synthesized oh yeah so the 115 again you know i think they what did they whack together uh calcium and uh i don't know bismuth or something like that but they did a they did a unique collision and accelerators and they made
(58:16) yeah a few atoms of it and they went this is you know 115 and it decayed now obviously this is a stable material but um a different isotope yeah it's like i said there's uh you know we have hydrogen that's uh you know one on the periodic chart just like 115 is 115. it has one proton 115 has 115 protons well there's hydrogen which is protium which we're all familiar with hydrogen gas it's flammable it's stable it doesn't you know decay but there's you know two other isotopes
(58:46) of hydrogen there's still hydrogen it's still element one and you know one we call deuterium as two protons it's uh it's also stable um but it's different it's heavier and there's another one called tritium which is radioactive and it decays about a half-life about 12 and a half years again they're different isotopes they have different numbers of neutrons they have same amount of protons so it's the same thing no doubt 115 has god knows how many isotopes we know at least one is stable there's (59:22) probably you know several that are unstable and you know again if they keep playing around with it and i don't see why they wouldn't i'm sure they're going to find a stable isotope and the whole idea of anti-gravity propulsion i we've heard it from scientists that guy does lazar doesn't know what he's talking about that's impossible it violates this it violates that you've heard that you've dealt with it i mean yeah tom was one of the guys that say it violates this you would have said
(59:50) that before yeah yeah you would have said things about ufo people this can't be i mean you were pretty dismissive about right which is the way i shouldn't be you know and i i give a lot of people you know crap about that too because you know look if you're gonna if you're gonna work in a scientific field you're gonna be a scientist and you know in any capacity the most important thing is to keep an open mind because uh you know look back in time they said you know 30 miles an hour is the fastest a human body can
(1:00:21) possibly take and that was written as a scientific fact i mean that's what scientists believed then and they all agreed on it and you know how many other things that we you know they said this is the way it is you you cannot do that you know you have to keep an open mind like flying saucers i used to laugh at john lear and have a good time of it i still do but that's a different story but uh you know but um i have to give him credit you know he was talking about you know they have flying saucers up at the area 51 really john
(1:00:50) you know just to be an adult now but um you know there's a lot and as far as the technology yeah it violates a lot of what we know which concerns me because some of the things we know are laws and the reason we call them laws and not theories is because they've been verified time and time again you know with experimental proof and you know that's supposed to be cast in stone so you don't want to see anything that violates the law do you see any aliens up there i know several of the people who submitted questions wanted to (1:01:28) ask about aliens i mean the only you did see you know this time this came from yeah that now the diagram you want to call that seeing an alien the only other time and i know it's because this one incident i told that one time i was being let in and dragged my hand across the craft we went in that door there's a corner to the right and you immediately turn to go to the labs well as you turn to the right there's a door and it has a small you know window on it that has the little wires running through it

(1:02:00) i peeked in there as we turn the corner and that's when i saw i told you this before there were two guys there and a little tiny thing that they were looking down at you know and and i just walked by told to keep my eyes forward and you know i i think i told gene that and a couple other people and i said well you probably saw well not the gene said that but you know what you probably saw an alien or whatever i don't think that was the case i i think even to this day i think they they had a little doll or something
(1:02:30) because they were trying to find out you know whatever size creature would fit in the craft and you know they were you recognize the term the kids did you ever hear the term the kids yeah and that's referring to the creatures that ran the craft so they called them the kids wherever these craft came from but you never got an answer how we got them no that was just incidental talking that you know so had nothing to do with me you know you've heard all the stuff over the years they of those who don't believe your story
(1:03:01) they believe you're either making it up or it's disinformation that you're working for them out there that's spreading the story so you're making it up no no did you make it up no really no i'm sorry that's way too much for me to handle um no really i don't and i know look a lot of people are into you know ufo stuff and i just kind of exploded onto the scene and said hey i don't follow ufos i don't follow reports i don't know who's researching what i don't know the names of people
(1:03:37) involved and but on the other hand you know i know people make their living doing this sort of thing and um you know if i just pop in one day and say hey this happened to me i did this and this and this but you know i'm i'm out i'm not part of this um i can understand how that can interfere with their you know income stream or their belief system or whatever and they need to attack me but like i'm saying this what i said happened absolutely happened period that's it you know i've been speaking about you for a long time
(1:04:18) a couple times a year i'll go explain the story from my perspective and and defend you because it deserves to be defended and i believe the story as as it's been told but you know you go out there and you hear all kinds of of crazy theories about uh what you're doing and who you work for and everything and and um there are those who have a lot of trouble with it i can understand that look if the tables were reversed i honestly could not say i would believe my story look there's not enough i can't provide enough information
(1:04:51) and so in some cases won't to you know to back up my story and um you know if the tables are reversed i i have to take that other side and go look unless you can you know provide more proof it's i just can't say that you know i'm behind it and i i have to agree with that so why do things go south for you it seems like the a scientist's dream to work on a program like this why in the world would you walk away from that or tell anybody else about it do you were you picked because they figured you
(1:05:23) would tell somebody about it no i mean that that doesn't make any sense um i mean well what happened was i mean it was kind of more of a personal nature between my wife and i at that time now it's not like i had a nine to five job and they said you know come out at these hours it was it was really a sketchy setup that they would call me the place at eg by the airport what what was that it was on sunset road over yeah i mean i think it was called something i can't remember anyway they would call me and say you know it's now 8 45
(1:06:03) by 9 15 we expect you to be you know at the building and and board the craft and you know the airplane not the guy yeah so um and it would be at a moment's notice like that well and i was so really thrilled to be part of this project um i was keeping with the whole program like i couldn't talk to my wife you know i said look i'm working at at the test site there it's on i said it's on secret and nuclear stuff you know and that's it um but again i get calls in the middle of the night she can't hear who they are
(1:06:40) and i said i gotta go it's work you have to go to work at eight o'clock at night and you may not be back you know until the middle of the night or the morning i said yeah that's just the way it goes and that happens you know time and time again and you know if the phone picks up and you know my wife picks it up they hang up you know and um you know until so then they call back i pick up the phone yeah it's bob here and um yeah okay two hours i'll be there well after a while that seems like something else

(1:07:08) and maybe not after a while but pretty quick and um you know i mean it's something i could laugh at now but it it was not funny then and um you know i um i kept with the program never said anything to her and um you know she thought i was having an affair and you know as time went on going back and forth she she really didn't have a job or anything to do so i started since i was making money from here now i got her flying lessons down at mccarran airport and to give her something you know to do and uh anyway she started having an
(1:07:51) affair with the flight instructor so um you know i had no knowledge of this but you know part of the requirements of the project and the security requirements really were to have my phone monitored now i'm going back and forth to work and now they are listening to this affair progress on the phone that i know nothing about and you know one of the things one of the main things is that you be you know mentally and physically stable and they're really concerned about that so it reached a point one day where they didn't call
(1:08:37) and they were kind of in a quandary at that point going they you know what are we going to do with lazar we got to see either this you know affair fizzles out or they break up or whatever so you know that i just stopped coming and i stopped getting calls i called dennis i don't get return calls and you know days are going by and you know now tracy's going back and forth and flying and doing stuff she's busy all the time because you know she's got a boyfriend and you know i'm beginning to get
(1:09:09) now i'm beginning to get really concerned i mean these guys are so over the top with security and you know we want to know everybody that knows this material we want to know where they are 24 hours a day so on and so forth they're not even calling me what's going on and so i started getting concerned and reached a point where i don't know where the breaking point was but i i think it i'm pretty sure it was gene huff the first you know guy that you know i talked to and um [Music] and said you know kind of spilled my guts hey
(1:09:40) look this is what i've been doing out there and you know told tracy too and um hey let's go see him yeah well i i had i also had i know we're skipping over lots of stuff but i had um there were you know charts of the test flight days and which days that they were going to go over the mountain and do that what they call high performance test so those days statistically on that highway they went by the lowest number of travelers was on a wednesday night so wednesday night i think eight o'clock was like the test
(1:10:12) night so i thought i knew how long they were going to be in there i know all that stuff just from memory so i told these guys i said this is going to be an unbelievable story but this is what i've been doing you know i can go out there and show you guys but i'm starting to get concerned that they don't like me anymore for some reason and i'm just gonna like disappear um so i just want somebody else to see what i had done in case i'm just gone one day and at least you guys have a story and so we go out there take (1:10:42) everybody and uh well you know the story we go out it's yeah eight o'clock everything happens like i said and um you know it lands and then uh you know now it finally hits tracy oh my god he wasn't having an affair and so you know she breaks off the affair reason you know and it it is just a giant mess it's embarrassing yeah but i mean it it is the human side of the story that yeah the other human side as i alluded to it in my talk is that there's stuff that happened to you in that period after
(1:11:18) after they caught you the third time they went out they got caught and so they want to talk to you and they're very upset dennis in particular the guy oh yeah yeah so they want to talk to you and and then a whole series of really bad things start happening share with us a little bit about what that period was like because it's hard to it's hard to convey it and that it was really going on but it was real yeah it was um the uh well i guess it started when we got caught you know when we got caught that time um
(1:11:51) i i can't quite remember which time that happened but you know we had we had gone out again with the test flight data two times and been there on wednesday nights and gene huff and we had an ever increasing amount of people that we began to trust to go out there and uh which is getting really ridiculous i think we even brought a motor home out there and we're parked out on the road because nothing uh no you know once you start getting away with something you get a little cocky and thinking boy they can't see us
(1:12:24) so we're out there and you know gene and i kind of joke around sometimes and say stupid stuff you know pretending that someone's out there listening so we're sitting out there on the dirt road the test flight time is coming up we're sitting leaning on the front of the car and you know i it's jean says something to the effect is well i hope they out there they don't realize that we've got those other 150 you know team members out back with you know automatic weapons and everything and they're getting ready to storm the (1:12:58) base and i said they can't possibly know about all those guys you know so right after we said that not now it's pitch black you can't see your hand in front of your face not 50 feet in front of us you saw a little green thing fall on the ground and roll to us and they're about saying they're what and as it turned out there were a whole bunch of guys standing there in the dark watching us through night vision scopes and after i said that a guy dropped one and it rolled over to us so they uh they turn on you know turn on the lights

(1:13:30) okay everybody come with us and you know that i told the story about the break in the car i mean they i remember going to your house after a break in yeah you had the uzi out you're ready to shoot somebody and then the break end of the car at the gym that stuff really happened it was really going on oh yeah that was with mario the guy um you know he was a truck driver now he um was going to uh and we were just working out at a local gym near us and i was at that this is at the probably the highest paranoia stage
(1:14:05) and i had a you know an uzi in the the front and you know mario and i got to the place and i said okay it's loaded here we're safe to go outside and we open the car doors we close them and we may even make a joke about it we lock the doors we try and open them okay okay the car is secure we go in there and you know joking you think we'll be safe for half an hour and yeah i think we can do it and we you know we come walking out there's all the doors the trunks open the uzi's laying out there and my wallet you know and we
(1:14:37) just looked at each other this is impossible you know but uh yeah that that happened mario tells that story probably every day you uh at some point you decided to talk to me you know we did that interview in silhouette i can't quite remember why what that oh how that happened there was just too much going on but yeah i know at some point and that was really again uh lear was making a a big deal he started naming off the people that he knew that suddenly disappeared and he said you know unless you talk to this guy george
(1:15:08) knapp you know and if you go out on the air they'll you know they'll be afraid to talk to you i said john they're not afraid to do anything you know it's but uh i called you anyway or he did and then it kind of hits the fan they're really mad at him and and then that's when a lot of really bad stuff started happening and then we we decided to record an interview just for safe keeping in case something happened to him so it was a couple of hours on tape and i under the condition that i wouldn't use that until (1:15:34) bob said okay and it was eight months eight months until we got the okay and i worked on him every day to talk him into allowing me to use it and tell the story assuming he was still alive and on the day that we were ready to broadcast it was part six of a nine part report uh bob suddenly changes his mind and grabs the video too because you were going to say who i was yeah we're getting ready to identify him we're 10 minutes from going on the air he's we're wrestling over the tape he did as a ufo profiteer and messiah coming
(1:16:06) forward and making up stories he was a very reluctant witness i can tell you um you regret it i mean we heard a little bit of it at times you you certainly regret it because it it's you know i mean it's changed yeah it has it um not it's not good this is not no i mean that's what's kind of entertaining to me people you know they come oh you made up some story i bet you're making all kinds of money on there where does where i want my gut but no i and i you know to be honest i did have i did have the opportunity i mean
(1:16:41) new line studios in colombia you know when they heard all this i mean the president of columbia pictures came down and yeah yeah you were there right yeah and um yeah you say we're doing this and you know and they started giving me screen plays and like no you know um you know it was the james bond movie they had me running over the tops of cars it's like look either you tell the story how it happened or just or leave me out and just make up a ufo story but you you can't it has to be exactly what happened and so it was (1:17:14) just constantly everything being turned down and it's like you know what we're not doing it i mentioned before about me going out and doing presentations about you and one of the things i always said is that look bob doesn't show up at ufo events he's not cashing in on it there's nothing wrong with those who do if you can make some money at it more power to you because it fuels the research but um you've never done that before that's not the case anymore why did you decide to come here

(1:17:41) well i really didn't you know i um you are here yeah i know i'm i'm here but um now i know a lot of people mentioned you know 20 look there's this big ui and i've never been to a ufo convention i mean i thought they were like star trek conventions people walking around with antennas and stuff but um you know i didn't want to be have any part of that and um you know what uh the people that arranged this and you and no this is a class thing just come down there's 25 years once in your life just
(1:18:13) say something and i you know well everything i've said has already been said either on the internet and why would anyone even care to just hear it again so i finally just said okay fine just to stop you from hassling me [Applause] pelvis go away [Applause] um but it it really didn't end there and that was just a moment of weakness and then about you know about uh and one of the reasons why is because it was like two or three months away so i just yeah february fine whatever you want to do and then and then um anyway a few weeks
(1:19:00) went by and it kind of hit me that one day that date's going to come around and i you know so i i was more than that maybe it was uh you know three or four weeks or something like that so anyway i i called them back here and i said no you know i'm really thinking about not not doing that and i'm i'm sorry and you know i told my wife and george and you know and i really didn't realize there were those many people that were interested and you know they said you can't back out you know we've been
(1:19:31) advertising there's going to be a lot of people here and you know it's and i said you've got 15 or 50 speakers or something it's just one less that's going to be here but seriously you don't recognize so you don't understand that people are so interested in seeing you and hearing from you it doesn't register well not no but i i appreciate that i do but um i mean and that you know they made that clear aside from the fact that they'd sue me if i didn't so and i said in a nice way yeah
(1:20:02) so i i i will go so i am here well the fact that you said that you would do it because i keep pestering you i take that as a no i know also i did you know i i did give him my word i do it and it's not like i'm you know it's too bad cool and then i told you it'd be great it'd be cool well no problem um you know when you look at you heard my the presentation about how far this story has traveled how many industries and and businesses it is launched the extraterrestrial highway that's from you um las vegas 51's
(1:20:31) baseball team yeah they feel boy people jumped capitalizing on it really really quickly it's amazing when you see area 51 mentioned in movies and some tom hanks movie or you know independence day or something it's it's overwhelming yeah i guess it's uh it's hard for me to grasp you know it's almost um it's i don't know how to describe it so this the experience here so far has been pretty good for you might you do it again or might you open up a little bit or oh but there's nothing else that's the
(1:21:06) whole story you know told me you got a list of names that you haven't given me yet no i mean look i believe me i could really make it easy to verify a bunch of things and i do not want to do that at all it i i really would prefer people don't buy the story because it makes like my day-to-day life has nothing to do with ufos and being the ufo guy is a big problem it's hard to get contracts and be you know taken seriously and i you know i don't want the last thing i want is you know a movie coming out or something
(1:21:43) like that it would be a catastrophe that would be a great movie if they made it right well i don't know you know it was amazing a year or so a couple years ago the there's the story about this russian spy that was killed by use of polonium and so oh yeah they called me right national network people want to do a story let's see who where can we get polonium and they find online oh here's a guy who sells it it's bob lazar yeah they're at the house this the first day but um do you get stopped i mean you know you
(1:22:14) got people stop you on the road i know you get emails and phone calls well emails you know people asking you know questions that um you know that really aren't up on you know the topic at all i said you know has anyone tried to you know duplicate one of these the crafts well you know that was the whole aim of the project there and but um you know they're just hearing that there's a guy that might have worked on flying saucers and you know this is his email address but by the way i'm not on facebook there's these guys

(1:22:43) that pretend to be me and i keep getting these emails hey thanks for friending me on facebook on what are you talking about so well it's i think this is our time we're up i've been asking questions from the submitted by folks including in this and uh you know i think that people are just uh excited to hear it directly from you tell the story and again i i certainly understand why people would have a hard time believing it but i do it's true i do too yeah it really is it really is it really happened yeah yeah exactly
(1:23:16) that way thank you [Applause] i want to thank you uh thank you all for coming hope you enjoyed the conversation with bob and maybe i can pester him into doing this again sometime thank you very much

Bob Lazar Interview (1989) - YouTube

Transcript:
(00:01) 4 mean uh I really don't know I think it might be referred to a site for that might be what the s's for but uh I really don't know there are three S4s in all of the Nevada test site I actually never mentioned that no the nuclear test site itself I think has uh is a small area and it has uh uh sites or areas one to 29 or 30.
(00:25) the S4 there I think is a nuclear reactor uh there's an SS forges south of the Tonopah test range and there's an S4 the one that I worked at just south of Groom Lake all right and Bob Bazaar while working there as a government scientist saw not only one but as many as nine flying saucers while he's working there as a government scientist and he's telling the whole world about as a matter of fact he wants everybody to know that in fact there are flying sauces up there but last time you heard you never really told us what are their
(00:57) plans with these flying sauces do you have any idea why we have flying saucers at this point why we have them yes it's just uh essentially research the the idea is to back engineer them to go back and find out how they can be duplicated using Earthly materials and Technology don't know off the top of my head well that could be used like a time machine right uh essentially yeah that is time travel that is possible wow that's really something yeah that's uh sure thanks for your info sure but did you
(01:28) get your answer you did 606 huh thank you everyone okay buddy you take care Bob Lazar is my guest in studio here we are in Las Vegas and if you have a question for Bob Lazar our phone numbers are four five one this is like a snowboard going down the hill as will become an avalanche and ignorance will be wiped out we've got the loads of truth for once and forever they are here let's find out why they are here on who they are and what their purpose is well thank you okay Bob you're all behind you and Billy kept that show going and it's (02:00) the number one show in America and talk show well thank you very much he did you he did explain to you why we have flying sauces right well I'm aware he has met the general public has to become aware yeah they're just waking up it's like a girl been lifted from their eyes you know why they're here why are they here for it well first of all it's a conditioning process because we are so ignorant the ignorance keeps us from meeting then there's Big Brother reaches out the hand and say come on little brother just have to cast
(02:33) the connection but then we become a world together earthlings we have to become earthlings we're not we are about 170 Nations 170 languages we become we have to become togetherness all right when we have a spokesman Randall will meet on at an equal ground very good Chris thanks for the call thank you take care bye bye-bye Bob Bazaar is my guess let's go to any line that's available I don't care who it is this I'm really kind of happening on kvg yes yes you're a big there we go hi you're next to the (03:10) Village have been happening on JVG hi Billy this is Tim from Pasadena yes Tim from Pasadena how are you yeah I wanted to talk to Bob a lot and I'm really glad I got through he's right here hey Bob uh can you tell me a little bit about when you looked into the saucer about how the hatch works and about how it might seal up and all the mechanics involved Jim do you have your radio on uh yeah please turn it down okay thank you is that better because you're getting feedback I can hear it okay there you go is it better (03:38) now uh okay okay the uh the hatch the hatch or whatever was the hatch was completely removed it was there was just an opening in the side of the craft and uh well no I really don't know how did the opening have any kind of ceiling around it or kind of a lip or anything like that uh I really don't remember because I was so interested in looking inside I didn't really catch uh you know a strong glimpse of the ceiling mechanism or any other thing around it no your last talk uh if you go along with me a little bit your last talk when (04:09) you were on the Billy show here uh you said something about you looked into one and it was all smooth like it had been a wax uh casting or something yeah exactly now was that the only one you looked into or was the other one was there another one you looked into no I was the only one I looked into the other ones I just saw from a distance so uh you know I I don't know any detail and the one you looked into was that the sport model yes exactly and that's the only one you saw fly as well right okay uh what can (04:38) you tell us what what your work was there well like I said before it's essentially to back engineer the propulsion and uh power system so you weren't really uh involved in the in the mechanics of The Craft itself no not at all and but mostly just uh the element 115 and all that kind of stuff you were learning about right well okay well I'll get off now and let somebody else ask you another question then thank you thanks thanks Bob all right bye-bye all right Bob Lazar is my guest listen to the Billy given

(05:11) happening we are in Las Vegas well gravity's a wave it's uh it's a force essentially uh just like uh electromagnetic waves are a different type of force uh there's I really don't know a good way to describe gravity actually it's uh it was not the same thing with like Einstein and other scientists they really don't have an interval of gravity is do they totally they'll really understand it totally do they no no not at all in fact I don't think we understand anything about gravity yeah
(05:39) um and uh why is it that we don't just float away ourselves well what keeps us down on the planet well that that is the uh attractive force of gravity back to force so it's an attractive thing as a opposed to a you know some people say because they've asked me it sort of like presses down but it doesn't does it no it doesn't there's no contracted Force it's like on an atomic scale the uh uh strong and weak nuclear forces hold uh the atoms individually together [Music] now you are no longer a government
(06:15) scientist or physicist right uh not employed by the not employed by the government okay but you are continuing in the science and the thing what do you do uh to keep yourself fine uh and build uh Advanced radiation detection equipment mainly uh Alpha radiation equipment for uh essentially use in detecting plutonium oh National Laboratory very interesting okay let's go back to the telephones and your telephone calls from I guess tonight Bob Lazar hi who's this and I believe it happening on kveg hello yes so it's way uh Lee Samuel yes
(06:54) Lee hello Billy how are you Bob how are you hi Bob a couple questions number one I'm cruising down Jones Avenue with my cellular phone here uh how long has that craft been on been on the on this earth oh I really don't know I don't even know how long it's been down at uh as far you know where where it has originally landed that no you got me on on all that stuff that really never keyed me in as to uh yeah it could have been here for years yeah okay yeah or it could have been you know brought in in pieces from (07:23) uh from somewhere else too okay and did you see just one craft or a number of crafts I saw a number of them okay but then the other workers talk about it and say you know where it came from or Moore's being towed in or whatever I don't know there really wasn't that much conversation between everyone were you by yourself were you with investigate the craft uh by my by myself as walking by myself there were security people around me but uh when I crawled underneath on the subfloor to look at the gravity
(07:49) amplifier Jersey and I got away from them but there was no one you know right next to me the whole time any evidence of a live aliens self-captive uh nothing I could put my finger on then you didn't see any at all then in that sector nothing I could put my finger on the craft of sleeping sleeping quarters for aliens is it like a regular like a star uh no it's actually a pretty vacant inside uh granted a couple things were removed they were sawed off uh at the base I don't know what they were I just (08:24) saw little stumps on the ground so I really don't know what was removed but it doesn't look like it had anything like sleeping quarters or anything like that any writing or anything you detected or any sort of language or anything no on the walls any panels or anything do you say like like a a dashboard on my car yeah in fact that was one of the things that there were more than one uh control panel setups but uh it looks like one was removed okay and it was this craft all from the same Source I mean or what (08:53) do you mean I mean it was also the same uh or the crap all identical or no each each craft was completely different in physical appearance now I didn't get to look in depth at the other crafts but uh I only really fooled around with one thank you I applaud your courage thank you great for you to speak up at least at least before you leave uh uh tickets go on sale tomorrow for the Donald Corey fight yes I wrote Bailey's uh Bailey's Casino uh big fight Donald Curry against the Irish Brett Lally both Fighters are

(09:21) in town yeah that's a real real big show Curry says if he doesn't win he'll retire he's a two-time former champion and he's up against it it's gonna be a real real big show I know you're coming to the press conference tomorrow yes I am and I and you understand you have ringside seats how's that show if you want to come let me ask you a question did you say that Donald Curry is actually the underdog in this fight yep six five taken the other way the last time I've done a hundred to one favorites and
(09:52) he lost the fight who'd he lose to that Renee Jaco in in France WBC uh championship fighting and he lost the fight it was incredible why why are people so down on him that they think he doesn't have it anymore so 101 dog it's uh yeah yeah okay but uh I know I'll see you at the first conference tomorrow Billy you sure will thank you Bob thank you Lee thank you all right bye-bye uh Bob Lazar uh you were saying something about uh entering the crap you know and that seems to be the report every single (10:22) time someone says they reported the spacecraft they were inside there's nothing in there except like you say a a panel board and some chairs and things with no sleeping quarters no nothing at all I guess they just don't have it they don't need them they don't sleep or whatever they get here so quickly a second of the call yes sir you know there's only 60 tickets left no I didn't know that yes I went there today I bought a ticket and they said they're almost sold out is that right well that
(10:48) that gentleman that was just not in the line leaves I can see the smile on his face right now yeah because he was the he's the promoter of that event you know oh is that right yeah so he's smiling look at the smile at least face now only 62 tickets left for the uh as of 12 noon I guess okay yeah uh I've got a magazine from Borderlands Sciences in front of me and they mentioned one of the books the the energy grid Foundation equations and ramifications by George resonates have you heard of him I I think I thumbed
(11:18) through that book once I think John Lear what the heck is an energy grid on on our planet uh I don't know I don't really buy that by that theory or really anything in that book it's a grid outlined all over the entire globe and uh at each intersection there's an energy Vortex of some kind and uh uh you know I just rather not comment yeah yeah on TV you mentioned something about the time warp and you mentioned uh folding over right what did you mean by that uh it's how uh gravity weather produced artificially or naturally
(11:53) distorts time and space gravity distorts time and space yeah I'll have to think about that no as a matter of fact we were talking off the air and people have been calling me at the office about this gravity thing and Bob Lazar is kind of leveled and set it right straight out nobody really understands gravity yeah and what it does and everything else it's it's still being looked into and even Einstein couldn't figure it out yeah I read about Nicole Tesla questioning their Einstein's theory or relativity
(12:26) since that energy doesn't come from matter where does it come from if it doesn't come from matter uh [Music] that's a strange question yeah uh it can be extracted from matter uh but it can be extracted by other means too I really don't don't understand that yeah are you going to be there January 7th uh no you're not going to be there no well I wish I could talk for an hour but uh everybody else wants to talk so I'll hang up all right all right thank you guys let's take a another call a new (13:01) member let's talk to a new member and see where uh hi who's this in the book of happening on kveg hi this is Tom here's Tom from where um La La Land la la land where is La La Land La okay la la la okay I'm sorry yeah I have uh one general question then a couple of specific ones um UFO reports have been going on now for 30 40 years I don't doubt The credibility of Mr Lazard I just wonder how how this can be kept secret for that long and as can the common hmm [Music] I I did pose that question to some

(13:45) people at S4 and the answer that I got was it's it's the easiest thing to keep secret because it's the subject matter do you have a feeling that uh one of the reasons that is is because it's tied in with a lot of of parapsychology psychic type stuff uh National inquire maybe so I mean there is so much disinformation uh and that is made so available to the public via the tabloids and things like that that uh you know any true information getting out is uh assumed to originate from those sources
(14:23) and things like that uh another question is um uh Carl Sagan is uh more or less a people scientist he's brought science down to the general public um right what about getting him involved in this somehow is that possible or how would you go about doing that I would imagine uh I imagine he's fairly open-minded I've never met met him one of the biggest UFO the bunkers that's why uh what I was thinking of doing actually is making getting some copies of the uh the shows that you're on the happenings I'm sorry
(15:01) and uh you know contacting Keith what the planetary Society I don't know if that would do any good but well you know there again he's going to need his own own proof as everyone should require and uh you know it's it's impossible to make an absolute believer out of someone that hasn't had hands-on experience or have seen something for themselves uh you know that's the way any scientist is going to look at it okay a couple more quick questions around 32 light year or something okay so uh these ships uh (15:35) do they travel faster than light or do they get around oh it's kind of it's kind of an irrelevant question because they get around it because they're not in a linear mode of travel since they're distorting time and space there's no true time reference and since the velocity is distance over time when you begin to fool around with time you really can't uh State a true velocity all right John thank you for your call one more quick question quickly okay he'll answer off here hurry up the (16:01) settings program uh the search for radio signals um couldn't uh some of these uh you know observatories or telescopes be aimed at the you know places where they these people or aliens have supposedly come from uh that I I think um Cooper mentioned uh Barnard okay that's your question thank you Tom okay uh well it's it's my understanding is that that radio waves and uh frequencies along that bandwidth really aren't aren't utilized it's gravity wave communication and uh a radio telescope
(16:39) releasing gonna pick up anything of that sort all right but I don't think people realize this because you said it so nonchalant but your first time on the way you got to see this UFO was really not planned by anyone wanting you to see it right you were like walking with security and you went under a doorway how did you describe that before uh it may have been planned by them but I I had no uh advanced warning of it I have that I've been brought in a separate door the whole time and uh one specific time I was uh just led into the area
(17:09) where I work uh through the hangar doors which I had never been in before I walked directly by the craft and began to slow down by it and they said just keep walking keep your eyes forward and uh and it was just just like that it was that nothing was said and uh I just went and sat down in an empty room you went and sat down in empty room after you saw it yeah waited for this guy that I work with Barry and then we went to uh you know work on some of the uh work we were assigned what were some of the things what was some of the work
(17:40) that you actually did that you were supposed to do well what did you actually do at S4 when you say work you had to wait for an assignment when you had the assignment what would it have been like for example well mostly like I said before most of the time I worked there was being briefed on uh and being brought up to date on what had been done before right and most of the Hands-On bench work essentially was with uh the reactor itself and uh being shown how it operated uh and giving demonstrations and and things (18:06) of that sort when you say reactor you know about nuclear reactor type antimatter reactor Andy matter oh okay Bob Lazar is my guest and bro I'll tell you it's fascinating to hear this stuff let's go back uh to some of the stuff you already touched on us and try because someone asked earlier about communication with some of your fellow workers there was practically no communication right yeah they kept that to an absolute minimum they were on the buddy system you worked with always worked with someone and that's the (18:32) person you communicated with and there was really no crosstalk between groups really and you as a young man there you are in the midst of this thing when

when you went there for the initial uh interview you said at the time they actually had a gun at your head uh that was at the security briefing security whatever that means the initial interview when you went to work at S4 I'm talking about did they that's not where the gun was at your head no no no okay uh when you went there what was your understanding that you (18:59) were going to be doing uh some high technology work and I had assumed they were talking about some sort of gravitational propulsion system and were you excited about that oh yeah very much so because there was uh some talk about that uh because it's something I was interested in something they knew I was interested in right you know that was that was the hint that I got I did a come to fruition it did did what you were told you were going to do will actually happen yeah no it did for a period of time so how long were
(19:32) you actually there before you uh let people know what was going on up there how many months or days whatever uh approximately yeah I really don't know uh probably a couple months before uh and every time that you went there you literally had to fly up land at the Groom Lake take a bus a a bus that was sort of blacked out of the windows right and no communication on the bus what were you thinking as a young man you're a very young man let's face it what were you thinking right here well you're a very young man I
(20:02) think you're anyway what were you thinking were you just saying well this goes with the territory and I'm just going to go along with this oh yeah I would have done that and much more just to be involved with the project ah the excitement was just being there being a part of the of what was going on behind the scenes in other words the secret part about it or oh sure I would have taken a lot more crap than they had dealt out can you picture it okay well uh he's in his 30s so I say young man and he's in (20:28) his third he's sitting on a bus and accepting the fact okay I'm going to work this morning not talking to their his uh Compadres on the buses looking straight ahead uh blackened out windows not driving on asphalt all dirt roads didn't that also have something to do in your mind say how come they never did anything up there as far as the dirt roads uh I don't know I was a good dirt road a lot of the roads around there are dirt I know it's almost dollar that's what I'm saying didn't even take the time to (20:56) uh to paid them I guess it's not that important Bob Lazar is is my guest and well I'll tell you uh I'm fascinated hello Billy yes can you hear me uh we sure can okay uh this is Mark the artist in Los Angeles all right I got some specific questions for Bob Lazar that I'd like to ask real quickly he's right here he's waiting uh I talked to you once before on the show Bob about uh the propulsion system on the device yeah and you'd describe the central column as being a uh there was a disc towards the bottom of (21:26) this thing down near the uh antimatter generator that uh that spins and I wanted to ask you what that disc is made of yes it spins no there's no spinning disc is the disc made of is it a capacitor well I a disc at the waveguide extends down and it widens out and sits on the curved portion of the reactor the bottom of the reactor is a plate but nothing rotates or moves it's all it's all connected together is that plate a capacitor no but what is it made of uh metal that's the only way I can describe
(22:00) it I don't know what kind it's uh determine the kind of metal it was no not to my knowledge um I understand the part of the propulsion system involves a very large capacitor which is usually the the entire lower surface of the disc making use of something along the lines of the Byfield Brown effect and I just wondered if you had any information on what the components of the dielectric material in that capacitor is well if the bottom of the disc is one plate of the capacitor then the dielectric material would be the air uh
(22:34) if you're going to look at the Earth as another plate of the capacitor but as far as the capacitor being integral to the uh actual craft itself now I found no evidence of that now uh I understand that there's an antenna section in this device and I'm one of those I wanted to ask you what the resonant frequency that that operate at was what it was uh well the resonant frequency of the gravity wave I do know but I don't know it offhand I can't I just can't remember it can you can you give me a ballpark (23:02) like 2 000 kilohertz something like that uh 200 kilohertz I really I really don't remember it's a really odd frequency is it really yeah well is it is it is it measured in kilohertz or gigahertz or megahertz I really don't remember uh the other thing I wanted to ask you was when you first started to go public and you were meeting with people at John lair's house I understand that there were a number of witnesses at those first meetings one of whom claims that you uh did say that you had seen an extraterrestrial (23:37) while working inside one of those uh saucers trying to back engineer the uh the propulsion system and that you've been looking out through a doorway or through a porthole in the side of the device and that you'd actually seen an extraterrestrial walking around on the outside one of those devices now this is meaning discs excuse me devices meaning discs yes no so so you're saying that you've never seen an extra dress or what S4 uh I really don't want to get into that well that health is claiming that you have uh

(24:10) well it stated the way you did no I didn't uh and I never did look and see an extraterrestrial as The Story Goes and the reason I I never bring it up is because I thought I saw something once at walking at a glance and uh and and that's all there is to it and I never did and I won't I I won't stand on that fact because uh you know it was just a fleeting Glimpse when I came back and whatever was there was gone uh you know it it could have been a zillion things so I had one last quick question I'll (24:40) wrap it up real quick here I have a contact that claims that uh you were responsible for determining that element 115 was not in fact necessary to operate an anti-gravity propulsion device in the Earth's magnetic field is that true no it's the exact opposite thank you Mark for the call okay all right thank you Bob Bazar hello hi there hi can you hear me we can hear you perfectly I better turn on my radio okay okay Matthew why are you going public with this whole subject what caused you I mean there's there's (25:09) obviously a lot of other staff in the project that since there's a greater a great degree of loyalty or something along this sort and uh why are you going public uh well the the thing that really was the the straw that broke the camel's back essentially was uh after I left the program I kind of became concerned about uh what happens now I made a routine request for my birth certificate uh which I needed for just for ID purposes and I was told that it doesn't exist I wasn't even born at that hospital I sat
(25:41) on that for about a week and just wondered and then I began to inquire at previous jobs and uh uh also at other schools and uh that information was also gone and I kind of got the idea that soon someone was going to disappear so that's when I contacted the TV station and you know essentially let everything out but you left the program under very amicable circumstances uh no that's a long involved story that I really don't want to get into okay all right that's fine are you afraid of any repercussions
(26:10) from the government you know oh yeah I was I was uh really concerned at one time but uh right though now yeah less so now but I you know you still keep in the back of your mind yeah I imagine of course it seems like to me that if anything were to happen to you now that that would cause such an uproar in itself exactly the last thing to do would be to go anywhere near you right as as someone someone said in the media somewhere that uh if they're following me now it's uh to make sure that nothing happens to me
(26:35) yeah I would think the same thing okay your experience up there on the program did you um did you witnessed any working models any models of the of the vehicles that were operational some of them were operational yeah I only saw one operate and they were actually operating oh yeah I saw one at uh at close range while I was at the area and then at the extreme distance about 15 miles when uh I brought some friends up to look at it using the technology that's uh that's being used they the craft are very agile aren't (27:08) they oh yes very in one specific mode of travel one specific mode yeah in One Direction at a time something like this no there's two modes of travel there's a low speed mode and and uh you know a high speed mode I I don't remember what they call they had a specific name for them okay but uh what was the size of the staff working on the project uh there's 22 people that I knew of 22 people well 22 people in the area that I worked in and uh you know how extensive the rest of the facility was I
(27:37) don't know I I gathered from one of your um early interviews that uh you were frustrated a little bit on the size of the staff you always thought it should have been larger oh yeah it could have been more could have been learned about the program quite more quickly the problem is substituting uh Earthly materials really yeah and uh there's really there's really no easy way easy way of getting around that okay thank you for the call Sir go ahead pick up just one on one last thing that an earlier gentleman was commenting on that he (28:09) sounded very knowledgeable as well can you explain uh about the element 115 and how uh how it's involved in the in the uh in the construction of the vehicles all right thanks for the call thank you thank you sir okay uh everything seems to have come down to 115. it's a super heavy element element in uh it seems that as you get uh into the heavier elements and I'm sure this property extends to uh as yet undiscovered elements in excess of atomic number 115 that the atomic gravity wave inside uh the atoms holding things together

(28:46) begins to extend outside of the atomic structure itself and it's this wave that can be tapped off and in quantity in a small quantity actually this wave can be Amplified contained and you know used for a useful purpose very very good answer Bob Lazar that's the voice of power plants and stuff of that nature for the work under that stuff not nuclear power plants weapon where they use plutonium yeah right like the latest uh flight up way above us right there's a plutonium flag going on right now uh the Galileo
(29:22) yeah yeah are you involved with that Mr Lazar uh someone may have used our probes to detect it okay we'll get back to Bob Lazar and your telephone calls but first is uh uh at any time uh I really don't know uh I only was witness to uh a couple tests and uh I really don't know I don't know how far they go I think they're very careful with them uh I like I said I don't I personally don't think that they're whipping them around the solar system uh because I don't know how proficient they (29:58) are with operating them but uh I really don't know and let me ask you do you read any UFO literature yourself in book form that's uh out in publication uh nothing really in book form uh I occasionally get handed little tidbits here and there and glance at them but no I don't I don't delve into uh you know reading because you mentioned some uh uh stuff on the Billy Myers uh uh uh case there and I was just wondering if you had read any of that information because you mentioned you had seen some pictures
(30:31) yeah I looked at the uh what caught my eye was certainly the uh whatever that book's called contact from the Pleiades or something but it's essentially a picture book I mean there's really no text in it uh and uh that but one of the craft in there looks strikingly similar to uh the one they call the sport model that's interesting I have to get your opinion what did you think of that similarity did that puzzle you uh uh yeah because originally I had kind of discounted the Billy Meyer stuff but that that craft
(31:03) looks amazingly like the one that I worked on and another thing is he showed uh somewhere in that book they had a picture of a grassy field with three round indents in the ground uh now that would coincide with the three gravity amplifiers in the bottom of the craft and the imprint that they do make so that it kind of makes me believe that that uh that really did occur I see that's very interesting but one last question is on the first program uh I had heard you say towards the end of the program that you wanted to say one thing
(31:35) which was you didn't necessarily uh share the same views as Bill Cooper and John Lear as far as the big picture was concerned and I didn't really understand what you meant by that [Music] well I'm really not exactly sure what uh what each individual story is I think there John Lear has a specific story Bill Cooper has a specific story I do agree with both of them uh in in the fact that yeah there's alien craft here and so on and so forth uh uh I think John Lear someone uh thinks that they're here to use us for food uh (32:11) I don't exactly remember Bill Cooper's story but the uh the little intricate Parts here and there I it's you know I just I just haven't seen any evidence myself of it you know I don't know uh what these gentlemen have found out on their own and from everything that you know about it do you believe that there is possibility that there are benevolent creatures in the universe oh sure oh sure thank you number 37.
(32:37) thank you uh my pleasure Bob alien beings or are we doing it when I say we meaning the military do you think I think the ones that we're testing the one that I was involved in I think is being flown by the military okay now you know whatever else is going on I don't know and and there you've got a picture if that was taking over air 51 yes that's right uh according to what was left to me yeah and it looks like it if you look at that if you recognize it at the peak yeah of course that's a daytime photograph when I I was told all the (33:07) testing is done at night and uh I mean that's uh interesting I don't know okay uh so getting back so you think it's more done by the military they're flying them because you described when you went inside one of these little puppies that the

there were very very small seats almost like a kindergarten type right exactly so they have to have some small guys doing it we have to have them some real real jockeys or something yeah you can squeeze yourself into it okay Bob Lazar is my guess let's go back to your (33:34) telephone calls because I don't want to you know steal this whole thing but this picture is just totally uh a mind blower hi who's this in the building happening on kveg awesome Las Vegas Yes Carl okay Bob I got a couple questions sure do these uh crafts appear to be ShadowCraft not the main craft uh hmm I don't know how you'd well I need to differentiate between the two other than or or you know who says there is even a well in most instances uh people speak of them joining up with another craft
(34:10) and then going out of the atmosphere uh when they speak of you know some of these experiences they saw them with and I was just wondering if these assorted models that you've seen could be classic as a shuttle crap in that respect you know they wouldn't carry a big Fleet of people no definitely not I mean they are small uh yeah I'm guessing right and uh you know mid 30 to 40 foot range somewhere in there uh and as far as carrying a lot of cargo or uh or or beings or whatever no there's not a whole lot of room there so
(34:46) uh yeah possibly there is a larger craft that they join with but you know I didn't see any okay and uh is it true that there's uh like more proportion more engines than there are crap though that's for that's a good question uh hmm well there's nine craft uh you know I really don't know well certainly it would be something to explain how the hell we got most crap more engines than we did crap yeah there had to be some kind of an agreement or somebody helping us get them right they're certainly more fuel than there
(35:25) needs to be yeah all right Paul how do you know so much about it Paul well I follow a lot of you know watching them every chance I guess let me ask you something though you were talking about pictures I got it right here at babazar okay now did you see this uh little girl from South Carolina who took a cassette on Halloween night and saw uh lights in the sky yeah that was shown nationally now as she was viewing those lights and recording it through her uh cam recorder a plane flew by which is always one of the big gripes
(35:58) they have of these lights that they never get anything to reference right stuff with and it showed her house it showed the plane go right by the light and move on in them have gotten touch with her and you know evidently got these things I had somebody researched and come out and showed us that these pictures are you know valid I don't know anything about that that's one case I'm not familiar with are you Bob no enough but there are some strings here occur I'll tell you a story that Roger Nelson
(36:26) everybody to me that one night in San Francisco with the two uh uh anchor people uh reporting and use it and one of their reporters had to run out and done some filming and while they were filming I had something and the guy stand up in the sky and right over their shoulder showed up a UFO right over the shoulder you'll see it right there and they you know they never released it they would never never release it but uh it was only the San Francisco's actually saw it let me ask Bob one more question go
(36:56) ahead do you have one more question and then check out time uh I'll take I'll take that well maybe not just a question but a statement Bob in view the fact that they have uh released you and taken away your uh scientific livelihood I hope you go on a national circuit I hope you're going 60 Minutes at Carson Show everything you can get on and milk it for every time you can get you know because you have a right to do that since they've interrupted your career but I think that the big important thing
(37:26) is is to get these people to get this stuff into the hands of the scientific community that can do some good with it they've been coiling with it for years and nothing's come out of it we can't get anywhere at the they get you we got to get it out of the hands of these power mongers oh I agree 100 and uh I think that's why you took people up there in the first place you were tired of their games all right Paul thank you very much all right take care guys bye-bye let's go to uh line two I mean (37:52) like uh where are they calling from hi who's this Hi how are you billing fine uh this is the world's calling you from Charleston Illinois how are you Wesley crumb yes sir hey how are you can you hear us yeah well I can uh I can just pick up what you're saying uh okay well Bob Lazar is right here in studio oh not bad uh I just want to say it's a great prayer we do a good chance to speak with you and that I greatly admire your courage and coming forward and I've had an opportunity to uh

see a tape of
(38:24) the klas program you did and uh you made it out that far huh well it's uh I've been I forwarded all the way to Atlanta Georgia and I personally when I first heard about you I have called uh well I ran up about a 300 phone bill calling New York in Chicago and uh everywhere I got a rejection noticed today from the Donahue show that they don't want to do a program about you so yeah yeah anyway yeah I've got you here I'd like to ask you a few quick questions sure okay uh when you uh I became involved with this program did
(38:59) you get an opportunity to go inside all nine aircraft or spacecraft no no just one just the one yeah uh when you're inside the craft did you see any indication that either through markings on the controls or otherwise that these ships were from uh a different place or is there any writing on any controls or anything uh no not on controls and and things like that but I I did I did see some evidence of of writing okay uh when you saw the uh flight demonstration that was performed for you were you the only person that was there that saw this (39:37) craft operation no there were several people I was standing right next to the person who was in radio contact with the craft oh I see how long did this demonstration last uh it was a short duration uh it lifted off the ground uh slid over to the left and then back to the right and set back down it it was a very short duration but you never saw actually who was at the control no because I was brought out uh when I was brought in the craft was in the hangar when I came out it was already out of the hangar and sitting on uh while (40:11) sitting out away from the hangar some distance and so I don't know how it was brought out who brought it out who got in it uh you know I can only guess uh this entire insulation that's where is it the entire thing underground all nine different hangers no it's not underground it's just but up against the side of a little mountain little Hill kind of and uh but it's it's kind of inside do you feel that the billions of dollars that are being spent on the space program by the administration is a waste
(40:37) of money as we already have these ships in our possession I know because look at all the technology that we that we did get out of the space program so was it ever uh disclosed to you that these uh crap were on a loan to us is there a chance of them being repossessed at any time no none of that was ever disclosed to me the origin uh you know any uh anything about the the origin essentially oh well I one one last question here Bob I'm gonna let you get back to the other calls here um I heard a rumor earlier this evening
(41:14) that your van was shot at recently is there ain't true it's good I don't have a van oh well I was I was shot at in my car but I don't have a van no no there's no truth to that one no there should be no truth to that one how would you get that information out in Illinois well uh he got passed on to me from the video Clearinghouse in Yucaipa and we've been keeping pretty close touch ever since uh this news broke and I uh like I said I've been running up phone bills and trying to get uh people interested I did (41:44) get a call today or yesterday from The National Enquirer and I don't know you know the avoids and what they say but they might follow up and try and do something for you Bob I hope that well the inquire is not exactly the best when you want to go but at least does have some national exposure and uh All Right Wesley All Right Wesley thanks for the call and keep up the good work out there in the midwest okay by the way what's the weather like out there oh we got about uh four or five inches on the ground the snow and (42:13) it's real cold yeah like what is the uh temperature I'd say it's about minus 10 degrees sorry goodbye ending to a call all right Bob Lazar is my guest in studio and we're almost I'm working on it changing the name to that bill okay buddy Bob thanks so much for coming back I really had some doubts about you coming back and I'm so glad you have cut fourth I've got a number of quick questions for you one thing that just intrigued me you just mentioned was you said there's more fuel all the (42:48) necessary at the test site yeah well I don't know exactly where it is uh but there's 500 pounds 500 pounds of uh Element 115 yeah and it takes 223 grams of craft so this is definitely abundance of fuel out there right now uh could you quickly describe the underside of these ships uh no because from a side view of only one craft uh the other ones are always sitting on the ground I never saw it but the the underside is is essentially flat now I don't I never got directly under it uh to look there might be some features (43:30) down there but I really don't know okay the reason I asked because you're talking about the three uh distortions that can come down uh from the gravity engines to distort the uh the grass uh are you aware of any time Distortion within the saucer itself while they are running yeah there has to be okay I've heard reports of that and uh but that's about all you know that there is some yeah there there have to be what about five Distortion within the ship I've heard reports that people who have been in (44:05) these that the inside seem much larger than the outside would indicate uh I've heard that too but uh I really haven't seen any evidence of that okay uh what about the difference you were talking about basically the low speed and the high speed modes and the control factors in there can you kind of describe each one of the modes and what the ship looks like at the time but it's going through those modes okay uh the low speed mode and I really wish I could remember what they call these but I can't as I can't remember the frequency

(44:41) of the wave um the low speed move mode the uh the craft is actually very vulnerable it kind of Bobs around and it it's sitting on a weak gravitational field essentially sitting on on three gravity waves and uh it just kind of bounces around and it can focus the waves behind it and essentially keep falling forward and hobble around at low speed uh the second mode what they do is they increase the amplitude of the field and the craft begins to lift uh and it performs a roll maneuver it begins to turn uh essentially roll begins to turn over uh
(45:18) as it begins to leave the Earth's gravitational field they point the they point the bottom of the craft at the destination uh this is the second motor travel where they bring uh they converge the three gravity amplifiers focus them essentially on a point that they want to go to then they bring them up to full power and this is where the tremendous time spaced Distortion takes place and that uh you know whips them right to that point Billy one quick last question here for Bob uh now did you actually bench test a
(45:51) small a unit away from the craft itself the reactor yeah and about how large is this and can you describe it okay bird you'll answer up here thank you yeah the device itself is probably a plate about 18 inches Square uh I said diameter before I think but it is square uh there's a half Square sphere on top where the gravity wave is is uh tapped off of but that's uh it's about the fact that Bob Lazar Bob Lazar answering all your questions on an inside to me where would one procure that information
(46:27) uh in the books or something I mean where would that come out maybe I already forgot his first question well you know it was very in-depth right uh he was talking about uh oh boy yeah the modes of travel uh I don't know maybe he's been Reading literature and uh so there is literature on it uh no but there's you at the UFO lore essentially like he said he's heard stories about time distortions yes I imagine yeah that's what he meant that's where he got it from so there are people outside the government right now
(46:57) looking into what you you're talking about I would imagine ah well that's good to hear because you may never hear from the inside right yeah of course you will never hear from the inside okay let's check out uh hi who's this I don't think of it happening on kvg it's Amy hello Amy how are you fine good um first question are there any um other items or subjects that you won't go into that you won't talk about regarding what was going on at Groom Lake uh about what was going on about that about (47:32) the project no I don't think so there's no other okay all right do you have future plans for for more publicity uh there are several uh networks that are interested uh 60 minutes uh that's that's been mentioned but uh you know I haven't heard anything officially are we going to be would you do it yeah yeah I I do a major Network thing sure okay um are you familiar with the movie that was made uh several years ago I think it was the beginning 80s um Hangar 18.
(48:05) yeah I saw I think I saw that when it first came out from your memory art do you remember any parallels to what you know now I don't remember enough about the movie yeah I'll tell you the truth um on your show you uh there was a the newspaper that had you in it in an article about you uh I was wondering if during the time issue at Los Alamos I was wondering if you remember what paper that was that was a monitor the monitor if you remember one it was written it was uh like July 82 or something like that yeah it's uh I (48:40) think I still have a copy at home oh I won't ask you to send me a coffee it's okay um do the alien Uh crap create harmful radio activities in the area no they don't no um well that's good news yeah because there was that the woman that you talked about Billy on the show a few days ago yeah about the child and the two women yes and they now have cancer yeah it kind of doesn't correlate yeah I I believe that was a uh I've heard of that before and that sounds that sounds like a really poor attempt at us producing a (49:16) craft yeah a nuclear-powered craft really dirty spewing nuclear material all over the place it sounds something that we would make you heard it first a really good been happy with something we would put together right not anyone else it really it really rings of humans okay Amy thanks for the call can I ask you just one more question go ahead um as best uh as you can tell do the aliens appear to be the same general physical makeup I mean some of your research on the on the craft itself can you tell if they're a

(49:53) similar to us um by the way that it was designed uh certainly smaller but there's no nothing other than that well not from the crafts I mean I I read some material pertaining to you know what they call the typical gray yeah the you know it's uh I believe them to be that thank you Amy okay thank you okay bye-bye all right uh well let me touch on a couple of things here you know you go do your thing we can't do that right now explain to that person please uh it was interesting what you said about when they when you asked for your uh
(50:28) birth certificate and it was sort of you could not locate it and they told you literally you did not exist they told you this I mean in so many words they said we just have no record here right uh and then you felt within yourself you didn't exist you're saying uh well I felt that's what they were trying right this mode of travel that involved with moving these UFOs around can you see that as being a mode of travel for us in the future I mean you said it only takes like grams of fuel that sounds pretty good to me as far as (51:01) being efficient do you think it's possible that we could be traveling like that in the future well obviously they do so uh oh they do think this uh I'm not just possible in the future yeah I'm talking about like our automobiles would be something like that and travel like that uh and do you have to be off the ground in order to travel like this so we'd be going like this all over the place yeah it's not a very good no mode of uh slow speed travel right it wouldn't be getting anywhere and it
(51:32) would be all kinds of things I think uh we touched that by the way fols in case you're wondering why I'm doing the interviewing right now is at this point in time we wait for a report from Houston which is called Road watch America and I have to let some strange things are going on in your life you mentioned about car doors being open describe what happened the other night when you and your uh Shelley left the house and you came back and the doors are wide open I mean what what do you think about all this uh
(51:57) it's crazy a friend of mine Shelly was over and uh we went out to uh uh bar to have a Buffet uh we went out we locked the doors checked everything and uh we came back uh several hours later and all the doors were open and uh nothing was Disturbed in the house nothing was uh you know taken uh in a hard car that was left in the driveway the seats were moved all the way back like someone big said in them uh I've gone to uh with other friends to a health club that I go to uh we locked the doors and check them
(52:32) and they think you know I usually keep a gun in the car and put my wallet on the on the dash uh We've we've come out and the doors have been not just unlocked but actually open not not even the wallet taken or the gun certainly kids would have done that it's just like someone wants me to know that uh there's you know yeah they're still there they're still there and getting back to being still there the last time you were on the happening you revealed the gentleman's name if you don't want to (52:59) say it again it's up to you you probably do you didn't care I don't remember exactly what was his name Dennis Mariano okay you revealed his name he was the one that was threatening you and he was the one that was really the biggest problem in your life have you had any problems with him since then uh no not recently no no so that's interesting okay Bob Lazar is my guest we'll get back to your telephone car well it's I don't know if I'd use that in a car but if you wanted to you could (53:25) use it as an a tremendous electrical power okay which goes back to the beginning of time we're going to have electric cars and we were convinced we shouldn't have electric cars because we were so we had to plug them in along the way I think she's gone public with this you've had contact with them calling you and wanting to know what's going on Etc oh yeah well there are a couple that I uh gave information to as we were going along and uh they they knew what was going on already okay well they knew what was going on

(53:52) already uh through me uh the reason I asked those questions that I'm wondering is is in other words if you had other people to back you up and support you I think it would might lend more credibility to what you're saying that was part of the idea of getting it on the news and I thought hopefully I would shake the tree and have these other guys come forward and I'll be able to collaborate the story and so on and so forth and then also have the 115 under my belt but that helpline backfired so the rest of them
(54:21) don't have and this is for them if they're listening and the rest of them just don't simply just don't have the guts to do anything I wish they generally okay uh let's see another question here um let's see I wrote These down of course anything I think you mentioned this there are a little two phone calls earlier but anything in the uh in the works in regards to any other uh National Television coverage or news media coverage of any sort that you know of uh there's been uh you know lots of (54:51) talk but uh nothing nothing definite I mean there's no date set for anything but uh there's been a tremendous amount of Interest okay well that sounds good National and and international term and uh one more question is uh uh reference to the uh I heard some talk about the there's a big underground base up there too a two uh know anything about that I've I've heard that story but I you know I have known for something like that of her yeah I I have no firsthand knowledge of it I haven't been in any (55:20) tunnels or you know underground stuff so and do I still have time for another one one quick question here's Bill okay uh these UFOs it seems kind of strange to me that if these uh the aliens that have these UFOs uh obviously are thousands of years in advance and Technology it seems sure how in the world would it seem that the the government would come into possession of these UFOs if in fact a UFO uh aliens that didn't actually want them to have them all right Bill thank you for the call he'll answer afterwards okay thank you (55:55) uh I don't know the thing is that they look in in very good condition it doesn't look like they were crashed uh that they were retrieved somewhere it it really looks like they were they were given so uh I don't know that might be the game have you ever given any thought to the fact that maybe they were invited here and they actually landed here and that's why they were here too uh yeah it's possible it's possible right they could have come right through this area amazing let's let's go to uh one of our (56:19) new member line and see who's out there hi who's this and they're coming happening on kveg hello Jim yes Sharon from here from Las Vegas all right Jim first time caller first time well I'm glad you finally decided to push those buttons I have a big curiosity here good good um of course I saw on TP spoke of of uh observing a demonstration of this antimatter gravity couldn't wave controller device that he uh simulated one I guess made one himself a mock-up copy or something yeah a friend made one yeah uh well I saw you (56:57) do that and I heard you speak of uh bouncing golf balls off of the anti-gravity field yeah and also about the candle the wax and the flame Stood Still right and then uh the whole what I want to know about is uh under what conditions did you see this demonstrated and maybe you'd elaborate a little bit on this and how large was the force field the forest uh the force field where the candle was and the force field created by the uh anti-matter device uh I'd say it was probably about 20 inches for a 20 inch radius from the uh the (57:46) surface of the sphere where was this area just above the device yeah surrounding the sphere yeah surrounding the sphere yeah the sphere surround the device no the sphere sits in the center of the device sphere sitting on a plate is the best way to describe it okay that field surrounds the half sphere okay and you just place a candle in there no no no no no that that was a separate demonstration I'm just telling you where the field extends from uh oh that's what I'm curious about oh okay no they tapped the field off uh using a
(58:31) wave guide uh off of the sphere and uh this is a completely different setup where they had a a mock-up small a gravity amplifier and there were three focused into a point in that area of focus was probably uh nine or ten inches in diameter that area they displaced this area or moved this area uh and it wasn't displaced it's just where the where the field was generated and in there you put the candle right yeah and can actually bounce golf balls off of it no no the golf ball that was saying again had nothing to do with that (59:04) setup the golf ball thing it's something you do just when the reactor was energized before the waveguide was put on or anything uh we were just pushing on the field I was you know it was being demonstrated to man we just bounced the golf ball off the top and and the candle doesn't melt and the flame stand still in this disc that you're talking about well in the area yeah you don't have to put it in the center or anything right just anywhere in the area well the the actual flame of the candle was in the uh (59:31) in the area in the center of the desk and you saw this happen yeah uh thanks a million no no problem take care Jim all right bye-bye Bob Lazar because people people are saying thanks a millionaire was that one of the crafts that we or was it one that was uh here but here by the Asian sermon of the planet well that this is a craft of alien origin um that was brought here by them from another planet yeah and do we know anything about their way of life no I I'd really like that do we know anything about their way of life I I really don't

(1:00:07) know what I I really know very little about that I'd like to know a lot about that I mean uh you assume that they Mass produce the craft so there must be some sort of factory somewhere that means there must be workers in the factory do they have a social life I mean the questions are endless I'd like to know myself and it's also said that they are here on this planet well as they are here where are they that's another good question for you yeah you have another good one for us what do you think about that now
(1:00:43) uh as far as what where if they say they're here so where are they I you got me I I really don't know well if one walked up to my door what am I supposed to do I mean uh everyone thought about that they walk up knock on your door yeah that's a good question about we make a joke of that uh but if that were the case see the government doesn't give us any information how would you handle something like that everyone walked up to your door uh I don't know I guess you'll find out really quick if they're benevolent or (1:01:14) not yeah that's probably but as far as as far as what to do who knows but let's take an example there man hold on a second that's Bob and I'll ask you the very same question let's say you're out in Kansas out in the farmland and you see this person that looks really far out do you think they're just gonna wait for them to come to the door do you think they're going to shoot and ask questions later uh probably shoot and ask questions that's the problem wouldn't that cause
(1:01:36) all kinds of consternation amongst these people if they fight about one of their people or well you have all the stories of the abductee reports about uh you know people in medical examinations I mean they go through a lot of trauma and stuff like that when it came right down to it if I was confronted uh by a bunch of them my car stopped or something to that effect or you know a crap obviously in sight yeah I take on a hostile uh attitude really crazy sure and as you were told differently right by the government these people don't mean to (1:02:03) harm you they're going to be landing in your cities whatever just handle it differently okay one more question go right ahead uh the other thing that in the future that our president will will tell us from National Television though the UFOs are here that we will make it known to us I doubt it you don't think you ever will no I I don't think he could muster up enough to do that all right one of the presidents in the past are supposed to say that if he got elected Carter yeah he was going to tell us all about it
(1:02:38) yeah but he didn't yeah that that tells us told you something right there because he never got in and denied it he just got in and didn't say anything all right thank you for the telephone call thanks bye-bye let's go to a new member brand new caller hi yes Bob I've got a few questions for Bob Lazar okay uh did you have a badge when you went to work Bob sure did uh did did he have any designation on it uh as far as what uh what did it say it's a white badge it has two uh a light blue and a dark blue uh diagonal Stripes
(1:03:13) through it on the top it says maj12 uh the the clearance level is called Majestic I don't know if that was like I said before I don't know if that means anything as far as the Majestic 12 documents go or if they just called that clearance that as a Nostalgia type of thing uh uh my picture was on it and uh what else was on did you have both that mha and and Majestics both words no the only place I ever saw Majestic was on Denny's uh Dennis's badge who was my supervisor and his badge looked slightly
(1:03:50) different so I don't know if it was an older kind or or what now you mentioned that you were doing back engineering but uh specifically uh what was the breakdown of your duties during for example one day uh with respect to say what what your co-workers were doing how what was the breakdown the division of tasks I I have no knowledge of what the other people were doing we're working with more than I mean

(1:04:17) well you know we were in basically the training phase he was he was getting me up to date on everything so we never split off and you know he went and did his thing what were you actually uh did you ever I'm gonna skip to another question did you did you ever see an analysis or a spectrogram of 115 yes and how what did that tell you uh well that it was an unknown element uh then we did uh density uh and uh weight calculations and uh which are pretty basic and of course it was too heavy for its physical size uh
(1:04:54) we did uh it was an x-ray spectrograph uh I don't remember what other tests we did to it okay two last questions the one how did you know what the times of testing would be to go up to these sites to view the object do you know where it's being tested now uh well first of all Dennis told me the uh testing times and uh of course those are the times that I relate to other people and we went out there uh what was the other question and do you know where it's being tested now oh I have no idea in fact uh you know if I was then the
(1:05:27) last place I would test it would be S4 thanks for the call thank you very much I really appreciate it okay you're actually really good with happening good night uh Al Nico five are you familiar with that magnetic material that we use here for uh yeah that's a common I never heard the five designation but well it's a developed it's a very dense magnet is that close to the material of 115 oh no not not at all that's that material is uh that's an acronym for aluminum nickel iron and Cobalt yeah uh none of them
(1:06:00) being anywhere anywhere near it whatsoever okay uh is there portholes in that craft how do they uh at the very top there's a portholes or Square though but they must be able to see by TV or I don't know I didn't either I you know that I just got from the outside when I was inside I never I don't think I really even bothered to look up there I just I I don't recall the gravity generator is running is there a thermal radiation no not at all that was one of the uh well I don't know about I was never down
(1:06:32) on the bottom uh while the gravity generators are running but the reactor itself there's no there's no thermal radiation whatsoever running that was one of the the really shocking things because that violates the first law of their own thermodynamics yeah right that's what I wondered about the atomic weight to the 115 material is that uh heavier we know the 115 and the atomic weight would be different from the gravitational weight the gravitational weight of that material is very heavy yeah how does that stuff break off do
(1:07:01) you saw it or does it grind up how do you get the 10 grams or whatever it is I don't know uh you know I really don't know how that's machined into it uh I I know it is machine but I don't know if there's any special procedures employed uh does it melt I'm sure it does I'm and uh just historically uh all Heavy elements are also toxic I imagine it is a very toxic thing uh what else and if you use the standard designations as started at 103 its name would be unanimentium and it's it's symbol if it's going to be
(1:07:39) plugged into the Periodic Chart would be uup and uh in fact I have a friend that gave it a kind of a cute name he called it unobtainium like Berkeley yeah exactly okay the other question variable question was that uh do you think you would be able to In Your Wildest Dreams be able to create any of this stuff on Earth uh I need to in order to do the same thing well certainly I can I can in fact I'm in the process of that fabricating the gravity amplifier but then uh uh I'm at a tremendous shortage for power so
(1:08:15) yeah I've even tried to do that stuff on my own is there any Electronics like as we know to chips transitions no nothing like that there's no there was no uh if even because of the tremendous power involved too uh there was no direct connection between the gravity amplifiers and the uh reactor itself one more little question the wave glad you're talking about is that similar to what we're using in microwave very very similar very similar very good thanks a lot Bob this is Bob uh Yvonne okay Yvonne thank you thank you for the call
(1:08:47) take care um you touched on something you mentioned all heavy metals are toxic yeah they seem to be yeah so all very bad for us then when you say yeah the poisonous toxic right you get up you know higher an hour you can get uranium plutonium and element 115 is is right okay let's go take another call let's get right back to the telephone and talk to you uh your next level look at what's happening on kveg hello yes sir uh well good evening fascinating uh first question uh is this uh accepted for our profile for Boost

(1:09:25) dry lake bump uh yeah okay so that's interesting it's in a place called Emma print Valley not immigrant-like people who come but immigrant like people who leave right as you can see Papu's dry lake from out of the hangar door right I'll put next thing in regards to the long-range method of travel with these things isn't a propulsion unit maybe the wrong idea let me bounce this off of you I feel that this device is creating a situation where it is diminishing or removing the localized gravitational
(1:09:54) field in the long distance being or a body that they're heading towards is actually pulling the vehicle rather than it being pushed am I correcting this well the yeah the vehicle is not being pushed so major propulsion is a uh but it's not being being pulled implies it's being pulled by something externally it's pulling something else to it it's creating the gravitational field great what do you what about monopol is this any kind of relationship to monitor you know they've been looking for the
(1:10:20) monitor yeah they've been well they've been looking for the monopole magnet uh yeah but then you know it's the gravitational force yeah they're different things but exhibiting similar effect right okay next thing uh rather put the hair up on the back of my neck last night I saw a small white four-door Japanese car and on the right side rear passenger door there were three nine millimeter bullet holes about a 12-inch group I was just curious if that was the vehicle that was shot at now that's
(1:10:52) similar to my car but but they missed me yeah well this is really weird I didn't know who had done that okay the next thing the last time I spoke to you I mentioned about flashings and ponds in their Fusion operations you heard that any sea in Japan has duplicated the results of their experiment uh no I really haven't heard much of that yeah it was on the news several times okay good I'll get off there and let somebody else in great good keep up the good work okay sir thank you for your call you're
(1:11:16) actually looking at happening on KV EG hello are you there I think they left try heida try thank you uh first of all I just want to say I'm 15 and I listen to your show every night while I'm sleeping I don't know how I came across it but you're 15. yeah have you joined the uh Village young listeners youth group yet no you haven't uh well I heard some kid the other night that's right well that's Brian he's coordinating that all right why don't you give him a call it's a month all
(1:11:46) right his number is 369 uh okay five three four seven and just ask for Brian and call him during the day and I know he'll put you on the list all right okay I have a question for Bob yeah uh hi Bob hi I just wanted to ask you do we give something in exchange for that for all this information they're giving us uh I I really don't know yeah I don't know what went on behind the scenes as far as uh you know how we got the technology uh also uh this I-15 or 115 or whatever it is open yeah does it come
(1:12:23) they're like uh do they give it to us in March quantity sir uh yeah 500 pounds is what I'm told it comes in though the way I've seen it it comes in discs like uh little thin discs like close to the size of a half dollar uh and uh which did you ever did you ever own any or yeah you did what happened to it it's gone and it was it was stolen out of my house along with some other stuff that I got from there oh it was that from the governor government uh that's that's what I assume I hope it's (1:12:55) in their hands I'd hate it to be in uh a few people didn't know about it uh from UFO related people and I I'd hate for unexperienced people to be you know in possession of this stuff but uh yeah that was taken we did attack we did get some film of it and some film doing it of it doing some uh really unusual things called uh yeah uh also uh how did you uh get hired in Area 51 uh I was referred by uh well-known physicist uh uh to talk to someone and I really don't want to go all into that because then
(1:13:33) I'm pointing fingers at specific people is is like uh like when you went to work there was everyone like really quiet and all too but you know were they like uh like where their mouth shut and mouth or with it yeah there was everyone wasn't just talking and you know yeah and that it wasn't a really happy environment it was just into what they were doing and that was it yeah all right young man thanks for your call what school do you coach uh Hyde Park Junior High Park Junior High when you call Brian join up
(1:14:00) with that group I think you'll find it fascinating all right hey keep listening but stay awake all right take care yeah hello hello hello I I'd like to ask Bob a question sure um what year were you doing this were you working up there

uh last year last year huh okay uh I heard from from someone that I know that's a pretty good source that uh that a small amount of plutonium like a like a picogram or something might be good for you is that true no not at all you don't know anything like that at all
(1:14:37) no I know information completely contradictory to that okay well I was just wondering thank you okay thank you for the call is it good for you like what would you do use plutonium for it to die yeah really that's deadly right yeah it's that simple in the lungs it's almost you know immediate lung cancer uh it's a toxic in itself the body has a tough time getting rid of it and it's just bad news in in any concentration and you're messing with it right I mean I don't have any at my house no but I
(1:15:07) mean you said that's part of what you're working on the posterior thing uh uh electronic equipment to detect plutonium oh it's they're called Alpha radiation detectors are air proportional okay why do you want to detect the plutonium I ask that question uh they use them to screen Personnel that are leaving an area contaminated they check equipment for plutonium contamination uh so on and so it was they don't this is as bad as uh uh radio it wasn't thinking of radiation I guess right well yeah plutonium does
(1:15:38) produce radiation that's the whole thing so it's as bad as when they've been clearing the people in nuclear power plants and stuff like this yeah oh I get it and you're the one that's that's devising a device that's going to be easier uh no our device is just less expensive okay all right good Barbizon a Bob Lazar is uh I'm not sure guarded as the nation's leading Authority on UFOs he plans a three-hour presentation including visuals of UFOs drawings of aliens sketched by eyewitnesses a
(1:16:09) startling videotape regarding the JFK assassination evidence that alive being alien being being held captive in New Mexico an evening of astonishment a show you'll talk about for years and years and your special host will be Billy Goodman how's Billy Goodman happening heard on superstation am 840 kveg in Las Vegas 10-1 that's a night with Bill Cooper Sunday January 7th at 5 PM call the showboat at 702-385-9190 for ticket information yes and don't forget can you hear me yes we certainly can very clearly as a
(1:16:47) matter of fact I like to speak to Mr Lazar he's right here he can hear you too Mr Lazar can you list your credentials uh uh as far as what are your schooling your your degrees I have two master's degrees uh uh one's in physics one's in electronics uh I wrote my thesis on uh mhd which is a magnetohydrodynamics uh I worked at Los Alamos uh for a few years as a technician and then as a physicist and uh uh the polarized proton section uh essentially dealing with uh the accelerator there uh I was hired at S4
(1:17:35) as a senior staff as assist uh to work on gravitational propulsion systems and and whatnot associated with those crafts what what school did you go to I'd rather not say the reason being is currently I'm working uh with them under contract and I don't want to I'm having enough enough trouble with this as it is okay why did you leave the Groom Lake Project I don't want to go into that either that's uh that's a big long complicated story it gets into my personal life too and I don't want to get into that have
(1:18:11) there been any attempts attempts on your left yeah when was the last one uh well there's only one direct one and that was uh I really don't remember when that was uh I don't know maybe uh six eight months ago or something like that uh just being shot at getting on the freeway another car drive by and shoot you yeah are there any weapons on board the alien craft uh not that I know of of course the gravity generators themselves can be focused and I imagine that can be used as a weapon do they hold I don't know how many
(1:18:48) people can you fit in the car you know it's I I imagine if there's a bunch standing up you can pack them in there regarding this uh uh Element 115 yeah uh it's an extraterrestrial material yes definitely how do you suppose uh the F4 project came to acquire 500 pounds of it if it is from if it's not from this world I would imagine it came on one of the crafts oh extra fuel Maybe how close uh how close can a civilian get to the area 51 or the Immigrant Valley well I mean I mean what is security like how many guards and so
(1:19:22) forth I think closest you can get is probably about what uh 10 miles and then you get a mountain between you and and them a lot of patrols huh oh yeah thank you for the call Sir okay thank you okay right all right uh so Bob we were talking off the air and I want to touch on this you said that you traveled one time on hydrogen in your car yeah I had a a 19 uh 78 Trans Am I converted to run on hydrogen we were talking about this one night you know as a new motor transport not motor transmission but a fuel for transportation

(1:19:59) and the question that came up was is that more dangerous than gasoline or it depends how it's stored there's ways you can do it you can store it as a gas compressed in a cylinder where yeah it's dangerous and explosive and you can store it as a liquid cryogenic liquid where it's also dangerous and and explosive or you can also store it in a hydride and hydride's a chemical it absorbs hydrogen like a sponge absorbs water and when it's in that stored State it's really not flammable and you heat
(1:20:24) the chemical using the radiator water or electrically or the exhaust gas to produce the hydrogen there's only a small amount at a time ever produced and in that instance it's a lot safer than gasoline and that's the method I use I love to hear that now so in other words we could put these in automobiles getting back to something new absolutely definitely yeah yeah and and there you're looking at the only exhaust is water vapor essentially Steam and very just little oxides are you hearing this America well you know we
(1:20:50) touched on this one night now we're hearing it direct because we people are calling and saying we'd love to hear what scientists tell us this now you're telling us a scientist is telling us you know getting off the UFO just for a little bit but what is important is how we're going to get around in the near future if we lose fossil fuels and things of that nature and they're probably going to turn into something else but if we just turn the hydrogen maybe we could save a lot of money and it's even safer
(1:21:13) that's what you're saying yeah it feels the right way sure right a lot to say okay where do we get hydrogen from we get it from one of the most common places to get it from water when you pass electricity through exactly yeah from water yeah you break down uh the bond and you wind up with that so what could what could we be charged if we were to pull up to a tank and have some water I mean really well there it takes energy to separate the water back into its molecular okay all right but I mean if we were the driver of a car forgetting
(1:21:44) what what the components are inside the car if we were to drive up they would just have to put water into this particular unit you could make it that simple yeah you're doing this America that's how simple things could be uh has this been known for years in a scientific field there's been plenty of cars that have been made that run on hydrogen I mean there's in fact one state somewhere has their entire postal Fleet the little Jeeps to uh that run on hydrogen there's a company called Billings energy those
(1:22:13) are the conversions is it brings Montana by any chance you said it was one Wednesdays I had their postal things it might be I'd like to look into that that is fantastic why do you think it's not being made and then availability I mean you know you've got that problem too the problem availability what do you mean if you're gonna just use gassy as hydrogen okay what would it take uh to change our current uh Motors a motor in a car to accept this oh not very much at all it's very similar to a (1:22:47) propane conversion oh wow that sounds good to me does it sound good to you folks out there we've got to get on this somehow or other this has got to be brought to the Forefront and I hope someone we can get someone on the VIP panel to talk about this this would be a great topic to add to that uh Sunday January 7th because you heard how simple it is you have now heard it from a scientist have you heard from Mr Teller at all no not one word in other words nothing at all and the other thing you said was the anti-matter reactor we are
(1:23:19) nowhere near being able to have one no no not at all the first thing we'll come up with uh when we toy with that some more is uh and there's already been talk of it there's uh an antimatter weapon that's unfortunately that's the easiest thing to to produce so first we'll see that before right you know potential useful this mess is something else I mean he says it he like he throws a right hook and I left it quickly at them he's getting the message across and this hydrogen thing is phenomenal and we will (1:23:51) get back to Bob Lazar okay back with more of your Billy Griffith happening I was just talking to Bob Lazar off the air and Bob is a jet car driver he said that's how he relaxes doing 350 miles per hour that's just relaxation in life well that's a that's great okay let's go uh to line one and talk to you how your next one really have been happening on jveg is that mean that is you sir hi is Roger the Dodger yeah yeah hello yeah Billy and also Bob he's right here hi all right uh you said that there was (1:24:26) nine different discs are they quite different in appearance yeah they're all completely different in appearance are they then from perhaps different uh star systems uh could be yeah in other words you said the first one or the one you looked at the sport model was from reticulum right yeah that's what I read okay so that has the the gravity propulsion system right so then some of the others may have some other type of propulsion system isn't that right well I was told that the uh reactors are all

(1:24:55) similar in them and from that I just assume that the propulsion system is the same but it is it is possible that the other ones have different propulsion systems yeah yeah right you know uh the light years from Earth to reticulum is how far above what did you say uh like 32 32 34 somewhere they must get away from the earth before they amplify the gravitational systems do they match they don't they don't have to but it has to be a line of sight where they can move to in other words there wouldn't be have
(1:25:28) any effect on the earth even though they were close to it when they turned it on no no I think okay the other question I had was as far as religion goes uh in the aliens where do they fit into it they must say something about it I've heard something about that they mentioned that uh they had a bearing on a True Religion uh perhaps through colonization or uh some of them what have you heard about that I've I've read some about that uh uh you know I don't want to go into that you don't no because that's gonna upset
(1:26:03) everybody yeah okay well I thank you very much for the time thank you this is Roger the Dodger by the way Roger are you uh accepting telephone calls oh yes until 12 o'clock you bet no one o'clock oh that's right all right Roger again yeah you try to dodge it again that's Roger the Dodger folks and by the way uh if you'd like a copy of what you're hearing tonight or for that matter any other of the preceding happening you just call Roger the Dodger he's right there waiting for you at uh area code
(1:26:32) 702-564-4404 at 702-564-44 I want to know what the top speed of this craft is getting down can you say uh it's tough to say a top speed because uh to save speed you have to uh compare distance and time and when you're screwing around with time and distorting it you can really no longer judge a velocity but they do have a speed though that is there a speed that you could judge or something I'm sure we don't have but no because it really they're really not traveling in a linear mode where they just fly and cover a
(1:27:09) certain distance at a certain time so that that's the real definition of speed uh you know they're bending in distorting space and essentially snapping it back with the craft so it's the distances they can travel are just phenomenal in in little or no time so speed has has little bearing I'm curious guys lasers a part of their technology another sign see no I haven't I haven't seen anything along that line and the last thing we'll do is Rockwell involved with that um not that I've seen
(1:27:44) okay thank you very much all right thank you for the call let's go to uh our new member line and uh find out who's next unability of it happening on kveg hello yeah this is Crystal pistol how are you pistol I'm fine good I've got a question for Bob sure and I'll be calling you tomorrow okay uh I've heard you mention both a gravity or anti-gravity generator and then the anti-matter generator and I wonder this are they different are they just uh different terminology or uh yeah I it's
(1:28:21) not a gravity generator it's a gravity amplifier okay I get tongue twisted all too often uh the antimatter reactor provides the power for the craft and the basic low amplitude gravitational wave which is too low of an amplitude to do anything uh it's piped into the gravity amplifiers which are found at the bottom of the craft there it's Amplified into an extremely powerful wave and that's what the craft is uh flowing on I see but there is an anti-matter reactor that's what provides the power okay
(1:28:54) thank you sure take care pistol okay all right guys Bob Lazar is my guest and boy it's a pleasure to have Bob Lazar in studio tonight if you have uh a question for him uh feel free to give us a call let's go to line two and talk to someone uh on the happening you're next on kveg hello hello hello hi this is Roger Nelson how are you doing Billy Roger how are you I'm just fine hello Bob Lazar hello um say uh by the way I I did you know to uh tonight so I'm still in there listening don't worry about that part (1:29:28) Billy and uh the question I had for Bob last time he was on um that I talked to him I asked him about uh the hyper light uh propulsion systems he had seen he said yes uh like Roger the Dodger just pointed out the the craft have hyper light capabilities or beyond the speed of light Bob do you know anybody in our government or any people there who worked on the craft or do you know of anybody who might be from this planet from Earth who's taken those crafts and flown past the speed of light to other galaxies no I I don't and I

(1:29:59) don't know if they've been if they've been used for that uh how is it there is there anywhere to go on that I'd be very interested to see see how many of our guys on particular programs have gone to space what they're learning exactly where they are now and whether or not there's any tie-in with the alternative three uh Escape Earth plan that supposedly the government leaders are staring up now is there any place that that you know of where uh this information can be found uh I imagine if if any of that's in fact
(1:30:26) true it it would be found in the in the midst of S4 or 51 down there how to contact those guys and actually get them to talk is uh you know that that's a feat not yet attained yeah that's what I was afraid of hey what is it that I didn't hear what it is that you now are doing for a living now that they've cut you off at the knees uh I do other scientific research and produce and design repair Alpha radiation detection equipment uh well a number of uh copies of these broadcasts and uh the show on Channel 8
(1:31:03) and all the other stuff has been getting around perhaps even internationally uh has anybody bothered you since you went public uh other than the silly little things that have been done uh no nothing nothing big to be concerned about well that's good uh are we going to see you at any of these things like the January 7th conference or other symposiums in the future I don't think so no okay well look I think you're a very brave man you know with that kind of an onus on your head it takes a lot of courage to keep
(1:31:32) coming back to the airwaves and I stand up and cheer as one well thank you all right take care Billy we'll see January 7th all right Roger okay bye-bye that's Roger Nelson uh who is a radio announcer out in San Francisco he's at kbay as a matter of fact he has one headphone tuned into the happening and he does his radio show with the other headphones in fact it's true that'll drive you crazy no he has it totally under control and he has it totally under control and he's a wonderful man he's come down
(1:31:59) here before he was over the blue diamond and the other Excursion that we had in town he's going to be in town and he always has information and he's quick with his questions and I mean he's just a pro that's probably why let's take a little time out for these messages and we'll get back with more Bob Lazar and your telephone call line one you're next in the building have been happening thank you Mr Lazar yes could you comment something on your studies into Magneto result relates to the hot spots in your
(1:32:30) spots magnetic bucks and does that relate to the default theory that Soviet Union uh well I don't know exactly what the Soviet Union is playing with right um okay go ahead uh I look at it from a uh a power point of view exactly as providing a on a large scale producing uh uh plasma generated energy in like a power plant situation or producing something that would retrofit like a coal-fired plant that has a lot of waste heat and you know high energy plasma but uh the question is uh are you experimenting using the Earth's blood no
(1:33:09) no okay there's a standalone high energy magnets that I that I usually I know there's a lot of studies well what changes in your especially with Grinch okay uh I've got zero breaking one other question just off the wall uh can you roughly give us a atomic weight of one uh yes I want out this 115.
(1:33:32) the atomic weight I know you have to guess compared to petunia I hate even to guess I know it would be a big long shot uh I I hate to guess I I know it because I've written it down because we've we've calculated it yeah I really I really don't think it was a ball part no because I'd be wrong just like if I gave a ballpark on the gravitational wave frequency and it's really bugging the hell out of me because I just think there's a lot of me too I can't even think if I could get that frequency in (1:34:03) fact what I'll do is I'll there were three things as a matter of fact that for some reason I developed a mental block on I'll have to call uh Billy and anything this afternoon but I didn't think I'd get through today sure that's that's no problem I'll just call him and he can he can relay it to everyone be my pleasure all right thank you Billy thank you thank you okay uh I want to remind you folks when he says that Billy and all that for all of you out there listening look at it happening on kveg
(1:34:28) hello sir hello yes you are the new member lion uh I'm a local caller yeah

first time well welcome in I'd like to for Bob yes sir let's all stand up and cheer come on let's all stand up and cheer for Bob Lazar let's all do it that's right come on it's all stand up and shots right [Applause] I was checking that myself Amanda right right it did take a lot of courage and uh it's about time somebody stepped forward with some information that's being kept from us for so long here here
(1:35:03) uh one question uh five yeah uh how long do you think it took then to make their Journey here uh using their method of propulsion an extremely short time oh is that right yeah you know I I'd hesitate to say again but uh I don't even think you're looking at days is that right yeah well is that because of this gravity uh lines of force thing or uh because uh time uh stands still for them and it really does take a long time but they don't know it because time stands still no well they're actually
(1:35:47) traveling almost in between time because of the way they distort time and space so that they're traveling vast distances Without Really the incrementation of time I see so it's uh you know the time would be very very little I as Brett days is probably I'm way off saying that too but there again I I hate to say something and uh you know be really far off I had so many questions uh but most of them have been answered tonight by other callers well that's uh one more uh if I could sure do you think that these
(1:36:20) aliens uh could be robots of some kind uh and they're not actually the native beings from that Galaxy uh I imagine it's possible I mean who knows what actually flew the craft yeah whether or not aliens have ever been down in that in uh area S4 down there but uh it's possible that some automated you know creature hello who knows good question thanks for your call okay all right keep coming back Bob sure keep coming back we haven't heard that before but and I guess it kind of fits in when you were inside the uh the spacecraft
(1:36:57) itself you didn't see any sleeping quarters right so perhaps I just start in the morning and here in the afternoon and it's that simple as far as our time goes if it even takes that long it takes that long all right where we going line one okay we go back and forth line one we go on line three down there sometime oh that person must be hanging out for a long time that poor person oh you're next to the building happening on JVG hello hello hello yes oh I just saw it I didn't I don't know why that happened either I guess
(1:37:28) you just got lucky go ahead okay uh Mr Lazar yeah I have a question about you instead of uh my name is Barbara so I've asked you about aliens I'll leave that alone um I want to know about Elaine Keck your hypnotherapist yeah um now when he talked on the air about you did you request that did he talk about me uh no George Knapp requested that and then lame called me to find out if we'd be okay and I said yeah go ahead I called the office and that's what I was told and it didn't seem quite that I
(1:38:06) requested Lane yeah to go on no that's not that's what the person in the office said and how was your how was your experience there with him can you talk about how you felt about your experience uh as far as what how I got along with Lane no as far as how you felt comfortable with with um going back to to some unpleasant experiences uh well you know there again the emotions came up when uh you're under hypnosis and you know that that part wasn't exactly Pleasant how do you feel about it today
(1:38:38) uh I mean I feel better at the at the time it wasn't very pleasant but uh in general just being under hypnosis is a really good feeling you have um the video tape of that uh yeah well so it's in your possession all right because I'm going to be doing that and I because I was with him and so I just wanted to to for my own personal information I want to do that because um I have I have good aliens bad aliens um you know it runs in my family and um there's a an extreme reason why why I'm going to (1:39:20) be doing it so I wanted to clarify that and try to make myself feel comfortable although I can do it on my own I won't go deeper than a certain point all right thank you for your call and please get that line cleared up please get that line clear whoa I thought what was that noise the aliens bothering her okay hello line three you're next on KV EG hello yeah I'd like to ask all the questions cheers right there go for it is there any limit on the distance that uh space ship control I mean did it actually
(1:39:52) travel like out of our galaxy [Music] 223 grams of the elements I really don't know uh from what I understand uh the actual consumption of the element is very low so yeah I imagine it is possible uh with enough jumps made you know to travel to another galaxy so basically they travel out is there is there any big difference between the I assume the gravity wave is more powerful than the gamma rays correct it's in the gamma waves or as the special ways they can chat with the limit on light waves was it 10 billion light years or (1:40:31) something how far light can travel no there's really not a well a limit as far as what it depends on the interaction if the gravitational fields that they're being passive through you know the photons pass through and and so on and so forth so there's no no real limit in true Dead Space yeah that's true okay thanks it's basically answered my question uh thanks for your telephone call

Transcript:
(00:01) foreign hi everyone I'm Carrie Cassidy from Project Camelot and very happy to be here this afternoon this is John lear's birthday and we are very very pleased to have him with us today and uh it's really great to have him online so he is on a phone uh he's you're not going to be able to see him uh but he is here with us and John say hello to everyone hello everyone I'm 76 today and had I known I was going to live this long I
(01:06) would have taken much much better care of myself okay fair enough now uh you have been really instrumental in this whole UFO story and folding it helped to helping to reveal the truth behind the scenes in so many ways and we are all so grateful to you for for being with us all this time and for sharing your knowledge and doing your investigations and all of that and sharing it with Project Camelot of course all those years ago and we have some wonderful interviews with you um even coming up to the very recent (01:44) future here or past and um including tonight and so today is your birthday uh you say Bob Lazar may be in town he may show up at your birthday but it might be a surprise you don't know um so we saw Bob Lazar uh in Los Angeles for the premiere of a documentary and it is made by uh Jeremy Corbell and Bob Lazar was there in person with George Knapp who I assume might be at your birthday as well and so I just just want to say uh happy birthday John for me and a lot of love from everybody and I know people are in (02:29) the chat right now we have a live show and I'm hoping the audio is going over well and and people will know that it is uh it is your birthday so it's a very special time to be able to actually contact you before the festivities I guess really begin at your end and you're too busy to talk to us so this is uh this is kind of a historic moment because there was a huge crowd that did come down to watch the movie last night and support Bob Lazar and uh they gave him a standing ovation uh actually a couple times and he is uh
(03:07) considered really a hero for having revealed the truth he was at Liberty to disclose to some degree and we know there's a lot of Secrets still being held back now uh what we want to do is we want to really talk to you about first of all back in the day Project Camelot you shared what Bob told you when he was going through his employee you know at S4 at what some people call Groom Lake Area 51 and you had many experiences with him and uh sounds like he was kind of stopping by your house quite often Etc so and you've also given (03:47) me some very interesting drawings he made uh during that time and so why don't you let's go back in time and talk about what really went on during those days uh when Bob Lazar was working for S4 and uh and what happened the day that he came you can tell the story again if you don't mind about how he he actually saw an alien um he would come to my house always right after he got back from S4 and uh tell me as much as he can and the first time uh he came uh the first time he was up at uh Groom Lake and S4 and he's he (04:34) said uh he was sitting in front of my desk and I was just doing my regular desk work and and he said I saw this today I said what he said I saw this today and I said theirs are ours he said Bears I said you went to groom Lake we said yeah I said well then what are you doing here obviously they called you Bob why don't you work up there for a couple of months find out what's going on and then tell us you know they're they're gonna um they know that you they followed you up here and they're gonna put those back to

true I saw it I touched it I was in it and it's all true and uh so he said I'm willing to go that far and unbeknownst to Bob and us the whole thing was a setup by MJ one um Mike McClellan uh they had picked they wanted to get the information out but they wanted a way to be able to backpedal to get out of it in case it turns out they wanted to find out how (05:49) the public would react to this uh information so what they did is they picked final Lazar who was extremely intelligent had degrees all over the place on the main MIT went from Caltech and I know I know I can't support it but in fact I saw those uh degrees and they disappeared from my house but anyway they picked him because he extremely intelligent and he also did a lot of other things uh that would make him easy to discredit for instance uh at one point in his career he ran a cat house up in Reno uh called the honeysuckle Ranch and uh he
(07:14) uh he'd come to my house and and tell me the different things that going on now in January or February of 1989 uh I remember it was very cold and he came in sat down and he was obviously excited he had something to tell me now we knew that everything was being recorded we knew that they had some uh recording device in the house we knew all the phones were tapped and he didn't want to really say what he had to tell me in my Den so he gave me the high side and we went out my Den door we walked along the (07:56) side of the pool out to the back where the Stables are and there's this big giant wood gate and uh merrily happened to be back there uh coming out of the guest house and she's always suspicious of what we're doing he says where you guys going so we said oh we're just going out to the Stables we'll be right back so um we want to this big wooden gate doors and hold on just like an alley um want to let wooden gate and I closed it and he just in the corner he backed into it he said hey looked at me I said
(08:44) what what and he said John you'll never know what it's like to see your first alien I think you saw when yep I said are you sure it could have been a towel could it no no it was a great and then he told me the story about how he's been escorted down this hallway with a guard on each side and they were walking by a door uh which had a window in it that had some wires running through it and he could see through this window uh a gray with uh facing away from him and facing uh two lab coated white lab coated scientists focusing (09:28) towards Bob and uh it was that that is what he saw uh now ever since he told me that he's denied it and that's okay because I understand it first of all it's tough enough to be able to tell the world that you worked on extraterrestrial craft and have been believed that but they're telling me it's not a live alien no it's not going to work people are not going to believe it and they're obviously going to be your grade so I understand that but uh you know I'll tell you the story I just (10:06) told you the story is exactly what happened exactly how he saw the alien and that wasn't the only time you know that there was an experiment when he was being briefed on the level of security there was an alien behind a sheeted uh wall that was monitoring what was going on and there's several instances uh when he had that or saw a or known with the presence of a gray the third time was when he was reading the briefings he made to give move about 150 different briefings uh on a cable and he was allowed to go through (10:48) these breezings for you know about an hour or half hour 45 minutes and uh when George Knapp uh arranged for the lie detector test with uh tavernetti um uh Gene Huff was with Bob and they go to whatever hotel or wherever they were going to do the recording him there was a few minutes when uh nobody had showed up and they were just sitting there waiting and uh all of a sudden Gene who we call goofan uh looked at Bob and Bob did turned completely white and it looked like he was going to pass out and he said what hey what's mad about and (11:35) Bob said uh I just had a total uh recall of reading those uh briefings and there was a gray sitting across from me and he said it was really it's really something I almost passed out but that was and remembering the third time he had seen an alien but wow that's incredible you know uh there is also a part in our interview where you actually say that one that after that sometime after that uh Bob

came by and said he'd actually gone on uh I I don't I forget the name of the the plane but he just he (12:18) went for the whole day came back and his mind had been wiped he he said and he basically said he wanted to quit because of it do you remember that yeah that was the the day after the third time we were all caught up at the test site and uh told to get out of there the next morning Bob got a call from uh um what was the guy's name uh do you remember it uh no I don't but a guy that yeah that was sort of in charge again his class called him and said Bob don't go to the airport today I'm gonna pick you up and uh we're gonna drive uh
(12:59) we're gonna go somewhere so uh the guy came by uh picked up Bob and this was his Superior and I if I remember correctly I think they took Bob's quarterback but uh I'm not sure which car they went in but they drove up to Indian Springs uh auxiliary air force base which is now Creech Air Force Base and uh that's a Air Force Base it's about oh about 30 minutes north west of Las Vegas and they use all that's where they now they used all the uh drones were all based out of there that it's the central headquarters for (13:44) all of the security for the Nevada side now called the Nevada security something anyway uh they drive in there and uh they stop in front of the the building where the security headquarters was and uh somebody came out and opened Bob's door and put a gun up to his head and said Bob you need to come this way and they took him in into this building and uh there was a couple people there they sat him down in front of his desk and they said now Bob when we gave you this security clearance it didn't mean you were supposed to take (14:34) all of your friends up to the test side and show them the flying doctors now do you want to work here or not and uh he was not committal he didn't say yes you know they started her asking him and they had brought the guards that had caught us or not caught us but stopped us up at the uh up at that uh dirt road that leads into Groom Lake and uh there was uh when they got to the car Bob had already gone out to hide in the desert and uh so they said what are you people doing here and I said that you know what well
(15:18) we thought we had interrupted some kind of drug transaction they said no no no no drug Trend testing uh we need to know what you guys were doing here and said oh just looking at the stars and they said well then why were you trying to get away from us and of course we didn't have an answer to that but he said we need to see a driver's license and uh get some information from you so over the next half hour they uh there will see there was me and Gene huh and Bob's wife Tracy and her sister and uh and so we gave him social
(15:58) security number driver's license and it went on for about a half an hour and um uh they said okay now what we want you to do is you have every right to be on this land is BLM land has not restricted but if you do I can guarantee you we're going to make it very very uncomfortable for you so you need to be on your way so they can in their car and they turn around leave I think there were two cars there and go down the road it was very very dark there I mean it was just there weren't any lights except the vehicle
(16:39) lights and and uh we couldn't see exactly what they were doing but anyway about two minutes later Bob comes out of the desert and he had had his nine millimeter uh handgun with him and and uh he regaled us with his story he says I had him right in my sights and he said boy if that ever made one move towards me he said I would have pulled the trigger and all this and of course unbeknownst to us the security guys had just gone down maybe a hundred yards uh away down this road and they had they were filming us uh and they had a
(17:22) parabolic microphone and recording everything that we said laughs so anyway uh we talked for about 15 minutes and then we uh got back in the car and uh and uh it was only another mile or two to the uh 375 and uh and the highway and so we drove down there and just as we got to the the paved Road uh the sirens start and red lights and the Highway Patrol have been waiting for us and uh they pulled us over and uh usual you know the usual stuff out of the car get your hands up everybody face the car put your hands on top of the on (18:19) top of the Rope so we all did that and it's and uh the guy's name was I thought I'd never forget it he was a he was the head and I'm not sure whether a Lincoln County Sheriff and uh so he was the one that always called out there whenever they had problems so we kind of knew the guy anyway and and uh so he uh is in contact with the security at Groom Lake and of course we can't hear that conversation but uh he says okay now look at he says I want to know two things he said I want to know why there are

(19:06) five people in this car now and there was only four when security stopped you a half an hour ago on the road and he said the second thing I want to know is where the 45 is and uh we put the 45 in the in the uh in the trunk so we hammed in odd and nobody gave an answer of this or that and uh and um pretty soon uh it was either just before we made that statement or after but he said uh okay I'm not gonna see I'm gonna need to see everybody's driver's license and like a complete idiot and Bob has never forgiven me for this (19:56) I said mine's in the trunk anyway we did not open the trunk we just hemmed and hot and and uh this guy I don't remember his name was I kept saying you know all I have to do is get uh a court order and I can get this vehicle towed and we can find this 45 and put you all in jail and all this went on for like about an hour and he was always talking to the security people and we don't know what he was saying but we ended hard and nobody gave anything no no information at all so after about I think it was pretty close to him he (20:50) says um okay now here's the deal he said I don't know why I'm being told this but they're telling me to let you go and tell you never to come back here again so you need to get in the car and leave right now which we did and everybody got in the car and uh we I remember that long drive home where we discussed what Bob was going to use for an excuse to having been out there and so the next day when Dennis Mariana uh picked him up and took him up to uh uh Indian Springs uh and they started debriefing him and saying you know Bob (21:38) when we gave you this clearance it didn't mean that you're supposed to tell take all of your friends up there and show them the blindfolders and they had two of the guys that had stopped us and apparently they didn't know anything about this box Rogers because Bob said they had a shocked look on their face when the guy said flying silencers so that's that's like awesome so okay so you're saying though that that sort of the crunch came after during that time and after it when Bob basically took (22:14) that flight uh one day and then he came back let me finish now so um they said then they said um you know there's a problem Bob and uh and uh We've discovered that uh your wife is having an affair with her flight instructor and you can't work with us until you get that sorted out because we don't want anybody with uh the emotional kinds of problems uh that can happen with these kind of things so you're going to have to get that sorted out um before you come back to work so then um Bob leaves and Mariana drives him back and I talked
(23:04) to Bob either that day or the next day and I asked him you know if uh he was going to go back if he got his problem sword down he said no and I said why not he said because the last two flights that I made in the 737 up to groom Lake he said I could remember climbing up the steps to board the airplane in the morning and I could remember coming back down those steps in the evening but I couldn't remember anything I did and they have a way of of controlling your mind so that you remember you can't remember what you did
(23:46) now they used to be able to do this many years prior to that now I I personally have known people that have uh worked up there and told them but many years prize like 20 30 years prior they could do the same thing but the problem was people could remember uh that they had done something and it bothered them and they had problems trying to remember what they did whereas in this case Bob said you know it didn't bother him at all I just remembered uh that uh uh that he had done something but it didn't create a (24:24) problem other than the fact that he didn't want to work like that so that's when he told me that uh he would not have gone back had they offered it okay now do you think you know because I told you you haven't seen this film yet that came out uh you know the Jeremy corbyn one right right okay but some people have reported various things to you uh and I called you because I wanted to to warn you that in the film it appears that Bob Lazard no longer remembers that he saw a real alien he never did remember uh from the first
(25:02) date you know the next day or the next week whenever it was whatever people would ask in that story he said he would say no no no I you know they should there was a window and I looked through it but it was obviously a doll and they were just they were just doing some kind of mind game and John has made this all up I told him the story and John said that was an alien you found alien and uh John's just making that step up and that's been his story all along but I can understand that and I can understand (25:37) why he said that but tonight the story I just told you a few minutes ago is exactly the way it happened right okay and then you've also elaborated there's actually seen more than one now uh I'm very curious there's two questions that never got off during the uh interviews with him and I think it's quite astonishing one is whether he ever rode in the craft because he was supposed to be working on it so much number one and number two is uh whether or not some of that missing time whether he he felt that he'd ever been you know (26:12) abducted uh messed with uh you know and and had those memories wiped wouldn't that be a normal thing to wonder you know um I don't believe you ever ran the craft uh as possibly did but I don't think they did that I think only the guy that was flying it was the guy that was allowed to to uh ride in the craft I don't think they would risk having his I don't think they would risk having us tonight is uh going The Craft as far as being abducted are you talking about his prior life no I mean the prior

(26:53) life is a perfect you know it's perfectly fair game for abduction as you know and you must know something about the grace at this point to this degree that we know that the abductions are are still going on they're rampant and they've been rampant for all those years uh but the question is you know as a scientist uh having his mind wiped it's very logical that maybe he was even chosen because he he was having interactions with Grace and maybe he didn't know it okay so what's the question
(27:25) the question is whether or not uh you ever talk to him as a friend about whether he'd been abducted I I may have but I don't ever remember talking about talking to him about whether he'd been abducted in those days uh I think I was still under the impression that there was only a few people that they have done that I think it was like we we thought that it was one in ten but since then you know I've found out that they object everybody everybody and everybody has abducted at least uh five or ten
(28:07) nine during their lifetime and that's just the way it goes but so I'm sure that uh he would have been affected but I never talked to him about it because in those days I thought I was like one in ten that they abducted okay well uh you know Bob's wife right buddy you know Bob's wife I don't know her name but he's crazy yeah she's in the in the film a few times and uh have you ever talked to her about whether you know I have you guys sat around and talked about abduction since then you
(28:45) know you've been friends with him now for I don't know over 60 years probably or maybe more uh no I never talked to her about it um we weren't that close and you know when I when all this was going on um for some reason she wasn't around very much the only uh action I had with her was when Bob first was trying to he didn't know exactly where S4 was we thought it was to the north and uh she and I I rented an airplane and we flew up north of Groom Lake and we were looking along the ridge the Western Ridge a Bald Mountain
(29:34) for this facility but uh but we didn't see anything and it was only like a week or two later that we found out it was to the South uh along Papoose lake with this uh this facility was all right so you think he was selected for the program in general you mean you think that the military had in mind to actually uh let him kind of be a whistleblower at a certain point that was his idea uh they wanted to get the information out but they also wanted to be able to get themselves out of a fit if the public reacted uh if (30:31) the public reaction was something that they uh they didn't like so the way we could do that is get somebody who is extremely uh qualified for that position but be able to discredit him instantly in case things turn sour so yes it was it was all planned from the beginning and they knew that bibles are would instantly tell me what was going on and they knew that I would Vlad the whole story and that was that was the uh the way they had it planned that's the way it worked out right okay now why tell me something why
(31:15) were you not interviewed for this film which film this new documentary with James uh that uh Jeremy corbel Bell has has put out I don't know you know Jeremy a lot of the stuff that's in that movie came out of my Den Jeremy interviewed meaver two or three years for the uh the movie he was gonna make on me and and he had access to my videotapes my stories about Bob and my memorabilia drawings and stuff so I've seen the trailer and I've seen my stuff in there uh and nobody's asked me permission and (31:56) after all we're referring getting information out so I can't say too much about it I can't object to it because he did get the information out so okay so um as to why they didn't put me in I'm not the subject Bob was affecting all right uh so let me ask you this because you know last night Bob Lazar was on stage with

Jeremy that the director as well as George Knapp and uh someone asked him you know what he was referring to when he said he saw the the alien cadavers apparently he saw pictures of an alien cadaver and that (32:38) was part of the briefing report they clarified that piece of information but what they didn't do is talk about his having seen an alien and obviously if if you're saying Corbell had access to your information he decided not to use your side of that story uh about Bob having seen an alien correct um you know I don't remember discussing that I must have over the two years three years he was up here I'm sure I told him that story a million times uh but I don't know why they used it I I do know that they did not use it it uh
(33:17) uh Corbell was looking for some kind of new information because everybody wanted you know those of us that have known Bob for 30 years wanted to know wanted us to be those are tape too you know we was going to divulge more stuff but Bob's told just about I mean everything that ever happened to him let me ask you something because in the film he has this thing that supposedly was relatively new at least to many the in the audience even Old-Timers uh having to do with using his hand to access uh the doors to get inside the (33:58) facility and so on uh and that it was some kind of um I don't know if you call it biometric or what it is but he he showed a picture apparently Jeremy had found a picture of this machine they used back in those days that matched Bob's description of how you had to put your hand up and it had to fit and it read something about your hand do you remember that story yeah it measured two bones in your hand when you put your hand on this machine there's two bones inside your hand that are different for every single human (34:33) being and that's how they can identify you other than you know the eyeball recognition and facial recognition and all that this was just another way to be sure uh that you were who you were supposed to be and it had to do with these two bones in your hand all right so you you had have you seen a picture of the device uh or did Jeremy show you the photo we found or had Bob oh really okay that's interesting all right so now there you sent me some uh drawings that Bob made one of them is obviously of the alien uh with the two
(35:15) guys standing over him as seen through that little window which is that he did describe that scene he just later didn't say that little being was a gray he originally said it was a gray but then uh he he apparently now is saying it might have been a doll is that correct yeah those were you know when he first told me the story uh it pulled it out in the backyard and then when we came inside um he we had I had a piece of paper there and asked him different questions and you can see on the piece of paper that he has up on the top right hand
(35:51) side or the left-hand side is the dimensions of the hangers which was 36 feet and uh each one was about 40 feet in dimension and uh at the bottom there's a drawing of how the heel Pro fit in the hanger and up to the uh right hand side of the top is the growing of the test site and how where uh Area 51 was and where Papoose Lake was and on the other side of that piece of paper is the drawing of um the Aurora which he saw several times uh at Groom Lake when he got out of the uh 737 and he said it was part uh a little ways away and he could only
(36:44) see it from the back so the drawing that I posted many times on the web is the The View that what he saw from the back and it was a gigantic um two squares for the exhaust for the whatever engine it was um you said you could easily put a full-size automobile in it or more or bigger than that and uh he's described it as a as a shape of a X-15 but much much larger okay is that one of ours is that one of ours all right yeah did we design it was it designed by locate or whatever yeah that was the one that that page and I had (37:32) never made but they made seven of them two of them crashed one of them crashed to follow the mountain on takeoff uh just north of group but you talked to people associated with programming they completely denied and said oh no no that was what they called that was the name for the B1 when they were for the B2 when they were initially designing and but that's all Bs I mean there was there's many more or not many but there's a lot more aircraft you know some people think that Lockheed Skunk Works is the only one to have made (38:10) secret airplane but there's at least uh three other okay manufacturers that make secret airplanes that that we have no idea uh and I do I haven't seen I've heard about other airplanes but uh and just recently there's one that uh crows 70 cents Crow 777 has uh posted the videos uh of and it has three engines uh and it's at least adding out to do a two or three hundred thousand feet and I think it's an amazing video nobody talks about it but but you know we do have those craft and uh very cool and they they are there so (38:55) uh Rocky isn't the only one absolutely well now uh I wanted to ask you uh did Bob Lazar ever uh meet um Ben rich I never heard of a meeting hey Rich okay now if you know my story of have you been reading my Facebook pages when I can but sometimes you're doing a lot I might have missed something okay well about six months ago I wrote a story of the f-117a the history of the f-117a and how was run uh Air Force systems command Brigade uh Lieutenant General Bobby bonds ran the program and uh when Ben Rich's book came out (39:51) called the skunk words he let out a few hints that led me to the story of the f-19 the f-19 they made 64 of them it went down the assembly line uh next to the f-117a but was hidden by a large metal curtain and nobody from one program was allowed to work on the other program and those f-19s were a Batwing uh stealth fighter more advanced than the f-17a they made 64 of them and I believe that most of them went to Israel and it turns out that Ben Rich was the highest ranking massage spy West of Mississippi and he had access to just about every (40:42) secret we had not only at uh within the aircraft business but uh other to other businesses do and what's interesting um Terry is that two weeks ago I went to Daryl greenemeyer's celebration of life in Indio and of course Joe Greene when I was the fifth guy to fly the black bird and he and I then friends for 40 years well I was sitting at a banquet table with merrily at the door of the banquet and before everybody had come in and and two guys came in and uh uh one was Adam Robbins who was he helped me and uh Daryl put on the (41:32) Mojave California 1000 in 1970. the other person I won't name but he came over I'd known him for 40 years he shook my hand and he said John there's a few of us that thank you for writing about our secrets and they that told me that what I put was true that essentially uh Israel has taken over not only our country but Lockheed in total and they had one of the highest ranking was not spies head of the Skunk Works and of course the guys that worked there and they're not they they're Bound by their security clearances and even (42:17) though they don't work there anymore and they retired they can't say anything about it and so when he said we want to thank you for publishing our secrets it gave me a hike that lasted for about a week very good okay now there's a story that you started to tell uh actually before we got live on the phone and uh you were talking about a promise that Bob made that's he said he was something about he was going to kill himself and how he had to reneg on that promise can you tell that story yeah that's when I started talking about

(42:53) the moon and uh these the buildings up there and I was becoming aware of stuff that was going on on the moon and and the humans that lived up there and as a matter of fact I just saw a post that Stephen Bassett made I don't know who passed it is but he said you could take it to the banks it lears wrong during 250 000 people that live on the moon and he's right I was wrong there's two billion people live up there and all they had to do is look at Bruce Schwartz's videos so I don't know what (43:28) Stephen Bassett is using for information or whatever he's got is wrong but anyway I was on to this uh about the time I met Bob and I was showing some of the pictures that uh showed the stuff so uh when we when I walked out this particular day of his house uh he said you know John he said if any of this stuff turns out to be true about this Moon stuff that you're talking about it I'm going to have to kill myself because of course Bob can't stand and I know anything but he doesn't so uh I said well wait just a minute and (44:07) I had a little piece of paper and I put on it I have it here I have the original piece of paper he says uh hi Bob Lazar promised to kill myself if we need a drones Moon stuff is true so in bibles are August 23rd uh 1996. so of course a couple years goes by and I started ordering photos from uh the NASA contractor and by some colossal of course there is no such thing as a cause coincidence so I'll just say somebody sent me I ordered one of the Copernicus pictures that's taken it at oblique angle and I think it's lunar orbiter 2
(44:53) 163 or 162 but anyway when it came it came as a 15 by 20 negative and this is just absolutely unbelievable that somebody would be sent something that they'd usually get you know an air pressure that's it was an eight by ten positive but anyway it was so large that in those days uh Las Vegas didn't have the capability of printing a 15 by 20 negative so I had to wait a couple years before the technology got to where I could get a print so when I finally did I had a 15 by 20 print of this Copernicus picture and it showed you (45:37) know oh communist stuff it showed uh buildings and it showed um uh Vapor coming up from these uh huge cylindrical tanks and uh all kinds of things on it but anyway I took it over to Bob and showed him and showed him the one building uh that we call the parking garage and uh because it was it had to be several hundred feet tall and had a ramp on the side so he says well yeah there's no doubt about it that that is that is something that couldn't be there and I said okay now Bob you know we've been friends a long time and I don't (46:18) want to presume on our friendship but you do promise to kill yourself if any of my mood stuff was true and he says well how can I get out of it and I said well let me know I'm hungry and then use science so I'm reading from here it says hey August uh August 3rd 1998 hypothes are in return for not having to honor my commitment to kill myself if any of jobs move stuff was true do freely admit that the object on the crater Copernicus on the moon saved as apple crate is a box which I don't know what is doing there

(47:11) some problems are now we saved his apple crate because even though the building Bob is not going to put buildings but apple crate and so I had those two pieces of paper and I posted on the web and and uh you know I try to get him to sign stuff sometimes when when he doesn't believe me and then it turns out I'm true but as far as he um as far as the uh alien thing I visit him in in 2003 I had delivered uh blockade out 1011 tries to start to Roswell and Bob had invited me to Albuquerque to see him and I took a bus from Roswell to (47:57) Albuquerque and he picked me up at the bus station and I stayed with him for a couple days but during those couple of days we'd go out in the garage and do whatever we did Bob was working on different stuff and that's when he gave me the uh half scale version of the antimatter reactor which is now uh is my in my Den in a glass case and it's probably the greatest thing ever gave me but anyway on one of these uh days we're talking and I said now Bob you know you're always denying this uh this uh story about the alien he told me (48:38) and uh [Music] he said you know I do remember I remember it and I remember telling you that so I got a piece of paper and I wrote down John I remember bibles are August 14 2003 but I couldn't find it but at least I got the piece of paper and I get reminded you know reminds me that that uh he did it and I don't need a good mood I know what he said uh and I don't blame him for not admitting it because people would just think he's stupid here's uh well yeah this is a different time now you know and everyone uh I mean like I
(49:25) said he got standing ovations uh last night and for showing up and and he didn't stay very long or answer many questions in fact they wouldn't even let the audience talk to him uh they insisted people someone was able to send Twitter questions apparently but they really had him kind of on lockdown uh now how do you know I mean do you have any idea how he was convinced after all these years of saying he wouldn't do such a thing that he was uh convinced to actually participate in a documentary you know I don't know
(50:03) um said Jeremy has a way of ingratiating himself to people I know he did to me and and uh I don't think Bob said very much uh different than what he's been saying now right but uh it's certainly a good uh a good thing for people who did not know that much about bibles are uh it would be great for them this video but for the people who had known about Bob for the last 30 years they wanted more information you know come on tell us the rest of the story you know and there was no more rest of the story he's told everything there was (50:49) and I think uh in somebody told me that uh Jeremy alludes to secret information about 115 but there is no more secret information about 115 uh he the the one thing that they don't say that I know is Bob was the one that figured out which element 115. okay now doctor and that was just a contribution to a sport right and you did say that earlier today so uh now there there is a question about the end of the film uh they they make it sound as though Bob is going to tell some big secret and then they should and then nothing happens and then
(51:35) he gets his house broken into and they make a big thing about the FBI searching the house for this element 115 saying that oh maybe he secreted away a piece of it after all these years suddenly they're going to search his house which sounds kind of ludicrous but it's all [__] that make Terry that's all [__] that the FBI was there whoever it was uh they were interested in the stuff that he supposedly stored there and uh it was actually uh the DEA that gave him the stuff to store and uh when the FBI found that stuff and I (52:15) forget what chemical it was they said what do you think DEA would think if we told them it was there and he said why don't you ask them they're the ones that put it there okay that's [Music] it all right well you know what he also says all kinds of agency people were there searching his house but you know it's really interesting to me he never once mentions the CIA which makes me think that the CIA are the ones that put this guy Jeremy Corbell up to this uh hole making this documentary and that he (52:52) and nap and all these guys got together and decided he was an airtight disclosure witness that suddenly Bob lazar's story could be told to the public and so now they're trotting him out and he's he's basically going along with it because why shouldn't he he wants to be Vindicated after all these years right okay so what's what's your statement well my statement is simply that it's very interesting when he started naming agencies the supposedly were surveilling him or you know looking at stuff in his

(53:26) house he never once mentioned the CIA so that's that's to me that's a big oversight uh that had nothing to do with 115 or any of his work all right I think they want to I think they wanna from Jeremy or whoever wants to say that there's some big secret in they're gonna find it out and it's not true all right well what well you know you've heard about the idea of people in our business so to speak having a get out of jail free card right and and putting something hidden hiding something I mean I'm sure Gary McKinnon
(54:05) did it uh you know you could name everybody that you or I know who might know anything about this sector wouldn't there be a good reason for Bob to to have what you call a get out of jail free card is that what they're looking for well I don't think he has one but uh right you know I don't know uh well let me ask you something do you have one no no but uh the only guy I knew that really had to get out of jail free card was a guy named Farhad azima and he was an Iranian that ran one of the airlines
(54:47) that worked for Global um International and uh we did all kinds of stuff that uh that uh he had to have had a get out of jail free card and uh one thing he did is he uh was a veteran Gambler and he used to gamble to Dunes and uh when I first applied for a job at Global Airlines the chief pilot took it immediately disliking debate and uh he said no I we don't need you and I was fully clawed thought I had Boeing 707 down command time out to the zoo and he just didn't like me and I wasn't going to get a job there so I had a friend
(55:34) that worked in operations there and he called me one day and he said you know fireheart's out there in Vegas is a Dunes and I said oh cool so I happen to know the casino manager at the dunes and I went out there and uh I forget his name he said what's going on John I said you know I'm trying to get a job Global and I just can't get by the cheap pilot I wonder if he could help me he says absolutely give me 10 minutes so he disappears out of the office comes back 10 minutes later says come on I want you (56:10) to meet Farhad so we go out into the craft table and our Hut sitting there and he reaches out to shake my hand he says John it's a pleasure to meet you and uh it's nice to have you as an employee of Global International Airlines and um ground school starts next Monday so I was absolutely shocked and I talked to him for a few minutes and then walked back into the casino manager's office and I said how in the heck did you do that and he said well farados is four million dollars and we gave him 2 million off if (56:52) he'd hire you wow I said well thanks I appreciate that that's incredible well why were they so motivated to have you work for Global pardon why were they so motivated to have you work for Global I don't know the guy who you said got you the job like oh no he was just Frank he was just friends and they knew they weren't going to get the 4 million out of our hunt so the best they could do was get me a job all right fair enough now I believe God I want to ask you something else uh and I have a I have a chat room along with (57:33) the show and I know you've got a party that's going to be starting soon so we don't want to keep you too long uh but you guys had uh you remember the shootings in Vegas right you were there at the time the way the shootings you know the shootings you had the casino well uh we think there was a lot more going on than meets the eye and in that whole situation and uh false Flags Etc but also a lot of money changing hands and um I I don't think I've ever gotten a chance to ask you do you know anything (58:06) about that story I can't go into it now because Terry because you're just not enough time but Stephen Panic was a he worked for the FDI he worked directly for Aaron Rouge who's a special agent in charge they gave him the money to buy those 73 guns that they were going to trade to the Isis and uh all it was was a cover-up uh to try and and not get everybody to know that the FBI was dealing with trading trading governments with the Isis and uh Stephen Patty did not die he did not shoot anybody uh the the body camera but (58:51) they say the guy forgot to turn on when they originally breached the room that shows three women in there and uh and Patty was still alive uh I don't know who they put there who they killed but it wasn't Stephen Panic you you know that uh uh when the Clark County coroner uh did the autopsy the body that they autopsied was three inches shorter than Stephen Fanning now how more Dominic could you get of a cover-up than than that and you know someday we'll go into it but I got my party now all right

(59:29) gotta forget going all right well it's it's really been a joy to have you honest always uh John and we really thank you for coming on the show today on your special day uh everyone does wish you a happy birthday okay uh do you have to go right away now because I want to be fair to you I know you've got a party starting uh but I'm gonna also say that there could be some people with questions I haven't thought of uh that might want to ask you something or they could maybe write you know correspond
(59:59) with you on Facebook whatever you like yeah just damn course by me on Facebook and I really would stay Gary but my family all right we gotta get ready for people here in the United States all right happy birthday John stay with us stay healthy okay and thank you so much for being with us okay thank you Gary it's always a pleasure to to work with you thank you take care okay bye-bye so uh well that's uh that's John Lear on his birthday as uh honoree and as brilliant and on it and with it as always and there's quite a few little
(1:00:44) clues in there for people who attended the screening the premiere last night I was there I saw Jimmy Church there Melinda Leslie was there um Lorien Benton and uh didn't see too many others that we know at all around and about but a few others I guess were there maybe people I didn't see and uh it was an interesting crowd and there were some interesting uh energies going on in that building which is in downtown L.
(1:01:17) A let me say that so uh anyway thanks for listening today and uh it's a very special day I'm sure you wish John Lear happy birthday and and be sure to go to his his Facebook page if you're able to if you're on Facebook and wish him happy birthday um I hope that Bob Lazar will will visit him tonight at his birthday and for his birthday um you know I I did go to his birthday party last year but uh John wanted me to film it which I did I made a film for John it was exclusively for his his you know memories and uh but apparently the
(1:01:52) guests got very offended or at least one or two of them did and I have an idea who they might be but at any rate and uh they didn't trust me so um I've never released it I never will when you know I stand by my AI my word but uh John trusted me and still does but I can say that uh they they said I'm Persona non-grotta at this moment for John's birthday uh I guess because of that so at any rate uh we are here long distance wishing him a very very happy birthday and many more to come so thank you for watching and participating
(1:02:30) here I am going to have some very interesting guests this week um and I am going to also be I just found out on Jimmy Church's show on the 11th of December so if you are a big fan of Jimmy's and I know he has a lot of you out there then I will be uh out and about on Jimmy's show so you can see me next uh on the 11th and I think his show is on 7 P.
(1:02:57) M Pacific Time on um let's see I think the 11th might be a Tuesday not sure anyway and uh before that this week on Thursday night at 7 p.m Pacific Time on my show I'm gonna have a new whistleblower relatively new and he has a book out and it is an excellent book and I highly recommend it his name is Terry Loveless and he is uh ex-military he's a lawyer he's quite a a very intelligent guy really and he and a fellow um I guess you know recruit at the time had some very interesting uh experiences with ETS and uh very Unforgettable changed his
(1:03:41) entire life uh permanently and uh Still Still is changing his life actually and so we're going to be talking about that uh that is again on Thursday night at 7 pm Pacific time and uh let's see I think I might be uh doing a show um with let's see uh Paul price Richard Paul price Rick price depending on which name you want to use for him he has his own radio show that's on like mainstream radio and I don't have the call letters but I will put all this on my site once I have it and I will be on (1:04:17) his show I think on the Thursday in the early day so it'll be around 1 p.m Pacific time so that's coming up uh this week as well um I'm going to be having Deborah uh Tavares back with me or Tavares and we are going to be talking more about the uh coming uh you know changes that they're instrumental in in making have happen having to do with earthquakes Etc and uh so that has not been scheduled but but please be aware that we that I am planning to have her back and we are planning to do that um I do want to say that there is (1:04:58) another show oh Robin falkov who is a Healer and she is also uh the partner of Richard Hoagland is going to be on my show on Friday at 1pm this week so that's very exciting um I haven't talked to Robin in quite a while uh and so it was really exciting that she accepted my invitation to come on the show so we're going to catch up with her and see what she's up to she does do a radio show on her own and uh I I don't have her details here right this minute they will show up on my website but again Robin falkov in case you're (1:05:35) you're aware of her uh we'll be on the show on Friday and um I have actually invited Richard Hoagland to join me on my show it's not the only time I've invited him but uh I don't think I got an answer from him so I'm still waiting to find out if he's gonna ever be willing to come on my show again um some people turn out to be uh sort of very shy and uh evasive eventually uh and I think that that's because perhaps they are um a little worried about some of the things that they they may say on my show

(1:06:14) as opposed to other people who don't ask such probing questions perhaps at any rate things are moving along uh disclosure is being helped along as you can clearly see uh and I do recommend the documentary by uh Jeremy Corbell um I will invite him on my show if I can manage to get in communication with him I think it's very interesting that he was helped along uh by George Knapp and others I'm sure to make this documentary happen again with bot with um Bob Lazar and uh you know it's got good stuff it's (1:06:52) very supportive of Bob lazar's story which I do appreciate it's a try for long uh probably needs a re-edit and uh and could you know use some uh a few more probing questions I would say uh but uh we'll see what happens in the future with all of that uh but thanks again for watching and being here today and please do wish John Lear a happy birthday take care and have a great night bye [Music] thank you

Transcript:
(00:01) yeah it had a cap that fit over it this is where the 115 set that was a copper color the cap was through yeah or the uh the 115 inside this tube I guess went to the no this because the reactor was removed and this tube just goes to the base oh okay I think this is this gets into the the reactor portion the um the 115 sits in here and it's in a triangular shape and the point of it sits level with this tube and I think this is where the reaction is taking place where they uh it's really looks like a little accelerator where they're (00:53) accelerating a proton interacting it with here and then on the base here now all this happens within two inches which is fantastic on the base here there's some thermionic generator and uh this is this is where they're converting the heat to electrical power and and where it's producing as a byproduct the gravity wave which for some reason propagates to the skin of this device but the uh it was a 115 uh a square based triangular shape or is it a complete obviously just like that a piece with ridges and (01:35) um just a slice and from what I understand the way these are cut is their the 115 comes in discs like silver dollar signs they're stacked up now they're attached together this is put on a lathe and and cut into a cone and then with the cone they slice through it and then those slices form these so they have a little curve on them they'd almost be like that exactly as you go through exactly exactly now why this is done I don't know if it's just a cut in a triangle
(02:37) why not take a piece and do this uh obviously there's some reason they have to go through all that trouble but that's what the originals are probably something about surface area foreign material yes yeah you can tell it's strange it's holding it with tongue it's over heavy it was a radioactive uh supposedly it's an alpha emitter but I mean the piece that I had in I tested it was just if it is it's the lowest level alpha particle emitter I've ever you could you just let it run for hours
(03:18) and and try and gauge it over background it might be one or two counts uh

every 15 or 20 minutes above background so it's I don't know why so what you're saying is that it's extremely safe yes now okay all heavy metals are toxic generally cutting anything like that which is yeah it's heavier they get the more toxic they are so I imagine it's highly toxic no it may not be but I think following along standard lines about the normal elements I I would imagine it's very toxic I saw no oxide coating on it it looked (03:58) uh bright copper color stayed that way It's relatively stable right plutonium for instance I mean it ignites on contact well there are tarnishes instantaneously uranium too um you say it's copper color yeah like a burnished like that over there beryllium color your pot under the bone there yeah it really is too gold uh in this area a bit brighter right in here she likes the luckier yeah yeah that's an interesting material I would say yeah all the things you've talked about I would imagine they would (04:50) you know after they lay these cones or whatever they take this scrap and recycle it to make more some oh yeah yeah I'm sure they don't just throw it away um which makes me think that that they're making these discs that they're melting the material and then cutting them again did you ever see any physical properties listed for the material yeah melting point a couple other things too I wrote them down Gene hasn't I don't remember them off the top of my head so this little incense burner if you
(05:32) know whatever you're sticking this in is it basically the same color as the element 115. no that's the same color as everything else in the 150. did you ever see the model that was made of the reactor yeah I I saw it once on the table in here oh because I came over it was just the there's some video on it yeah yeah I think I have the video yeah that was half scale I had a friend build that make it out of metal and it was very very close to what I used to have it at the moment uh no I don't I have (06:05) the video of it I I have a video of it I believe that was very close looking up you know at the ceiling or whatever is there a deck above the deck Forum you know with the chairs yes and it goes up through that deck yeah now that's why I believe this is just a guess out of the Clear Blue Sky should there be any navigating equipment or every any other heavy electronic or pseudoelectronic equipment that's where it is um for the next day right on that because on the uh on The Ridges here you see about three (06:44) foot square black I don't know if they were Windows ports or if they were just black areas but certainly something is going on on that other level that you know of great interest that I didn't get to see in the R square yeah they rectangular now this one this way but they're black when we viewed it from the outside right but you know there again the only time I did see it is when it was outside and I was looking directly into this well yeah you know when you when you look at cars with the blackened
(07:32) Windows they look pretty black and from the inside you can look out yeah let's use the shade and keep sunlight up if you're traveling somewhere you've got intense radiation it might be something which really tight yeah at that time the sun was directly behind it too so it really couldn't tell if there's any light inside how much Headroom would you have left to that next to my ceiling is there no not much not much over in there or yeah because you hit I think you have maybe 10 feet if you have about six feet
(08:05) at the center but in a 10 foot down yeah every Circle here now you begin to hit yeah approximately I think we're dealing it was taller than it was just taller than me we're dealing with with four foot characters I mean is that is that conceivable I mean you you well certainly certainly five foot is Max problems yeah no there's no well there's no way a five foot person could operate in there yeah it was it was certainly uncomfortable for me and because I noticed as I walked even in the center I
(08:43) could feel my hair sticking out there would see either some sort of static charge or something you know where you're constantly putting your hair down to stuff I'm looking like an idiot or just a natural reaction but I I always as I put my hand up on top of my head I'd hit the wall or hit the ceiling rather so it was very clear on your hand stand up and you did that and like when you run your hand across the front of a CRT I don't I don't I don't remember okay but I know I was constantly doing that (09:14) okay very very close very close but this but the seat continues down a little bit it's not on a post right yeah okay almost like it was a sheet of rubber and someone pushed it up from underneath like it back and forth yeah like a vacuum

pump yeah which in fact may be that would explain a lot how everything was made like it really looked like that like if there was some sort of mold and they started out with a piece of metal and then a vacuum Foreman sucked in these consoles the seats and everything and then there's you know the level and (09:51) then they is that wonderful from the tooling standpoint yeah yeah there's nothing to do if anyone was the building oh yeah that's that's perfect for cleaning keeping it clean and these the sides would kind of you know like your typical sort of 50s fiberglass chairs you to decide to actually come up around your thighs or whatever I mean was it bucket sort of yeah it was a bucket seat to sit on it you have to sit on the arm but it was not had it it was of course it wasn't metal either well it uh well maybe it was (10:36) why would you wait 30 some pounds you probably wouldn't be great padding and if you were contained perhaps in a horse field within the ship would you try to remember a zero Gene conditions minimum gravity yes I was trying to remember it flexed it all there were any belts or harnesses yeah there looks like uh everywhere they put them there foreign was the floor texture was there any yeah the floor is kind of interesting how would I draw this what's it well to open let's get this way right I think and right here
(11:27) this is the access to the lower level yeah we just that's why I only fit the top torso of my body in there because I had to lay in bed and I could just see the amplifiers hanging upside down um this pushes together if you had lots of that's a pentagon lots of hexagons together in a mesh there's an opening here in an area that you can stick your hand in and push and all the hexagons collapse you can push it and that's how you you can look down inside and as long as you hold it it'll stay when you let it go a little hex it
(12:12) how can I describe it for now so you imagine that kind of a honeycomb type thing uh kind of a think of a honeycomb made out of thin like springy metal strips a large honeycomb okay and uh if it was about that thick and just so it's a great yeah great like that and if you push it in the corner they would all kind of collapse into each other was kind of a neat a neat little door and holding that open you can look and when you step out back up while they return to their shape they go pop up on top so you can walk on it it would be strong in (12:45) that respective Dimension across the flats over there two inches okay just to run okay see that you can walk on it yeah certainly walk on it because I stepped on it afterwards to see it but in in a lateral force it just pushed right open which was I thought was really kind of trick about about two inches yeah and there was a little hand hole that looked like where you could just that had nothing in there where you could just stick your finger Dimension about the whole uh not very big because I just fit about this square is it pushed in on my (13:28) shoulders maybe 17 inches maybe 16 16. yeah okay and it was regular it was square or was it was it rectangle no it was Square now the floor aside from that solid yeah when there's not a texture it's just the same gray stainless steel look you'd slip if you were on it if it was wet yes oh certainly yeah it was real shiny yeah I had I had it more or less you couldn't see yourself but it was certainly trying and it felt really substantial when you walked on the info I didn't feel any flex and I purposely stepped on this to (14:20) flex it but it it didn't so that was pretty hefty strips of when you when you move that it compressed yeah the hexagons collapsed and like that when you pushed it did it collapse in a V from the sides or did the whole thing just move no it collapsed in a v it did go right right from this point yeah okay okay yeah so folded it that's did you see that treatment anywhere else at all no but I thought about that for a long while after I left there in fact I think I came home and cut little strips of metal because I you know what a good
(15:05) idea for uh Adora swords yeah yeah you could just but I couldn't get anything to do that but uh and at the same time he's not really a door I mean not a not a concealing door because you can see through it right but it just operated so easy but it had to be something very springy like phosphor bronze or something like that uh that would return to its shape but you know that takes too much force to it was almost like a pop ago a feeler gauge for a car right close close to that type of metal or spring back Ace or anything was there (15:37) was there anything that did any sign of conventional Earth logic relative to heating or air conditioning or air flow or gas flow and in environmental saying it's just if there was it was concealed who knows where it could be concerned I keep blaming everything on the floor I didn't see but if I went out there and you know didn't see anything it would still make perfect sense because I don't know how you can conceal the reactor wasn't cooled in any way there was a cool the reactor was an operation under (16:14) a heavy load there was no late heat that I mean that violates on a Newton's first law there has to be heat somewhere and it certainly wasn't there um you know I I don't know there's no no cooling no liquid no bathroom no unless a lot was removed that I didn't see but then because everything had that exactly that's all that shape in 100 perfect condition yeah but 100 perfect transcription anyway well I mean they're gonna be 98.

(16:55) 99 that little extra nine is heating it should it should show up but could have been dissipated in the skin somehow no because I saw the reactor operated out on a bench yeah I was so you say this one was removed this panel yeah how could you tell it was it was a difference yeah it looked like well yeah marks on the bottom so it looked like it was okay you could tell where the human intervention was it looked like someone took a chainsaw to the bottom it was like the the chairs were just kind of grew out of the floor right that's yeah what's a proton source
(17:33) I don't know and what was you know you say like it was chainsawed from the floor what was what were you seeing like a like a thin section of a wall like it was Hollow you know where it wrote no it was solid solid metal that was all solid yeah which kind of makes you wonder what's in the box then yeah you'd think they would have cut it up higher or something no I didn't see because I knew the amplifiers are directly underneath here and uh I would have liked to have seen something interacting between (18:25) you know yeah a whole even for a cable anything but there was nothing at all good or even this this flexible line that came off of the top you know it looked like it had been done recently and was it was it like little chunks of metal laying around no that was very and spam did you get the feeling that the craft was extremely reliable yes oh yeah I mean it from what you're describing thanks to me somebody just understood fully the the chemistry that you need the radioactivity yeah that's a version a ballet is the perfect way to describe
(19:05) but there's nothing there's nothing that gets too hot that needs a fan to cool off you know if there's extra heat here it that they do something with it every single there is no waste anywhere at all works in Perfect Harmony that's the impression I got and I didn't see anything to deter me from thinking that way so you didn't see the ship go outdoors and towed I don't know if they started up and covered it out or someone dragged would you say then that this this particular amplifier wasn't operational
(19:37) because of that panel being gone and you would only see like a two-thirds power somehow crippled vehicle yeah possibly no you know I'd say no I because of the way the ring formed around there it was it was equal around the perimeter all the uh amplifiers uh I think there'd be some disturbance here and the fact on a bench test when I saw the amplifier operating it didn't have a box or console near it I don't really know if it has anything specifically to do with the operation of it so I don't think it was crippled how (20:18) many chairs did you see two on that level yeah yes is there anything in the front yeah it makes a it makes a face with eyebrows on it and then the chairs obviously don't swivel or anything they're they're stuck facing right spacing this way or facing this way facing this side so the two operators would have a central focal point or something if they were sitting looking straight ahead and there was nothing there on the wall that they would be no there was there was something removed here I don't know
(21:05) what it was but this was definitely cut closer to the ground but but again this sort of situation where it's solid it wasn't that obvious I'm not 100 sure but I I think there was something something there at one time and when I came in this is where everyone was hanging out right right here and along the wall of course you have this now between the time you were in there how many times did you get in there and how long was it between that time was that after you saw a flyer before and about how how much time between (21:44) weekday hours I'd say a couple days so they evidently had time enough to retrofit this with everything they needed to do the flight test you don't think it could have flown with what you saw I don't know I think it could have I mean let's assume that if it's alien that they have a reason for everything that panel would have been needed if there was supposed to be power right there there is a point there uh I don't know that it'll certainly operate with one amplifier working I don't know (22:29) they'd at least need something to sit on so yeah maybe they had a retro for something well I wish I could relay that feeling to how it how it is to look in there I mean it's okay about it awesome well we're gonna we're gonna go on the basis here there's over the gray guys and work that way certainly something smaller than five feet there's no doubt about that yeah four or three and a half or four feet would be perfect three feet would be small do something four feet running around (23:36) still this space approaching the edge is useless you know but then there's not a whole lot you have to pack in there anyway I wonder what happens there when we say useless I say to myself if everything is really so so conservative in design and so interrelated there must be something even the empty space I'm sure has a function in some ways plate condensers something like that let's show me pipe it's doing something that's what's going on incredibly small amounts naturally occurring through Tony I mean it almost (24:39) amount you can't even measure but it does here and there occur naturally but that's about it I mean there is nothing higher than that yeah of course everything higher than that would Decay back down to to go through a normal stable radioactive decay and I just don't think there was enough bang in the solar systems or bombardment possible it's impossible they've been trying that for a long time they just can't get anything to stick for very long you know above 106.

(25:13) I mean even 106 105 104 was all you know are we really sure those two atoms were you know it's all you know come on um it seems like you'd have to shoot for something all right I can't I can't see how you can do it unless there's a a completely different technique that I'm not familiar with yeah certainly not sitting a Target in an accelerator you know bombarding you know hydrogen nuclei for months and months and months yeah I know there were there were programs you're going to set up huge fields to gather monopoles and
(25:56) say some streaky activity was that was a successful little thing there yeah that you said wait a minute after that much space for this but who's going to run out there and find out yeah those projects and like the you know the giant pools of water waiting for him waiting for proton decay and things like those of us you know big projects that just require a lot of the time I can't see synthesizing an element like that in any kind of yeah it's a reasonable quantity how do you feel about Dr tiller at this
(26:34) point I'll kill him if I see him I'll kill him the next time I see him yeah he's totally resisted you know I've had correspondence before I knew you were you before you even went on television vip's correspondence going and I think I've sent you the letters and uh and I've I've written to him I said all we need is that one sentence that says babazar is a liar and signed by Dr Keller that would end all of this it's not coming oh he's afraid probably that I have something else on him I'm sure
(27:05) that's why he's taking that position you know he thinks maybe you've got a tape for me he's doing something or recorded phone call so he's kind of wow but you know what's his motive what is his reason behind stonewalling everyone a little pressure I guess from the government perhaps but still he could I don't know I guess there's a lot that I don't know but uh have you had any contact from anybody any slightest anybody from EG and G anybody that you touched and talked with at one
(27:42) time has anybody ever come forward that was a couple people that contacted George supposedly the guy that drove the bus uh from room to escort uh one of the security guards out there who are we're out where the plane lands and he was just you know after the special said I worked at 51 yeah I mean this is my badge number you can come and look at it and I saw this guy getting off the plane if that's worth anything and uh you know he didn't stay at 51 long he drove somewhere else but a little support guys like that but
(28:19) no one like yeah I worked with Bob and we did this and you know nothing like that with this little acquaintances have you ever heard of gravity Shields being worked on at Los Alamos yeah well you have now gravity Shields something called gravity Shields this isn't a phone conversation that I got from this this new source the other day yeah it was an interesting product gravity gravity Shields that's what it was called gravity that's a good question yeah I mean just number one what is gravity do we really (29:04) know I mean did you ever find out what gravity really is particle wave what no we know a little bit about weight yeah it's certainly a wave it's not a part no it kind of goes to the light thing photons or waves or what you know what the hell well it really it's certainly just the small amount I learned certainly in my mind tied the unified field Theory together a little more than than what's known it's certainly I mean gravity time and space are really one thing I don't think there is any

(29:36) difference between them you know it's not it's not time space it's time space gravity there they are all one it's a single sometimes me uh any illustrations on this warpages of time space oh definitely yeah definitely the Scientific American has been running some articles recently with all of these things yeah grids with the big humps and the twists oh really yeah I haven't I haven't seen an issue and bring it around this way or how do you want to do it you want a three-dimensional would be would be (30:17) better but how because what you want to do is show a disc on the side but then you kind of want to show the fabric of how would you show the fabric of space well you can kind of show it as a sheet but then pinching a part of that sheet and pulling it to the kind of a pseudo three-dimensional you don't you can't show space in three dimensions and show the craft having an active point on it you have to show that the space is flat and crafts I know that's the toughest thing about it because you you have to (30:49) put it into a two-dimensional thing yeah you need an analogy two Dimensions right there's no three-dimensional analogy of space thing

Transcript:
(00:00) my name is Bob Lazar I'm known for working at a classified base known as S4 out in the Nevada desert near area 51. and there we reverse engineered alien spacecraft I know there are alien craft here from another planet I now I saw other ones but I was inside one I know it was not made on Earth I know it was made with materials that we cannot fabricate we cannot duplicate and we've never been able to I know it uses a power source that's so Advanced that we could only dream of something along those lines and
(00:39) the energy density on it is phenomenal it's nothing that I would ever expect to see lazar's story is by any standards fantastic he says he's telling it in order to protect himself he called right after he said you have any idea what we're going to do to you now and I I said well no she hung up the phone he says he was hired to work at an area called S4 which is a few miles south of Groom Lake at S4 he says are flying saucers anti-matter reactors and other working examples of technology that is (01:07) seemingly Beyond human capabilities trying to make me a non-person it explained you called where well the schools that I went to the hospital that I was born at uh past job and essentially nothing comes up with my name in it he says he was never told exactly what he'd be working on but figured it had something to do with Advanced propulsion on his first day he was told to read a series of briefings and immediately realized how advanced the propulsion was the power source is an antimatter reactor uh They Run gravity amplifiers there's (01:42) actually two parts to the drive mechanism uh it's just it's a bizarre technology there's no physical hookup between any of the systems in there they use gravity as a wave using Wave guides I got to see it uh actually left off the ground and operate the hangers are all connected together and there are large bay doors between each one and uh there were nine total that I saw each one being different security at S4 was oppressive Lazar says in his superiors used fear and intimidation almost as a brainwashing tool I did everything but (02:19) physically hurt me what a gun gear Head yeah and and said what what actually put a gun to your head well they did they did that even in this in the original security briefings they had uh yeah guards there with M16s and guys slamming their finger into my chest screaming in my ear or some people pointing weapons at me uh like I said it's not a it's not a good place to work that Fear Factor would surface later bizarre agreed to undergo a polygraph exam as part of this report poligrapher Ron slay asked about the (02:50) technology Lazar had seen did you knowingly lie when you said you had actually seen anti-gravity propulsion in operation the results of this exam were inconclusive Lazar appeared to be truthful on one test deceitful on a second slay recommended that a second examiner be brought in polygrapher Terry tavernetti runs a corporate security operation and is a former Los Angeles police officer he put Lazard through four tests and concluded there was no attempt to deceive and I left there thinking that I feel we do have some

(03:25) credibility well I am telling the truth I I've tried to prove that uh what's going on up there could be the most important event in history you're talking about contact physical physical contact and proof of from another another system another planet another intelligence that's got to be the biggest event in history period and it's real and it's real and it's there after all these years everybody's making jokes that Bob was the janitor at Los Alvis he never worked there okay he's in the phone book
(03:58) I've talked to a bunch of individuals that were that knew him from working with him there but I couldn't go public with it finally I found a brave individual who was willing to talk to me on the record about working with Bob Lazar at Los Alamos in scientific capacity being in briefings classified briefings which by the way the janitors are not invited to the highly technical classified briefings with Bob Lazar and his name was Dr Robert krangle I have all of his documents all of his paperwork from all
(04:33) the contracts that he did during that time period at multitude of basis including Los Alamos during that time Dr Craig was telling the truth I can prove it what was your impression of what Bob was doing at Los Alamos in the 80s I didn't know what he was up to anymore than he knew what I was up to but you did know that he was a physicist yes and that was very clear to you that he was a physicist at Los Alamos and not again like the janitor right so he worked there and he went on record with me and says of course remember Bob why are you
(05:03) going public there's obviously a lot of other stuff on the project that senses a great degree of loyalty the straw that broke the camel's back was after I left the program I became concerned about what happens now I made a routine request for my birth certificate which I needed just for ID purposes and I was told that it doesn't exist I wasn't even born at that hospital I sat on that for about a week and just wondered and then I began to inquire at previous jobs and also at other schools and that information was (05:30) also gone and I got the idea that soon someone was going to disappear so that's when I contacted the TV station and essentially let everything out why were all records of marvelous are white from Los Alamos labs there's 100 Proof he worked there why are there also no records of his birth he says if the government liked both it did falsify as educational records and he's been involved in some other things and uh and it just doesn't are you talking about the MIT records yeah yeah he explained that to me he said that he was working (06:00) on something for the government at and they sent him to MIT to learn something and he I can't say too much I'll tell you off air because he told me not to talk about it but it makes more sense when you hear his description of it that essentially it wasn't documented that he was studying there because what he was doing was really a terrible thing a terrible experiment they were working on when I explained to you maybe it'll make more sense his story what's interesting to me is that again it's the same story over and over and (06:36) over again and then what's also interesting to me is that he knew and took friends to a place where they were testing these things out and he knew where it was and he knew when they were doing it and he brought his friends out there and that's when they got arrested yeah it's a very uh I think there's some consistency there yeah that is hard to explain how would he know where to go and right what was going on so basically that's the shape of The Craft that's the thing I turned the sport
(07:11) model underneath this floor there are three three large cylindrical devices hanging from the floor these are on mounts that allow them to completely swivel up to 180 degrees and in 360 degree rotation directly above each one it's a small rectangular object this is on the floor above and these are the gravity amplifiers themselves looking down from the top [Music] you'd have the center in the very center there is a small reactor surrounding this and three equally spaced areas are the amplifiers so this is looking at it sideways this is looking (07:57) at it down from the top and under these amplifiers underneath the floor below are the gravity emitters so it's the reactor here powering the rabbit amplifiers gravity amplifiers output goes into the gravity emitters at the bottom and the resulting gravity beam or anti-gravity wave can be pretty much put anywhere you want to [Music] um there was another level up here and I had access and was permitted to view and look at the operation of this main level with the gravity amplifiers and the level below to gravity emitters okay (08:34) there is a level above which consisted of these two areas that I'm not all that familiar with I assume they used to be some sort of navigational engine uh people call these large black rectangular areas on the top portholes I believe they were some planar sensor array that just took in information from the surrounding area whether it be patterns of stars or what have you and there was their version of a computer or something to make determinations here that takes input from Those sensors and then let the (09:09) craft know how to orient itself and where it was in space so that's what I assumed to be up there I don't know for a fact and that was not part of my job and I was only led to believe that the center antenna is really an extension of the reactor in the center and that's a wave guide which allows the uh the admission for the gravity wave which forms kind of a heart shape over the whole the whole craft that's how it creates its Distortion these uh gravity emitters can be swung all the way up to 180 degrees

(09:43) and this allows the craft to essentially stand on two of them and hover while this one swings up and creates a distortion in front of it allowing the craft it's a slide forward so that's how they're low power mode Omicron configuration operator the Delta configuration uses all three and unlike science fiction movies where you see flying saucers just flying along like that they actually fly a belly first the craft flies along leaves the atmosphere of the planet it turns its belly to the destination the (10:15) three amplifiers focus in on the destination and that's how it proceeds [Music] so that's basically the operation of it and overall how things were laid up inside the craft there were three seats in here and uh just around the uh the reactor there are no controls no buttons no anything everything has a nice smooth curve to it there are no right angles anywhere everything is exactly the same color and uh whether it's metal or some other Advanced material I don't know again that is part of the Metallurgy Division and all I can (11:10) say is it felt cold like metal um but it's actual composition who knows it was ceramic or you know again some Advanced alloy or something along those lines but the manufacturing technique is unknown and certainly was back then um today 30 years later there are things like 3D printing and now that kind of begins to make sense because it looks like this craft was just built from the ground up like a 3D printer and that would be about the only way to produce some of the things we saw because there were no Fasteners anywhere
(11:39) it was just all together not even a seam so um I don't know how that was actually assembled is a good question but I bet it was something along those lines some gigantic printing mechanism or something we would consider a printing mechanism that actually put this together when you were allowed to go into the middle and look down into the bottom layer of this craft what did it feel like to step in like was it instantaneously obvious to you that we could not make this upon walking in the craft yeah it was really (12:11) and part of the plan it was really unworldly everything again was alien it really was in that uh again nothing is always completely monochrome and things people build there's always scenes there's always something other than a radius of curvature there's a shower there's some kind of control everything was different there wasn't even fires in this thing as we started to dismantle it but um it was more of an ominous feeling because we really didn't know what we were getting into how dangerous it was and certainly (12:40) didn't know how dangerous it was to remove anything or change it look I mean we have energy sources this day and age you can't just remove caps you know off of reactors and have a peek inside and see what's going on and we really didn't understand the energy source we had no idea what you know a housing might be holding back so it was fearsome technology as I've said before and uh you know so was it exciting going inside not exciting in that way it was exciting because we were afraid uh and really
(13:14) just looked around inside the reason for going in was to have a look there was a little access port here where you could push it open and stick the top half of your body and hang upside down and look and see the orientation and how the gravity emitters we're hanging from that you know the floor above what was your first indication that it was not human it was not ours it was not made for us well certainly the science I mean this is only about a little over 50 feet in diameter the only time you could ever stand up would be the middle (13:45) so nobody would make something like this it was extremely uncomfortable to move around in the seats were not for full-size humans everything looked like it was child size and the access port I couldn't dream of getting through so there was certainly something smaller operating this the opening Port was like a hexagon a hexagon honeycomb with an edge cut out and if you grab the edge and just pushed a little bit the Honeycombs would all collapse some sort of flexible metal and all snap open and I remember seeing I was saying to myself (14:14) that's and something we could make today that that's really because it has a lot of strength standing on it but no strength the other way so you can pop it open use it as an access port snap it closed and it would support weight on it uh something very simple not that it really stood out I was standing in a ocean of alien technology but I think the reason it stood out was there's something I understand you know and nothing I understand anything else so I kind of grabbed on to that like I see what you

(14:41) did guys here not anywhere else um so the other fascinating thing was um it was essentially a pipe I mean if you want to just give you analogies these gravity emitters look like 55 gallon drums and a big oh I'd say four inch diameter pipe no maybe 10 inches long maybe a little longer connected the top of the drum to the floor above it's a solid thick pipe somehow they were able to manipulate the structure of that pipe where it would just bend as if it was made clay so they can apply some form of control to it and have a
(15:21) solid piece of pipe move like a tentacle so they can get very fine movements and adjust and point these things wherever they were and then stop stimulating the stuff and they were locked in place like it was welded on there with a giant butt how do you know that they could Bend these pipes that way we did we had one of these setups in the lab when you had made adjustments it would move it would pass yes that is putting out a gravity wave yeah oh absolutely yeah when we bench tested this setup yeah it worked and you've got (15:51) these seats no seat belts and then it goes belly facing where it's supposed to go how do the occupants you know not fall out of the seats what's that about well you're thinking about flying around a single source of gravity below you and then as you move around you'll flop but you're canceling out Gravity from every anywhere else you're canceling out gravity inertia and all other effects and the only gravity there's going to be is the center is probably going to be the reactor itself so you're always just (16:16) pulled and held to the floor here that's always the ground so that no matter how you're oriented this is always where your pull is so you'd never even know that you're upside down you know in relation to the Earth or other things it creates this field around you almost heart shaped and then that kind of is a cocoon of what we call gravity and it holds you so you can just be inside of that field and then wherever you end up focusing that's where you're going to fall to right that's the propulsion okay (16:41) now of course we never I never had information of us flying the craft at that performance level but it's assumed that's how it works from the information we cleaned but you saw this crap oh I said this craft and these work and you can certainly extrapolate if three of them together work like this first one we know how it how it operated so there's you know extremely high confidence in that and the craft that you're drawing here is the one that you guys would take Parts out of and work on yes is it also the one that you saw the (17:10) test of yes so they were able to take Parts out and put them back in no no no no no they did not this flew on two amplifiers this was already removed I mean I should put a dotted line around here this was on the bench in our room when I went in there this was already out and it still worked I I can't imagine how they made the decision to remove that I'm really glad I wasn't there at some point you were inside and it was activated and something happened to the inside of the wall and I guess that is an important
(17:37) part the other to explain that around the wall it was essentially a set of archways which were extruded from the wall all around and we later found these out to be just this is a big thing I should touch up uh we found these to be waveguides and this is how the gravity field was being manipulated it almost looked like it was just a design element but it was it became very obvious that nothing here uh was done for Aesthetics everything had a functional purpose and you know even in our spacecraft everything has
(18:12) pretty much a functional purpose there are no house plants or anything just until we get there but these are toys were extruded from the baseball and for the most part it seemed they were all the same but in fact they were not one of them foreign just putting this here so they look like this all the way around [Music] was different and the one time I was in there there were other people also working on there in their own particular group they activated this by some means and we could see from inside we could see right

(18:48) through that I guess the modern day analogy would be a electrochromatic glass where it's normally opaque some energy is applied to it and becomes transparent and whatever the other group was doing this panel here underneath this Archway became transparent and we can see the hanger outside they also did something else and we can see something the only thing I can relate it to is some sort of writing some kind of symbols like that I'm assuming that's some sort of written written language I I really don't know
(19:19) that's that's a guess on my part but there were symbols that were displayed here and then it went back to looking outside so somebody had a handle on how to control what was going on without any wires or switches so that was kind of good to see somebody was making some progress somewhere again we weren't even permitted information about that and I was fortunate enough just to see it so um now is it possible these other archways uh did something too uh it could be I didn't see it but I know this
(19:45) one this particular one did this is an alien spacecraft [Music] another entity had to make this right reality simply isn't what it used to be you know but the one thing we can't do is everything related to gravity force field time travel reaction list propulsion warp drive camouflage where you can bend light around things so yeah we make movies about all this stuff that we can't do but um the thing is if you can control gravity that one force and produce It On Demand all that stuff the same day becomes reality
(20:24) so you could essentially be invincible just by use of gravity look with ET technology you can literally rule the world

(00:00) how long do you think it's going to be before they make the uh announcement that we've had contact with outer space in the Caulfield what never you don't think so no I used to think so I used to think they were getting as prepared but uh I have no doubt now that they never intended to and I fully agree with it now five six seven years ago you know I was going on the lecture hey you got to listen to this you got to see what's going on now I know they were right I mean mankind is not and will never be ready for this kind of (00:32) information sure it's interesting for you and me and and uh you know very small segment of society and uh it's tremendously interesting but no way should the public ever be told about this what do you think would happen if they were would probably cause [Music] of the world or not equipping equipped handle the basic issue John how many uh World Records do you hold 17 17.
(01:05) they've all been broken but most of them have been broken because the of the uh of the new airplanes do come out yeah I'm hearing rumors at Area 51 that there are well there's at least one live alien living there there definitely is one blind alien uh regardless of what Bob says today you know we're talking about Bob Lazar [Music] during December and January December of 1988 January of 1989 when he was working out there he sat right in that chair uh whenever he'd come back from the test site and he'd tell me what he saw and (01:45) I'll never forget the January 1989 I was sitting at that desk writing out checks and he comes in and and he said John you never know what it's like to see your first alien could you relate the uh the that you know the times you went up there with the Lazar looking for uh for craft yourself we want to uh twice to the first time was not the first time he knew it was going to fly he knew he was going to fly just after Sunset and that was March 22nd 1989.
(02:23) and we drove up there with Gene huff and we had my motorhome and we pulled in just as it was getting dark and I was setting up a Celestron scope and they were outside looking they said here it comes and you can see this real bright light coming up from behind the um the range so I got the Celestron scope hooked up and got it focused in and had you know like maybe about 15-20 seconds um and then the scope here but it's eight inches and it's a huge scope and the disc you know pretty much filled um the field of view and it was tilted like about 30 degrees it was kind of

started to go back down and we waited a couple um a couple hours that night and didn't see it again the next Wednesday night was March 29th and I was on a flight with American Trans Air stuck in Minneapolis that's the night I phoned Bob and said what's going on he said we're going fishing and I thought oh neat and that was his code word for going up to groom Lake well several weeks later when they took him up to Indian Springs and (03:38) with a gun pointed in his head they said oh that comment about going fishing boy it sure took us a long time to figure that out they were pretty sarcastic over it you know they were taking taping both our phones here uh anyway uh that was the night that they got the film of the saucer stitching its way across the uh this guy the night sky that um amid uh George Knapp and a few others used uh incidentally the first night we were so excited that the video camera stayed right on the bumper of the motorhome it didn't get
(04:09) pointed I don't know why that happens but it does anyway the third night was uh April 6 1989 and that's when Gene and me and Bob Bob's wife and his wife's sister went up there we wanted a car because I've owned a transmission on the motorhome and Bob just had a two-place uh Z 280Z and I had just did my truck so we rented a car to go up there there was no mystery about that which people make a big deal about but we just had no other way to get up there we drove in we had in the back Geiger counters film
(04:44) cameras videos everything and as we drove down Groom Lake Road at that time we thought that the legal cut-off was that road that comes down from mailbox Road and so when we got there I said look let's just stay here and you know even if we get a mile closer it's not going to make that much difference in the film and they said no no let's go on so we went another couple hundred feet and we had the lights out and I was leaning out the window uh telling them to go left and right uh we stopped and a couple sets of headlights (05:20) here we as we stopped a couple sets of headlights came on in front of the vehicle and we decided to run because I thought we were in illegal territory as it turns out we weren't and we could have all avoided a lot of trouble and Bob never one last a job and I never realized mine if we did just you know sat there and let him walk up to us but the fact is uh we thought we were in illegal territory and we turned around we started going 90 miles an hour down the road with him in a Hot Pursuit uh we almost made it to the highway but they
(05:55) had sent another Bronco around and cut us off and when we saw him coming down the road we stopped Bob ran out in the desert I jumped out and started setting up the telescope and that's when the first Blanco came to Halt and I ran up and threw my hands against the the top of the car and I said you know holy smokes you guys aren't dopers are you you scared the hell out of us out here and they get out and they all the worms machine guns they stand where there's like a four or five of them and they stood at Port arms around us
(06:25) and the one guy said what are you guys doing up here and we said we're just looking at the stars he said well why did you run and I said like I said we thought you were dopers and we said well we're not we need to see some identification and we showed him some uh he had to give him our social security and and the driver's license and he ran it and all this process took about 30 minutes and he said we can't kick you off the range here because this BLM land he said dad but we'll make it awful
(06:53) uncomfortable if you stay here so they turn around laugh we stood behind the car waiting for about 15 minutes and then Bob comes out of the desert and we start talking about all the stuff that we've done the you know the the uh three weeks before the two weeks before all the stuff that we had done that night all the preparation and everything not realizing that all the time they had just gone about maybe 100 meters down the road and we're filming us an infrared and uh listening to us with a parabolic microphone all of which was (07:24) readily made readily apparent to Bob the next day when he was taken up to security but anyway we had no idea what was going on even though there were several real good Clues and one was one of the guys down there dropped a scope and we not only heard but we saw it and we saw a cigarette but nobody ever decided you know I don't even know why we didn't go down and Prescott about the fact is we didn't so anyway we packed up our stuff and went out on the road and as we got to the highway we were stocked by the (07:50) Lincoln County Sheriff Doug lamoreau who has since become a good friend um and he kept us there for an hour uh he wanted to see in the trunk but we wouldn't let him in there mainly because that was where the gun was that Bob had taken out in the desert but anyway it seems that LaMore needed uh knew exactly what was going on he wanted to know why there was five people in the vehicle now and only four on the test side and he wanted to know where the gun was so obviously there was communication between Security Forces on the test side and and (08:23) the sheriff anyway we stood there for an hour nobody said anything and finally to bring this all to a hall Bob decided to confess that it was his gun and it was in the trunk and I saw him walking to go ahead and do it at that Split Second Doug said okay look here's what we're going to do I've been advised to release you guys but we don't want to ever see you here again ever and he let us go and it was a real quiet ride home that night and the next day Bob's Boston is Marianna called him up and said Bob I'm going to

(09:36) his mind and I think the reason he decided not to continue working up there was the fact that the last two trips that he made up to groom Lake he can remember flying up and flying back but he couldn't remember what they did and the mind control program that they have for the people that are involved up there in very very classified programs it's disconcerting you can remember everything you have to when you're up there at work and everything but when you come back you can't remember anything all you can remember is getting (10:05) in the airplane and coming back and that was real disconcerting to Bob who has an IQ of uh way over two years and the tunnels uh that are going from The Groom Lake facility he goes out across and underneath the ticket boo Valley as I understand it they're 70 feet across I don't know too much about the tunnels but we find a new base out there it was kind of interesting uh I heard about it in 1983-84 a friend of mine was in construction and he was up there working on TTR talking about test range and I was pumping him and I said hey
(10:39) anything else going on out there he says yeah as a matter of fact there is he said over on another range they're building something then I talked to a guy who drove a fuel truck up there and he said yeah he said uh he said once I was delivering Fuel Up to TTR and he said well we come in at Gold Reed he said I had to wait for something like an hour for a procession of cement trucks going by he said it was just unbelievable how many Summit trucks there were and the facility is called Sandia and I'll show you where it is
(11:10) it's in Paiute Mesa and they started in 1980 and they finished in 1987. um I did a little story down here on channel three about it and a guy called in after the newscast and said yes I I'm from uh originally from El Paso and I was hired to work on Sandia and he said yes we started in 1980 finished 1987 it's totally Underground there's you can't see anything above ground and believe me I tried even though the closest point you can get to it on me you're going to show me the picture or (11:39) which ones the location of it yeah um the closest you can get to it is 25 miles and it's a long ways to pay the guys that fly into it say that uh when you land there and I'm talking about DG special projects and they take the passengers in and out they they say you can't see the runway until the last second and then they land they're not allowed to ever get out of the airplane like a groom Lake and go to the cafeteria at this place they have to sit in the cockpit they're not allowed to get out
(12:08) and when the passengers get out he said they just go behind a little Knoll and disappear it's not true there's stairways or whatever but there's nothing you can't see anything up there it's it's really it's it's very well hidden and during the Gulf War a friend of mine talked about it I think this technology of hiding runways came about in 1980 because I heard about it then but I didn't have any examples to them called before during the Gulf War I worked for a cargo company that took um (12:34) that did a lot of flying into the Gulf and although this didn't happen to me it happened to a friend of mine where he got down to Cairo and got just south of Cairo about 100 miles and got vectored by the American airwax for delivery of what was in the airplane and it was at night and they couldn't see anything and he was told when to put his glass down when to put his gear down and at 500 feet lights came on and he landed there and they unloaded uh took off and went on his way since

we navigate by inertial Guidance (13:11) he knew exactly where he was and he had occasion like a week later to come over the same spot and there was it was just the middle of the desert there wasn't a trace of anything no so they have really good capability of hiding runways now people think groom light is you know it's a one of a kind uh facility and it is a very big secret facility but like in 1980 there was 30 other what they call axles aircraft access only you can't drive in it you know 1980 there was 30. so today there'd be more they
(13:45) may be more there may be last but Las Vegas this highway uh 95 this is 93. this is mercury this is Beatty these are the places where I was trying to hike up to they were the closest to the border that you could leave with them to see India here's Sandia when they built it they put this extra little secure uh security range around here there's absolutely no indication that anything is there except an enormous power line going right into there and it just stops now coming from where coming from [Music] down here maybe down as far as here this (14:31) whole area is uh nrda where they uh originally built the uh the nuclear rocket all that facilities there this is the fame Yucca Mountain where they want to store the stuff this is Boom Lake that's the new strip there TTR is up there the orientation of the runway is there on December 23rd when I was flying a mail contract in a DCA and I came by this way just to the north of here going into Oakland and I tuned in Dreamland 120.
(15:08) 35 as a matter of fact if you want to listen to him going in now I can put it on the scanner because I've got a big antenna to go here so it was about 5 30 in the afternoon real cloudy real dark and everything so I just turned on 123 35. and said Dreamland Dreamland John Lear and Barb Lazar wish you a Merry Christmas and you know that nobody answered me [Music] Frankenstein factories where they create alien looking there's no question about it I had a friend that worked up at the test site who uh went to work in the 80s the the (15:42) early 80s late 70s and early over in Saudi Arabia for uh one of the major contractors over there Solomon Bin Laden and he had a lot of strange things happen he came back you know and before I got into this in seven years ago I was relatively straight I mean I you know did my stint for the CIA I believed in uh you know God the amplify and Chevrolet and you know flying sausage to me where I mean just you couldn't even mention it you know I wasn't interested then so he we sat down in the early 80s uh at the my house over on the other
(16:20) side of town and weird guys you know what's going on and I don't know nothing and there was kind of law in the conversation he says um John what do you know about I can't think of the word we were talking about genetic engineering what is it when they create a human Colony yeah so funny it is uh John what do you know about cloning and I said you know nothing I mean this was so far out to me and he said just let me tell you it's all real and it's all happening and this is from Cecil mcmains a guy who's (16:59) so down to earth who worked on the SR-71 who did a lot of stuff you know and he would never ever come out with something so unusual so they have Frankenstein the missing kids the Milk Carton Kids you know I used to talk a lot about that and there was a lot of kids that were missing in like 83 84 85 and it's my understanding that uh the FBI discontinued annual reports of missing people because there was a million that were missing and then actually about 80 or 90 000 that just simply disappeared I mean they didn't wind up as prostitutes
(17:34) in Hollywood Boulevard or the sex slaves or in some shallow grave is 80 or 90 000 that just simply disappeared now we have both seen the film that was taken out of the Dulce facility why would somebody make pictures like this showing the creation of some sort of alien being and this is a facility this is a facility that's uh run by the United States government I'm with your tax monies I've heard Hamilton talked about uh the adulsi facility and I've also heard about you know genetic engineering (18:09) programs at area 51. yeah there's no question that Dulce exists um you know I was the one that kind of led the research on that I was at a meeting in crestone Colorado and Tom Adams handed me a letter uh from a lady who lives in Las Vegas and she was the one that tipped us off that this thing exists existed so I talked to her and she knew the location of some photos and videotaping had been taken inside Dulce uh by a guard who escaped during what what they call a Dulce Wars in 1979.
(18:43) he used to contact her every six months and he said if I ever missed contacts two in a rows for a year you can go after this box which they had hidden somewhere here in Nevada that contained uh six minutes of videotape 25 black and white photos and some other documentation about what went on in Dulce uh about two years ago he did turn up missing he never we never heard from him and I think there was like 12 or 13 attempts after the box but it had been hidden uh maybe at least 10 years ago in the terrain in the in the foliage and (19:17) everything changed I don't think they ever got it out he said in level five he had walked on by and people would be in cages and screaming and begging for for help and he was told to I heard that to walk straight on through and not look or pay attention that these people are all mad I heard that and then um from another source air force engineering Source I heard that that when he went there they referred to it as section B um and then Bob heard it referred to when he was up at the test site uh just once

(19:48) and somebody said uh mentions something about being shipped to Tulsa but that's the only reference he ever heard now I call these uh the guys are working in the facility as Igor's uh the invisible government's obedient robitons but it really is a Frankenstein Factory I'm hearing rumors that area 51 that there are well there's at least one live alien living there there definitely is one live alien regardless of what Bob says today you know we're talking about Bob Lazar during December and January December of (20:27) 1988 January of 1989 when he was working out there he sat right in that chair uh whenever he'd come back from the test site and he'd tell me what he saw and I'll never forget the January 1989. I was sitting at that desk right now checks and he comes in and he's a little fidgety and after the first night that he got back from the test side we never discussed anything in this room because they seemed to know everything that was going on so he's came in and sat down and he looked fidgety and he kind of went you know
(20:59) let's go so we went out in the back there's a stable back there a little alley back then I remember that I was you know I thought he had some really neat detail so I didn't grab my coat and I was in a short sleeve and we went out there and remember it was bitter cold the wind was blowing and we stood in the alley I said what what what and he said John never know what it's like to see your first alien I said God neat where'd you see it and he described the circumstances of walking down this (21:26) hallway being led by two guards and having coming up going down the hallway and looking through this window as a matter of fact I have the original drawing that he drew this scene and he said it was a maybe a 12x12 window and it had wires running through and he looked through it and there was two scientists facing him and white lab coats and the little gray talking to them I said could it have been a doll could have been a [__] he said no John it was an alien and uh it was just really he said walk down once and then
(21:57) when he came back he looked in and they weren't there but and today you asked Bob about that he says well that's what John says you know but I really don't remember myself but I remember I remember the night it happened and I remember going out and him being pretty you have the picture yeah I'll show you a little drawing that he made of what it looked like looking through the window do this thing here this is the piece of paper that Bob drew that right first of all he drawed how the hangers were 360 feet each 46 Bays
(22:31) um this was the corridor this was the window and those were the two scientists have a little gray the sinus are facing us the gray is going that way and that's what he saw through that window and he's very meticulous showing you know where and under what circumstances he sawed uh this is the drawing of how the hangers fit up against the Mountainside so this uh this is the gray here right there yeah yeah these are the two scientists and that's the window he looked through today you know in 1962 Kennedy
(23:07) um ordered the um what became known as the uh the report on uh Iron Mountain and what he was interested in was finding out if there's anything other than war that could stimulate the economy to the extent more could we've always had a mortise to make the economy uh always had one in recent years we had Vietnam and then Saddam Hussein which was all manufactured I mean I flew an airline for an airline we used to take the troops American troops in there a Green Berets to train Simon for the two or three (23:40) years before that war you know but they create the crisis they create the crisis so uh the report from Iron Mountain said really that there was nothing that would stimulate uh the economy as well as war and they had considered a medical research space research they said that there was one thing that would stimulate it and that was um a threat from an extraterrestrial species real or imagined

Bob Lazar | George Knapp Interviewed by Exopolitics Denmark (Copenhagen, 2014) - YouTube

Transcript:
(00:26) hi I'm Robert from exopolitics Germany with Frederick from exopolitics Denmark and we're sitting here with George nav a man who actually wrote UFO history and who's actually a part of you for history himself you created part of you for history welcome George thank you you're making me sound old well I'm making you the trying to put you in that historical uh context that you that you actually came up with Area 51 you're responsible for setting that term into the world isn't that a heavy burden
(00:58) don't you feel a little yeah well it goes it varies between whether I should be blamed for it or except or be prideful of it I I think it's a little bit of both you know I think uh probably the the people out there wish that it had never happened the people who run the base because we've created so many problems for them since those stories first aired in 1989 25 years ago uh tens of thousands of people have gone out to the base to see whatever it is it's flying around out there every news organization in the world has sent (01:28) cameras and Crews government investigators have gone there it shined a light on government secrecy black projects that had never been made possible before there are those who say maybe the government created these stories that they leaked them to me and I did their bidding because they wanted to focus uh the focus to be something away from what they really do out there and on UFOs which is ridiculous and to those folks I say anyone who had that plan in mind really screwed up because as a result of the UFO stories you know
(02:33) and because of the friendship that we've developed over the years it's harder for him to ignore me so I pestered him about it for quite some time and finally talked him into doing an interview for the 25th anniversary figured if there ever there was going to be a time when he should sit down and talk about it in a contemplative sort of way to think back on what has happened over a quarter Century uh it would be now and and Bob is sort of of the same mind as I am is that he's amazed that 25 years later
(02:59) people are still talking about this you know I think we both knew that it was going to change his life when he when he came forward with this information but had no idea what it would change the world I mean that it would still be a topic of discussion a quarter Century later is the one who who supposedly worked at Area 51 with extraterrestrial craft recovered from the U.
(03:22) S government trying to rebuild their Technologies and um what made you think that his story is true in the beginning well first is that just the way it sounds Bob has a certain amount of credibility I mean he just he doesn't try to exaggerate he keeps it I mean it's a fantastic story any way you look at it but his story has stayed the same it stayed consistent over the years he never added extra stuff to it that was number one number two is I became convinced that there really was an effort to discredit him to remove some (03:53) of his records to pretend that he never worked in places where I know he worked I mean we we can go into the details about it but it was pretty clear to me that someone was messing with his reputation and thirdly is that if if it had only been Bob telling this story about things that have been going on at S4 at area 51.
(04:13) chances are we would not have moved forward with the project but the fact is that more than two dozen people have come forward with bits and pieces of the same information people who have worked at Area 51 in the 50s 60s 70s and 80s who have told me pretty much the same thing people who have seen saucer-shaped craft out there in hangers saucer-shaped craft flying in the desert being transported people who say that what goes on out there is trying to figure out how this technology works so that we construct it reconstruct it with earth materials instead of building (04:48) something that we came up with the idea for where's the technology from exactly where do they have it from where did they recover it I don't think anybody knows I mean I'm not sure even the people who run that program know Bob said that he had read these briefing documents that suggested it was from another planet a planetary system a Zeta reticuli but the fact is is he he is suspicious of these reports he thinks that maybe they were telling him something just just to simplify it as opposed to um giving him the actual truth I I'm not (05:20) quite sure anyone knows where they came from and in on some levels it does not make sense because as he described the craft these weren't shot down these weren't craft that we had shot out of the sky and they're all crumpled up he said they were the ones he saw the nine craft were in as far as he could tell working order they looked solid they weren't in tatters I think there was one of the craft that he said there was a great big hole shot through the middle almost as if they did an experiment to (05:46) see if our artillery could could blow a hole in these things but the sport model which he saw fly was in perfect working condition it seems like someone just kind of gave them to us who that someone is we don't really know could it could it be that it actually that publisher was used to to plant actively a story Into the public imagination about this I mean that's also a theory is that a possibility and I've talked to Bob about that many times over the years in the beginning it was probably kind of

(06:17) sensitive because you know he's got his life on the line his life is in danger at some point and he doesn't like to accept the idea that he was used as a pawn over the years he's opened up to that possibility and we both agree it's possible at some level but as I said to you before if the plan was let's use Bob as a pawn to distract attention from something else that's going on at Area 51 then that plan is a miserable failure because as a result of Bob telling a story about the saucers all those people
(06:45) came from all over the world they're still going on out there so if you wanted to fly a secret test aircraft of some sort it's hard to do it because so much attention is focused every single day there are people out there with cameras and binoculars looking in the sky to see what's going on because of Bob's story every news organization of the world has been out there asking questions Congressional investigators saying hey what's going on out here how are you spending our money you know this (07:12) is a lot of unwanted attention and I can tell you they're not happy about it because they've told me you know we we used to be followed around these guys would follow us around go to bars and restaurants they'd they'd follow all of us who were involved in in telling that story and a few of those guys years later after they got out of uh working for that those contractors told us that that was their job I would run into them in bars and they told me I was following you around you know they were they were
(07:39) checking us out putting us under under scrutiny and that also is another topic that's a sore spot with us but you know if the plan was to distract attention away from something else out there it was a terrible terrible failure Bob accepts the idea that maybe he was used to some extent and I have too that maybe someone some faction inside the government inside the Navy wanted to see let's run it up the flagpole and see if the public freaks out if they knew that we had alien technology from somewhere else how would the public
(08:13) react and they picked a guy who could be discredited later I mean you look at him he's not the first person you would think would be picked into the most secret program in the world he's a smart guy and he and he thinks unconventionally so in one sense he might be very qualified to come in with a fresh point of view because as Bob said the technology had been out there for a while and they weren't making progress at all when he came in and he gave him a fresh View and helped him gain a better understanding of what (08:41) they had but he was not the top guy he didn't have a PhD he never claimed that so why was he chosen well I think he might have been chosen because he's a guy who could be discredited earlier you let him tell that story and then you pull the rug out from under him you know because he look you look at him you know his his house he would fly a pirate flag over his house he raced jet cars have these gigantic jet cars in his in his front yard he liked hookers prostitutes uh he liked machine guns he's a very

(09:11) unconventional guy someone who you got to figure I wouldn't give him a security clearance because he you know you never know when he's got to go off the deep end do something crazy he's rebellious by Nature he doesn't like Authority he doesn't like taking orders so you think he was given the security clearance in the first place because he was like that I do I do think in that sense he might have been the most qualified person in the world for that job he's smart he's technically capable he knows
(09:37) science but he's a guy who could be destroyed in the in in an instant if you needed to pull the rug out from under it okay could you summarize for us the biggest Revelations coming from Bob Lazar Bob Lazar says he was hired to work into this program that was under the auspices of the U.
(09:54) S Navy and he worked at a facility called S4 south of Area 51 in Groom Lake and that this facility was built in the sight of a mountain that there was a series of hangars nine different hangars built into the side of this mountain designed to look like desert in each one of these hangars was a saucer-like craft a craft that was from somewhere else Bob said that he was primarily working on the propulsion system which he said was an anti-gravity propulsion system the fuel was something called Element 115 a heavy element at the time that he told that story in 1989
(10:27) it did not exist it has since been synthesized in much smaller pieces Bob described it as a stable and heavy and what we've synthesized now that does not match that description but he thinks that maybe someday we might be able to get it he thinks the fuel came from a binary star system where it was a Natural Abundance so he said he's saw one of these craft being tested he did a number of experiments on the anti-gravity reactor that were pretty much amazing this thing could create its own gravitational field and he says the
(11:30) described it had alien autopsy photos it had information about the human beings that aliens were interested in our souls and possibly harvesting our souls there was information that they had uh they they had been a part of humanity for for centuries that they had helped engineer the human race that there had been biomechanical engineering going on there that they sort of had created us as a special species very disturbing information about religious figures the nature of religion uh so it's quite a it's quite a pile to (12:05) chew on uh yesterday you touched upon a guy named Ben Rich uh who made a famous quote could you tell us a little bit about this and also the defense contractors and might they have a fancy technology Ben Rich who's the engineer and head of the Skunk Works which is the uh the secret arm of Lockheed that has designed all the black projects all the the best secret airplanes in the world the U2 the SR-71 the a12 stealth technology lockheeds did all all that stuff and Ben Rich was overseeing all of those projects if anyone outside of the (12:42) US government itself any private contractor knew about recovered alien discs it would be Ben Rich that would be where it is for a number of years Ben would share little bits and pieces of information with his friends in the aviation Community who also happen to be interested in UFOs and some of those were guys that I got to know so he would give them tantalizing little bits of information they would ask them what do you think about UFOs and he has in writing said before in letters that I got copies of I believe (13:12) in UFOs I believe in two kinds of UFOs I believe an unfunded opportunities meaning black projects that have not yet been uh put into the budget Andy believes in flying saucers from other other places um on the day that the stealth plane was unveiled to the world and Nellis Air Force Base uh I was there I was one of the the media people who was invited to go along for that event and Ben Rich was standing out on the tarmac at Nellis and I was able to interview him and I asked him Mr Rich we've heard these stories (13:43) that maybe alien technology was incorporated into stealth uh and he he stopped and he kind of chuckled and smiled and he thought about for a second he said no no just good old American Technology but the fact is he's given other hints since then that maybe that's not the full story that maybe we got some help along the way he made a statement at least as reported to a group at UCLA and an engineering audience in which he said we now have the capability to take E.

(14:14) T home we have the ability to travel to the Stars right now it's not something we have to dream up if you can dream it up we can already do it can we verify that statement well uh you know it's been mult reported multiple times by people by news media who were supposedly present it has been told to me by people who are in the audience that that's what he said whether or not the audio there's a recording of it I'm not quite sure but I think when you take together all the other things that Ben Rich has said over (14:41) the years uh that in fact that is what he said there was a guy a friend of mine named Jim Goodall who wrote a book about stealth technology he's an aviation whiz he's a friend of John lears and he was one of the guys that would go out with Lear and a group called The interceptors to Area 51 to look in the sky to see whatever was flying around secret planes whatever and they got onto the UFO story Jim Goodall was with Ben Rich days before he died in the hospital and they talked about UFO interest and he (15:11) confirmed yes in fact we do have that technology but he said it's so deep black it's so far inside the black budget it will never see the light of day and that makes sense so what are the implications I mean does it really mean that Star Trek is real that some you know hidden factions of the military of the government are already flying among around Among the Stars that the Universe meeting other civilizations I don't know that there there I would take it that far I I do think that the I think there's a strong possibility we do have (15:45) a secret space program and that we are flying at least Among the Stars or to other planets within our own solar system that it's a kind of program that is so far more advanced than what we see space shuttles ISS that kind of stuff that it goes far beyond that there are there are several indications that there really is a space program like that not the least of which is what what Ben Ben Rich had said I don't think that there's any Star Trek we've got a a cosmic Federation that's meeting with other
(16:13) alien beings or something like that but but I don't really know I I just don't think it goes that far there's another whistle supposed whistleblower named Colonel Philip Corso I think you also met him um uh who has a similar story I was the first I was the first journalist UFO journalist to interview Colonel Corso a friend of mine a colleague had been working with him about prisoners of War Colonel Corso had made dramatic seemingly unsupported statements in the past on other topics and had been proven to be true he said
(16:47) that we Americans had left behind a number of prisoners of war in both World War II and Korea and then in the Vietnam conflict and that was very controversial when he said it but as history has shown us he was right well a friend of mine who was working on the story about prisoners of war was talking to Colonel corso and her and heard this story about the UFO information he shared it with me I met with Corso now the rest of the world knows his story but back then I had a deal I was going to write his book it didn't work out that way someone
(17:49) quite know how to deal with it but eventually he said that it was his job to hand it out to Bell labs and other big think tanks and they figured out how to use it how to duplicate it fiber optics technology he says night vision goggles a number of other things we're given a boost along the way by the stuff that was recovered from flying saucer and it's a fantastic story and a lot of people don't believe it but the fact is Philip Corso was in that job he really did work for a general who was in that (18:19) position that if there had been recovered material that's where it would have gone whether or not we're ever going to be able to verify it for sure I guess we probably probably need to find the material itself to satisfy everyone's curiosity but Philip Corso had said that he had some extraordinary experiences in his life separate from his job at the Pentagon that he had encounters with aliens and that basically the story of it coincides to a large degree with the story told by Bob Lazar yeah I was about to ask that do (18:51) you think he's credible yeah I do I mean you know he he really I think the problem is that as he Grew Older maybe some of the stories and experiences in his life got grander with the passage of time just a matter of ego but I think he was telling the truth I think Phil of Corso was telling the truth as he knew it there's a guy named Bob Bigelow can you tell us a little about a bit about him what his what's his role in all this Bob Bigelow is a great man in my estimation but he's somebody who is a an (19:23) enigma in the UFO field people assume the worst about it he's a wealthy businessman in Las Vegas I think probably at one point he was worth about two billion dollars and he's had a lifelong interest in UFOs because his family he and his family had seen them at a young when he was a young boy so as he became wealthy and successful he wanted to put a lot of his resources into UFO research and he has Bob Bigelow has spent more money on UFO research than any person in the history of the world and he's done it quietly for the (19:53) most part over the years he would dish out grants to researchers people like Linda Howe Stanton Friedman and others hoping that his money would provide the kind of financial support that UFO researchers do not get he's given a lot of money to UFO organizations mufon and kufos I think he put a million dollars on the table at one point hoping that the three major American groups would get together that they would figure out a good way to spend the money and maybe get some answers about UFOs which did not happen because of that Bob was (20:26) dissatisfied with how those organizations were doing their work he created his home and was called nids the National Institute for Discovery Science and he put together a world-class science Advisory Board consisting of people who had been top-notch scientists who some of whom had worked for the CIA and other government agencies or the military who had an interest in UFOs while they were working for the military and who tried to get answers while they were in the inside but could not and in addition to those kind of people he put (20:58) together people like Jacques valet John Alexander a lot of others who'd been on the periphery of these subject matters but academics with impeccable credentials that's a science Advisory Board the second part of dids was a component that was a rapid recovery team if you have a UFO crash if you have a a series of sightings if you have a series of cattle mutilations they would be able to jump on a plane take a bunch of equipment and go there to the scene to investigate boots on the ground it was a tremendous uh opportunity to gather

(21:32) solid information about UFO cases and incidence and and for a long time it worked for seven eight nine years it worked and he collected a great deal of information he also bought databases from other researchers put it all together hoping to compile it to get to get some Ultimate answers but did they get answers did they draw some conclusions or I don't think so the the problems it's sort of the same problems that apply to ufology and scientists in general applied to them there's no place that they could publish the work you
(22:04) know there is no place there's no science journal that would accept uh papers about these topics even though they were written by qualified people so ultimately I don't think so and it's generated the result is it's generated so much controversy and speculation what are these guys up to they're trying to Corner the market on UFO technology they're trying to build their own flying saucers and take over the world I've heard so many ridiculous stories about Bigelow that he's in the mafia that he
(22:32) sells drugs that he has the Bigelow Tea Company that he works for the CIA all kinds of stuff because he was always reluctant to give interviews until he did an interview with me a couple of years ago about his space program he'd never been on television and there was a reason for that it's nothing mysterious is that he's a wealthy man he wanted to be able to go out and have dinner with his wife and not be pestered by people who wanted to borrow money from him or worry about his grandchildren being (22:58) kidnapped for ransom things of that sort so he didn't want to go on camera that changed when he went in to develop his own space program but um you know you you know what it's like the UFO field and the kinds of rampant rumors and speculation that takes place so all kinds of stories have been told about Bob about the people who work with him when in fact all they wanted to do was the same stuff we want to do which is get information and get answers and I think he's been pilloried unfairly I do think he's a great man what he's doing (23:28) now in the in the area of creating space habitat habitat is going to change the world what is it what is it all about Bob came up with an idea about 15 years ago to take over a NASA program called expandable space habitat inflatable uh spacecraft NASA had to had done some work on it and then abandoned it like they do with so many projects and Bob said I like that idea he bought the the patent rights to it hired his own team of experts and and developed it further he has basically launched his own space program in Las Vegas Bob Bigelow reports

(24:35) hired his own team um design these things and then hire the Russians to launch these craft up there he had a timetable of sending up bigger and bigger inflatable craft over the years until he gets to a really big one but it went so well those first two craft that he decided to skip the interim steps and go right to a big one Bob Bigelow next year will begin putting together his own space station and it will be larger than the ISS his inflatable habitats are stronger and safer and will provide more space in space and once he has it up there in
(25:46) million dollars so far he got one government contract that was with NASA for 17 million dollars and they paid him to put one of his basically is to build a closet on the ISS and to launch it up there so they have uh storage space on the ISS as a result of that successful deal which was made public about a year ago Bob now finds himself at the center of the future of the Space Program NASA has made him sort of the Clearinghouse for all other projects and contractors so if Boeing wants to talk to NASA about putting something private in space they (26:24) have to go through Bob it's an amazing spot to be in it's yeah it's an amazing position to be in it's a heck of a business move on his part because whatever happens in the development of space now is going to have to go through Bob Bigelow and it drives people crazy oh my gosh that UFO cover-up guy he's in charge of he's now in charge of space what else is he up to it's like you know at Skinwalker Ranch people had written that Bob Bigelow has recovered a flying disc he's got secret technology he will (26:51) rule the world you know but I mean is it really only due to his uh you know development of an ISS closet that puts him into such a powerful powerful position well I mean yeah I think that is I mean he saw an opportunity that no one else had realized and he had the resources to go after it and there aren't many people in the world that can write a check for 350 400 million dollars and Bob did or if they could so you look at somebody like Boeing Boeing still exists on the LA on the old Paradigm that give me a
(27:26) billion dollars and I'll build something and maybe it'll work and maybe it won't the our space program the American space program is is ridiculous it's done nothing for years we don't even have a way to get to the ISS we spent a hundred billion dollars building it we don't have a way to get there anymore the space shuttle is shut down we have to rely on the Russians who to pay them exorbitant rates to get to our own space station it's still less expensive than the American space shuttle starts yeah
(27:54) you know NASA is a jobs program it may mostly consists of job security you you put money in they start a program up it goes for a couple of years and then they cancel it they've done it over and over again it it is shameful and it needs private Enterprise to go ahead and and take take the next step because the government model does not work and Bob Bigelow finds himself at the cusp of uh of a brave New Era of space exploration and development Europe a journalist just to talk about the journalistic view of (28:26) this you've been based in in Las Vegas most of your career and it's been a I guess a very very special place for you to be because they'll be able to there's some it's an exotic place a lot of things and lots of stories going on and you've been able to cover some of these more these exotic stories in that particular place but how would you describe your career with this topic how what's been the reaction of your your colleagues when you've gone into this field it's been a mixed bag I mean in (28:56) general because I was successful I was fairly well thought of in my profession at klas and I'd been there for 10 years before I jumped into this I think I'm able to get away with things that otherwise would not have been possible and I don't think uh it would be it's be hard for anybody else in in the USA to duplicate it because most reporters are in the into the business you get a new assignment every day go cover the city council meeting there's a bank robbery go do that I had a special Niche I was (29:25) able to cover stories that interested in me my boss gave me that opportunity so when the UFO thing came up and Area 51 is in our backyard they said go for it and they trusted me to do a good job and I've tried to approach this topic as exotic as it is like I would approach any other story you know to verify information to find credible sources of information to uh you know to back it up to get supporting materials and so because I've tried to do it that way they've given me a great deal of latitude it has driven my colleagues

(29:58) though crazy as I was saying in a presentation recently my journalism colleagues don't like it they don't like it that it's it's so popular with the public that there's so much public interest so they belittle it they make Wise Cracks they poke fun at it a lot of that has been aimed at me I don't mind I'm not thin-skinned it comes with the territory in my hometown I have a high profile public position so I'm fine with it but what bothers me is that so many people would in the journalism field
(30:29) would dismiss this topic outright without doing any work on it they don't do the groundwork if you were to tell me I don't believe UFOs are real it's a bunch of nonsense because you've done the research you've read the books that's one thing but to say to dismiss it with the wave of your hand having done no work whatsoever that's another it goes contrary to everything that journalism is supposed to stand for we're supposed to investigate the Unexplained not to explain the uninvestigated many years
(30:59) ago you stumbled across the so-called Majestic 12 documents have you thoroughly investigated them as well not really I mean I've done some work on them and I've relied on people like Stanton Friedman I I think it's still in my gray basket mj-12 documents I tend to think that they were probably created by a government intelligence agency can you tell us about what's written in those documents mj-12 documents suggest that there was a secret organization Majestic 12 that was put together as sort of a Clearinghouse
(31:28) for all information about UFOs crashed saucers alien visitations things of that sort that there would be this one group that would report to the president kept keep things very hush-hush and all compartmentalized so that it didn't get out and upset the public the makeup of mj-12 is has always been a source of some mystery who was on the board we've got some guesses about who they were when the mj-12 documents appeared in somebody's mailbox they sort of laid it out they identified who the members of (32:00) mj-12 were what the purpose was uh it these documents suggested that we had recovered disks that there had been uh ongoing Communications with aliens very controversial stuff a guy named Stanton Friedman uh nuclear physicist has sort of taken the lead in investigating these documents and trying to verify them he believes that they are true that they are accurate because they revealed certain things about individuals who were named as members of mj-12 they revealed things about those people who that had never been made public before
(32:33) and that in fact have been confirmed if you were to ask me I'd I'd say that probably 90 percent of ufologists American ufologists believe that those documents are not legitimate in this sense and why um there's a variety of problems with it uh you know both in in format and dates in references to things that are in the documents that were were not uh public information back then or may not have even been known uh terms like Ebe you know that that those are are mentioned in the mj-12 documents I I haven't read
(33:11) them in a while the how I think the the primary problem with them is how they were acquired that they showed up in the mailbox of a couple of researchers those researchers have since admitted at least one of them they admitted that they made up a bunch of stuff that they worked for the Air Force office of special investigations and that they um they had manufactured material and fed it to UFO researchers just to see how how it would spread even though it was false information um so why do you think a government

(33:43) agency would would spread this kind of information uh well one reason would be to see how it spreads to figure out how quickly you know how how things spread this is pre-internet uh when it when it's spread out to see who would believe it and who wouldn't and who works with whom and I think it was an exercise in intelligence it would be to see for example it might have been created to distract the Russians whoever did this stuff is really good at it I mean they have so much information in there and it is so
(34:12) close to the real thing that whoever manufactured them they really knew their stuff which is why a lot of people suspect it was created as a distraction for the Russians make the Russians think that we've got recovered flying saucers make them worry about it because the Russians have said that and they then they've done the same thing now that we're talking about the Russians you also discovered or you you CA you got hold of a former KGB documents what do the Russians know about this this is an interesting chapter in our in my life
(34:43) and I I did it came out of the nowhere uh in 1992 I left klas TV I worked for a company called Altamira Communications and this company had its own TV studio and the idea was I would leave television uh to produce my own stuff I had proposed to this company that we produce a series of UFO documentaries that the research would become self-supporting that we would cover it in a ways that no one had ever covered it before so we traveled the world and collected information we went to England and chased crop circles we went all over (35:13) the United States dealing with cattle mutilations I interviewed all of the best UFO authorities in the world and collected all this data and along the way we're wondering about Russia because I read an article in the New York Times about Lee Harvey Oswald's KGB file and the the KGB had opened this file up and what it revealed about Oswald I don't even remember what it was but I remember thinking oh my gosh if somebody could access their file about Oswald called what do they have about UFOs if they are (35:44) like the United States they've had their own UFO studies clearly they see these things in the sky the same as we do no one had ever got that information we always had a a hint or a hope that maybe the files existed but I thought to myself well there's a window of opportunity because of glasnost perestroika maybe we could get into Russia and learn more from the Russians about what the Americans know than we would ever learn from the Americans themselves and in fact that's what we did I met a physicist named Dr Nikolai (36:15) capranov who was in the United States he was touring American think tanks and nuclear facilities giving lectures on disarmament nuclear disarmament Nikolai had been a national security adviser to the Russian Parliament he was also a national security adviser to Boris Yeltsin and because of that he traveled in some really interesting circles at the end of his tour he ended up in Las Vegas and the United States Congressman Jim bilbray said you ought to meet this guy he might know something about UFOs because Bill Brighton knew that we were (36:48) working on a project so I went out for beers with Dr ran off hey let's what do you know about UFOs ah I don't know anything never heard you never hear anybody talking about it nah not really not the KGB or anything a couple more beers you know I did I did have a friend of mine in KGB who said something about UFO studies and then as we sit there a little longer you know what there's a guy at the ministry of Defense who knows something about this I said Nikolai would you be interested in working for (37:14) us we set you up give you a stipend you go back to Russia and work for us and he was happy to do it because he had no idea what else he would be doing with his life so for next eight months parts of 92 in the 93 Nikolai met with Russians who were in high positions of authority my instruction to him was this very simple I don't want anyone who has ever talked to the media about UFOs before I don't want to have anybody who's ever come forward with this I want you to find people who are in a position
(37:46) to know who have never talked about it and that's what he did and the the key person that he found I mean in the spring of 93 we went to Moscow to meet the people that he had set up for us the key finding was a guy named colonel borisokalov colonel sokolov was from a long distinguished military family he was a highly decorated guy and he was in charge of an office within the Russian Ministry of defense that handled foreign technology and he was the head of what is the most extraordinary UFO study in the history of the world the biggest UFO (38:21) study in history will never be duplicated the order went out let me back up there had been an incident and petro zavodzk and the Russian government was concerned about it a UFO incident what the heck happened here so they started a study and colonel sokolov was in charge of it the order went out to every military unit in the vast Soviet military Empire every UFO sighting every ball of light every anomalous aircraft anything weird it has to be fully investigated and that information all goes to one central place and the place it ended up was in (38:58) sokolov's desk tens of thousands of cases were reported over the years all of them reported by military Witnesses officers and above and were meticulously documented witness statements photographs drawings it all went to sokolov and uh and it was an amazing Treasure Trove he had never spoken about it before when I found him he's living in a in a tiny little apartment on a government pension and I asked him about it and he was very open and the stories he told me were absolutely fantastic and with his help we were able to acquire (39:33) several hundred pages of this material what did he tell you what do they know what did they said as with United States he could Colonel sokolov confirmed all of the things that we have always suspected about the American government he told us they are true that uh that UFOs have been visiting the planet for a long time that they are from somewhere else that this technology can fly circles or anything that exists the Russians knew that these craft are not Americans he said you Americans know that the craft are not Russians that (40:06) they come from somewhere else and he said it's a very simple reason why they did this study is that your stealth technology you were so far ahead of us in stealth we knew that UFOs could do things that our aircraft could not if we could duplicate that technology we would be superior to you in stealth so the Russians had a very practical reason for doing this study and he said 90 percent of these cases could probably be explained which is similar to what we ufologists know about it you know 90 of them can be explained it's the other 10

(40:36) percent that are interesting and those cases were very dramatic he said there had been more than 40 incidents where Russian war planes encountered UFOs they were ordered to chase them that these UFOs appeared in restricted airspace the Russian warplanes would chase them mostly the UFOs would disappeared they just vanished so they performed some maneuver sail right out of space in an instant and nothing could be done there were three incidences where Russian war planes the standing order was to start firing on UFOs he said there are three (41:06) instances where we fired on them and in two of those cases our Pilots were shot down and killed so after those two pilots were killed they changed the order leave UFOs alone because in in the words of the Russian defense minister they said UFOs seem to have their capability retaliatory capability beyond anything we have leave them alone and all the pilots were happy to go along with that order sokolov said he showed me photographs of Russian warplanes that had hit struck UFOs the wings had been damaged he said that they had
(41:40) transferred a lot of their files to their Russian Academy of Sciences to try to figure out how these things worked he introduced me to the head of the Russia's Star Wars program this guy had on his desk he had a desk-sized laser weapon he called it the weapon of the aliens that they had developed from something related to This research he told me that this scientist Dr andropov had never spoken publicly about it he had never used his real name because he'd been living in one of these Soviet cities that wasn't found on any map
(42:11) working on really secret stuff and he said that the Russians had built satellites up there specifically to look for UFOs and he said the American government had I forget what the number is but we had Satellite Systems specifically designed to look for UFOs coming in and out of the atmosphere is that you guys have been seeing these since the 40s and 50s or whenever you put up the first satellites and so he again was another guy who was confirming a lot of what we know what we suspect about the US government was real they showed me uh
(42:44) Then I then I got them on a third guy who is an active officer he was a an intelligence officer who was running this the study of UFOs after Colonel sokolov ended I met him I mean it was a scene right out of Hollywood movie I met him in an Alleyway and he's got a trench coat on carrying a briefcase full of UFO Secrets which we were able to obtain he told me about a study called thread three an ongoing UFO study and it seemed to have uh it collected UFO information from all over the world mj-12 documents
(43:18) things that um documentaries and reports about Area 51 the Russians had this massive collection process putting it all together and they analyzed it and reached the conclusions that there are visitors from outer space they interact with us on a regular basis as far as we know they're not a direct threat however there are cases where they have demonstrated their abilities if they wanted to threaten us they could this goes back to Colonel sokolov something that he had told me about an incident in the Ukraine at an ICBM base it was one (43:51) of the most dramatic cases that his office investigated it was in 1982 UFOs appeared over this Russian base they were seen for a period of four hours there were dozens of officers Majors captains and above who gave witness statements there was one gigantic craft and then there were a lot of smaller craft these things were dancing around over the base they would merge together and split apart performing new Maneuvers that we couldn't do and then after about four hours the mission control center for this Russian ICBM base it was taken

(44:25) over the control panel lit up someone something entered the launch codes to these missiles the guys are going crazy they're trying to turn it off pull the plug stop it and they couldn't the missiles were enabled they're ready to launch it would have been the beginning of World War III and then poof in an instant the UFOs went away the mission control panel went back to normal and the Russians were really perplexed in the days right immediately Colonel sokolov gets the report he sends a team to investigate they couldn't find (44:59) anything wrong with the control panel it had never happened before it had never happened since they concluded and they even wrote it in a report that the UFOs were demonstrating uh they were making a point these may be your most powerful weapon systems but they don't impress us we can control them anytime we want they were pretty upset by it so let's start to wrap it up from all of the things that you've investigated throughout the years what is your opinion on the visitors what do they want who are they
(45:28) why are they here sadly I don't think we're any closer at all to answering any of the big questions we have a lot more information we have a lot more cases we think we have a better understanding of it but the fact is we have no idea uh how to answer any of the big questions we don't know where they're from we don't know if they're from other planets or from other dimensions or they're Time Travelers we don't know we don't know what their interest is in us we've got some ideas of what they're interested in (45:58) but ultimately we have no idea where they're from why they're here what their long-term intentions are and for it's 60 years now since the modern UFO era began and we're no closer at all to answering the big questions the fact is that the true architects of the secrecy is not just our government or your government it's the visitors they are the ones that could make the demonstration they could land on the White House lawn if they wanted to they don't instead they give us these tiny glimpses of other
(46:30) realities as if they are leading us along preparing us slowly over time uh to to realize that the nature of reality itself is far different from what we suspect uh I I don't know that we're going to have any answers in my lifetime they don't seem to have any interest in making it clear to us in an instant what's going on and it's sad it's uh it's unsettling to some degree to think that I'm spending I've spent 25 30 years chasing this some people like Stan Friedman have spent longer and we are no
(47:04) closer to answering it and I don't know that we're ever going to get it thank you very much joshnath for coming to Copenhagen and joining us here flying all the way from the U.S oh it's terrific thank you I'd like to stay longer I I hope I get the chance to come back and we both do hope that you will find the answer someday absolutely let us know absolutely thank you very much thank you very much

(00:00) ever watched a science fiction movie and wondered whether the world could really ever be that fantastic were the people alive today will live on Mars teleport around the world or even travel through time if these things sound fantastic to you now just think how far we've come in the last 100 years this Century has seen man progress from horse-drawn carriages to Moonwalks and yet the Scientific Revolution is only just beginning if you've ever wondered whether the science of Tomorrow can fulfill their spectacular Promises of today's science

claims the longest and the loudest has been that we are not alone a growing number of scientists agree they're coming around to the possibility of intelligent life outside this planet while the experts speculate on what these extraterrestrials may look like and what message they may bring they're sure of one thing when we make contact it will be the most profound event since man first left the confines of this tiny planet one day we will open our hearts and our (01:47) minds to the presence of living forms beyond our planet one day we will make contact with them only then will we truly understand ourselves in our place in this universe story Musgrave astronaut he's flown five shuttle missions and is as comfortable floating in space as he is back on Earth who better to ask about the possibility of other life in our universe [Music] I know when I'm out in space that there is life out there I know that from a logical Common Sense point of view but I also tend to feel it intuitively
(02:37) the acceptance of other living beings out there that's the beginning of a of a joint effort that's the beginning of communication [Music] story Musgrave isn't alone NASA takes the idea of aliens very seriously in 1992 it put 100 million dollars into a project to listen to alien messages from the Stars if the extraterrestrials happen to be rather close to us they might know of our existence they might have been picking up early radar experiments or early TV for that matter from the late 30s or the 40s and that probably means (03:16) they would send pictures pictures that show themselves what they look like physically what their astronomical situation is and it would probably be a mini encyclopedia about their own culture just think how valuable an alien encyclopedia could be overnight it would Advance our understanding of Science by thousands of years but decoding this fantastic knowledge won't be easy the civilizations we detect may be far more advanced than we are may use coding methods communication methods which are very difficult or impossible for us to (03:52) decode and of course that will be disappointing but my hope is that they will be transmitting signals in a way we can decode and which we can use to learn about them immediately without having to ask questions and waiting perhaps thousands of years for answers and already scientists are thinking hard about how we on Earth might reply the civilization we're listening to is 100 light years away there's no real hurry to reply it's going to take a hundred years for the reply to get there anyhow but if we do decide to answer we (04:26) answer as one planet all right all humankind bring in the United Nations have everybody decide what it is we should say if anything so uh that's the policy I think the practicality will be a little different I think anybody who has a transmitter will probably aim it in the direction of where this signal is coming from and and broadcast their own reply but we'll see but we're getting ahead of ourselves in 30 years we've had nothing but Intergalactic silence anything else is just wishful thinking it really was a
(04:56) message yes from a planet a very distant planet somewhere in Andromeda that's right that is a comfortable way away since the 1960s it's become even harder to hear the messages from Andromeda the radio pollution now surrounding our planet could well be hiding weak alien signals when an extraterrestrial signal actually makes its way into our radio telescopes I hope that it's me that's there to receive the signal Dr Jill Tarter is the head of project Phoenix the latest and most advanced search she has big plans
(05:35) to escape this Earthbound interference The Next Step May well take us to to The Far Side of the Moon which always looks away from Earth is always shielded from our own technology and our own interference by the body of the Moon and gives us a very stable base on which to build large arrays of telescopes for permanently listening but maybe interference isn't the problem at all maybe the aliens just aren't sending any messages what if extraterrestrials are leaving clues for us out there in the unimaginable vastness of space (06:13) that are safely hidden until we are Advanced enough to find them I think that contact would be the most important event in human history because it will tell us whether we're near the apes or the angels Arthur C Clarke the world's most influential science fiction writer explored the idea of hidden alien messages in his most famous work 2001 A Space Odyssey in the film The sleek black monoliths amid a mysterious force that accelerate human evolution they're hidden in space to ensure that this dangerous knowledge would only be (06:53) available to us when we were Advanced enough to find it Dr Clark still believes that this is a very real possibility I put the second monolith on the moon the idea being that you know until we qualify got out of the nursery school and got that known to be interested in us there may be other artifacts scattered around the solar system perhaps in the asteroid belt but this is perfectly possible we should keep our eyes open for this we should also keep our eyes open for archaeological evidence and in the immediate future those eyes (07:27) are the probes we sent deep into space the Viking one Orbiter has already sent back many stunning pictures of other planets and one of them caused quite a stir this image from Mars is of a face a mile across a freak rock formation or the face of some long-lost alien god cast in their own image over the years we've depicted ETS in many ways but scientists have argued that it's impossible to imagine anything we don't understand others say so what's to imagine there are a growing number of people who (08:06) can tell you exactly what an alien looks like they've met them all of us need to keep an open mind about abductions because the implications of abductions are so important that if true they could affect all mankind Dr Richard Haynes mild-mannered NASA psychologist by day but by night he investigates UFO sightings and abductions and occasionally Dr Haynes is impressed take the case of Kathy and Susan who under hypnosis came up with the same remarkable story this is a very interesting case because it qualifies as a multiple abduction

(08:46) where two people claim to be abducted at the same time in the same place the two women were driving along pretty fast there's not much traffic that night and all of a sudden Susan says look at the Moon over there and Kathy says Susan that's not the moon the moon's over here well Kathy puts on the brakes and Susan jumps out of the car and starts running towards the object Susan tells me under hypnosis that she watches the object come over her and stop over the car a white beam of light comes out the
(09:22) bottom of us and Kathy is seen rising up this beam the next thing both of them remember is sitting in the same car side by side 16 miles up that same road with no recollection how they got there and my impression of these women is that they are serious sensible people who have nothing to gain no money to be made for instance they don't want no publicity um they weren't out to fool me I don't think maybe the women weren't out to fool anybody it's a typical abduction story and the remarkable thing is that one percent of (10:01) Americans feel they've had the same experience the abduction bandwagon started rolling in 1961 when Betty and Barney Hill became the first people to reveal that they'd been forced into an alien aircraft subjected to alien medical probes and then dumped back to Earth similar stories and descriptions of aliens have been repeated thousands of times since then is this consistency evidence of Truth or a shared fantasy from the Realms of Science Fiction I haven't found any evidence to believe that science fiction movies
(10:35) have played a significant role that in the symbology or the descriptions of The Craft or the technology they see um I find no correlations in an American Science Fiction foreign I think it's quite likely that in 10 years that the claims that people make about UFO abductions will be even more outlandish and bizarre than the ones they're making today Robert Shafer software engineer and hard-nosed UFO investigator has studied the links between abductions and science fiction some of the ufologists are going around (11:18) saying that there's absolutely nothing in the science fiction literature that is like these UFO Abduction stories and that is simply flat wrong 30 years before Betty Hill reported her UFO adoption we find in a Buck Rogers comic strip of UF abduction it's startlingly like the ones that we're familiar with today where there's a hovering craft of the tiger men from Mars hovers over this woman Wilma reaches down a large mechanical claw and grabs her pulls her in they put her on the table and they do a mind scan
(11:53) and of course this is just exactly what the aliens are supposed to be doing today the early science fiction movie Invaders from Mars has striking similarities to the story Betty Hill revealed under hypnosis [Music] when Barney Hill talked under hypnosis about this alien with the wrap-around eyes which is a rather interesting and unique feature for an alien at least at that time an episode of The Outer Limits had been on TV just a few days before this hypnosis session and it had an alien of that rather interesting (12:44) description in it since the Hill's abduction there has been a steady trickle of cases nearly all featuring the same alien the so-called Gray [Music] but in the mid 70s that trickle would become a flood when aliens make contact with us we're going to find out how accurately we guessed their appearance we're also going to find out how accurate they what we would look like in their own versions of Science

Fiction John Clute author of the Encyclopedia of Science Fiction agrees that this gray isn't From A (13:22) Distant Galaxy but from Hollywood every ectomorphic alien with great big eyes every alien who appeals to us because it's so childlike we cannot resist it is an alien that comes straight out of either E.T or close encounters which bielberg made a few years earlier many many people who now believe they've been abducted by aliens believe they've been abducted by Steven Spielberg in effect and what can you say what can you say about that kind of belief I don't really know what to say politely [Music]
(13:58) since Close Encounters the number of reported abductions has rocketed but these accounts all have one fundamental problem and the people that have been abducted if they could bring us just the smallest amount of biological material back or parts of that spaceship or anything at all it would be absolutely magnificent they never bring anything back so how has science fiction explained this lack of Hard Evidence well it's brilliantly simple the evidence has been there all along it's just been covered up someone's not being straight with us
(14:41) if any government has been contacted by an alien race you can bet that they're using the alien knowledge they've been given for their own good David Bischoff shines fiction author who writes at the classic conspiracy theory that governments are already working with aliens here on Earth there's a great relationship between science fiction and the conspiracy theories involving governments particularly because science fiction itself has given us so many images of alien contact of Alien Invasion and clearly if people believe that the fact (15:25) that we are being contacted then the government's The Entity that's suppressing that information but if a government really has made contact with aliens as science fiction insists where could the evidence be hidden Britain is too small so one suggestion is here Area 51 a secret military base in the heart of the Nevada desert the guards Patrol the perimeter constantly in unmarked Chiefs and the penalty for crossing the boundary is death Area 51 is only the best known Secret Base in a vast military complex where (16:03) anything could be true Glenn Campbell quit his job as a computer programmer and moved to Nevada to try to find the truth behind the base where it's rumored the military keeps several captured alien spacecraft the American government denies the base exists but Russian satellite photos tell the real story [Music] what we see it about 25 miles distance here is what looks like an ordinary Air Force Base there's a number of large hangers there is probably the longest runway in the world was the testing ground for the U2 and (16:38) the sr-781 spy planes it was built to counter the Soviet threat now we have no Soviet threat the question is why is it so Secret [Music] 30 miles from the bay slides the tiny desert town of Rachel a trailer park community that is enjoying the area's Newfound notoriety well I'm rather sure my own personal feelings that there are in fact alien beings over there they are in Area 51 the ETS are aliens or whatever you want to call them I think there's always been weird things there you know secret crafts military (17:15) crafts I don't know I think the government entitled to a bit of secrecy for their testing and things that us mere mortals know nothing about we don't even know who runs this base we don't know who their bosses are we don't know if they report to the Air Force or to the president or whoever we don't know that there's any accountability at all out here this is only the best known base of a vast secret complex the size of the state of Connecticut all behind me here there are a lot of little valleys and (17:47) desert Nooks where you could hide secret facilities where you could hide anything you want where you honestly could keep alien craft secret and I find that very interesting in all my time here what I've come to see is that the military really could keep a secret this big and keep control over its employees so the secret did not get out [Music] from the midst of the half truths and misinformation surrounding the desert base comes one man a solitary witness to the secrets hidden in area 51.
(18:22) I have worked on extraterrestrial Vehicles also referred to as flying saucers for the United States government Bob Lazar claims he was an engineer employed to examine one of nine alien spacecraft held here I felt inside when I first entered the craft are quite different from what you'd expect it's a very ominous feeling um a feeling as if you you shouldn't be there I know that sounds kind of corny but that that that is truly truly how I felt lazar's story is contentious to say the least he says he obtained maximum security

(19:07) clearance to join a team of Engineers whose job was to duplicate the sophisticated engine of the alien craft the repulsion system is quite exotic it's a gravity propulsion system there's no propeller there's no jet exhaust there's no no obvious mode of propulsion what the craft does it sets up its own gravitational field it amplifies that gravitational field phase shifts it and uses that to lift the craft off the ground kind of an anti-gravity more or less the first time I saw the disc fly it lifted
(19:45) virtually silently off the ground we're looking at something about 52 feet in diameter just hovering silently in the air it drifted over to the left to the right and then set back down pretty uneventful task but it was quite impressive [Music] Lazar doesn't claim to know where these discs in the desert came from or even what they're made of whether you're convinced by a story or not few people will be satisfied until hard evidence appears I've heard people claiming that uh sure this guy Lazarus just making up
(20:21) the story he's a hoaxster so on and so forth but my response to them would be why why on Earth would I do something like that this has certainly not been a benefit to my life it's something that's haunted me what do we make a Bob Lazar story maybe he's telling it straight maybe he's mistaken Advanced military technology for alien Hardware or maybe he's been reading too much science fiction if scientists thought that there was even the slightest chance that some of this were true you would have hordes of (20:54) University physicists and astronomers and whatever else biologists applying for Grants to study this phenomenon they'd be all over themselves asking for money to do that and they're not so what will happen when the alien arrives as long ago as 1960 a leaked report prepared for NASA suggested that the alien might spell trouble today the scientists are strikingly more optimistic about the day we will finally learn we are not alone if you've just woken up I can tell you there's only one story this morning
(21:32) confirmation from the White House that an unidentified craft has landed on Earth the acceptance of other civilizations out there is going to bring us together and that contact is going to bring us together not Destroyers I can tell you the expectation here at the White House is overwhelming we're expecting a statement any second now every aspect of human life will be altered in a significant way our morals our forms of entertainment our values all of these things will be greatly affected for the better for our benefit (22:12) by what we learn from other civilizations there were survivors at the crash site I've seen the evidence at last there is proof there's an upside to communication and that is you're suddenly given an encyclopedia for a culture that's far in advance of your own that's the upside the downside is it might do you in think of asking a tribe in central Borneo 100 years ago hey look we're going to put you in contact with the advanced civilizations of Europe do you think that there's any danger for you if
(22:41) we do that well there is some danger they might lose their their will to develop their own culture further their their Traditions all that sort of thing might go we might be in the same position science fiction introduced us to the alien and while the scientists must wait for proof these signals are alien debris that would confirm their existence it's the writers and the filmmakers who have inspired the scientists to look and may even have prepared us for what they might find now no one knows how it will change us
(23:13) but contact with other species in our universe will be one of the most exciting Adventures that awaits us in our Fantastic Future and at the same time tomorrow Jillian Anderson contemplates the possibility of time travel but next she assesses are increasing Reliance on robots in more future fantastic on UK TV documentary [Music] [Music]

(00:00) uh I thought maybe we start with a couple of questions sort of that let you get to know Bob a little bit um so they they played one of the great Super Bowls of all time last month which of the teams did you like yes really we're gonna do sports questions I don't even know him play that's right NFL uh tomorrow tomorrow's the

Oscar broadcast who would you think is the best picture now I have no idea because you don't watch a lot of them right yeah of Breaking Bad or Sopranos which of those series did you like best
(00:32) yeah yeah you're just not on my channel because you live what I'm trying to convey is you live in Bob world right right what do you do tell them what you do now I live in the scientific bubble that's just about it I mean you know it's uh my my work is my life whether I was working or having fun it's pretty much the same thing so it's uh I don't know I pretty much do the same thing where you live and what you do your business I unfortunately live in Michigan yeah I would really like to be back here
(01:07) but um yeah the businesses United nuclear scientific we sell uh and build much of a scientific Equipment and supply it to schools universities the government you know everybody we also do contract work we do r d work design construct prototype gadgets weird things for different companies if they have a problem or something they're trying to solve they'll come to me and just say make this work and you know so we do but the bulk of it is really just selling scientific equipment and supplies and you know trying to bring (01:43) that back back when I was a kid you know used to be able to go into a a hobby store and buy chemicals and have a chemistry set now if you see any glassware in somebody's house you just think they're cooking up meth or something like that so you know we try to change the tide and bring back Hands-On stuff and uh you know the current generation that's one of the stories told about you right that you had a meth lab among them oh yeah that's true yeah I forgot about that do you have any government uh contracts
(02:12) we do government contracts oh you see where that could go people he's working for the government they're paying him off he he did his job spread this information now he's he's working for the government you're not well from the government now I don't work for the government but you know if there's contracts I bid on it you know every faction of the government doesn't know what the other one's doing it's it's a complete mess I want to give him an idea that you know
(02:41) the question is raised you're not scientist what kind of scientist are you and I I haven't been to your house in Michigan but the last time I visited you it was in New Mexico and there was something built in the house the building right behind your home it was as I recall a 30-foot particle accelerator yeah you built it yeah yeah what did you do with that what do you what do you do with your home particle accelerator that's 35.
(03:08) well at the time um we were working on an efficient way of storing hydrogen for you know Automotive use so it can be used as a fuel and um some of the most efficient um hydrides materials that absorb hydrogen like a water like a water like a sponge absorbs water um we're restricted because they're used in thermonuclear hydrogen bombs and so you couldn't purchase these materials but there was kind of a loophole in the law where you could make them so I had to make the vertical accelerator to make the material to use and run tests on so
(03:42) that's what that was all about you moved to Michigan in part because you thought that you were going to have some help from state government with the the system right the hydrogen system yeah kind of I mean a lot of things changed I mean we moved to partly because you know family reasons out there and just to get a change from the southwest which I regret and uh um you know yeah there was a a lot of at the time there were a lot of unemployed Auto Workers and we thought you know we can hire those but um you know a lot of (04:13) things happen the recession happened and also at the same not at the same time but around 2008 or something the uh uh Chinese who at the time were making a lot of the rare earth uh elements um because they did it cheaply and the U.S mines had shut down years beforehand uh decided boy now that you know we pretty much control the market on it we're going to go ahead and crank up the price you know 10 or 100 times what it was and it it really made what we were doing impossible to do profitably so you know you you your business is science (04:48) related to cell site equipment you build things like Oracle accelerator and jet car engines and things of that sort uh but I I think if you've heard me talking earlier you'd have to agree with a lot of people that you don't fit the mole as a typical scientist I mean you're not a member of any science organizations are you no I don't know do you write papers you submit papers I mean not not typically not in not in the normal sense I mean you know the when I first went to Los Alamos what was really annoying to know and they would come into town and uh you know interact with the ordinary people and you know use terminology that was over their head just to get them to say well what do you mean by that and they just would puff up and you know it boosts their ego and that it really annoyed me so you know when I worked there I relabeled some you know important equipment whirly gig or something along those lines and it you know it really pissed them off and uh (05:48) you know it was really just uh what to make a long story short and I was the new guy coming from the west and to the you know hardcore scientific field and it uh you know really I was able to run circles around these guys because they they followed a set path into a set amount of things there their support teams were were very limited and weren't engaged in them because they had no idea what was going on they never took the time to you know bring these guys in but um I don't know I just looked at a looked at things from a different point
(05:14) me was that the boy that the typical pompous self-righteous scientist you

(06:21) of view and I simplified things so explaining technical matters on a simple level and I do that a lot and people say well boy you don't talk like a scientist yeah I'm trying to make everyone understand you know but um and and it works you know if you if you talk on a a simple basic level everyone is going to understand what you're talking about it's easy to talk over everybody's head but all that does is make you look like an idiot you know when I first met Bob I remember going to his house and there
(06:51) was a a skull and crossbones flat flying over his his house at the time he had this giant jet car parked in the in this in the driveway he had these videos that he shared with me that we used in mother's reports were it's a lot of machine guns he had a lot of really interest the kinds of interest that you don't associate with Scientists I mean you heard my comparison to Edward Snowden I hope I didn't make you uncomfortable but I mean he's sort of the same vein there was a guy who had no academic credentials he didn't make it
(07:21) through high school he took online hacking classes he worked as a security guard the next time they hear from him he's working he becomes a computer expert for CIA and NSA and Sorrell fits the mole he doesn't fit the mold in the same sense that you don't no but if it's the new mold you know he doesn't fit the other wall just as what we're we're used to seeing but I don't need a degree no no no they're looking for telling I think they learned a long time ago that they were missing a lot of creative
(07:48) people and people that would think outside the box and if you really want to move forward that's where it is especially with computers oh yeah no no doubt yeah and that's right let's get to Flying Saucer uh you got hired through EG to work for the U.S Navy yes a member of Davidson first day out there little first day out where stay out at the at the facility first the first day was going to you know Area 51 proper and signing all the agreements and doing all that stuff signed agreements what what kind of (08:21) greatness did you say it was really paperwork of going over you know exactly what I was going to be doing and it was a lot of security stuff I mean they were questioning you know my family where we had moved it was you know boring nothing they'd been around talking to everybody you knew yeah yeah clearly and because I already had previous security clearance um you know I made it a little earlier as opposed to somebody starting from scratch which typically takes like 13 months from what I understand to do a
(08:49) top secret or civilian cue clear did you have the clearance that you needed to work there when you started working there or that no no no no I just had a convenient starting point where you know they didn't have to go back the other day I was born and you know verify that they go okay well he had clearance here and then we can go from there so you get on the plane in Las Vegas Jen playing yeah right why up there that which on the bus but the blacked out windows oh yeah when we're going S4 right yes so that you don't take you
(09:17) landed room like I did 51 and then signs of theaters yeah if you want to make it a short version yeah right um you had told me the story that they started showing me these briefing books that Cyril laid out the general story was that it had grown or was that that was it as for that was no that material would never get north of uh that's what group Lakers say I never heard any of the stuff Stony Point sausage then there's no Flags other stuff at 51.
(09:45) no that's uh look 51 is uh it's a there's lots of people working there it'd be hard there's when I worked at S4 again I have no idea how it is today but you know back in my day at S4 there were 22 people that had clearance and knowledge of the E.T material ET crafts that was it we were given the list we knew the names on the list that was it I still know that the names on that list today and those are that some of the things that I never say anything to you about because yeah why is one well exactly (10:16) there has to be some stuff I keep to myself because you know how many times people said yeah hey I worked out there with Bob and so on and so forth really who are are you what'd you do and whatever and it's only the stuff I said I'm waiting for the guy that says hey yeah I worked out with you and here's some of the other people on the list or we did this or is it so it's if I don't keep that stuff there's nothing I have to verify if some other guy comes up to me you see it all the time though don't (10:41) you I may imagine you get emails all the time or or you read stories or you hear claims on if you watched television you'd hear it that is uh about people who claim they've been out there and obviously they're making it up well I mean the most recent was this uh Bushman I think it was like yeah like the CIA guy or something like that was it Anonymous guy who had a he's who was dying or he died yeah and a lot of people ask me hey he was a barely very supportive of me and uh but I never heard of them and

(11:16) what am I going to say I I've never heard of the guy and never seen him back to day one you're you're at groom you take a bus to S4 to Papoose yeah it was an old Bluebird school bus but navy blue how did you know it was called S4 did you read that on something no is this what they said that's what they called it yeah did you ever see it written down on anything and and it's an S and a four or S Dash four or s f o u r or no it's a numerical forced sm4 okay and so you get to S4 and you see what (11:49) describe what you saw well the first time I went we went around it's kind of hard to describe there's a little mountain or rise whatever that that ends and the first time I have to admit I didn't notice it that we just drove around and I thought it was just a flat part of the Mountain at the very end is an entrance a flat wall with doors and that's where we parked we went in and that's the first time I went into the facility at all um that's where I was taken to the medical facility um that's where I was given the (12:24) briefings initially and it was it wasn't until the second time that I was taken down there that we stopped in the middle because the side that I thought was flat was actually Hangar doors that were didn't really cleverly blend it into the side of them to look like desert yeah yeah great job well you're inside can you see all the hangar doors you can only see all all nine of them or whatever it is that from Elton what do you mean if you were inside looking at in one hanger can you see all the way down see all of them see more whereas (12:58) they're separated yeah there's there's inside each hanger Bay there's you know if there's the big door that goes to Outside Inside on the sides I guess I could use the Whiteboard there's um oh what the hell again all right this is gonna be a tough one Okay so can't see it [__] you can't see that all right if this is that making any sense so there's uh the doors here where this is you know Papoose Lake the main door's here roll up however inside there are regular doors
(13:55) and on one occasion these doors were all open and when I came into the came in through here on the first uh well I think it was the first time they showed me well there's the craft in there these doors were yeah these doors were all open and you could see that there were different craft in each yeah so those are the doors I'm talking about let's talk about the whirly games or whatever you want to call them so the talk about the first time you saw one of them was it this the first time I saw one of (14:27) them was the uh a second time I came in the end the last uh bay door was open that was the sport model that was sitting in there uh we pulled up we stopped instead of going around in the front normal entrance we went in through you know the big bay door you before who had seen these posters you described that were all the walls yeah yeah they're here posters describe but yeah they went through the trouble of actually making a picture of the sport model that was lifting obviously off of Papoose Lake because you can see the the (15:03) background there and it just said they're here and it was it was like a commercial poster I mean they looked like they were lithographed I mean they must have been printed on site they wouldn't have done that out there but yeah somebody's idea of a joke yeah it was good to see that that level of uh I don't know lightheart in this out there first day you get a look at the sport model what are you thinking to yourself oh my God what are you thinking no it was the Flying Saucer did not alien Flying Saucer did not enter my mind it

(15:31) was exactly the opposite that uh well this explains all the UFO sightings that you know we have some field propulsion technology it has to be in this you know shape or form you know Flying Saucer type and this is what people have been seeing for a long time thinking that they're alien craft and it made perfect sense to me it's like great I'm I'd really like to be part of this project Advanced propulsion this is dynamite so I was excited to be part of it in fact when we went by it um and I think I'd even mention to you
(16:00) it had a little American Flag stuck on it and I dragged my hand across it and you know it felt like get cold so I just assumed it was metal it got yelled at immediately you know don't keep your hands at your side walk forward all right until I get to yourself um I am part of the coolest inside yeah industry because we've got plans ozos that we made and we're playing a joke on everybody or like no I wasn't really playing a joke it was that you know this is cool technology and why at any time we feel like we can probably just take (16:29) over the world America you know and that was that attitude so at what point do you realize we didn't make it how did you learn that is that the briefing books well yeah the briefing books this just did not make any sense we started into you know that uh that that actually you know predated seeing that and I I really don't know the the briefing books covered a little bit about a lot of topics and it it dealt with uh you know analysis of it was all about engineering material analysis of metal you know Power Systems
(17:04) and the way things were uh even the way things were laid out within the craft and um again it really had me confused the going is it it was so far beyond what I was expecting is this is this some kind of test or is this actual material so it just you know I thumb through everything and went okay and just went on it from there but it really didn't hit me until I went in I was introduced to my uh working partner was Barry castillio or whatever I pronounce his last name and um the way they worked there was uh
(17:42) everything was very compartmentalized so everybody had a buddy to work with and that is the only person you can talk and Converse with and bounce ideas off of you can't talk to anybody else in any other group you can't you know even if we go sit and there's a bunch of other people around you can only talk to the guy you know your buddy they call them so anyway so he was when I'm buddy and um and when I the first day we went in there he was excited to show me everything and it's it seemed like he had been alone for too
(18:14) long that might have worked he was uh you know you know it's you know really excited that I was there and um I was kind of picking up on his enthusiasm going well let's he says boy you were gonna just die when you see this you know and um you know one of the first things he did was you know fire up one of the the reactors that had been taken out of the crowd that story Kelly uh the reactor is a it's a small device it's probably you know just roughly a foot square with a half a hemisphere on it
(18:47) um um anyway so there's do really nothing there the the top comes off and there's like a little tower on it um it does draw it a lot can you keep them well this is my Eraser here did you see the drawing in the back no oh these guys can't that's not fair I have to watch it on the screen was anything about the this in the briefing books about how this worked you did read about this there's very little about this essentially you know for size comparison half a basketball on a plate that was (19:51) probably not a whole lot of moving Parts no nothing I mean it's just incredibly simple there was there was nothing there that could that could do anything for and it was too small to hold any large power source right so what'd they show you anyway the the top came off and uh he put the top on and then he said go ahead and and grab the sphere and as my hands approached it I couldn't touch it which was uh fantastic and if you ever played with magnets I'm sure everybody has you take two like pulls of a magnet and you can
(20:22) kind of feel that bounce it was exactly exactly like that but it was my hands they weren't magnetic and he says you're feeling a artificially produced gravitational field and that really floored me and you know that I began to run through in my mind how can this be a joke or fake or there's just there's no way and um it that that's the first time that it was kind of a domino effect than what I had read in the briefings and going these guys aren't kitten this is unbelievable let's go back to briefings (21:00) for a second and then we'll come back and you can tell us a little bit more how this operated in the briefing books you see the craft described and then you get into some more exotic stuff I think really you had to wonder are they messing with your head Elite yeah there was it was a one and only um griefing whatever you want to call it uh or an overview of it was split the the entire program that was split into individual projects and um you know each had an overview of each project and each group got an overview of all the other (21:36) projects in case there was some connection to what they were doing but it was clear they didn't want everybody to know everything and although the military loves doing that it it really really screws up trying to move forward and and too compartmentalized it's insane but they really enjoy that but um anyway the uh only thing that dealt with any kind of you know biological yeah it's essentially what you'd call them there was just uh a view of of a creature and like closest estimation I can give you is a gray

(22:16) because it had a head with a large eyes but the what they were focusing on was a tea cut in the chest and it was one large organ and the comments were about how um it functioned as a a liver a lungs a heart as if all organs had grown together or evolved together where it was just uh what I don't know an all-purpose internal organ yeah I guess I don't really have a analogy for it but um that was it and they were and the uh accompanying photographs were that was the um that organ removed it was sectioned it
(22:56) was showing the different chambers or indications of it there were the weights of the different pieces that they removed so I again I don't know where the thing came from you know where that this was just a briefing of something else but it was uh you know that is there's nothing in the briefing but versus this comes from X Planet they're and you're wondering yourself are they messing with us right are they messing with me are they fasting right I mean I well it really didn't it it really didn't hit me at the (23:21) time uh it seems they wanted me up to speed really fast to where there was skipping too many places to make me feel comfortable um you know at the time I didn't realize that everybody got these and you know the people that dealt with the biological connotations of everything we're getting middle energy reports and again it was just in case there was some connection you know you could kind of raise your hand and say wait you know this thing might relate to us in some way did very or anybody else tell you
(23:53) why they wanted to get you up to speed so fast where there's some urgency there or were they just tired of not making progress or what was that was never really clear I know there was some accident prior to me being hired and um you replace somebody who I replace somebody somebody was was killed and it was playing with the reactor and you know they said well we're going to be working on the reactor but well you know um but so yeah there was obviously a lot of caution being taken but I from what Barry said and what Dennis said who is (24:24) my immediate Supervisor was that you know they were trying to make Leaps and Bounds way too fast and you know uh I was certainly not planning on doing anything like that especially hearing the news when you say think of yourself I shouldn't be here why they got me yeah yeah yeah please there's a billion people they could have hired you know that I thought would have been um you know a better choice for that but um they were they really wanted somebody it seems like they were stuck and they wanted somebody coming from left field
(24:57) with just new ideas just get us out of the rut and just move something forward man what did they get the right guy the mirror idea I don't know uh if that's the way let's go back to talk about the reactor so he showed you with this experiment in your hands you could feel it's a force field and how they faked that if they were faking it is amazing no I don't think you then you saw some other stuff the golf ball yeah demonstration tell me that story tell us well that wasn't really supposed to be a demonstration
(25:23) but uh yeah well in some way it was and you know once I said that's that's unreal this is a gravitational field and you can see that you know it's extremely strong by it and it tapers off and you know it's following the inverse Square law which is you know the uh the gravity radiation uh the the inverse Square law is essentially you know uh the uh amount of energy dissipates really quickly as distance increases so um you know it that was immediately noticeable to me and he said well check this out and you know (26:05) he had a golf ball winning you know winged it at the thing and it bounced off the field coming nowhere close to the the reactor and you know we have those ceilings suspended ceiling tiles in there and it knocked it out of place and you know he flipped out and said you know you know Dennis is going to be back in here to jump up on there we're trying to arrange stuff and you know fix the thing and he's knocking the the reactor around and going oh man it's my first day you know don't screw everything up so (26:37) and I'm taking the dust off the thing and boy the second we finished you know Dennis walks inside and is how things going she's great you know but stop she may have cooked and so it was uh something we'll say it's day one you've read this interesting briefings you don't know quite what's going on you do see this technology it's damned amazing what is your job what do they say you're supposed to do by the the bottom job is not to figure out how this thing works or you know let us know what this meant (27:07) is just can we make another one of these so just let us know if you can can we duplicate it totally duplicate it like it it doesn't have to be exact but find out how this thing works if we need to make something that's bigger or do it just but we want more of these things and just do it right now so that was it and the answer is can we I mean can we no no no no no no where this is not not even in the same ballpark is it because of materials or we just don't know yeah it's it's a ball look this is like dropping off an (27:43) iPhone in the Wagon Train days and say we're gonna need more of these we are now and yeah did you uh did you ask anybody hey where do we get these uh where did these come from no I you know I really didn't say there was so much other stuff that was flooding my brain that was just amazing and uh you know I was so excited to be there I didn't care where the thing came from it's you know it was beginning to trickle into my mind boy this is maybe what you know flying saws have crashed and styled Africa or something and we

(28:20) got it and we're taking it apart this is great you eventually saw all of them or you saw glimpses well when I looked through the doors I could see as far as you could tell they looked they didn't look like they'd been in a crash right well there's one one there's one and I mentioned this two along to you a long time ago and I I never added this one thing which I'll add now there was one like I said that had been shot with a projectile um and I know for a fact it came out of the water that's all I know
(28:52) you know what to refactor because that's what you were told yeah that it came out it was a big projectile like a Howitzer shell or something right it was about it's hard to judge from distances you know like from here to the exit sign how big is that but I'm guessing it was what a maybe a nine inch diameter hole the sport model no dents no screen no it looked like a camera out of the showroom and it looked like the Billy Meyer beam [__] yeah from the pictures I've seen of the Billy Meyer one which you know
(29:19) it looked fake to me but no there it is I'm sure the Billy Meyer people are happy about that but I mean you you know there's a lot of people don't take that case seriously and um it's either the most amazing coincidence and coincidence on the face of the Earth or something really did happen to that guy Billy Meyer so the sport model you called it you had names roll up yeah one half give me some other names well there's one that looked like the top hat and one was obviously a Jello mold and I you know but it was they were (29:50) just silly names because we were talking about them and you know they're talking about bird six and I'm like what's that is that the jello looking thing you know so I gave him my names and they stuck with them like they did in Los Alamos um so the sport model you've got to know that one pretty well though you got this yeah it's the only one I I just say I hands on I touched I walked in you know that I can say for all the other ones could have been holographic projections to fool me but um this is the only one I
(30:16) know is really before we talk about the test uh one other thing about the reactor and I want you to use this example to sort of explain how it worked you had told me a story about a candle and and again a flame that was basically Frozen tell me that story and why it gives us an indication of how this thing operated what power it had well when we had you know after the golf ball incident there was the benches we had set up the reactor was not the only thing in the craft the reactive sits in the center on the level underneath there are (30:53) well I should say the reactor surrounded by the reactor there are three gravity amplifiers as they were called directly under those there are emitters which are um told probably like 55 gallon drums there are three of them they hang directly under the emitters and apparently the way the device Works excuse me is um the reactor supplies the base gravitational wave and power to the amplifiers which channel it down to the emitters which Propel the craft so in addition to the reactor that was out of The Craft one of the emitters was also on the (31:33) bench now I don't know which craft this came out of it was not out of the sport model but they had the uh reactor operating and the emitter and Barry had taken a candle and put it about well I'd say about two feet from the end of the emitter and lit the candle and it fired up the reactor and he said go check out the Kindle and the flame was there but it wasn't moving it was like a picture of it it was just Frozen and now that makes you think of a lot of things oh boy if it's we know gravity in (32:14) time or interrelated and you know okay one is essentially the other and fine if gravity if it stopped or slowed time down there how are photons still being emitted so we can see the light it should just go black um you know there are a lot of things made absolutely no sense whatsoever with the science were familiar with but um this is these were just things he was showing me as a demonstration that uh you know uh you know the properties and what it's doing that are just so far beyond what we even know what's going on (32:48) and this had nothing to do with the work I mean we're uh if we're just supposed to make another one of these things somehow so yeah so help us understand what this technology means how advanced it is you know it becomes obvious at some point it's somewhere else we didn't make it because we're taking it apart to figure out how it works look a machine that makes gravity is the most important thing that mankind could probably create look we have electromagnets that make magnetic fields you know we can make (33:21) electric fields we you know with the Van de Graaff generators and you know God knows what else but you know to make a gravitational field is like the the the last piece of a missing pie because when you can art right now the only thing that makes gravity as far as we know is mass you just need a bunch of stuff and it's a property of mass that it just magically pulls in things you know we observe gravity we see what it does but we really don't know what it what it is we can throw some equations together and say well it works like this (33:54) but we really don't know what's behind it but if you can make a machine that on demand makes gravity you know all the stuff we write science fiction about stops becoming science fiction that afternoon then force fields become a reality you can shift time I mean everything becomes possible it's uh it's it's the most important thing and here is an operating machine sitting in front of us that makes gravity and due to we really want to be able to make one of those things I mean you could make (34:28) impenetrable Fields you can do to have propulsion that is mind-boggling as the crafts operate it would be the Ultimate Weapon well that not just the Ultimate Weapon but it would really be the ultimate thing it would it would catapult mankind forward and what really sucks is the military is in control of this I should have done crap [Applause] I I neglected to mention this during my presentation but Bob and I have talked about before getting Ben Rich who uh Jim Goodall knows and and interviewed several times Ben Ridge was the head of (35:08) the Skunk Works which uh was the they operated things at Groom Lake and uh and had been there they developed the U2 and SR-71 and stealth if anybody would know about advanced technology it's him and Kelly Johnson so um a lot of people have speculated whether Ben rich and those guys had Incorporated alien technology into some of the advanced airframes that we've got and I even had a chance to ask him on the day that the stealth was unveiled out there at Nellis whether any alien stuff was in there he said no but other (35:38) people have talked to him Jan harzan who's here from mufon heard a speech that Ben Rich gave at UCLA and which he basically said we now have the technology to take E.T home we had the calculations slightly wrong but we can do anything you can imagine we can travel to the stars but he said the technology is locked up in Black but black budgets and black programs and will never see the light of day what do you think about that well as we're like the same thing yeah that sounds exactly like what I'm saying you (36:08) know I hope that's not the case but I mean how do you pry it out of there it's it's it really there should be a lot more people working on this that's a lot more well that that's sort of what why you became disenchanted with it but we'll come back to that let's talk about the sword Model A little bit you got to see it Fly you got to see a test yeah once well one's close up um Barry and I were in the lab we were working um Dennis came in and he said there's a test flight going on Bob

door um and probably about two minutes after I got there the craft just began to silently lift off the ground and there was a guy between where I was standing and the door that had a small desk and there was uh some sort of transmitter on it and he was just on a microphone talking apparently (37:23) to somebody in the craft and at the time that again immediately set up a red flag in my mind going that's not supposed to work either there is a craft being powered and surrounded by an intense gravitational field how are the radio waves getting into this thing this it just didn't make sense but again very few things did there and I didn't have much of an opportunity to connect all the dots but um it lifted off the ground silently there was an obvious a high voltage Corona discharge it was beginning to get a little late
(37:58) but you could see the purple blue glow but as soon as it lifted off you know 6 10 feet that dissipated and it just moved around sat back down where it was but it wasn't it doesn't sound like much but it was incredibly impressive there wasn't there wasn't a sound other than a little hiss when it first took off but you know it's a big device it moved around and uh and sat down and I mean I was just I was beaming it was so cool you didn't get this it didn't fly off to Venus or anything and people no no no no no no
(38:30) this this is their this is their prize catch here I mean they no one is going out there and taking it out of the atmosphere and risking it I mean it was a big deal um you know like a be good um I'm sure I don't know if they knew how to get it into that mode but um you know like the test flight data that I saw they even uh were very careful on what days to take it above the mountain range where traffic was at low at its lowest in the surrounding area itself they were very concerned about who could see what and (39:03) you know how much they risked the thing moving around but it was uh I was quite a prized possession of their so you saw the reactor up close and you saw the craft inside not only the test but you got in it yeah later on later on it was uh again you know we have to look at at everything we're trying to figure out how this device works from nothing so uh and it's technology you know we can barely grasp so uh you know obviously the placement orientation of the components and sub-components might be critical to the operation of it
(39:38) so um I was let in uh one time there were several other technicians in there doing their own thing I don't know what they were working on but we wanted to see where the reactor was how it you know how it was positioned um you know where the amplifiers were and this is when you know I described to you there was a access to a lower level to where the emitters were which was a small hexagon shaped area that had a what I thought was a really creative collapsible uh doorway and um I guess the only analogy is if you take uh (40:19) oh you know what six pack of beer that comes in bottles and you take out the little divider there it's if you stand it up by itself it's really strong it'll hold a lot of weight but you can easily collapse it flat by the side this is essentially a metal version of that and it was a hexagon shape with a little hole and you can walk on it but you can just put your finger in the hole and pop it and the whole thing snaps over to where you have a you know hole you can kind of stick your head upside down and
(40:49) which is what I did I just leaned in there and they wanted me to see how the you know specifically how the arms that held the emitters connected to the bottoms of the amplifiers and those in themselves were fantastic technology describe the interior what it looks like it's very very Bland if I uh again was to give you an analogy I would say it was if you put all these components in there pretended everything was made out of wax heated up for a bit and let it cool off there was never a sharp angle anywhere
(41:22) anytime something sat somewhere perpendicular to it it had a radius of curvature to it um everything had a smooth curve everywhere it was all one color um was it all one piece it it looks like it was one giant injecting molded thing but there was not there was not a seam there was not a rivet there was not a Fastener it was just all there any buttons and he got me here no place to put in the key no and there's no wiring you mentioned about I'll use the term Furniture because you gotta look we've both got a lot of (41:59) belief yeah too far that's very yeah well that was because I was you this was I think the first interview on TV and I was well I was writing for a couple of reasons first of all that I wasn't supposed to be saying anything and the fact that it was on TV and I didn't know what kind of big mistake this was and um so you asked me what was inside or describing I was trying to work think of the word seeds and I couldn't in a million years get that out of my mind and all I could say is there's Furniture in there and I know it sounded (42:32) ridiculous and everybody said well that guy can't be a scientist he doesn't even know what the word seed is you know it's just stress does that to you it was the size of it though it was small yeah it was Yeah well yeah that's that's that's quite a critical point everything was very small it looked like uh well maybe that's where the it popped into my mind because I was thinking of uh you know the children's you know furniture set or tea sets you get for little kids that have you know the

(43:30) bit of how it operates yeah obviously and in the sport model the ones that I went in they removed one of the uh amplifiers which was really shocking to me um none it now the reactor and emitter all those were in that one so these Musta that must have come from another craft which made me at least partially to believe that these all may have the same Power Systems in them which you know really makes you think that's so the one you had of the lab that you were working with yeah well components had to come from same where (44:09) other was in the in the sports Market yeah but wasn't the smart models so at uh you know you can extrapolate and say hey hold up yeah it's kind of like a Chevy they all have the same kind of engine and they're different uh but I don't know it's all conjecture let's talk about the fuel so big um it's an interesting part of the story and a bone of contention for a lot of folks element 115.
(44:34) how did you know it was 115 describe its properties to describe its properly wait what does it do what what why well so miraculous well I it let me put it this way the uh we weren't given the task to say you know analyze the fuel find out what it is and you know they just again the thing was and there was a lot of push to it was uh what is that and do we have any and um you know that's that's it and these guys really do talk and think like that it's just you know what did you guys do today we just looked at this the other day but
(45:10) um you know I mean we you know if you remove the top of the reactor there's a little Tower in there with a cap and there is a triangular piece of fuel on there what we call the fuel because if you put that in everything starts to work we analyzed what was there now somehow again we didn't have access to all the information but somehow Los Alamos had something to do with either keeping or storing the fuel now it's uh we did all kinds of tests on it not just us we had it sent all that equipment isn't there we don't have (45:50) you know all kinds of interesting spectrographs but um we had it tested and we just wanted to see where this was on the Periodic Chart what kind of Peaks we get off of it and you know maybe it's just if you know a unique fuel maybe it's just some you know a blend of a nuclear material but when it became obvious that this isn't even on our usable Periodic Chart you know that's that's essentially where we stopped you know and said if we weren't going to analyze the material and see if we could make it we just (46:20) wanted to know if it was something that we could possibly use and it wasn't you told me that we couldn't make it why why couldn't we make well and just like any heavy element or super heavy element more specifically um you know the only naturally occurring heavy elements uh uranium I mean as soon as you get anything heavier than that you know a larger number of protons you have to make artificially and that's that's a difficult job because you either like to make plutonium which are country loves you
(46:51) know you have to take um you know other materials put them in a reactor let it run for a couple years and then you can in the case of plutonium you can chemically separate out you know the small quantity of that now even heavier elements you have there's more difficulty obtaining um you know extremely heavy ones like 110 you I mean you have to make that on an atom by Adam basis an accelerator where you're you know slamming accelerating single atoms are beams of other atoms you know near the speed of light (47:25) smacking them together and it doesn't make a usable quantity I mean you may get the interaction you want and it flies off and hits a detector you know in a fraction of the speed of light you go but that was 115 and you know that's when they say well you know we synthesize winds but that's what it is it's not like a cup pops out and we've we've got some you know it's uh it's just uh you know a particle comes flying out when he goes well at at these angles at this Magnetic Moment at that speed it (47:53) will be 115 and if you get a peek at that you know boom it comes off it's a little display on a thing and right we we made 115 but you know it actually make usable quantities forget it would take you know the entire resource the resources of my country forever you know to get a gram or so how much was up there well they say there was 500 pounds of the material now was that recovered in a craft was that separate they certainly didn't synthesize it but you know where it came from I I have no idea but it but again

(48:30) Los Alamos had something to do with it because they they renamed it la1000 I know there are shipments back and forth there but I I think it had to be from what I understand it had to the if you assume a cylinder of this material it has to be machined into a cone and that cone sliced uh well it has to be stacked first like a bunch of quarters stacked on top of one another then machined into a cone and then sliced to be usable in the reactor now all of that had to do with the metallurgical guys and we weren't even (49:04) allowed to know why but I knew that was necessary for whatever it's worth reactor doesn't work without 115. did you ever do an experiment to try some other kind of fuel no no I mean I mean quite honestly we really didn't know what was going on there I mean we had a basic idea of at least we thought again we just had a report to what was going on so it's not like you can never say you know we really don't know we've been working on this two weeks you better come up with something so it's uh you know like we
(49:34) think it's a we think it's an accelerator and you know we we've identified that that's you know 114 115 once again it looks like it's 115 it's an element and you have to explain this stuff to guys that absolutely have minimal scientific background and just try that when you're dealing with stuff that's not even you know from the earth so how does it work I mean yeah how does it work um what you learn you get a piece of it a triangle it's in and and how does it look it really you just put the I I wish
(50:09) I had that model that uh is it really okay um you you just put the the fuel in there you there's a there's a little cap that sits on top and then as soon as you put it yet nothing happened but as soon as you put the lid on it turns on there's no on switch Yeah it's just it's like it attains resonance or something it just is on which makes you wonder how does it work in the craft because no one's taken the lid off because in the craft it sits on the ground and there's a conduit that sits over it and goes to (50:42) the top of the craft so but it's not clear how anything works in the craft and it generates gravity oh yeah yeah it generates its own graph artificial gravitational field and that lifts the craft off the ground we've had conversations uh in private about how this accounts for some UFO cases I mean it it in effect achieves invisibility in a sense you could be saying oh yeah absolutely yeah because light it will bend it around there and and if sorry I didn't leave that I left out that pretty important observation when the craft was (51:22) up I mean you could walk underneath and look straight up and you can't see the craft until you step to the side and it becomes visible again it's quite it's quite amazing you know so it it bit well it bends it bends live just like uh you know you could see on a hot roadway in the summertime how how heat would affect that coming off of uh you know but here you're you you're in a much more controlled situation and the way the shape of the gravitational field the artificial field around the craft if you
(51:56) look at that and then we're able to stand at different Vantage points you can just look around it now this isn't something new we know this from you know looking at far away Stars uh that they call it gravitational lensing where a star might be over here but because we're looking around another star it bends light and you know but here again here is an artificial Source a machine that does this and that's everything but yeah like I said all the science fiction Things become reality there's your (52:28) invisibility cloak there's your you know impenetrable force field here's your field propulsion system and you know here's you're even beginning to temper with you know potential time travel it occurs to you hey this could work not only in space but underwater maybe that's why the Navy's interested running the program I mean that it's odd isn't it that it's a U.

(52:49) S Navy around the program out there you know that never occurred to me huh no I don't I swear to this I never even thought about that thing operating underwater I wonder how it's fine though wouldn't it I guess I I don't know I don't I mean yeah I didn't understand why I wouldn't but um it'd be interesting to see what the water does you had said I remember that it and I could barely get my pointy little head around it when we were first talking about this but that uh if somebody had one of these and were out in space and
(54:17) Omicron mode a single one with slings swing sideways and you would have the other two sitting like that now what happens is the two that are facing straight down essentially act like a pedestal where they just keep the craft steady the one swung out to the side creates a gravitational Distortion off the edge and this in in urban crime configuration these things really fly unstable they're they do not look like uh in any sort of high-tech uh in technology it uh to give you an example if you put a bowling ball
(55:10) in the middle of your bed and two feet away you take your fist and you push it down the bowling ball rolls towards it that's exactly how the craft operates it focuses the the single emitter and creates a gravity Distortion essentially a divot and space time and the craft rolls forward you know in the Distortion so that's basically how the thing moves around so and this is opposed to our conventional propulsion whether you're using uh you know a jet a rocket the propeller we always take something and accelerate it
(55:45) out the back using the action reaction principle and you know push forward and these guys are doing it exactly opposite they're creating a distortion in front and they're tucking towards it when Element 115 of course when you're talking about this stuff it did not exist we're so years away from it but you said you had told me in that first interview look uh we believed that there was an island of stability somewhere 115 116 somewhere in there uh and you know maybe someday we'll be able to make it
(56:13) it didn't exist then but they've made it since tiny little piece as you said with that news Adam's out people say some people said aha Bob was right others people say aha Bob was wrong because this isn't 115 at all it doesn't behave anything like what you said there's not 500 pounds of it that's for sure so and there's not 500 pounds I mean like they had up there we couldn't make 500 pounds of it no no obviously not and well I mean you're talking about physical quantities and also you know
(56:40) atom quantities from fabricating it but uh yeah I mean it is the the island of stability isn't something that we came up with I mean that's been theorized since probably the 50s said it you know it just looks like in the uh you know physical makeup where it's just a geometric stacking I guess of protons and neutrons it's certain combinations they're stable and other combinations they're not well it you know it looks like further up in the Periodic Chart what if we haven't ever had anything with 115
(57:13) protons or something in that range looks like that might become stable and you know that was actually in Our Minds when we're trying to identify I said boy this thing is off the charts you know is it are we looking at the island of stability and um I'm beginning to get lost here well I was in circle are we going with this the 114 that was synthesized oh yeah so the 115 again you know I think they what did they whack together uh calcium and uh I don't know business or something like that but they did a they did a unique (57:44) collision and accelerators and they made yeah a few atoms of it and they went this is you know 115 and it decayed now obviously this is a stable material but um a different isotope yeah it's like I said there's uh you know we have hydrogen that's uh you know one on the Periodic Chart just like 115 is 115 it has one proton 115 is 115 proton well there's hydrogen which is protium which we're all familiar with hydrogen gas it's flammable it's stable it doesn't you know Decay but there's (58:15) you know two other isotopes of hydrogen there's still hydrogen still element one and you know one we call deuterium there's two protons it's uh it's also stable

um but it's different it's heavier and there's another one called tritium which is radioactive and it decays about Half-Life about 12 and a half years um again they're different isotopes they have different numbers of neutrons they have the same amount of protons so it's the same thing no doubt 115 has the God knows how many Isotopes (58:50) um we know at least one is stable there's probably you know several that are unstable and you know again they if they keep playing around with it and I don't see why they wouldn't I'm sure they're going to find a stable isotope and oh idea of um anti-gravity propulsion we've heard it from scientist that guy does lizardas know what he's talking about that's impossible it violates this and violates that and you've heard that you've dealt with it I mean yeah Tom was one of the guys that say it's violates (59:20) this you would have said that before yeah yeah you would have said things about UFO people this can't be I mean you were pretty dismissive right which is the way I shouldn't be you know and I I give a lot of people you know crap about that too because you know look if you're gonna if you're gonna work in a scientific field you're going to be a scientist and you know in any capacity the most important thing is to keep an open mind because uh you know look back in time they said you know 30 miles an (59:49) hour is the fastest a human body can possibly take and that was written as a scientific fact I mean that's what I disbelieved then and they all agreed on it and you know how many other things are we you know they said this is the way it is you you cannot do that you know you have to keep an open mind look flying saucers I used to laugh at John Lear and have a good time of it I still do but that's a different story but um you know but um I have to give him credit you know he was talking about you know they have flying
(1:00:18) saucers up at the area 51 really John you know I just be an adult now but um you know there's a lot and as far as the technology yeah it violates a lot of what we know which concerns me because some of the things we know are laws and the reason we call them laws and not theories is because they've been verified time and time again you know with experimental proof and you know that's supposed to be cast and stalled so you don't want to see anything that violates the law to see any aliens up there I know several of (1:00:57) the people who submitted questions wanted to ask about aliens I mean the only if you did see you know this came from yeah that now the diagram you want to call that seeing an alien the only other time and I know it's because this one incident I told that one time I was being let in and dragged my hand across the Craft um we went in that door there's a corridor to the right and you immediately turned to go to the labs well as you turn to the right there is a door and it has a small you know a window on it that has the
(1:01:29) little wires running through it I peeked in there as we turned the corner and that's when I saw I I've told you this before there were two guys there and a little tiny thing that they were looking down at you know and and I just walked by told to keep my eyes forward and you know I I think I told Gene that and a couple other people and I said well you probably saw well not the gene said that but you know what you probably saw an alien or whatever I don't think that was the case I I think even to this day I think they they had a
(1:01:59) little dollar or something because they were trying to find out you know whatever size creature would fit in the craft and you know they were you recognize the term the kids did you ever hear the term the kids yeah and that's referring to the creatures that ran the craft so they called them the kids wherever these yeah craft came from but you never got an answer how we got them or no that was just incidental talking that you know and so had nothing to do with me you know you've heard all the stuff over the years they of those who don't
(1:02:30) believe your story they believe you're either making it up or it's disinformation that you're working for them out there that's spreading the story so you're making it up no no you couldn't make it up now really no I'm sorry that's way too much for me to handle um no really I don't and I don't look a lot of people are into you know UFO stuff and I just kind of exploded on to the scene and said hey I don't follow UFOs I don't follow reports I don't know who's researching (1:03:06) what I don't know the names of people involved and um but on the other hand you know I know people make their living doing this sort of thing and um you know if I just pop in one day and say hey this happened to me I did this and this and this but you know I'm I'm out I'm not part of this um I can understand how that can interfere with their you know income stream or their belief system or whatever and they need to attack me but look I'm sorry this what I said happened absolutely happened period that's it

(1:03:36) [Applause] you know I've been speaking about you for a long time a couple times a year ago I'll explain the story from my perspective and and defend you because it deserves to be defended and I believe the story as as it's been told but you know you go out there and you hear all kinds of of crazy theories about uh what you're doing and who you work for and everything and um there are those who have a lot of trouble with um I can understand that look if the tables were reversed I honestly who could not say I would believe my story
(1:04:17) look there's not enough I can provide enough information and so in some cases won't to you know to back up my story and um you know if the tables are reversed I I have to take that other side and go look unless you can you know provide more proof um it's I just can't say that you know I'm behind it and I I have to agree with that so why do things go south for you it seems like the a scientist's dream to work on a program like this why in the world would you walk away from that or tell anybody else about it do you were
(1:04:52) you picked because they figured you would tell somebody about it no I mean that that doesn't make any sense well um I mean well what happened was I mean it was kind of more of a personal nature between my wife and I at that time now it's not like I had a nine to five job and they said you know come out at these hours it was it was really a sketchy setup that they would call me um the place at EG and G by the airport what what was that I was on Sunset Road over yeah I I think it was called something I can't remember anyway they
(1:05:29) would call me and say you know it's now 8 45 by 9 15 we expect you to be you know at the building and and board the craft and you know the airplane yeah so um and it would be at a moment's notice like that well and it's like I was so really thrilled to be part of this project um I was keeping with the whole program like I couldn't talk to my wife you know I said look I'm working at at the test site there it's on I said it's on secret nuclear stuff you know and that's it um but again I get calls in the middle
(1:06:08) of the night she can't hear who they are and I said I gotta go it's work you have to go to work at eight o'clock at night and you may not be back you know until the middle of the night of the morning I said yeah that's just the way it goes and that happens you know time and time again and you know if the phone picks up and you know my wife picks it up they hang up you know and um you know so then they call back I pick up the phone yeah it's Bob here and uh yeah okay two hours I'll be there well after a while that
(1:06:37) seems like something else in fact maybe not after a while but pretty quick and um you know I mean it's something I could laugh at now but it it was not funny then and um you know I um I kept with the program never said anything to her and um you know she thought I was having an affair and yeah you know as time went on going back and forth um was she she really didn't have a job or anything to do so I started since I was making money from here now I got her flying lessons down at McCarran airport and to give her something you know to do
(1:07:19) and uh anyway she started having an affair with the flight instructor so um you know I had no knowledge of this but you know part of the requirements of the project and the security requirements really were to have my phone monitored now I'm going back and forth to work and now they are listening to this affair progress on the phone that I know nothing about and you know one of the things one of the main things is that you'll be you know mentally and physically stable and they're really concerned about that
(1:08:02) so it reached a point one day where they didn't call and they were kind of in a quandary at that point going they you know what are we going to do with Lazar we got to see if either this you know Affair Fizzles out or they break up or whatever so you know that I just stopped coming and I stopped getting the calls I called Dennis I don't get return calls and you know days are going by and you know now Tracy's going back and forth and flying and doing stuff she's busy all the time because you know she's got a boyfriend
(1:08:37) and you know I'd be getting to get now beginning to get really concerned I mean these guys are so over the top of security and you know we want to know everybody that knows this material we want to know where they are 24 hours a day so on and so forth they're not even calling me what's going on and so I started getting concerned and I reached a point where I don't know where the breaking point was but I I think it I'm pretty sure it was Gene Hoff the first you know guy that you know I talked to and um (1:09:08) and said you know kind of spilled my guts hey look this is what I've been doing out there and you know told Tracy too and um hey let's go see him yeah well I I had I also had when I know we're skipping over lots of stuff but I had um there were you know charts of the test flight days and which days that they were going to go over the mountain and do that what they call high performance tests so those days statistically on that Highway they went by the lowest number of Travelers was on a Wednesday night so Wednesday night I

(1:09:41) think eight o'clock was like the test night so I thought I knew how long they were going to be in there and all that stuff just from memory so I told these guys I said this is going to be an unbelievable story but this is what I've been doing you know I can go out there and show you guys but I'm starting to get concerned that they don't like me anymore for some reason and that I'm just gonna like disappear um so I just want somebody else to see what I had done and gay he's just gone one day and at least you guys have a
(1:10:11) story and so we go out there take everybody and uh well you know the story we go out it's yeah eight o'clock did everything happens like I said and um you know lands and then uh you know now it finally hits Tracy oh my God he wasn't having an affair and so you know if she breaks off the Affairs you know and it it is just a giant mess it's embarrassing yeah I messed them up but I mean it is the human side of the story that that yeah but the other Human Side as I alluded to it and my talk is that
(1:10:45) there's stuff that happened to you in that period after after they caught you the third time they went out they got caught and so they want to talk to you and they're very upset Dennis in particular the guy fell yeah so they want to talk to you and and then a whole series of really bad things started happening share with us a little bit about what that period was like because it's hard to it's hard to convey it and that it was really all on but it was real yeah I was um the uh well I guess it
(1:11:14) started when we got caught you know when we got caught that time um I can't quite remember which time that happened but you know we had we had gone out again with the test flight data two times and been there on Wednesday nights and Gene huff and we had an ever increasing amount of people that we began to trust to go out there and uh which is getting really ridiculous I think we even brought a motor home out there we're parked out on the road because nothing uh now you know once you start getting away with
(1:11:51) something you get a little cocky and thinking of why they can't see us so we're out there and you know Gene and I kind of joke around sometimes and say stupid stuff you know pretending that someone's out there listening so we're sitting out there on the dirt road the test flight time is coming up we're sitting leading on the front of the car and you know I it's a junior says something to the effect is well I hope they out there they don't realize that we've got those other 150 you know team
(1:12:24) members out back with you know automatic weapons and everything and they're getting ready to storm the base and I said they can't possibly know about all those guys you know and so right after we said that not now it's Pitch Black it's you can't see your hand in front of your face not 50 feet in front of us who saw a little green thing fall on the ground and roll to us and they're about saying there what and as it turned out there were a whole bunch of guys standing there in the dark watching us
(1:12:52) through night vision scopes and after I said that a guy dropped one and it rolled over to us they turn on you know turn on the lights okay everybody come with us and you know that uh and I had told the story about the break-in the car I mean they I remember going to your house after a break-in and you had the uzi out and you're ready to shoot somebody and then the break-in at the car at the gym that stuff really happened it was really going on oh yeah that was with Mario the guy um you know it was a truck driver now he um
(1:13:25) was going to uh and we were just working out at a local gym near us and I was at uh this was at the probably the highest paranoia stage and I had a you know and Uzi in the the front and you know Mario and I got to the place and I said okay it's loaded here we're safe to go outside and we opened the car doors we close them and we may even make a joke about it we locked the doors we try and open them okay okay the car is secure we go in there and you know joking you think we'll be safe for half an hour and
(1:14:00) yeah I think we can do it and we you know we come walking out there's all the doors the trunks open the Boozies laying out there my wallet you know and we just looked at each other this is impossible you know but uh yeah that that happened

Mario tells that story probably every day you got some point you decided to talk to me you know we did that interview in silhouette I can't quite remember why what that well and how that happened there was just too much going on but I know at some point that was really again uh Lear was making a a big (1:14:32) deal he started naming off the people that he knew that suddenly disappeared and he said you know unless you talk to this guy George Knapp you know and if you go out on the air they all you know they'll be afraid to talk to you I said John they're not afraid to to do anything you know it's but uh I called you anyway or he did and then it kind of hits the fan they're really mad at him and and then that's when a lot of really bad stuff started happening and then we we decided to record an interview just (1:14:58) for safe keeping in case something happened to him so it was a couple of hours on tape and I under the condition that I wouldn't use that until Bob said okay it was eight months eight months until we got the okay and I worked done him every day to talk him into allowing me to use it and tell the story I assuming he was still alive and on the day that we were ready to broadcast it it was part six of a nine part report uh Bob suddenly changes his mind and grabs the video talk as you were going to say who I was yeah we're getting ready to (1:15:28) identify him I'm worth 10 minutes from going on the air he's we're wrestling over the tape he did [__] as a UFO profiteer and Messiah coming forward and making up stories he was a very reluctant witness I can tell you um you regret it I mean we heard a little bit of it at times you certainly regret it because it's it's you know a lot for my life I mean it's changed yeah it has it um not it's not good this is hot no I mean that's what's kind of entertaining to me people you know they go oh you made up
(1:16:00) some story I bet you're making all kinds of money on there where does where I want my can cut but uh no it right you know to be honest I did have I did have the opportunity I mean new line studios in Colombia you know when they heard all this I mean the president of Columbia Pictures came down and you know you well you're in there right yeah and um yeah you say we're doing this and you know and they started giving me screenplays and like no you know um you know like today it was as a James Bond movie they had me running over the (1:16:32) tops of cars it's like look hey do you tell the story how it happened or just or leave me out and just make up a UFO story but you you can't it has to be exactly what happened and so it was just constantly everything being turned down it's like you know what we're not doing it I mentioned before about me going out and doing presentations about you and one of the things I always said is that look Bob doesn't show up at UFO events he's not cashing in on it there's nothing wrong with those who do if you can make some
(1:17:01) money at it more power to you because it fuels the research but um you've you've never done that before that's not the case anymore why did you decide to come here right well I really didn't you know I um you are here yeah I know I'm here but um now I know a lot of people mentioned you know a 20 luck there's this big UI and I've never been to a UFO convention I mean I thought they were like Star Trek inventions people walking around with antennas and stuff but um you know I didn't want to be have
(1:17:33) any part of that and um you know what uh to the people that arrange this in you and no this is the class thing just come down there's 25 years once in your life just say something and I you know well everything I've said has already been said either on the internet and why would anyone even care to just hear it again so I finally just said okay fine just to stop you from hassling [Applause] well the the way [Applause] but it it really didn't end there and that was just a moment of weakness and then about you know about uh and one of
(1:18:21) the reasons why is because it was like two or three months away so I just yeah for February I'm fine whatever you want to do and then and then um anyway a few weeks went by and it kind of hit me that one day that date's gonna come around and I you know so I I was more than that maybe it was uh you know three or four weeks or something like that so anyway I I called them back here and I said no you know I'm really thinking about not doing that and now I'm I'm sorry and you know I told my wife and George and you
(1:18:53) know and I really didn't realize there were this many people that were interested and you know they said you can't back out you know we've been advertising there's going to be a lot of people here and you know that's when I said you've got 15 or 50 speakers or something it's just one list that's going to be here but um seriously you don't recognize so you don't understand that people are so interested in seeing you and hearing from you it doesn't register why not no

(1:19:19) but I I appreciate that I do but um I mean that you know they made that clear aside from the fact that they'd sue me if I didn't so you know I said in a nice way yeah nice way and besides I will go so I am here well the fact that you said that you would do it because I keep pestering you I take that as no no so I did you know I I did give him my word I did and it's not like I'm you know it's too bad I well and then I told you it'd be great it'd be cool well no problem um you know when you look at you heard
(1:19:51) my the presentation about how far the story has traveled how many Industries and and businesses it is launched the Extraterrestrial Highway that's from you um that Las Vegas 51's baseball team yeah they feel boy people jumped capitalizing on it really really quickly it's amazing I mean Area 51 mentioned in movies and some Tom Hanks movie or you know Independence Day or something it's it's overwhelming yeah I guess it's uh it's hard for me to grasp you know it's almost um it's I don't know how to describe it so
(1:20:27) this the experience here so far has been pretty good for you might you do it again or might you open up a little bit or oh but there's nothing else that's the whole story you got a list of names then I think you haven't given me yet no I mean look I believe me I could really make it easy to verify a bunch of things and I do not want to do that at all it I really would prefer people don't buy the story because it makes look my day-to-day life is has nothing to do with UFOs and being the UFO guy is a big problem it's hard to
(1:21:04) get contracts and beat you know taken seriously and I you know I don't want the last thing I want is you know a movie coming out or something like that it would be a catastrophe well it'll be a great movie if they made it right well I don't know you know it was amazing though a year or so a couple years ago the there's the story about this Russian spy that was killed by use of polonium and oh yeah they called me right national network people want to do a story let's see where can we get polonium and they find
(1:21:33) online well here's a guy who sells it it's Bob lasagna yeah yeah yeah they're at the house the first day but um do you get stopped I mean you know got people stop you on the road I know you get emails and phone calls well emails you know people asking you know questions that um you know they really aren't up on you know the topic at all it said you know has anyone tried to you know duplicate one of these the crafts well you know that was the whole aim of the project there and but um you know they're just hearing that there's a guy
(1:22:06) that might have worked on flying saucers and you know this is his email address but by the way I'm not on Facebook there's these guys that pretend to be me and I keep getting these emails hey thanks for friending me on Facebook what are you talking about it so I hope well it's I think this is our time we're up I've been asking questions from the submitted by folks including in this and uh you know I think that people are just excited to hear it directly from you tell the story and again I I certainly (1:22:37) understand why people would have a hard time believing it but I do it's true yeah it really is it really is but really at down yeah exactly that way like everything [Applause] I want to thank you uh thank you all for coming hope you enjoyed the conversation with Bob and uh maybe I can pester him into doing this again sometime thank you very much

Former Area 51 Worker Bob Lazar Interview - YouTube

Transcript:
(00:01) I admitted teller at Los Alamos one day uh we had a brief meeting and a talk I had shortly thereafter moved to Las Vegas and basically left the scientific Community to do other work uh sometime later I decided to re-enter and send applications out to several other National Labs and also wanted to add teller and he uh gave me a call and he said he might have something that I'd be interested in and suggested that I go for an interview shortly thereafter someone from EG called and told me to come down for an interview there (00:47) they made it very clear that EG and G had nothing to do with it they were just using the building as a place to do the interview after a short time they said I was basically overqualified for the position but they may have something else in the future and I don't remember how much time lapsed after that but shortly thereafter they asked me to come down for another interview and they said this was involving uh I don't remember what their exact wording but they led me to believe it was a field propulsion system and (01:20) and of course I thought it was something that in secret that we were working on uh later only did I find out that it was uh you know a back engineering program dealing with alien craft I flew out of Las Vegas McCarran Airport and I flew to groom Lake you know 737 aircraft we land at Groom Lake and there's a bus there that drives about 15 miles south approximately I'm really not sure exactly how far down to a smaller dry lake bed known as Papoose like and right up against the side of the mountain is the uh S4 installation

(02:04) and what happened to your first when your internet uh it was very military-like it was certainly not a scientific atmosphere very high security everywhere you you walked you had to have an escort an armed escort even even into the bathroom all doors locking open with your uh with your badge and uh it was a very oppressive atmosphere and how many times did you spend on this atmosphere before you saw the craft for the coaster I believe I was only there two or three days probably two days before I saw the craft stores
(02:50) and take your feelings when you saw it for my feelings it was very uh I should step back a minute and say that when I first saw the craft the first time it was walking into the hangar and my impression was well this explains all the UFO sightings this is just a secret military aircraft we're working on and that's the end of that it was actually the second time when I saw the craft when I got to enter it and look over it and I finally realized what was going on that this is an alien craft and of course this was after I read the (03:30) briefings and uh that was a totally different feeling that was not a feeling of excitement it was almost an anonymous feeling that uh a feeling is if you shouldn't even be there it's very difficult to describe it looked like if anyone's familiar with uh Billy Myers sightings very astonishing similar to that that craft it was a very Sleek thin looking Flying Saucer shaped craft kind of hard to describe without drawing it but kind of a typical Flying Saucer shape [Music] um there were nine total I only got two
(04:26) essentially work back engineer analyze one of the craft but there was a separate hanger for each of the crafts and each one was essentially different in its visual appearance did anybody tell you about the if you listen to the intelligence no no not at all that's uh a lot of people have speculated about it that they were either shot down or they crashed uh but uh the craft seem undamaged so I doubt either of those would be correct I have five feet inside of an alien it's very plain it's all one solid color
(05:06) uh a grayish pewter color the same color as the outside of the craft and there are no sharp Corners anywhere every device in the craft the seat the amplifier housings everything has a rounded corner on it almost as if it was all fashioned out of wax and then slightly melted so everything curved even where the ceiling meets the floor on the end everything has a curve to it very very plain very wide open a very impractical use of space and there are three levels the lower level um houses the amplifiers themselves that
(05:46) swing the three of them the center level is where you enter the craft or the seats in the amplifiers are and the top level is a small area and I did not have access to that so I don't know what's up there people think they're alien craft Ed absolutely alien craft there's no question about it what well first of all the scope of the project was to back engineer it if they were United States craft we wouldn't be going backward trying to find out how they were built if we had built them second of all the size
(06:18) of the equipment inside the size of the seats the materials that were in use completely alien to us pardon the pun and you know the fuel Element 115 essentially non-existent all these factors together and of course the briefing information stating that they were alien craft and because anybody tell you have a propulsion function well that was part of my job was to back engineer that and find out exactly how that operated and they had made some progress but uh I really don't know how long the craft was was there being analyzed if it was (07:01) one year or ten years before I got there but it seems like only a modest amount of progress had been made the propulsion system is really an amazing setup there's two parts gravity amplifiers and the reactor that provides the power the reactor itself is a total Annihilation reactor fueled by antimatter total Annihilation is essentially the most efficient nuclear reaction that takes place of the three fission fusion and annihilation it uses a super heavy element Element 115 as it would appear on the Periodic (07:40) Chart none has yet been synthesized on Earth it's my opinion that this occurs naturally in in certain star systems this element is bombarded in an extremely small accelerator the element under bombardment undergoes spontaneous fission and produces any miter particles these are interacted with a gaseous matter Target and by means of a 100 percent efficient thermoelectric device is converted into electricity now a hundred percent efficient any electric device is essentially impossible you know either the first law of (08:26) thermodynamics is that's basically impossible there has to be waste heat and things of that sort but there's none detected in this system it's another amazing form of Technology this tremendous amount of power the system generates operates the amplifiers and also as a byproduct of the 115 undergoing uh this bombardment it produces a very interesting phenomena a gravity a wave as it's known to be called this gravity a wave has it travels in um it was almost the same way microwaves travel this is essentially applied to the

(09:14) gravity amplifiers and by means of the electric current also provided by the reactor is Amplified and focused the Amplified signal is shift shifted slightly out of phase and and by virtue of that they can repel or attract a gravitational body The Craft can take off on one gravity amplifier there are three in this particular craft when it's using just one amplifier essentially pushing away from the earth it's known as Omicron configuration for space travel the craft will rotate up on its side face the three gravity amplifiers at the (09:53) Target they'll Focus down on a single point some tremendous distance away and the amplifier and the associated and the reactor the associated reactor will be run up to full power and they essentially pull the fabric of space distort space and time toward the craft so they can trim it Traverse a tremendous amount of distance and and virtually no time at all they're not traveling in a linear fashion they're essentially bending space since space the fabric of space essentially and gravity and time are all interlaced (10:28) when you start distorting gravity uses door time and space along with it and these are these aren't theories we've known these for a while we just have no way of controlling them but apparently the civilization has found out how um did you manage uh they've done several test flights in it not out of the atmosphere these are short controlled low altitude flights essentially they have a prized position here so they're not going to risk taking this to a point where they could potentially lose it as (11:03) you know as a gravitational pull of the Earth or going too high but I witnessed several tests outside the compound and also one you know probably about 100 feet away from the craft how did the craft behave that's like very very quietly it it lifted off and it made a slight hissing sound a slight blue glow from the bottom probably due to the extreme voltage that's present on the Craft um after a short time that that disappeared as it Rose and just gently glided and later sat down it was very uneventful but almost totally silent
(11:51) and can you please describe The Briefing documents and information uh it was they were an extensive amount 120 some odd briefing documents all of them very short and essentially what they were doing was just giving me an overview of the other aspects of the research being done on the craft and the bulk of the information all the technical information was specifically dealing with the power and propulsion system which is what I was supposed to be working on but there were documents uh uh basically stating that these were (12:33) aliens that possessed the craft there were some autopsy reports that uh not very in-depth they have no reason to give me in-depth reports on that but they did have pictures and uh well two pictures actually of that alien carcass with the chest cut open in a single organ removed and the organ itself was sectioned it seemed to for mine non-medical Viewpoint it seemed that this one Oregon performed many functions instead of one um there were documents on metallurgical work being done on the craft and really every aspect
(13:17) that separate groups were working on and I'm sure they got a briefing on what my group was working on a very abbreviated one as I did on theirs and this will say where the aliens come from yeah I did mention the Zeta reticulate system and how that information was extracted from the craft I don't know maybe there were Star Charts or something along those lines did they contain any information about the history of mankind and it is development not not really nothing that said well this is the way things were uh there

(13:54) there was mention of um alien intervention uh in in the past I mean extremely long ago uh something along the lines of uh millions of years ago for the information that that I looked at it it seemed that uh and there again these are briefing documents so I can't I I can't myself ascertain whether or not these are true I can only assume it because the briefing documents I read that pertain to the propulsion system were true because I I dealt with that but uh they did make reference to uh uh contact with the Earth over ten
(14:40) thousand years ago uh also with uh genetic alterations that ended in uh a Simeon being and I mean all kinds of uh claims did you ever meet an alien or some alien body other than in pictures no I've mentioned several times that I'd walk through an area and looked in a small window and saw something small there but I don't I I really can't say that was an alien body a lot of people jump on that and say yeah you must have seen an alien but there's just as much chance that they were trying to figure out the size
(15:21) difference and how the the seats fit a body and you know they had made up a small mannequin or something I didn't see anything moving around alive so I I always say no I have never seen a living alley for example that's very difficult to say I I really I really don't know I'm certainly not the most qualified as far as physics goes so I really don't know I've I approach things at a very different Viewpoint they might have been frustrated after a long time walking down the same path and not getting
(15:55) anywhere and they wanted someone essentially to come out of left field and approach it from a different angle with a different Viewpoint and uh I'm kind of known for that why did he went public with information when why why uh that's again a complex question it's not just one reason there's several uh stemming from from many things harassment to protect myself the fact that this information being contained is also unfair but there are many many reasons you in any way oh in every way yes I was uh (16:37) uh a shot at while getting on the freeway here in Las Vegas uh friends were harassed and taken out of work that that knew me um many things happened in the summer of 1988 um I was having this house appraised and the appraiser brought along it was very the appraiser was interested in UFOs and he brought along uh a friend of his uh who was a scientist former scientist at Los Alamos um the appraiser being interested in UFOs wanted the opinion of the scientist on UFOs and at that time I was doing a lot of lecturing there was a lot of (17:16) publicity about me and UFOs in the summer of 88. uh so I met this gentleman uh Bob Lazar uh and he didn't believe it at all he told me that he worked at Los Alamos on SDI he worked he had acute clearance uh he had a number of other compartmentalized clearances he he knew a lot of secret things he said that if there had been something like this some cover-up that he would have known about it so over the next uh three or four months we got to know Bob very well he got to know us and we passed him various information which he checked out with (17:57) the people that he knew that still worked at Los Alamos specifically uh people who had access to the classified Library I told him that project Grudge which the Air Force told us told the public was canceled in 1949 was still active he was able to determine through his friends who had access to the classified library at Los Alamos that it was still going on uh there was another thing that uh I had mentioned that the one of the aliens that we had captured were kept at a secret place called a YY Dash 2 facility
(18:31) uh he in fact found out that there was a classified mail stop at Los Alamos called yy-2 now that doesn't mean it would they kept aliens there but it showed that I knew secret things that were going on there was enough evidence there that that he thought well maybe there is something to this and he wanted to find out so having uh the specialized uh highly uh educated person that he was he held two degrees master's degrees from MIT and also knowing Dr Keller who was the father of the h-bomb he was able (19:06) to send his resume to Dr Teller who then called him and uh asked him where he wanted to work Dr patellar proposed two places either EG and G in Las Vegas or Lawrence Livermore Laboratories in California Bob said I want to work at area 51. uh he didn't tell doctor tell her the reason but he wanted to get as close as he could to where we thought the silencer testing was going on well during the next to six weeks after that he was contacted by EG and G he was given three security interviews and three interviews on his uh basic

usually did in the evening I was sitting here writing checks and he sat right in that seat and I said what's going on Bob and he said I saw a disc today and I said I was so startled I thought I didn't hear him I said what and he said I saw a disc today and I said theirs or ours and he said bears and I said you went to the test site he said yeah I just got back it's the first (20:18) time I went up there I said oh my God I said well what are you doing here I said don't jeopardize your security clearance work up there for a while and find out what's going on he said he said no he said you've taken so much Flack over this thing people not believing you I'm going to tell you exactly what I saw and for the next three hours and 47 minutes he proceeded to tell me exactly what he saw on his first trip up to S4 at the Nevada test site and basically it was that yes we had nine extraterrestrial Vehicles he (20:50) told me a little bit about the power plants he told me that he'd bring briefed on the aliens that flew them he told me that he'd he'd been briefed on a number of other secret things um he told me that we in fact did have a secret base on the moon he told me that we in fact did have a secret base on Mars a number of things some of which were so unbelievable it was it had I not known Bob to be truthful I would have been very suspect but I had known him for this period of time and I had no reason to to believe that he would tell
(21:24) me anything other but the truth the only evidence that we got is we were able to steal or otherwise obtain a piece of the fuel that powers uh the saucers it was Element 115 it's a stable element and we did several experiments with us we also videotaped these experiments the experiment was to prove the high gravitational attraction the the heaviness of the element and other things we proved it to ourselves unfortunately whoever is in charge of the cover-up stole it back the other thing was that on May on March 21st 1989
(22:11) he asked me if I wanted to do one of the test flights this was on a Tuesday and I said well sure but how are we going to see one and he said there's going to be a test flight tomorrow night just at Sunset and I know a place where we can sneak in still be on public land and watch it I said great so I said why at Sunset and he said well statistically up in that area there's the lease traffic around then so I drove with Bob and the real estate praiser Jean off and myself when we drove up there got there just a little (22:44) bit before Sunset I took my Celestron telescope we took a video camera got out of the car and within maybe 10 or 15 minutes this disc comes up from behind the mountains and starts doing all these fantastic Maneuvers it was a light a very bright light and you couldn't see the disc form but I had my Celestron scope with me which is eight inches extremely powerful and after a few minutes I was able to get it right in the the finder of the Celestron telescope and I saw for myself it was a disc there was no question in my mind
(23:21) and I just watched it go down behind the mountains 351 was uh basically a Navy training base until 1955 when in conjunction with the CIA Lockheed made a secret test space out of it and the reason was to test the U2 uh in 1959 60 and 61 they also tested the SR-71 out of there and it became a perfect area in which to test secret equipment and secret airplanes it was because it was so remote it was bounded on all sides by mountains and it was essentially a million miles from nowhere the security that it provided was just (24:10) exactly what they needed um in the after 1960 it became a area to test not only planes but equipment uh Machinery all kinds of secret things that they had in 1972 there is according to my research a complete blackout of detailed information records what have you for a period of 18 months nobody knows what happens between the summer of 82 and I think it was January of the summer of the 72 in January of 74.
(24:53) there's absolutely no record the dug the security guards they don't know what happened there I don't know what happened there I don't really have any uh suspicions because the Flying Saucer program began project red light began it's my information in Earnest at room like in 1960. they did attempt to fly one or two of The Craft there was a major accident and and the testing operations shut down for a number of years the testing operations began in Earnest again I Believe In 1980 81-82 around that area and the reason I say that is (25:29) because the security increased drastically during that period and I believe that uh just south of Green Lake which is in the northeast corner of uh of the Nevada Test Site uh is a place called Papoose Lake it's a dry lake uh there's a secret area there called S4 and I believe that that's where they test the saucers out of my sources are buried but the primary source being Bob Lazar who worked on one of benign saucers that were stored there

(00:13) i sat in a windowless room in a building somewhere on the site of a military installation at groom lake in the nevada desert the only sound was the faint hum of the fluorescent lights and the occasional passing of my pen across the page seated at a small rectangular desk for nearly an hour i had been filling out forms for a job i was really looking forward to beginning when it was to begin and what it was i would be doing was still a matter to be settled at least i knew for whom i was going to be working e g and g
(00:49) having previously worked at the los alamos national laboratory i was familiar with eg g's history named after three of its founders the scientists harold edgerton his one-time graduate student kenneth germashausen and later herbert greer they had executed high-speed photographic images of implosions tests conducted as part of the manhattan project the company continued as a defense contractor working with the atomic energy commission on a variety of projects at the nevada test site to develop weapons in las vegas most everyone either worked
(01:25) in the resort or gambling industry or as part of what hippies in the 1960s denigrated as the military industrial complex in that sense despite all the glitter and glamour associated with one of its industries las vegas was kind of a company town all dressed up in either sequins or lab coats or military uniforms then there were those who worked in various states of undress simply put i was aware of what went on at groom lake in the defense industry and of who some of the major players were if in january of 1989 i was eager to get (02:06) back to working in the scientific community after more than four years instead of the fairly lucrative but ultimately not very mentally engaging photo development business i owned and operated out of my house i was absolutely thrilled to be going to work for one of the biggest players in the defense industry i was especially keen on working for them because i'd always had an interest in explosive reactions the bigger the better what could be better than working alongside people at the forefront of our defense industry who had a long and (02:40) successful track record with the biggest of bangs nuclear weapons sign me up as the expression goes but the literal signing up was taking a lot more effort than i wanted it to some of my excitement was tempered by the fact that i was sitting in that room trying to dredge up the names and addresses of at least five individuals who knew me when i was living with my adoptive parents back in westbury long island new york in the mid 60s having worked at los alamos i was used to the idea of having to provide lists of references for a job and also a more
(03:17) comprehensive list of past residences acquaintances residences in order to receive the necessary security clearances for my work at eg g in what i was soon to learn was their special projects division i needed the highest clearance possible majestic i was told that level was 22 levels higher than the highest civilian clearance known as q clearance while i understood the need for that level of clearance it was still a pain in the ass to be sitting there racking my brain trying to recall the names and contact information of people i hadn't (03:56) seen in years i shifted uncomfortably in my seat and used the silver push button of a big click pen to trace the wood grain pattern on the table i smiled ruffly and shook my head i knew that a retractable pen like the one i held in my hand worked as a result of the interaction between the thrust tube the thrust device and the ink chamber and spring it could produce a reaction sufficient enough to launch the pen off the table surface by as much as eight to eleven millimeters i did not know however the contact information for my supervisor at (04:36) fairchild electronics in chatsworth california where i worked while attending classes at pierce junior college i'd spent most of my life interested in taking things apart and putting them back together such as retractable pens and other devices and i had made a jet powered bicycle in my youth and a jet powered car in my adulthood but piecing together my employment history and personal life was proving to be a real evil i looked up at the security guard who stood sentinel to one side of the closed door and wondered if he found this trial by (05:13) memory as tedious as i did he was rooted there in what i'd jokingly come to think of over the years as penis protection mode the manner in which many military men stood when in public his crossed hands were anchored in front of his groin his feet spread to just shy of shoulder width his light blue uniform was military style but bore no adornments stripes insignias badges to indicate rank or any other kind of identification he stood square jawed and staring straight ahead as if there was something far beyond the (05:50) walls of this 12 by 12 room that held his attention the third member of our trio dennis mariani was of similar military bearing and appearance when i shifted my glance to him he scratched at his close cropped hair it was the first he'd moved other than to blink shift his eyes or slide retrieve or stack a form since he'd sat down across from me unlike the security guard dennis wore a civilian uniform a navy blue suit something that could have come out of a man's closet in the 1950s or 1960s the jacket had narrow lapels and a

(06:30) single chest pocket normally i wouldn't have noticed or commented on such things but for the last three hours since dennis had met me at the eg g offices on the grounds of mccarran airport and accompanied me on the janet air flight out to this remote location we'd never been separated by more than a few feet there hadn't been a whole lot else to look at but this sturdily built heavily littered man who seemed to be in his mid thirties in many respects dennis reminded me of a boxer not the athlete although come to think
(07:04) of it he did have the heir of a pugilist about him but more the canine breed his expression was seldom slack he appeared highly attentive and yet his demeanor revealed nothing of what he was thinking or feeling i'd met dennis two days earlier at the second of my interviews with the team from eg g he sat on the periphery of our group interview not asking any questions in his doglike manner sitting at the edge of our fire light observant and seemingly ready to pounce whether he was preventing anyone from getting into or out of that circle i
(07:42) could not determine he hadn't been present at the first interview one that i felt had not gone at all well i'd left despairing of my chances a few days lapsed and i grew more certain that i'd have to enlarge my circle of employment inquiry beyond the driving distance from our home the one i shared with my second wife tracy in the west end of las vegas when i was called in for a second interview i was told that i was considered to be overqualified for the original position for which i'd interviewed
(08:15) they were impressed with my knowledge and wanted to see how i might fit in as a senior physicist in the special projects division obviously they expected i would accept and for that reason i was now searching my memory for the data required to earn me that majestic clearance i'd always had a bit of the arsonist in me not so much as a prankster but as an agitator i grew tired of dull routines and particularly the display of self-importance that people who worked at places like los alamos and i presumed at this point out at groom lake and at (08:52) eg g war like id badges i do serious work i am a serious person in the past i loved to pop that bubble of arrogance with little jokes and witticisms mostly i did this to amuse myself rather than take down any of my colleagues the atmosphere in the room that day was heavy with the elements of that kind of grandiosity but i knew it was too soon to risk doing anything to relieve the tension i glanced at my watch it was now 10 30 at night i'd hoped that by noting the time i'd set off some kind of normal human social
(09:32) interaction do you have somewhere else to be what time do you have does that watch have a calculator function what kind of battery life do you get with that we won't be here much longer take your time we've got all night all of those floated through my mind as possibilities but dennis and what i decided to now call his marionette remained statue-like silent and still i decided to dip my toe into the water time flies i muttered under my breath dennis rose to the bait do you have a question his voice sounded familiar
(10:16) somewhat like the long islanders i knew back when stretching the first two words out as do and you no no question i said just thinking out loud i just don't have all these names and numbers at my fingertips you know i paused waiting for him to respond when he didn't i added i know how important the security clearance is i want to get this done as quickly as possible help make your job easier do what you can we'll do our job i wasn't insinuating i stopped when i saw something briefly pass across dennis's eyes
(10:59) a sign maybe of his irritation with me i thought again of that second interview i just had how much more if not jovial at least collegial it all seemed we were all there for the same reason all men with technical or scientific backgrounds

and while we weren't cracking jokes we were at least being human dennis had sat there then as unresponsive and blank as he was now i couldn't tell you the names or the titles of the group of men i'd spoken with that day but i did recall after the meeting ended that i was most drawn to (11:36) dennis and wondered what his story was was he always in such a bad mood as i sat there in that tiny office with him i felt like my future was hanging in the balance if this guy ended up hating me which seemed to be the case could he make the difference between me being hired full time and not as was made clear to me i was being hired on a provisional basis until i received my majestic clearance i was only going to work on site on an on-call basis i was pleased to hear that and even more pleased that they agreed that i could
(12:13) continue to work during the day running the photo developing service out of my home i needed to pay the bills and all that i told them they understood still i'd have to be on call and when i received notification by a phone that i was to go into the office that day i'd have very little time to get to mccarran to get myself aboard that janet flight out to the airfield at groom lake earlier that evening i'd received the call from a woman identifying herself as nancy from egng i was to be at mccarran at 7 30 that (12:48) evening having lived in the las vegas area for more than five years i was already familiar with the site of the so-called janet aircraft taking off and landing from las vegas major airport mccarran was located only a few miles from the famous las vegas strip though tracy and i lived in west las vegas on the appropriately named james lovell street our business took us all around the metro area and we both frequently saw the white boeing 737 jets with the distinctive red markings along the fuselage at window height of the janet
(13:23) jets no other emblems were needed especially since all the locals joked that janet stood for just another non-existent terminal that was a reference to the fact that though we daily saw those planes ferrying employees to and from what was often referred to as area 51 for a long time the military and the government disavowed the existence of any kind of operation going on around groom lake many speculated about what went on out there given that the nevada test site was also in the region and having worked at a government facility with a long history
(14:00) of secrecy i was pretty sure that area 51 was a place where experimental aircraft and weapons systems were tested at the time there were a few people on the fringe who were into ufos and speculated about roswell and the like i wasn't into the whole extraterrestrial debate and mythos as a kid i watched star trek but i was more interested in how its warp drive functioned than i was in about the various life forms they encountered some kids might have wanted to be captain james t kirk and engage in extraterrestrial relations but i wanted
(14:37) to be scotty and get my hands on dilithium crystals and not the body of a nubile female life form from the planet zettar that said when tracy and i were house shopping in las vegas we attached no special importance to finding a home on a street named after an astronaut jim lovell was the commander of nasa's apollo 13 mission whoever had developed our little area between alta drive to the north and charleston boulevard to the south must have had an interest in space exploration in our little quadrilateral there was (15:11) allen b shepard street john glenn's circle astronaut avenue michael collins place and sky trail place mixed in among the usual suspects oakhurst larch and hemlock you could be arboreal or patriotic or a combination of both but to be honest tracy and i remarked on the name of our street once and then it just quickly became ingrained as one of the thousands and thousands of unremarkable facts of our lives so once i got the call from nancy to drive to the airport and eg for a flight i was thinking more about whether or not
(15:49) i should have brought a change of clothes or toiletries with me more than any kind of name coincidences as a lover of explosive reactions though what was second to a nuclear blast in my mind was the thousands and thousands of pounds of thrust produced by those rockets used in the apollo program little did i know how much of a role propulsion was going to play in my life in the month that followed that first call from nancy as a scientist i relied on rationality i didn't do so to the extent that mr spock might have but certainly to a (16:24) great enough degree that though i heard about things like the mj-12 or majestic 12 documents i discounted them as a hoax friends and acquaintances knew about the conspiracy theory that existed around that alleged secret organization president truman founded in 1947 to assist with the recovery and investigation of alien spacecraft those discussions were all a part of living in this company town and the wild imaginings of those on the fringe were exactly that imaginings fun to ponder and speculate about but unlike the influence of organized (17:02) crime on the development and continued operation of las vegas without real substance to support them for me seeing or having some other form of verifiable empirical evidence was believing the issue of what to believe was on my mind the night of my first trip to area 51 only because i was going to have to explain to my wife why i was leaving the house so late on a work night since tracy's father had been employed at los alamos and the two of us met there before moving to las vegas she understood why it was that i

(17:37) couldn't tell her much about my new job i wasn't being evasive or secretive as i set out from home that night i truly had no real idea what i would be expected to do that evening or on subsequent evenings what did strike both of us as odd was that i had to jump immediately into action that night who other than first responders and other emergency personnel worked under such conditions i need to report to eg g i said to tracy i rushed around the house trying to find my wallet and a lint-free cloth to clean
(18:13) my glasses oncoming headlights were bad enough but when the light refracted off smudged lenses the blurring and blinding was even worse i was out the door in less than 20 minutes minus the change of clothes and toiletries i previously mentioned my post rush hour drive to the airport was uneventful as was the flight out of vegas only a handful of passengers was on the flight with dennis and me he had met me at the offices of eg g and escorted me through a security gate and out onto the tarmac we exchanged little more than a brief
(18:48) greeting and i took dennis's command to follow me to the most literal extent possible if he wasn't going to speak then neither was i i was reminded of the times my father al took me into new york city or queens on the long island railroad most of the other riders on the train sat singly or if forced into being seated next to someone else regarded him or her as nothing more than a fixture of the train's cabin something to sometimes bump up against but not to engage in a conversation with even the pilots on the flight were
(19:24) silent at the point when i felt the plane's speed slacken dennis turned to me and said inclining his head toward the window that's the groom lake facility below yes i've heard of it i told them that's where we'll be landing i didn't respond at all dennis's brow raised in surprise his reaction triggered a similar one in me his statement seemed obvious though when we departed mccarran dennis made no indication of where we were headed i didn't tell him that i assumed that area 51 was our destination
(20:04) maybe i'd spoiled the party for him a bit maybe he'd like to see others get excited at the mention of anything to do with area 51. the fact that he was even speaking to me seemed like a spell that i shouldn't break with any unnecessary comment we covered the hundred or so miles quickly and i imagined our flight path looking something like a steep spike on an oscilloscope once we disembarked from the plane dennis and i boarded a school bus it was no longer in its traditional yellow and black livery but had been
(20:38) painted navy blue all of the windows with the exception of the front windshield had been blacked out we proceeded along a paved road to the first stop a non-descript single-story office building i followed dennis out of the bus the late december desert air was cool but refreshing it was only then that i thought about how tired i was i'd been unable to sleep and had risen at six that morning once inside the office complex dennis produced a plastic id badge and held it out to a uniformed guard the reception area had sets of doors
(21:16) immediately to the left and right of the desk and one directly behind it i was led to the left dennis switched on the lights and it took a moment for the fluorescent bulb igniters to heat up the gas in the dim half light of the room i made out a device in dennis's hands a camera stand there dennis said pointing to a set of footprints embossed on the floor he stepped behind a desk and i stood there for a few moments while he adjusted the equipment and then the flash stabbed at my eyes no say cheese i said squinting hard to make out dennis's
(21:56) expression didn't matter if i could see his face or not i immediately thought it was going to be the same sullen yet alert look follow me as we passed by the reception desk the man behind it lifted up a walkie-talkie and produced a manila folder that he handed to dennis neither of them exchanged a single word let alone anything approximating a pleasantry i thought that i might like working here if in fact this was where i would be working no idle chit chat no feigning interest in relative strangers sign me up

(22:35) and that was exactly what dennis had me doing for nearly the next hour and a half as i was getting to the last lines of the final document i could feel my eyelids scratching as i blinked i tried to remember the last bit of liquid i had taken in a coffee would have been nice or even just some water but i saw no signs of the typical office refreshments anywhere in reception or the two rooms i'd been in so far i think that should do it i said at last sliding the last of the documents across the table to dennis
(23:10) careful to turn it so that he received it in the proper orientation follow me dennis said after placing the last of the papers into the folder outside dennis said we'll take the bus back to the plane that will take you back to las vegas there you can pick up your car and go home that's it for tonight i thought it a bit odd that i had to be on the premises to fill out that paperwork i was considering asking dennis why they thought it necessary for me to come all the way out there before i had a chance to ask dennis
(23:48) added it's late i shrugged and thrust my hands in my pockets i couldn't refute the logic of that statement i was more than a little amused by dennis revealing the next steps we'd take or the steps we'd retrace and how unnecessary that was it was also very much in keeping with how people in government jobs often conducted themselves he stated very clearly the most obvious things but left unstated what i most wanted to know when was i going to come back here what exactly would i be working on who would be my boss
(24:27) my string of questions was interrupted by the squeak of the bus brakes i bit my tongue when dennis said the last words to me that he'd offer that night the bus is here an hour and a half later i slid beneath the sheets of our bed hoping not to wake tracy but she snapped on the light on the nightstand how was it she asked and tried to stifle a yawn i couldn't agree more i said she looked puzzled and i realized that my reference to her yawn wasn't clear hard to tell from a first day a lot of paperwork boring stuff really
(25:08) i'm sure it will get better it has to i said i lay awake for a few moments thinking about the next day i was going to have to drive out to a realtor on the north end of the city to pick up a few rolls of film i couldn't remember if i'd filled the tank with gas just as i was about to drift into sleep tracy said to me while you're out tomorrow can you pick up a can of coffee and a pint of half and half chapter one the following morning after a quick cup of coffee i headed out to pick up the photos from a regular client a real
(25:50) estate appraiser who worked out of an office near the painted desert golf course the course had just opened and along with it a housing development had gone up and many others as well in that area far north of the strip many of my clients worked in real estate new construction was booming current residents were taking advantage of rising prices to move up to new homes the population rose from just shy of 275 000 people in 1970 to nearly 465 000 by 1980 and was destined to reach 740 000 by the start of the 90s
(26:28) simply put business was good for anyone in real estate and housing and i liked working with clients who were professionals rather than someone who came in griping that their vacation shots were overexposed still as i drove along with my window down the scent of change was in the air as much as the exhaust fumes from the many diesel engines powering ready-mix cement trucks and semi-tractor trailers loaded with lumber i wasn't certain when i'd be called back to eg g and in some ways that was okay with me at least temporarily
(27:04) i figured it was just a matter of time before my security clearance came through i knew that traffic along i-15 was going to be tight so i chose nevada 95 instead and i felt a little sorry for those commuters sealed in their cars listening to one morning zoo crew or another on their radios the news was still full of stories about the horrific terrorist bombing of a pan am flight over lockerbie scotland i switched off the radio preferring the company of my thoughts to how horrifying it must have been in those few instances
(27:38) before the blast obliterated part of the craft and the intact pieces hurtled to the ground maybe because we were nearing the end of one year and the beginning of another but i was in a more contemplative mood than usual my first day at eg didn't exactly begin with a blaze of glory but at least i had made some headway in my desire to return to more meaningful work i enjoyed the photo business that my first wife carol and i had begun several years earlier when we were still living in los alamos but it was hardly what i
(28:11) would call intellectually stimulating for a while that was fine with me i had needed to clear my head i adored carol and the two of us had built a wonderful partnership together as husband and wife we shared a vision for what our lives should be like in many ways we were living the american dream i'd grown tired of working for someone else and had left my job working for los alamos national laboratory lanl and set up lazar energy systems designing developing and repairing alpha radiation detection systems (28:47) l a n l used a lot of plutonium which gives off alpha radiation and for four years straight lazar energy systems was granted a government contract to provide that form of radiation detection as many had discovered before me it was far better to work with a government agency than it was to work for one it was certainly more lucrative and i also got to be my own boss the photo business was carols to oversee and that brought in more than a fair amount of revenue we were doing well financially we'd even invested in a legalized

(29:22) brothel in las vegas that was taking in one hundred thousand dollars a month at the time we purchased it for a million dollars the honeysuckle ranch had been in business for more than 30 years had a solid management team in place and with carol doing careful oversight of the operation we expected the wheels to keep on turning and the money to keep rolling in add to that the photo operation and the two of us were incredibly busy mostly working from home socking away as much as we could i did give in to one indulgence the purchase of a 1984
(29:58) chevrolet corvette but we lived a quiet and unassuming life that is with the exception of the jet car i built and tooled around town in that eventually got me some attention and figured prominently in my getting a job at eg g i was too busy living my life to really reflect much on it and our reasons for doing the things we were doing the general tenor of the 80s decade was examined in an oliver stone movie wall street that featured michael douglas as the financier gordon gekko his lizard-like name was no accident and (30:36) what most people who saw the film will likely remember is a line from a speech gecko delivered greed is good i can't say that carol and i were greedy but we were definitely driven to succeed success for us and for most people meant making money if it took running three separate businesses not taking vacations and having work-related issues on your mind 24 hours a day and seven days a week then that was a price we were willing to pay a price i wasn't willing to pay and for a few months wasn't even aware i was
(31:13) paying was the loss of carol's life for a time she was able to hide her pancreatic cancer diagnosis from me toward the end her frequent absences from home her weight loss the salonist of her complexion and the anguished look of pain on her face when she thought i couldn't see her aroused my suspicion before i could get her to stop saying that it was nothing that she was just feeling a little run down she waited for me to leave the house to run a few errands she sat behind the wheel of her car in the closed garage and ended her life
(31:52) i can't describe the feelings of devastation and loss that followed i missed her and struggled with the kinds of questions that a man in his late thirties ought not to have taken on mortality and the larger issues of why we're here what do all our hard work and dreams mean when one day you can come home and discover that the woman you adore felt she had to face alone such an awful set of choices to say that i was reeling is an understatement i was overwhelmed by guilt and anger and sorrow responsibilities weighed heavily on me
(32:34) and as much as i wanted to keep our businesses afloat as a way to honor what carol and i had built the feeling that none of it mattered eventually won out whatever minor dissatisfactions i had felt about los alamos the intellectual snobbery that many who worked at the lanl exhibited and lorded over the rest of the residence paled in comparison to how much i associated that place with the loss of my wife i wanted to get out of there and eventually did one saving grace in all of this which i felt carol had a hand in making was that (33:11) tracy was in my life carol had hired her to work at one of our photo stores she was a bit of a wild child to be sure but the two of us grew close drawn together by the belief that carol had set in motion the events that led to tracy and me getting married soon after carol's death tracy and i had traveled to las vegas together to oversee some matter related to the photo business what that matter was is lost in a fog now i don't know if either of us noted the irony of it but we were married at the we've only just begun chapel in las (33:47) vegas in april of 1986. when i arrived at the pickup point i got out of the car and walked to the door taped to it was a 9 by 12 mailer inside were a couple of rolls of kodak ecto chrome film and a brief note of apology for not being there to meet me in person i tucked the envelope under my arm and while walking back to the car realized that i hadn't eaten a thing since lunch the previous day i found a little mom-and-pop diner nearby and pulled in the film would get developed and printed in plenty of time tracy would get her coffee in half and (34:29) half i settled into a booth grateful that i could set my own schedule and wondered how i might adjust to having to report and work under someone else's timeline in science one of the ways that the word entropy is used is to talk about how any natural system tends to move from order to disorder in many ways that is a perfect description of that period of my life tracy helped keep things from falling apart completely and there was something in my nature that also wouldn't allow me to just simply shrug my shoulders in (35:05) resignation it took me a few years of running the photo business in las vegas to regain my footing i realized that when in doubt you should go back to the things you love and for me that was science it's funny to think of it now but as i struggled that night in that office filling out paperwork and coming up with names and dates the one that shouldn't have escaped me and in fact didn't was alan rothberg allen and i lived on the same block in westbury and went to bowling green elementary school together

(35:39) his father was an instructor at nassau community college where he taught chemistry he'd bring home various equipment high voltage demonstrator tubes geisler tubes and other things some kids might have had children's chemistry sets to play with but with access to alan's father's classroom and supplies we were conducting actual experiments with the kind of equipment you'd find in a research center's laboratory my family moved around a bit at that time back to brooklyn out to california then
(36:10) back to westbury due to my dad's work allen was the one constant for me in that neighborhood and i took great delight in attending the classes his father taught during the summer session i was in junior high by that time and alan and i both loved the idea that we would take the same test as the real students and could consistently outscore them in high school i was an indifferent student in most of my other classes but science was a big part of my academic life and success outside of school i devoured issues of (36:43) popular science popular mechanics and science and mechanics as other kids my age lost themselves in the marvel universe of spider-man captain america and other comic book heroes and villains i still have many back issues of those science magazines in my possession today what really enticed me about the magazines i read was that they weren't about pure theoretical science they provided me with plans that i could use to make things the schematics for building a wimshurst machine an electrostatic generator appeared in one issue
(37:18) i was ready for the challenge and built one essentially using two disks with metal sections attached to them to spin in opposite directions producing high voltage through electrostatic induction instead of relying on friction they produce the charges through influence i also built a tesla coil i was stymied for a while on that project because i needed an automobile engine's ignition coil believe me i was sorely tempted to raid my father's oldsmobile but i resisted just prior to this i had installed in my (37:53) room a box with a red light and a green light that i could switch between indicating to my parents and my sister like me she was also adopted when i'd allow them into my room i did this because my mom had gone into my inner sanctum while i was away to do some cleaning she stepped into the room got tangled in some electrical wires setting off a shower of sparks and tripping a few breakers i didn't need to add to their worries about what their mad scientist had done by creating car trouble for them fortunately for me we were living in (38:28) brooklyn at the time and more than a few abandoned cars littered the neighborhood while out riding my bike i managed to scavenge an ignition coil from the dented rusted and windowless remains of an american motors pacer that other car carry and eaters had stripped when the tesla coil was done i could sit for hours watching it spew its colorful corona discharge brush discharges and streamer arcs almost as much as i got a rush of accomplishment when i built something from one of those magazines i was also excited every time i looked at the estes (39:05) catalog estes industries was based in denver colorado and they were producers of the finest functional scale model rockets at the time allen and i and a few other guys in westbury were really into building them and launching them while in junior high in high school the construction of the rocket wasn't that complex in fact quite the opposite the engines were supplied either in the kit or could be purchased separately there wasn't enough do-it-yourself activity to keep me interested in their flight the engines were housed within a sturdy (39:39) cardboard tube inside the tube were a ceramic nozzle solid propellant delay charge ejection charge and a clay retainer cap we'd run a coated wire through the nozzle and make contact with the solid propellant we then attach that wire to a battery and the electric current would heat the wire and ignite the solid propellant an engine could also be ignited by the hot gases from the propellant of a booster engine i wanted to take on the challenge of building my own rocket engines from scratch small diameter cardboard tubing that (40:15) would withstand the explosive forces wasn't difficult to source many wire coat hangers had cardboard wrapped around the bottom of the triangle it was the solid fuel that we needed to make cook is probably a better term and i set about researching i read a number of articles that made reference to something called meal powder at that point i didn't understand what meal powder was a finely grained gunpowder to me a meal was a meal and the only meal i had access to was oatmeal oatmeal might be able to fuel muscles

(40:52) but it didn't do a thing for those early rocket engines i tried to create it wasn't that i didn't have the money for replacement engines in my early teens i'd gotten a job at a local fireworks manufacturer talk about a kid in a candy store but i didn't get involved in the manufacturing process at all mostly i just helped out by packaging the various items they produced i didn't earn a whole lot but enough i also learned enough to solve the rocket propellant problem that information plus greater exposure
(41:24) to alan's dad's chemistry classes and a few of his chemistry supplies had me launching rockets thousands of feet into the air at salisbury park i knew enough from chemistry to know that combining potassium nitrate kn o3 and sugar and heating them together would produce what those in the model rocket know called rocket candy because of the distinctive smell of the sugar caramelizing as it was heated and absorbed the kno3 funny to think how much of my early rocket propulsion days were associated with food oatmeal salisbury steak rocket
(42:02) candy kn03 was the sole component of stump remover a chemical application homeowners or contractors could use to dissolve tree stumps i also became our chief project engineer in the manufacture of pyrotechnic and other explosive devices that was mostly due to the fact that my friends didn't seem as interested in blowing things up as i was they were good with the rockets and enjoyed the pyrotechnic displays but i was interested in seeing how chemicals could react with one another to produce small scale explosions
(42:37) that experimentation was a natural offshoot of my rocket engine making working with various compounds like the kno3 plus sugar formula i was eventually able to produce my version of an m80 firecracker and other smaller firecrackers that produced a loud bang and little more i tried to mass produce them for the fourth of july along with cherry bombs and managed to make quite a few but as impressed as friends were with my efforts their interest waned the laws of supply and demand exerted themselves but that only tempered my (43:13) business interests and not my passion for the products and their explosive displays i don't know how much of the other guy's loss of interest was attributable to the one incident that resulted from faulty handling of the product i taken potassium chlorate and red phosphorus and carefully wrapped them together in a tissue this combination is often referred to in the pyrotechnic community as death mix the reason for that is because the chemicals are friction sensitive and thus very unstable i'd take that mixture i'd placed into a
(43:49) tissue and then folded it around the shaft of a bolt sandwiched between two nuts i'd thread a nut onto the bolt to secure the little explosive package after you tossed that bolt grenade and it hit the ground it would erupt in a huge puff of smoke and a loud bang once at allen's house he was standing on the sidewalk that led to their front door he tried to toss the bolt underhanded toward the street but it slipped out of his hand went a few feet back toward the house and detonated near the porch we spent a good hour cleaning up the (44:27) front door and porch area in a complete panic as the hour neared for his parents to return home fortunately all the smoke stains came off and no one was the wiser except us we kept a safer distance from allen's house from that point forward looking back on it now if that was the worst thing that happened we were all pretty fortunate i can't believe some of the stuff i was doing and how it might have all gone wrong if i wasn't as fortunate as i'd been as i sat in the booth of the diner finishing my pancakes i thought about (45:04) those days from my youth because of the nature of the questions i was asked

during my second interview at eg g i thought it a little odd that they kept asking me about my hobbies and other interests outside of work i believed they might want to know more about my training what i did at los alamos that kind of thing after all as i was to find out toward the end of the interview they were considering me for a senior staff physicist position the reality was that my interests outside of work hadn't changed very much (45:36) since i was a kid i was still involved in pyrotechnics i hosted the desert blast for a number of years setting off a terrific display of fireworks each summer i'd also created a jet car installing one in a honda civic i owned and later put a larger jet engine in a rail dragster i took my jet cars to drag strips all around the southwest and beyond in a very real sense if it wasn't for my interest in rocketry pyrotechnics and my love of science and powerful reactions i might not ever have had an opportunity
(46:12) to interview with eg g before all that however i had to get some additional technical experience in 1976 my parents had moved to california again i was determined to take a year off from college but instead enrolled at pierce junior college on a part-time basis i also got a job working for a company called fairchild electronics they manufactured equipment to test something called bubble memory devices think of them as an early precursor of the hard drives that we have in today's personal computers instead of a semiconductor the main
(46:49) memory component of these devices was a slice of crystal the people at fairchild were absolutely certain that bubble memory was going to be the key to the future of computing excellence obviously they were wrong but at that time bubble memory was a viable means to store data produced by mainframe computers the other option was reel to reel tapes the kind you'd see in movies and television encased in large metal cabinets just so you don't think that bubble memory devices were too out there i can also recall a system of programmable
(47:23) memory that used ultraviolet light in order to erase the data on them given how sophisticated our devices are now this seems impractical at best and bone-headed at worst but those were the times i originally worked at fairchild as a technician repairing broken circuit boards but eventually became a test engineer and later an engineer designing circuit and logic boards i loved electronics and i was earning money and going to school at cal tech by this time i was studying electronics there mainly because the people at fairchild thought
(48:00) that was the best use of my time but in my off hours from school and fairchild i was working on my own projects at home lasers had captured my interest and i was working with plasma containment and mhd magneto hydrodynamics but i knew that i had to pay my dues and if working with electronics was a way in then that's what i was willing to do but my desire was still to become a scientist and leverage my love of physics into a place in the defense industry working on weapons systems at that period in our history weapons
(48:36) systems meant nuclear weapons we were still waging the cold war ronald reagan was in office and his proposed star wars nuclear missile defense system was still making headlines by the summer of 1982 my feet had grown itchy and my desire to take the next step was too great to keep me at fairchild as much as the move to california from new york had initially been a bit of culture shock i'd grown to really like the stereotypical but true laid-back surfer dude mentality of the people i worked with they had treated me well
(49:13) and there i was at the age of 23 working as an electronics engineer even though i was still a few credits shy of actually having a college degree i wanted more so in the summer of 1982 i sent a cover letter and resume to los alamos national laboratory i spent an anxious few weeks waiting to hear back from them i'd almost given up hope but i received a call one day in september inviting me down for an interview i accepted and as part of the interview process i was taken on a tour of the facility i knew a lot about its history and the
(49:51) manhattan project but the mason physics facility was all relatively new to me i knew that the particle accelerator was there but when you read about a device being a half mile in length it's hard to truly get the scale of the thing until you're on site i was in awe seeing a van de graaff generator the size of small office complexes took my breath away the fact that these machines were producing millions of volts was absolutely astounding i was in power heaven i saw bicycles propped up along various stretches of the runway for lack of a
(50:31) better term that ran alongside the accelerator and its associated buildings the device was so large that technicians and scientists would pedal from one location inside the building to the next in order to save time how cool was that i will never forget looking at one meter and the lowest number on its measurement range was a hundred ten kilovolts and these guys were accelerating particles to such a speed that time itself was being affected i felt like i had stepped into the world of science fiction i was moving among men and women with an (51:09) intellectual capacity that was nearly as great as the power these machines were generating i wanted to work there even if it meant that i was going to be working in the electronic monitoring side of things and not conducting experiments they also expressed a lot of interest in my work with lasers and during the interview and even after i was hired there was some talk of possibly utilizing that experience at the facility the odd thing was as was the case with eg g they wanted to know as much about my interests and (51:42) activities outside of work as they did my work experience or education also it's hard to imagine from the perspective of this post-9 11 world we inhabit that the level of security on the facility would seem completely lacks today i was free to roam around the facility on the day of my interview as well as after i was hired i was reminded of those days with my dad that we spent at the hall of science in flushing meadows queens and corona park the site of the world's fair in 1964.

(52:16) he'd take me to that museum and i could wander among the displays knowing that i was walking along and seeing some of the great moments in human history intellectual history represented before my very eyes i'm not a big sports fan but having lived in new york i know how revered the yankees are in many ways those trips to the hall of science and those first hours and later months and years were like setting loose a yankee fan on the field at yankee stadium not only was i allowed on the field i got to play there
(52:53) obviously then when they made an offer that day for me to work there i accepted i returned to california gave my notice packed my belongings and within a month was in los alamos and working at meson i was in for a bit of culture shock there as well the employees there as i said possessed some of the most powerful scientific minds in the world i was used to working with lasers but these were human beings with a similar kind of intensity and focus they weren't exactly like dennis mariani the air of menace he gave off wasn't a
(53:33) part of these people's temperament but they were similarly serious minded and watchful over time i'd learned that the locals referred to the staff at los alamos as the coneheads the alien family from beldar who were brought to life on the tv show saturday night live ironically in los alamos particularly among the staff at los alamos it was generally saturday night dead make that every night dead really by 6 pm most people at the facility had their work day over that part of town was so quiet that the traffic signals all flashed red lights
(54:14) letting drivers roll to a stop and then proceed one at a time my newbie excitement wore off not just because the place was boring but because of the kind of arrogance i've mentioned before sure in school i had to endure my fair share of taunting and teasing because of my interest in science and my disinterest in sports i've never thought myself superior to anyone or that i was in any way inferior i just had different interests that wasn't the case with a lot of people i worked with and the derision
(54:49) they felt for the rest of los alamos the city and people in general was more than a little off-putting i also didn't like working for the federal government i hated to see the kind of waste of funds and supplies that working with other people's money produced in fact it was our money since we paid taxes like everyone else but for as smart as these people were they didn't always seem to understand that or at least they didn't seem to care all of that culminated in me becoming a bit of a prankster
(55:25) but i liked to think of myself as a prankster with a cause as its name implies a particle accelerator gets particles to move at a rapid rate to the speed of light most of what were referred to as the targets the particles accelerated had to be cooled to close to absolute zero that way the atoms and molecules inside them would be essentially inert not moving to do that cooling you need vast amounts of a specific isotope of helium helium-3 it is a rare and expensive isotope and we had it brought in by the truckload in (56:06) specially equipped tanker trucks which were essentially like scale vacuum thermoses designed to keep the incredibly cold gas as chilled as possible even in a vacuum sealed environment helium-3 is boiling off due to the tank's exposure to the ambient temperature generally as soon as those trucks rolled onto the property and to where they were needed the gas was offloaded except on days when no experiments were being conducted the trucks still rolled in but they sat there as the enormously

expensive payload they (56:43) were carrying dissipated into the atmosphere the trucks would be parked on these radiation shield blocks with six inch diameter hoses spewing off helium gas i wasn't an accountant i wasn't in the procurement department but that kind of waste really irked me i mentioned it to a few colleagues and they would shrug and say hey it's government work they've got deep pockets so why worry about it so i didn't except in my own little way one day when the accelerator wasn't in operation and i didn't have to monitor
(57:22) any of the sensors i was a little bored i saw the trucks outside i saw a few rolls of the tape we used to cordon off areas or to label any items that might have been exposed to even trace levels of radiation it was kind of like crime scene tape except it was magenta and yellow and said danger radiation all along it i went to a custodian and asked for a few plastic trash bags the kind that lined the large bins in the cafeteria and not the small office waste paper baskets he gave me a box i went outside and placed a bag over the (58:01) pipe from which the now no longer super cooled helium was being discharged i tied off the bag with the danger radiation tape i held on to it and i could feel it tugging at my arm begging to be released i let it go and watched it climb that was fun the second was fun as well i didn't want to keep all the enjoyment to myself so i went inside and got my friend and colleague joe to join me we spent our lunch break filling and releasing helium balloons eventually we stood there at the end of our lunch hour watching this dotted line
(58:39) of trash bags being carried south of our location on the prevailing winds the facility sat on a high point and was separated from the main area of the town by a somewhat shallow valley we could see the path they were taking and familiar with the area we knew generally where they were heading what are those lights joe asked me squinting and pointing in the general vicinity of our flight path i'm not sure i said there's quite a few of them looks like mars lights you can't see mars from here joe said
(59:17) he couldn't keep a straight face and i knew that he understood that mars lights were the ones atop a police car or other emergency response vehicle i think they're at the mcdonald's i said maybe it was held up joe said we headed back inside i've heard it said that smart people sometimes don't have common sense in this case that was true of joe and me not only did we not understand that imperfectly sealed bags would launch and fly but eventually come to earth we didn't understand the kind of panic
(59:54) that would result when those bags were found to have danger radiation emblazoned on them we also didn't connect the dots between our location the mcdonald's the flying bags and the police lights i can't say that our little stunt produced a reaction equal to warson wells's broadcast of the war of the worlds but the facility did receive phone calls about the mysterious appearance of irradiated trash bags the local authorities were genuinely concerned knowing that there was likely only one place the items could have come
(1:00:28) from they were not amused nor was our supervisor when joe and i came forward and explained what we'd been up to during my interview with eg g i did not mention the gas bags during my remaining time at los alamos i did my best to curb my desire to make life there more interesting for us all i had no desire to earn myself any more attention than i received in a way mine was a futile gesture i suppose there were more appropriate ways to express my feelings about the wasteful practices i also knew that doing so would have
(1:01:06) been shouting into a very strong and powerful wind that would have drowned my voice out and pushed me back from where i'd emerged still i didn't like feeling as if i was powerless to affect any kind of change not about the bags in the helium-3 not about my growing sense that what i was doing at los alamos was only tangentially related to physics and the kind of work i truly wanted to do i'd taken what i thought was a step in the right direction was grateful to the folks at maison for sending me to mit to (1:01:40) further my education but i felt as if i was one of those bags being carried along by the wind unsure of how i could make any kind of course correction and a little fearful that my scientific ambitions might result in me crash landing in the parking lot of a mcdonald's deflated and warning others of a danger that didn't exist lazar energy systems had been a step in the right direction and if things had turned out differently i may have kept that outfit running for many many years in many ways with carol's death the loss

for a few years certainly not to the extent of those balloons but as the last year of the 1980s approached i had been wondering about waste of my time my knowledge my passion that was why i decided to send out those resumes and cover letters as it turned out though my time at los alamos wasn't a waste by any stretch of the imagination sometimes it pays to go to class and to listen to lectures the payoff may not come for years along with that though comes another (1:02:59) kind of lesson be careful what you wish for chapter 2 to give you some idea of how sleepy the city of los alamos can be in june of 1982 a reporter from the local paper the los alamos monitor contacted me he identified himself as terry england told me that he was a staff writer for the paper and he wanted to interview me he'd gotten word that i had a jet powered car i agreed to talk to him never figuring that the eventual story would wind up being on the front page of the sunday paper on june 27th i'd make some crack about it being a
(1:03:44) slow news day and he needed a fast story but that would be too easy the writer appeared to be as interested in the fact that i came from california to work there and still had vanity california plates on the honda civic that read jet you bet i know for a fact he was also extremely interested or perhaps distressed as a better word when carol and i drove the car using its conventional gasoline engine that still functioned in its usual place in the engine compartment at the front of the vehicle to take it to the pueblo high school parking lot
(1:04:20) there i fired up the jet engine for him and it howled like you'd expect a jet engine to he stood there with his hands pressed to his ears the pages of his notebook fluttering and threatening to take off i explained to mr england that the sound waves coming out of the nozzle which was exposed by pressing a switch that dropped the rear license plate out of the way were synchronized with the intake producing a fairly substantial amount of noise starting it up for him a few times garnered us more attention than i would
(1:04:54) have otherwise wanted a man drove over from another neighborhood a few miles away and a police squad car from los alamos county showed up the officer was nice and simply asked me to not do any more demonstrations due to the number of complaints the next week the jet car and i got the attention of a man i never thought in my wildest imaginings that i would ever speak with edward teller was back in los alamos from the lawrence livermore national laboratory to deliver a lecture i was excited by the opportunity to get
(1:05:29) to see and hear the man who was credited with being the father of the hydrogen bomb of course given my interest in nuclear arms i knew about him and was eager to hear him speak even if he hadn't been a part of the manhattan project he had an extraordinary career born in budapest he left his home country to be educated in germany he earned a phd in physics under the renowned scientist werner heisenberg heisenberg of course was awarded the nobel prize in physics in 1932 for his creation of quantum mechanics even today mention heisenberg's name and
(1:06:09) people with only the most rudimentary understanding of the history of physics in the last hundred years will know at least about his uncertainty principle one of the biggest problems with quantum experiments is the seemingly unavoidable tendency of humans to influence the situation and velocity of small particles this happens just by our observing the particles and it has quantum physicists frustrated to combat this physicists have created enormous elaborate machines like particle accelerators such as the one i was hired to work with at mason to
(1:06:46) remove any physical human influence from the process of accelerating a particle's energy of motion still the mixed results quantum physicists find when examining the same particle indicate that we just can't help but affect the behavior of quanta or quantum particles even the lights we use to help us better see the objects we're observing can influence the behavior of quanta photons for example the smallest measure of light which have no mass or electrical charge can still bounce a particle around
(1:07:22) changing its velocity and speed to be able to hear a lecture by a man who studied with heisenberg was a real privilege and one that i couldn't pass up i also knew that teller had studied under neil's bore while spending a year in copenhagen bor is another giant among scientists in my mind and in the mind of many others nearly as important a theoretical thinker as albert einstein in 1935 teller took a position at george washington university where he worked as a theoretical physicist eventually teller's attention turned to (1:08:00) nuclear energy both fission and fusion in 1942 as the u s involvement in world war ii ratcheted up teller took part in robert oppenheimer's planning seminar at the university of california berkeley from that summer meeting the manhattan project got its start teller began work on the development of a nuclear bomb at the university of chicago eventually heading a group at los alamos in the theoretical physics division he was a big proponent of developing a hydrogen bomb thus the nickname he claimed he didn't like and that created (1:08:38) some friction within the top level of scientists working on the manhattan project under pressure from the government and military to develop a nuclear bomb as soon as possible oppenheimer and others eventually created the two bombs that were dropped on japan little boy used enriched uranium fat man used plutonium it wasn't until 1952 that the us successfully detonated a hydrogen bomb one thousand times more powerful than what the manhattan project had developed a thermonuclear as opposed to a conventional nuclear device the hydrogen

(1:09:17) bomb was a truly frightening advancement in weapons technology many said that its development accelerated the arms race and heightened the cold war tensions between the us and the ussr that's true but as a scientist i could see why teller had advocated for its use when you're charged with producing the ultimate weapon and you see how one can be made practicable you advocate for it by the time teller was back at los alamos he'd gained and lost notoriety and reputation among certain members of the scientific community
(1:09:54) his advocacy on behalf of the strategic defense initiative what most people knew of as the star wars defense a system combining ground-based units and orbital deployment platforms to destroy incoming nuclear missiles lost in favor in some scientific circles some stated that the long-standing nuclear policy of mutually assured destruction was working what the sdi might do is be seen by the soviets as an escalation of offensive practices and not as a defense in hindsight given the collapse of the soviet union it all seems to have not
(1:10:34) really mattered but at the time nearly the entire 1980s the debate raged in truth we didn't have the technology to implement the proposal but in my mind that didn't mean that we couldn't develop it since teller spoke on behalf of the plan he was considered to be a kind of cockeyed optimist about our scientific capability more of a salesman of a plan than someone who had really arrived at a workable solution in fact a scientific american article that several prominent scientists wrote said that any of our enemies could
(1:11:11) launch decoys for a fraction of the cost of our sdi system and wreak havoc on us with a follow-up of actual missiles teller didn't help himself by stirring up controversy throughout his career even at one point testifying against oppenheimer when the man many considered a hero was being subject to a security clearance investigation in the 1950s all that taught me was that science and politics didn't really mix huge egos often clash and it would be better to toil and anonymity doing something you really enjoyed than to be
(1:11:49) mixing it up with the bigwigs in washington dc and elsewhere i arrived at the site of taylor's lecture a few minutes early a few people sat in the hall waiting i decided to linger outside and enjoy some sunlight and fresh air i enjoyed the nice break from the artificial light and the stale air inside the facility we'd all heard rumors of how the lawrence livermore national laboratory was run much more loosely one article i read characterized los alamos as the ivy league all tweeds and ties while livermore was the counterculture
(1:12:28) if not hippies then at least rule breakers and risk takers in a way i identified more with them than i did with los alamos and its conservatism i was hoping that teller was going to speak about his excalibur project the precursor or some said inspiration for the star wars system teller had envisioned a device that would orbit in space a spherical machine that would have elements sticking out of it kind of like a sea urchin those elements would be fiber optic light guides to aim and focus immensely powerful x-rays that could evaporate the
(1:13:08) metal casings of soviet icbm missiles after they were launched i would have loved to have been a part of the development team that worked on excalibur but even just hearing about it would have to do for the moment i took a seat on a bench outside a study area in the administration center above me a series of portraits of nobel prize winners who'd worked at los alamos at one point or another in their career ran along one wall in some ways it was like being back in high school though instead of varsity letter winners
(1:13:42) being commemorated it was scientists across the way from me sat a man with an expansive broad nose and eyebrows that reminded me of a mink stole draped over a woman's shoulders his heavy lidded eyes were deep set and focused on a newspaper he was reading i recognized him immediately as edward taylor i wasn't star struck at all but i did want to meet him i stood and walked over to him and put out my hand dr

teller my name is bob lazar it's a real pleasure to meet you teller looked at me over the edge of the (1:14:20) paper and said his voice thick with an eastern european accent by thank you he made no move to drop the paper and to take my offered hand feeling a bit awkward i watched as his eyes focused on my face and then he turned his head slightly to the left as he squinted more forcefully he looked down at the paper closed it and then folded it so that the front page was visible yours man with the jet car he said he stabbed at the paper with my photograph on the front page that's right i'm bob lazar that's my car
(1:15:03) lazar i once studied with a man named lazarev a russian i believe the surnames are related might he have been a relation i didn't tell him that i didn't know what my real surname was i simply said i doubt that we spent a few more minutes talking he seemed quite taken with the idea of me having installed a jet engine in my car though i wasn't applying rocket science in the ways that he was dealing with he seemed both amused by and impressed with the application he asked me what else i had planned on doing but i wasn't able to answer
(1:15:44) one of the staff members came and escorted him away so that teller could begin his presentation for whatever reason teller must have remembered me whether it was our conversation my jet car my last name i'm not certain when it came time for me to send out query letters to get a new job i wrote directly to him he was still with lawrence livermore but it seemed less and less likely that star wars was ever going to come to fruition various treaties limiting nuclear arsenals had been agreed upon in a lot of ways the nuclear weapons
(1:16:18) industry was contracting but i hoped that my attempted networking would at least get me some attention as it turned out i got a job as a result of that meeting with teller and later a whole lot more attention than i ever wanted or needed i was of course blissfully unaware of all that when two days after my first visit out to eg g's remote site at groom lake i got another call to report to work the routine was much the same get the phone call get to eg g get on the plane and fly out to the base this time though there was a difference
(1:16:56) when i arrived i was the only one on the bus except for dennis this time instead of remaining on the main base and proceeding to the administrative area as i'd come to think of it we headed south along a packed dirt road within minutes we were in the desert with the blacked out windows i couldn't see much to the sides of me but it was likely what i was seeing in front of me through the frame of the front windows a few rolling hills sand a smattering of creosote bushes grease wood and cactus we traveled for nearly 40 minutes
(1:17:33) covering approximately 10 miles the bus headlights sending out a flickering semaphore as we rattled over the corrugated sections of the road eventually we slowed and came up to a rather large hill above the loose pile of dirt and stone a spire of rocks with the characteristic desert varnish darkening their surface sat like a broken jaw and teeth above it as we moved left around the hill it was if someone had taken a giant shovel and squared the face of the hill at 90 degrees to the ground to one side of that perpendicular rise
(1:18:10) stood a small entryway dennis led me inside the building and into a small 12 by 12 foot room that was completely unadorned and unfurnished the only thing inside it was what looked like a standalone atm machine you might find in a convenience store dennis walked up to it and put his hand on a glass platen he splayed out his fingers and some kind of optical scanner or reader lit up from above next he typed in a few pieces of information on a small keypad a moment later his identification badge dropped into a slot at the machine's
(1:18:48) base i repeated his actions and my badge popped out that is yours you'll need to have it on your person at all times it's both your identification card and your key card he nodded toward the door alongside it a small stainless steel plate clung to the wall without this you won't be able to go in or out i immediately understood that with such a system all of my movements within and between rooms and buildings could be tracked not unusual for any kind of facility dealing with sensitive information we walked toward a second door
(1:19:30) dennis nodded toward the plate try it i swiped the key card and then heard a click as the latch was released dennis gestured for me to lead the way and i stepped into a well-lit corridor i immediately felt like i was back at bowling green elementary school i smiled to myself and wondered if one of the colors on the walls or cinder blocks was in in fact known as bowling green the light green of the dry wall and the darker green of the cinder blocks that rose to about waist height were the typical institutional green that i'd

(1:20:06) seen in countless hospitals and municipal buildings and schools i tried to remember something i'd once read about the psychology of color how green was supposed to react with our central nervous systems but couldn't remember if it was calming or energizing and what any of that might have to do with being green with envy all i knew was that the corridor was very long and it seemed as if it stretched along to the vanishing point in a long and narrowing row of doors on either side the hallway was empty and the building
(1:20:41) nearly silent except for the clicking sound of our heels dennis stopped abruptly after just a few paces he nodded his head to the right in there unlike the other doors this one didn't require me to use the key card i simply turned the knob and stepped in once again i found myself in what seemed to be a waiting area of some kind a few upholstered chairs sat along one wall and an office desk sat in roughly the center of the room alongside it a two-drawer filing cabinet the color of unfinished brass sat with an english ivy plant and its tendrils
(1:21:21) draped along and down its flanks a water cooler in the far corner of the room belched and bubbled before quieting before i could decide or dennis could indicate that i should take a seat another door opened at the back of the anteroom a petite brunette wearing a bright red cardigan and black pants entered she smiled brightly and the room lost much of its cool indifference would you like to follow me she asked i knew she wasn't asking a question but i appreciated her being far less kurt than dennis was absolutely i said
(1:22:00) not quite matching her enthusiasm but nearly we'll need about thirty the woman said rising on her tiptoes and angling to the side to speak around me to dennis she held a clipboard folded in one arm and resting against her chest once i got into the room from which she'd come i knew what was next a small examination table a series of glass-fronted cabinets a scale and the other accessories you'd find in a typical doctor's office exam room clued me in would you like to take a seat she asked and i wondered briefly if this was going
(1:22:40) to be a recurring pattern if we were going to be playing an odd sort of game of 20 questions sure i said i sat on the examination table feeling and hearing the rough paper cover shift as i did so i watched as the young woman moved past me i noticed that in one corner of her eye she had a faint mole that intensified the deep brown of her eyes once out of my line of sight she must have opened a drawer i heard the metallic clatter of things being moved about when i saw her next she had a stethoscope draped around her neck and
(1:23:19) she was tugging at the velcro of a swig momentometer sleeve could i get you to take your shirt off i was wearing a white oxford cloth dress shirt and a t-shirt i undid the buttons and then shrugged out of the garment may i she asked she held out her hand and i gave her the shirt she hung it from a hook on the back of the door sixteen more questions and we'd be done i thought can you hold out your right arm for me i did as instructed she slid the blood pressure cough on and began to inflate it any sign of rain out there she asked
(1:24:00) i thought that maybe we'd get lucky i'm heading out to death valley this weekend with my boyfriend i'm hoping the desert bloom will be beautiful one of my favorite things i hope i'm not heading to death valley soon i said she laughed not according to this she said as she held the gauge out to me 124 over 82.
(1:24:23) can i get your heart rate we did a few more typical and cursory medical examination things to be sure my hearing and eyesight were okay without my glasses i told her i'd be lucky to see the chart let alone any of the letters on it after that we turned to what seemed to be the real reason for my being examined after reading through a list of potential allergens i'd lost track of the number of questions but was pretty sure we'd gone beyond 20 she asked me if i was left-handed or right-handed when i
(1:24:55) answered that i was right-handed she said or asked well then let's have you do the left arm okay she retreated behind me again and returned with a small clear plastic case that was subdivided into compartments she next produced a felt tip marker holding my wrist gently she turned over my arm so that the bottom of my forearm was exposed she swabbed the area with alcohol and then drew a neat grid on it producing a series of 16 uniform sized squares i was quite impressed with how symmetrical they were given that she'd (1:25:31) done it freehand she shrugged off my compliment done this dozens and dozens of times once she was done with the drawing she retrieved a rolling stool and drew it alongside the table she cranked a lever and rose up so that her head was nearly level with mine she looked at me and then shook her head sorry she retrieved the plastic case and placed it on a rolling table like the one dental hygienists use

okay now one of the reasons you're here is so that we can do a baseline allergy test what we've discovered is that some (1:26:10) people working here get exposed to elements in the work environment that produce in some cases strong systemic responses so what i'm going to do is use one of these she held up a small device that resembled a push pin to place a small amount of different chemicals subcutaneously on your arm i've got the grid there and i'll know which if any of these produce any kind of reaction on your skin what kinds of things are you testing for there could be redness swelling i cut her off i'm sorry i didn't quite ask the
(1:26:45) question properly i know what the allergic reactions may be like what are the allergens you're testing she frowned and let her shoulders slump i'd like to tell you but i can't i really don't know all i was told is that you and a lot of other people here will be working with and here she used her fingers to form quotation marks exotic materials what those are specifically i haven't been told do you know if there have been any serious consequences of that exposure can't say this time her tone rolls only slightly
(1:27:23) at the end as if she were questioning whether or not she was asking a question for my part i was very concerned this was a high-tech lab after all so who knew what kinds of materials i might be working with better safe than sorry after she'd done the pricking of the various areas she returned with a small plastic container the kind that hospitals often use to place a patient's medications in a faint yellowish liquid was inside just a couple of ounces i estimated can you drink this she held it out to me while she made
(1:28:00) some notes on her chart i took the cup and brought it toward my mouth i immediately thought of the household cleaner pine saw i drank it down and felt my eyes tear up briefly what was that i asked not so bad was it she asked just another part of the testing she snapped the plastic case shut and said we're all through here good luck with your work and again please be sure to monitor those test sites and if you notice anything unusual let us know through your supervisor the nurse handed me my shirt and while i put it on she went out into the anteroom
(1:28:44) by the time i'd finished dressing and gone out there she was gone dennis was nowhere to be seen either i stood in the hallway for a few moments thinking about the allergy test and what it might mean for my future employment i was still waiting for the majestic clearance needed to become a full-time employee i had no reason to doubt that i'd receive it but i also knew that wheels often turned very slowly in these matters i was accustomed to hard work having multiple responsibilities but still it would have been far more desirable to be
(1:29:18) able to shut down the photo business entirely selling it off and resume a more normal kind of nine to five existence a part of me really enjoyed the less structured schedule that my involvement in photo processing afforded me but of course that came with certain trade-offs tracy and i were doing fine financially but having to make myself available on an on-call basis for eg g and in essence for the photo business could wreak havoc with a social life and our personal schedule i knew that it was going to be temporary
(1:29:52) but how temporary that was going to be was difficult to say i knew that stress played a role in how our immune systems operated and responded to pathogens would my current mental and emotional state have an effect on the grid of substances that have been introduced into my forearm i didn't have a long time to reflect on the matter i don't know how i missed seeing him at first but dennis was just down the hallway from me this way bob dennis rarely used my name in our conversations and for as common as my
(1:30:26) name is and for as many times as i'd heard other people use it it sounded strange coming out of his mouth i followed dennis as he entered another unmarked door into another small room this one even less spacious than the one where i'd been issued my id keycard dennis gestured toward a small office desk a metal framed affair with a cheap wood laminate finish on the desk sat a stack of blue file folders i took the seat behind the desk and noticed that the folders were blank that is there were no labels on the folders
(1:31:01) themselves to identify eg and g dennis stood just inside the closed door and said it's important that we get you caught up as quickly as possible about where we've been and the direction the project is going in given your present clearance level these briefings should give you the background information you need obviously this is all confidential information once your clearance is upgraded you'll learn more he paused and thrust back the cuff of his suit jacket and shirt to consult his watch i have a number of other tasks to attend

(1:31:37) to do your reading here and when i'm done with those other matters i'll come and get you any questions he barely paused before saying good i'll be back the stack of folders was nearly a foot high they were of various thicknesses none containing any more than what seemed a dozen pages i figured it best to begin at the top and work my way down i opened the first folder that was labeled overview the title page had nothing more on it than the words project galileo the prose was typical government plain speak a kind of just the facts
(1:32:15) sparseness that suited me especially given the stack of materials i was to read and having no indication at all from dennis when he might return the short first paragraph would have pleased me except for the inclusion of one word extraterrestrial it explained that the purpose of the program was to back engineer the process by which you take knowledge or information from anything man-made and reproduce it or produce anything based on the extracted information a propulsion system of an extraterrestrial craft the power and propulsion systems of the (1:32:52) craft were of the highest priority for a second i stopped reading and considered just what was meant by extraterrestrial one thought i had was that eg g or whoever had authored this overview and whoever had approved it for distribution was being either very precise or very loose with their use of language something that is considered to be extraterrestrial means that it is of or originates from outside the earth or its atmosphere maybe in the language employed at eg g and out here at groom lake the experimental craft they are presumably
(1:33:31) working on get referred to that way since traditional nomenclature a plane a jet or names for other land-based vehicles didn't quite fit with the scope of the craft's capabilities or intent i knew how many scientists thought and if this was something that a scientist or engineer had written and it was intended as an in-house document then the use of a potentially loaded word like that wouldn't be so odd on the other hand i thought that maybe this whole document was another form of a test i was still in a sense on trial with the
(1:34:07) organization i'd been subjected to all those other questionnaires that dealt with personality and temperament and maybe this was just a part of that larger assessment was i someone who would get frustrated or annoyed by references that were seemingly off topic would i be willing to wade through information or data that was seemingly irrelevant or confusing and not be able to plow ahead or keep an open mind i decided to do precisely what i thought they wanted me to do to keep reading and not form any judgments until i had the bigger picture
(1:34:41) formed in my mind as i read on a few other things became clear though no dates were given it was clear to me that the project was not in its infancy some references were made to past attempts to understand the nature of the power and propulsion system several attempts had been made to reproduce the kind of system that had come into their hands but with no success given what i knew of back engineering it often involves disassembling something and analyzing its components and workings in detail any kind of propulsion system is likely to be highly
(1:35:17) complex and the disassembly and production or fabrication of new components could take a considerable amount of time i next read that a previous attempt to dismantle one of the existent propulsion systems had resulted in an accidental explosion the document didn't go into much detail about that incident but i also knew that any time there was an accident like that there would be a period of time when the work was halted an investigation initiated and only after a review process of the procedures something that
(1:35:50) could have taken place in months or perhaps years work would then commence reading a bit more made it clear to me that something like the process i'd imagined had taken place the last bit of the overview dealt with the present reality they were going to de-emphasize the dismantling efforts and focus instead on other kinds of analyses to determine how it functioned what those types of analyses were to be wasn't specified but one other thing was made clear as a priority we it was a bit presumptuous of me to
(1:36:24) include my not yet fully cleared self in this were to duplicate this technology using existing materials and not utilizing what the briefing referred to as exotic materials none of what i read set off any alarm bells i was pleased to read about the nature of the work it would be a real challenge to take on the task that was set before me what types of analyses could we devise to understand the nature and function of a propulsion system without having the ability to dismantle the existing and presumably functioning system
(1:37:00) after all in my mind the word analyze means to break down into component parts to see how they interrelate when you're working with a physical object or a set of physical objects in the case of a propulsion system not having the capability or in this case the task of seeing how those component parts all fit together was like working with one hand tied behind your back we'd have to devise new approaches and i wondered then if that was why i'd been hired frequently when a team is at a sticking point it helps to bring in someone new (1:37:36) who hasn't been through other parts of the process i could look at things with a fresh set of eyes and none of the preconceptions or at least a different set of them from the other scientists already at work still as i returned the pages to the folder the one question that kept coming back to my mind was what the hell these guys were up to was this just a test of my temperament and suitability to work in this environment or was this reverse engineering of an extraterrestrial propulsion system a real work assignment

(1:38:09) the last sections of the overview also cast some shadows of doubt on the whole enterprise and made me think this had to be a kind of screening mechanism if you could put up with this kind of disinformation then let's see how you feel about working under these restrictive conditions project galileo was comprised of a number of divisions the power and propulsion team and those that dealt with navigation control metallurgy and other component elements of a flying craft these groups were not to work in concert
(1:38:42) as you might expect but were to be segregated not only wouldn't they work together they were not to share information with one another no communication between the work groups was allowed if we had questions that we thought needed to be answered we weren't to go to any other team members directly a clear chain of command was in place and it was a condition of our employment that we not share information with anyone other than our work partner failure to adhere to the security rules was ground for immediate dismissal and
(1:39:16) potential prosecution interestingly some of the other briefings dealt with the other teams project looking class dealt with the materials side of the craft and project sidekick was exploring the possibilities of the crafts weaponization but only in the most generic of ways for example i learned that the bulk of the craft was manufactured from the same material tests had shown that it was not metallic in origin nor was it ceramic that intrigued me think of your car and how many different materials are used to produce its
(1:39:51) various components aluminum steel glass rubber various plastics and here was an object that was claimed to be made of a single material i can't claim to be completely logical i was a trained scientist and i was supposed to look at things with as much objectivity as possible i found myself veering between two points rejecting what i was reading out of hand as an attempt to use a fictional scenario to determine my suitability for some highly confidential project and being caught up in the excitement of being exposed to new ideas that would
(1:40:29) test the limits of my understanding of the nature of things here on earth or maybe the test was even simpler they presented this scenario to me to see if i was going to share it with anyone they could do all kinds of background checks but the surest way to see if i was capable of keeping information confidential was to provide me with a story and see if i kept it to myself i briefly scanned the room wondering if i was under surveillance in there and if my eye rolling at some of what had been revealed to me might determine the fate
(1:41:03) of my employment for a few moments i considered the possibility that this craft or maybe a better term was this technology came from somewhere other than the united states we were still dealing with the effects of the cold war and perhaps we'd managed to gain control of some soviet technology whether we had stolen it had someone presented to us or in some other way gained possession of it didn't really matter what did matter was that we had it apparently didn't really understand fully how it worked and it was to be my
(1:41:37) job to determine how it functioned and how we could reproduce it i'd wanted to be involved in working with nuclear weapons but maybe this was an even more worthwhile task maybe this technology would prove to be the key to what seemed to be the dominant and ominous political philosophy of the day mutually assured destruction even in hindsight it is difficult to come up with a coherent explanation of my thoughts and feelings at the time i was reading those documents i can say this with real clarity however i was thoroughly engaged in the reading

was some extraterrestrial craft that we had in our possession then i'd have to manage to accommodate a fundamental shift in my thinking recalibrate and proceed to the task at hand in either case it was all about the job
(1:42:51) in that moment and for now the task that was at hand in the immediate was to read more of the briefings i picked up a folder marked biology as i scanned the first page i was again torn in several different directions emotionally and mentally the file identified the place from which the extraterrestrial craft originated it stated that the craft came from the planet zeta reticuli star system i wasn't familiar with the name but the briefing went on to add that the constellation was located some 39 million light years from earth
(1:43:29) it was only visible from earth from positions in the southern hemisphere the most obvious question was how could that craft have gotten here even if we could travel at the speed of light approximately one hundred eighty six thousand miles per second or six hundred seventy one million miles per hour that meant it would take thirty years to get there that's a ridiculously long period of time even at that great speed and an unfathomably long period of time based on 1981 technology and the fastest we could then travel through space
(1:44:04) i couldn't even begin to imagine how much fuel would be needed to propel a vehicle that far how life support systems could function and replenish how food supplies could be sufficient and all the rest it just boggled my mind those questions paled in comparison to the considerations that came to mind when i turned a few more pages in the file i got to a pair of black and white photographs reproduced on regular copy or printer paper one was a relative close-up of a humanoid organism the photo encompassed what seemed to be
(1:44:39) the torso no head was visible and nothing below what appeared to be the midline or waste i could see just the stub of where a human arm would project from the torso the rest of that limb was out of the frame the same was true of the lower extremities i could see just the suggestion of a pair of legs a protrusion roughly where you'd find the hip bone of a human more specifically the crest of the ilium rising from the gray white skin what most distinguished the photo was the classic t-shaped incision that ran
(1:45:15) nearly the entire vertical length of the trunk with a far shorter horizontal line at the top of that major cut line the skin had been pulled back revealing if the subject had been human or an animal a series of specific organs of respiration and digestion lungs heart kidney liver bladder etc instead what i saw was an undifferentiated massive tissue that filled the majority of that cavity the second photo was much the same as the first but it was smaller and in the white space that surrounded the photo on the page it appeared as if several
(1:45:52) different people had added their notes these annotations were in different handwriting but they mostly expressed the same sentiment how unusual it was to see this large central mass and speculations about how it might function to perform the various specialized tasks that our human organs do for some reason the inclusion of those notes from others really got my head spinning at a greater rate than before why would they and to this point i had no clear understanding of who they were include those notes in the briefing
(1:46:27) materials what was the point of that i can see now that this seems like a minor question compared to the bigger issues these photographs and the information about zeta reticuli engendered i was so wrapped up in what i was reading so overcome with a kind of information overload that my mind fixated on a point independent of my own will maybe subconsciously my brain kicked into fight-or-flight mode it sensed that this information could have done me some kind of harm confused me to the point where i was in danger of
(1:47:04) losing touch with what i understood to be reality i knew that from the time i opened the pages of that first folder to viewing those photographs and reading the brief account of the planet from which the craft originated i'd experienced something that had happened to me many times before the passage of time hadn't been a part of my conscious awareness i could have been reading for five minutes or five hours i was so wrapped up in what i was reading that time had become irrelevant i know that comparing the human brain to (1:47:37) a computer and its operating system is a gross oversimplification but the only way that i can think of to describe the state i was in is to say that information was being downloaded and i was in the process of formulating a vast number of questions because i was still acquiring more data and wanted to i didn't have the time to pose all of those questions to myself they were being stored and cued up who i would ask and what the answers might be wasn't something i knew as i

sat there trying to assimilate all that i was (1:48:11) reading into a coherent whole i was failing miserably at that task but was hopeful that at some point i'd be able to put all those pieces together chapter three something caught my eye and i looked up from reading through the doors small rectangular window spider webbed with wire i caught a brief glimpse of someone out in the hallway a few seconds later i heard the electromagnetic sounds of the door's latch being released you can leave those there there's someone i'd like you to meet dennis said from the doorway
(1:48:50) he edged into the room and a uniformed security guard slipped past him he bundled up the files and strode off he didn't make any attempt to count them or inspect them and that made me wonder again if i had been observed the whole time i was in that room follow me dennis said i did as instructed we stopped in front of a door just a few spots down from where i'd been reading the briefing papers dennis carted us in and before we could enter a security guard exited the room once inside i could see that we had
(1:49:26) entered a laboratory a man was seated on a stool at a long work station when he saw us he smiled broadly and walked toward us dennis made the introductions letting me know that my work partner was named barry castillo he was an inch or so shorter than i thin and with an olive complexion and a shock of brown curly hair that he had the habit of running his fingers through whenever he spoke other than each of us saying pleased to meet you we were silent until dennis left the room his parting remarks were simple and
(1:50:02) straightforward barry will bring you up to speed this is propulsion lab and you'll be spending most of your time here he'll advise you on what your task assignment is the goal that you're expected to achieve i'll leave it to you gentlemen to get started i'll see you both later on this morning as soon as dennis left us alone barry eyed me and said his eyes sparkling you're not one of them are you i don't think so i said military i mean he shook his head and waved both hands in front of him
(1:50:37) forget that i can tell i mean no disrespect it's just that i can tell that you're well you're normal i laughed softly i was thinking the same thing about you as soon as dennis let me in here and i saw you i was like thank god somebody i can actually have a conversation with i know what you mean barry grabbed my biceps and said you've got to see this stuff i had that laundry list of questions i wanted to ask him about the briefings but barry's enthusiasm was so infectious that i let him lead me to his workstation
(1:51:16) sitting about 15 feet from his high stool was a cylinder about the size and shape of a household garbage can it was pewter in color and both from a distance and upon closer inspection it seemed to have no seams no welds no fasteners no sharp edges no marks on it at all i saw nothing that hinted at how it had been manufactured it didn't appear to have been cast machined molded formed or joined this is one of the emitters barry said to me what does it emit i asked setting aside again the dozens and dozens of other
(1:51:56) questions about what i just read i'll show you in a second barry said sounding very much like an excited teen wanting to show off all the components of his stereo system before letting the music blast away on the desk surface of barry's workstation set a half sphere of the same color and material it was roughly the size of a basketball and sat on a one-inch plate again of the same composition as the other two pieces or so i surmised based on a quick look at it this is the reactor barry lifted the half sphere and exposed
(1:52:33) a small tower shaped object inside it was approximately six inches tall and as was true of everything barry showed me seemed to have been wholly formed through no process that i'd ever seen or read about sitting atop the tower was a cap like all the other surfaces it had a rounded or radius corner instead of a 90 degree edge barry retrieved a small triangle-shaped disc from a metal box and placed it in the top of the tower he replaced the cap put the half sphere back on the base and stepped over to the emitter
(1:53:10) he pushed it a few feet toward the reactor watch this barry said he extended his arm toward the half spear but before his arm could reach its full extension his hand moved back toward his upper body he looked at me expectantly and i felt bad that i didn't share his enthusiasm in that moment it simply looked like he just extended his arm as if to shake someone's hand and then withdrew it better yet barry said stepping to the side feel this i stood in front of the reactor and did as barry had done when my hand got within approximately (1:53:50) eight or nine inches of the devices i felt myself being pushed back by

some unseen force if you've ever had the use of two fairly powerful magnets and put them so that two of the poles are placed near one another to produce a repelling effect that was very much like what i felt anti-gravity barry said can you believe it i read about that in the briefings i said as i continued to test the field being produced i skimmed over that portion figuring it was part of some joke or something else i don't know what (1:54:27) my voice trailed off like anybody who was interested in science and who grew up in the era that i did in the nineteen sixties anti-gravity was a concept with which i was familiar from watching science fiction shows on television or in films and for the most part that was where the notion of the existence of anti-gravity resided every school kid learned about sir isaac newton and his discovery of gravity one of the four fundamental forces at work in the universe the other three are electromagnetism and the strong and weak nuclear forces
(1:55:02) according to newton gravity was an external force transmitted by some unknown means anti-gravity as its name implies is the opposite of gravity a hypothetical force by which a body of positive mass would repel a body of negative mass the key word there is of course hypothetical no one had been able to prove that it actually existed when einstein came along with his theory of general relativity gravity was not considered to be a force but a result of the geometry of space time simply put that theory offered no real
(1:55:41) hope that anti-gravity existed quantum physicists postulate that gravitons exist as a subatomic particle these are massless elementary particles that transmit the force of gravity how they could be created or destroyed is not yet clear we tend to think in terms of opposing binaries light and dark long and short and so on so it seems logical to us that if gravity exists its opposite must as well that's why going back as far as hg wells and his book the first men in the moon published in 1901 we humans imagined a
(1:56:22) substance or a process by which gravity could be blocked or controlled wells called it cabaret he linked the idea to propulsion as well he wasn't alone and prior to his writing scientists like nikola tesla thomas townsend brown john world keeley and others all worked on ways to control gravity to harness the power of anti-gravity if that demonstration wasn't enough barry next went to a drawer and produced a golf ball he wagged his eyebrows at me and stood several yards from the bench on which the devices sat
(1:57:01) heads up he said he tossed the golf ball underhanded into the anti-gravity field being produced the golf ball arced as it approached the field and then once it entered into it shot violently upward into the ceiling holy i said we were like two kids monkeying around while our parents were away the ball had hit the acoustical tile in the suspended ceiling of the lab bits of the tile and a fine spray of dust fell and settled on the workstations and the floor we better clean that up i said isn't that so cool barry said
(1:57:43) it's amazing i was still having trouble wrapping my head around what i just read and then seen demonstrated as before my brain focused on something more concrete more of the present do you have a dust pan a broom this was really my first day on the job and the last thing i wanted was to get in trouble for breaking something or creating a mess in the lab funny how the mind works we spent the next couple of minutes with me sweeping up using a file folder as a broom and another as a dustpan barry took the half sphere off the plate
(1:58:21) and removed the fuel disc it was showtime again barry reinstalled the fuel disc he retrieved a candle from his desk drawer he held it in the mouth of the emitter and using a striker he lit the candle at first it burned normally then as he pulled the emitter closer to the reactor and presumably focused the gravitational waves the candle stopped flickering but the light remained bizarre was all i could manage to say in response next he took off his watch a classic chronometer with a second hand and placed it in the emitter
(1:59:03) the second hand stopped that doesn't mean that the device has slowed time or created frame dragging i said it could just be electromagnetism affecting the watches works barry smiled and shrugged to shoulders exaggeratedly maybe so but check this out he removed the watch and then rotated the emitter 90 degrees look inside barry told me i did and there about two feet from the bottom of the emitter i saw that a black dot had formed it's bending it no doubt about it i said just barely above a whisper i was stunned (1:59:51) anyone with a basic understanding of physics understands that light can be reflected or refracted truly bending light is another matter entirely we can use lenses mirrors prisms and other means to change the direction that light is traveling reflecting it or refracting it but that doesn't truly bend it that black dot the absence of light in the visible spectrum showed that the light was being bent the only force that can bend light is gravity having seen this latest of barry's demonstrations what i'd been puzzling

(2:00:30) over seemed to have only one possible conclusion the device we were working with was able to produce a gravitational field as far as i knew as far as i'd say any terrestrial scientists knew the only things that produced gravitational fields were enormously large objects the earth for example here i was in a room with an emitter the size of a garbage can and a reactor that was smaller than a typical toaster oven and the two of them worked in concert to produce a gravitational field i was in awe at this technology
(2:01:09) of course i was dealing with a propulsion system if i was to believe what i'd been told to read that didn't originate on earth the only understanding i had of how the phenomenon of light and gravity operated was based on the work of scientists here on earth i had been standing there in that room with barry for more than an hour and in that time i'd been processing what i was witnessing analyzing based on my knowledge of for lack of a better term earth physics that meant looking at this from both a
(2:01:42) newtonian and einsteinian perspective einstein's description of gravity which is fundamental to his theory of general relativity tells us that the effect of gravity is caused by distortions in space and time itself now if you do something as fundamental as distorting space and time and reshape it anything that lives inside space and time will be affected that includes waves and so waves can be bent and can follow different paths if you change the geometric properties of the space they live in gravity can effectively bend space and
(2:02:23) time meaning that anything in its field is also distorted and that includes light this thing was producing a controllable form of intense gravity once it was produced they'd be able to do anything they wanted to do with it it could push the craft or pull it it would also produce some bizarre side effects as it bent light much like the thermal heat waves that rise up off a heated surface like a roadway in summer it would distort our field of vision a desert mirage is an even better example you could see something that is not even
(2:03:00) there or the inverse of that not see something that was there once you mess with the nature of light and optics all kinds of odd things could happen to our perceptions it's the missing piece barry said if you can produce a gravitational field like that then anything's possible force fields anti-gravity exotic propulsion you can bend space and distort time the thing is so simple no moving pieces how the hell did they do this barry shook his head appreciatively elegant really i just i really don't know what to say
(2:03:47) i just have so many questions do these devices focus the field do they produce their own artificial gravity field are they amplifying it somehow can that field be directed or controlled that's what we've been trying to figure out he said i mean i get it that the reactor produces the field somehow but what's really got my attention is the emitter that's got to be one of the keys doesn't it if it were omnidirectional i don't see how they're really interested in how the reactor operates barry went on
(2:04:24) that's to be our primary focus i keep hearing that over and over that makes sense in a way start with the power source move in a linear fashion from there but thinking linear may not work i know barry said but as much as i hate to approach things this way we've got to do what they ask i don't want to jump too far ahead here but as far as we humans know the only thing that produces gravity is an immensely large body of mass i pointed at the cylinder and then at the reactor i've seen you move both of those things
(2:05:03) that doesn't tell me we're dealing with a large amount of mass something fundamentally different from anything we know and have experienced is going on here barry took a seat again on his stool we let a silence linger for a minute or two so what do you think barry asked i remained standing in front of the two devices well first of all this thing works here on earth in this atmosphere under all the conditions of our existence that means that it operates for the most part in this physical realm and has to conform somehow to our understanding of (2:05:45) our physics second that makes no sense at all maybe it has to conform to some other physics i mean for it to produce a gravitational field as we understand it it would have to produce terawatts or even more of power a tremendous amount of energy has to be produced all the power output possible on this planet focused into a small area unimaginable power really and the size of that reactor tiny i scratched

the back of my neck and head how can i be standing here in front of this thing while it's still functioning
(2:06:26) if it's producing enough energy to create a gravitational field where's the waste energy going the basic laws of thermodynamics are being violated here we should be burned to a crisp no reaction is 100 percent efficient none not nuclear not chemical none it's not giving off any heat it makes no noise it makes no sense i know barry said these things have torn a huge hole in my understanding of science a huge hole none of this is supposed to be possible barry pointed at the emitter and then at the reactor
(2:07:08) yet there they are can you tell me that they're not there no i can't i paused for a few seconds can you tell me how the hell this is possible barry laughed again and slapped the table what do you mean can i tell you you tell me that's why you're here isn't it at least that night made one thing clear yes indeed that was why i was there i imagined that if i were a screenwriter or a hollywood director how i'd have been totally disappointed by what barry had shown me more specifically i'd be disappointed by
(2:07:48) how little for lack of a better term spectacle there was to the whole demonstration that he'd produced the reactor and emitter weren't that visually impressive at all i knew that they were producing a reaction that was extraordinarily powerful but it didn't look like much at all was happening the room didn't shake i searing beams of light didn't flash from it it didn't produce any kind of discernible sound i thought of the jet engines that i used in my vehicles the rockets we used to launch and those that nasa used to
(2:08:22) launch spacecraft beyond the earth's gravitational pull those things produced a kind of sound and fury but what barry and i witnessed produced nothing but a slight visual distortion if you've ever driven down a long stretch of highway and seen thermal heat waves rising from the heated pavement then you've seen something similar to what i saw when an object was placed between the emitter and the reactor the visual distortion i witnessed was milder than that but still very much like it in the end as much as i was always
(2:08:58) interested in powerful reactions i was consumed by thoughts of how in the world or in some other world with these emitters and that reactor able to produce gravity i now more clearly understood what our task was this was my real aha moment i was certain that the people in charge of this whole project had the same desire in mind that i did we wanted to figure out how we could produce gravity in the same way this device did that was the be-all and end-all of what we'd been assigned to do in my mind the whole alien origins of these objects the (2:09:36) whatever of their civilization their purpose in coming to earth or whatever other far-flung questions about alien life forms and anything else truly did take a distant backseat to the notion of how anyone could produce a force that was as fundamentally essential and powerful as gravity in a way i was like a caveman who'd seen fire for the first time i sensed that what i was seeing was so life-altering in its possibilities that i had to do anything in my power to understand how i could produce that same phenomenon
(2:10:12) as barry later put it what we were experiencing in witnessing what this device could do was having a science gasm the world's best the truth was though that what we were experiencing was a science chasm what that emitter and that reactor were able to do tore a gaping hole in our understanding of science i was standing in a small room where an enormously powerful reaction was taking place the freaking production of gravity and no residual heat was being given off you can't have one hundred percent efficient energy transfer that's just
(2:10:52) not possible nuclear reactions chemical reactions no kind of reaction in our world is one hundred percent efficient and yet this one was the entire output of power on our planet was essentially being focused in that room and i was still standing within a few feet of it and being completely unharmed the nuclear bombs we dropped on hiroshima and nagasaki were like tiny sparks compared to the power needed to produce gravity a nuclear power plant that provides energy to a small part of our planet has a veritable river of water millions of
(2:11:31) gallons flowing through it to keep it cool but there i was standing and talking with barry in a room so quiet that i could hear the institutional style clock on the wall click over to the next minute in the quieter moments when barry and i were both lost in concentration i could hear the hum of the fluorescent lights above us i knew that i was repeating in my mind what i'd said to barry minutes before but it was like my mind was back to being an old-fashioned record and the needle was stuck in the groove the question of how this thing worked

(2:12:06) spun around and around and around again in my mind somewhere i suppose the question of how could this even be happening was faintly playing but far too softly to matter chapter four after the fascination came the fear i had no idea how long i was supposed to work with barry that first night i considered it a kind of orientation session we weren't going to get into any of the specifics of determining how the technology worked that seemed obvious to me especially since i was still reeling from the effects of what i'd witnessed
(2:12:49) we'd had that science gasm as barry had put it and in the law afterward we sat at the workbench each of us lost and thought it was an awkward situation to say the least barry and i knew nothing about one another our educations our previous work experience we'd been thrown into a room together and he'd proceeded to demonstrate to me how the technology worked after that it seemed as if there wasn't much else to talk about in terms of the devices we had the what or so we both believed but now we had to turn our attention to (2:13:26) the how finally i said to barry so how long have you been working at this his expression darkened and he let out a noisy breath through his nose i don't know if i can tell you that he screwed up his face in disgust at what he just said what i mean of course i'm capable of telling you that i know the answer to the question i'm not stupid or brainwashed i just don't know if i'm allowed to tell you that we both looked around the room we were alone but given what we both knew the enormity of what those devices represented the
(2:14:07) kind of security clearance required it made sense that we were being surveilled in fact that was a part of the transition i was experiencing in going from being fascinated to being fearful that's not completely accurate i wasn't in a kind of binary situation where i was either fascinated or afraid i was both simultaneously but just in different proportions that would prove to be the case the entire time i worked there part of that fear was a result of realizing my ambition i always wanted to work with large and
(2:14:44) powerful forces that was what i loved about jet cars and explosives and incendiary displays like fireworks i knew enough about them that i felt i could control them what i'd seen on the workbench with the emitter and reactor wasn't something that i felt i could control i understood that it was turned on by placing the two objects in proximity to one another that kind of powering up wasn't that unusual by the way a tesla coil and some radio transmitters have a similar functionality beyond that i had no understanding of
(2:15:20) how it produced a gravitational field and controlled that field that lack of understanding was absolutely frightening what went on said and what i didn't really think of until after that first orientation session was over and i was on my way back to las vegas where the larger implications of what this propulsion system represented what if we were able to figure out how it operated what if we were able to produce a similar kind of effect or the same effect if we could help our government and military produce a gravitational field
(2:15:56) what kind of weapons systems would be possible what kind of propulsion systems what kind of energy production how would we be able to change the world as we knew it and as cliched as it sounds what if that technology fell into the wrong hands to what lengths would nations or individuals go to get what seemed to me to be as the expression goes the keys to the kingdom if you could produce and control gravity if you could distort space and time as we commonly know them and accept them what then i had to stop myself
(2:16:34) i knew that those questions weren't going to get me any closer to doing what i had been hired to do i'd learned while working at los alamos that the kind of institutional compartmentalization that went on there and was also in place here was the kind that i needed to put in place in my own mind it's above my pay grade i do my job as asked and leave the bigger questions for others that was going to be more difficult here but i knew that i had to make my best effort or else who knew what might happen to me
(2:17:08) fascination and fear we're going to have to learn to get along of course though i couldn't shut down every thought i had i did wonder briefly why it was that what seemed to me to be a relatively small group of people were working on a project that had the kinds of implications that this one did los alamos and the project to produce nuclear bombs involved an enormous number of people and resources still very few people outside of the program actually knew what was being conducted out in the deserts of new

egotistical as to believe that i was one of only a select few working on something so monumentally important as this was i feel like i should tell you this though barry said haltingly i have no idea how long this project has been in progress i do know that i was brought on and i assume you were out of necessity maybe this is very obvious but we need to be careful (2:18:20) he nodded toward the bench where the two pieces sat there looking as benign as some kind of scandinavian sculptures that some hollywood hipster might have had in his home he went on to explain that he'd been informed about an accident that had occurred that necessitated him being hired he wasn't given any of the real details but as he put it those involved were unable to work again by his tone and his expression i knew that he meant that there had been a loss of life i stood there trying to imagine what it
(2:18:55) was those individuals might have done as barry said he wanted me to know because we were all under pressure to figure out the solution to this puzzle there was also the temptation to take shortcuts to take risks and the consequences of a bad choice being too eager to please or too frustrated to consider every possible effect when dealing with such an unknown could have enormous consequences that was a part of the fear on the surface without all those science fiction-like displays of the propulsion system's power and capabilities it
(2:19:32) appeared completely benign a marvel of simplicity and elegant engineering of a type that was astoundingly sublime beneath that benign veneer was something more powerful than anything i had previously imagined yes it was fascinating to consider it had an allure that drew me in but just as magnets have poles that attract and repel i sensed in those first few hours in the lab that i was also going to feel respect for the intelligence behind its creation and a kind of nervous anxiety that i'd never experienced before in my personal
(2:20:11) or professional life a whole lot was at stake here and to be in cautious in any way seemed to be the least desirable approach to take a last resort that i hoped i would never even have to contemplate at some point well into the early hours of the morning dennis came in to let me know that i was done for the night he escorted me out of the room and sat with me briefly in a small office off the main corridor waiting area this will be your routine for the foreseeable future he told me once you have your final clearance
(2:20:48) you'll be housed on site barry i asked a flash of annoyance flickered across dennis's face but he answered still working a faint ringing sounded in my ears it was as if i'd been concentrating so hard for so long that the tension in every nerve and tendon in my body was as taut as a piano wire and was still vibrating long after the key had been depressed you'll be partners dennis said you'll discuss your work with him solely here and with no one else understood i was about to say that i understood
(2:21:30) that the first time that he'd mentioned that protocol to me but thought better of it above my pay grade to remind dennis mariani of anything we spent a few minutes going over my proposed schedule dennis wanted to be sure that i didn't have any conflicts with times and dates despite the tango of fear and fascination that i had i assured him that i would clear my calendar to be certain that i'd be able to report as needed he reminded me again that the security clearance could take some time if you can think of anything that might
(2:22:06) get in the way of you being approved or even slowing the process let me know now it will be far easier and can speed things up i can't think of a thing i told him and i spoke the truth as i did on the flight home i thought again of the immense power the reactor and emitter produced and directed i couldn't imagine what those individuals involved in the accident might have done to wind up dead i imagine that they had to understand that what they were working with had the power equivalent to what our son possesses
(2:22:42) that is a mind-bogglingly large amount of energy i'd touch the emitter and the reactor they were made of a material that could only have been cut into with something like a plasma torch who in their right mind or with enough testosterone in them would even consider applying that tool to something so powerful imagine someone taking the power of the sun and shrinking that reactor to the size of a small box and putting it into a room with you and saying isn't that amazing sure is let's cut it up to see what's (2:23:19) inside okay sounds great as a result i knew that it was unlikely these guys had done something really stupid if they had i'd feel bad for them but essentially they got what they deserved instead they may have done something far less stupid possibly something extremely intelligent or insightful and still they'd

lost their lives that scenario was far more frightening to me i was going to engage in work with something unknown and i might even while being the most scrupulous and cautious as i could be still end up doing great harm to myself (2:23:58) and possibly others even when i got home and lay in bed next to tracy i contemplated that thought and as the sun rose the next morning i began to wonder just how many more of those beginnings of a new day i might end up seeing from seemingly out of nowhere a thought occurred to me what if the guys we had to replace had completely misunderstood the nature of the objects what if they couldn't get their minds wrapped around the idea that something so small could be producing that kind of energy maybe they thought that it was
(2:24:34) retransmitting energy being produced elsewhere that had to be it it made sense then that since there were no outward signs heat noise etc that it was producing power it made sense to them to dig beneath that surface to see how it functioned the same with the emitter it was essentially empty space a kind of shell without any obvious other components as we understood them attached to its surface the housing seemed inert because it was only when the fuel the triangular bit that barry introduced to the tower was in place that the system functioned
(2:25:13) maybe those guys weren't doing something stupid but only in hindsight could we see the error of their way before i could go on any further i felt tracy stirring beside me good morning i said when she didn't respond i repeated my greeting slightly louder still getting nothing in return i slid out of bed and went to my desk i had more pickups and deliveries to make and despite only what seemed to be a few minutes of sleep i knew that i had to get the day going if i got the call i was gonna have to be ready
(2:25:52) by noon bleary-eyed and better able to identify the cause of the ringing in my ears as sleeplessness i decided that even after just a couple of trips out to groom lake this schedule was unsustainable i thought it was going to be just a question of a short period of time before i was on staff full time at the lab i'd been living there and i wouldn't be able to keep the photo business operation on my own tracy was familiar with the routine and could handle the workload on days i was called in or the mornings after (2:26:25) i'd have to show her how to use the machines i knew she had the aptitude for it since she'd shown some interest in the rocket car and other things mechanical besides she was taking flying lessons and the pre-flight checks and other routines associated with that were more complex than a photo processor the one difficulty was that she was working at a local airport doing administrative duties for the airport manager she liked the work and had a great relationship with everyone there i hoped that we could leverage that last
(2:26:57) fact to our advantage i wasn't asking her to take on the whole photo business she'd just have to fill in on an as needed basis the problem with that is that we never got enough advance warning for her to ask ahead of time if she could be out for a few hours or a whole day maybe i was naive but it seemed to me that her job wasn't so essential that some accommodation couldn't be made and with that hope in mind i returned home and we began the transition to a different way of life since i'd worked at los alamos before
(2:27:33) and because tracy's father had i assumed that the secretive nature of the enterprise i was engaged in wasn't going to present any problems tracy knew that i couldn't talk about the exact nature of the work i was doing and so i didn't really broach that part of the subject with her i did address the fact that my schedule would be for a while at least irregular at best i told her that i didn't like it but if i wanted to do the kind of meaningful work that made me happy and provided a better living for us then that was the
(2:28:05) price to pay she agreed as she put it i'm not jumping for joy about it but i get it you have to do what you have to do so with that assurance in mind i brought her up to speed as best i could on what her new role would be her employers proved to be flexible and so on those occasions when i wasn't able to be working in the photo processing lab or needed a few hours of extra sleep tracy would cover for me as it turned out things didn't prove to run as smoothly as i'd hoped and i was still being run ragged most days (2:28:42) adding to what would eventually be a heap of stress it was far easier for me to do that than it had been for barry to do so for me and i have to admit that i was frequently distracted while at home i love problems and puzzles and the one that i encountered while working for eg g was so engrossing that my mind would frequently take me back to the lab i loved tracy and the life we had together but i did find myself hoping that every time the phone rang it would be the voice of the

receptionist at least that was the job that belonged to (2:29:19) the pleasant but disembodied voice on the line letting me know it was time to head to mccarran i could never predict when the call would come but when it did i bid tracy a quick goodbye and i gotta go a few times dinner plans with friends had to be postponed but tracy and i were pretty much home bodies so the disruption felt to me at least to be minimal my relationship with barry was about as no nonsense as a work relationship could be i understood that i couldn't act out like i had in my los alamos days but
(2:29:54) barry kept himself on an incredibly tight leash that first night we worked together was really the extent of him sharing any information that wasn't directly related to the work we were planning on doing that night or in the hours ahead i suppose that part of that might have been that i was still considered though no one referred to me this way as a temp the larger factor in barry's tight-lipped approach was the presence of armed security personnel whether some member of the security detail was in the room with us the
(2:30:27) entire time or dropped in unannounced and exited unannounced they shadowed our existence within the confines of the lab the building the lab was housed in and the entire facility whether the security team members had pistols or rifles varied at times but it was clear that they meant business whether they were there to protect us or to keep us in line was never something i could decide firmly but came to believe that it was likely both whenever we left the lab to go to the restroom or the cafeteria we were always
(2:31:03) escorted not just to those rooms but inside them the second night i worked there i received a reminder of just how tightly monitored i was going to be as was true the first time and as it turned out every time i was on the ground at groom lake dennis picked me up at the airfield unlike the first time though when we entered through a side door into the administration and laboratory section of the facility we pulled around to the front of the building this time the door to one of the hangars was open dennis indicated that i should go inside
(2:31:39) through the large open door and into the bay inside sat a cylindrical craft typical of the flying saucers that i'd seen depicted in blurry photos and in tv shows and the movies as i got nearer i saw an american flag emblazoned on one of its flanks the flag was printed in reverse so that if you were looking in a mirror the image would be correct i thought that i understood better at this point this was an experimental terrestrial aircraft the story i'd been told in those reports was a kind of cover designed to keep me
(2:32:16) somewhat in the dark about the operational nature of the facility etc as we walked past the craft i did what i think anyone would do when walking past this type of vehicle i ran my hand along the surface immediately one of the guards walking along with us snapped at me hands off his menacing voice was so loud i was startled the sound of it echoed in the space and i wondered if it was my imagination or did i really hear the sound of weapon being cocked in either case the message was clear they had a very stringent set of
(2:32:54) protocols and i was being kept on a very tight leash not for the first time would i have to rein in some of my impulses if i wanted to get along with an employer with the institutional gray walls the fluorescent lights the armed guard and no hint of collegiality much less joviality even after the first week or so of working there i very much began to feel like i was imprisoned in the confines of the facility that i would eventually hear being referred to as s4 i don't recall exactly the circumstances surrounding the discovery of that name
(2:33:32) we didn't exist in complete monastic silence though most conversations in the cafeteria were somewhat hushed and we were forced to eat at a table solely with our work partners the tables we sat at were spread at a distance so that all i could generally hear were murmurs regardless s4 was where i was now spending a few days a week at irregular intervals and for irregular spans of hours though barry and i had somewhat different temperaments for example i seldom wore protective clothing while working with dangerous chemicals and was (2:34:07) more willing to take chances with my personal safety than he was and approaches to problem solving i tended to trust my gut while barry was more methodical and programmatic that is by the book we agreed on one point the powers that be wanted to understand how this crafts propulsion system worked so that meant we needed to concentrate our efforts on working with the reactor as i saw in the first demonstrations barry made the reactor was comprised of three parts the housing the tower and the fuel all three of those parts were relatively

appearance yet they worked in concert to produce that astounding amount of power with 100 efficiency to put that into context the most highly refined electric motors we have on earth operate at about 85 percent efficiency some energy is lost through the production of heat an internal combustion engine operates at about 35 efficiency we lose some power again through the production of heat and gaseous exhaust electric motors have fewer moving parts (2:35:22) than your car's motor does so it made sense in one way that the fewer the parts the better in the case of the alien technology the parts within the reactor didn't seem to move at all thus making for a highly efficient means of producing power with no waste imagine having a fireplace that burned hot enough to heat your entire home but the chimney or stove pipe remained completely cool to the touch that's efficient all the energy being produced is used to serve our purposes if you've ever driven your car past
(2:35:58) electric power lines and had the radio reception interfered with you've experienced the inefficiency of our systems some of the electricity being carried in those lines has leaked out and mixed itself up with the radio waves resulting in the production of static we wondered whether or not there was any leakage in the propulsion system so we measured all around the room to detect for stray energy waves and discovered none less scientifically we had a radio playing in the lab and its reception was as clear with the reactor and amplifier
(2:36:33) on as with it off even back then i realized that i was focusing probably too much on the concept of the system's efficiency that it had allowed the craft to travel millions of light years meant that it had to be efficient that its propulsion and other systems life support guidance or whatever had to remain operational over a long period and vast distances as far as i could tell based on the brief glimpse i had of the craft itself it had no external fuel tanks or other obvious means of carrying enormous quantities of some substance to power
(2:37:10) the craft that led me to think that maybe the entire craft itself was producing energy maybe what we thought of as the reactor was just a small part of a larger system that produced the energy needed for flight and guidance or maybe what we considered the housing the outer shell that contained the tower and the fuel disk was more than just housing and was integrally involved in the production of the gravity wave we witnessed one of the first things we did was to consider how the device itself its very structure might contribute to the (2:37:46) production of this enormous amount of energy we decided to see if we could determine what kind of reaction was being produced inside the device that held the fuel cell even when that copper colored triangle wasn't present did the housing itself produce some kind of measurable effect electromagnetic chemical radioactive did the reactor's material composition contribute to the production of the gravitational field did it absorb some of the waste heat and if so did it then convert that energy captured into a different kind of energy
(2:38:20) that produced the field to determine this we used a measurement device a kind of miniature geiger counter to detect the presence of radioactive emissions beta particles or gamma rays instead of utilizing a geiger tube this much smaller device used a small chipped transistor that was sensitive to radiation we placed that on the tower in place of the small fuel disk almost instantaneously the readout indicated that the space inside the reactor even without the fuel being present was being bombarded by particles producing a relatively intense field of
(2:39:00) radiation within it i'll be damned barry muttered that's something i added have you never measured this before barry shook his head thought about doing this for a while but since we were told well i was told there was no radioactivity i assumed there he sighed and then stopped speaking i didn't take the bait and talk about the dangers of assumption instead i took what i saw as the next logical step in my thinking so those particles are being accelerated somehow and it can't be linear i held out my hands like a fisherman
(2:39:44) indicating the size of the one that got away my palms spanning nothing greater than the width of my shoulders way too small to get them up to any kind of speed over that straight line distance they have to be moving around the reactor barry said agreeing with my assessment it's like a mini cyclotron i offered ernest o lawrence in 1932 created the first cyclotron a type of particle accelerator in which charged particles accelerate outward from the center along a spiral path the particles are held to a spiral trajectory by a static magnetic (2:40:25) field and accelerated by a rapidly varying radio frequency electric field maybe we can detect those frequencies being produced by the electric field barry frowned and shrugged i don't know if that would tell us anything it might i wasn't sure what that might tell us but i was excited about the possibility that we might be headed down the right path at least i didn't want to lose the momentum from having at least determined that a nuclear reaction of some kind one that maybe didn't fit into what our current (2:40:59) understanding of particle physics might allow for was essential to how the spacecraft's propulsion system functioned even if our understanding was rudimentary at least we had taken a first step forward that didn't mean that a lot of other questions didn't remain unanswered i was used to the idea that answers even tentative ones led to more questions if the reactor's core the structure that contained the site of the circling spiraling particles was central to how the whole system functioned and

(2:41:31) functioned so efficiently it made sense to us to try to determine how it enabled this nuclear reaction to take place barry and i spent the first few weeks of our partnership stuck on the idea of how this incredibly simple system could do the job it frustrated the hell out of us that the device seemed to so effortlessly overcome the kinds of issues that would have plagued any kind of propulsion system we used on earth equipment placement and power loss over distance for example and how it was that the signal being sent from the reactor to
(2:42:06) the emitter and amplifier traveled only to those components and didn't disperse more widely our minds were boggled and the only thing we could think to do that would be productive was to take a few steps back and ask a more fundamental question about the source of the energy the fuel disk and the other parts as well what material or materials was or were these things made of here's where the idea of efficiency also played a role in guiding how i approach the problem of reverse engineering this system the system under which we operated how
(2:42:43) naval intelligence or whatever agency truly guided these efforts insisted upon compartmentalization and secrecy got in the way of all of us doing our jobs easily and productively given that there was a metallurgy group functioning somewhere on the base where barry and i had worked you'd think it would be an easy matter to get a company directory dial that line these were pre-internet days so no email and request the answer to our question because all our efforts were so segregated and knowledge not shared that
(2:43:18) was impossible for us to do i can cite a half dozen or more examples of how this inefficient system worked against our efforts to be productive but that one should suffice we were in a classic catch-22 situation get this job done quickly despite all the obstacles being placed in our way to move with anything approaching the kind of speed desired if i hadn't worked at a government facility before and wasn't accustomed to this kind of quicksand like environment i would have either panicked or grown so frustrated i might have taken some
(2:43:53) action that was self-sabotaging in the long run barry and i had to work within the confines of what we were given and we did i couldn't help but think that on some days when we both sat there independent of one another silently pondering the problem that faced us we were like shade tree mechanics staring at an inert engine troubleshooting hoping that somehow the device could speak to us to reveal what was ailing in some ways that comparison to amateur mechanics is apt given that this wasn't a terrestrially
(2:44:28) sourced propulsion system we had limited knowledge about how it worked when a car's engine failed to start you could rely on some basic fundamentals it would be silly to try to figure out what part or parts had failed that were causing the engine to not start you could do that of course and start replacing parts until it finally did start if it did at all but that would be expensive and time consuming instead the better approach would be to think of the car's basic operating principles and the systems built to
(2:45:02) enable the three things needed for operation to function together air fuel and spark those three elements had to be working together in proper proportion and timing in order for the engine to start looking at the problem of a non-starting engine or propulsion system you had a series of checks you could make to determine why the engine wasn't functioning was it getting air was it receiving fuel was there a spark present to ignite the air fuel mixture at one of our early sessions together when barry and i were in that hands in (2:45:38) pockets staring at the thing mode familiar to anyone who has been stranded on the roadside i looked at him and said i wonder if there are any shade trees on zeta reticuli barry looked at me with a startled expression and then shook his head like a dog trying to shed water from its coat what are you talking about nothing really i said realizing that my alluding to amateur mechanics had eluded him just

that there has to be some kind of fundamentals to how this operates that we can focus in on what does that have to do with trees (2:46:16) i went on to give him a quick version of the air fuel spark relationship of internal combustion engines it wasn't exactly an archimedes-like eureka moment and no apples fell from any trees here on earth or on zeta reticuli but we both thought about our stagnant situation for a minute seems to make sense then to focus on the basics go with what we know barry said after a few minutes we don't know how the reaction takes place but we do know that something has to be fueling it so what we're back to high school chemistry
(2:46:54) and talking about endothermic and exothermic reactions barry sounded particularly glum that's not the point i said straining to keep my frustration with his attitude at a minimum i know it seems like it's too much starting over but if we begin at the beginning maybe we'll see some things in a new light barry smiled at my little pun regarding exothermic and the production of light the fuel's the thing i agree then let's figure out just exactly what kind of fuel we're dealing with barry walked over to the reactor
(2:47:33) was it out of phase with the other part of the system it wasn't functioning he took the top off the reactor removed the cap and lifted out the tower he held the triangular shaped copper-colored fuel piece in his hand and squinted at it i still can't get over how small it is i said glad also that it had been determined early on that it emitted no dangerous radiation it was clear that it was part of a nuclear reaction but it wouldn't be until years later that scientists here would be able to conceive and create
(2:48:09) devices that produced what would be called low energy nuclear reactions that meant that you could produce a nuclear reaction without nuclear and radioactive materials we weren't there yet in our understanding of the capability to produce these kinds of reactions then barry had taken the fuel disk and set it on a small piece of filter paper with a very fine file he scraped its surface collecting a minute amount of the filings on the paper he added them to a liquid solvent and prepared to inject them into a gas
(2:48:44) chromatograph where it would be vaporized and analyzed i joined him at the machine and watched as he inserted the material into the sample port using a micro syringe to get it through a rubber septum and into the vacuum chamber helium nitrogen is also often used began to flow as the carrier gas i checked the pressure regulator to be sure it was within parameters it was and that gas joined the vaporized material we had injected in passing through a glass column packed with silica coated with a liquid since the material we placed in the (2:49:22) solvent was insoluble in other words it didn't dissolve into the liquid but was suspended within it the whole process took a matter of seconds we were using a thermal conductivity device tcd and helium provided a shorter analysis time due to its higher flow rates and low molecular weight the detection system in the device converted the property changes of the substances heated and vaporized into electrical impulses that a computer could analyze basically it took an analog reading of the reactions taking place within the
(2:49:56) glass column and converted that reading to a digital one the digital was less susceptible to interference and has a better signal-to-noise ratio when we looked at the display the device provided the chromatogram itself literally a graph of the results we noticed that there were no spikes which would have indicated the presence of various elements the x horizontal axis reflected the amount of time while the y axis measured the abundance or absorbance of the chemicals present for example if you put a drop of water
(2:50:32) in the device you'd find a spike indicating the presence of hydrogen and oxygen what we saw was nothing at all except at the very far right of the graph indicating that something was in there but it wasn't composed of any other known component elements the obvious conclusion was that the material we were working with was an element itself it wasn't a combination of other chemical substances but was one of the basic building blocks we call elements barry and i stood looking at one another shocked to realize that the fuel wasn't
(2:51:10) a compound that it wasn't composed of multiple elements but was a single element itself i didn't expect that barry said i was pretty certain it had to be some kind of alloy i thought that same thing after all we have a limited number of elements on earth and most everything else is composed of combinations or variations on those elements carbon is an element but when those molecules get rearranged in a certain way you end up with a diamond that bears almost no resemblance whatsoever to carbon we figured this fuel had to be like that

(2:51:50) something relatively common that was combined with other materials that working together in some kind of known process fission oxidation or whatever produced that enormous energy i also knew that terrestrial spacecraft used liquid oxygen and either liquid hydrogen or kerosene in their rockets as a propulsion system solid rocket fuel was made up of a combination of powdered aluminum and an oxidizer of course we were dealing with an exotic fuel not of terrestrial origin but the kinds of systems and processes we used
(2:52:25) on earth were our only real frame of reference we could try other kinds of spectrography but i'm pretty sure given what this reveals and what we know of its origins that it isn't going to be made up of anything we typically find here carbon for example or any of the metals that's probably the case but we can't rule anything out barry said stating what i knew to be obvious on the one hand as a scientist i wasn't supposed to jump to any conclusions but this was a special case and just because i made that statement
(2:53:01) hypothesizing the result that didn't mean that i was not going to do the work needed to confirm what i suspected the frustrating part of all of this chemical analysis was that we were both working outside our fields of expertise physics eventually we subjected the material to mass spectral interpretation using a process called electron ionization mass spectrometry it produced the same result that same spike off the scale more or less confirming what we suspected about the fuel being an element we also conducted something called a
(2:53:39) neutron activation analysis essentially we bombarded the fuel element sample with neutrons as a result of that bombarding we produced a radioactive isotope since we know the radioactive emissions and radioactive decay paths for each element currently on the periodic table the spectra of the emissions will reveal what elements make up the sample in this case there was only one element that made up the sample but it wasn't one that we could identify every day that i was on site and barry and i worked together i could count on
(2:54:15) one thing dennis would show up and ask what we've done that day what progress we had made we had to resist the temptation to oversell him on anything we'd done we knew that they wanted us to get this job done and we felt the enormous pressure of those expectations but as i've pointed out we knew about the potential threat these materials posed i also knew from my work in the scientific community and edward taylor's rise and fall within that circle was a clear example of this if you hype something too strongly that is based on
(2:54:50) your speculation and highly reasoned and formulated opinions you run the risk of being too optimistic you had to produce results verifiable and measurable results that could withstand intense scrutiny and analysis we also knew that dennis was a layman essentially he didn't understand science to any great degree so until we had something that we could demonstrate to him as an unequivocal explanation of at least some part of the process that we could demonstrate we had to be cautious about what we told him it was a delicate balancing act trying
(2:55:27) to meet their expectations and ease their disappointment with our efforts i was in a constant state of anxiety worrying about my job safety my personal safety and the progress of my security clearance all became like a second job i had undertaken the problems we were faced with solving occupied me day and night though i wasn't working every day at s4 and wasn't physically on site there my mind was definitely occupied by the work twenty four hours a day and seven days a week i was vaguely aware of tracy and our
(2:56:04) life together i wasn't checked out of the relationship completely but i was preoccupied she seemed to be in relatively good spirits she was enjoying the flying lessons she was taking the photo business had proven to be something she could handle with minimal stress and even though it meant us being apart i was looking forward to being hired full time i wanted to be engaged in meaningful work and tracy and i were both adaptable and we'd find a way to accommodate the changes that loomed on the horizon for
(2:56:35) us life is all about change and adaptation after all i trusted in both our abilities and as frustrating as it was to work in that environment the fact that i was working on such an exciting project with so many potential implications for me personally as well as for the world from time to time pierced the protective cloud i'd inflated around me so that i could concentrate on the task at hand i didn't spend any real time thinking about how my name might one day be associated with an incredible advance in (2:57:09) our understanding of the nature of the universe but i did wonder what kind of bonus might await those of us working on the forefront of an exciting scientific

endeavor and what it might mean for our future chapter five in february if the end of the previous year's rains are plentiful enough the nevada desert blooms with wildflowers various types of nightshades geraniums and roses miners lettuce and others put on a brief show in 1989 when i made my way out to groom lake and area 51 i couldn't tell you whether or not a floral bloom or bust (2:57:51) was taking place out there from my seat aboard the aircraft or in the bus that took us to the s4 site i had on figurative blinders thinking only of the task at hand my world was reduced to the colorless and sterile environment of the lab and its facilities funny that the word facilities is related to the word facile which has as one of its definitions easily achieved effortless another of its meanings is appearing neat and comprehensive only by ignoring the true complexities of an issue superficial there was little about the job that was
(2:58:32) easy and effortless then we seemed to be expected to ignore the complexities of the bigger picture question of how the craft operated we were to focus solely on the one piece of the puzzle we were assigned to and even the environment in which we worked reflected that single-mindedness of purpose i'd never worked someplace that was so devoid of signs of human life i never saw a house plant or flowers i never saw a photo of a loved one a favorite vacation spot a beloved pet on anyone's desk no one had inspirational posters hanging
(2:59:09) on the walls of their workspace no cats dangling from a branch urging us to hang in there oddly or maybe i should say ironically there was a poster hanging in one of the rooms depicting a saucer-shaped ufo with the caption they're here we were so segregated from others that even when we were in one another's presence we were not allowed to speak if for example we needed to borrow the salt from another table we had to ask one of the security teams members to retrieve it for us i would have thought that barry and i
(2:59:45) would develop some kind of us against them mentality as fellow prisoners serving time together but we didn't i knew nothing of his personal life and he knew nothing of mine i don't know if those who lived on site during the week were more social but given how oppressive the environment was where i worked i highly doubted if there was a more lenient and relaxed and collegial atmosphere elsewhere in that part of the desert in the world of animals and flora and fauna some species managed to survive and even thrive in relative isolation
(3:00:21) i didn't count myself among them i was not then nor am i now a highly social animal needing to experience the gregarious pleasures of others to be happy but given all that was going on in that world i was greatly uncomfortable most of the time i was in it my irregular work hours also meant that i was sleeping irregularly and that contributed to my sense that i was living in a kind of fog i've always appreciated an intellectual challenge and i've always been able to dig into a deep reserve of energy to
(3:00:54) power my brain when i was on site i was fine and functioning well mentally at home that wasn't exactly the case i was managing but preoccupied so when tracy expressed some concern she had about seeing men parked in a car just a few hundred feet down the block from our house i was a little confused at first i don't know i told her initially people do all kinds of things they don't look like they belong here she said what does that mean my tone betrayed an annoyance greater than what i felt i immediately picked up on it and
(3:01:34) apologized and rephrased the question what have you noticed that leads you to believe that this is las vegas you don't wear a dress shirt and have your suit coat hanging in the rear window and it's two guys always two guys they just sit there and they don't even seem to talk to one another or even look around it's like they're at a drive-in movie or something tracy shrugged her shoulders i'm not paranoid but something is up with those two it finally dawned on me they're most likely watching us for the
(3:02:09) security clearance oh tracy said flatly at the time i didn't remark on how muted her response was how a half dozen states of mind or emotion could have circled around that tiny mass of sounds it's all part of it i said needlessly as it turned out since tracy had already left the room i went into the kitchen and let the water run for a long time before filling a glass when i put it to my lips i realized that i had turned the handle to the right and not to the left i drank the too warm water anyway as if punishing myself for some indiscretion i
(3:02:52) wasn't even aware that i had committed one night when i was on call dennis came into the lab barry and i had been working on an experiment to test how the location of the parts of the propulsion device affected its operation we moved the emitter a few degrees from center closer or farther to it this along with seeing how focused we get the gravity field to be had been taking up much of our time gentlemen dennis said i'd like to speak to you both barry and i i'd one another warily it's about the fuel

(3:03:30) we each sat on a stool and dennis produced from his pocket one of the fuel pieces it seemed to be an exact duplicate of the one we had been using dennis went on to explain that manufacturing an additional fuel element was necessary he wanted our assistance with the process i knew better than to ask but i was immediately wondering why the two of us yes the fuel element was an important component of the propulsion system but we didn't have a clear sense of how it was made or what it was made of dennis mentioned that the metallurgy
(3:04:05) group had made some advances and there was some certainty i was used to dennis and his vague references and passive voice constructions that never clearly identified who did what or who directed or requested what of its component materials he didn't tell us exactly what those components were only that the fuel pieces needed to be machined that's the kind of stuff that the guys at los alamos do a lot of the time i said as much to myself as to dennis they do i knew a number of guys in the machine shop well one of the machine shops and
(3:04:42) they were helpful i know that from conversations i had with them that they were working on a lot of cutting edge materials high precision materials incredibly small tolerances weapon systems i assumed highly classified work dennis nodded he produced another of the fuel triangles he set it on top of the first one each was about the size of a half dollar and no more than a quarter inch thick i'd handled one before obviously but seeing the two of them stacked like that made me understand something i hadn't
(3:05:18) before truth be told i didn't give that much thought to how they were made but at that moment i got a better sense of how they were likely to have been machined they weren't stamped or cut out of a single flat sheet of their material instead it seemed to me that a larger block of it would have to be shaped into a cone from that cone whatever cutting tool was needed could be guided to cut through that cone at various angles to produce the triangular shaped pieces for a few minutes dennis barry and i discussed how we thought the objective
(3:05:55) might be met i offered my cone cutting theory and barry asserted that he was in complete agreement that my suggestion was the likeliest scenario los alamos can do this dennis said while nodding he pushed himself away from the lab's countertop and walked out of the room he came back in a few minutes with what appeared to be a cylindrical ingot of the material i had no idea where he got it from whether it was a part of one of the crafts or came from somewhere else but he hefted it in his hand according it no
(3:06:29) more regard than a deli counter clerk handling a baloney sausage this will go on ahead of you he said nodding in my direction we'll get the schematics drawn up and then you'll be off to los alamos as far as they're concerned this material is known as la-1000 as far as they're concerned and as you're concerned while with them this is a new alloy used for armoring understood i said wondering how soon i would be going and if this little field trip was a good sign or a bad sign for my still pending
(3:07:04) clearance could the whole thing be a setup to test me ultimately i decided it didn't matter i was told to go to los alamos and that was what i was going to do the next time i got the call from eg g i was told to report to mccarran but that i'd be taking a commercial flight out of las vegas to albuquerque from there i transferred to a different regional flight to the los alamos airport i was only going to spend a few hours on site delivering the instructions for the manufacture of the fuel disk and armor
(3:07:38) the ingot was sent via courier to los alamos while dennis met me at the airport and gave me a sealed 9 by 12 inch envelope that i assumed contained what i needed to deliver to the machinists at the new mexico laboratory based on my experience working at lanl i figured the ingot got sent out on what we referred to as a dash flight they took off daily from mercury nevada near the old aec base camp at the nuclear test flight back in my days in new mexico we often received materials from area 51.
(3:08:13) looking at the airport in the city where i'd spend so much time felt both familiar and surreal simultaneously i wasn't able to tell tracy where i was going only that i'd be gone for longer than i usually was i had no idea how many hours that would be but i told her not to worry i don't worry she had told me i just don't understand and i don't like that i had no way to reply and just as i had landed in los alamos with no sense of how i was going to get to the location on the site's

thousands
(3:08:48) and thousands of acres i had no way to reassure or make tracy understand that if i could tell her what i was doing i would trouble was more often than not i really didn't understand what i was doing in my mind that meant i wasn't withholding anything from her i was the one from whom things were being withheld i was being the good soldier and had to trust that dennis and those in charge had my best interests at heart i knew that was never really going to be the case i was simply a moving part in a large
(3:10:00) l i had never worked in that area before and even the entrance was unfamiliar to me my driver hadn't engaged me in any kind of conversation and i wasn't feeling particularly chatty myself i was very tired and may even have dozed off for a second or two on the drive over just as i had though for much longer while on the flight in the van stopped in front of an administrative building what looked like a typical office building there i gave my name to a man behind a reception desk and picked up my visitor
(3:10:34) badge he made a quick call and then a woman came into the waiting area and without introducing herself asked me for the envelope i'd been carrying she left immediately and i stood there wondering what i was supposed to do next after a few moments of me standing there the woman returned without the folder and said that i was to follow her i went into an office and was introduced to the man who supervised this particular machine shop we went over the specs and how we wanted the cylinder to be sliced into discs
(3:11:08) then stack those discs fuse them then machine that into a cone and then into the triangle shaped bits we'd been using to help power the reactor none of what i asked registered on the face of the man i was speaking with he spent most of his time looking at the specifications sheet and the schematic in some ways i envied him he looked at the task as a kind of simple mechanical engineering fabrication problem i knew that people like him worked with plutonium as part of the nuclear weapons making so given that none of what i was describing to
(3:11:44) him involved fissile materials at least as far as i knew this was pardon the pun a relatively run-of-the-mill operation for him and his people of course we also need all of the material back i said there'd be a minute amount of residue or leavings produced and fabricating the fuel triangles but we still needed even the tiniest fragment to be returned to us any idea what kind of phase changes or thermal expansion we might be dealing with he asked ignoring my statement entirely i don't believe there will be an issue
(3:12:22) but with the kind of tolerances we're talking about i shrugged but didn't go on i was tempted to try to ingratiate myself to him and his people by letting him know that i understood about the work they did how creating an alloy with plutonium and gallium and other things was part of what they were responsible for materials that presumably were far more volatile than what had been shipped to them instead i let him the expert work out for himself how they get the job done i wasn't worried about that at all
(3:12:56) and shortly before i left the office the supervisor sat staring off into the upper corner of the room for a few seconds and then a satisfied smile spread across her face i think i've got a better idea of how to get this done he reached into a drawer and pulled out a small notebook and began scratching out a few notes i didn't want to disturb him so i simply said i'll let myself out receiving no response i walked out of the office and back into the waiting room in what seemed like no time i was driving back home from mccarran
(3:13:33) i arrived home in the late evening just around dinner time and noticed that the car that tracy had talked about wasn't there tracy wasn't home either she left no note so i put a frozen meal in the microwave and sat there eating the overly crisp outside of a macaroni and cheese dish and it still only partly thawed innards fatigue overtook me while i sat in an easy chair and before i knew it sunlight on my face had awakened me stiff and sore from my cramped sleep i stood in the hot shower hoping to ease
(3:14:09) the tension from my muscles as soon as i had towelled myself off the phone rang and less than 20 minutes later i was out the door and heading back to mccarran and on my way to s4 a cup of coffee and a fast food egg sandwich of some kind jousting in my belly as i followed dennis into an unmarked office take a seat dennis said tired and tired of dennis's no-nonsense approach to things i sat down in the chair and made no effort to engage him in any conversation at all a new directive has been issued dennis rummaged through a desk drawer (3:14:47) and withdrew some papers i thought that he'd tell me about the new emphasis we were to take in our research instead he pulled out a small caliber revolver what looked to be a 22 cal smith and wesson and placed it on the desk you're to carry this at all times when you're off site whether it was exhaustion and discomfort or i'd bought into too much of the iron curtain propaganda that had permeated life in the u.

(3:15:17) s for a while i immediately thought of the four russian scientists who had once been seen regularly around the facility they hadn't been seen for a few weeks and even barry loath as he was to engage in anything even approximating office gossip had commented on their absence i also speculated about what it transpired and was now putting two and two together and coming up with 22.
(3:15:43) i didn't respond to dennis at first but smiled ruefully to myself thinking that 2 plus 2 equals 0.44 the caliber of the long barrelled magnum i owned i wasn't exactly a gun aficionado but given how much i liked explosives i enjoyed owning a weapon and appreciated what one could do for me i also owned an uzi submachine gun that i appreciated for its design i didn't let dennis know about the uzi but i told them that i didn't need or want the 22 he was about to issue to me i admired both the weapons i owned but
(3:16:22) also understood that on a certain level practicality they were ridiculous to own i had purchased a holster so that i could carry the 44 on my person and that meant that i would have to wear a long coat to cover it not ideal in the heat of las vegas and only a little more so when i lived in new mexico at the mention of the smith and wesson magnum dennis slipped a bit for the first time in the two months i'd known him one eyebrow raised a fraction of an inch but then quickly settled have i made your day i asked him
(3:16:58) referencing clint eastwood's 44 magnum carrying character harry kane and the famous line from the film dirty harry funny dennis said showing no sign at all that he saw the humor in my remark at least i won't have to fill out these forms that makes my day i'd expected him to put up more of a fight with me on this point but was glad that he hadn't i was familiar with my 44 and more comfortable with it i wasn't comfortable with the idea that i needed to be comfortable with the weapon i pushed as many of those thoughts
(3:17:34) outside my mind as i could we're done dennis said i went back to the lab barry looked up at me but didn't ask a thing about my meeting with dennis there really is nothing unusual going on here he said he handed me a readout from the gas chromatograph we decided to do an analysis of the copper looking plates on the sides of the emitter in appearance they seemed to be the same material as the fuel triangles but proved to be based on this analysis made of common elements not exotic at all i said handing the sheet back to barry
(3:18:16) not the most typical of alloys but i let the sentence trail off barry nodded distractedly have you given any thought to what i suggested about building that measurement device with the right instrument we'd be able to produce more verifiable results it makes sense time is the one concern i have i agree but with the kind of seat of the pants tests we've been doing we don't have any way to quantify the effect of the reactor i said thinking of the various demonstrations we'd been doing in the last few sessions
(3:18:55) they were variations on the golf ball demonstration that barry had done for me we could see the results of the gravity wave but we hadn't done a very good job of measuring the effect on an object placed in its path i've got a pretty good idea of how to fabricate an instrument that will work my first job out of college was with an electronics firm i used to repair and refurbish pressure regulators if they can measure my new pressure differentials they should be able to measure the effects of the gravity wave (3:19:27) they'd also give us a sense of how the wave disperses we'd have to build something fairly large to do that what diameter would you estimate 60 inches we'll have to get quite a few of those sensors and then we can get started i'll talk to dennis on the flight back to las vegas i was thinking more about the conversation i had with dennis than the one that barry was going to have with him i speculated about the presence of the men outside our house i'd been fairly well convinced that they were part of the security firm who was (3:20:01) investigating me so that i could receive the top level clearance i needed after hearing dennis imply that i needed to be more concerned about my personal safety i wondered if those guys had been assigned because of some imminent threat to tracy or me worst case scenario what if those men hadn't been working for our side and instead were working against us it seemed unlikely but the whole what happened to the russians and why had we been cooperating with our sworn enemy scenario was generating its own bit of

(3:20:33) paranoia i wondered if there was some device that i could make to measure the influence of paranoia on me even without that device i began to carry my 44 magnum and the uzi in my car we got the approval to build the device and over the course of the next few weeks i worked at wiring the sensors in sequence we had to use dozens and dozens of them the work was tedious but at least i could leave after each work session and see some progress we also got some great news during that period of building the measurement
(3:21:09) instrument the fuel triangles came back from lanl and they worked just as the ones that we'd first been supplied with everyone was very pleased and even dennis showed some enthusiasm with a good work compliment i hoped my involvement in the los alamos venture might offset a slight blunder that could have spoiled any chance i had of getting the job full time before i began to carry my weapons with me i decided that i'd better register them the registration process was going to be easy but i tripped up when i told
(3:21:44) a friend of mine that i could only spend a few minutes with him having lunch because i had an errand to do what's that gene asked a perfectly normal conversational tactic i have to register my guns i told them and then added regretting the slip of the tongue as soon as it was out of my mouth i need to use them for work by this point in 1989 i had known jean huff for almost five years he worked as a real estate appraiser and taking photos was part and parcel of his job we'd met because of my photo processing
(3:22:19) company and since jean worked very regularly and needed frequent photo service we spoke on a number of occasions and eventually became friends actually jean dealt with tracy originally when she was doing some of the drop-offs for me while i ran the equipment she'd stopped by his office chat a bit and they talked a few times about living in los alamos jean assumed that i worked in photo processing there and it was only later when we became friends and we'd talked about a wide variety of things that he finally said to me
(3:22:52) you know you speak so knowledgeably about so many things you've got your rocket car and everything else you sound like a scientist and not just bob the photo guy well i am a scientist i've studied and have degrees in electronics and physics why didn't you say anything what was i supposed to hand you your photos and say by the way i'm a scientist yeah that's what i would have done well i'm not like that i told him eventually gene and i grew closer and we talk about a lot of things but what my new work was and why i might
(3:23:31) need a gun was not on the list of topics to be discussed to his credit gene saw how i had blanched when i made the mistake of mentioning the gun and work and he didn't press me for details still that i had let my guard down that way bothered me a lot i trusted gene after all he trusted me enough to sit at my kitchen table with me while i mixed up a batch of nitroglycerin and went off into the desert with me to witness its explosive force gene shared an interest in explosives and pyrotechnics and two years earlier
(3:24:06) in 1987 we had initiated a gathering in the desert of fellow enthusiasts for what eventually became known as desert blast through that and other shared interests i also met john the second son of the founder of the aircraft manufacturing firm bill lear he of the learjet fame john was an accomplished pilot himself and later gained some notoriety due to his claims about extraterrestrial life john and gene were both very interesting men with active and inquiring minds and the kind of curiosity that i possessed as well (3:24:44) i met john through jean jean had watched a local tv show that george knapp a journalist at the local abc television affiliate was doing called on the record john lear was george's guest he was an active believer in what was termed ufology he believed in the existence of alien life that extraterrestrial craft had come from other planets and solar systems he appeared at panels on the subject and he mentioned to me on several occasions that he believed that alien craft were being flown in the desert outside las
(3:25:17) vegas gene had some interest in the subject as did a lot of people in the

las vegas area due to the frequent sightings and the light show out in the desert he wasn't a proselytizer like john was just as i mentioned earlier a really curious guy john's views intrigued him and he thought he'd call john up to talk more about the subject that's just the kind of guy gene was when reached john was a bit guarded at first well a lot guarded probably characterizes it better for whatever reason jean mentioned a couple of times (3:25:53) that he worked as a real estate appraiser the lear family was wealthy and held several properties in the area john lived in what i would eventually come to think of as a kind of compound an enormous house and grounds john seemed more interested in talking about having gene come out to do an appraisal then he wasn't talking about ufos gene thought it might be interesting to see the place where the pseudo legendary at this time john lear lived they made arrangements in lieu of payment john would share some copies of
(3:26:28) ufo videos and other material related to the subject gene called to ask me if i was interested in going he said that i could pose as his assistant of course i'd heard of john and his exploits as a pilot so i agreed to go he sounded like an interesting guy and i was curious to see how the other half the wealthier half of las vegas lived as part of the appraisal process gene would have to take quite a few photos so i became his second shooter and gear totor after a brief introduction gene and i went about our business
(3:27:04) gene always claimed that because i was just the assistant john ignored me gene dropped names a few times mentioning that i had once worked at l a n l the los alamos reference didn't sink in until that third mention when john realized belatedly that i wasn't just a photo guy but had worked as a scientist we started to talk about his experiences and mine the two of us hit it off we had some similar interests in aviation propulsion pyrotechnics and other wide-ranging topics that caught our imaginations and intellects
(3:27:42) this made us if not kindred spirits than at least individuals who could carry on a stimulating conversation with one another i also knew this about john he had some interesting connections in the government and the military he'd done some work with the central intelligence agency and he could tell a great story i never once for a second believed what he told me and others about alien spacecraft i tolerated that part of him mostly because the rest of his life and accomplishments were on the record and at heart he was a kind and fascinating
(3:28:16) guy i also eventually came to understand this about john he had no detector he'd never seen any of these objects himself and several times expressed to me his disappointment that he hadn't and in my estimation he indiscriminately took in what other people had to say on this subject in that sense he was what i would call a true believer as i looked at it if someone said it john thought it must be so he gave the same credibility to something that someone at the cia had told him as someone he met in the street
(3:28:52) for the first time that's not to say that john was gullible or not a highly intelligent guy he was an expert in the field of aviation and his ability to recall information and to even reproduce on paper a diagram of the hydraulics that powered the landing gear of an l-1011 aircraft which i once asked him to do was nothing short of remarkable i took his belief in ufos and aliens with a grain of salt a lot of other people shared his belief but that didn't make them bad people or uninteresting company i also knew that gene was eager to learn
(3:29:29) as much as he could about what i was doing out at area 51 but he didn't press me for details the afternoon of my little slip up with him dennis showed up at my house and told me that i needed to go with him and that i had to bring my weapons with me we wound up at a las vegas police department substation at the corner of saint louis and atlantic after we got inside the building and passed the desk clerk and after dennis had shown the man there his identification card he instructed me to sit down in the waiting area
(3:30:03) i didn't have to wait there for very long dennis and a uniformed officer came out a few minutes later the officer pointed at me and shook his head this is the guy why would anybody let alone the russians want to do anything to him i tried not to take the remark personally but i knew i looked like what i was a bespectacled scientist and not a james bond-esque spy or whatever else this cop had imagined i also didn't like that he'd brought up the subject of the russians again dennis didn't look very pleased that the
(3:30:38) guy had said something in public about the nature of our visit and the need for me to have those guns registered that week i wasn't called into work at all and that troubled me a little to offset that worry about how my security clearance

was proceeding two men from the office of federal investigation showed up at the house tracy and i had a couple of people over her sister kristen and another couple we had become friendly with wayne and robin wayne was a mechanic and serviced our vehicles we became friendly due to my interest in (3:31:11) vehicles generally and he was intrigued by the jet car that i used to take all around doing demonstrations at this point tracy had indicated that she was no longer interested in running the photo developing business wayne and his wife were looking for another business opportunity they were over for the day discussing the possibility of acquiring our photo operation before finalizing any arrangements i thought it best to get them acquainted with the machines and how they worked wayne was obviously mechanically
(3:31:43) inclined and used to working with various processes and systems but this was unfamiliar territory for them both they also weren't familiar with the notion that some representatives of a federal agency could come to the house unannounced and begin looking around on the one hand i was glad to know that i was still being considered but the intrusiveness of it all didn't sit well with me i was in a bind if i reacted too strongly then i'd amplify tracy's irritation one of the agents was named mike thigpen
(3:32:16) and though he tried to be courteous and professional something about him rubbed me the wrong way maybe it was because wayne and wife robin were there because they were i had to reveal for the second time that i was doing work which required such high level clearance prior to that neither wayne nor his wife were aware of what i was doing presuming that i was operating the photo business tracy knew about the need for security clearance so i told her about the search she wasn't pleased about the idea of the (3:32:48) two men going through drawers closets cabinets and nearly turning the place inside out unlike in tv shows or films where they leave the place a mess these guys were very respectful despite my assurances tracy was still shaken by the length the men went to i told her that we'd done the right thing by allowing that search though i was not really happy about it all i kept from her my relief that their presence let me know that the investigation was ongoing there had to be some reason why i wasn't called out to work at s4
(3:33:23) but my being denied a security clearance wasn't the reason at least not yet knowing that i was still in the running was far better than one of the other alternatives i didn't want to press that point too much nor voice to tracy my concerns that this was an odd way to go about this business the less said the better let tracy believe that this was standard operating procedure and worked to convince myself that this was true and proceed with focusing on the job at hand i can't say for certain why it was that
(3:33:57) a brief period of inactivity went on but there were a couple of occasions where the reactor and the emitter weren't present in the lab other units working on other systems must have needed to use them of course we were never informed of this and it was mostly a surmise on my part and on barry's part but given what we eventually were allowed to do and to witness that made the most sense i don't know if it was because i was relieved to learn that i was still being actively investigated for the security
(3:34:30) clearance i needed or if the home search indicated that i was under a new level of scrutiny but i began to feel more comfortable talking with dennis about our lack of real progress not only that but barry and i both began to let him know how much a hindrance it was for us to not be allowed to see and to inspect the other systems of the craft we could study the reactor and the emitters in isolation and we were getting closer to having a working instrument to measure the gravitational effects produced but how that propulsion
(3:35:02) system functioned within the larger context of the craft was a gaping hole in our understanding this isn't like a car engine of some unique design that's been dropped into a conventional automobile we don't have a baseline knowledge of the drive train and the transmission and the steering and the suspension that are all common to most cars i explained to dennis in defending ourselves against his accusation that we weren't trying hard enough how this entire craft functions how this reactor and emitter work in sync with (3:35:35) the rest of the components and systems is something we have no idea of we're working with an unknowing inside of a larger unknown that's not a great situation to be in especially if others have knowns that they can share with us my analogy seemed to work makes sense dennis said i'll see what i can do barry and i took every opportunity after that to work at that tiny fissure in dennis's armor

every chance we got we mentioned something about how seeing the entire craft was going to help speed the (3:36:11) process no one ever said that this was going to be easy dennis said to me one day we're not asking you to make it easy i told them we're asking you to let them know that they don't have to make it so difficult chapter six we've all heard the expression be careful what you wish for i can't say for certain that thought passed through my mind during the extraordinary days and nights i spent on the grounds of the installation at groom lake as is true of most experiences when you are in the middle of one deeply
(3:36:49) engrossed in the moment you don't have a lot of time to consider anything but what is transpiring right then and right there we've also all likely heard the importance of staying in the moment staying present and other variations on this idea after having completed the last of the work on the pressure sensors i arrived at groom lake a few days after speaking openly with dennis i went to the lab building as usual what wasn't usual was that dennis was there to greet me at first i didn't think much about him
(3:37:22) saying to me you're not going to be working inside today instead of going inside we walked to the hangar facility barry joined us i could see immediately that one of the hangar doors was open with the light coming from it the scene resembled a jagged jack-o'-lantern's mouth i understood immediately that what barry and i had been asking for was about to happen this was the night we were going to see the actual craft or crafts themselves my initial reaction was to feel enormously relieved if they were allowing me this
(3:37:58) opportunity then that voted well for my future with the team i also felt vindicated barry and i had succeeded in convincing the powers that be that the best approach was a more open approach just how open that approach was going to be was still to be determined but at least they'd acknowledge the importance of our input in a work environment like the one we were subjected to even the faintest of nods towards your needs seems like a monumental gesture i was also thrilled by the opportunity to see such amazing technology up close
(3:38:34) even if what we'd said that seeing the craft and the reactor amplifier and emitters in the craft could help speed the reverse engineering process didn't prove true the privilege of seeing something that presumably only a handful of humans had seen was going to be something i'd never forget along with all those thoughts came another how much access to the craft were we really going to get the answer to that question came rather quickly once the vehicle came to a stop and we dismounted dennis said take a good look
(3:39:11) i can't guarantee you'll get another opportunity like this one i walked into the wedge of light coming out of the hangar and onto the concrete apron i wanted to get the long view of the craft the familiar saucer shape of the craft like an inverted soup bowl resting atop a second one sat on the paved floor of the hangar it had no landing gear or other structure that might have supported its weight while on the ground from what i could discern it was approximately fifty feet or so in diameter and was roughly twenty feet
(3:39:45) tall where the two soup bowl discs met the skin of the craft had a kind of rounded rim before the curves rose and fell to the narrower top and bottom i moved closer and did a quick 360 degree turn around its perimeter and where the two halves of the craft met i could detect no seam the same was true of the entire exterior of the vessel i saw no panel lines no welds no rivets or other fasteners as i had on first seeing the craft on that first day at s4 i ran my hand along the surface i looked over my shoulder half expecting
(3:40:26) to be reprimanded for touching it as i had been previously but none of the security team members said anything to me as before the skin of the craft felt like a metal cool to the touch and very very smooth it was dark aluminum in color monochromatic across its entire surface except for the four black rectangles near to the top of the upper dome-like portion later on i would speculate that they were sensor arrays of some kind planner sensors that assisted in some type of celestial navigation but at this stage i merely noted them
(3:41:04) and moved on i was so engrossed in observing and noting as much as i could that i had nearly forgotten that barry was also in the hangar with me i entered the craft's interior through a small access hatch just wide enough for me to put my shoulders through it with a fraction of an inch to spare once inside i couldn't stand up straight work lights had been installed at various points inside the craft i maneuvered on all fours hunched and using my hands to steady me but not kneeling along a honeycombed access way

(3:41:41) just as the exterior of the craft appeared to be seamless and was all rounded surfaces so was the interior it also appeared to be made of the same material of the skin of the craft i was struck by the idea that it was almost as if the craft had been fabricated from melted wax and then cooled into the shape injection molding was the closest terrestrial machining or manufacturing process that i could compare it to on that lowest level i saw three seats similarly looking as if they had been part of the molding process and not
(3:42:16) manufactured separately and then affixed somehow to the rest of the structure they reminded me of a scandinavian chair without legs looking very much like a rounded flower petal more cupped than a tulips but nearly so just as the hanger had been lit so that we could see the craft's interior so was the interior the material only dimly reflected the lights as if it had kind of a matte finish to it but its color didn't appear to be layered on rather it was integral to the material itself integral and integrated were the two
(3:42:54) words that kept springing to mind whoever had designed and built this craft seemed to have no concern for aesthetics at least not human aesthetics the three seats puzzled me i saw no kinds of restraint systems no indications of any life support systems vents for example and as i worked my way toward another access hatch i was astounded by the fact that i saw not a single light switch dial display or anything that i associated with a vessel that traveled through space all that interfered with the open design of this level besides the seats was a
(3:43:36) length of pipe coming down from the ceiling and exiting through the floor presumably the parts of the propulsion system that carried the power or gravity wave from where it was generated to where it was emitted i was in awe of the technology behind this elegantly simple and purposeful execution of a craft designed to travel enormous distances and with what seemed to me to be based on the crafts construction relative ease it was on the second level that i saw the now very familiar elements of the propulsion system we'd had access to in (3:44:11) the lab the reactor sat on the floor the wave guide piping ran from it to the amplifier and then additional tubing ran down through the floor to where i imagined though i couldn't see them the emitters sat on the bottom of the craft that platform section or what is probably better described as a pedestal was what the craft rested on how or by whom the craft was piloted and navigated was something that i was hoping to be able to see for myself but neither barry nor i were allowed on to the third level where we presumed the
(3:44:46) pilot or pilots would have been positioned i had hoped that i could have been able to sit inside what is traditionally termed the cockpit but that wasn't going to be possible frequently when i was faced with a design or some other kind of engineering or diagnosis and repair problem i liked to sit with that problem often that meant walking away from the task at hand and just thinking about the issues or distracting myself with other work hoping that on some subconscious level i'd be able to come up with a
(3:45:19) solution other times sitting with it took on a more literal sense i would sit near the device or in the case of my jet cars and other vehicles like the ones i converted to run on hydrogen i sit in the problem and fully immersed in that environment experience a kind of osmotic absorption of the solution to the problem as cramped as the interior of that craft was i imagined that the life forms who could move comfortably about in that space had to be about the size of a six or seven-year-old human i wanted to linger inside for as long as
(3:45:55) possible that possible wasn't too long since cramped conditions literally can produce cramps but i did take a few extra moments to marvel at the intelligence behind this execution and implementation of the propulsion system within the larger context of the craft itself i was blown away by what i'd seen i'd been convinced for a while that what we were working with at s4 was not of terrestrial origin but seeing this entire craft really solidified what i'd come to believe i knew with as high a degree of
(3:46:31) certainty that one can know anything that we didn't have the capability the russians didn't have the capability the us and the russians working in concert didn't have the capability all the world's greatest minds working together couldn't produce a working artifact like the one i was in as i eased myself along to exit the craft i kept shaking my head in wonder my face had that half flushed half swollen feeling of having smiled and laughed for too long i briefly wished that i could share this (3:47:05) experience with others at the same time my attitude had evolved in the time i'd been working at s4 initially though i understood the governments and military's position about secrecy i resented it now that i was literally and figuratively on the inside of the operation a kind of elitism set in i didn't think that many members of the american public could truly appreciate the magnitude of the achievement this craft represented purely on a technical scientific and production standpoint i was completely blown away

(3:47:42) and i'd already been privy to a lot of information about the craft and its origins whether this craft came from zeta reticuli or was a product of the drunken or febrile imaginings of the collective membership of the theta taw engineering fraternity it represented such an enormous advance in moving a life form from place to place that i struggled to come up with an analogy that would make sense to explain what it meant and felt like to be in its presence once outside the craft i disengaged the fawning fan mode in my brain and resumed
(3:48:19) scientific inquiry mode i wondered about the craft's structural integrity given that the skin of the craft seemed so thin i wondered how heavy the vehicle was but i couldn't really imagine myself putting my hands on it and trying to lift even a corner of that pedestal off the ground i looked around the hangar and saw that a small crane stood in a far corner i walked over to it and saw that its load limit listed on a safety sticker indicated a maximum capacity of two tons that at least gave me a ballpark sense
(3:48:54) of the craft's mass i thought of the fuel discs again and wondered for how many hours or light years they lasted and if the ship's interior was mostly used as a cargo hold for them how long had the one we had been using in our lab been discharging barry and i stood again on the apron in front of the open hangar door and i wondered if our mouths were hanging open we didn't speak until we were back in the lab did you ever think you'd see anything like that barry said did anything in your life before this
(3:49:31) prepare you for that i've been trying to come up with a way to explain what this whole scenario is like how to make sense of it for myself the only thing i could come up with was this imagine that we were with the settlers on the oregon trail riding along in our wagons back in the eighteen thirties we go to bed one night and in the morning we see this machine that has two wheels a seat handlebars and some device cradled in its frame and a chain going back to the rear wheel we'd know it as a motorcycle today but
(3:50:08) they'd only seen crude early bicycles given enough time they'd probably be able to figure out how to get that motorcycle started and even to ride it a bit they wouldn't understand how the engine worked and even if they did once the thing ran out of gas it was probably only good to them as a plow they could drag behind draft animals barry nodded something like that more to the point i said realizing that maybe barry didn't feel the need for that kind of explanation i didn't see any signs of crash damage
(3:50:44) listen barry said i was never a believer in the whole roswell incident i don't follow those kinds of stories it seems strange to me that an intelligence that is advanced enough to produce what we just saw wouldn't be able to negotiate the earth's atmosphere or have a landing system figured out or not be able to cope with our weather systems and phenomenon i agree i said just doesn't seem like a plausible explanation barry and i debriefed for a while longer and we both postulated about how the propulsion system worked
(3:51:23) we weren't any closer to figuring out how we could reproduce the devices to produce the kind of gravitational field we surmised was at work but we had a better sense of how the reactor the amplifier and the emitters worked to produce a kind of anti-gravity effect that would allow it to render our usual concepts of space and distance immaterial without realizing it we were on the verge of doing something that i had only presumed was possible witnessing the craft in actual operation the next time i was called in to report
(3:51:58) i still kind of chuckled at the insistent regularity of the message hello mr lazar it is now insert time we expect you to be at the installation at insert time barry and i got busy working with the modified pressure sensor instruments we devised we were about to use them to measure the intensity of the gravitational field when dennis stepped into the lab follow me he said we went outside and sitting in front of the open first hanger was the craft we'd recently examined this time and it struck me as odd each (3:52:35) of the interior doors connecting the individual bays was open in addition to the craft that we'd been allowed to inspect i could see eight more saucer shapes through the procession of openings i wondered briefly if we were going to be allowed to see all of them each of them looked to be of similar shape and it wasn't just because of the distance i was from each of them but they appeared to be of slightly different size the one we'd inspected was smaller and sleeker than the others as if it was the (3:53:06) sports car in the lineup in fact from that point onward i always thought of and referred to the craft i was able to enter as the sport model a low performance test is going to be conducted we thought the two of you should see this dennis said i looked over at him trying to see if he was pleased by his having made arrangements for this but his face was impassive i remembered the look of irritation on his face when i'd remarked that the military was still doing things then the way that they had nearly 50 years

(3:53:38) earlier out at los alamos and in chicago and in other locations trying to create the atomic bomb all that compartmentalization and secrecy had slowed progress if they wanted us to be effective they needed to let us share information that was how most advances in science and technology despite the belief in the romantic notion of the lone wolf working in isolation model were made here we were getting some access greater access to information than before but still in a far more limited manner than i would have preferred
(3:54:16) i knew it was time to keep my mouth shut and just observe and that's what i did what frustrated me was that with the exception of dennis barry and i there were few other s4 personnel around the omnipresent security guys were there on the periphery but there was one technician sitting there with a pair of headphones on while seated in front of what must have been a radio and one other man who stood at a distance from us and kept his back to us the entire time i stood there with my arms folded rocking back slightly on my heels
(3:54:51) and then the craft did something similar at first i heard rather than saw any activity coming from the craft a loud hiss nothing painful but the kind of buzzing sound that an electric substation might produce reached my ears then the craft lifted off the ground slightly wobbling the central axis tilting a few degrees from vertical as it lifted off i could see the blue glow of a corona discharge coming from the bottom of the craft that led me to believe that the air around the bottom of the craft where we suspected the emitter was was being
(3:55:30) broken down and photons were being emitted the light was visible just as lightning in the sky is due to that incredible high energy output as the craft rose the slight oscillations lessened and the hiss diminished by the time it was 30 to 40 feet in the air lifting nearly perfectly straight up the sound was completely gone in all my years of working with jet engines and pyrotechnics i was accustomed to hearing loud noises as objects were being propelled upward or forward the silence was eerily exciting and i felt a broad grin spreading across my
(3:56:12) face i could hear the faint sound of an appreciative expulsion of air coming from barry as i stood there wide-eyed and mind-boggled i could see that the craft had three emitters only one was creating the corona display and it was the one that was facing straight down at the ground as the craft rose in the air the display expanded it began as a tight beam and became more diffused with each foot the craft rose it was like watching someone twisting the lens of a flashlight increasing the size of the circle of the light from its narrowest to its widest
(3:56:50) focal range as that gravitational wave spread out it helped to stabilize the craft it hung there completely still as if it were suspended there by an invisible steel rod firmly anchored to the ground and some point above it with it hanging there above us we could see more clearly the bottom of the craft and its triad of emitters they were arranged in a pattern with the one that was functioning at the point of the equilateral triangle the other two emitters pointed at a right angle to the downward pointing one
(3:57:26) given this orientation because we were looking up at the larger spherical shape of the craft i decided to think of the area to the left of the downward pointing emitter as the rear and the area in front of the two other emitters as the front or forward section that was because the opening of the two forward emitters pointed in that direction and from what we believed of how the gravitational wave was produced the energy coming out of the open end of the emitter would allow the craft to move in the same direction as the opening (3:57:58) i knew this was a low performance test but still i was hoping to see the craft maneuver in the air it didn't i looked over at the technician with the radio he was far enough away that i couldn't hear him speaking into a headset but i could see that he was talking presumably to whoever was piloting the craft i thought again of the cramped space inside and the childlike proportions i also wondered how in hell a radio wave an electromagnetic wave would be able to work in the presence of that gravitational wave

(3:58:33) no kind of phase locked loop should have been able to survive in that environment the electronics guy in me engaged in a brief battle with the physicist in me over which phenomenal phenomenon to focus my attention on i didn't have long to contemplate them after a few minutes of hovering in place the craft descended and settled reversing the process of moving from a stable orientation to a wobbling one before coming to rest that's it dennis said always the master of understatement time for you guys to get back to work
(3:59:10) barry and i did as instructed both of us lost in thought for the next 15 or so minutes we each sat on a stool in front of the lab bench barry scrawled a few lines in a notebook while i fiddled with a micrometer measuring the thickness of the lead points of a few pencils and comparing them to the lead rods i used in a mechanical pencil it didn't seem odd for us to be so quiet while engaged in work we both tended to go inward we both witnessed something on the order of a miracle if one accepted the definition that a
(3:59:46) miracle was the result of an agency from outside our terrestrial realm and we both needed time to process what we'd seen i suppose in some hollywood version of these incidents the two of us would have charged into the lab flush with excitement and gone to the blackboard and started furiously writing and erasing parts of a complex equation we left there while exclaiming loudly i've got it i can't believe i didn't see this before the truth was that since we'd started working we had a sense of what was going
(4:00:20) on with the reactor amplifier and emitter the flight demonstration simply confirmed that our theory was for the most part correct we hadn't seen the craft move laterally nor had it covered a great distance in a short amount of time but the fact that the device created a focused beam for lack of a better term of highly concentrated energy and a gravitational field that it could also disperse more widely would allow it to cover vast distances i had suspected that the gravitational field was doing something that scientists and science fiction
(4:00:56) writers had been speculating about for many years it was producing a kind of negative gravity or antigravity that in a sense removed the gravitational force ahead of the direction in which the three emitters were pointing in time barry and i came up with the name omicron to describe the action of the single downward emitter functioning to lift the craft above the ground that omicron action allowed it to initially escape the gravitational pull of the very large body it was near the earth when all three emitters worked the same
(4:01:31) anti-gravitation force was produced allowing the craft to move in multiple directions this omnidirectional state of operation we termed delta we chose omicron the 15th letter of the greek alphabet because it means small in the omicron state the craft and the propulsion system configured in this single emitter operation could only make relatively small moves delta the fourth letter of the greek alphabet has its symbol used in science to indicate change and we believed that when the three emitters were arranged in a kind of (4:02:08) delta shape as they were it allowed the craft to essentially move freely and change direction with stupendous rapidity that made our current capability pale in comparison how the emitters worked was still in question but orienting them in various directions was similar to how our spacecraft worked it wasn't so much that the system defied our understanding of the laws of physics its ability to move as quickly and as efficiently as it did was astounding essentially when the propulsion system created that gravity wave or (4:02:42) anti-gravity state everything we knew about how objects could orient themselves in space about the nature of flight was altered it was easy to get hung up on language and whether a gravity wave was being produced or if it was anti-gravity but essentially on a fundamental level what the makers of this craft had done was create a device that could achieve something astounding gravity control it reduced or canceled the gravitational field no one on earth had been able to do that to that point it had been speculated about and (4:03:19) hypothesized about but it had not been achieved as we sat there in 1989. words fail me now as they did then to explain how great a paradigm shift in thinking was necessary to truly appreciate what we just witnessed that said as had been true for most of my adult life i was able to come up with an analogy to explain in layman's terms how this process worked or at least to create a visual metaphor to illustrate it imagine placing a bowling ball on a level mattress it would sink into the cushion for a bit before settling and becoming still (4:04:00) if left undisturbed the bowling ball would not move you could push that

bowling ball and get it to roll in a sense man's early efforts at flight were like that we used a propeller to push air behind the plane to get it moving used the angle of the wings and their surface area to create lift and the airplane would leave the ground with a jet engine or a rocket we expel hot gases out of the rear of the engine to push the plane forward and create lift what this alien craft did was like placing your hand on the mattress in any (4:04:36) direction around the bowling ball and compressing the cushioned material the ball would roll in the direction of where the resistance had been removed a somewhat crude analogy but sufficient to understand the basics what the emitters were able to do was to remove the force of gravity not just in a tight beam enabling it to move forward but widening the beam and having the emitters pivot in various directions was akin to having a group of people standing around that mattress each of them pressing down on the cushion at various points allowing the
(4:05:11) ball to move in multiple directions imagine those individuals moving with great speed and force super human speed and force and the visual becomes even better i didn't share this analogy with barry he showed little interest in my previous motorcycle dropped in among the settlers scenario what was far less difficult to imagine was how this craft was able to cover vast distances in a sense it didn't cover any ground as we so frequently describe an object moving from one point to another by going over ground from point a to point
(4:05:48) b instead using that gravity control this craft pulled distance objects toward it imagine a ball resting on a towel with a frisbee at the opposite end of the towel with the emitters in the frisbee doing their thing the fabric of the towel was pulled toward the ball that was anchored to it it was as if the universe was being folded in an accordion-like fashion as i noted when i first saw the propulsion system functioning time and gravity are inextricably linked if you controlled gravity you also controlled time that solved the dilemma we currently (4:06:29) have with long distance space travel how could you possibly supply humans with enough oxygen and food but even more so how could you expect them to outlive our usual lifespan in order to travel to distant galaxies what this propulsion system did was render moot all those kinds of questions normally barry would quickly shut down any kind of speculative questions about the origins of the device we were working on he was far more disciplined in his thinking and with his emotions than i was following that demonstration though
(4:07:05) even barry's mind was spinning you know i'm not sure if what they told us is true but after seeing this it opens up a whole universe of other possible explanations i mean i was sitting here thinking that this thing could have come from another dimension it could have come from some point in the future we just don't know the whole zeta reticuli story could be a cover-up i just don't think we've got the advanced technology to produce this ourselves in this time not even with the assistance of the (4:07:39) russians or teams of scientists from everywhere i agree but you know barry like you always say if we keep thinking about that part of it we'll go crazy barry laughed you're right kind of fun to think about but we are in here to have fun frustratingly as barry and i talked about this gravity control device we kept coming back to the same question over and over again how was it able to produce such an enormous amount of power from such a simple system without the production of any kind of heat and sound and other
(4:08:16) indicators of the prodigious amount of energy being used to overcome what we on earth consider to be one of if not the most fundamental forces in the universe gravity how could something seemingly so simple and fueled by such a simple and small object as the discs do that kind of work in a way i wondered if perhaps it functioned on the principles of some martial arts using your opponent's energy against them in opposition to them ultimately as our discussion wound down and the frustration of feeling as if
(4:08:53) we'd return to square one and we're no closer than ever to being able to reverse engineer the system it felt pointless to construct ways in which to describe what was going on i'd heard it said that language allows us to master and take control of our world to give it shape and meaning all i could think of as the hours went by and the lights above us hummed nearly as loudly as the craft had was that a mechanical pencil produced a point far less sharp than a pencil sharpened mechanically at that point i wondered if maybe i was (4:09:30) losing my sanity as more and more divergent and unproductive thoughts passed through my mind after all einstein said the definition of insanity is doing the same thing over and over again expecting a different result i was more than a little relieved to go home that night i was tenacious when faced with a problem that needed to be solved but now i was frustrated and intrigued and the push-pull of those two competing forces would ultimately be won by another force one that was far beyond my control chapter 7 added into the mix of all the questions

(4:10:16) i had regarding my situation came another and more frustrating question why was it that after granting me access to the craft and allowing me to view a test flight did the voice of the eg and g representative suddenly fall silent i experienced one fallow period in my time with eg g and been rewarded with those two opportunities maybe i tried to console myself as week one of no calls turned into week two i'd be similarly rewarded again what form that reward might take occupied some of my time when i wasn't
(4:10:53) working but not nearly enough tracy seemed very occupied with the business her flying lessons and her social life she sensed that something was not right in my world but when she asked me what was wrong i told her that i was fine that nothing was in any way out of sorts with me the devil's bargain that i signed in agreeing to a confidentiality clause required that i not divulge anything good or bad a potential state secret or a simmering dissatisfaction with a co-worker the quality of the food in the cafeteria the frustrations with having (4:11:29) to respond on a moment's notice the havoc the irregular schedule played with my sleep were all equally off limits i'd put up with the unannounced visits to my home agreed to have my privacy violated by allowing our phones to be tapped and wasn't even raising a fuss about the fact that i'd yet to receive a paycheck all i wanted to do was work and to contribute to solving this problem and i was being subjected to what i thought was a kind of tantalizing treatment they teased me with privileged glimpses
(4:12:02) then back away again also for as much as i'd witnessed and believed and now believed to a greater degree the truth of what i'd read in the briefings and later seen with my own eyes there was still the possibility that i was somehow being set for a fall what the nature of that fall was and why i'd been chosen wasn't clear but i wasn't willing to dismiss anything as a possibility after all if my mind had been blown away and my perceptions opened by what i'd seen and learned while working at s4
(4:12:36) then i would be foolish to believe that only the most righteous and above board and honest dealings with the employees at s4 were being conducted put another way when your belief system in one part of your life is rocked that aliens existed in theory but not an actual fact and now knowing that visitors from outer space had been on our planet that seismic upset reverberates in other parts of your life as well maybe if i had someone with whom i could share what i'd experienced another perspective to help me sort through all
(4:13:10) of this upheaval then maybe i could have found a better way to respond to what happened to me as the ides of march passed and i grew more and more anxious and uncertain about my future even now many many years after those events in the early part of 1989 do i still wonder many of the things i wondered back then hindsight generally affords us an opportunity to see things with greater clarity growing older and having more experiences can make us wiser but i still have trouble establishing a firm footing about whether or not the (4:13:47) path i chose to take was reckless wrong-headed self-sabotaging or right perhaps it was all of those in some combination as a scientist i was trained to look for and to find truths but we all know that even in the scientific community and the undertakings made under that umbrella there is much that appears initially to be black and white and absolute but later is revealed to be more gray than white or black i write this as a way to preface what was to prove to be the unraveling of my life i paid a heavy price as did others and i
(4:14:28) take full responsibility for my actions and regret deeply those who suffered collateral damage as a result of them i won't go into much detail about the civilians who were affected to do so would only open old wounds and expose people i care about to additional discomfort in some ways i wish that i had taken this notion of collateral damage into fuller account during those weeks in march of 1989 when i grew increasingly impatient and resorted to self-preservation as one of the central movers in my decision-making
(4:15:05) generally i'm not a very paranoid individual i never had a reason to be but after learning what i had and seeing those demonstrations and crawling around inside that craft and then not being called in for a week or so just at the time when we seemed to be making progress and i was being given very exclusive access i started to really wonder what the hell was going on after all this transpired someone told me that the writer william s burrows once wrote sometimes paranoia is just having all the facts i wasn't aware of that quote back in (4:15:42) 1989 but i had some thoughts along that line to contribute to my growing uneasiness the house continued to be under surveillance i did the best i could to ignore it and i definitely didn't look at it as the positive sign i once had i suppose that back when mike thigpen interrupted the meeting i was having with wayne and his wife when our deal for the photo business was still pending i probably was engaged in a form of wishful thinking their search of the premises was very odd mostly because as far as i knew and

(4:16:17) tracy had pointed this out no one that we knew ever commented on the fact that they had been contacted by any agency not anyone in my family no friends no former employers or colleagues no one let me know that they'd been questioned about me that was very odd a few days after witnessing the low performance test i was at home getting ready to go out on a delivery run i stood at the kitchen sink rinsing my coffee cup and saw either a buick skyhawk or a chevy nova sitting across the street from our house whatever the making model it was one of (4:16:55) those non-descript bland kinds of cars that i seldom saw in our neighborhood inside the car sat two men in dark suits they were looking straight ahead i didn't see them using binoculars or a camera with a long telephoto lens but i was pretty sure they were there watching our house that suspicion was confirmed when i exited the house and then drove off to drop photos by at gene's office the car pulled out behind me and unlike in thrillers or police procedurals they made no effort to disguise the fact that they were
(4:17:29) following me they didn't keep more than a car length or two behind me accelerated to keep my pace and went through a yellow light i purposely slowed down for and then sped through when i got to gene's office the car parked a few spaces away i was thrown off balance by it all but managed to pull myself together and didn't let on to gene that anything out of the ordinary was going on gene and i transacted our business and i went on with the rest of my day i had to make a stop at home depot to get some supplies for a repair project
(4:18:04) on a leaky shower head and the mystery car was there again trailing behind me like the car the two men were bland and relatively nondescript caucasian mid to late thirties or early forties dark suits white shirts and sunglasses doing battle with the morning's low sun i almost had to laugh when i thought of recounting that description to anyone like i was some hard-boiled detective in a noir detective film it wasn't so funny when they followed me home and then remained there until another car and two men came to relieve them early in the (4:18:42) evening when they were still there in the morning i decided to call the police i recounted to them what i presented earlier including the terse description the officer who took the information assured me that she would pass it along and to expect someone to come to investigate the situation at some point it must have been a slow morning in las vegas no more than a half hour later a squad car approached the vehicle and then parked behind it a minute or so later the officer got out of the car and approached the driver
(4:19:16) side of the vehicle that had been sitting there i wasn't able to hear or see much at all but within minutes the officer was back in his car and drove off my watchers remained while all this was going on tracy had come downstairs and was getting ready to leave for work what's so interesting out there she asked not sure the police just pulled someone over briefly gone now are you turning into one of those kinds of guys she said teasing what do you mean her eyes revealed her amusement oh you know the stay off my lawn kind of (4:19:55) cranky guy who watches over everything in the neighborhood not wanting to reveal my concern i played along no not one of those guys the kind of guy who buys a police scanner and monitors all the activity going on around the city your guy is way too low-tech for me she narrowed her gaze at me unsure it seemed if i was kidding or not i'm surprised you haven't figured out how to make one or maybe that's just one of your projects she used her fingers to make air quotes around the last word an idle mind i said
(4:20:33) reminding her of the famous ben franklin quote tracy left a few minutes later and my mind was not idling at all but racing what had gone on between the police and the observers why hadn't they come to speak with me i'd given my name and address and phone number to the person on the phone was i going to get some kind of response to my complaint was i going to be followed the rest of the day and for how far into the future what did all of this have to do with what i most recently witnessed at s4 if anything i decided it was best to just

(4:21:10) go about my business i could see how easy it would be to get too worked up about it all i had planned to meet a friend named mario at a local gym he and i were workout partners every other evening usually tuesdays thursdays and saturdays we met and did some cardio work or some weight lifting maybe a workout would help relieve some of the stress and help me put things in a better perspective i pulled into the parking lot a few minutes after six o'clock and waited i thought about the previous time mario and i had met there
(4:21:43) we exercised and then left i had walked over to my datsun 280z and while chatting with mario pulled out my car keys and went to unlock the door i inserted it but noticed that the door was already unlocked that's weird i said yeah it is but in japan i cut mario's explanation of sushi off he'd been telling me about the new restaurant he'd just gone to no my car the doors are unlocked i never do that no you don't that's your baby you treat her right at the time i attributed it to just being tired
(4:22:26) that night mario was running a bit late i got out of the car after mario had walked up to mine i got out locked the doors and then lifted the handle they're locked right far as i can tell mario said we both wanted to be home a bit early so we cut the workout short about 45 minutes later we walked out of the gym i took a few steps into the parking lot and then stopped in my tracks i looked across the way and there was my car with both its doors wide open looking like a fixed wing aircraft holy mario said what in the hell you got broken into
(4:23:12) i stood there frozen in place my mind ratcheting through several possibilities it could have been a car burglary the z had a decent stereo in it i had left my wallet and the uzi i was carrying around for protection inside it it seemed strange to me that a thief would leave the doors open why leave a hey look what i've done calling card had they been interrupted in the middle of the job none of that made sense i'd confided in mario about my work situation and i think that though it took him a bit longer than it did me
(4:23:49) for it to sink in he got it i don't know if we should walk over there who knows he let the thought drift on the night wind the car did have central locking but a malfunction of that system wouldn't have allowed the doors to open and the hatch to rise somebody had to open those doors and i had a strong suspicion the men who had been following me were sending a message we're still here i can't say that my blood ran cold or a shiver ran down my spine but i did experience that gut level twinge and burn of adrenaline kicking in (4:24:28) i had to fight the urge to jump in the car and take off after them let them know what it was like to be pursued and followed i knew it wasn't a good idea to inflame the situation look at what happened when i called the police mario and i both jumped a bit when the doors behind us opened and rattled a couple of other gym members walked past us i guess i need to go over there i said yeah you do we walked over to the car and i kept telling myself that i had nothing to worry about i was definitely spooked and i could
(4:25:03) tell that mario was as well if you don't mind i said i'd like your help with what we're going to have to start the car that's your job i'm going inside we both laughed they'd sent a clear message a sign of the kind of power and control they held over me they didn't like being messed with i didn't like being messed with either i decided the best course of action was to try to de-escalate the situation i needed to get better control of my state of mind as well after all i had no confirmation yet that
(4:25:41) i was no longer going to be working at s4 or anything like that i had dennis's phone number so i decided the right course of action was to go to the source and not let my mind run away with me after all i also told myself nothing had gone missing from the car i got someone in dennis's office and explained that i wanted to speak with him after being told that wasn't possible at the moment and getting a vague to no response at all to my follow-up questions about when he might be available i left a message indicating
(4:26:14) who i was and that i very much would like to speak with him at his earliest possible convenience on and off for the next few days i noticed that the car would be outside our home but the following stopped and nothing bizarre happened while i was out and working on the last few of the photo jobs i was taking on when 48 hours passed and i didn't hear back from dennis or anyone at the number he'd given me i made another inquiry and left another message when the tailing resumed and my calls still went unanswered i started to worry

believe then and don't believe now that my fears were the product of an irrational response to stress was i stressed certainly greatly undeniably was it plausible to believe that because of what i knew and what i had seen that some harm could come to me yes definitely for as much as i tried to focus just on the task at hand the implications of what i'd experienced and knew had (4:27:29) tremendous consequences they wouldn't have been going to the length they were to do background checks on me and they wouldn't have required me to consent to my phones being tapped and they wouldn't have asked me to sign a document that essentially stated that i agreed to waive every one of my constitutional rights which i did sign if there wasn't a serious need for them to keep this information in-house by whatever means necessary that may seem like a large leap in logic but given all that i've described about
(4:28:00) the need for me to carry a weapon the heightened drama with the surveillance teams i figured that i had to do something to protect my best interests no one else was going to do that so it was incumbent on me to think ahead and consider wisely what i should do to protect my professional reputation my chances of getting gainful employment elsewhere and the physical safety of me and others only later after i made the decision to share what i knew with a select few friends and later more widely did i think more about the public's right to (4:28:35) know this kind of information i never set out to be a crusader and though some called me a whistleblower i blew the whistle initially almost exclusively as an act of self-preservation whistling to call attention to me to make it less likely that harm would come to me if i made clear what i knew than it was to draw attention to the program at s4 and reveal the nation's deepest and darkest secrets all of those thoughts got generated in my head were amplified and were only emitted when i felt pressed into a corner and had to do so
(4:29:11) i knew that gene was the first person that i should tell he was my closest friend at the time and he was about as level-headed a person that i knew i felt that he'd believe me and because he didn't have as much at stake personally as tracy did he'd be better equipped to give me some guidance about how i should proceed i had a few vague thoughts in mind i was confident that everyone who knew me would believe me but still thinking about the possibility that i might wind up somewhere in the nevada desert with a
(4:29:42) bullet in my head and a fabricated suicide note left at home i was leaning towards showing them evidence to prove the existence of those craft sitting in jean's car as we drove along alta avenue was both comfortably familiar and surreal i prefaced my story with the kind of disclaimer you might expect this is going to sound really strange but when i was done gene said that coming from anyone else but me he'd be incredibly suspicious then he added i knew that something was up when you told me about the gun registration and
(4:30:19) mentioned something about work i couldn't have imagined that it was something like this but hell who knows what kinds of things go on out there i figured the ufo stuff was just a bunch of wahoos with nothing better to do with that time i didn't mention to jean anything that i'd read in the briefings for this first time speaking with someone openly about what i was doing i wanted to stick to what i could definitively validate what i'd seen what i'd done what had been done to me as tempting as it was to go beyond those
(4:30:52) three categories of events i refrained from doing so as i pointed out before gene was an immensely curious man with wide interests and his curiosity was reflected in the half dazed half enthralled look that spread his face just so you're aware bob i'm gonna do a little digging around on the subject not to undermine you or anything just because you've got me thinking gene you're a free man in a free country and i would never think of telling you what to do or how to go about it thanks for listening to me
(4:31:28) no worries tracy no i haven't told her yet obviously i want to keep as tight of control of all this as i can at this point i don't see the sense of pissing anybody off you think you might have already i can't imagine how like i said they let me on the craft they let me see it low fly and now nothing and some harassment this is all just so nonsensical gene nodded hard to figure sometimes an irrational response is the only one you can make to another irrational act but i don't think that's wise here (4:32:08) agreed i'm sure i'll need to talk to you about this again i hope not but even if i did get called back in i'm not sure how i'd respond that's understandable i just don't know if it's all worth it i produced from my pocket an envelope that contained the first and what would prove to be the only check i ever received i slid

it over to jean 958.
(4:32:38) 11 he said that's what the united states department of naval intelligence pays a senior physicist that's right you do it for the love of it and not to get rich and to be honest gene this isn't so much about the money as it is the headaches if i'm getting this kind of run around and treated like this the dollars to headache ratio is way out of balance gene and i talked for a few more minutes and then he dropped me off at home when tracy got back from work i inadvertently used the words that anyone in a relationship shouldn't use as a
(4:33:14) point of entry we need to talk by the time i made it clear what the subject was all the tension left her body she sat on the couch drew her legs up and heaved a big sigh while looking at the ceiling this isn't some kind of goof is it you're serious i can always tell when you're trying to get me no goof no getting you holy she said drawing out the holy for a few seconds this is nuts essentially yes i can't see you making up something like this she drew a strand of her hair to her mouth and chewed on it a habit she had
(4:34:01) when she was nervous i hadn't told her everything about me being followed and the incident of the gym parking lot hoping to spare her some worry later on i'd come back to this moment and see it in a different light of the three people i spoke to about my concerns john lear was the most receptive that made sense given what he believed to be true about ufos back at that time i'd later come to learn more about the extent and the extremity of john's controversial views but in those first few minutes he like gene seemed more
(4:34:37) curious than alarmed look he said rubbing the stubble on his chin and neck we all know that something's out there in the desert john winked at me and said looking from side to side as he did so yeah in the desert he raised his eyes toward the ceiling indicating that it wasn't really just the desert he was talking about i looked around john's home office the bookshelves were lined with various volumes of different types and sizes in the corner a telescope rested on its tripod and leaned against the wall
(4:35:17) along one wall were a series of framed certificates and awards john had received for his exploits as a pilot among them some commemorated world records he had set john was an accomplished pilot more than an accomplished pilot actually he was fearless and also a bit reckless of course once i got to know john he shared with me the story of how he injured his feet and legs to such a degree that at times he hobbled around his home in las vegas his father had created and manufactured updated version of a learjet over time the model designation has
(4:35:55) escaped my memory john was assigned a simple task do a flight demonstration for some clients considering acquiring the jet for their use what john heard and what he listened to were very different things instead of an easy conventional demonstration of a takeoff and landing in flight john asked himself since this was the latest and most improved version of the jet and highly capable why not show just how capable it was he decided to do an outside loop a very very challenging and risky acrobatic maneuver as john told me once you committed to (4:36:35) the move you couldn't back out well john committed didn't back out even when he knew that he was in trouble and plowed the jet into the ground sustaining multiple leg injuries among others john wasn't someone who was going to play by the rules but i did trust him in fact i trusted him enough to take trips with him when he had to ferry commercial jets to one airport or another he asked me along both for company and to wear a suit so that i could pass as an faa inspector once aloft john would light up his pipe
(4:37:11) later to doze off completely with the autopilot of the l-1011 functioning and then wake up just in time to land the craft manually i also trusted him with tracy's life and he gave her the first few flying lessons she had he even allowed her at one point to take the controls of a commercial flight he was piloting to say john was a loose cannon is an understatement and in looking back on it now i can see to what degree how stressed and anxious i was to believe that john was someone who could help me put events into their proper perspective
(4:37:45) by that i mean how i should approach the situation vis-a-vis my employment prospect in terms of having someone who could assess the capabilities of the craft and determine whether they were anything in line with what terrestrial technology could produce i knew of no one more qualified than he was there was some risk inherent in sharing this information with john but i also knew how much he believed in the existence of alien spacecraft and beings my focus remained purely on the technology and if john could offer any

off on tangents regarding the beings who produced that craft i'd be able to tune that out that's not to say that he wasn't an interesting guy to be around and he demonstrated his generosity toward me on multiple occasions still john had his own theories about extraterrestrial life and government conspiracies that i can see now in hindsight predisposed him to believe what i was telling him i also want to make it explicitly clear (4:38:49) that he never urged me to do anything he simply accepted an invitation to participate in acts that i instigated i was grateful that for a few days at least things seemed to settle down no strange incidents occurred and though the guys on overwatch were still around the house i wasn't being followed at least as far as i could tell i supposed that in retrospect i inadvisably let my guard down a bit one afternoon two days after letting gene in on my secret we were at his house over lunch he told me that he'd been
(4:39:26) searching the internet for information about ufos this was still early in the life of the internet and information was relatively scarce compared to how it has proliferated he told me a number of things none of which really jived with what i had witnessed and even back then we realized that you can't believe much of what you read on the internet we continued chatting and i asked him about the source of the information he shared with me there's two places in particular that seem to be gathering points one is called mufon the mutual ufo
(4:40:01) network the other is kufon the canadian ufo network that's not very canadian of them i said you'd think the kindly canadians would want to be part of the mutual network we got to laughing and joking a bit more and it felt great to breathe easy for a bit eventually gene decided that since i had the real deal in terms of ufo information i should be referred to as buffon for the bob ufo network i countered with him transforming himself into goof on for obvious reasons for the rest of the time we spent that (4:40:40) afternoon we continue to call each other by our new nomsda ufo jean's wife had given birth to a son on march 15th and gene was giddy with delight and sleeplessness it was good to be around someone who was in such good spirits he was grateful for the break from the routines of a young one and visitors somehow all of this made me think that maybe my world had somehow been righted that feeling didn't last i woke up before sunrise to see that the car was stationed in the same place it had been before i wasn't physically tailed but it was
(4:41:18) exhausting to feel as if my every move was being watched over when i got home later in the day tracy was out i felt like i needed to commiserate with someone deciding to not let on how down i was i called gene when the answering machine responded i said goof on this is buffon i have the baby pictures for you i know you need them as soon as possible jean hadn't given me any photos and i hoped that he'd pick up on that right away i sat there hoping he'd call back in the interim about 45 minutes later a
(4:41:55) car came into our driveway and braked hard i heard a couple of car doors slam and then a rapid knock at the door i answered it and two very official and distressed looking men in suits escorted me to the kitchen table there they began their interrogation basically they wanted to know who this buffon character was or what it was called for the same with goof on then they produced a printed copy of the message that i left for gene not quite an hour earlier i couldn't believe how quickly they'd gotten it and then got into the house
(4:42:31) i was tempted to ask them about how they manage that task but i could see they were in no mood for lightheartedness i told them that they were just goofy names we'd made up a few weeks ago we were in a silly mood at the time and that was it nothing sinister at all that seemed to appease them but they produced a document that they made me fill out i had to identify gene by name provide them with his mailing address phone number and other information that i was sure they already had i also had to refer to gene by his last name huff
(4:43:04) and then add jean huff aka goofon to this day and even back then gene and i still laugh about that incident gene will still on occasion sign his name and then append it with aka goofon even though i was amused by that incident i still felt like lines had been crossed i'd agreed to the wiretap but that was to determine my suitability for a security clearance it no longer seemed certain to me that they would conclude that i was a good candidate to work at s4 so i thought the investigations should cease i'd also essentially signed away (4:43:42) my rights to due process under the law i'd been trying not to think of that while all of this nonsense was going on and had never mentioned that fact to tracy when i had told gene about that he said i'm not surprised you signed that document but i sure would be worked up about it you don't respond to things like that the way the rest of us do hearing him say that made me realize even more that i needed to bring this thing to some kind of conclusion if i wasn't able to keep my wits about me in the way that gene had indicated i

(4:44:15) had in the past it was time to make some changes in the initial interviews i'd been asked a lot of questions about how i managed stress and i'm sure that my phone calls to dennis's office i'd made a few more with no success calling the police and now playing name games all contributed to my sense that my days at s4 were over i can see now that i did those things for another reason i wanted the weight to end i just wanted to be told yes or no and move on i knew that security clearances could take time but it was the frustrating
(4:44:53) stop and start of the work being pressured to figure out the answer but not being given the proper time needed to solve it that made me get to the point that i wanted something definitive to be said or done it may be hard to believe but coexistent with those feelings was a desire to see the job through i can't say it was as strong as it had been before but by still wanting to do the work and not being able to do the work for no reason anyone could really offer ratcheted up my anger at being put in that situation
(4:45:26) i decided to take action as i pointed out i wanted my wife and friends to have i witnessed certainty about the claims that i had made that meant one thing getting them out to the area to see a test flight for years people in the area had reported strange lights and other activity in the sky because of my time in the lab at s4 i knew when one of those displays was going to occur wednesdays at 8 in the evening was the usual time a high performance test flight was going to be conducted i informed the rest of the others that i thought we should all
(4:46:01) drive out to the desert to witness one of those tests john lear owned a winnebago motorhome and he volunteered to drive us all out to the perimeter of the base in some ways i thought that maybe including john wasn't the best idea there was also some odd tension between gene and him but i knew that john's expertise and his eight-inch diameter celestron telescope would be valuable in assessing what we saw during the high performance test as a bonus we could travel in style in his motorhome it was a 150 mile or so
(4:46:36) trip through some of the most boring desert landscape you can imagine we'd be setting out in the late afternoon and getting there after dark when there'd be even less to see of the assembled group jean and john performed as the two ends of the poles between skepticism and belief gene wasn't rapidly anti-ufo belief but given some of the strangeness between the pair i figured they'd give each other crap that would be good for some entertainment we always seemed to be able to ride john pretty hard when he launched into some (4:47:10) out there discussion about whatever had caught his attention john was kind of like a magpie anything shiny and he'd take it and fly off with it yet when you asked him a question about his area of expertise it was like a switch flipped in his brain and he was the most articulate and focused expert sure enough after john picked up tracy and me tracy liked john since he was the one who really introduced her to the new love of her life flying we headed to gene's house when gene came out to the motor home i
(4:47:44) heard jon snort where the hell did you get that shirt he asked i hadn't paid much attention to what gene was wearing but at john's cutting remark i saw that it was black and purple and looked like massive bruising had spread across my friend's upper body your wife got it for me gene snapped back it wasn't exactly a your mama joke but close enough john put the rv in gear and we headed out from gene's place the usual conversations about best routes began gene was in favor of taking the interstate until we got to highway 93 to (4:48:22) head north john had to be contrarian so after making a few veiled references to president eisenhower and his real reason for establishing the interstate system in this country instead of the interstate he took powerline road until it intersected with the great basin highway how can you be in the middle of nowhere if you're nowhere gene asked as we bounced along the irregular pavement that's for greater minds than yours to determine john said i know this though i've flown over a few different nowheres and i can tell you
(4:48:57) that the middle looks a lot like the rest of it tracy intervened and asked about gene's new baby and how he managed to get the night off his in-laws were still in town and they looked at him askance when he told them he was going out with friends i heard someone say once that it's easier to ask for forgiveness than it is for permission john chimed in we all laughed at that the conversation was on anything and everything but what we were all about to do and to see i suspected that the worst thing that could possibly happen was the test (4:49:32) flight to be cancelled for some reason the weather wouldn't be an issue but i knew that there was nothing i could do to control what the powers that be decided at one point the rv began to stagger a bit on a climb damn it john said and pulled over to the shoulder eventually the problem was diagnosed the transmission was low on fluid call yourself a pilot have you ever heard of a pre-flight check and to think i let you take my wife up in a plane more good-natured insults and comments were hurled at john gene volunteered to hitchhike back to a

(4:50:10) gas station to get some fluid and then hitch a ride back when he came back he had a six pack of beer in one hand and two quarts of automatic transmission fluid in the other this gene said hefting the beer goes in us he then lifted the other containers these go into transmission got it john mind if i use that shirt to wipe off the dipstick dipstick john looked very pleased with his comeback took you nearly a hundred miles to think of that one didn't it gene offered never one to allow himself to be topped because of our delay i was glad that
(4:50:50) we'd allowed enough time to make it to groom lake before night fell the tests were generally conducted shortly after the sun went down as we bounced along groom lake road a washboard dirt road at the far end of the site and outside the installation's boundaries i had to laugh when john turned off the headlights this is exactly the right vehicle for a stealth operation isn't it john nodded 35 feet of bone and machinery rattling stealth at your service guaranteed to alert anyone of your presence within a
(4:51:23) mile and a half let's just hope we don't have to make a fast getaway gene added i wasn't sure if he was truly concerned but i reminded him and more especially tracy we're on a public road on public land no one can tell us that we can't be here besides with john with us all we have to do is drop his name and his mom's and all will be forgiven tracy looked at me and i watched a shadow of worry pass across her face before she smiled and squeezed my hand along with some food and beverages we'd
(4:52:00) also unpacked john's celestron telescope a couple of pairs of binoculars and a video camera and tripod we went about the business of setting up the devices once the equipment was set up we stood shifting nervously from foot to foot and waited we didn't have to wait very long within minutes after settling in john who was looking through the telescope shouted i got something he pointed into the night sky to our north and east toward area 51 and s4 a light had suddenly appeared above the papoose mountains a bright light at the (4:52:37) orange end of the spectrum began to glow brightly i stood focusing my attention on the bright object as it appeared approximately 45 degrees above the horizon a few instants later it appeared at 60 degrees above the horizon then seemingly in the time it took for me to blink again it had climbed again and was then 30 degrees to the right of where i had just been focusing i heard a commotion behind and a few muttered swear words and exclamations of surprise and delight i kept my eyes on the lights once again the light moved in what i
(4:53:14) could only describe as a staircase maneuver appearing at one height and the up over up and over that's no winged aircraft john said his voice firm with conviction i recognized his authoritative tone mixed with a bit of awe no way in hell anything we produce could make those kinds of maneuvers flat out impossible did you see that gene said nearly shouting zipping along like that and then just stopping how in the heck gonna do that after i'd seen the low performance flight i was certain that the gravity control theory we'd arrived at was (4:53:55) correct seeing this high performance flight only confirmed it it's nearly impossible to convey in words how quickly the light moved from one location to another i'd seen jets flying overhead in the night sky and i could easily scan their path of travel with my eyes while my head remained still not so with this even from that greater distance from the light source at times the craft's maneuvers had the light moving out of our fixed line of sight it was astounding and thrilling to see how that reactor and its other
(4:54:29) components actually worked in a real-time application i had an even greater admiration for the engineering behind the emitters how could they move so quickly to accommodate the kind of movements the craft was making how could objects as large as they were and made from a material that was somewhere between a metal and a ceramic move so quickly to allow them to point in the direction that the craft was moving in they appeared to be rigid structures yet they moved with the fluidity and flexibility of a muscle were they when under power somehow (4:55:04) transformed into a more supple more elastic material i also wondered about the color of the discharge surrounding the craft why did it appear to be orange not pumpkin orange but duller with more brown mixed in when i'd seen the low performance test the corona discharge had been a bluish purple now with the thing in flight and presumably expending more energy it was producing a discharge at the longer end of the wavelength spectrum orange wasn't in the spectra of atomic hydrogen that would produce bright reds (4:55:40) like in the aurora if oxygen molecules were excited you'd see purples or blues from nitrogen being ionized just another piece of the puzzle i thought of sodium vapor lights the kind they cast an orange glow and are frequently used to light city streets was it possible that the craft was some sort of sodium alloy sodium is very light it floats on water and the parts we'd been working with were incredibly light but sodium is also terribly reactive with moisture perhaps it overcame that characteristic somehow

(4:56:17) maybe this was a big anode a positively charged electrode by which electrons leave a device i wished that i had brought the compact spectrograph i owned it would have shown the fraunhofer lines in the light and therefore identify which elements were present because we weren't in line of the direction the emitters were pointing we couldn't see what form the distortion was taking how it might have affected our visual sense of the area around the emitters specifically and the craft generally if we had been standing right beneath it
(4:56:51) right there at s4 we would have been able to see that and i could compare it to what i'd witnessed during the low performance test eventually the light descended below the peaks and the test was over we all stood silently for a minute the sky filled with stars and the night air felt chilled again crickets chirped and the wind rustled a creosote bush and i smelled its fragrance the whole time the test flight had been going on i'd been aware of very little going on around me all of my other sensory apparatus
(4:57:28) shifting power to my eyes i heard a voice as if i was coming up from being submerged in water i gradually made a sense of those sounds here we are at a super secret government installation in the desert outside of las vegas near groom lake what we've witnessed rising over the papoose mountains confirms what many have long suspected and the government has long denied the voice was john's he stood in front of the video camera that he'd mounted on the tripod and he was sounding very much like a news reporter doing one of those live from
(4:58:04) scene broadcasts the camera's light cast him in a bluish glow and just outside that light i could see gene standing still scanning the sky his eyes ablaze and his smile a wide gash across his face amazing gene said amazing he lightly tapped the side of his temple with the flat of his hand and kept his head wobbling for a few seconds john was still narrating his story and gene came up to me with his hand out thank you thanks for this bob i can't tell you what this means to me that you shared this i was glad to have done it and told gene
(4:58:47) just that then he went on i know that maybe john won't say this you know how we can sometimes be i think i know why you invited him too guys spent a lot of time believing in this stuff catching hell for it sometimes you let him see what he's believed in and wanted to see that's a nice thing you did i had considered john's situation before but gene made me understand things on a deeper level i could empathize with john i knew some things and if events hadn't unfolded like they had i might not have
(4:59:24) ever been able to share what i knew with anyone else little did i know just how far the parallels between john's plight and mine would extend i joined john and jean in loading up the gear tracy was still standing in place arms wrapped around herself staring up at the sky you think it helped gene asked me what do you mean he nodded toward tracy had to be a little weird for the two of you leaving the house on short notice all the time things like that sian is believing maybe on some subconscious level i had wanted to prove to tracy that my
(5:00:07) absences from home were for the reasons i told her this might have made me a bad husband but at the time i really didn't have much of a sense that my work at s4 had put much of a strain on our relationship i believed she understood what was necessary and believed her when she told me that she trusted me still it seemed odd to me then and remains so until today that tracy hadn't said a whole lot while watching the demonstration or after she'd expressed some concern when i first told her of the plan and what it (5:00:40) might mean for me and for us if i violated the security agreements i'd entered into at least after the high performance test she could better appreciate what was at risk we had a long drive ahead of us and we all were early risers so we quickly got back into the rv for the drive home i think that we'd all gotten a jolt of adrenaline through our systems and we're paying the price for it afterwards with lethargy a few days later i let gene know that i was planning to go out to the site again this time i had invited another friend (5:01:15) along john couldn't make it i was a little more concerned that time about being watched and tailed so gene and i worked out a plan to use a rental car to drive out there we debated about meeting points and drop-off locations working ourselves up into a bit of a state for what proved to be no good reason still better to be safe than sorry there was a kind of three stooges quality to our planning as if we mixed up the two cias the culinary institute of america and the central intelligence agency tracy was going to join us again and (5:01:51) maybe it was the overlay of fear that clung to her that had gene in me in a bit of a tizzy some of that was due to the one discussion that the participants in the first trip did have on the way home my reluctance to write about it is a reflection of what they discussed and my long-standing lack of any real focus on this issue gene had remarked that the entire time the flight was going on i seemed lost in my own little world that was true i was fascinated to see the craft in flight and was trying to visualize how (5:02:25) the systems i saw were capable of producing that kind of performance john reminded me of a remark that he had made at the time while the craft was still in the air and that i didn't even remember him making you were still just standing there with your tunnel vision goggles on and i said at minimum that thing's got to be going 700 miles an hour then it's stopping on a dime then it's back up to 700 miles an hour again can you imagine what that kind of lateral acceleration and deceleration would do to the being inside it

(5:03:01) you're right i don't remember you saying that and you're right essentially that would be the equivalent of hitting a wall at 700 miles an hour i don't know for sure if the human exoskeleton could sustain that kind of velocity of having the organs sloshing around i don't know if they'd come out but they'd certainly be crushed john raised his finger in the air precisely what i was trying to get you to conclude a human body couldn't survive that speed i'm not talking about the human body
(5:03:34) keeping its guts intact i'm talking about there not being a human body in there at all some other being had to be piloting that thing no doubt gene said i don't know about that for sure but it did get me thinking i know that you said bob that there were nine other of that kind of craft out in the hangar i was just sitting there wondering what those beings lives were like did some of them work at the factory or whatever that produced them did they go home to mate at the end of the day and be joined by their kids who went to (5:04:08) school i considered that for a minute i have to confess to you guys to me that's the least interesting part of this i didn't consider any of that at all while watching the test the machine was the thing for me from the beginning and it still is i don't know if i believe what i read in those briefings i admit i didn't read them all but still what fascinates me the most is the technology the rest i let the words drift along the highway to scatter with the wind in the days after witnessing that first
(5:04:45) high performance flight test i'd been taken up with other ideas than the life of the beings that created those craft and how the craft arrived here in some ways that was immaterial as i've said many times the allure for me was the immensity of the power that propulsion system produced what stymied me was the realization that it produced that power in a nearly reactionless fashion as near as we could determine apparently no nuclear reaction was going on we could detect no change in the identity or characteristics of an atomic
(5:05:20) nucleus that resulted from it being bombarded with an energetic particle and there were no fission or fusion products left over from a reaction as near as we could determine no chemical reaction was taking place we detected no rearrangement of the molecular or ionic structure of a substance that produced a new one with a different chemical identity no combustion no decomposition no synthesis we determined that the propulsion system bent light and distorted gravity but that meant that we were dealing with rougher concepts than the kinds of (5:05:58) reactions i just mentioned most people could understand decomposition they'd either seen it or smelled it but when you were talking about the disruption of gravity you couldn't visualize or smell a rotting piece of meat instead you had to play around with more abstract concepts like time and distance for most of us those are firm parts of our reality i look at a clock and see what time it is i don't think about how that clock is in a sense an artificial construct we as humans created the concept of time

(5:06:34) as existing in blocks of 24 hours it's a good construct but it is still artificial the same with space and distance i drove 12 miles to get from my house to my job but how we broke up that distance into miles is completely arbitrary that's why there's a metric system and an english system that give you different totals same distance but different numbers entirely we've all agreed to use these systems of measurements but in trying to explain how this craft moved how it bent gravity you'd also have to understand that our
(5:07:11) usual everyday conceptions of time and space and distance weren't going to serve us very well john and gene had joked about the need for greater minds to solve the question of where is the middle of nowhere the same was true of coming up with an explanation that really and truly and accurately described how those craft and that one craft in particular moved from one location to the next while i spent the next week working i anticipated that my fellow spies were going to look to me to help them grasp an explanation for what they saw (5:07:50) for the 29th of march 1989 the mean temperature was 70 degrees with a low of 57 and a high of 80. those facts were noted and recorded we set out to note and record what we believed would be evidence of the craft's capabilities and existence tracy and i took separate cars jean picked up the rental car and we all met at the rendezvous point gene and i took more circuitous routes than necessary our fourth a man i'll refer to as jason met us along the way just off of interstate 15.
(5:08:26) we proceeded as before and set up our viewing area as happened the first time the light from the craft glowed in the distance did its staircase maneuver and then others i heard gene ask did you see that move it just did it went from boom no i didn't i said i had just set up the video camera capturing gene's words and my response a few seconds later gene said look at how light it's getting jason had joined me at the camera and i was still working on the focus we exchanged a few words about whether or not we were getting anything on the (5:09:05) view screen finally satisfied that the camera was capturing the increasingly bright light i stepped away and watched with a naked eye the craft hovered for a bit i blinked and it had moved closer the light increasing in intensity the pattern repeated itself i think it's coming at us gene said it is isn't it jason said that's pretty cool by the time they were finished saying those things the light had grown much larger and much much closer we all scrambled behind the trunk of the car crouching and looking skyward
(5:09:48) gene looked at me startled what are you doing you're never scared you sit at home making nitro like it's pesto i had to think about it for a second i wasn't really frightened i told him i'm a human being instincts kick in bright glowing object in the sky moving my way fast i go for cover that's reassuring gene said i wasn't sure if he meant that i was human and had natural reactions or something else i didn't think any more about it as the power output increases the intensity of the light increases i told
(5:10:27) them all the light wasn't i searing but it was somewhat painful to look at we were able to speak in a normal conversational volume since the craft produced no discernible sound it was still well above our position it was like i couldn't see it move jason said one second it was there the next second it was over there almost like a strobe effect or something looks like it'd be a fun ride gene said just be sure to keep your sphincter closed tight only you would say that gene i told him and then cutting him off before he could
(5:11:09) ask no i don't know if they have sphincters well all i can say jason added as he laughed mine is quivering right now you weren't completely off track about the strobe effect as the propulsion system produces more power that glow is brighter the gravitational effect also disturbs light time and space i told jason breathtaking he said stunning my face feels frozen from having been smiling for so long by this time the lights had darted back over the mountain still above them before the sky above s4 went dark
(5:11:53) worth the drive out here gene asked jason hell yes he said i've seen it twice now and this time was even better with the kind of flyover or at least fly at us view that we got gene paused i don't know bob is it right to use the word fly i mean people call them flying saucers but how that thing moves doesn't really compare i guess that fly is the right word if you think about something being above the ground and moving how can it possibly do what it did jason asked we all stood in a tight semicircle collapsing tripods and folding chairs (5:12:37) i'd been thinking about this moment for a while how i might be able to provide a visual for everyone to understand as best i could or at least provide a visual for the concept i took a five dollar bill out of my wallet and held it up for everyone like a magician about to do a trick so imagine that this bill is the universe if i take a pen and put a mark here at the far edge of the bill that represents a starting point when we traditionally think of time and space and travel that dot would move incrementally across the bill from one

(5:13:13) edge to the other or in some other path for the sake of argument let's just say it is going to move directly across in a straight line to do that to make you be able to see that i'd have to take my pen and in essence make a whole series of dots from one edge to the other in other words i'd draw a line across the bill that's how we experience movement as a series of moves one after the other across a surface got it someone said well with this craft propulsion system capable of gravitational change it's (5:13:49) like it folds the bill in a series of moves bringing that far corner where my line eventually ended closer and closer to it until it was across the span of distance only it did it far faster than you or i could make the moves to fold that bill i see that makes sense gene said jason nodded tracy nodded as well the thing is we can all understand that on a certain level i mean that's a rudimentary explanation of it astrophysicists and others might have more technical and more elegant even ways to explain what i just did
(5:14:30) but the most important thing about all of this is that here on earth we can conceptualize this but we can't or at least to this point haven't been able to produce a machine capable of doing what that craft does we simply haven't not by a long shot and that's what i was being asked to help do and what if we could do what that thing did gene asked we'd be masters of the universe i hope that we'd use it for good but we could create unbelievably powerful weapons of mass destruction as well we could become destroyers of worlds
(5:15:06) it boggles my mind to think of what it would mean to be able to generate that kind of power over gravity anti-gravity jason asked i suppose you could call it that but what's the opposite of gravity what does that mean i see your point he said and then added stating the thought for me at some point language just kind of falls short of all this doesn't it speaking of falling gene said i'm about to collapse let's get home as was true after the first test flight we all saw we didn't speak much about
(5:15:46) what we'd seen on the drive home or in the days after part of that was because of the secretive nature of our visits but mostly it was due to the simple fact that we all had lives and jobs and families to go back to it was kind of funny to think of it in terms of the capabilities that craft had over space and time but the world didn't stop turning because of what we'd witnessed we just had to keep on moving forward to that end i tried again to contact dennis and never got through never got a return call to my messages
(5:16:20) strange to think that i was part of what seemed to be some unraveling of one of the great mysteries of the world but i couldn't get a guy to return a simple phone call i suppose that's what i deserved for choosing to do government work no force of nature terrestrial or extraterrestrial could compete with that kind of stubbornness chapter 8 some say that the third time's the charm in this case that was true but in our case the charm was used to break the spell that had me enthralled to the work i'd been doing at area 51's
(5:16:59) s4 site in the intervening weeks since i'd been last called in to observe the test flights i'd added to my list of frustrations the nature of how the work i was doing there was being conducted it had troubled me from the beginning in science you should be able to take a linear approach to problem solving you set up an experiment or your thinking with a clear beginning middle and end you do as much reading as you can familiarize yourself with the work that others have done etc we all learned about the scientific
(5:17:33) method in school and it's a good model that has stood the test of time but at s4 and working for whomever it was that i was really working for in the military and government i'd been placed in a situation where the linear was out the window where the scientific method didn't consist of a series of defined steps but was more scatter shot in a way our approach to the problem of reverse engineering the propulsion system was like what a diagram of that high performance test flight and the craft's appearance would have looked (5:18:07) like first here then there then up then down i'd really had it with every aspect of the job if i could properly refer to it as a job and wouldn't you know it just when i'd reached that point they'd reached out to me and called me again to let me know that i should report the next day to work again at s4 i'd been so used to the regularity of the woman on the phone's pattern the it is now x time and you need to report it why time and then why time being just an hour or two from x time that the next (5:18:42) day really threw me for a loop maybe it was an act of passive aggressiveness on my part but i simply said thanks and hung up the phone with no intent whatsoever of going in as instructed no one had bothered to respond to my messages not even to say we can't tell you anything now but we will be in touch when we have more information for you instead they answered with silence i was going to respond similarly but with absence i also wondered why the next day had they observed us somehow the car outside the house and the (5:19:20) following was irregular at that point but then again maybe they'd changed up their tactics who knew if they had followed us i thought so what we were on public land violating no laws of course i was violating all of the agreements i'd signed but desperate times called for desperate measures on april 2nd another wednesday and the day of the call to report back jean tracy jason and tracy's sister kristen joined me on another trip up to groom lake you might think that the novelty had worn off by then but it hadn't

(5:19:59) when the craft flew towards us that second time and we'd all ducked behind the car a new dimension had been added who knew what other elements to the high performance test might be added what additional information could i glean from witnessing the craft in operation at that point obviously i didn't care about how that knowledge might help me help them but i wanted to know for myself the answer to the question of how the systems functioned we took more precautions on the trip out there we made frequent stops and diverted from
(5:20:33) the highway a couple of times and looped around the interchange to see if anyone was following that bit of trickery added to the excitement we talked about a number of things the subject getting serious only once when gene mentioned that the oil spill near valdez alaska was spreading and residents there on the gulf of alaska were up in arms for my part i was more interested in an item that appeared revealing that scientists at brigham young university had fused heavy forms of hydrogen into helium at room temperature
(5:21:07) they hoped that the process piezoelectric fusion in which a heavy form of hydrogen is electrically infused into titanium or palladium might lead to a viable power source someday they believed that they were still a long way off from it being a viable source of energy but given what had happened with the oil spill more and more concerns about greenhouse gases being expressed i was at least hopeful obviously i also thought of it in terms of the propulsion system i'd been working on how it gave off no real heat
(5:21:40) during its reactionless operation i saw tracy roll her eyes a bit as she looked at her sister they both nodded and said okay dad i laughed grateful that their scientist father had instilled in them a tolerance for that kind of talk eventually the sisters conversation turned to who might want to join them to see the tom hanks film the burbs i knew that they were teasing us but the point was clear lighten up they were both highly intelligent women but this was an outing an adventure and not part of a seminar to avoid detection and vary our pattern
(5:22:22) we drove down an even more isolated road off of groom lake deeper into the desert on a track that the ranchers used to ferry their cattle we were careful to still be on a public road and still have a good vantage point from which to view the test flight our growing anticipation had us all nearly giddy we joked around with one another and it was good to leave behind the burden of my decision to end my relationship with dennis and the rest of the people who had anything to do with s4 we returned to the theme of our ill
(5:22:55) preparedness to be spies and to carry out our approach in a manner that even approached stealth and you were the one who gave john so much crap the first time about not having enough transmission fluid i said to gene yeah but he's a pilot he said again defensively knowing what was coming next but to not have enough gas in the car to even get us onto the interstate jason added referring to part of our plan to stop shortly after meeting up to see if we were being tailed all part of the plan that quick pit stop was designed to suss (5:23:32) out the situation was a sus don't you mean assess or maybe that you're an ass jason said eliciting an appreciative laugh from the rest of us for his wordplay by this time we had rolled to a stop and were setting up our viewing area suddenly we heard a soft thud and then saw a greenish round light rolling in front of us a moment later we all stood there with a deer in the headlights look on our faces as a car parked no more than 20 feet from our position switched on its high beams i was at the rear of our formation (5:24:13) mostly hidden i ducked down knowing that of all of us gathered there i was the one who was in the most vulnerable position if we were to be detained what are you folks doing out here i heard someone say who's asking gene said installation security a different voice replied you are on military property i'm going to have to ask you to leave if you don't comply there's nevada state troopers in the area that i'll radio at that point i decided it was best for me to get out of there i'd asked gene a while ago to keep my

(5:24:51) gun in his car i eased the door open we'd switched off the dome light ahead of time to avoid detection and eased the gun out of the glove box using the cover of everyone else's voices telling the security personnel that we were on public roads and not violating any statutes i hid out in the bush away from the car after a brief protest our group said that they would do as asked and leave i watched as the security detail the two men got back in their car and waited gene got everyone in his car and within (5:25:27) a few seconds they took off slowly in the opposite direction of the security vehicle i waited for a bit until the security car began to move away once their tail lights began to dim i scrambled along in the underbrush and soon caught up with gene and the rest of them and got inside the vehicle we all bemoaned our fate and grumbled about not being able to see the test flight but we also all tacitly understood the precarious position i was in and to a lesser extent the jeopardy i'd placed them in we were still rolling along slowly we
(5:26:03) crested an incline and gene muttered oh ahead of us a pair of headlights stared at us a few seconds later its police lights flashed this might be funny except it isn't jason said like being back in high school and being hassled for trying to find a place to drink a uniformed officer stood in the middle of the road with a flashlight in one hand as we neared him he raised the other palm up we stopped where are you going he asked i knew something was up when he didn't ask to see license and registration immediately
(5:26:45) just saw some lights in the sky from the interstate and came out here to get a better look gene said we understood this to be public property no signs for trespassing or anything like that the officer trained the flashlight all around the inside of the car shut off your ignition stay right here we did as instructed speculating about what the cop was going to do we saw him speaking into his radio's microphone after a brief conversation he returned to the driver's side of gene's car there's five of you in this vehicle
(5:27:22) yes that's right i got a report from the security guys that they saw four people in a vehicle matching this description you got an explanation for that jason spoke up from the back seat well it's dark those guys were just security men you know they came up on us and one of them dropped their night vision light not exactly the most competent guys in the world all of us in the car laughed at that insinuation the police officer didn't i'm sure they can count four when they stopped you five now i'd like to see some identification from
(5:27:59) all of you all five of you please each of us handed our driver's license to gene who collected them and handed them over the policeman looked at each one then he rifled through the deck then walked around the car and used the flashlight to illuminate our faces to make sure that our faces match the photos i had gotten into the driver's side seat and returned the gun to the glove box i wasn't concerned about having it i'd registered it and was legally allowed to transport it in a vehicle i was concerned about what we had in the (5:28:35) trunk it was nothing illegal john's telescope the spectroscope i'd finally remembered to bring along a geiger counter and a few other scientific instruments any one of those items would destroy our story about just happening by and seeing lights of course the police officer asked if he could search the car this was just after he asked us all to exit the vehicle we complied with that request but not with the search well he said i have to tell you this doesn't look good for you and won't if you have to appear in court
(5:29:12) what that tells me is that you've got something to hide kristen spoke up officer you said that this was a voluntary search are not granting you that access isn't evidence of probable cause i'm fairly conversant with the statutes that apply here so unless you can explain to us why it is that you've decided that this is no longer a case of us the officer held up his hand then i'm going to my car and i'm going to call a wrecker and have you towed out of here kristin took a few steps forward

(5:29:45) no you're not calling a wrecker you can detain us for up to an hour but that's it you are not searching the car and you are not getting us towed you have no probable cause if you insist on doing what you say you're going to do then you're going to have a lot of explaining to do to a judge to your superiors and i don't think you're going to like what they have to say the officer walked away tracy smiled animatedly the first real genuine expression of pleasure i'd seen in a while way to go sis those law classes of yours
(5:30:20) are paying off i may never become a paralegal but at least i can sound like i know what i'm talking about when dealing with these guys i can't believe he thought he'd scare us into letting him search us like that thanks kristin i said we could have stood there all night just saying no to him i said in an odd way being out in the desert watching the police cars mars lights illuminate the landscape felt so much stranger to me than if we'd all been watching an alien spacecraft flying around i'd been bored and unsatisfied with (5:30:55) working as a photo processor life certainly wasn't boring anymore but i wondered then if it was worth all this stress there had to be some middle ground i remembered my mother using the term happy medium when i was a kid and telling her that maybe an unhappy large was more what i was going to be on the lookout for in my life seeing the faces of everyone gathered around me heartened me none of them were pointing fingers at me and blaming me for possibly getting them into trouble or for wasting their time they knew what i'd put at risk in (5:31:32) sharing the information i had with them they were all doing their best to protect me despite the obvious potential complications it felt good to be there with a group who were all working together after about five minutes spent in his cruiser the police officer approached us checking to be sure he was returning the right licenses to the right individuals he handed back everyone's identification but mine he held on to the last one looked at me and then said with a tone that i had difficulty deciphering something between (5:32:07) sarcasm and admiration i guess they know who you are down there he nodded toward the base he handed me my license stepped back and said you're all free to go drive safe and have a good night we all breathed a sigh of relief and got back into the car on the ride back we didn't talk much at all gene asked the question that was on my mind and i assumed on everyone else's what's next we'll see i said i'm beyond trying to figure out what's going to happen next for a few minutes we tried to come up
(5:32:48) with a plausible explanation for our presence out there it soon became clear that it was pointless to even try it was so obvious what was going on that it was a waste of time and mental energy to go through an excuse-making exercise a lot of thoughts passed through my mind as we headed toward las vegas but i never considered that one of the group i trusted had broken that unspoken bond and said something that might have drawn the security guard's attention to that area i was sure of that and little else i remembered a conversation i had with (5:33:23) dennis after learning about the scientists and engineers who'd been killed while working with the reactor i would have thought that an incident of that type would make the news when i asked dennis why it hadn't he simply said we took care of that i had understood before that these men had control over every bit of information if something was going to happen to me no one would ever know the truth of how i came to lose my life oddly that didn't trouble my sleep that night and i woke up feeling more rested than i
(5:33:56) had in a while by sunset the next day i knew what was next i answered the phone and dennis mariani was on the line i'll be at your home in 25 minutes we need to meet i knew it was useless to make any kind of excuse so i said i'll be here when i answered the door to find dennis standing on the porch i was surprised to see that there was no vehicle other than my car in the driveway you're going to be driving he said while looking at his watch let's go after i got through buckling in i asked him where to (5:34:36) indian springs though he didn't elaborate i understood that he meant indian springs air force base it was located just north of las vegas i had thought it was deactivated and that troubled me for a few beats why was i going to an abandoned military base alone and at night it all seemed too sinister then i remembered seeing some craft taking off from there every now and then maybe there'd be a full staff on site people who would be able to account for my presence there we drove along in silence the tension
(5:35:13) thick i was trying to stay calm and not let on that i was thinking too much about what was going on not let him see that i was on edge didn't they once use

indian springs back in the day to aid nuclear testing i thought i read something about sniffer planes being launched from there dennis grunted an indistinct response for the remainder of the hour drive neither of us spoke i squirmed in my seat glancing nervously into the rear-view mirror dreading what was to come as we all had at the start of the drive back home after being detained by the (5:35:51) police i frantically tried to come up with a reason why i'd been out there with my friends and family eventually i gave up by the time i saw the first signs for the base i was resigned to doing this all i could do was fall back on the truth once we were through the gates and then into an office dennis was joined by two other men both armed they looked like they were part of the security team out at s4 dennis made it apparent that he was really pissed off he sat down in a chair and pulled it close to mine with his face inches from mine he said
(5:36:32) when we told you this was a highly classified project how did that get twisted in your mind to think that you could tell your friends about it something about the way he phrased it and the absurdity of the premise made me smile and chuckle a little bit i truly thought at first that dennis was injecting a note of levity into the situation i was wrong the man seated next to me reached for his weapon and said that's probably not funny dennis continued though he didn't raise his voice much his accusatory tone was sharp
(5:37:09) and he seemed as if he was biting off each of the sounds he made i sat there eyeing a black box on the table in front of me was it a microphone part of some intercom system or a recording device do you not understand the nature of the agreements you signed are you not aware of the consequences of violating those agreements after a few minutes of simply sitting there and essentially being pummeled by the comments and questions i was asked the most obvious questions the first one that seemed to be one dennis wanted me to answer
(5:37:44) what was i doing out there and why was i there with those people i wasn't sure what you guys were going to do with me once you stopped calling me into work in the lab even before i could finish that second statement i sensed that this was the wrong tact to take each of the men displayed body language that this was not the avenue to go down arms folded across a chest a lean back in the chair a lean forward and a slow nearly imperceptible shake of the head an eyebrow quivering and then lifting quickly on the go
(5:38:24) i then smiled and said look everybody knows that something to do with experimental aircraft and testing goes on out there if you live in vegas you know that so when they heard i had a job out there they assumed all we did was go out there and watch the lights in the sky i figured that would answer any of the questions they had alleviate their curiosity do a little disinformation no big deal no breach of security i didn't tell them anything once i got started talking a kind of mental momentum took over by the time i was halfway into it i'd (5:39:01) almost convinced myself that what i was saying was true at the same time i wondered about my assumption that these guys were part of the security group would they have been allowed to hear what dennis was talking about with me don't you understand that this project is far more important than any one single person dennis asked more important than your life more important than mine like i said they knew that things were going on with aircraft then certain of the other two men and careful not to say anything about the alien
(5:39:36) nature of the propulsion system and craft i added these were lay people the general public they wouldn't have been able to figure out anything but what i told them and i told them nothing nothing dennis jumped on that word immediately essentially nothing just that there were flights what do you mean essentially nothing the guy to my left said if you let me finish i think you're finished dennis intervened and just what is it that you think we're going to do with you and your friends nothing with them i figured i would go
(5:40:15) back to work on the project you smiling again you think this is funny don't you understand how serious this is the interrupter was added again dennis sat back as if to get a better view of the show i wasn't aware that i had been smiling maybe under the stress of the situation i had i knew that i had to fight the urge to say that i understood the gravity of the situation this isn't funny this is no joke the interrupter went on well maybe mr lazar doesn't understand what the rules are around here they didn't see anything
(5:40:53) a few lights in the sky oh what a big deal a few lights in the sky the interrupter must not have liked my tone he nudged the gun against me and i lost my composure for a bit this is ridiculous it's not like i told them that what they were seeing was aliens flying around in their saucers this is i stopped myself dennis

looked like i had kicked him in the balls he recovered quickly and said to the interrupter please leave the room once the man left dennis switched off the device on the desk he tore a sheet off the legal pad that (5:41:32) had been sitting there presumably the whole time though it hadn't registered with me until then i was so shaken write down their names and their contact information i hated the idea of having to do that it was one thing for the police to have gotten it from their driver's licenses but this was far more judas like an action i felt my throat tighten they have that information already i want you to write it dennis said his voice reaching a level of menace that i hadn't heard before i knew then that this writing had some
(5:42:09) kind of significance beyond the simple gathering of information my writing those names and figures down would be an act of betrayal a demonstration that i was capable of violating any kind of trust i don't know all that information i don't have people's addresses and phone numbers committed to memory dennis continued to glare at me look i'll admit it i'm scared i can't think straight right now dennis tapped the sheet of paper write it now i'm telling you i began my voice sounding even to me
(5:42:49) like the bleeding of a sheep i stopped and looked at the third who was in the room the entire time he hadn't spoken and he had displayed none of the gestures of disapproval or dismay that the others had and that i'd mentally cataloged earlier he simply stared ahead impassively our eyes met and he continued to regard me as if i was no consequence to him whatsoever that indicated to me that he was the one i should be most concerned about he was the one most capable of doing me harm i was in such a quandary
(5:43:25) they would know if i was giving them false information that would lead them to believe that i had something to hide that i was capable of other kinds of duplicity that i had no regard for what they demanded of me that i was loyal only to myself if i didn't i had something to hide that i'd already committed some acts of duplicity that i had no regard for what they demanded of me that i was loyal to someone else the last was true if i gave them the full information they asked for seeing no other way around it i gave
(5:43:57) them some information substituted gene's office number for his home number left many things blank and gave them an empty promise that i would get them what they needed i could neither be the stand-up guy who openly defied them or the man who was willing to lie down and be run over by their threats instead i sat there in that middle ground finding nothing to be happy about and wondering if the man's indifference was somehow a reflection of how i truly felt about myself was i too indifferent even to feel self-loathing
(5:44:33) next i want you to tell us who you're working for dennis said his lips pursing as he scanned the paper i'd returned to him for you for whoever you work for for eg and g i don't know naval intelligence was on the check so i guess them you know that's not what i mean i know that you wanted to sabotage the project that's clear no i said recoiling in my chair that's not true at all not one bit of it this went on for a while until dennis looked at his watch we're done here for now go back home wait for my call
(5:45:16) we'll probably have you come back in his last statement was ambiguous to work or to be further interrogated i didn't dare ask i stood up and as i did the interrogator came back in the room he handed dennis a stack of papers dennis's eyes lit up that's right that's right i almost forgot he looked at the papers for a few moments sit down sit down he waved the papers at me and they fluttered briefly before coming to rest you do know your wife's having an affair dennis stated flatly i sat there not willing to take the bait
(5:46:00) been going on for a while her flight instructor a guy named tony started back in february a valentine's day thing i guess why are you doing this i asked you could make anything up even these he said holding up the papers these are the transcripts to every call between them funny how nearly all of them took place when you weren't around seemed like your schedule was ideal for them to meet up i tried to tell myself that what i'd said to dennis was true they could make anything up but something deep in my gut told me (5:46:39) that wasn't the case i sat there feeling scooped out like someone had taken a melon baller and eviscerated me from neck to nuts when i told dennis that i didn't want to see the transcripts my voice sounded tinny as if it was echoing inside that hollow space inside me he slid them over anyway i sat for a few seconds not looking at them in that brief span i knew that the empty space inside me was all of the denial i'd kept stored in there leeching away i'd noticed that tracy had been

distracted and distant
(5:47:18) i'd noticed that it seemed like every time i left the house tracy did too at one point early in my time at s4 jason had come over to the house we were going to test some new rocket motors for the fireworks display we put on we left in my car and i wasn't sure if i had all the motors couldn't remember if i'd left a box on a shelf in the garage rather than go all the way out into the desert and then discover they weren't there i pulled over and got out of the car to check what was in the hatch
(5:47:49) everything was there i climbed back in and checked the wing mirror before i pulled out there was tracy's car she had to have seen me but she just drove right past i dismissed it then but after that noted but tried not to focus on the dozens of other similar things that happened phone calls ending abruptly her changing plans at the last minute i stopped myself from thinking any more about them i wanted to look but i didn't i decided that i didn't need to look through a catalog of my despair and devastation selecting which item to (5:48:28) punish myself with to suit my mood at the time well thanks dennis i said as i slid the papers back to him no keep them he said sounding more jovial than i'd ever heard him before least we can do yeah i said channeling gene at that moment your tax dollars at work to say i walked out of there feeling completely devastated would be an understatement tracy's betrayal gutted me i didn't want to linger on the indian springs site thinking that there were likely to be surveillance cameras i imagined dennis sitting there and
(5:49:10) laughing at me a deep satisfaction animating his face if he saw me showing any signs of the anguish i was feeling i drove away and on the way home my sorrow and disillusionment weighed heavily on me i felt as if i was back in the puritan days and someone had attached stones to my body and submersed me in water i had no energy to struggle against those forces dragging me down tracy had once rescued me from the despair that i experienced following my first wife's death had given me hope that life could be good again
(5:49:47) now that hope had diminished as the days went on after dennis's revelation i became resigned i truly didn't care whether i lived or died in addition to feeling betrayed and the sickening thoughts of her having a sexual relationship with another man and how cliched the whole thing was with a co-worker with a man whose contact i'd encouraged and helped pay for a flight instructor i came to another gut-wrenching conclusion one of the reasons why my security clearance was being delayed was due to tracy's affair
(5:50:25) whoever was administrating the project and was in charge of evaluating my suitability for the security clearance knew this a man whose wife is cheating on him is likely to find out about her infidelity at some point he's likely to be emotionally unstable as a result as a result he wasn't the best candidate to be entrusted with the kinds of information that i was going to be and had been privy to not only had tracy's affair destroyed me emotionally it had severely damaged my chances of doing what i considered some of the most
(5:50:59) meaningful work i might ever do as frustrated as i was with the processes in place at s4 the eventual product of our work could have proved to be life-altering for me and for millions of others just because i had sabotaged any chance i had of working there didn't mean that i wouldn't have liked to have continued to do the work complicated and conflicted seemed to be the buzzwords for everything i experienced at s4 as i neared our neighborhood i remembered something else that dennis had said maybe i could reapply in six to nine
(5:51:35) months i don't know if he was simply throwing me crumbs or a lifeline at the time i envisioned that in the weeks and months to come i might have to rely on either of those two to help sustain me and keep me moving forward i came home from the visit with dennis to an empty house and in a way that was fine with me after everything else that had gone on i didn't know if i had the energy to confront tracy immediately with what i'd learned i knew that i wanted to be on my game so to speak but this was anything but a game
(5:52:11) i sat in an easy chair in the living room with a drink i'd made hoping i could be distracted by something mindless on the television when that didn't work i prowled around in my home lab i recently bought some electronics equipment i'd had my eye on for a while and i distractedly read through the manuals while sipping a second drink though alcohol should have numbed some of the pain i was feeling it didn't it eased my nerves a bit and after a while what was going on with dennis receded but the tracy betrayal came (5:52:45) rushing in simply put i was pissed off we'd meant a lot to each other and

she'd been there for me during one of the darkest moments in my life i didn't deserve this nothing i'd ever done or said could justify the pain she was inflicting on me i would never do anything like that to her if i thought that things weren't right between us i would have said something tried to work it out and if that failed we would go our separate ways that would hurt but nothing compared to this i must have drifted off (5:53:23) i went upstairs to bed and tracy was already there sound asleep i got out of bed first the next morning and brewed a pot of coffee tracy came down while i was finishing the first cup she filled her own and then mine she sat down and looked at me widened her eyes in expectation i didn't say anything she frowned and said sarcastically good morning no it isn't i said not by a long shot what's going on what happened i told her what i knew and how i'd found out she sat there looking at me her expression stealing itself as she
(5:54:13) fiddled with a spoon i don't know what to say she said after i'd concluded she shifted in her chair and brought one leg up underneath turning away from me slightly how about i'm sorry i'm treating you like and i'm sorry i'm not treating you like things happen i wasn't trying to i immediately cut her off don't even what say that you weren't trying to hurt me how did you expect me to feel i've been doing nothing but trying to do the best for you busting my ass to make a life for us
(5:54:57) make things as easy as possible for you running around at all hours of the night leaving me here all the time what did you expect that really got to me what did i expect i was nearly shouting at this point i expected you to understand that i was working on a highly sensitive project i expected you to understand that the hours were strange i didn't expect you to start your flight instructor as thanks for me taking on a second job and trying to better things for us it isn't just the sex i don't want to hear that i needed you
(5:55:37) especially with everything else going on well if you would have listened to me then maybe all this dentist wouldn't be hitting the fan i told you that you were playing with fire but you love that you love taking risks and flying in the face of authority i pounded my hand on the table the utensil jumped and a tiny pool of cream shuddered don't turn this around on me i'm not the one who did anything wrong i'm not turning this around i'm saying that things are really complicated right now i heard what you told me about dennis
(5:56:13) hauling your ass in i knew this was going to turn out bad i knew it now's not the time the hell it isn't yeah we have to talk about marriage we'll do that but for now don't you think we've got a few more pressing items on our agenda to deal with the phone rang i locked eyes with tracy and laughed ruffly this is how up things are i'm wondering about the lesser of two evils is that your boyfriend calling and wondering where you are or it's that dennis luring me out somewhere so he can finish this whole
(5:56:51) thing off tracy and i went around and around for a while until neither of us were sure who was the monkey and who was the weasel and who was chasing whom we at last agreed to table for the rest of the day any discussions about next steps her calling it off us calling it quits let things settle down let me focus on what i needed to do after the reminder she made that i'd put us in jeopardy that i'd as she put it potentially screwed the pooch professionally at the very least i seethed two wrongs don't make a right in my mind
(5:57:31) they raise the number of wrongs to another power keep raising the number of sins of omission and commission until you can't see the forest for the trees or the cliches a few days passed without incident i got back into the regular routine of picking up rolls of film processing them and delivering the finished pictures wayne and his wife were still not certain if the business was right for them that was fine with me now that it looked as if the s4 work was truly over i needed some income having the familiar rhythms of work also
(5:58:08) soothed my admittedly raw nerves the work also gave me an excuse to get out of the house both to be away from tracy and to allow me to meet face to face with jean john and jason each separately i told them about the meeting i'd had with dennis our conversations were brief we commiserated for a while i told them that i had things under control it was worrisome of course but i thought that having gone out there with each of them had provided me with a kind of insurance policy gratefully they were each okay with that (5:58:44) and didn't feel i'd betrayed them or put them in jeopardy john's opinion held a little more weight with me because of the kind of work he sometimes did for the government and the people he knew in the c i a he suggested that i get the hell out of there right away he'd asked if the surveillance teams were back and i told him that they were you can hunker down here in the bunker if you need to in fact you should he unlocked one of the gun cabinets in his study to show me a part of his collection unnecessary since i already knew about (5:59:17) them they'd be fools to try to come storming in here a it would be really hard for them to get in here and b it would be too high profile of a scene that's not how they like to operate i thanked him and told him i'd consider it and in fact i did stay there for a few nights over the next couple of weeks with me barely noticing it we turned the page on april and moved into may i still had in mind the fact that dennis was going to call me and he'd instructed me to be around for that at that stage i didn't want to piss him

(5:59:53) off any more than i already had by the start of the second week of may nearly a month after the meeting with dennis i was driving back from a photo drop off at gene's office i was on the east side of las vegas on eastern avenue heading for home via charleston boulevard and then the freeway a half mile or so from the on-ramp i noticed a car coming up from behind closing somewhat quickly i was driving the sports car that i taken out to indian springs the 280z maybe it was a remnant of my jet car days and being around people at drag
(6:00:29) strips but my first assumption confirmed when the car didn't overtake me but pulled alongside was that this was someone looking for a race or otherwise messing around instinct took over and i accelerated thinking i'd beat them to the on-ramp i cut in front of them and they pulled alongside again a quick side-long glance allowed me to see two head shapes nothing more distinct than that in the car's front seat we did this catch-up up thing one more time before we got to the on ramp i had to slow at that point in order to (6:01:05) make the turn i was ahead of them and figured that was that it wasn't the on on-ramp was a single lane and the other car drove with two wheels on the shoulder and two in the dirt and grass alongside it adrenaline shot through me as much because i wondered if i was going to witness a crash and also from fear of who these guys were and what they might try to do to me a shot rang out and i felt the rear of my car slewing sideways instinctively i turned the wheel hard left to correct and that took me off the ramp and into the grass
(6:01:44) i came to a stop i was paralyzed with fear at that moment i sat with my arms elbows locked head pointed straight ahead just waiting certain that someone was going to come up to the window and fire another shot at me i don't know how long i sat in that position but by the time i looked around all the dust had settled the other car was nowhere in sight i eased the driver's side door open and got out traffic thumped by on the boulevard and i could hear the faint wish and whoosh of interstate traffic in the distance
(6:02:23) keeping time with thumps was my thoughting heart i walked around the back of the car and saw that my passenger side rear tire was flat and that a round hole was visible in the side wall i probed the opening with my finger felt the strands of rubber and above that nearer the tread the steel belts i determined that the tire still had enough structural integrity to support the car i was no more than five miles or so from home all i wanted to do was get out of there and get to a safe place by this time the sun had gone down
(6:03:00) completely and it was full-on dark so i put on my emergency flashers i made it onto the expressway and doing no more than twenty to thirty miles an hour in the right lane made for home i was grateful that a utility company truck pulled in behind me the driver must have noticed the tire and my distress he put on the flashing lights on the roof of his vehicle as well as his hazard lights all of that flashing drew a lot of attention and reminded me a bit of the scene in the desert but i was glad for the escort to my exit
(6:03:35) as i drove along the reality of what had happened started to set in i'd fired weapons often enough to know that it's hard to hit a target from a standstill to be able to fire from a moving car into another moving car and hit a tire was either a stroke of luck good luck for me that they hadn't hit the gas tank or me and bad luck for them if either of those two options had been their intent and bad luck for me if these guys had been aiming for that target and had succeeded in hitting it those guys would have had to be pros (6:04:10) maybe all they wanted to do was warn me if so the message was received i got another bit of fright when i pulled off the expressway the utility truck followed me off the ramp and all the way home i briefly considered not going home and trying to lose them i told myself to just calm down and proceed to james lovell when i signaled to enter my driveway the truck flashed its bright lights in recognition and went on its way i breathed another sigh of relief and gratitude i

slumped at the wheel for a few seconds my forehead resting on it (6:04:51) when i looked up i noticed that there was another car one unfamiliar to me parked alongside me startled i wondered if it was best to just remain inside or try to run for it a few seconds later a woman in a dark suit tight walked over to me waving an envelope in her hand what was this a processes server notifying me that i was being sued for divorce a female assassin publisher's clearinghouse coming to inform me that i was a lucky winner it turned out to be none of those as she got closer i recognized her as
(6:05:30) joyce another real estate appraiser i was supposed to have stopped by her office after jeans in all the commotion i'd completely forgotten i got out of the car and stepped into a cloud of perfume bob i hope you don't mind i live nearby and i was on my way to dinner a date actually nice place off the strip first time going there so excited it's okay joyce i owe you an apology it's fine bob just fine just that i'll need these tomorrow you know how it is bob i'd begun to wonder if she was going to (6:06:08) bob me to death sure i do i went to lean against the car casually but feeling a bit light-headed after the rush i staggered a little given the car's leaning lopsidedness she looked at me then down at her feet and then at me again appraising bob your car looks a little funny or is your driveway sagging i'd get that taken care of professional opinion of course bob no drive was fine just that someone shot my tire out a little earlier oh well only in vegas she handed the envelope with the film role in it i really really need these first thing
(6:06:54) in the morning bob i nodded enjoy your evening joyce i said realizing that i was seriously outgunned in the name game as she drove away i marveled at how she had acted as if someone getting the tire of a car shot out while driving was just a normal part of the daily commute but it wasn't i was completely unnerved after the brief mini absurdity with joyce i returned to the other absurdity in my life despite joyce's assessment that these kinds of things happen in vegas they didn't i could have encountered some random act
(6:07:33) of violence but in my gut i sensed something more sinister lurking beneath the surface of a coincidence gone bad dennis had said they would be in touch was this the form that re-establishing of communication was going to take given the circumstances i abandoned my no phone calls rule i immediately got in touch with gene and john john was emphatic i had to get over to his place immediately it was the safest location for me and thought that together we could formulate a plan of action i decided it was best to do as john
(6:08:09) instructed gene had been in favor all along of me getting away from the house and potentially out of las vegas in the weeks since i'd met with dennis the observers had been a constant presence though they had stopped tailing me by the time i'd arrived it seemed as if john had already formulated the start of a plan you protected yourself by telling us about what you were doing right yes and that worked didn't it well john i don't know about worked you're still above ground aren't you still breathing
(6:08:44) that's true so what i think is stick with the formula except you tweak it a little bit go wider with the information how do i do that stand on a street corner like some loon with a daze until doomsday sign that would work but your sign painting skills probably aren't up to snuff i've seen your handwriting i think you're right about going wider i was thinking of that myself mind if i call george knapp get him over here i trust him fine george knapp was a reporter for the local abc affiliate in las vegas
(6:09:26) he covered the usual stuff but also did some investigative journalism into political corruption and the like he was also one of the first journalists in the city to really poke around and into area 51. he'd interviewed john before and if john liked him and trusted him even considering john's lack of a filter that was good enough for me john got me a drink and escorted me into his office i was joined later by george and his boss the station's manager bob stovall it seemed a bit strange to be face to (6:10:00) face with a man who was in my living room a lot of nights george had a straightforward demeanor and a candor that put me at ease john on the other hand didn't he was looking out for my best interests but he immediately took the lead in speaking with the two tv guys he was acting as if he was my attorney not as if he was asking for a favor essentially he started out by making demands telling them i'd go on camera wouldn't reveal my name and i would only answer yes or no questions that last bit got to me

too much and possibly incriminating myself i can't believe now how naive i was to believe that i wasn't going to be put on trial not in the legal sense but in the court of public opinion i shared more of my story with george and bob and eventually we came to an agreement we do a piece that they would broadcast the following day i wouldn't use my own name they would only show me in silhouette to protect my identity and i
(6:11:08) would give them responses that went beyond simple yes or no replies i was concerned about the guys watching my house so they left it up to me to give them the location and they would send a truck over i think about it overnight and see who would be willing to have this all go on we chatted for a while longer then shook hands john and i sat up long into the night speculating about how my coming forward on television would be received by dennis and the powers that be we knew i would be stirring up a storm in the desert but kicking the sand
(6:11:43) up in someone's face was better than having my tires shot out from underneath me maybe it was the product of such a long day but it took me a while to realize that a storm and a sandstorm weren't quite the same thing but john must have understood except for one thing he dozed off i made my way to the guest bedroom and figured that a shower would help ease some of the tension from my body i stood under the spray with my eyes shut the sound of the water on my skull a soothing and sibilant tone i wondered if i was doing the right
(6:12:21) thing half marveled and half bemoaned the fact that it had all come down to this i wasn't prone to the if only's but as the room filled with steam and i could finally feel some weariness overtaking me i wondered what it would have been like if i had been content to remain bob the photo guy and later as i drifted off to sleep i wondered after tomorrow who i would be known as one thing was for certain i wasn't going to be bob the blank chapter 9 there are times when you just have to trust your gut instinct
(6:13:04) there are times when you have to trust other people when the two of those are working in concert then there's a pretty good chance that you're heading in the right direction though i didn't know george knapp at all before i met him i trusted that he believed in my story and he believed that it needed to be made available for wider consumption i'd gone back and forth on the issue of the public's right to know about the presence of these craft and our government and military's involvement
(6:13:32) with them i wasn't strictly speaking anti-authoritarian i didn't rebel against people in positions of power just because they were in power what generally got me a bit riled up was when authorities in judiciously wielded power or didn't account for the fact that not everyone was incapable of behaving rationally again that's going back to the idea of a widespread panic or serious social disruption resulting from revelations that there were other life forms in the universe and we'd had contact with them
(6:14:07) i'm not sure i bought into that idea completely i also understood that whoever was able to decrypt how this astounding technology worked needed as the phrase goes to use their powers for good and not evil and if no one but a select few knew we had that power then they would have greater rain to do with it what they wanted and without impunity that was not good but as i woke up in john's house and thought more and more about what i'd committed to the on-camera interview my decision was based more on (6:14:43) self-preservation than altruism the blend wasn't so highly concentrated with self-interest than it had been but it was still predominant i wasn't trying to be a hero i was simply trying to still be to continue to exist in the passage of time i can recount these events in a much more reasonable much more logical fashion at the time i was in a state of panic wondering if my decision to go wide was going to fan the smoldering embers into a fire or throw enough water on them to douse them completely i knew that i had the full support of (6:15:23) george gene and john that was helpful but in the end only one person should be responsible for decisions like these the one whose life is most immediately going to be affected to say that i discussed my decision with tracy would be a gross overstatement i informed her of what i was going to do but i didn't ask for permission nor did i consult with her about how i should conduct myself to her credit she and her sister both decided to accompany me on the set of the interview i realized that using the word set as in (6:16:00) a movie set implies some kind of fictional aspect of what was going on but we did stage the interview at my request i mention this only because of how the day proceeded i had agreed to appear in silhouette and so the camera operator who accompanied george the sound guy and george himself all had to figure out how to achieve the visual effects they wanted to make it look interesting and to abide by my request that my identity be protected because as gene kept reminding me john lear's house was a kind of secure (6:16:36) compound we chose to do the interview at his place i don't care who you are or where you live or what kind of relationship you have with your neighbors if you drive along in a remote coverage tv news van with its call letters and insignia emblazoned all over it into someone's driveway you're going to draw a crowd of onlookers even if the van disappears from view most of the time when i'd gone to visit john i'd parked in his driveway it wasn't possible to be seen from the street so it was unlikely that anyone

(6:17:10) would be able to identify me when i came out of the house and got positioned to speak with george for that reason on may 14 1989 my supporters and i stood around waiting while the technicians did their thing george had briefed me very generally about the kinds of questions he was going to ask and i had to appear on camera for a couple of test shoots to make sure that i was framed properly and the lighting worked out i couldn't resist one more poke at those in charge of the program and i instructed george to refer to me by my (6:17:44) chosen pseudonym dennis i'm not sure if that qualifies as gallows humor but i did have a small sense of what it might be like to be facing a moment so heavily freighted with consequences i chose to look at the interview as an example of one of the most widely known principles of physics newton's first and second laws of motion i could still act on what i'd set into motion and even up until the last moment when i was standing on my mark and george stood off camera and signaled me that it was a go i still wasn't certain if i'd let any (6:18:20) words come out of my mouth i did and i found that the release of one was easily followed by another and then more and more we talked for perhaps five minutes i gave george the basics the interview was more about the existence of the craft my role at s4 generally and involved no critique of the program no mention of why it was or how it was that i had become embroiled in a dispute with my now former employees when it was aired we all gathered to watch it at john's house the interview was pared down to just a
(6:18:58) couple of minutes at most it hit all the high points and i got a big kick out of seeing the name dennis appear on screen beneath my shadowy image i was glad that george had kept in the part about me stating that i believed the technology needed to be kept classified the fact that we obtained the technology from an extraterrestrial civilization should be public knowledge i'd finally settle on that as my stance believed it at that moment and continued to believe it ever since i had no idea how the piece was going to (6:19:32) be received i felt some relief that again to revert to the newtonian metaphor i'd set an object in motion that would at least govern to some degree what they did next and what i did next like i said i've always been a lover of big reactions and explosions and that sort of thing being inert and observing things that are inert is for the most part tedious i wanted to see how all of this was going to be resolved and i hoped that it would be so sooner rather than later either let me go back to my old life or
(6:20:09) at least let me deal with the new one after the broadcast was over i returned to my home on james lovell i didn't feel like i was in exile from my shattered marriage or my possibly ruined career as a scientist as i saw it i'd done nothing wrong and shouldn't walk around feeling like a leper or a pariah that feeling didn't last very long the phone rang and i picked up bob do you have any idea what we're going to do to you now no it was dennis he didn't say anything else and in a second or two
(6:20:53) the connection terminated so much for any kind of certainty so much for the laws of physics somehow applying here so much for feeling safe and secure in my home without a word to tracy i slipped out the door and returned to john's house where i spent the night i lay in the dark and thought about all the ways that this should matter but concluded as the first gray light of mourning came through the windows that living or dying was seldom a question of choice it was often governed by forces inside and outside of ourselves (6:21:31) but i was too tired and too distraught by all that had gone on to really care which outcome was produced as before i also gave some thought to fleeing but knowing who i was dealing with and powers they likely possessed running away seemed fruitless they'd be able to track me down if they wanted to at least in las vegas i had my core group of friends who had my best interest at heart though i woke up the next morning and initially felt like i wanted to just sleep the rest of the day and many others away duty called (6:22:08) despite being freaked out the previous night by dennis's call i had remembered to grab a packet of photos that jean needed i set out early for his office i stopped at a cafe for a quick bite to eat and sat there nervously looking around the room for any signs of suspicious activity i stopped doing that pretty quickly when i realized that i didn't have a firm grasp of what might constitute suspicious activity i finished up and left scanning the newspapers in the box outside the cafe nothing on the front page indicated that (6:22:43) my story had been important enough to be above the fold and maybe not even anywhere in the paper i chided myself for thinking i was such a big deal and headed over to gene's office i walked in and another man was with him bob gene said this is gene how you doing the man said i'm an appraiser too weird isn't it gene gene like you stepped into another universe in fact the man looked nothing at all like gene his olive complexion and thinning black hair splayed across his pate in dark isosceles clumps i know

(6:23:26) how about this gene gene the dancing machine remember that show with chuck barris the gong show the man said sorry i don't gene number two narrowed his gaze and cocked his head hey this guy he said directing his remarks to gene sounds like the guy i saw on the news last night nah i don't know i saw it but i don't hear the similarity he's just the photo guy i shrugged and said just the photo guy when we were alone i said to gene that's a bit scary i thought about them using a voice disguiser but didn't think
(6:24:08) it was necessary now this gene tried to reassure me that it was a fluke and he was eventually proved right over the course of the next few days and into june no one else claimed that i sounded like the alien guy on tv in the years to come i'd learn that the brief bit of footage that aired that night eventually made its way to various locations around the globe i thought i had some sense of the power of the media and mass communications back then but didn't realize what a greater force it would become and how it would
(6:24:43) directly impact my life my friends took on a more low-tech campaign on my behalf gene and a few others suspecting that his phone line was now being tapped as well started to talk more openly over the phone about what i'd been doing he called friends and family enlarging the circle of those in the know the idea was simple if dennis and others decided that i was such a security risk that i needed to be killed and more people knew what it was that i was doing having those individuals with that knowledge could either act as a deterrent or (6:25:19) increase the number of people who would know the truth of why i had been killed the fact that i was eliminated we believed would confirm the truth of what i had revealed in their conversations with others my inner circle also stated that they had written letters to members of various agencies with the government etc these communications the letters would be far more difficult to track and interfere with we felt that simply giving the appearance of having communicated more widely was enough to keep those who might want to do me harm at bay
(6:25:54) we were going to keep them guessing as to who knew what and created our own kind of disinformation campaign i was still being followed and monitored and gene reported to me that he believed he had been tailed as well i can't confirm this and neither could jean but it certainly was within the realm of possibility the kinds of gamesmanship that was going on was never fun or thrilling it was always frightening and aggravating i don't know if dennis felt the same way but eventually on the third saturday in (6:26:28) june the 17th after having been contacted by dennis that a personal level meeting was needed we set a time and place for a face-to-face meeting at my suggestion we were to meet at eight in the evening at the union plaza casino in downtown las vegas the more public the location the better and a las vegas casino on a saturday night was sure to be crowded as it happened a friend and former colleague from los alamos joe van netti was in town he knew what was going on generally with me gene and i brought him up to speed on (6:27:05) the most recent events and joe helped us with our planning for the meeting with dennis i wasn't about to go there alone i also wasn't about to expose my friends to any more jeopardy than necessary i didn't think that dennis or whoever might have been with him or at who's urging the meeting was set up intended to do me harm at the casino but as a scientist you know that you should never jump to any conclusions we devised a plan so that joe and jean could keep me in sight at all times or at least be able to track my location (6:27:40) the day of the meeting i spent quietly at home reading i'd resumed my activities at the library prior to going to work out at s4 and for most of my adult life i hadn't earned enough money to afford subscriptions to all the scientific journals and periodicals that i wanted to read in order to keep current on latest advances as i recall even back then the wonderful though not highly technical magazine nature cost nearly twenty dollars an issue some of the less popular ones like the journal of technical physics were (6:28:16) somewhat obscure but its peer-reviewed articles were fascinating to me i struggled with my focus that day but being in a library had a calming effect on me but you know you've got a lot on your mind when an article on microsecond plasma pulses in mw range can't hold your attention i sat there watching the odd assortment of characters who frequent the library i suppose that people who don't live in las vegas and only visit the strip don't really think about the daily lives of its residents let alone libraries

(6:28:51) in the days before the internet exploded with information that we could access so easily libraries were still an interesting gathering place for those who pursued esoteric as well as commonplace knowledge i thought a bit about the site of our meeting the union plaza hotel sat on the side of the former union pacific railroad station the hotel still had a train station as part of its structure i sought out photos of the older version built in 1940 and admired its art modern or streamlined modern facade a later variation of the art deco movement
(6:29:29) in the photographs i saw the station's single-story front that faced main street looked like the diner that edward hopper depicted in his great painting nighthawks something always captivated me about that painting the couple sitting at the counter the lone man with his back to the viewer the counterman going about his business it sometimes struck me as desperately lonely and at other times hopeful those people had some place that they could go even if they didn't speak someplace where they could find some (6:30:03) fellowship we don't build great cathedrals much anymore and our artists don't tend to depict them in their works the way painters centuries ago once did i was in a reflective mood obviously while also trying to make sense of my present i can't say that i ever uttered the words why me when it came to my dealings with naval intelligence eg and g and dennis as the representative of some larger body of people i simply accepted what had happened and in those moments as i flipped through that book depicting some early
(6:30:39) scenes of las vegas and its development i allowed myself to feel some sense of loss at what had transpired i'd been privileged to work at s4 and had seen a technological marvel that defied my complete understanding in a way i was like some pilgrim who traveled to chart in france in the 13th century and had seen the marvels of the flying buttress and wondered how it was done and maybe worried that it might all come crashing down on my head but believed that no god in his goodness was holding that high ceiling aloft
(6:31:17) or maybe i was like someone who lived long enough to come to las vegas and arrive at the union pacific railroad station aboard a locomotive powered by a means that was a marvel of its time internal combustion and electromechanical the streamliners of that era were capable of an astounding 100 miles an hour we'd made progress to be sure and who was to say what a race from a distant galaxy might have been able to accomplish if they'd been around longer or hadn't been around as long but possessed an intellect superior to our
(6:31:51) own as much as i said that i wanted all of this to be over and wondered how my meeting with dennis might lead me toward or away from that goal i was saddened by the end of the opportunity i'd been given i was sad about the end of my marriage i don't know if i had any real innocence left to be able to lose it but i wished that in all that had gone on there was more time to just simply marvel at it all to take in the beauty and elegant simplicity of the propulsion system to appreciate it for what it was and not think of it so much as a problem
(6:32:28) to be solved but a gift that i could take pleasure in i knew that the time for my appointment with dennis was nearing the library emitted a signal it was last call i slid the periodicals back on their shelves in defiance of the request to return them to the front desk i went home and walked through each of the rooms thinking a bit about tracy and our time there together sometimes things change but they aren't always a sign of progress before i knew it it was time to leave joe jean and i all climbed into joe's
(6:33:04) vehicle and headed into downtown vegas by the time the glittering lights of the hotel were visible my stomach was in knots as much as i was concerned for the personal safety of us all i knew that there were a lot of forms that the do you know what we can do to you question could take i could easily imagine having all my financial records messed with my education and employment history disappearing all of which wouldn't be mere inconveniences but could really damage me and ruin my life i felt like i'd already lost so much and (6:33:39) was going to have to start over in so many ways that it felt overwhelming stepping into the noisy cacophony of a vegas casino was a bit of sensory overload given my exile at john's house and my time at the library i truly did feel like i was under assault that the loud noises the flashing lights the loud thrum of conversations pierced by sharp laughter produced a physical pain in my head and throughout my body that had me gritting my teeth as per our plan i'd entered alone and began to scout for dennis

(6:34:17) at three minute intervals jean and then joe would enter the casino chose strategically advantageous seats at the slot machines and keep an eye on me i'd described dennis to them both but i didn't want them approaching him i kept up my reconnoitering the slot room and other parts of the casino dodging waitresses and patrons in the narrow openings between the games and tables after waiting 15 minutes and wondering if the rules applied about a professor being late to a class i found a staff member to assist me with (6:34:53) a request i asked that someone page dennis mariana and ask him to meet his party at the entrance to the blackjack room several minutes later i saw dennis working his way from the entrance toward where i'd been standing along a sidewall he was part of a large clump of people trying to make their way deeper into the casino he looked exactly as he always did on smiling eyes focused straight ahead his neat mustache hair and erect posture hardly allowing him to blend in with the more casual and relaxed patrons
(6:35:29) i walked toward him making myself very clearly present in front of him my heart rate climbing and my throat tightening dennis walked right past me not acknowledging me in the slightest my eyes darted from side to side and i noticed another man his presence very much like dennis's as he stood stiffly along the wall not far from where i'd previously been standing i looked at him again stared at him and realized that he was one of the security people i'd seen while at s4 it made sense to me that dennis wasn't
(6:36:06) going to be alone i saw that joe and jean were both looking in my direction i tried to point out dennis to them both but knew that given the cluster of people moving through the area it was going to be hard for them to positively identify which man he was i walked over to joe and then to gene letting them know what i wanted to do next gene i'm going to go in there into the blackjack room and i want you to follow me stay out of sight but keep an eye on dennis i saw him bob i spotted a guy who i think matched the description
(6:36:42) good but i want you to be more positive undeniably positive about the identification i'm going to speak with him and i need you to witness that to have zero doubt in your mind that the man i was talking to was dennis got gene trailed behind me to my right i saw dennis sitting at a table i inclined my head toward him to let gene know i'd spotted the guy i also held up my hand briefly to remind gene that i didn't want him to approach dennis at all it was nearly comical to see dennis in that environment
(6:37:18) he was sandwiched between two curvaceous women who were both enjoying their drinks and the festive atmosphere i watched dennis for a minute or so and he never took his eyes off his cards a remarkable feat of self-restraint i circled the blackjack pit and came up behind dennis for some reason by this time whatever anxiety i was feeling seemed to disappear the dealer ride me suspiciously he'd seen me circling and looking at the table i could have easily been eyeing everyone's cards a stupid and blatantly obvious cheat but
(6:37:56) not one i was working well dennis you said you wanted to meet and here i am what's the deal i spoke loud enough to ensure that the dealer heard me he was some six to eight feet away i saw his expression soften at my words dennis didn't react at all i waited a minute before i said to dennis dennis what the hell is going on what is this i stared at the back of dennis's head noticed an ingrown hair that had begun to boil the skin in a small but angry red welt aware that creating some kind of scene was not wise i walked away
(6:38:38) gene joined me on the edge of the pit edging out from behind a slot machine dennis remained in our sight line what the hell was that gene asked i don't know more from them from him what do you want to do gene asked i don't know what we can do he doesn't want to talk he hasn't told me where we could meet nothing you want to tell him follow him to his car at least get his license number i was so frustrated and let down at that point so sick of dennis's arrogance that i agreed to that plan knowing it really wouldn't do us one bit (6:39:20) of good but at least it was something dennis stood up from the table and merged into the crowd we all moved to follow him but in just a few seconds the crowd swallowed him up gene and i made our way toward the front entrance near joe's position did you see anybody who looked like dennis leaving joe shook his head and shrugged not really not really or no i sounded more agitated than i really was sorry bob nobody that looked like your guy came past split up and find them gene asked why not i said we each took off in solo pursuit

(6:40:05) i checked all the tables the bathrooms even stuck my head inside a bar and a restaurant nearby not a single sign of him after 20 to 30 minutes i wandered back to the entrance gene and joe eventually showed up i could use a drink gene said not here i told him we drove to a small tavern nearer my house then the joints along the stripper downtown why would he do that gene asked he asked for the meeting he had backup with the other guy i guess we shouldn't assume that the other security guy was with dennis easy enough to think he was but not
(6:40:48) necessarily true joe's face lit up in recognition of what i was suggesting so dennis says he wants to talk to you personally he shows up sees the same guy you do now he's thinking that he's being watched he talks to you he's in the with somebody else above him could be i said i swirled the ice in my glass and held it up to the light things are about as opaque as this i'm not a gambling man when it comes to people's actions but i'm pretty sure that dennis will be back in touch gene said
(6:41:26) i wonder if he's as confused by all of this as you are bob joe added that may be i've got no evidence to say one way or the other until he tells me it's so it's all conjecture i was definitely disappointed at how the evening turned out i knew that there were a lot more unpleasant alternative endings to it but as with so much of what had gone on this felt far too incomplete far too fragmented to really feel satisfying far too much like how life generally makes us all feel chapter 10 if i was hoping for closure on the (6:42:09) experiences i had with the people who hired me to reverse engineer that propulsion system including dennis i wasn't going to get it not then not ever unfortunately for me eg and g s4 and all the rest of that drama was just one part of the ongoing unraveling of my life even though the failed meeting with dennis resulted in the end of the surveillance teams watching me and my house i still took some precautions in the weeks and months to come among those was taking different routes when i went to the gym went to gene's
(6:42:46) office or just continued to do my job processing film and the pickups and drop-offs that entailed even though there were no more incidents of my car being broken into or someone running me off the road and firing shots at my tires those incidents had already exacted a toll i felt like i constantly had to have my head on a swivel and the paranoia those experiences induced contributed to my stress in the aftermath of that first broadcast tracy moved out of the house that made me terribly sad but i wasn't going to stop her
(6:43:23) she'd betrayed me by having an affair but that didn't mean that i couldn't work toward forgiving her and ultimately get there oh she moved out we continued to talk we decided that we should speak with a counselor and made arrangements to do that we sat down in his office and he asked us to describe what had been going on and how it was that we ended up in his office all went well for a while but i could see a cloud of disapproval or disbelief move across his face when tracy talked about her affair and how my
(6:43:56) working with alien spacecraft and having government agents watching us all the time contributed to her infidelity we each got a chance to talk about what we hoped to accomplish and what we'd been through at the end of the session the therapist sat for a few seconds he bridged his hands in front of himself and leaned back in his chair then he turned away for a moment to make a few more notes the only sound in the room was the scratching of his pen across the page the light through the window cast a saucer-shaped shadow on the carpet (6:44:34) he looked back at the two of us after that and said there's nothing i can do for the two of you i don't want to see you again tracy and i looked at one another completely stunned we got up and slinked out of the room once we got inside the car we sat there for a second before we both burst out laughing we got fired tracy said that's not good when your therapist fires you we didn't try to find another counselor but it eventually became clear that as i got involved in doing more interviews that whatever damage i'd done to the

invested in fixing we decided it was best to just go our own ways and not make anything more difficult for the other person i'd lost one wife to disease and now a second one to work and infidelity no matter how strong you think you are mentally or how amicable the parting a divorce preys on your sense of self and self-worth a few of the why me moments why did i have to accept that job why did she have to have an affair and mess up my chances and a host of others (6:45:53) brought me pretty low i understood why some people chose to end their lives i didn't feel any of the suicidal impulses but on an intellectual level i could understand the desire and the despair that might lead to it as much as was possible i tried to resume my normal activities as soon as i could after the initial broadcast george had done i knew immediately even in those pre-internet days the power of the media two days after that first interview aired george was on the phone with me listen this story is getting picked up
(6:46:30) around the world a japanese station called me they want to fly you over there and conduct their own interviews with you japan i said dolly for an instant the thought appealed to me i could get away from here and escape everything yeah pretty amazing what do you think george asked his voice twinged with a mixture of curiosity and trepidation no not interested mind if i ask why you're the investigative journalist you figure it out george laughed that's good that's funny at the time i wouldn't have been able to (6:47:14) tell you if i was joking or not i was feeling deadened it was like i was an unplugged electric guitar someone could pluck at a string but it produced a pale imitation of the sounds it was capable of producing well bob i'm kind of glad to hear that i mean the exposure is great that's one of the reasons why i called i knew he expected me to respond to that some way ask what he wanted or something to that effect i just let the silence linger so the response here has been great we'd like to do more interviews with you
(6:47:54) again i didn't respond at least not directly i've thought about the japan trip i think i'd like to do it maybe it would be good to get away that's great i'll see about the arrangements what about my offer more interviews george waited and then filled in the gaps to his credit he didn't sound exasperated or panicked as you can imagine some people are a little skeptical anyone could have made up what you said we didn't get into much detail to be honest i need to be convinced i need better evidence i need to verify
(6:48:36) some things yeah as i'm sure you know this story has implications beyond you beyond me for that matter this is big stuff government cover-ups this is the kind of thing i do if you're going to trust anyone about this i'm your guy we both let the pause go on i understood what he was saying at first coming forward was an act of self-preservation i had only briefly considered what all this meant beyond me being able to get back to my life i did understand that some people believed in a greater degree of transparency within the government than (6:49:16) i did i had a long history of working with and inside government agencies i was comfortable with the need to know mentality that drove much of the control of information i'd seen that in action in the private sector as well but with this i was leaning in a slightly different direction i didn't really see the harm that would come from revealing this information it sounded to me as if the russians were already in the know i thought that people would be receptive to knowing about alien life and technologies
(6:49:49) after all we had these craft in our possession and it was like they were shot down in some large-scale invasion i still didn't know how we got them and in truth how didn't matter we had them so let's just move on and see how this technology could assist us maybe if i put a bit more pressure on the powers that be they might be willing or might be forced to make this information more well known i thought about sputnik when we learned the russians had a space program and then that they'd gotten a
(6:50:23) man to orbit the earth before we did the result proved to be a net positive a huge net positive down the line obviously this situation was different but i thought that the principle still applied an open exchange of information could be a good thing i'd seen first hand at s4 and in other work what happened when compartmentalization of information took precedence over other considerations progress slowed i had a pretty good idea of the weapons potential of this anti-gravity system if we had it and others knew we had it (6:51:00) maybe our having such an enormous advantage would be a real game changer it had been 10 years since the strategic arms limitation talks to treaty had been signed talks to when the cold war were ongoing various soviet republics had been rising in opposition to kremlin rule momentum seemed to be in our favor but we could have had a heavy weight to tip the balance in our favor i told george that i would think about it and get back to him don't think about it too long i'd rather do this with your cooperation (6:51:34) news business is tricky people forget i didn't tell him that people forget but that groups and agencies like i had been dealing with most likely didn't after george and i spoke i called john lear to let him know that i was going to take him up on his offer i told him that i would meet him for dinner not later than six o'clock that evening john understood that agreeing to dinner at six o'clock meant i would be staying at his house that night a minor precaution against eavesdropping but a necessary one at the time

(6:52:08) i spoke briefly with john about george's offer to do more interviews he thought it would be wise to do them i consulted with a few other friends but to be honest by the time i did my mind was already made up i was going to go forward with the plan to talk about what i'd seen i also agreed with something that george told me for this story to have any credibility i needed to step up and allow myself to be interviewed on camera and have my likeness and name be clearly on display the first interview i'd been silhouetted
(6:52:42) and not identified that wasn't going to pass the test this time i told him that i would allow that george also said that it was his professional responsibility as a journalist to do more inquiring into my past i agreed to that george said that he would like to travel with me to los alamos to meet some of the people i worked with and to see where i had worked i agreed to that george told me that if at any time i was uncomfortable with any of this up to the moment it was sent out over the air he'd agree to pull the plug on it
(6:53:16) i heartily agreed with that in fact i told him that if he hadn't specified that part of the agreement i wouldn't have agreed to any of the other stipulations i also spoke with gene about the japan trip and asked him if he would like to join me in the intervening day since the offer was first presented i'd had second thoughts but gene seemed to think it was a good idea at that point i was easily swayed and was likely just looking for reasons from other people to do or not do many things i got another offer that i couldn't
(6:53:51) refuse george had contacted the people in japan to let them know that gene and i agreed to accept their offer a few days later we bought tickets that same night i was at home and the phone rang i picked up and a voice i couldn't identify said if you take this trip to japan you will never return understand he then hung up i didn't know if this meant i was still being followed or if my phone line was still being tapped not that either of the two mattered jean and i talked it over and since neither of us was all that excited about
(6:54:31) going in the first place we turned in the tickets and didn't go the japanese later threatened to sue for the entire cost of their tv special which i just ignored i never heard from anyone about it again i guess it's a reflection of what my state of mind was at the time that the threatening phone call unnerved me only to the point that i cancelled the trip i didn't pursue any other course of action no going to the authorities no going on the record about it and telling george the reason george wanted me to accompany
(6:55:03) him to los alamos was to speed up the process for him to get the clearances himself to make all the necessary arrangements would have taken a lot of time he wanted to strike as the saying goes while the iron was hot i also met with his boss the station manager and both of them struck me as consummate professionals they'd agreed to the conditions i'd mandated for the first interview and everything had gone off as planned as much as i was drifting at that point in my life as much as i was feeling unmoored from (6:55:35) the life i'd once led just a few short months before it was great to have the two of them and my friends in my corner no matter what happened as a result of the additional exposure i was comfortable with accepting whatever consequences came my way i was never going to blame anyone else for being complicit in what happened i made my choice and i was going to stick with it it felt good to be able to trust someone and to trust myself the trip to los alamos was relatively brief because i'd worked there and had (6:56:09) contracted with them access to the facility and to the people who could verify my presence there was a relatively easy matter i took george around and introduced him showed him places i'd worked and various aspects of the accelerator george was clearly pleased to see that i hadn't fabricated a bit of my back story we returned to las vegas and george said that he would be in touch to schedule the next taping session we scheduled it for the last week of may just prior to memorial day we filmed in an office at the studio (6:56:43) i decided that since i wasn't going to have my image disguised i should make myself as presentable as possible i wore a gray shirt and a matching thin gray tie i didn't want to dress too business-like so i wore a pair of jeans and white running shoes gene didn't prepare me ahead of time with a list of questions and that was fine with me we talked at length but i knew that he was going to have to edit it all down to about 90 seconds for broadcast i wasn't nervous blocking out the camera operator and the (6:57:14) sound person wasn't easy we were in a fairly tight space but i kept reminding myself that i was having a conversation with george and no one else he was somebody i trusted and all i had to do was answer honestly and talk to george i stuck around the studio while george went into another part of the facility to do his editing i'm not sure why but i wanted to be there in person when that evening's news with my interview included went out over the airwaves as time went on i thought more and more about what i was doing

(6:57:48) i was kind of like a groom sitting in a church office while his bride and everybody else bustled about making the last preparations before a wedding all of them were occupied with doing something but all i could do was sit there and drink i started off picking up a pencil and drumming it on the table top while considering everything i had done and what this new revelation might mean for my future i had no idea really of how far reaching the consequences might be i didn't believe i'd be in any real physical harm that was the initial (6:58:23) thought i'd had in coming forward that i should do this and protect myself i wondered a bit about my reputation in las vegas and dismissed that as a concern pretty quickly las vegas was a place where many people led a transient existence they came here with some kind of dream or ideal or last resort mentality it was kind of like the gambling that drew a lot of people to the place you started out with high hopes went bust and limped home i was concerned about making a living beyond photo processing i'd signed up with eg g hoping to get
(6:59:00) back into the scientific community i wasn't sure how i'd be perceived if i came forward i damaged my chances at getting the security clearance i'd needed to work at s4 but what about at other places like los alamos what about in the private sector that was a real unknown that concerned me i knew that i'd take a kind of at all attitude in the wake of tracy and the rest of it but i had to be practical i was gutted that was for sure but there was some instinct inside of me some sense of survivorship that kept nagging
(6:59:36) at me no i wasn't going to kill myself but was i doing something that would me in a way was i committing some act of self sabotage was i looking for an easy way out a way to later explain whatever state of failure i'd entered into i had been pacing for a good amount of time as i waited for the countdown to airtime there was something inside me that hated the idea of having dennis and the rest of them whoever they were win i thought that maybe by coming forward in the manner i had i'd done just that
(7:00:13) beaten them but in reality that wasn't likely to be the case i was pretty sure that as i sat there in that room there was someone else out at the facility filling out the same paperwork i had submitting to the same physical getting introduced to barry or some other version of barry the golf ball would still be hitting the ceiling and raining down bits of acoustical tile the high performance tests would still be going on every wednesday night i wouldn't be a part of any of that what would i be a part of i felt annoying in my stomach and
(7:00:52) envisioned a gaping black hole that was my future someone knocked at the door we're about to go with it someone i hadn't met before told me if you'll follow me we walked through the aisles of the newsroom along rows of desks and half walls i spotted george a few yards ahead of me he carried a large format video cassette in his hand i took off after him george no you can't i yelled we have to go with this george said his eyes darted from side to side and he'd edged around a file cabinet and a potted
(7:01:32) plant wobbled unsteadily you said up to the last second just say the word george was still on the move i accelerated and caught him around the waist and chest and tackled him i'm saying the word george no we rolled around on the floor george holding the tape just outside my grasp i looked up and saw a few faces staring down at us though no one stepped in to intervene we have a deal i said sounding very much like a prepubescent boy shouting at his older brother george scrambled to his feet i'm doing the right thing bob you know

(7:02:14) cold feet is all this is going to be okay with that he went into the studio and i sat on the floor with my head cradled in my hands and my knees drawn up wondering not for the first time or the last what have i done in the last 27 years i've asked myself that question many many times unlike a lot of people who've lived through a really rough period and come out on the other side who say if i had to do it over again i wouldn't change a thing i would i wouldn't have come forward i should have probably just waited
(7:02:55) things out after learning about tracy's affair i would have been more patient and lived with the hope that once that matter was all settled i could have gone to work at s4 full time i had a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity to work at the forefront of science and i pissed it away sure there were the ethical implications of what was going on out there but at heart i'm a scientist i seek knowledge and understanding all that's been left in the wake of my time at s4 is other people's doubts and uncertainties about me and about the (7:03:30) program there as a scientist on one level you have to accept that there's going to be uncertainty that your theories and findings could always eventually be proven to be less than one hundred percent certain simultaneously you also have to believe that you've cracked the code solved the riddle advanced human understanding at s4 i didn't do any of that i have to live with that regret and a bunch of others as well this is no fairy tale we all didn't live happily ever after a lot of innocent people got hurt as a
(7:04:08) result of me stepping forward people lost security clearances jobs possible futures because of their association with me and my revealing to them what i did that's hard to deal with but is in no way as hard as the consequences they had to face over the years i've tried to do what i can to make amends but words fall short and gestures fail as for me i picked up the pieces eventually over the long haul things did get better i've spoken a few times at conferences and done some interviews i've had hollywood film and tv producers contact
(7:04:48) me in the scripts they've written they've tried to show me as some kind of action hero leaping onto the hoods of cars escaping the bad guys i'm no action hero i wasn't then and i'm certainly not one now i'm no kind of hero i've settled into a quiet life running a scientific supply company i can't do science anymore now that my reputation has turned to crap i've tried sending out resumes but they produce no results not even a polite decline just silence the deep silence of space
(7:05:27) i chose to come forward again and hoped to set the record straight by writing this i didn't seek someone out he sought me i knew that this was going to be part of a larger overarching project and i like that idea i was just one small cog and a larger machine at s4 and s4 is part of a larger story as well i can't and won't comment on that because it is not something i witnessed or experienced myself i'm a modest guy with modest ambitions all i've ever done in interviews and appearances is to comment on and to (7:06:04) relate what i know and what i did i see no reason to change that now i imagine that anyone caught up in events that feel larger than themselves feels the impulse to create a story that is in ways as large as the forces that are acting on them i guess that's a part of physics but i know that our understanding of the nature of the universe is to put it mildly incomplete maybe there's some comfort in knowing that this story is over maybe some will take comfort and feeling that there are some questions yet to be (7:06:39) answered that's life in the end though i was rewarded for my patience and my perseverance i'm married now and have a lovely wife and step grandkids none of them know me as the area 51 guy and that's just fine with me this concludes dreamland by bob lazar narrated by barry abrams copyright 2019 by interstellar this unabridged audio book is published by arrangement with interstellar and was produced in the year 2019 by tantor media incorporated a division of recorded books which holds the copyright there too

Transcript:
(00:05) previously on Dreamland have UFOs crashed on Earth have we made alien contact is the U.S government covering up a massive UFO conspiracy behind me is one of the most secret military bases in the world deep in the heart of the Nevada desert The Groom Lake test site also known as Area 51 or Dreamland has been home to U.

(00:34) S stealth projects since the second world war however in recent years a more disturbing story has emerged and that is that the government is back engineering recovered alien spacecraft it's a story the US government has tried to cover up for half a century the truth behind Dreamland I am convinced based on my research and the individuals who might have had contact in the U.
(01:02) S intelligence community that the U.S government does indeed have a craft that meet the description of many of the UFO reports the whole aim of the project was to take these craft or the one in particular that I was working on and try and duplicate its systems in the subsystems with Earthly materials so I'm convinced Beyond doubt that we have recovered aircraft alien vehicles that we have made contact with aliens that we are communicating with them in some way or form and that we have vehicles and bodies in preservation they (01:38) are here whoever they are wherever they came up from whatever they're doing um other intelligences that are messing around on our planet I think that too many people's butts are on the line with this that they lied to us too long that that a lot of people have stolen legitimate National Security money to keep this cover-up going that they have perpetuated disinformation schemes on the American public probably on the British public the Air Force knows that there was a crash saucer there were alien bodies recovered that there have (02:09) been aircrafts that have gone up to chase UFOs and have not come back they know that we're dealing with the biggest story of the millennium [Music] [Music] foreign [Music] based on the evidence of former workers
(03:21) and the unexplainable lights in the sky there is little doubt that area 51 seen here in the distance does house flying craft that are literally out of this world if recovered alien spacecraft and bodies have been taken to this remote location since the 1950s could a secret of this size be kept under wraps for so long and if so who's keeping it we're dealing with a cosmic Watergate that means that some few people within the government's United States Canada Britain and undoubtedly other countries have known since July 1947 when at least
(04:00) two crash flying saucers and several alien bodies were recovered in New Mexico that indeed some UFOs are extraterrestrial spacecraft since Project Blue Book closed down in 1969 there was no official interest in this subject that seemed to say the least the trifle strange when documents that have come out under the Freedom of Information Act in America show the contrary show that organizations like the CIA and the NSA are actually very heavily involved in UFO research there's a relatively small number of people
(04:33) within the intelligence military intelligence and scientific and Technical intelligence Community who are aware of what's going on and an even smaller group who are actually organizing top secret Research into this phenomenon whenever we'd have a crash the staff people would tell the public information officer use Story number 38 in the book and he would he would release details according to a standard release procedure for that kind of a story and they never told the truth because that was always the classified
(05:11) information the government is fighting tooth and nail it will not reveal any kind of information about that base and as a result workers people who helped win the Cold War who dedicated their lives to these secret programs who kept their mouths shut for all these years are dying because of exposure to toxic materials that the government refuses to acknowledge exist out there because they refuse to acknowledge the base itself if it is already explained there's nothing exciting why can't people talk about it
(05:45) presenting Cosmic Journey one of the most revealing glimpses of just what the Pentagon knew about the existence of Crash sources and alien contact came in 1989 with the development of a top-secret project codenamed Cosmic Journey Cosmic journey is a new experience and live entertainment A New Concept and a new dimension this is something that no one should miss and I guarantee you that millions and millions of people throughout the world will remember this for the rest of their life its aim was to display to the (06:26) public by way of a traveling exhibition the crashed craft and preserved alien bodies that the government had in its possession the Pentagon Enlisted the help of Bob exler a NASA Mission specialist in robotics who was also a respected UFO researcher at a series of meetings in Washington in 1989 military officials set out their plans to exler they were devising a variety of kiosks to show the history of the UFO sightings UFOs associated with the space program and of course aliens associated with commonly with the abduction phenomena (07:06) I was shown photographic rendition that involved an actual what appeared to be some form of an alien creature typical to the gray aliens that have been referred to popularly in the Publications in the press the creature was encased in sort of a glass coffin like structure that was being preserved there was a lot of apparatus tanks and so forth probably some form of a cryogenic tank to preserve the the body from decay as part of his indoctrination program exler was flown out to an offshore Norad tracking facility

(07:50) traveling in unmarked black helicopters they headed out 20 miles off the coast of Florida landing on what looked like an oil rig as we got into this facility we descended to an area that I would describe as sort of a mezzanine area looking out over a control room this was obviously a NORAD tracking facility there was a huge screen it represented an area of the southeast quadrant of the United States then there were a series of lights that were floating along sort of like the top of this grid area there were five of them in all were (08:35) labeled by the way on the screen as ASCS and I heard someone make reference to Alternative spacecraft the craft went down into this grid into this Vortex area and then dispersed and no one seemed to be concerned at all presenting Cosmic Journey an experiential entertainment concept of Kenneth failed Productions I've not since been contacted by anyone associated with the cosmic Journey there have been since the publication of the book revealing the the project itself there have been a number of plausible denials by members associated with the (09:25) project and of course categorical denials on anything related to the uh more intrinsic alien issues the only official UFO investigation that the United States will admit to was Project Blue Book it was set up by President Truman in 1952 after a rash of UFO sightings over sensitive military areas was it a genuine attempt to investigate UFOs or just a smoke screen to keep an increasingly anxious Congress and public at Bay the public was told everything's under control sign Greg blue book that is the organization that's doing the UFO thing
(10:14) we have access to the finest scientists there's a whole bunch of malarkey that went along with that it was set up as a public information office to answer the questions on the UFO phenomena for the public and their case information their files were sent down from upstairs from where my office lost my desk was usually cases that could be explained away and those were used as sample cases in dealing with the public the anything classified above confidential stayed upstairs and even went higher and never got into the came (10:46) into the purview of blue book at all I didn't think it was a genuine investigation in that the really sensitive reports were filtered out by a more important group than Project Blue Book we have obtained copies of Project Blue Book documents there are literally hundreds of reports of UFO sightings and eyewitness accounts from both civilians and military personnel many that were unexplainable Project Blue Book is still some 40 years later the most important body of evidence admitted by the U.
(11:24) S authorities that we have made contact with extraterrestrials [Music] the investigation was closed down suddenly in 1969. no reason was given rulebook was the cover organization that's the one you heard about that's the only one ever mentioned and as recently as last year an Air Force letter to a senator said blue book was it and when we closed it we got out of the business in reality all these other groups concerned with monitoring the skies were continuing to look at militarily important cases a light in the sky means
(12:04) nothing but if one goes buzzing down the runway at a Strategic Air Command base where nuclear weapons are stored which has happened and we've got some records on that that's of concern we can say that the recent sightings are in no way connected with any secret development by any agency of the United States [Music] [Music] you can go and look through the Project Blue Book records and find numerous sightings which have been quote explained and you go and look at the explanation and you find the explanation
(12:45) does not fit the description by the witness or Witnesses that's evidence that the Air Force was trying to get rid of the problem by explaining it away at all costs the evidence seems to suggest that the United States government is still investigating UFOs the question is who's in charge both the NSA FBI and the CIA deny any responsibility because all information regarding extraterrestrials is handled as SCI sensitive compartmentalized information even the president of the United States in the white house behind me may not know the

(13:21) whole story [Music] who's in charge is it the president is it the Air Force I'm convinced that we still have an analog with Majestic 12. a group of outstanding people intelligence Community primarily and some technological people are running the show presidents come and go the intelligence the agencies go on forever to the best of my knowledge there is no official UFO investigation unit operated by the United States government however unofficially the records show that the defense intelligence agency through its defense attache system has a (14:04) remit to report on UFO incidents worldwide and that's easily approvable despite the fact that the DIA maintains they have no interest at all in the subject I tried during my three-year Tour of Duty to establish contact with an opposite number in the United States and made repeated attempts to do that but consistently drew a blank I was told that since Project Blue Book closed down in 1969 there was no official interest in this subject I didn't work for the U.
(14:47) S government I worked for a satellite government of this country as far as the Senate concerned I think there was only one left and that was Bob Dole and as far as the presidents are concerned the only presidents that I feel that I've met at the facilities back in the 50s and 60s were Nixon and Bush we contacted former President George Bush to ask him what he knew about the existence of recovered alien craft and the developments out at Area 51 we received a fax response unfortunately we are not able to provide answers to the questions that you send (15:29) President Bush's policy of long-standing is not to comment on or engage in speculation about alleged classified programs of any kind a close confidence of George Bush and a man well acquainted with Area 51 was Admiral Bob Inman his credentials are impeccable he was director of both Naval intelligence and the National Security Agency as well as deputy director of the defense intelligence agency and the CIA in a telephone conversation with bom exler in 1989 he referred to recovered Vehicles becoming available for research (16:12) [Music] Vehicles would never be available for uh logical research outside of the military circles again I honest ly uh 10 years ago the answer would have been no whether as time has evolved the possibility he knew from an official standpoint that these vehicles these objects existed that they were in military U.
(16:46) S military custody and that there were scientific projects associated with those I believe it is the first uh Revelation by anyone in a high enough level capacity within the U.S government especially within the intelligence Community to in effect acknowledge that we are indeed involved that UFOs are real that they were developed by non-human intelligence and that somehow or another we have acquired possession of that technology [Music] Inman does not say much there is no reference there's no mention of UFOs spacecraft anything like that (17:34) the conversation centers on recovered Vehicles technology and so forth but Admiral Inman was aware of the subject matter and we know from his executive assistant Tom King that there was to be no public discussion of these matters the matters that have been discussed between exler and Inman because of national secrecy laws not quote him quote him Lord use his name in any manner without his prior approve D Inman retired from government service in 1982 to become president of science applications international corporation
(18:14) of San Diego interestingly one of the company's primary areas of research is into gravitational propulsion systems the same method of propulsion of flying discs that Bob Lazar worked on at area 51. James defense weekly the popular military and defense publication published an article about saic and the PostScript to the article that anyone who believes in the science of anti-gravity to be too Arcane too esoteric even for the U.
(18:50) S Air Force should consider the electric propulsion study undertaken by saic for the astronautics laboratory which is now part of the Phillips lab the study's primary objective was to outline physical methods to test theories of inductive coupling between electromagnetic and gravitational forces to determine the feasibility of such methods as they apply to space propulsion and in simplified terms and anti-gravity propulsion system that remains for some the ultimate Quantum Leap well it's possible one because I saw the equipment that would do it and (19:25) two it is theory that would work gravity distorts time like I said that's not a theory we know that to be true and if you're Banning space and time along with it when you wind back up in that place you're there between the ticks of the clock [Music] we cooled Admiral Inman to find out what he knows about Area 51 and why his company is developing this gravity propulsion system let me get right to the point that you're after yep I had occasion in several different jobs to ask the question was there any

(20:08) credible evidence when I was the vice director at the defense intelligence agency the National Security Agency the Central Intelligence Agency I inquired at each of the three places uh at different times do you have any credible evidence that would support the existence of UFO or you know and the answer was always no Jane's wrote an article in which you've mentioned science applications International and it referred to some of the development it was working on as the ultimate Quantum Leap exotic shall we (20:44) say gravity propulsion systems what exactly are those and what are they used for flying craft I'm pausing because I want to make sure I don't overstate the case right we're on a little sensitive ground here there have been over the years uh I thought some of the early allegations of activity out in Nevada 15 years ago could well have been reflection of the Prototype testing of some of the stealth Vehicles some are clearly scientific phenomena some of it again will be so something as simple as weather balloons
(21:27) right that break loose that get lost and go drifting but there probably is some of it that is directly related to testing of late 20th century early 21st century military technology related partly to reconnaissance in some cases and others to you know attack aircraft [Music] [Music] this is the Nellis Air Force Base one of the top military installations in America it's split into four main areas the town apart and Nevada test sites were America's top secret nuclear tests take place as well as the Nellis bombing
(22:23) range with the latest Jetson bombers are put through their Paces it's also home to Area 51 so if there are flying sources being tested over the desert then the Personnel at Nellis definitely know about it [Music] we were contacted by a former radar operator at Nellis who confirmed that she had witnessed a classified flying disc test out in the test range he left the Air Force in 1985 and is too frightened to reveal her true identity the flying disc test took place at night in the desert a few miles from the base
(23:01) I was at that moment standing on the deck of the radar van it was night time and I was looking up in the sky because there were saucers up there um there were 10 to 15 saucers and they were glowing orange on the bottom the one that was closest to me I could see in pretty good detail I was standing with a group of people of whom I did not know any of them and they did not appear to know each other so it seemed like we were all very isolated no one was talking to anyone it was very frightening because what you what I was seeing (23:45) was definitely something that was very highly classified and uh there was a couple of people talking inside the radar van who I assumed were officers but no one was wearing any rank insignia and no one was wearing any name tags they executed were very sophisticated so my guess is that they were being piloted by aliens who knew exactly what Maneuvers they could do as part of the test she was taken to what she believes was area 51.
(24:27) we were taken to a medical facility that was very sophisticated someone came and took me into an examining room and they had me lay down on a stainless steel table and someone came in through the door walked around the table up beside the right side of my head saying in a real deadpan monotone voice stay calm stay calm stay calm when he got up by the side of my head he had had a hypodermic needle hidden in his hand he brought it up and it went straight into my the right side of my neck and whatever chemical it was went straight to the (25:03) brain it has taken out over 10 years to come forward with this information it has been very difficult to talk about this it's almost like every time I relate the story it gets a little easier but when I first started talking about it it was like my mouth didn't even want to form the words and the sound didn't even want to come out of my throat so I can only guess from that that there is a very strong suggestion given to me not to talk about this not to remember it and if I did remember it not to ever
(25:38) talk about it to anyone foreign [Music] as recently as 10 years ago this Lockheed a12 which flew out of Groom Lake was still one of the U.S Air Force's most top secret military aircraft if you'd seen it in the skies at night you may be forgiven for thinking you just seen a UFO so how many of the hundreds of thousands of UFO sightings every year are nothing more than military aircraft and is the great secret of Groom Lake just the 21st century descendant of this airplane [Music] the original test pilot was lose shock (26:28) the first time he saw it I mean he he rubbed his eyes he turned around walked back out of the production Hangar with Lockheed and walked back in because he did not believe his eyes you know initially they were going to call it El Salvador

instead of cygnus uh for the simple reason in Spanish that means the Savior or Jesus Christ like everybody everybody who saw the airplane could not believe what they were seeing it was a Buck Rogers airplane this airplane was built designed almost 40 years ago 40 years before that the (27:00) hottest thing flying was a seversky p-35 40 years before that it was a balloon so the technology technology has not Stood Still so it's a very good possibility that we are looking at man-made transportation for the 21st century the United States Air Force alone in 1997 according to the latest budget request will spend more than 11 billion dollars on Research development and production of Secret Weapons Systems of one kind or another that's considerably more than the entire research and production expenditure of any other
(27:44) military in the world I am very distressed that the Black Project teams are operating without oversight from official committees from Congress if you will from public oversight with black budgets that no one knows where it's going or what it's being used for I find that exceedingly distressing frightening the ultimate big brother scenario I think the a good part of the reason for keeping everything classified is because this is an awesome weapon now you think the amount of energy that this system can put out
(28:25) weapon system if you want to look at it as that and it obviously had some weapon potential just think about being able to deploy something like that virtually instantaneously anywhere in the world you know you know you have a conflict in the Middle East how long does it take you to get an aircraft carrier over there well it takes a long time here's an awesome weapon power that flies that can move somewhere virtually instantaneously and you know pound an enemy virtually into dust [Music] yeah that's something to keep awfully
(28:54) Secret at it you know at any price because that's something you can almost conquer the entire planet with I'm convinced that human beings are building uh disc shaped craft in fact it was reported that by 1960 the U.S military had already developed a disc that could operate silently man-made flying saucers are indeed real this is the Avro car which was launched in total secrecy in 1955 less than 10 years after alien sources were allegedly recovered from Roswell New Mexico a CIA memorandum in 1955 stated that the Avro
(29:36) car was based on Research developed by German scientists in World War II we have obtained the only film ever taken of the first top secret test flights in Canada in 1960. why was the military test flying saucer-shaped flying craft in the 1950s when Project Blue Book denied they existed was it a cover to hide the real alien sources being tested out at area 51.
(30:04) like Project Blue Book the Avro car was scrapped suddenly in the late 60s after millions of dollars were spent no reason was given more recently the Lockheed Skunk Works in Palmdale California unveiled project Dark Star an unmanned aerial reconnaissance vehicle seen in hangars or in the skies it is a UFO I think it's time that you get a look at the newest Star in the world of Airborne reconnaissance ladies and gentlemen I present Dark Star [Music] the Dark Star is a very unusual looking aircraft it has a saucer-shaped body and (30:54) a pair of very long slender Wings attached to the back like many stealth aircraft including the B2 its appearance varies drastically according to what angle you see it from if for example you see the aircraft kind of edgeways on you might well think that this was something totally foreign totally unlike any conventional aircraft and certainly much more like what people have described as flying sauces I think it's quite possible that some of the things that are being developed in the United States today are of such a revolutionary nature
(31:29) and still very secret that when they are seen from time to time as things inevitably do get seen when they're tested that they could be mistaken for what people think are are UFOs [Music] at any given time of course the technology that we have is five or ten years more advanced than the technology that is on public display but these sorts of things do not fly over the heads of bewildered members of the public they fly exclusively in very clearly defined ranges and danger areas so the sorts of things that are being (32:04) reported as UFOs will not be ours in September of 1947 the Air Force wrote to J Edgar Hoover a letter saying we checked all of our research projects Etc you know those would be not just the Air Force but the Navy and the Army everybody and we have nothing that could create these flying disc sightings big UFO convention came to an end in Las Vegas last night and afterwards naturally some of the members went out in the desert to search for UFOs a news crew went along too and sure enough it wasn't long before a

(32:36) mysterious unidentified object appeared not too surprising somewhere up there you see it because this patch of desert is right near a military test site this looked like no aircraft lights that any of these folks had ever seen was it a bird was it a plane was it the Aurora the secret plane we don't know more to come I'm sure on the Air Force it's not saying anything as usual [Music] [Music] if UFOs are man-made craft how do you explain the tens of thousands of cases of reported alien abductions every year
(33:20) in 1975 seven loggers were heading home after a day in the forest to Show Low Arizona and came across a bright light in the trees in the distance driving closer they could clearly make out the shape of a flying saucer which was lighting up the forest around them Mike Rogers and Travis Walton were in the truck had lighted spots on it and was basically metallic had a metallic framework my first feeling was that it looked rather beautiful but at that time it wasn't making any noise and it wasn't moving it was just (34:03) quietly perched there in the air when it started to move the sound got real powerful and I I jumped for cover and I got down behind this log and the guys were going to get away from there and they're swearing and everything and I was you know pretty scared myself and I made up my mind to make a run for it and when I raised up Wham something hit me a beam of energy a bolt of lightning but it wasn't like lightning it was like straight sided like I'd like a deliberate beam of energy but it was so powerful it created like an explosion
(34:42) that lifted him off his feet and blamed backwards and here's Travis flying back through the air uh just he landed some distance from where he'd been standing landed flat on his back and as he's going through the air his arms outstretched he he looked lifeless at the time like the concussion of it had already killed him or knocked him out or something well I could hear the sounds of movement around me and I uh I had trouble focusing my eyes at first I saw there was a light above me and the ceiling was very close I
(35:20) could feel I was laying on top of some hard raised surface um but when I finally got where I could focus my eyes and I and I saw these creatures standing over me I just flipped out I just instantly became hysterical started screaming [Music] that was definitely not in the hospital and can you describe what these aliens look like well they were basically humanoid you know two arms two legs like that but they we had very large heads um hair no hair huge eyes sort of a pale grayish white skin and they were wearing coveralls a kind of a brownish coverall (36:12) after spending what Travis remembers to Be an Arrow to inside the craft the aliens put a mask over his face and he awoke in the middle of the road with the craft above him he'd been missing for five days what do you say to people who say you know these seven loggers in the woods have just made this whole story up I mean you know seven people are see the same thing they stick by their stories for for over two decades you know ever all of us have taken polygraph tests every Theory the Skeptics come up with (36:45) is just absurd and easily proven so well I spent a day with Travis and Mike Rogers he passed the lie detector test their story is consistent there were five other people there after all who saw part of these events unfold who also passed the lie detector test uh his story is consistent it's never changed in a court of law that would make the case I found his story uh profoundly convincing [Music] this is The Saratov Air Base 200 miles outside Moscow Behind These barbed wire fences is the Russian equivalent to area
(37:42) 51. if you thought only the U.S government had flying disc technology then you'd be wrong the Russians have been working on a secret project codenamed tarioka since the Second World War curity here is unprecedented and this perimeter fence is as close as we've been able to get to the base we did secure some footage of the flying disc in the hangar the code name for the project is a keep and it has been designed for humans to fly we asked the scientist in charge of the project what propulsion system the craft (38:20) uses that he would not divulge what he called classified information what is clear is that tari Elka is aimed at the commercial Market not the military the Russian Engineers here at Saratov see this as an alternative to airplane transport in the 21st century where the production and design expertise came to build the terrioca no one is saying but surely it's more than just a coincidence that the base here at Saratov is so similar to Area 51 both in location and security and as in the U.
(38:58) S the tari Elka project was started in the 1940s just after the alleged saucer crash in Roswell New Mexico I'm pretty sure that the Russians have those craft we were told directly by a leading Russian scientist who had worked Hands-On worked on these things that both the United States and the USSR had had acquired information from captured Nazi scientists and had built Craft Like These they knew that we had them we knew that they had them the story I got from the Russians before is uh these same scientists who felt (39:31) that there was an alien connection Stalin himself I was told believed in this alien connection that these things came from somewhere else now I think because of the political changes and the political uncertainties in that country even these scientists are are backing off from that position well we're not quite sure if these are alien anymore they're they're not certain that the Kremlin needs any kind of a UFO expose right now the tarioka will be on display at trade shows around the world in a few

(39:57) years time sold off to the highest bidder the fact that mankind may be transported in flying discs in the early part of the 21st century is a startling transition from science fiction into science fact have alien sources crashed on Earth and have we back engineered these craft to develop our own 21st century flying discs the answer however improbable is yes Area 51 does exist and we have eyewitness accounts from at least two former workers at the base who confirm the existence of alien spacecraft the truth seems to be out there but will
(40:42) they ever admit it it's likely to be a very long time before we discover what is actually being done out of Groom Lake now if you look at the intelligence Community particularly they seem to wait anything from 15 to 20 years or more after something has been retired before they acknowledge its existence therefore if things are operational now we may not see them for another 30 40 years what also happens at that point is that things remain secret for so long that the people who originally decided they should be (41:21) classified are retired or quite possibly dead and it becomes almost impossible to declassify a program at that point because nobody knows quite why the secret is being protected the Air Force Headquarters files up through 1955. 9 800 feet of material that's a thousand four-door filing cabinets when I went to ask for stuff out of these files only 10 of the boxes I was interested in had been classification review and in those boxes there were withdrawal sheets all over the place so Secrets can be kept they are being (41:58) kept one way that they're being kept as the naivete of the people who think now if this was going on I would know about it the ego is a powerful weapon [Music] they have to know that it has to come out it has to be part of their program that it will come out we just don't know what the agenda what the time frame is I think it's very reasonable let's say if contact were made in the 1950s I think it's very reasonable of the government to say let's keep it secret for 40 or 50 or 60 years so we can study it so we can
(42:32) reproduce the craft so we can understand what it is we're dealing with and release it to society slowly perhaps that's what they're doing now do you think the secret will be out in a few years time I'm saying because I've got permission I'll turn my papers over to you in 2002. and then you'll know who I am that's my impression that eventually there will be a weight of evidence so massive that our society will admit that they are here and at which point the government will have to admit that (43:09) they've known a lot more than they've said all along and this isn't just the US government you know this is virtually every government in the world in 1979 the seti program was set up to search the far reaches of space for intelligent life it would seem that we now have an answer the real reason for the cover-up is likely to be far more Sinister than mere secret technology we have to consider that the aliens themselves may be controlling the cover-up especially if they don't really want us to know what they're doing here
(43:49) even if there is some communication between the government and them everything is being run by the ETS if so far beyond Us in terms of technology that uh I don't think we would have a chance they the officials in charge of this information are going to look rather impotent were it known that there are extraterrestrials invading our airspace against whom we have inadequate defense [Music] foreign [Music] [Music] we have investigated Dreamland for over a year whilst we didn't see any flying discs or alien bodies we did see lights (44:46) in the sky which could not have been airplanes military or otherwise we have proved beyond a shadow of a doubt that area 51 and a large underground base out at Groom Lake does exist we've seen the workers fly in and out of the facility and talked to alleged former workers at Area 51 about their back engineering of recovered alien spacecraft we've seen actual footage of man-made flying discs both American and Russian and there are warehouses Across America housing files like these full of UFO reports and alien abductions is this (45:26) body of evidence just a figment of someone's imagination I think not as we move closer to Millennium mankind will have to face up to the startling reality that we may not be alone and that a select group of U.S government officials have known about this for some time I occasionally think how quickly our difference is worldwide would vanish if we were facing an alien threat from outside this world and yet I ask you is not an alien force already Among Us [Music] foreign [Music] foreign

Transcript:
(00:10) foreign foreign [Music] have UFOs crashed on Earth have we made alien contact is the US government covering up a massive UFO conspiracy
(01:15) behind me is one of the most secret military bases in the world deep in the heart of the Nevada desert The Groom Lake test site also known as Area 51 or Dreamland has been home to U.S stealth projects since the second world war however in recent years a more disturbing story has emerged and that is that the government is back engineering recovered alien spacecraft tonight based on evidence given to us by top military personnel engineers and scientists we can exclusively reveal the UFO technology that's been developed behind
(01:53) me it's a story the US government has tried to cover up for half a century the truth behind Dreamland I am convinced based on my research and the individuals whom I've had contact in the U.S intelligence community that the U.S government does indeed have a craft that made the description of many of the UFO reports the whole aim of the project was to take these craft or the one in particular that I was working on and try and duplicate its systems in the subsystems with Earthly materials I'm convinced Beyond doubt that we have (02:32) recovered aircraft alien vehicles that we have made contact with aliens that we are communicating with them in some way or form and that we have vehicles and bodies in preservation I was at that moment standing on the deck of the radar van it was night time and uh I was looking up in the sky because there were saucers up there were there any alien bodies were coming nobodies there were four live feeling good guys for Life extraterrestrials for Life feeling good extraterrestrial type individuals yes they are here whoever they are wherever (03:16) they came up from whatever they're doing other intelligences are messing around on our planet I think that too many people's butts are on the line with this that they lied to us too long that that a lot of people have stolen legitimate National Security money to keep this cover-up going that they have perpetuated disinformation schemes on the American public probably on the British public the Air Force knows but there was a crash saucer there were alien bodies recovered that there have been aircrafts that have gone up to (03:47) chase UFOs and have not come back they know that we're dealing with the biggest story of the millennium set on a remote dry lake bed 80 miles outside Las Vegas Area 51 is just one part of the massive Nellis Air Force Base which is roughly the same size as Switzerland it was commissioned by President Truman in the 1950s as a top secret location to develop and test America's new generation of post-war aircraft in the technology fever of the 1950s the base Zuma came home to the most exotic flying craft of its day
(04:26) [Music] more recently it is where the F-117 Stealth aircraft was developed and test flown [Music] this is an area that has been known but officially denied for many decades we go back quite a ways into the 40s and 50s with the development of the U2 spy plane the SR-71 all of our super secret aircraft have been developed in test flown out in this particular area the a12 from its Inception through its retirement was operated out of only two locations Area 51 at Groom Lake was its original home the first aircraft was (05:30) delivered there in January of 62. and the last airplane left on June 21st 1968. the U.S Air Force denies that area 51 exists despite footage of the base and Russian satellite photos that we have obtained which clearly show hangers and a huge Runway stretching across the lake bed in the face of constant denials of its existence the base has expanded since the 50s with several passenger Jets now

Landing every day carrying hundreds of workers to the base with this level of personnel the few buildings that can be observed above the (06:09) ground are merely the cover for a large underground facility security at the base is unprecedented and secrecy is Paramount since the late 50s the military has sequestered hundreds of thousands of acres of land that adjoined the base the exclusion Zone around Area 51 now stretches to 26 miles [Music] the secret status of the base is very very well preserved and even if people are talking about the operation of the u2s back in the 1950s 40 years ago they're still not allowed to identify the base by by name or by
(07:00) location all they can say is it is a remote facility this place is an old anachronism from the Cold War this is a place that that Harkens back to the old days and because the military is continuing to treat it as a top secret facility that doesn't exist it attracts attention naturally everyone wants to know what goes on here there is no question that the facility is there that the government has said very little in the past about it that it has the right to test things like the U2 like the SR-71 like the stealth aircraft
(07:34) people forget the stealth aircraft over 10 million dollars spent on developing it and more than a decade before its existence was even announced that's what you do out at Groom Lake now the real question I suppose is are there any flying saucers out there guys to see the base for ourselves flying at an altitude of ten thousand feet we edged to within one mile of the restricted Zone having made contact with the tower we soon found out how seriously Area 51 guards its airspace we're just curious if there is there any (08:19) activity today at the Groom Lake area how did the Groom Lake area I don't have any of that information available foreign [Music] approach controller now is just getting a little concerned that we're getting close now we've just been buzzed by two F-16 Fighters they they passed off out about 800 to a thousand miles an hour these guys aren't messing around they don't want us to be here but it's another one that was really close
(09:23) [Music] in 1989 one man blew the lid of Dreamland his name was Bob Lazar and he claimed to have worked at the Groom Lake site back engineering recovered alien spacecraft the base is against the side of a mountain or small Mountain big hill there are nine Hangar doors and the hangar doors are not just shiny metal out in the desert they are painted or sprayed with a sand texture to them from what I can ascertain to prevent satellites from photographing the installation so they look like the mountain range it was pretty effective from what I could see (10:07) on the first occasion when I drove out there all the hangar doors were closed but at close range you could tell that they were doors and they would open we drove around the left side of the installation and there was the main entrance in there and went through some gates in the security check and went inside and it seemed like a typical government building foreign [Music] the work that I did basically entailed back engineering the power and propulsion system and I opted to start with the uh the power the the reactor that that ran the (10:46) craft with the clearance that I had that was known as Majestic clearance there were only 22 people at S4 with that clearance to work on the craft [Music] the location he worked on at Area 51 was called S4 and was housed on purpose dry lake bed a short drive from Groom Lake when I was brought in by bus normally we had gone around to the left side of the installation and entered the door there and for the first time one of the hangar doors the one on the end was open the bus drove up and we stopped there and clear as day in the hangar taking up
(11:29) almost all the hangar was the disc uh looked like something right out of a science fiction movie and we stopped got out and for the first time I was led in through that door and as I walked in there I thought well this is the new Advanced aircraft we've been working on and this is why people keep seeing flying saucers because it's ours and we've just been testing it probably for all these years and when I walked alongside it I ran my hand on it uh I say it's metal because it was cold so I just assume it was a (12:06) some sort of metal and in fact by the hatch that was taken off there was an opening there and it had a little backwards American Flag stuck on it so I was positive it was something we had manufactured I was allowed on the craft on one occasion to see the placement of these systems in case it was important to their operation so I was of course escorted in the craft and um it was obviously made to be piloted by something smaller than the average human being very cramped in there there was a sub-level where a little

down underneath with a flashlight to see how the gravity amplifiers hung upside down looked around the placement of the three seats about one-third to one-fourth the size of a normal human seat foreign at one point that one point when I was in The Craft one of the archways became transparent there were some technicians working on something else that I had no knowledge of so and also something began to scroll up on the screen so it might have been (13:31) possible that the skin of The Craft whether under you know electrical influence or something else could at times become either transparent to look outside or be used as some sort of video screen it was that was pretty amazing when I went outside and looked at it it looked as if it was just a plain piece of metal again [Music] [Music] a lot of people say boy it must have been exciting to go in there and I always say it wasn't it was a very ominous feeling it um you really had the because it's so I know it sounds silly but it it it's so (14:19) unearthly in there nothing had a sharp edge to it it was this it was if um the seats the amplifiers that were in there everything as if it was made out of wax and heated for just a little bit and then cooled off everything had a smooth curve to it even where the a chair met the floor with was blended into it it it was if the entire craft was injection molded no one let alone Bob Lazar have been able to verify any of his academic or professional credentials in 1990 he was convicted of pandering and declared bankrupt in court he simply described (15:02) his occupation as a self-employed photo processor is lazara fraud did he work at S4 or was he set up by the military to release certain information about the base the notion that he would make a great Patsy and he's the perfect scientist to work on such a project as interesting science fiction in the first place we have no reason to say he's a scientist no diplomas no papers no memberships nothing in the second place I worked on security for 14 years people take security far more seriously than that one of the strange statements he's made
(15:40) there are only 22 people working on this thing well you get more than that working on devising a new mousetrap for the government anyway that makes no sense and you know it has all the trimmings his story of a Walter Mitty story somebody in his imagination was you know stronger brighter faster than anybody else I did a variety of research relative to Bob Lazar actually met him I obtained a copy of his uh what they call a W-2 form which is one of the IRS documents associated with with pay his particular form indicated that he worked (16:20) for the U.S department of Naval intelligence my investigation of this document and the claims that bubbles art made followed a a very strict path of sound research I contacted the U.S department of Naval intelligence and indeed uh verified that they were likely responsible for presenting that W-2 I investigated the issue with the Internal Revenue Service they informed me the exact words were it appears to be legit that it was a genuine document it was not something that had been fabricated there were a variety of numbers contract numbers and (17:03) so forth issued on the document which I was able to research again finding that these were highly classified numbers in fact Internal Revenue Service ran into a brick wall when it came to trying to track down the actual employer associated with it with the document he gave me uh information about his background educational background and employment background I started with uh with his claim to have worked at Los Alamos lab I figured well that's a good starting point if he worked at Los Alamos it's pretty likely that he had an (17:36) education somewhere they don't just hire people off the street and if he worked at Los Alamos especially on classified projects it's at least reasonable to assume he could have been hired somewhere else in Nevada to work on similar projects we went to Los Alamos and got nothing even close to cooperation they wouldn't respond to our phone calls they say we have no information on Bob Lazar there's nothing in the files I said are you sure now no nothing in the files I showed them the phone book entry that Bob had kept that (18:05) said he was there I showed him the newspaper article that that showed that he was there are you certain that you don't have a Bob Lazar well maybe we had a Bob Lazar here's an ID number but he didn't work for us he worked for someone else basically Los Alamos lab tried to thwart me at every step were completely uncooperative in trying to get information about Bob and I found that to be the case at every step of the way and trying to verify his background I'm the one that couldn't find any (18:34) records or anything I mean I'm the one that brought that up because I was the first one to run into that initially I couldn't find couldn't get a hold of my birth certificate either and that was one of the things that concerned me is they might be trying to make me essentially a non-person I think it's most likely that Bob Lazar was indeed set up to be the conduit for certain information relating to this extraterrestrial project on one occasion in the desert Bob Lazar saw a flying disc being tested (19:07) I was brought into the hangar for one of the short duration tests and the craft was already outside on the lake bed and lifts it off silently and was drifted around for a bit and set back down and that was pretty much of a marvelous sight it's a huge thing it it's like seeing a house lift off the ground quietly it's just you can't imagine the energy involved to do that and not to make any noise at all there was some audio communication with the craft and so I can only assume that there were humans on board and somehow they had

(19:42) managed to squeeze themselves into those little seats or put something in there to sit on and obviously they knew how to operate whatever controls there was or fabricate their own or retrofit it with something the Apollo space missions of the 1960s stirred America into space fever but as the country's finest astronauts hurtled skywards in conventional Rockets did the president know of the existence of sources and propulsion systems that were literally out of this world foreign [Music] Dr Edgar Mitchell of the Apollo 14
(20:40) Mission and the sixth man to walk on the moon has carried out extensive investigations of the alleged saucer crashes as well as the question of alien contact he met Lazar in 1991. I tend to believe that his basic story is true that he was to expose to uh what he thought were alien craft and attempts to engineer and back engineer I think that his explanation of what's going on and his theory that he's utilizing is probably not on target what I think is credible is the fact that he was there since the Roswell incident in 1947
(21:22) that there was a cover-up that that was a valid incident and that there has been an active investigation program reverse engineering program and cover-up associated with that since that time [Music] after working at S4 for several months and in clear violation of his top secret clearance Bob Lazar decided to tell his closest friend Gene huff about his work at the base my reaction was to without pressing him against his will find out more get him to tell me anything I could and it wasn't disbelief I I think I was (22:08) actually motivated to further read I started investigating investigating other books on UFOs and other researchers information to see if anyone knew anything and needless to say they didn't know what Bob knew foreign month later in March 1989 Bob Lazar went one step further he decided to take his friends to the desert and show them a flying disc test [Music] I remembered most of the days and times of testing so I believe it was eight or nine o'clock on a Wednesday night somewhere in March 89 I believe we went out with (22:50) Jean Huff my ex-wife and John Lear shortly after the flight time that I had recorded white light came up off the ground and hovered and then we do began doing radical step Maneuvers and darting from one side of the sky to the other day doing some impossible flight characteristics but at times the craft had you know glowed tremendously bright where we thought being Miles and Miles Away we thought there was something wrong and the craps was going to explode so much so that we all got behind the car it actually came closer it came down the (23:34) mountain range toward us to where we could actually see it was elliptically shaped uh it looked like something that it's it's strange to explain it looks like an explosion that starts to explode and stops and doesn't explode and dissipate that's how bright the light is your brain interprets it as an explosion about to happen on his third visit with his friends to observe the discs at night Bob Lazar was arrested he was taken to an unknown location for interrogation and never returned to area 51. they threatened my wife they (24:11) threatened to kill my wife they said they'd stop at nothing they said they thought they made that very clear they couldn't believe that I had taken anyone out there to show them that much less left with information like the flight test data and wanted to know what else I had said who else I had told specifically security Agents from the ofi the office of federal investigation had been witnessed doing random Security checks at his house uh there was almost no question in anyone's mind anyone in in Bob's immediate life who who talked (24:43) with them on the telephone that his phone was tapped I mean strange things would have it on Bob's phone and really continue to this day Dennis Mariani who was my supervisor called and all he said was do you have any idea we're going to to do to you now and that was the end of the phone call they were they were crazy they really were they were completely out of control when you go to work out at those locations you sign away your constitutional rights you sign a piece of paper saying that if you violate your security agreement and (25:15) you discuss programs that you're working on without a trial without right of appeal you're going to go to Leavenworth federal penitentiary for 20 years that's a real big incentive to keep your mouth shut we had an engineer who worked at this TV station who before he was here had worked at Area 51 and had seen one of these crafts under a tarp walked into a place he probably shouldn't have been I arranged to do an interview with him he lives in another city in another state he agreed reluctantly as long as I

(25:44) would block out his face well we make the Arrangements on the phone the interview is supposed to happen the next day he gets up goes to work there are two men in a car outside of his house talking into a radio they follow him to work when he gets out of work they follow him home no interview I mean it happened again and again and again same scenario it has been very difficult to talk about this it's almost like uh every time I relate the story it gets a little easier but when I first started talking about it it
(26:13) was like my mouth didn't even want to form the words and the sound didn't even want to come out of my throat so I can only guess from that that there was a very strong suggestion given to me not to talk about this not to remember it and if I did remember it not to ever talk about it to anyone this man is a 71 year old mechanical engineer who like Bob Lazar claims to have worked at Area 51 he started working there in the 1950s on a flying disc simulator built to train U.
(26:46) S Pilots he said he's been given permission to talk to us about certain specific aspects of his work but asked us not to reveal his identity we received the disc uh from extraterrestrials this particular one that I had had to uh to work on or did work on was from the king of the crash and that was later on taken to a Nevada test site where at the time I didn't know were there any alien bodies recovered nobody's there were four live feeling good guys for live extraterrestrials for Life feeling good extraterrestrial
(27:30) type individuals yes and where were those four extraterrestrials taken initially they were taken in New Mexico and then several months later they were taken to the Nevada Nevada site one of the things I worked on was a flying disc simulator it's a trained pilots to to fly this strange strange looking craft designed for humans to fly not for any extraterrestrial Supply his most Fantastical claim was that he worked at Area 51 with an alien code named j-rod for 16 years on this simulator project is a gray alien about five foot four (28:23) his role was only as a as a translator of scientific translator that was all if we wanted it put something in the place of what they had he had to agree with it I would have a question uh you know and I would bring it up in my mind I just how I wanted to present it with him and he didn't really know that I had this question and he would already have the answer for me and if he responded it would be in my voice and you wouldn't even open your lips it is possible that he and a few thousand others are working on a project
(29:01) either here or elsewhere just a few thousand other grays few thousand other Grays like himself the nearest town to Area 51 is Rachel population 150 and home to the most famous Bar and Grill in Nevada the little alien the local residents have seen their Highway truck stop turned into the UFO and ET Center of America tourists flock to Rachel to scan the skies in the hope of having a sighting for all the hype the sightings of bizarre lights in the sky do continue local resident Chuck Clark has had many unexplainable sightings (29:44) the most remarkable sighting that I've had in the last three years took place uh two years ago February February of 93. I watched a glowing object Ascend vertically from the area south of Area 51 where S4 would be located uh hang Motionless in the air for about 10 minutes and then slowly start to descend all of this while I thought I was watching a illumination flare that was launched from a mortar tube they can hear jets in the background we'll Zoom back a little bit this is looking straight over Steve (30:25) medlin's ranch right here off 375 Highway this is right over the Peaks once it got down to the ridge line however uh it was in front of the Hill that had cut that had come up from behind the hill was about 12 and a half miles from my position it came down to a few feet above the ground at the base of the Hill hovered momentarily which is still consistent with what a fleur might do in calm air but then suddenly it shot off Westward covered 4.
(30:59) 8 miles and one to one and a half seconds and stopped cold also about 30 feet off the ground hovered just long enough for me to get it focused in my binoculars for maybe two seconds and then it vanished right in place [Music] we've seen video of craft that were luminous that would move across the sky as if it was uh skipping a stone across water or sort of a sewing machine effect what we see across the screen are a series of Lights of dashes of light as the object moves from point A to point B and a rather strange warping occurs that's very difficult to unravel until (31:39) you go frame by frame and you begin to see what is actually occurring therefore we are seeing what you might call a shadow effect of the propulsion mechanism at work foreign I've spoken to several people who've seen UFOs or disc shaped craft out there an attorney who lives here in town who has seen one you saw one land outside the boundaries of area 51.

(32:11) I've spoken to a very high level managerial type who worked for a defense contractor out there for a number of years from a very respectable reputable family his credentials are Beyond question but he doesn't want his name or face used and he has seen them many times there were a variety of craft that were all essentially generically sort of canister shaped I guess you would say they were predominantly disc shaped or rounded like a one of those Chinese lanterns or something or other they appear to be colorful at least they were (32:43) multi-colored in addition to the lights that seemed to be able to take on the light of the background they could camouflage themselves somewhat in the Sky by absorbing the blue light from the sky and clouds foreign what are these lights in the sky and are they indeed flying saucers we ask U.S Navy physicist and UFO expert Dr Bruce Maccabee to examine the footage basically what you see are lights related objects doing things way off in the distance you don't really see any structured craft some of the video material a very small
(33:28) amount that I've seen seems to show lights doing strange things like hovering and moving suddenly to another location maybe and moving slowly and jumping around a little bit I've concluded that they aren't ours that means they belong to somebody else and you know they're not made here on Earth basically so they must be coming from the outside how they get here you know who in quotes they belong to I don't know you know extraterrestrials is a reasonable proposal uh all the arguments that have been put forth that (34:00) it couldn't be people from another star system in the Galaxy or whatever because they can't get here from there those arguments are not physically correct because we could get there given enough time and money and desire to do it however it's clear that uh these other intelligences whatever they are are far beyond Us in terms of Technologies now what I'm going to show you is a computer enhanced version of what you just saw and we're just going to look at the one portion where the UFO was appearing in the left-hand Corner going
(34:38) to the right and coming back again that's all we're going to see we're going to see it repeated over and over again this part of the frame has been chopped out of the full frame so I'll just let it run and it goes back and forth and back and forth repeating and if we stop it now here's the Shadow and here's the UFO so basically we have a triangle with one side and two angles that we know and that result is I can calculate the UFO position in three dimensional space right turns out to be about seven
(35:06) thousand feet away from the camera so having analyzed it what we seem to have here Bruce is a genuine UFO yes there is an object out there seven thousand feet away it wasn't one of ours it's about 30 feet in size a genuine UFO no no ah [Music] the security at Area 51 is formidable the entire perimeter is surrounded by motion detectors and cameras armed guards Patrol in jeeps and helicopter gunships are deployed to warn off anyone who challenges the borders foreign we headed out deep into the desert over 80 miles outside Las Vegas traveling
(36:08) down the recently renamed extraterrestrial Highway we'd come to see America's most secret base for ourselves the only approach to the base is a Dusty 10-mile track called Groom Lake Road anyone approaching the Border can clearly be seen for miles and as we've been warned our every move was being monitored by the security patrols and cameras on the hilltops this is as far as you can come to go to the Groom Lake base it actually says on these signs that use of deadly force is authorized there are security patrols (36:50) all over these Hills they've been watching us for the best part of the last hour the motion sensors security cameras and if I did walk over this line I would be immediately arrested taken to the guard house and interrogated for anything up to a week as soon as you step over the line past this sign you lose all rights foreign what's amazing to me Glenn is that the entrance is so unassuming they've got this

rickety sign saying use of deadly force authorized but you literally could if you didn't know what you were doing (37:27) you just carry on straight into the base that's the idea you don't encounter any people here if you went into the guard house that's there about a quarter mile in you'd be arrested immediately because you've already passed those signs they don't want to answer any questions so they don't put any people in vulnerable vulnerable positions and as you come off the highway up there the Extraterrestrial Highway there's no sign saying Groom Lake there's nothing is there no I've put up a secret base sign
(37:50) up there every occasionally secret base this way but it doesn't stay up for very long an unforter in car this is as close as you can get to groom Lake isn't it this is physically as close as you can get unfortunately you can't see anything from here at all how far are we actually away from from the base we're about uh 13 miles north Northeast of the base right now right and if we continued up this road if we drove into the base now past the signs we'd be arrested if you drove Beyond here 20 feet you'd be (38:17) intercepted [Music] as night fell and determined to see the secret facility we headed for tickaboo Peak which overlooks the base 7 000 feet above the desert at our base camp I talked to Glenn Campbell who founded the area 51 Research Center in Rachel and who produces the Groom Lake Desert Rat newsletter he gave up a successful career in computers to devote his life to uncovering the truths of Dreamland this is a large facility as big as the state of Connecticut it's got lots of unknown unexplored areas that you could (38:54) store anything you want Area 51 is only the best known secret base of a vast complex they could house a lot of different things we don't know about but there is actually no fencing is that yet they know when you cross that line it's simply marked by orange posts every few hundred feet uh there's a it's easy to wander across this line but as soon as you do they're going to detect you and they'll be right on you this is a very harsh military border it's not a place for tourists they have (39:24) military has never said there are no UFOs it's never directly denied any of the area 51 stories it would have been so simple when these claims came out these Papoose Lake claims for the military to Simply say look we have nothing there they could take a few reporters to this area and show them nothing there the military hasn't done it the military has stonewalled it has remained silent and that's the most damning thing that they can do at 3am we started our final Ascent of ticaboo we needed to reach the summit
(39:56) before Daybreak in order to see the base lit up for its nighttime test flights even at night the Roar of the Jets shattered The Silence of the desert [Music] we reached the summit under a cloak of Darkness Area 51 could clearly be seen its Runway lights glowing in the distance foreign [Music] for several hours we finally set up camp here some 7 000 feet up and since the crack of dawn we've been watching non-existent flights ferrying non-existent Personnel to this non-existent base ticaboo Peak is the last safe vantage point where you can (40:44) clearly see Dreamland but how long before this too is claimed by the military foreign The Groom Lake mystery continues we followed the Personnel flight out of the secret base and they've landed here at McCarran Airport just outside Las Vegas they're apparently over a dozen flights every day Ferring the Personnel in and out of America's most secret base I was called at a random time the operator would say Mr Lazar it's now 4 15 a.
(41:35) m we expect you to be at McCarran Airport at 4 45. your plane will be leaving at such and such time I drive there check in board the plane and the plane would fly out to groom Lake as the Groom Lake workers headed off in their cars we tried to enter the terminal who could you point me to at the base who could give me some information okay what I want to tell you right now your trespassing of a private property so we thought that was the point your trespassing on a private property you're inside our gate I'm gonna advise you right now to leave (42:12) the premises immediately okay to do that to me this is private property your trespassing leave the premises as soon as I get through the information is it is it government property or is it just no comment your trespass I'm trying to hit bud I just kind of me and quit it is there anyone you can point us to to give us any details as we were rejected from the airport yet another Janet flight left for Groom Lake 3-7 win camera we went and left libertigo early left turn to one five zero two three five right kind of ground point one on (42:59) the other track today our investigations have revealed that a private company is working with the US military at area 51. we believe this is the company EG and G special projects it's worked for the last 50 years on top secret and sensitive projects with the US government and it's said to control the Janet flights that take the workers to the base as well as all the security and technical support for the back engineering of alien spacecraft I did not work for EG directly I was just interviewed in one of their facilities (43:33) at McCarran airport so a short time later I was called back in for this new job at S4 and they had explained to me that it dealt with some sort of field propulsion system and I was just under the assumption that this is an advanced type of aircraft that's being worked on and I was excited about the position just lead to proper property okay so they actually cut your camera off does it have any connection with the Groom Lake base just I'm asking you to leave the property does this company have any connection with the flights that leave (44:03) McCarran um EG G has been the central civilian contractor for Groom Lake basically since the beginning there are the people who military folks come and go other contractors come and go EG has had the contract since the very beginning so if anyone were to know what's going on out there it'd be EG and G they're not talking we found EG and J to clarify what their role is at the base but they would only confirm that the company is working on several classified Department of Defense contracts at various remote locations in (44:42) Nevada they would not comment on the exact nature of the work but did state that it was connected with EMP electromagnetic propulsion if recovered alien craft are buried deep beneath the Nevada desert then the power to release this information to the public lies deep inside the corridors of Washington as an intelligence Insider said to me the problem isn't obtaining the information it's handling the truth are these alien craft above Groom Lake or are they man-made have the U.

(45:25) S military develop the technology to build flying discs join us next time on Dreamland there's a great deal of legitimacy to this UFO phenomenon to the issue of alien intelligence this is something that's not at all new to the U.S military there's programs that they're working on today that are 50 years ahead of anything that you and I could even conceive of the Black Project teams are operating without oversight from official committees from Congress if you will I find that exceedingly distressing (46:03) frightening the ultimate big brother scenario everything is being run by the ETS they're so far beyond Us in terms of technology that uh I don't think we would have a chance I don't think we've yet scratched the surface on what's happening out there with regard to flying saucers there are a variety activities some of which are classified throughout what is often called The Air Force's Nellis range complex the range is used for the testing of Technologies and systems and training for operations critical to the (46:43) effectiveness of U.S military forces and the security of the United States there is an operating location near groom dry lake some specific activities and operations conducted on the Nellis range both past and present remain classified and cannot be discussed [Music] thank you

(00:30) to says he will no longer hide the truth Bob Lazar claims our government captured alien spaceships UFOs and keeps them in a secret warehouse and that's not all Bob says Uncle Sam hired him to figure out how they fly if you're skeptical you have plenty of company Lazar has been questioned and criticized he even had to take a lie detector test and that's when some people started believing him Dan Howley has the inside report men wants to blow the lid off what could be the greatest story never told and the people
(01:05) who seem to be trying to stop [Music] him strange lights over Las Vegas within view of tourists and gamblers along the City's casino row what are the odds these are alien spacecraft out for an evening spin or would you bet they're simply standard aircraft or worse yet some kind of Hox before you decide take a look at another shot on this home video where what does appear to be an aircraft Strays into view along with the lights strange things like this have been appearing over the Nevada desert for years the answer to the mystery May lie

called Area 51 Area 51 is known by other names Groom Lake Dreamland the Skunk Works it's an isolated military facility where the US develops its most top secret projects the U2 spy plane was developed here so was its replacement the highflying Blackbird along with the current stealth aircraft and Star Wars but there are some who believe these formerly secret projects are nothing compared to what's currently Under Wraps not too many (02:26) people live out here in the remote sections of the Nevada desert far from the lights of Las Vegas but here on the edge of the secret US Government Test Facilities people have been seeing strange things for years some of them talk about it a lot of them don't but no one who has actually worked on the test site has ever talked about what goes on there no one that is until now they are actively and have in their possession uh alien spacecraft and they are actively uh undergoing analysis and flying and flying them Bob Lazar is an engineer
(03:03) and physicist who says he worked on flying saucers for the US government at Area 51 he drew these sketches of one of nine different saucers he says the government has in a secret Warehouse Lazar gave the saucers each names according to their various shapes Top Hat the sport model the jello mold called in to help figure out how they work Lazar says the saucers are powered by an antimatter generator fueled with an element which he says could only have come from another planet they set up and produce their own gravitational (03:40) field just as the Earth holds all matter down they produce that same field but out of phase and it it repels itself the effects that can cause the way in which everything operates is is by all intents of purposes Magic I mean it is so far beyond uh our level of Technology now before you toss Lazar on the pile with all the other UFO wackos understand that he willingly agreed to take a lie detector test requested and independently arranged by Las Vegas reporter Terry tetti is the ex cop who administered the test if he's (04:21) lying uh he ought to be in Hollywood because he gave absolutely no physiological indications of of attempting deception Lazar says he was referred to his government job by Dr Edward Teller the renowned scientist who help develop the atomic bomb but in a rare interview with inside report teller insisted he doesn't know Lazar or at least doesn't remember him I think it it appears that someone's trying to wipe him out George knp is the Las Vegas TV reporter who first aired Bob lazzar's amazing claims he says he ran into (04:56) unusual problems just trying to look into lazzar's background though Lazar claimed to have once worked at the Los Alamos National Laboratory government officials denied they knew anything about him but when nap came up with a phone directory listing lazar's name Los Alamos grudgingly admitted he had spent some time there officials at the hospital where Lazar was born even denied the simple fact he was born there until nap Tracked Down the doctor who delivered Lazar I find Bob to be credible and and the main reason is (05:27) because the story hasn't changed it stayed from the begin it's been the same uh it hasn't expanded like some of these UFO Tales you hear it's been the same and we've been through a lot of different interview sessions many on camera many more off camera and it stayed exactly the same consistent but even inside the community of UFO Believers there are many who are skeptical of Bob lazzar's claims nuclear physicist Stanton Friedman says Lazar May indeed be the real thing but he says he can also believe Lazar might be a
(05:57) hoer or worse yet a government agents spre false stories designed to cover more important Secrets I find Bob Lazar as somebody who isn't silly who doesn't say totally stupid things who comes across well but I certainly until I get verification cannot endorse the legitimacy of what he is saying Bob Lazar says he quit his job working on the government saucers when his bosses began harassing him because he was letting others in on the big secret but now that others are greeting his claims with skeptic ISM and outright hostility
(06:32) he says he wishes he just kept his big mouth shut Lazar says he never took the idea of breaking security lightly he just wanted to let the world in on a story he says we all should have been told why keep a secret about probably one of the most important events in history that there's been contact from an alien civilization it's a significant event in history more significant than anything could be we'll see well this not really I was the co-anchor of the 5:00 news with Paula Francis and our newscast back then featured a nightly
(07:07) interview segment the guest we had scheduled for that day bailed on us at the last minute so I placed a call to famed Aviator John leer because he'd been telling me he knew someone who'd been hired to work at an ultra secret military base near Groom Lake we had no idea the interview would still be of interest 30 years later uh uh there's really no way I can prove it without revealing my identity and getting myself into more trouble than I have already exactly what's going on up there well there's several uh actually (07:39) nine uh flying saucers flying discs uh that are out there of extraterrestrial origin and uh they're basically being dismantled uh some are well in various stages of of completion built from other parts and they're being test flown and uh uh basically just analyz the interview had been set up at the last minute Dennis whose real name is Bob Lazar met our news unit in front of the home of John Lear put on a microphone then sent shock waves through UFO circles Lazar recalls what was going through his mind at the time it was a

(08:17) very frightening moment it was uh certainly not a comfortable thing to do within days the story of the dentist interview had traveled around the world busloads of the saucer curious descended on the outskirts of area 15 1 the little town of Rachel became a hub of ET enthusiasm and the search was on for the true identity of the man in the shadows when Lazar had told us he was concerned about getting into more trouble than he was already in he was referring to this two months before the Dennis interview Lazar began taking a a few
(09:00) friends out to the desert on Wednesday nights they focused their attention not on Groom Lake but in the direction of Papoose Lake which is where Lazar said he worked a facility he called S4 and sure enough on each of three outings the groups witnessed a glowing disc rise above Papoose even though officially there has never been a base or facility there how did he know three decades later the public is still fascinated with the story Lazar Unleashed I was you know very worried at the time about repercussions and of course had no idea
(09:35) that we would be talking about this 30 years down the road good evening this is John le and today is March 22nd 1989 we're standing just about uh8 miles due east of Groom Lake Nevada the super government uh secret test site and just a few minutes ago we saw one of the government uh uh extraterrestrial UFOs fly over there we all watched it for about seven or eight minutes right here I have my Celestron scope uh it's 8 Ines and I had uh had it focused in for about 15 seconds and saw for myself that in fact it was a disc
(10:18) we're going to uh stay here for another couple hours here to see if we can show you folks uh an actual uh extraterrestrial Flying Saucer being uh flown by the government so so if you just stand by and uh we'll be looking over that mountain which is where they are they also come over here which is over at Bald Mountain there's some lights over there which you can't see but there are a number of trucks we don't know whether they're looking down here or what they're doing up there but (10:45) we managed to get in here uh we're standing on public land it's completely legal where we are and if you'd like to uh come here later in the show we'll tell you exactly how to get here well you can mention who's with you John uh we have Bob Lazar and we have uh Jackie Lazar Bob's wife and we have Jean Huff and this mission was organized tonight uh by Bob Lazar who is a a um theoretical physicist who works at groom L and is also a dead man at this for having this on film that he I'm happy you want your name on there
(11:26) that we're out here with the late B laar [Music] okay (12:32) good no move I how bright it's getting look at it now D CHR not bright enough for me to get this of here hold on right here are are you there it is bright right now [Music] what's going on up there could be the most important event in history you're talking about contact physical physical contact and proof from another another system another planet another intelligence that's got to be the biggest event in history period e that whoever is running the show up at (14:02) S4 is perpetrating a fraud on the American people and on the scientific Community we intend to have much more about this story about the operation up there on Monday and Beyond this is by no means the end of this series of reports [Music] [Music]
(15:44) [Applause] [Music] [Music] [Music] I [Applause] I [Applause] [Music]
(17:00) he [Music] [Music] [Music]
(18:36) guys but the search for proof of extraterrestrial intelligence has produced disappointing results the best so-called evidence has only been a few photographs and film clips but now all that's about to change since 1985 more than 15 million Americans have reportedly witnessed unidentified flying objects but despite the seemingly overwhelming evidence mainstream science has chosen to ignore the subject but now for the first time in history one of the greatest mysteries of this century is unraveling a former

(19:10) government scientist has come forward to discuss the military's classified work on extraterrestrial spacecraft [Applause] [Music] the end of World War II and the invention of the atomic bomb signaled a new era of international mistrust since the earliest days of the Cold War which coincides with the Roswell incident and the start of the modern UFO era the military has been especially secretive about its advances and achievements while always searching for the Perfect Weapon or super sophisticated tool of [Music]
(19:57) Espionage high-tech surveillance equipment around the world and even in space has allowed Global intelligence to see and be aware of many things that the common civilian cannot even begin to imagine the military recruits many talented civilians when special expertise is required and propulsion systems expert Bob Lazar claims he was one of them in this exclusive interview he gives his detailed account of his employment with the Department of Naval intelligence at the top secret facility known as S4 where according to Bob he (20:32) was hired to work on recovered alien spacecraft this now Noto secret military base at Groom Lake Nevada is known as Area 51 or Dreamland as insiders like to call it born in 1959 in Coral Gables Florida Bob has lived much of his life in Las Vegas Nevada with degrees in physics and electronics from MIT and Caltech he has dabbled in everything from chemistry to fireworks in an effort to understand the finer points of propulsion he has even assembled a jet car with a 22,000 horsepower engine salvaged from a Navy f3d Sky Knight that is capable of land
(21:12) speeds of over 350 mph fate took a serious turn for Bob in 1982 arriving early for a lecture at Los Alamos National Laboratory in New Mexico given by Dr Edward Teller one of the inventors of the atomic bomb Bob was able to meet and talk to the famous physicist coincidentally Dr Teller was reading the local paper the monitor with a featured front page article on Bob and the two struck up a conversation later Bob sent Dr Teller his resume for consideration and soon after Bob was hired by the Los Alamos National Laboratory this Los Alamos base
(21:49) directory lists Bob as an employee by 1989 Bob was brought into the top secret program at S4 known as project Galileo in the following interview Bob reveals many details of this amazing experience did you witness any disc technology at Area 51 no there was no absolutely no ET craft ET technology anything like that at Area 51 this is why S4 was made specifically to separate it there people at Area 51 do not have the clearance how long were you employed at S4 and when were you hired when was I hired at S4 I guess (22:37) early '89 and I was probably there only about 6 months or so uh on a very infrequent basis how were you transported to and from work at the time that I was working there at McCaron international airport in Las Vegas there was a special projects eg&g building when I was told to go to work I drove there parked my car there uh and got in a plane at the airport flew to groom Lake where I deplaned and waited for a bus and the bus drove me down to uh S4 the S4 facility is an area just off the papoose lake bed dry like bed and it
(24:05) saw inside the facility what was the basic layout were there underground levels I don't think there were any underground levels to it though there there could have been I don't think it was a you know an extensive underground facility it just looked like uh an installation that was butt up against a mountain and uh you know I didn't see any evidence of any stairs going down elevators or uh but like I said I don't know there could have been and I just might not have been permitted in those areas it's difficult to uh to really
(24:42) surmise how long it had been operational everything did look fairly new uh by that I mean I don't think this installation was there in the early 70s uh nothing was worn uh things look fairly freshly painted so uh you know as a ballpark guess I would say it would it would really surprise me if the installation was older than 5 seven 10 years something like that burden has killed in the project what exactly happened there allegedly obviously I didn't see this and I don't know it to be fact but this is what I was told that I was hired

open an operating reactor and the device exploded killing both of them the scientists that were killed there uh allegedly the detonation from the explosion was fairly large uh it would have rivaled a small tactical nuke so it was done at the Nevada test site and it was to be passed off as an un unannounced nuclear nuclear test did you have any direct contact or communication (25:59) with aliens no not at all tell us about the briefing files under what conditions did you gain access to them I was put into the briefing room with 121 or 22 briefings and really was just told to sit and read through them I think they were there just to mainly educate me on on what was going on they were in't a complete in indepth explanation on everything else but just uh essentially a brief synopsis on some of the other projects that were going on there supposedly the information now this isn't something that I determined
(26:36) it's something I was told that the crafts originated from uh a planet that orbited The Zeta reticul star system Zeta rtic 1 and Zeta reticul 2 or two two stars of a binary star system uh the craft allegedly came from there one or two autopsy photographs I saw uh dealt with just a small photograph a bus shot essentially just head shoulders and chest of an alien with a uh uh chest was cut open in t fashion and one single organ was removed uh the organ itself and in the other picture was uh cutting Viv section (27:16) essentially the uh showing the different chambers in there this was totally unrelated to anything I was doing but from that photograph it looked like what you see in UFO lore as the typical gray so how tall it was from what I could see I I couldn't tell cuz I only saw a portion of the photograph but if everything else you see is correct I would imagine it was 3 and 1/2 or 4T tall but uh there again you know all I had to see was a photograph and you know I didn't have much to go on what was the incident in (27:52) 1979 that brought the alien Exchange program of information to a halt again this was a story that was related to me and uh allegedly what happened in 79 there was some sort of information exchange going on where there were actual live aliens at the facility and at one particular point there was an area where some security Personnel went to enter and apparently because of not the sidearms but the bullets in the sidearms from what I understand if they would have entered the area the bullets would have detonated uh and supposedly one of the
(28:34) creatures tried to stop the security Personnel from entering the area and a fight ensued and the bottom line from the altercation was that the uh security Personnel I don't remember how many were involved but were all killed and they died of head wounds and that's all that all that I heard of that story what was your job description at S4 my official job description was a senior staff physicist uh I don't know if I actually had that position when I was there because I was there so infrequently I wasn't supervising anyone
(29:13) so I uh that that was the official position I was hired under but uh whether or not I actually acted in that capacity I don't know what was the size of the staff working on Project Galileo well there were 22 people and employed there totally and that was specifically for the Galileo project no for the entire project oh I see there were 22 people with Majestic clearance I had Majestic clearance Majestic clearance was designated as a clearance 38 levels above Q clearance and Q clearance is the civilian uh top secret
(29:49) clearance when did you see your first disc the first disc I saw I believe it was the second or I think it was the third time I was up there uh normally the bus pulled around to the opposite end of the facility which was the main entrance and that's where we went in on um this particular occasion it pulled up to one of the hanger doors which were normally closed and the last one was open we came out and I saw the disc in the hanger uh upon seeing it it it struck me that well this explains all the UFO sightings not thinking that it
(30:25) was an extraterrestrial craft that this must have been some advanced form of fighter that we've been working on for years and you know people have just caught it being tested so on and so forth and uh it never even occurred to me even though I was looking at an extraterrestrial vehicle that you know this wasn't man-made when did you realize the craft was not of Earthly origin well it probably really hit me when I got inside the craft and looked around and began to understand how the craft was operated and finally grasp the whole project as a
(31:06) whole as what we were doing the fact that we weren't building this thing we were trying to find out how it was made we were back engineering it what is back engineering well back engineering is taking a finished product and finding out how the device or product was produced and essentially determining whether or not you can duplicate it now scientists aside what was your emotional response what were you thinking were the implications to the world or man in general from these Revelations I really didn't think about (31:51) implications of that sort as far as emotionally uh people have a asserted that boy that must have been the most exciting time in your life and that's not the way it was when I first got to look inside the craft the all I can say it's an ominous feeling you walk in there and uh it's it feels as if you shouldn't be there I know that sounds kind of corny but it's a real ominous feeling it's not an exciting feeling uh it brings up a whole lot of questions in your mind well where did this come from (32:23) and you know that they won't give you the answers to the whole story but it's uh that's the only way I can describe it let's go people lift it produces a gravity wave which is similar to the gravity wave that the Earth produces however the craft phase shifts The Wave in other words it it turns the wave not really in an opposite polarity but something to that effect where it will work against the natural gravity wave of the earth and it produces lift and in that effect is there any internal protection for the crew does the craft

(33:03) generate a a gravitational field inside the craft itself well the craft generates its own gravitational field being inside that field essentially doesn't Shield you but essentially you're in and this is a terrible way to say it almost in a different realm because you're now influenced only that by that gravitational field for instance people wonder how a craft like this can make a turn at such high speed a 90 degree turn when they would imagine people slamming up against the wall or something to that (33:42) effect well that really wouldn't happen inertia would have no effect uh you're you're in a distortion and don't forget that gravity distorts time and space so really nothing is going to influence you while you're in there describe the gravity amplifiers for us and some of their different operating configurations there are three amplifiers the craft can operate on a single one can lift off the ground the way in which it's propelled are two different ways there's what they call Omron configuration where (34:20) the craft is using one generator uh or Delta configuration where it's us utilizing all three Delta configuration would be for space travel essentially the craft will tilt up on its side as opposed to a science fiction mve where you see a flying saucerer moving around the craft will tilt up on its side Focus the three gravity generators to a single point and move through space that way moving around a source of gravity is a problem to a disc because it's interference essentially so what they do is they work with that (34:53) interference to their benefit they'll use one gravity generator to lift the craft off the ground and as opposed to what we're used to for instance a plane once it's in the air we envision thrust or some Force coming out the back of it to push it forward the crafts work completely opposite of that what they do is once they're hovering in the air they'll swing the gravity two remaining gravity generators up in front of them and create a distortion essentially a downhill and The Craft rolls downhill
(35:29) for Infinity it's always chasing a little Distortion that's why they look goofy when they fly around at low speed because they're essentially and anytime you run over you know the gravity field around the earth is not completely constant and stable depending on the minerals and density of the earth underneath it the gravity will vary somewhat and you will get odd movements of The Craft so it's low speed mode is is kind of unstable for the most most part I only witnessed one test flight up close (36:02) officially uh that I was in just inside the hanger uh the test was going off probably you know uh just as the sun was going down and it was a a low performance test I believe there were uh some Pilots or test pilots in the craft the craft must have been retrofitted to fit them because the seating arrangements were really not accommodating um they were in radio communication with the craft which is kind of surprising to me because the gravity waves that the craft was producing should have uh distorted the radio waves also so (36:41) apparently there's something there that I don't understand um the craft lifted off the ground uh virtually noiseless other than a small Corona discharge on the bottom of the craft indicating the presence of high voltage uh that dissipated at about 30 ft and it stood there compl completely silently and moved over to the left to the right and sat back down that was the entire test however that was an extremely impressive test uh maybe to someone that really knows little about science or anything that that wouldn't be a whole lot but you (37:17) have to realize this craft was about 52 ft in diameter I don't know exactly how much it weighed but it weighed a lot and uh this was quite quite a scientific feat to lift something completely silently under control and uh you know perform a maneuver like that the craft itself was uh I assume it was metal it was cold to the touch that's why I say it was metal but it was a uh brushed aluminum actually just an unfinished stainless steel not shiny uh finish to it had no seams it was as if it was injection molded from one Giant

(37:53) die I was completely amazed I I can't really reflect on how it made me feel but it that was exciting how would you define gravity could you describe in layman's terms its basic principles for us gravity is something difficult to explain because it's something that we essentially don't understand it's just something that we can observe not much is really known about gravity uh there are many theories about it but they are just mainly theories theories of gravitons which allege that there these these subatomic
(38:32) particles that that act like an attractive Force like gravity that exchange between two pieces of matter there's also a theory that gravity is a form of wave an electromagnetic wave uh but basically gravity is a force it's uh it's it's the attraction it well it's the inherent property of matter to have gravity a mutual attraction for each other and that's it it's basically all that we really know modern science current science right now identifies one gravity it's one force in nature uh
(39:10) apparently through research it as for or information gained from one of the crafts they were researching there uh it appears that there are two different forms of gravity one form works on an atomic scale on subatomic particles holding pieces of matter holding atoms themselves together another works on a larger scale the scale we're most most familiar with uh holding planets in orbit holding ourselves to the ground things of that sort because it produces a gravitational field it I I wouldn't say the craft is invisible during the (39:45) day however if you're under the craft because of the way the gravity is being used gravity bends time and space and it bends light if you are looking underneath the craft or from certain Vantage points you will actually see what's above the craft it's a it's really a trick of the way light bends under the influence of gravity for instance we can see stars that are behind the Sun that are blocked from our view by the Sun the reason we can see them is because the sun is a tremendous gravitational field and it's (40:20) bending the light around it where we can see the star SpaceTime and gravity are all essentially interrelated they all act on one another gravity bends space gravity also distorts time when you vary one you essentially vary the other twoo uh if you as an example if you have a massive body say a planet or or something that's making a lot of gravity producing a lot of gravitational waves if you will um it distorts space it bends space to it it also slows down time these things aren't theories we know them to be true uh we (41:03) cannot artificially create this because we can't create gravity but this is how they're all interrelated burden would traveling at the speed of light there are several problems traveling at the speed of light uh just a couple of them are the fact that as your speed increases so does your mass proportionally uh in other words the more energy you put in to go faster begins to slow you down by the fact that it's converted into Mass um you have other problems like just traveling at such an Extreme Velocity navigational problems the fact
(41:44) that you might run into little tiny microm meteorites uh at at speeds like this they would undoubtedly destroy your craft there's just a a whole host of problems that you're going to run into uh just attemp to do something like that aside from the fact the amount of energy required to accelerate to the speed of light is horrendous could you briefly describe project Looking Glass and project sidekick for us project sidekick was another project going on uh with Galileo Galileo was the project that I was (42:15) involved in sidekick dealt with any of the weapon potential of The Craft whether or not the craft had a weapon in it or could it be used as a weapon but it had something to do with some sort of itical beam uh configuration where the gravity generator can be used as a lens to focus focus a weapon of some sort similar to the SDI device we were working on in the uh the80s but with a potential of a focusing device using the uh gravity generator and project Looking Glass Project Looking Glass dealt with the Distortion the fact that there's a Time (42:53) Distortion essentially looking back in time and by that I do not mean looking back years ago to see the Wagon Train days they're looking for distortions that are milliseconds in time and what what that was used for I I don't know but that was uh just observing the time the the time Distortion time dilation phenomena the craft in operation what is element 115 is it found here on Earth or is it strictly an extraterrestrial material 115 is strictly an extraterrestrial material U it probably occurs naturally (43:26) and some other places maybe other star systems uh you know some people not familiar with science or chemistry say well that's ridiculous all the elements occur on Earth you know uh but that's not true there are elements on the periodic chart that aren't found on Earth I believe the heavy ion research lab in darot Germany uh has reached element 112 recently so 115 isn't isn't that far away and when they synthesize it it's not like they're making a couple ounces of it they're talking about one

(43:58) or two atoms of it to make any usable quantity of a heavy element like that is virtually impossible Element 115 is in the top of the reactor and the base of the reactor apparently is a small something similar to a cyclotron it's a particle accelerator uh a particle is accelerated to high speed and then deflected up a small tube and it's aimed at the 115 this transmutes the 115 uh similar to the way we we do that in a normal particle accelerator uh this causes a reaction a radiation emission that we really haven't seen before um it
(44:45) produces anim matter this Annie matter is guided down a tuned tube and reacts with a gas when matter and anim matter react they convert to 100% energy this energy is converted heat energy is converted to electrical power in the reactor itself this is done through a a thermoelectric converter and this electrical power is used to power other subsystems on the craft though there is no wiring you know as we would know it uh also that's almost a byproduct of the reactor the reactor also sets up a gravitation wave
(45:28) from the 115 being bombarded this gravitational wave was present at the top of the reactor and is essentially guided in the same way microwaves are guided through tuned tubes and uh this goes to their amplifying cavities and through the projectors that are in the bottom of the craft with the gravity generators running is there thermal radiation danger to the crew there is no thermal radiation while the reactor is running the thermionic generator is 100% efficient which is in violation of the first law of thermodynamics but in fact it
(46:04) works Element 115 is stable and for those familiar with chemistry we know that uh elements with higher atomic numbers have shorter and shorter half- lives um however when you reach a certain point they call it the island of stability there is a place and we've theorized this for for a long time somewhere around 114 to 116 there should be an area in there where the nucleus of the atom is geometrically stable with protons and neutrons where it it no longer decays it's not radioactive 115 is in fact this element in fact it does
(46:45) occur again somewhere around element 247 uh of course you know we're nowhere near synthesizing that we can only you know predict things like that but uh that that's where 115 is did they the aliens give us Element 115 in large quantities whether or not it was given to us I I I can't answer that question however I was told that we have 500 lb by one of my co-workers um how it was obtained and you know where exactly it came from I don't know whether it came in one of the crafts or you know it was separate cargo
(47:24) somewhere anyone can speculate but I was I was told that was the the figure you were able to get away with a sample of element 115 how much did you get away with no comment the several nighttime test flights unofficially while off the base what did you see the test flights I saw off the base actually the the best test flight was witnessed by my friends who I had brought out there at the uh exact moment the craft was hopping around or doing some really impressive maneuvers I had turned around and I think was uh looking (48:00) for the video camera or something to that effect but I missed some of the most uh impressive Maneuvers but the craft was uh similar to what was done before that I had seen close up other than the fact that it went above the mountain range uh moved a a much greater distance and a much higher rer speed how were you able to find out about the test flight schedules the test flight schedules were told to me uh specifically because I was probably going to have to be present during those times and at that time the test flights were taking place on (48:37) Wednesday nights and from what they said that was because that was uh statistically the least amount of traffic in the area and that's all that they were concerned about does the propulsion system release any sort of discharge or exhaust

there was a high voltage discharge on the bottom of the craft but as far as there being an exhaust there was none why do they appear as glowing balls of light in the night sky well that's kind of the same reason why a neon light or a fluorescent light lights up what you're dealing with with (49:13) is a high energy source in essentially a gas atmosphere oxygen nitrogen and uh when you apply enough energy to a gas molecule they emit photons they emit light and uh I don't think it's anything it's a really a byproduct of how the craft operates when it's emitting that much energy the gas surrounding the craft emits light the same reason why lightning is visible you have a huge electrical discharge and the gas emits light in the form of lightning bolt if you were going to see one of these crafts at night
(49:48) operating it would appear really as a glowing ball or a just a bright light in the sky from a distance uh even close up you you'd see a a glowing halo around it uh this is typically what you'd see in your normal UFO sighting uh if you've heard them a lot however keep in mind that lights in the sky are caused by much more common things than flying saucers tell us a little more about the Aurora you witnessed taking off out of Area 51 it was a large craft and the one Glimpse I got of it was from the rear
(50:24) and it had two huge sare exhaust with veins in them and uh it was just it sounded more like a rocket than a jet I don't know i' even think he did mention that it was Liquid methane powered but um there again you know working on the disc technology I really could care less what was rolling around at Area 51 but it it did catch my eye as a result of going public have there been any attempts made on your life one day when I was getting on on um Interstate 15 driving down Charleston Boulevard uh a car came up alongside of me and uh I
(51:06) thought he was just trying to race me to get on the freeway uh this was after I had left the project um it was a white boxy looking car exactly what making model I don't know but um I accelerated to get on the freeway to go fast and there was a gunshot and the back of the car was hit and I skitted off into the uh median and I stopped and I was frightened and I just stood there because I thought the guy was going to be alongside of me and just shoot me I had nothing to do I was essentially paralyzed with with fear and (51:43) I waited there and then nothing else happened and do I know it was a government agent trying to kill me no could it have been a driveby shooting maybe uh you know so it wasn't I mean it was an attempt on my life but by who specifically I don't know though I was threatened uh before I had left that they threatened my wife's life and my life so I can only put two and two together and say that they were kind of pissed at me in an earlier interview you had mentioned that they had put a gun to your head tell us about (52:17) that that was after we were caught out when I had the test flight schedule and uh I brought some friends out to show him the disc test uh we got caught out there and the following day I was debriefed down at Indian Springs Air Force Base and um I was in the room with the security guards that caught us my supervisor and some other people and uh some of the security Personnel uh yeah they were essentially grilling me about security and you know how could I possibly bring people out there and and uh I guess I wasn't as (52:59) responsive as they would like and they got in my face and one of them pulled that sidearm out you know just pushed it against me have you maintained any contacts with your colleagues out at S4 no I never heard from anyone other than for a very brief time after I left Dennis who was my supervisor did try and make contact with me at the uh the meeting place was the union Plaza Hotel and I took a a friend of mine Jee Huff down there and another friend uh a former colleague and scientist from Los Alamos and we did
(53:36) uh we saw him but I also did recognize some security Personnel walking around there from us for us whether or not it was a setup or what was going on or he was trying to talk to me we never found out and we left it just was a real strange situation I never heard from him since as we enter the 21st century how how has your experience changed your beliefs well if you want to word the question how are my opinions changed uh I would say considerably and before I was at S4 I was more or less one of the uh one of the guys that (54:15) thought you know all these government conspiracy and UFO Buffs and things like that were complete lunatics um I even remember before I was involved there a friend showed me little newspaper clipping it said John le was giving a lecture who was uh touting that aliens from another world came to Earth and there's 70 different species and I remember laughing on the phone that this guy had lost his mind and uh

I was also under the impression that you know boy the government's all for the people and they you know you know they're out here
(54:48) to protect us and all that you know after the experiences I had there uh everything is completely turned around you know the government is doing everything but uh looking out for us I mean the only thing they're looking out is for themselves you know uh obviously the ET craft do exist something had to build them so there must be aliens and since there are in the craft of the there there must be some sort of factory and an entire civilization somewhere and if in fact that is true and it apparently is then there must be
(55:27) [Music] others actual crafts and Technology from another world and uh that's probably the most important event this he kind of moved from science fiction into reality in my mind and uh it really just I guess opened my eyes let's go whether or not we can duplicate them I if we can understand what a device is or how something operates or what its physical makeup is is that's great but if we can't duplicate it it's useless to us so there's really two phases to the project going on there it's understanding what (56:06) we're looking at and then once we understand it is can we duplicate it with Earthly materials and Earthly technology and you know unless we've got a handle on both of them all that technology is useless to us and if it turns out we can't do that all we have is one single prized possession that we have to take care of and that's it after all that's been said and done would you do this over again what would you do differently I would probably have played along for a longer time um I would like to have known a little bit
(56:42) more about the technology and uh probably kept quiet if I could have um and possibly never have said anything uh I almost wish I had done that you know it's uh it's really only caused headaches and problems but um I believe if I was given the opportunity again to go back in time and redo it I think I pretty much would have just shut up and gone along with the program I would have much preferred that instead of the Navy or whoever it was uh that hand picked a few Renegade scientists here and there that they turn it
(57:23) over to some more qualified people obviously I was not the most qualified person on a propulsion or field propulsor or anything of that sort I was just some guy I mean they could have picked I could have named 10 or 12 other guys that were more qualified than me but um you know if they turned it over to the scientific community and not just a couple guys here in the United States I mean you need a large group of people in a large lab to research what's going on there uh not a little quiet installation it's the it's the security
(57:55) itself that prevents them from getting anywhere I mean it they never do work hand inand you can't have a military mind science itself must communicate you have to have a free exchange of ideas that's how things progress and when you clamp down on a security system like that where you work in isolated groups and ideas cannot be exchanged you don't get anywhere and that's that's the problem they have what does the future hold for Bob Lazar well I'm not really involved in any of that stuff anymore that's kind of put behind
(58:32) me um I have my own businesses that I work at uh some computer Graphics uh some consultation um other technical jobs radiation detectors and a few other things like that um so really I just go about my life and that's you know something that happened that was fantastic and and it's over but uh it's kind of hard to shake it loose but eventually I will and that'll be that I think all the surveillance and everything stopped I don't think anyone's bothering to monitor me i' I've said everything that I know it's been (59:08) all over the place so it's kind of a a done deal as far as whether or not there were any craft out there I believe you know they were out and gone in probably the late 89 early 90 and the only thing people see now out there are you know either flares or planes coming into land but uh that's about it did you have an interest in flying saucers or science fiction in general as a child I was never interested in flying saucers as a child science fiction you know I watched Star Trek I guess with everyone else back then but uh for the
(59:44) most part yeah I didn't even believe in flying saucers up until I was employed at S4 I couldn't help at one point in my discussions with privately with General Secretary gorbachov when you stop to think that we're all God's children wherever we may live in the world I couldn't help but say to him just think how easy his task and mine might be in these meetings that we held if suddenly there was a threat to this world from some other species from another planet uh outside in the universe we'd forget all the little

(1:00:30) local differences that we have between our countries and we would find out once and for all that we really are all human beings here on this Earth together well I don't suppose we can wait for some alien race to come down and threaten us but I think that between us we can bring about that realization thank you all God bless you all [Music] hi I'm Bob Lazar during late 1988 in
(1:02:12) early ' 89 I worked on the propulsion systems of extraterrestrial vehicles for the United States government the hardware and Technology I was exposed to should be placed in the proper hands of the scientific community and it is the right of every person on Earth to know that there is physical evidence which proves that there is life elsewhere and that at least one form of that life has been here for those of you whose information about me is limited to this video I'll give you a brief background I'm a physicist I have
(1:02:44) degrees in physics and electronics technology I've worked in a number of scientific programs some of which require top secret and Above Top Secret security clearances of which the most easily verifiable is my early 1980s job here at the Los Alamos maon physics facility in Los Alamos New Mexico between December of 88 and April of ' 89 I worked as a senior staff physicist in what has to be the most secret project in history my place of work was a facility at an area known as S4 on the Nellis Air Force range in (1:03:15) central Nevada area S4 is located approximately 15 miles south of the infamous Area 51 installation at Groom Lake where the U2 and SR71 spy planes were developed for the duration of my employment at S4 I was paid by the United States Navy for the purpose of this video I'm going to segregate the information contained here into two separate parts the first part will deal with information with which I've had hands-on experience and personal instruction in other words not only did I read briefings and Not only was I taught the (1:03:48) theories of these Technologies but they are demonstrated for me and I know they are true and accurate some of the points covered in this first section will be how vast distances of space are traveled by virtue of an intense gravitational field how this gravitational field is generated what the power source is and how it functions and general information about discs and the project at S4 the second part of this will deal with subjects on which I've read supporting information yet for the most part I had no other way to corroborate
(1:04:27) the information or ascertain its accuracy when we get to part two it'll be obvious why proof of some of this information could not be conclusive some of the points covered in the second section will be information about the beings that brought us this technology and how these beings have historically interacted with man I've been prudent in selecting what to expose here and I think that some of this information should not be made available to the general public this information is being conveyed to you as
(1:04:59) it was to me with the exception that in most cases I've simplified things for those of you with non-scientific and non-technological backgrounds so let's begin at the beginning of this first section I'm going to give you three short science lessons and once you've learned them you'll not only know more about Interstellar travel than almost anyone else in the world but you'll know the actual method another civilization is used to travel from another star system to the planet Earth now during
(1:05:25) the course of this I'm going to have to relate information that I've learned at as for to information that we're already aware of and when I say we I mean the general mainstream scientific community so it's not to waste too much time explaining estab scientific facts and theories when I say we know this or we know that please feel free to consult any qualified scientist Professor or science teacher to have them explain my statements to you one of the most predominantly asked questions is how is (1:05:53) it possible to cross vast expanses of space space without exceeding the speed of light or how can you travel in reasonable time and economy between points that are light years apart now keep in mind that the speed of light is 186,000 mes a second which translates into roughly 669 million miles an hour and a light year is a distance traveled in one year at the speed of light proximus centuri which is the star system nearest ours would take four years to reach traveling at the speed of light so up until now when we've (1:06:30) examined the requirements to travel these distances we've always had to consider the problems of traveling at a speed near the speed of light this poses problems with propulsion navigation fuel capacities and even when you consider the effects of acceleration on SpaceTime which include time dilation Mass increase Lan contraction and a whole host of other things it quickly becomes evident that this type of travel would require a level of technology that man has not yet achieved the truth of the matter is that traveling these distances

(1:07:02) does require a level of technology that man has not yet achieved but it has nothing to do with flying in a linear mode near the speed of light we know that the shortest distance between two points is a straight line so in our universe we've always assumed that the fastest way from point A to B was to travel in a straight line at the speed of light well the fact is that when you're dealing with SpaceTime and you enjoy the capability of generating an intense gravitational field the fastest way from point A to B is to distort or
(1:07:30) warp or bend the SpaceTime between point A and B bringing point A and B closer together the more intense the gravitational field the greater the Distortion of SpaceTime and the shorter the distance between points A and B most of us think of SpaceTime as the void or as nothing and remember it wasn't that long ago that man considered the air in our atmosphere to be nothing yet with time we've become aware of the elements and properties of the air in our atmosphere well indeed SpaceTime is an entity and one of its properties is that
(1:07:59) it can be distorted or bent by a gravitational field we know that gravity bends or distorts space time and Light by virtue of the fact that we're able to see stars which we know should be blocked from our view by the sun referring to the graphic here the solid line denotes the position of a star that's located behind the sun and the dotted line shows its position as viewed from Earth this is made possible because the sun's gravitational field distorts the space time and light around the Sun allowing us to view Stars which should
(1:08:31) be hidden from view we know that gravity distorts Time by virtue of the fact that if we take two identical atomic clocks and keep one at sea level and take the other one up to a high altitude when we bring them both back together they reflect different times the difference in this passage of time is caused by the fact that a gravitational field weakens the further you get from the source so the atomic clock which was taken to the high altitude was exposed to a less powerful gravitational field than the clock which we kept at sea level the (1:09:02) effect of a gravitational field on SpaceTime is something that we've been able to observe but not to experiment with this is due to our inability to generate a gravitational field and up until this point in time great Mass such as a star planet or moon was the only source of a discernable gravitational field that we're aware of so just as the gravitational field around great Mass such as a planet distorts space and time any gravitational field whether naturally occurring or generated distorts space and time in a similar
(1:09:33) manner now the great benefit of generating an intense gravitational field is not only can you turn it on but you can turn it off if we refer back to our original illustration of space-time Distortion we can see that when we generate an intense gravitational field we can distort the space time and in turn the distance between the point where we are and the point where we want to be we can then position position ourselves at the point where we want to be and then stop generating the gravitational field allowing space time to return to its
(1:10:03) natural form in this manner we can travel great distances with little linear movement and this is how space-time Distortion translates into reduced distance now back to our original question how is it possible to cross the vast expanses of space required for Interstellar travel without exceeding the speed of light this is accomplished by generating generating an intense gravitational field distorting SpaceTime and allowing you to cross many light years of space in little or no time and without traveling in a linear mode near the (1:10:36) speed of light the next question is how do you generate a gravitational field up until this point in time I've used the term generate to describe the capability of producing a gravitational field but since I'm not aware of any way of creating a gravitational field from nothing a more accurate term might be to access and amplify a gravitational field and this is what I mean when I use the term generate to understand how gravity is generated or accessed and Amplified you must first know what gravity is (1:11:04) there are two main theories the wave theory which states that gravity is a wave and the currently accepted theory of gravitons which are alleged subatomic particles that perform as as gravity which is total nonsense well gravity is a wave and there are two specific different types of gravity gravity a and gravity B gravity a works on a smaller micro scale while gravity B works on a larger macro scale we are familiar with gravity B it is the big gravity wave that holds the Earth

as well as the rest of the planets
(1:11:37) and orbit around the Sun and holds the moon as well as man-made satellites and orbit around the Earth we are not familiar with gravity a it is the small gravity wave which is the major contributory force that holds together the mass that makes up all protons and neutrons gravity a is what is currently being labeled as the strong nuclear force in mainstream physics and gravity a is the wave that you need to access and amplify to enable you to cause space time Distortion for Interstellar travel to keep them straight just (1:12:08) remember that gravity a works on an atomic scale and gravity B is the big gravity wave that works on a stellar or planetary level however don't mistake the size of these waves for their strength because gravity a is a much stronger Force than gravity B you can momentarily break the gravity B fi field of the earth simply by jumping in the air so this is not an intense gravitational field locating gravity a is no problem because it is found in the nucleus of every atom of all matter here on Earth and all matter anywhere else in our
(1:12:41) universe however accessing gravity a with the naturally occurring elements found on Earth is a big problem actually I'm not aware of any way of accessing the gravity a wave using any Earth elements whether naturally occurring or synthesized and here's why we've already learned that gravity a is the major force that holds together the mass that makes up protons and neutrons this means the gravity a wave we are trying to access is virtually inaccessible as it is located within matter or at least within the matter
(1:13:12) that we have here on Earth however the Earth is not representative of all matter within our universe the residual matter which remains after the creation of a solar system is totally dependent on the contributing factors which were present during the creation of the solar system system this is true whether you believe that the origin of the universe was an evolutionary event or that a Supreme Being caused this event to happen the two main factors which determine what residual matter remains after the creation of a solar system are the (1:13:40) amount of electromagnetic energy and the amount of mass present during the Solar System's creation our solar system has one star which is our sun but the majority of solar systems in our Milky Way galaxy are binary and multiple star systems in fact many single star systems have stars that are so large that our sun would appear to be a dwarf by comparison keeping all this in mind it should be obvious that a large single star system binary star system or multiple star system would have had more of the prerequisite mass and (1:14:13) electromagnetic energy present during their Creations this makes it possible for these systems to possess Elements which are not native to the earth scientists have long theorized that there are potential combinations of protons and neutrons which should provide stable elements with atomic numbers higher than any which appear in our Periodic Chart though none of these heavy elements occur naturally on Earth 88 of the first 92 elements on the periodic chart occur naturally on Earth some heavier elements do occur in Trace
(1:14:42) Amounts but for the most part we synthesize these heavier elements in Laboratories generally speaking the stability of these synthesized heavy elements decreases as their atomic number increases but experiments the lab for heavy ion research in Germany have shown that this may only be true up to a certain point as the halflife for element 109 is longer than that of element 108 the point is that our observations and theories are accurate the fact is that heavier stable elements with higher atomic numbers which have more protons
(1:15:13) neutrons and electrons than any Earth elements do exist however up until this point in history there's been no physical evidence to prove this but now that proof is here the most important attribute of the these heavier stable elements is that the gravity a wave is so abundant that it actually extends past the perimeter to the atom these heavier stable elements literally have their own gravity a field around them in addition to the gravity B field that is native to all elements no naturally occurring atoms on (1:15:44) earth have enough protons and neutrons for the cumulative gravity a wave to extend past the perimeter of the atom so you can access it even though the distance that the gravity a wave extends is infin aimal it is accessible and it has amplitude wavelength and frequency just like any other wave in the electromagnetic spectrum once you can access the gravity a wave you can amplify it just like we amplify any other electromagnetic wave to demonstrate how a wave is Amplified we can use this oscilloscope and as you can see it graphically
(1:16:18) depicts the tone you hear as a wave as we amplify the tone you can see that the size or the amplitude of the wave increases giving us a more powerful version of the same identical wave and thus the tone sounds louder in like manner the gravity a wve is Amplified and then focused on the desired destination to cause the space time Distortion required for space travel this Amplified gravity a-wave is so powerful that the only naturally occurring source of gravity that caused space time to distort this much would be (1:16:57) a black hole this brings us back to our original question how do you generate a gravitational field you must have access to an element which is heavy enough for the gravity a wve to extend past the perimeter of the atom then you can access and amplify it for SpaceTime Distortion to complete our three science lessons the last question is what is the power source for this type of travel well for those of you with limited knowledge about power sources I'm sure you can probably imagine the enormous amount of power required to

(1:17:30) cause A Spacetime Distortion for this type of travel after all we're amplifying a wave that barely extends past the perimeter of an atom until it's large enough to distort vast amounts of space time for those of you with extensive knowledge about power sources I'm sure it's probably even more puzzling as to how it's possible to have a compact lightweight onboard power source that can provide this much power for everyone want to understand that I need to further explain a couple of things we briefly touched upon in the (1:18:00) last question if you remember I said that for the most part we synthesize or create heavier elements and accelerators and their stability decreases as their atomic number increases so what does this all mean well we synthesize these heavier or unstable elements by using more stable elements as Targets in a particle accelerator we then bombard the target element with various Atomic and subatomic particles at this point transmutation occurs making the target element a different heavier element this element now has a higher atomic number
(1:18:32) as the atomic number simply indicates the number of protons in the nucleus of the atom so this is what I mean when I say their atomic number increases what does their stability decreases mean the length of time which an element exists before it decays determines its stability atoms of some elements Decay faster than atoms of other elements So the faster an element decays the more un stable that element is considered to be when an atom decays it releases or radiates subatomic particles and energy which is the (1:19:02) radiation that a Geer counter detects as you can see this Giger counter is detecting the radiation from this uranium which literally means that the Geer counter is sensing the subatomic particles which are being released or radiated as the uranium decays those elements in which nuclear radiation can be consistently detected are radioactive elements these heavy Elements which we synthesize in particle accelerators are of the radioactive variety and they Decay very rapidly since we're only able to make a few
(1:19:34) atoms of these elements and because they Decay so rapidly we're not able to observe much about them this is what I mean when I say their stability decreases however there are elements with higher atomic numbers which are stable even though they don't occur naturally on Earth and we can synthesize them in particle accelerators these are the elements in the 114 115 range which don't appear on a periodic chart Beyond Element 115 the elements become unstable again and in fact element 116 decays in fractions of (1:20:06) a second this finally brings us to the power source the power source is a reactor which uses this element 115 as its fuel in this reactor Element 115 is used as a Target and is bombarded with protons in a small particle accelerator when a proton plugs into the nucleus of an atom of 115 it increases its atomic number and becomes an atom of element 116 which remember decays instantly what element 116 releases as it decays or what it radiates is Annie matter what is Annie matter Annie matter is the exact counterpart of matter which has a charge
(1:20:46) in a spin that is in the opposite of all matter when combined with any matter in our universe any matter reacts and completely converts to energy and remember the rapid conversion of matter to energy is what we generally call an explosion to demonstrate the explosive power of anti matter let's pick a random area where an atomic bomb might explode oh let's say Iraq and for demonstration purposes let's say an atomic bomb would explode for instance in uh oh Baghdad well if one of our older atomic bombs exploded in Baghdad the area of (1:21:21) total devastation which is indicated by the Red Dot on the map would be approx o imately 2 miles this would be caused by a fishing reaction in which less than 1% of the nuclear material is converted to energy most of you are familiar with the bombs that were dropped on Japan in World War II this is the same bomb that was dropped on Nagasaki August 9th 1945 about the same time Dr Edward Teller who's known as the father of the hydrogen bomb figured out that a nuclear fusion bomb was possible Fusion would release even more energy and cause an

(1:21:53) even bigger explosion from the same amount of nuclear material much to Dr teller's dismay the Japanese surrendered we never dropped the hydrogen bomb and Dr Teller has been in a bad mood ever since but if a hydrogen bomb containing the same amount of nuclear material as the Nagasaki bomb were to explode in Baghdad the area of total devastation would be approximately 20 miles this would be caused by a nuclear fusion reaction which again less than 1% of the nuclear material actually converts to energy or explodes
(1:22:25) the other 99% of the nuclear material on this type of bomb is dispersed but is not involved in the actual nuclear fusion reaction now if a bomb was made with the same amount of nuclear material as the Nagasaki bomb and that material was an matter when that bomb exploded in Baghdad the area of total devastation would include parts of Africa Europe and Asia with the exact area of total devastation being very difficult to calculate this would be caused by a total Annihilation reaction which is the complete conversion of matter to energy
(1:23:00) 100% of the nuclear material in this bomb would explode or convert to energy we currently have no practical way to harness antimatter into a bomb and generally speaking we can only isolate antimatter in a particle accelerator and store it for a short time this demonstrates the enormous amount of Power released when you totally convert matter to energy which is what happens when any matter and matter are combined so back to our power source inside the reactor Element 115 is bombarded with a proton which plugs into
(1:23:30) the nucleus of the 115 atom and becomes element 116 which immediately decays and releases or radiates small amounts of anim matter the anim matter is released in a vacuum into a tune tube which keeps it from reacting with the matter that surrounds it it is then directed towards a gaseous matter Target at the end of the tube the matter and an matter Collide and annihilate totally converting to energy the heat from this reaction is converted into electrical energy and a near 100% efficient thermoelectric generator this is a
(1:23:59) device that converts heat directly into electrical energy many of our satellites and space probes use thermoelectric generators but their efficiency is very very low all of these actions and reactions inside of the reactor are orchestrated perfectly like a tiny little ballet and in this manner the reactor provides an enormous amount of power so back to our original question what is the power source that provides the power required for this type of travel the power source is a reactor which uses Element 115 as a
(1:24:29) fuel and uses a total Annihilation reaction to provide the heat which it converts to energy making it a compact lightweight efficient onboard power source I've got a couple of quick comments about Element 115 for those of you who are interested by virtue of the way it's used in the reactor it depletes very slowly and only 223 gram of 115 which is just under half a pound can be utilized for a period of 20 to 30 years element 115's melting point is 1740 de C I need to State here that even though I
(1:25:01) had hands-on experience with element5 I didn't melt any of it down and I didn't use any of it for 20 to 30 years to see if it depleted so we've learned how SpaceTime is distorted by a gravitational field we've learned how that gravitational field is generated and we've also learned where you get the power to accomplish all of this now it's time to link all we've learned in our science lesson to the vehicle that utilizes all this technology and a few years ago I never thought I'd hear myself say this but
(1:25:30) that vehicle is a disc which is generally referred to as a flying saucer I had at least partial views of nine different discs out at area S4 but the one I'm going to describe to you now is the one in which I not only saw two of the three interior levels but I also saw it fully functional in flight and no unfortunately I didn't get to go for a ride in it this particular disc appeared to be excellent condition and because of its Sleek appearance I nicknamed it the sport model the sport model is about 16
(1:26:01) ft tall and 40 ft in diameter the exterior skin of the disc is metal which is the color of unpolished stainless steel the sport model sits on its belly when it's not energized as you can see the hatch is located on the upper half of the disc with just the bottom portion of the door wrapping around the center lip of the disc the interior level of the disc is divided into three levels the lower level is where the three gravity amplifiers and amplifier guides are located these are the things used to amplify and focus the gravity a wave

(1:26:33) that we learned about in our science lessons the reactor is located directly above the three gravity amplifiers on the center level and is in fact centered between them the reactor is similar to this halfs scale model the element 115 is machined into triangles like this and is then inserted into the reactor this piece of element 115 is the source of the gravity a wave as well as the Target that is bombarded with protons to release the antimatter both of which we learned about in our science lessons the center level of this disc
(1:27:05) also houses the control consoles and seats both of which were too small and too low to the floor to be functional for adult human beings the walls of the center level are all divided into archways at one point in time when the disc was energized one of the archways became transparent and you could see the area outside of it just as if the archway was a window after the panel had been transparent for a while a form of writing which was unlike any alphabetic scientific or mathematical symbols I've ever seen
(1:27:31) began to appear on the transparent Archway and I was never informed as to how all of this was achieved not that any of that would have required alien technology I was never given access to the upper level of the disc so I can't Enlighten you as to what the port hole like areas are other than I can assure you that they're not Port holes now before I go any further about the disc I'm going to show you where and under what circumstances I saw it tested my job in this program was to be part of a back engineering team back engineering
(1:28:02) is the act of taking a finished product and tearing it apart to find out what makes it tick the goal in this program was to see if the technology of the disc could be duplicated with earth materials when I went to work I was flown from McCarron airport in Las Vegas to Area 51 which is a highly secure government base on the Nevada Test Site Area 51 is located about 125 mil north of Las Vegas near the groom Mountains and the groom dry lake bed from Area 51 I was bus to an even more highly secure facility located about 15 mies south of
(1:28:34) Area 51 called S4 S4 is situated at the base of the papoose mountains by the papoose dry lake bed the airspace around S4 is restricted and if any unwelcome aircraft Strays into the outer sector they radio the pilot and instruct him or her to leave if that pilot continues and Strays into the middle sector Jets will be scrambled to escort the intruding aircraft out if for any reason whatsoever that aircraft penetrates into the inside sector before Jets can be airborne ground to a missiles will neutralize the Intruder the moral of this story is (1:29:07) don't try and fly into S4 the S4 installation is built into the mountain and the nine hanger doors are angled at about 60 these doors are covered with a sand textured coating to blend in with the side of the mountain and the desert floor as you can see in this representation my ID badge had a white background with one light blue and one dark blue diagonal stripe in the upper left hand corner at the bottom of the badge there were letters and numbers designating various areas including S4 on my badge there was a star punch
(1:29:38) through S4 the back of the ID badge was dark blue with a vertical mag stripe running down one side The Hanger that housed the sport model was like a typical airplane hanger with the exception of the angled doors that I mentioned before the hanger was equipped with typical tools and extensive electronic equipment it also had a machine with an x-ray emblem on it and an overhead crane rated at 20,000 lb equipment in this hanger was marked with a black number 41 with a white circle around it it was outside of this hanger that I
(1:30:10) saw the sport model tested now when the disc travels near another source of gravity such as a planet or Moon it doesn't use the same mode of travel that we' learned about in our science lessons when a disc is near another source of gravity like Earth the gravity a wave which propagates outward from the disc is Phase shifted into the gravity B wave which propagates outward from the earth and this creates lift the gravity amplifiers of the disc can be focused independently and they are pulsed and do not stay on continuously when all three
(1:30:39) of these amplifiers are being used for travel they're in the Delta configuration and when only one is being used for travel it's in the Omron configuration as the intensity of the gravitational field around the disc increases the Distortion of space time around the disc also increases and if you could see the SpaceTime Distortion this is how it would look as you can see as the output of the gravitational field from the amplifiers becomes more intense the form of SpaceTime around the disc not only bends

(1:31:08) upward but at maximum Distortion actually folds over into almost a heart shape around the top of the disc now remember this SpaceTime Distortion is taking place 360 around the disc so if you were looking at the disc from the top the SpaceTime Distortion would be in the shape of a donut when the gravitational field around the disc is so intense that the space-time Distortion around the disc achieves maximum Distortion and is folded up into this heart-shaped form the disc can't be seen from any vantage point and for all practical purposes is (1:31:43) invisible all you could see would be the sky surrounding it the program outed area S4 consisted of three projects project Galileo project sidekick and project Looking Glass Project Galileo dealt with gravity propulsion and was the source of all the information you've learned in this first section project sidekick dealt with a beam weapon that had a neutron source and was focused by a gravity lens project Looking Glass dealt with the physics of seeing back in time now I was not personally involved with the (1:32:14) hardware of project sidekick or Looking Glass and those projects are beyond the scope of this video so this brings us to the end of this first part in which I'm presenting to you as fact at this point we begin our second part which is the section that contains what I call excerpts from the government Bible I call out that because as you can tell from part one there's a small segment of the United States government that makes scientific and technological judgments from a knowledge base that is not available to the general public if
(1:32:42) the following information is true the United States government also makes judgments on a historical philosophical and even theological level from a knowledge base that is not available to the general public these are excerpts from some of that information as part of my indoctrination into the program at S4 I would randomly be taken into a small room which contained a table a chair and 120 or so briefings in blue folders I'd be left there to read for varying amounts of time usually about half an hour these briefings contained a wide
(1:33:12) spectrum of information mostly relating to aliens and alien technology these reports appear to be an overview of alien information which can be used to brief scientists from any field about the scope of the whole project and not just their specific field of endeavor the overview of project Galileo was accurate I read the overview and later witnessed evidence which proved it to be accurate so it is possible that scientists involved with other projects could have seen evidence that these other overviews were also accurate but I
(1:33:41) can't make that assertion to me these reports were simply words on paper so to keep from saying allegedly and supposedly in every sentence I'll relay this information to you as I read it since I've already put this disclaimer on it this technology that you've learned about thus far was brought here by some alien beings from The Zeta reticul 1 and two star system these stars are located in the constellation of reticulum which can only be seen from the southern hemisphere Zeta reticula is a binary star system which means it is
(1:34:11) two stars and is located approximately 30 light years from Earth these beings are from reticulum 4 which is the fourth planet out from Zeta reticul 2 this is the way star systems were referred to in these reports they simply designate the name of the star and the number of planets from the nearest to the furthest from the Star for instance our sun was designated as soul and the Earth was referred to as Soul three because we're the third planet out from the Sun a day on reticulum 4 is 90 Earth hours long the beings are 3 to 4 feet tall and (1:34:44) weigh 25 to 50 PBS they have grayish skin and large heads with almond shaped wraparound eyes they have very slight nose mouth and ear positions and are hairless any dates in the information regarding these beings were written in a six-digit number which began with 1623 since I had no idea what the six-digit number was for the present year I had no way of calculating when these beings arrived or at least arrived this time these beings said that they had been visiting Earth for a long time and presented photographic evidence which they (1:35:13) contended was over 10,000 years old there was an exchange of hardware and information in central Nevada until 1979 at which time there was a conflict which brought the program to an abrupt halt the beings left but were to return at a 1623 date and I don't know what that date is with the remaining hardware and information the US government started the back engineering program in May of 1987 some scientists took an antimatter reactor to an underground blast facility on the Nevada test site to perform an experiment unfortunately for them their
(1:35:45) experiment required them to cut the reactor open which resulted in their deaths this explosion was explained to others at the test site as a previously

unannounced low yield underground nuke test I was hired in December of 1988 to replace one of these men these beings conveyed information about the capability of affecting the human brain to anesthetize the human body this is done without any physical contact from a remote source for this anesthesia to be accomplished the brain has to be in a relaxed State similar to that required
(1:36:15) for hypnosis if the brain is subject to any external stimulation like stimulant drugs or loud music this manipulation of the nervous system is ineffective these beings said that man was the product of externally corrected Evolution they said that man as a species had been genetically altered 65 times they referred to humans as containers yet I don't know what we're containers of as I'm sure you now know it was impossible for me to corroborate the information in the second section and obviously if this information is true
(1:36:46) the ramifications are far-reaching and you don't have to be a nuclear physicist to figure that out so before I bring this to an end there are a couple of question questions I should address for you the first one is how did I get into this program while working at Los Alamos National Lab in 1982 the local newspaper did a front page story on a jet car ad built coincidentally Dr Teller was giving a speech in Los Alamos that same day we met and had a short chat about the jet car and I later listened to his speech I never met Dr Teller again but
(1:37:17) 1988 when I decided to reenter the scientific Community I sent him a resume and inquired about a job Dr Teller responded by telephone and told me that it was no longer active but just functioned in a consultant capacity he gave me the name of a contact to call in Las Vegas I made that call and things progressed from there until I got into the program I never got a chance to ask Dr Teller if he remembered me from Los Alamos so I don't know if that was a factor or not if you use nuclear Fuel and not nuclear fuel is Fey
(1:37:54) whether these veloc which are interesting if you ever want to get stuff that is an important question and that's about all I can say all I have to say and what specific the fuel will be I think it might be F more probably Fusion world is there any other nuclear reaction besides vision and fusion that you know of there anything such look please you try to explore the things about which I only will have to tell you it is not interesting it's a waste of time above plutonium look it is in my opinion not interesting I don't
(1:38:45) intend to answer it if you ask me that question on the camera I will shut up I will sit silent you're not going to get an answer Open Wheel okay and if I ask you on camera if you know Bob Lazar can you just say no I you sit silently pleas the second question is that if all I have just presented to you is true and the government is keeping this a secret how can I make a video telling you about it well the bottom line is if there are any rep cussions from making this video would simply confirm that what I told
(1:39:27) you was true so what you do with this information is up to [Music] you remember not everyone who sees a disc in the sky is crazy so keep your eye on the sky especially here in central Nevada and thanks for listening up e
